National Science Foundation Grants Eastern $45,800 For Summer Institute In Science

Eastern has received a grant of $45,800 from the National Science Foundation to conduct a summer institute in biology, chemistry, geology and physics for secondary school science teachers.

Interested candidates should contact Dr. Salyer, chemistry department here.

Planned to aid teachers in increasing their knowledge of subject matter of science and mathematics, N.S.F. encourages colleges receiving grants to establish appropriate courses and sequences of courses designed for teacher training.

The grant will make it possible for 36 senior or junior high school science teachers to attend the eight-week institute, which will be held simultaneously with the regular college summer session.

The grant will cover costs of tuition and other fees for the teachers selected for the institute, in addition to personal stipends of $75 a week and additional allowances of $15 a week for each dependent.

Candidates will be selected solely on their ability to benefit from the program of the institute, and their capacity to develop as teachers of science, mathematics or engineering without regard to race, creed or color.

"Indirectly," Dr. Salyer said, "this should improve the subject-matter background of future high school graduates of this region. It should also encourage a larger number of high school graduates to consider careers in science and related fields."

Many of the participants will be studying one or two sciences which they have not taken in college previously, he said. Still others will be studying in retrospect to bring themselves up-to-date in certain areas of science.

Salyer said that accelerated college courses will be offered in biology, chemistry, geology and physics. These courses will be augmented by guest lectures, field trips, audio-visual and other teaching aids and group discussion sessions.

Complete information about the institute will be contained in a brochure to be available in a few weeks, Salyer said.

All teachers of biology, chemistry, geology and physics are eligible to take part in the summer program. A committee of Eastern science teachers will make the final selections of recipients of the grants.

Interested candidates should contact Dr. Salyer, chemistry department, Eastern Kentucky State College.

EASTERN "TOWERS"... Twin 12-story dormitories for 720 men will be under construction by February, President Robert R. Martin said today. The College received word that funds in the amount, $2,850,000 have been allocated by the Housing and Home Finance Agency for the construction of the "Towers." Architects are Brock and Johnson, of Lexington.

Funds For Eastern's "Towers" Allocated Last Week In Atlanta

Cost To Be $2,850,000,
And Tallest In Kentucky

Want A Degree?

Seniors expecting to graduate in June should file application for their degree as soon as possible. The section on candidates for graduation on page 44 of the catalogue reads:

"A student planning to graduate in June should file application for a degree before the end of the first semester. Students who are planning to graduate in August should file application not later than the beginning of the second semester. Applications should be filed at the Registrar's Office. Fees for graduation are to be paid at the Business Office and receipts presented to the Registrar's Office."

Funds totaling $2,850,000 have been allocated by the Housing and Home Finance Agency, Atlanta, Georgia, for the construction of two, twin 12-story dormitories for men.

The dormitories, to be the tallest in the state, are called, for identification purposes, "The Towers." They will provide housing facilities for 720 men students and two supervisors.

In making the announcement, President Robert R. Martin said that the contract is expected to be let by February 15th, and ground probably will be broken the same month. The twin "Towers" are hoped to be ready for occupancy September 1, 1964, he said.

Architects are Brock and Johnson, of Lexington.

The dormitories, to be located between the new Alumni Coliseum and Hanger Stadium will be air-conditioned and will be served by two elevators.

President Martin, who has announced later plans for the construction of an 11-story women's dorm, said that new college dormitories are being designed as "sky-scrapers" in order to conserve space and to facilitate feeding accommodations. All college dormitories are located near cafeterias.

Each building will contain 71,000 feet of floor space.

In addition to well-equipped bedrooms, the halls will contain a spacious lounge, lobby and recreation room, which will connect the two dormitories, offices and apartments for two supervisors.

Other construction projects to be under way this year at Eastern include a new classroom building to house the graduate school and the departments of commerce and English, and a $1 million addition to the John Grant Crabbe Library. The 11-story women's hall is expected to be under construction sometime in 1963.

Two dormitories are presently nearing completion at Eastern; McGregor Hall, six-story women's hall to house 450, and Earle Combs Hall, five-story structure for 235 men. McGregor Hall has a target date of June 1, while Combs Hall may be completed before its March 1 deadline.

Alumni Coliseum, mammoth $3 million athletic-physical education plant to seat nearly 7,000 for basketball—about 8,000 for concerts and other programs—and to provide facilities for some 360 students hourly in physical education activity classes, is set for completion April 1.

The Olympic-size indoor swimming pool, and a connecting outdoor pool, is nearly completed, and the huge 1,300-car parking area in front of the plant is completed. A four-lane highway is being constructed off Lancaster Road to run past the coliseum, and Lancaster Road, itself, is being widened to a four-lane highway.

The initial program to be held in the coliseum probably will be the spring graduation exercises.

Five Eastern Students With 3.0's Testify For High Schools

Five Eastern students attest the excellence of three Central Kentucky high schools.

Graduates of Harrison County High School, Versailles High School, and Eastern's Model Laboratory School, five men students lead their respective college classes with perfect 3.00 scholastic standings.

Harrison County and Model high schools each claim two of the class leaders, while Versailles High School graduated one of the honor students.

The select group includes: William M. Brown, Jr., sophomore from Versailles; Richard Laughlin, sophomore, and Gary McBee, senior, both from Cynthiana, and Donald Campbell Dykes, junior, and Francis Jay Roberts, sophomore, both from Richmond. Editors of the Milestone actually made the discovery when they pored through academic records to determine scholastic leaders in the sophomore, junior and senior classes. The Milestone honors these students in a special honors section.

1960 Graduate of Versailles
Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Brown, 107 Woodlawn Drive, is a 1960 graduate of Versailles High School. A commerce major, William is a member of the sophomore honorary for men, Kappa Iota Epsilon, and is president of the Woodford County Club.

An outstanding cadet in Eastern's Military Science Program, he has received the Freshman Academic Ribbon, and the Professor of Military Science Commendation Award.

He plans to attend graduate school and pursue a career in business upon graduation from Eastern.

Laughlin and McBee are both graduates of Harrison County High School, graduating in 1961 and 1966, respectively. Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Laughlin of Route 5, is a commerce major. He is a member of the Pershing Rifles, KIE, sophomore men's honorary, and Sigma Tau Pi, commerce honorary.

Considered the number one candidate in the freshman R. O. T. C. program last year, Laughlin received the Professor of Military Science Commendation Award, and the Department of the Army Superior Cadet Award.

Upon graduation, he plans to become a Certified Public Accountant.

Major in Geography
Senior Gary McBee, Route 1, is majoring in geography and geology. He is a member of OAKS honorary for junior and senior men, and the World Affairs Club. He was selected to membership in Who's Who and was the recipient of the Kappa Delta Pi Scholarship Award presented annually to the highest ranking sophomore.

Before entering Eastern, he was a member of the United States Air Force, and spent three years in Paris, France. After he completes his degree in the spring, McBee plans to work for the Federal Aviation Agency.

Model High School graduate Donald Dykes is majoring in mathematics and physics. Son of Mr. and Mrs. James Dykes, 421 Oak Street, Don is secretary of the junior and senior men's honorary, OAKS and is treasurer of the Mathematics Club. He also works as a physics lab instructor.

Receives Physics Award
Dykes received the outstanding beginning physics student award and also, was selected to membership in Who's Who.

He plans to teach or attend graduate school upon graduation from Eastern.

Francis Jay Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Roberts, 211 Ridgeway Drive, is a chemistry major. A 1960 graduate of Model High School, he is a member of the Debate Team and the Caduceus Club. When he completes his studies at Eastern, Jay plans to enter medical school.

Drum And Sandal's Show Interprets Christmas

The Drum and Sandal Club presented its annual Christmas Show at Wednesday's assembly in observance of the forthcoming holidays. This show was the first program on campus given by the club in two years.

Portraying various phases of Christmas, the cast interpreted well-known Christmas songs in modern dance and precision routines.

Two featured soloists, both professional dancers on Eastern's campus, gave illustrative dances. Geri Brinegar, president of Drum and Sandal, danced to "White Christmas." Moving on to a contrasting scene, Jill Turner, accompanied by Geri Brinegar and

Carol McClanahan, interpreted "Christmas in Hawaii."

Finishing with a burst of applause from the audience, Jack Bailey, pianist, changed the pace by playing a medley of Christmas songs—"White Christmas," "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town," "Winter Wonderland," and "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer"—varying in style from dittyland to formal concert.

Goedde, Chittum, And Spenik Reap Top Honors At Banquet

Honors, trophies, and a shocking announcement were the highlights of the second annual Football Banquet, sponsored by Richmond service clubs, Tuesday evening in the Keen Johnson Student Union Building.

The affair was held for the second straight year to honor the Eastern football team, and to recognize the outstanding players.

Director of Athletics, Charles T. Hughes, presented A.O.V.C. certificates to first team selections Jimmy Chittum, halfback, and Tom Goedde, guard; third team members Ed Spenik, end, Tom Sharp, guard; and Larry Maimie, quarterback; and honorable mention players Ken Moore, tackle, and Willard Davis, center.

Head coach Glenn Presnell introduced the members of the co-championship team to the 200-plus gathering, and threw a bombshell when he announced that Chittum, a Little All-America candidate, would not be eligible next season. It was discovered this week that he participated in the 1959 season opener with Toledo University for two years.

The Eastern Progress awards for the best defensive player, best offensive player, and most valuable player, were also given for the second straight year by Doug Whitlock, Sports Editor.

Spent Best On Defense
Senior end, Ed Spenik, was chosen by the coaches for the first award, "Best Defensive Player" for his fine effort all season in pacing the Eastern defense, which led the Ohio Valley Conference in the least yards allowed.

Chittum, twice an All-OVC first team choice, was the overwhelming "Most Valuable Player" on the 1962 co-championship team.

Dropped from the squad two years ago for reporting late due to a softball tournament, Bill Goedde, junior halfback, received the highest honor in being named the "Most Valuable Player" on the 1962 co-championship team.

Debate Team Loses First Meet Of Year

Last Saturday the Eastern Debate Team participated in their first debate of the season when they took part in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Debate Contest, held at Bellarmine College in Louisville.

The contest was won by Western with Georgetown and Berea second and third, respectively; but according to Mrs. Amiee Alexander, debate coach, "the Eastern team compiled a very creditable record considering it was their first debate of the season."

The tournament with participating teams from Asbury, Centre, Eastern, Morehead, Murray, University of Kentucky, Bellarmine, plus the three winners was sponsored by the Kentucky Intercollegiate Forensic Conference.

For the Eastern varsity team John Rogers and Carolyn King debated on the affirmative side while Jay Roberts and David Taylor debated on the negative side. On the novice team Dick Brag and Tom Coffey were the affirmative, and Bill Campbell and Lynn Farris the negative debaters. Accompanying the squad were Mrs. Alexander, Mr. John Leeson, and Mr. Joe Johnson, faculty members, and Joe Dunn.

In all, the debate team participated in sixteen debates. The varsity won four out of eight debates while the novice squad won two out of eight. The highlighting win of the Eastern team was their defeat of Western, the only defeat which Western suffered.

Future plans for the team include practice sessions, which faculty members judge, both intra-squad and with teams from nearby schools. Also the Eastern debate team has received numerous invitations to debate with other colleges. The next debate for the team is the Ball State Tournament on January 12.

The Sonfonia Concertante for Violin and Viola by Mozart began with crisp and clean attacks by the orchestra. Mr. Alan Staples, the solo violin, performed vibrantly, and his music was elevating, especially in the cadenza passages. Mr. Robert Oppelt's viola had a mellow tone quality and responsiveness to his wishes. Smooth and identical phrasing was the rule of their performance particularly in the slow movement.

Copland Played
The Dance episodes from "Rodeo" by Aaron Copland was played in the spirit of the piece, though there were blunders made by the orchestra.

Suite from the "Watermusic" by Handel was a collection of various dances; the slow movements were intimate and expressive, whereas the faster ones were more exciting.

Student Council Investigates Three Campus Problems

By RON WALKER
Progress Staff Writer

Last week Eastern Student Council established a committee to look into the possibility of having Christmas vacation extended one day. The main point in its favor is the fact that the students have to travel on New Year's Day, a day known for its high traffic death rate.

It was brought to the Council's attention that until a few years ago, it was traditional to travel on January 2, and begin classes on the third. Other schools in the state observe this, and it is the opinion of the student body and of the Student Council that this matter should be given due consideration.

Room Search Investigation
Disclosed

For the past few weeks the topic of campus discussion has been the search of rooms. This matter was checked into by the Council, and it was discovered that, though the searches are unethical, they are legal. It is also made known to the students. The application card for dormitory reservations has printed on its reverse side certain regulations concerning housing conditions and agreement. Article six of these regulations state "All students residing in College housing must comply with all rules and regulations governing occupancy which may, from time to time, be enacted." This printed statement, though rather vague, is informative of the right of the administration to search the rooms.

Another point of interest was brought to the attention of the Council by the Committee on Fraternities and Sororities here at Eastern. The Committee has sent letters to the national headquarters of sixteen fraternities and ten sororities requesting information concerning formations of social groups and other organizations of this type. The information received will be available to anyone interested in undertaking such a project. The Council is only providing necessary information. It is not organizing them.

Elementary School Leaders Attend 2-Day Conference

Elementary school leaders focused their attention on the theme "Qualified Principals - Better Schools" at the annual conference of the Department of Elementary School Principals which concluded today at Eastern Model Laboratory School.

Keynote speaker for the conference, which began Thursday, is Dr. Ross M. Cox, Associate Professor of Education at Wayne State University. There were approximately 300 in attendance.

At the general session this morning, Dr. Cox, who is Associate Director, Project on the Academically Talented Student, NEA, delivered an address entitled "Principals in Action."

He told the educators that "the principal must be flexible rather than rigid. He must be aware of the forces within himself, the group, and the individuals."

Responsibilities of a good principal lie in these specific areas, the noted educator said: (1) he releases the talents of the individual; (2) he develops individuality as well as consensus; (3) he helps the faculty define goals; (4) he helps develop respect for evidence; and (5) he keeps in mind immediate and long range programs.

"Finally," he said, "we must remember principals are made and not born."

At Thursday afternoon's session, Dr. Cox discussed the topic "A Qualified Principal Improves the Instructional Program."

He said one of the main responsibilities of a principal was

Is It Possible For One Side Or The Other To WIN The Cold War?

By DON COFFEY Progress Staff Writer. Much has been and will yet be said concerning the winning of the Cold War. Opinion in the West has ranged from the 'better Red than dead' school to criticism of a so-called 'no-win' policy to out and out advocacy of war.

that many U. S. agencies are working to provide in many parts of the world. A no-win policy would be evident only if no opposing views—our views—were made available to counter communist propaganda.

Worse yet, we would be the aggressor. No stretch of the imagination could ever justify such barbaric action by a civilized people. Such a Carthaginian settlement would be intolerable in the modern world.

there can be no clear-cut victory for either side. True, there will be many tactical gains and losses, both large and small, probably for decades to come.

Christmas is the magic season and Christmas morning is the magic morning! Jeanie Sanders, pictured in white "Lolli-Jamas" by Lollipop and a printed corduroy robe from Elizabeth's, is ready to open all her packages found under the tree. To complete her ensemble, she chose gold slippers with a pixie toe and a slight wedge heel.

JEANIE SANDERS
Senior, Richmond

Need a special gift for roommate, friend, or mother? Then the perfect place to go is to Elizabeth's, where you will find a sparkling assortment of gifts on their Christmas table.

Gold-tone novelties are as popular as ever this year - pill boxes, lipstick holders, pencils, and jewelry boxes are just a few of the gold touched items. All the members of your feminine list would be pleased with any of these choices, and it will be a gift that will remain as a token of friendship.

One of the most original gifts displayed in the watch which Jeanie is admiring. The extra attraction which it offers to its wearer is its four different colored watch bands which may be changed on the watch - a perfect gift for the fashion conscious girl!

Other suggestions from Elizabeth's - slippers, a wonderful assortment; horse scarfs, the Kentucky spirit; jewelry, glittering gold and silver, plus colors; and finally, leather purses, wallets, and accessories, yummy shades and styles!

Still need another suggestion for that roommate? How about a pair of lounging pajamas or a robe? For pajamas, cotton knit wear by Lollipop is a sure winner with any female dorm inhabitant. But if this doesn't suit, there is a wide variety of other styles in nylon, cotton, or dacron and cotton at Elizabeth's.

The gift that would please anyone is a robe such as the one Jeanie is modeling. It is a printed pink corduroy style which is scalloped and trimmed with lace. Besides this one, there are many other styles to choose from at Elizabeth's.

Jeanie, an Elementary Education major, is the ROTC Brigade Sponsor. She was the first attendant to the 1962 Homecoming Queen, and she is a member of Collegiate Pentacle, Kappa Pi, and Wesley Foundation.

Students' Literature Studies Aren't Enough Comments Mr. Cooke

By WANDA BROWN
Progress Guest Writer
Present literature requirements for all students obtaining a teaching certificate are insufficient, according to J. W. Cooke, Assistant Professor of History.

In an interview concerning the adequacy of present requirements in the field of English, Mr. Cooke further advocated a general verbal competence test. This test would exempt high-ranking students from basic English courses, and give them more time for literature of the western tradition courses, which should be compulsory.

Cooke said that regardless of verbal competence, students should be required to take courses in Bible, Shakespeare, Homer, and on down to Bertrand Russell and Jock Barzun.

He commented that literature study would help to remedy the situation of deplorable ignorance of the past, which exists among our students. In response to the query, "Why must we have knowledge of the past?" he explained that college students are assailed by many different and competing value systems. The study of literature courses provides an insight which gives an initial basis for judgment of these values.

He added that the symbols and figures of western literature are permanently valuable, and a knowledge of them would probably provide a better insight into the present, as well as providing aesthetic pleasure.

In further supporting his position, Cooke stated that extended literature requirements would be beneficial in counteracting the effects of the mass media, chiefly radio and television. Such requirements would also prevent the average college major from being merely a limited technician, he asserted.

"There is a prevailing semantic confusion which is indicative of a cultural lag," Cooke said, "and a greater degree of verbal competence, along with a greater knowledge of western literature will aid in remedying this situation."

"Mademoiselle" Seeks College Artists, Writers

Mademoiselle's Art Contest and College Fiction Contest discover and encourage talented young artists and writers. The annual competitions for women students offer cash prizes and national recognition to the winners.

The two College Fiction Contest winners will receive $500 each and their stories will be published in Mademoiselle. Each of the two Art Contest winners will illustrate one of the winning College Fiction Contest stories for Mille, and each will receive $500 for her work.

Mademoiselle's Art Contest is open to students between eighteen and twenty-six. Entries should be samples of the five arts and work in any media will be accepted. At least five samples of the artist's work must be submitted for the judging. The best entries in the Art Contest will be shown to art directors, gallery owners, and educators at an exhibition in Spring, 1963.

Judges for Mademoiselle's 1962-63 Art Contest are: Emily Genauer, Art Critic and Editor of the New York Herald Tribune; Hedda Sterne, painter; and Roger Schoening, Art Director of Mademoiselle.

Mademoiselle's College Fiction Contest is open to students enrolled in college or junior college. To enter the contest, students must submit one or more stories of any length to Mademoiselle. Only stories with fictitious characters and situations will qualify. Mille brings the winners' stories to the attention of top book publishers and literary agents.

Maroons On Coaches Superlative List

This year the Ohio Valley Conference football coaches picked a superlative list in order to recognize good all-around players who aren't necessarily named on the all-conference team. Eastern players were frequently mentioned as being among the best in the fields of voting.

Eastern players getting votes for superlative listings are considered among the best in the loop in that particular category.

Herbie Conley, Ashland fullback, was picked as one of the best blocking backs in the loop as well as being named as a top defensive linebacker.

Two Maroon offensive stars, Bill Goedde and Jimmy Chittum, received votes as defensive backs, and Goedde was also named as a top-notch line-backer along with Conley, Dave Grim and Willard Davis.

Ed Spenk was also named on two superlative lists, both offensive and defensive linemen and defensive specialist Carl Howard was named as one of the most underrated players in the loop and Todd Reynolds as one of the most improved players.

In picking the best professional prospects in the conference Chittum and sophomore tackle Ken Moore were mentioned.

MONDAY NIGHT WAS FULL OF EXCITEMENT
Not many basketball fans have the opportunity to see two such thrilling games as were on tap Monday night in the Health Building.

After watching the fine freshman team fight from 12 points behind to take a one point, 79-78, win from Lees Junior College, the best junior college team in the state, the fans were primed for another exciting, nip and tuck, clash and that's exactly what they got in the Miami game, but the one point edge was on the wrong side of the scoreboard.

The Baby Maroons showed a lot of courage in coming from behind in such a fine manner, and they looked like a team that had been playing together for a long time rather than inexperienced frosh in their first game together.

The Maroons looked sharp in the varsity tilt at times and could have won handily but for an alarming number of miscues. There was a reversal of circumstances in the second game that saw Miami's sophomore lineup come from behind in much the same manner that our frosh did. All in all it was a fine night for the young man.

EASTERN PLAYS NON-KENTUCKY TEAMS TILL 1963

A glance at the 1962-63 Eastern basketball schedule shows that the Maroons play out-of-state opposition until January 2 when they invade Freedom Hall in Louisville to play the University of Louisville Cardinals.

Of the first seven games played by the Maroons, four will be against Ohio quintets. The Miami game Monday night was the first, Dayton tomorrow, Toledo Monday and then Wittenburg here Dec. 17.

While the rest of the student body is home enjoying the spoils of Christmas the Maroons will be in Shreveport, La., in the Gulf South Classic, Dec. 27, 28 and 29, and are the only Kentucky five in the tournament. Eastern plays Texas Christian University in the first round play, and every team in assured three games in the round-robin type tourney.

Maroons Face Dayton And Toledo; After Thrilling, 65-64, Loss To Miami

Stephens Paces Team

Miami of Ohio, holding on in the closing minutes, spoiled Jim Baechtold's coaching debut Monday night as the Redskins sophomore studded lineup edged the Maroons 65-64.

Two of the Miami sophs broke Eastern's back. 6-8 pivotman Charlie Dinkins tabbed 20 points and cleaned the boards with 13 rebounds, and guard Skip Snow hit for 12 points, but was the floor leader for the invaders.

Besides ruining Baechtold's first game as full-season coach the loss was the first opener the Maroons had dropped since a 73-64 loss to Louisville at the start of the 1956-57 season.

A total of 18 floor errors, at costly times, spelled defeat for the Maroons. Once in the first half, leading by nine points, the Maroons lost the ball three straight times, and again in the second half three floor errors stopped a come-from-behind effort while trailing by two points, 60-58.

Late in the first half it looked as if the Maroons were going to blow the game wide open, but then the mistakes started, and Miami came to within three points at the half, 31-28.

Miami took charge of the game early in the second period and the Maroons were unable to regain the lead until only 4:27 remained on a three point trip by starting center, Ron Pickett.

Miami then scored four straight points and the Maroons could never overtake them again.

In the last minute of play Bob Tolan almost pulled the Maroons to the top. A tipin with 10 seconds left pulled the Maroons to within one at 65-64 and then, trying to regain possession, the 6-8 Tolan fouled Miami's Charlie Coles. Snow missed the shot and Tolan came down with the rebound and fired a pass to Kay Morris.

Morris tried a jump shot from 30 feet, just as the buzzer sounded, that rimmed around and then fell out.

Brightest spot in the Maroon game was senior guard Rupert Stephens. The 6-1 Russell Springs native hit 10 of 15 field goal attempts and a foul shot, to lead all scorers with 21 points. He also got six rebounds from his guard position.

Other Maroons in double figures were Pickett with 15 and Jim Werk with 11.

Leading the Redskin attack were Dinkins, Jeff Gehring with 16, Snow, and Coles with 11.

While Miami hit a higher field goal percentage than did the Maroons, 46.2-42.9, Eastern beat the Redskins from the floor by 12 points, a 13 point, 29-16, Miami lead in foul shots made the difference.

In a preliminary tilt, Eastern's freshmen edged the Lees Junior College squad, 79-78.

HERE'S HOW IT'S DONE... Rupert Stephens, 6-1 Maroon guard, goes up for a rebound in the Miami game, while the two tallest men on the floor, Miami's Charlie Dinkins, 31, and Ron Pickett, 42, stand back and watch. Stephens was the game's leading scorer with 21 points.

WHERE'S THE BALL... Eastern guard Lee Lemos, foreground, seems to be having a little trouble finding an elusive basketball while Rupert Stephens and Miami's Skip Snow battle for it behind his back. Big 6-8 Bob Tolan can be seen moving in on the play.

Flyers NIT Champions; Rockets "A Fine Team"

Disappointed with his team's showing in its opening game 65-64 loss to Miami of Ohio, Coach Jim Baechtold now directs the attention of his veteran Eastern Kentucky basketball team to Dayton and Toledo, where the Maroons have engagements tomorrow and Monday.

The Eastern traveling party leaves Richmond tomorrow morning for Dayton, where that evening the Maroons meet the defending NIT champion Flyers at the U. D. Fieldhouse.

Two key players were on the injury list following the loss to Miami. All-OVC forward and leading scorer last year, Jim Werk, with a knee injury, and sophomore standout, Lee Lemos, who suffered a bruised hip in the opener.

Baechtold thinks Lemos may be ready by Saturday, but Werk is on the doubtful list.

Displeased, but not completely disheartened with the loss to Miami, which spoiled his debut as full-season coach of the Maroons, Baechtold said that the loss may prove an important factor for the entire season. "Our boys were very upset after the game," he said, "but they came out the next afternoon and responded extremely well in practice. I think they realize now that a basketball game lasts 40 minutes."

Cites Weak Rebounding
Baechtold thought the inability of his forwards to hit and the poor rebounding performances of his front line were the main factor, together with 19 floor errors. "We got only 10 rebounds out of our starting front line, and we were every right to expect that many from each of them," the popular first-year coach said.

"I thought that we should have built up a 12 to 15 point lead by the end of the first half," he remarked. "But, after we had them down by nine points late in the half, we saw only floor errors and mistakes." The Maroons led by three points at halftime.

Baechtold was pleased with "the way they ran the ball on occasions, and the way they reacted to floor situations at times."

Stephens, Tolan Pleased
Rupert Stephens, 6-1 senior guard from Russell Springs, and 6-8 Bob Tolan, junior center from Cedar Lake, Ind., drew most of the praise from Baechtold. "Rupert played a tremendous game in every respect. I hope this is the beginning of a great year for him."

Stephens was the game's leading scorer with 21 points, pulled off six rebounds from his guard post, and was the floor leader throughout the game.

"We put Tolan in for only 10 minutes," the coach said, "but he almost made the difference." Tolan hit four of five field goal attempts, grabbed seven rebounds, and played a fine defensive game.

Even with the loss of big Bill Chmielewski, everybody's All-American this year, Dayton could be the top team on the Maroons' schedule. "They have the size and experience, and, of course, the defense of their NIT championship," Baechtold cited. He said that the Maroons will have a tough time stopping Dayton's big men. "It's a pretty hard task to stop a 6-10 center and a pair of forwards who are 6-6 and 6-7."

He thinks center Bill Westercamp, guard Gordon Hatton and forward Hal Schoen will be among the outstanding players Eastern will face all season.

The Eastern Dayton series stands at 13-3, in favor of the Flyers, who have recorded 13 consecutive wins, all at the U. D. Fieldhouse.

Baechtold calls Toledo "a fine club that showed a lot of strength in solidly whipping tough Butler in their opener." Rocket guard Larry Jones, who scored in the thirties against Butler, is a bona-fide All-America candidate and is considered one of the finest floor men in Ohio.

Baechtold is uncertain about a starting lineup for the Dayton tilt. He listed as probable starters Stephens (6-1) and either Herman Smith (6-2) or Lemos (6-4) at the guards, either Werk (6-5), Russell Mueller (6-5), Kay Morris (6-3), or Lemos at forwards, and Ron Pickett (6-7) at center.

Following the Ohio trip, the Maroons return to Richmond to meet Wittenburg, a top-ranked small college outfit. The next action will be in Shreveport, La., Dec. 27-29 in the Gulf-South Classic. Their first opponent is Texas Christian University.

Stephens First B'Ball Player Of The Week

Rupert Stephens, senior guard from Russell Springs, has been named the first Player of the Week for the basketball season by head coach Jim Baechtold.

Stephens was the leading scorer in the heart-breaking, 65-64 loss to Miami University and was the team floor leader. Coach Baechtold said, "Rupert had a great night, and I hope it was the start of a great season for him."

He is one of three returning starters and has a tremendous desire to compete. His best shot is a long to medium range one-hand jump shot.

Rupert is an honor student at Eastern, majoring in mathematics and physical education, and upon graduation wants to coach and teach, following a two-year tour of duty in the Army as a second lieutenant.

Check Fraud Increases
The fastest-growing crime in America is check fraud. Forgers have about doubled their haul in the last five years, now fleece gullible Americans of an estimated 800 million dollars yearly. Police reports describe the typical forger as high in intelligence and pleasing in personality, with a knack for convincing others of his honesty.

Rifle Team Wins First Meet
Eastern's ROTC varsity rifle team downed the University of Kentucky and the University of Louisville Saturday in a triangular meet at UK. The match counted the Kentucky Collegiate Rifle League firing.
Eastern edged the Wildcat firers by one point, 1854-1853, and dropped Louisville by 30 points.
Bill Loveall, Eastern, led all scorers with 378 points of a possible 400 and other Eastern shooters scored as follows: Bob Cornett, 376; David Spratt, 372; Roy Gibson, 366, and Wade Evans, 362.
The loss was the first to the Wildcats, who had previously downed Western, Murray, and the University of Louisville.
Last week the freshman rifle team dropped their first match to the Kentucky Military Institute.
Today the Maroons journey to Cincinnati to compete against 10 top collegiate rifle teams at Xavier University, in the Walsh Invitational Match.

Swimmers To Open Season

John D. Vetter, a senior from Cincinnati, Ohio was selected as captain of the 1962-63 swimming team. John was co-captain of last year's O.V.C. champion team.
John is majoring in physics and math. Among his other campus activities include: president of the senior class, editor of the student life section of the Milestone and a member of the Newman Club and "E" Club.
The Eastern Eels open their defense of the OVC swimming championship at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the Weaver Health Building pool as they host the invading Morehead Eagles.

Danny Morris, sophomore, will begin preparation for his defense of the Kentucky State Diving Championship, which he won at the Kentucky Invitational Swimming Meet last season. Coach Don Combs looks for fine performances from the new freshman group.
Next Thursday the swimmers journey to Kentucky to meet the U of K freshmen at Memorial Coliseum at 8 o'clock.
Coach Combs suggests that anyone attending the meet wear something light under their coats, due to the heat and humidity around the pool.

The natural habitat of the Cupcake is the Home Economics kitchen. She believes, as her mother did, that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. Eastern Sports Unusual Team: In The Anderson Brothers

By LINDA GASSOWAY
Progress Guest Writer

Many brothers have similarities, but the Anderson brothers from Ashland perhaps are the most unusual brother team that has attended Eastern in recent years. Both of the boys are sophomores majoring in pre-pharmacy; both are married; both participate actively on the student publications staff, and other student activities at Eastern and both enjoy the same hobbies.

Sons of Mr. and Mrs. David Anderson, 1516 Hager Street, both plan to follow in their father's footsteps and join him at Anderson's Pharmacy in Ashland after they complete their pharmaceutical studies.

Dave is Photographer
Dave, the older of the two, is a student photographer for the award-winning student publications, the Milestone and the Eastern Progress, and also is a member of the college social committee, which plans and make arrangements for social events throughout the school year. He is married to the former Timi Dameron, Point Pleasant, West Virginia.

Jon is married to Clarice Henry, Ashland, and they have a son, Jon Drew.

As a freshman, Jon was elected president of his class by the freshman class, an honor which he was elected to retain this year as a sophomore. An unique quality about his position is that he is the only male class officer. He finds time from his many duties, however, to be a staff writer for the Eastern Progress.

Jon is Squad Leader
Chosen as an outstanding squad leader in R.O.T.C. his freshman year, Jon is a member of this year's color guard, an honor accorded only top cadets excelling academically and physically.

As their interest, and needs, again bring them together, students and visitors to the Eastern campus are likely to meet these amiable young man at the College Service Station, where they work to help meet the costs of college and raising a family.

In their spare time, they enjoy flying model airplanes and playing chess or golf.

Upon completion of their studies at Eastern, the Anderson brothers plan to enter the University of Kentucky's Pharmacy School.

Established in 1962, the annual award is sponsored by The-Book-of-the-Month Club, the Saturday Review, and The Women's National Book Association.

A distinguished panel of judges will again decide the winner. The panel will include a Saturday Review editor, a Book-of-the-Month Club judge, a nationally known college or university librarian, and a nationally known author, critic, or book collector.

Chairmen of Campus Library Award Committees, after selecting a local winner, are asked to submit nominations of senior students for the national award. The deadline for nomination is April 30th. The award will be made at the winner's commencement.

For the purposes of the Amy Loveman Award, a collection of not less than 35 books will be considered. The student must present an annotated bibliography of his present collection, and provide comments on three relevant points: "How I would start building a home library;" "The next ten books I hope to add to my personal library and why;" and "My ideas for a complete home library."

Interest, Scope Is Basis
Collections will be judged on the basis of intelligent interest, scope and imagination shown in creating the collection, and knowledge of the books as revealed in the annotations. Collections of any type (excluding textbooks) are eligible whether centered in a subject or a vocation, a single author, group of authors, or a general collection.

Band Concerts To Be Best In ESC History

The concert season for the Eastern Band is expected to be the best in its history according to Nicholas J. Koenigstein, who said that with 110 people in the band including 50 new members, the talent is much better than it ever has been.

The band is well-rounded, having a fairly balanced instrumentation. That is, there are enough higher instruments to balance with the number of lower instruments. There must be a good balance in a band so that all the parts can be heard and the sound will be enjoyable.

Mr. Koenigstein said that the plans for the season include an assembly program, perhaps two night concerts, an outdoor program, and the annual tour. All this will take place during the second semester. Every year, late in the second semester, the band goes on tour through some section of Kentucky. An average of six concerts are given in the high schools of these sections.

Another plan Mr. Koenigstein has is to organize a symphonic band again this season. This will be the third season for the organization. The symphonic band is a select group chosen by Mr. Koenigstein to play more advanced music. There will be about 50 to 55 members in this organization. The symphonic band will perform at the regular concerts and on the tour.

Ford Foundation Gives Foreign Aid; 13 Million Dollars Pushes Development

By GERALD MAERZ
Progress Staff Writer

The Ford Foundation has announced grants to Europe, Africa, Asia, and Latin America totaling to $13,360,900 to aid in development of the fields of education, agriculture, and engineering.

One of these grants to the University of Brazil in Rio de Janeiro, was given to aid in the training of scientists needed for the country's increasing industrial growth.

The grant was made after the university had introduced a "New Look" in graduate science courses, to provide the best teaching and research talent available in several fields. The grant, which amounted to $650,000, is to be used mainly in expanding laboratory facilities in physics, microbiology, biophysics, and other fields.

Agriculture Assisted
The Dominican Republic received two grants amounting to $218,500 to assist agricultural development. The money is to be used for administrative assistance, and teaching and advisory services to the Association for Development, a private, non-profit organization that was organized last year to develop a vocational agricultural school and demonstration farm in Cibao.

Three Venezuelan universities, the University of Oriente, the Catholic University Andres Bello, and the University of the Andes, also received grants totaling $740,000 from the Foundation. The grants will be used by the universities for staff-training programs, in electrical, mechanical, and chemical engineering, and for lab and library equipment; social sciences, and engineering; teaching and research, and expansion of aerial photography programs.

Project Grants Given
Grants were also announced in the following areas: International affairs, Overseas Development, Consultants and Foundation-administered projects.

"The strengthening of universities is a key to the development of trained manpower in Latin America and thus to higher living standards for its people," said J. L. Morrill, director of the Foundation's program in Latin America and the Caribbean area.

"The university grants... reflect the Foundation's interest in helping Latin American universities expand their full-time teaching staffs, instead of relying on part-time professors for much of their instruction, and underline the need to break down the traditional have thwarted development," he added.

"There are barriers, especially harmful in the sciences, on which these nations rely heavily for their economic development... There is a tendency to scatter financial resources among the faculties, making the development of any scientific field in depth almost impossible. Hence the Foundation is assisting Latin American universities that are undertaking unified study programs outside the isolated faculties," Morrill concluded.

Giant Alumni Coliseum Cited For Its Unique Versatility

(Editor's note: The following article, written by Dr. Fred Darling, of the Health and Physical Education faculty, has appeared in several national publications. The Progress joins the college administration in expressing appreciation for Dr. Darling's part in planning the Alumni Coliseum.)

This new "combination" concept has led to the designing of an amazing building that may easily receive multi-use as a basketball arena, auditorium and a physical education teaching facility for Eastern's more than 4,800 students. The Coliseum is an outstanding structural achievement and is excitingly beautiful from the standpoint of architectural design. According to the architect, Fred J. Hartstern of Louisville, Kentucky, "The most significant concept of this building is, of course, the laminated wood roof structure. The basic premise by which the building evolved was to have a column free arena. The roof form therefore became the most important design feature."

To solve this problem many forms and systems were analyzed for aesthetic appeal and economics of construction. An interesting vault or groin vault of laminated wood arches and decking proved to satisfy all of the design criteria. "Another highly unique feature is the method by which the wood roof structure is supported. Post tension concrete abutments located at the four corners of the building support the two main laminated wood arches with their base connections 40 feet above the grade. These abutments are set four feet into solid rock and each abutment has six concrete cores extending 30 feet into the rock."

Design Is World's Largest
The double-cross-vault design is the largest of its type in the world with a cross span of 308 feet, three and one-half inches. The use of the double-cross-vault design in the roof gives a pleasing, graceful, soaring effect and adds to the contours of the structure. From any angle, the design gives an unusual appearance of beauty with an umbrella effect.

There will also be a feeling of warmth created by the lavish use of wood paneling in its natural beauty on the arched ceilings. The brick and limestone on the exterior of the building will blend nicely with recently constructed dormitories which are located nearby. The basketball arena will ultimately seat more than 10,000 fans. An outstanding feature of the arena is that the seating is elevated six feet from the playing floor. No fan will have access to the arena floor. Entrance can be made through the wide entrances provided at the concourse level.

In addition to the main basketball floor there is a large gymnasium with two basketball and various other courts for physical education classes. On the first level are eight classrooms, a viewing room with projection booth, a suite of 20 air conditioned offices for the entire physical education department, wrestling room, gymnastic room, team rooms, training room and supply rooms. The building has been designed so eight handball courts and an additional physical education gym can be added when desired.

Converts Into Auditorium
The arena quickly converts into an auditorium with the use of a hydraulically operated stage. The pressing of a small switch activates powerful motors that raise an 18 by 38 foot stage from the east end of the playing floor. An addition of 2,000 seats at floor level will allow the seating of 12,000 persons for conventions and college or community events.

In front of the Coliseum is a parking lot with a capacity for 1,800 cars. A bonus included in this area is the portion that will be marked off as a track and football field. This part of the backstop will be used by physical education classes in the instruction of sports. The ROTC units and the college band will find the backstop "football field" useful for marching and rehearsal of band shows.

The efficient movement of traffic will be aided by a new four lane super highway. This highway will pass through the campus and connect with Inter-State 75.

The physical education facilities in the Alumni Coliseum will stun even the most casual observer. There are two Olympic sized swimming pools that meet all N.C.A.A. championship requirements. One is of gleaming tile located inside and another outside that is made of concrete. The outside pool has a large sun deck, a kiddie wading pool and a concession stand. Both pools are operated by the same mechanical filtration system.

It was a fitting beginning for this beautiful structure when Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson broke ground for the start of construction in June 1961. (The building is scheduled to be completed in April 1963 in time for use by the Eastern basketball squad.) Eastern Kentucky has long been a power in Ohio Valley Conference and national basketball circles. The new Coliseum will be an appropriate setting for the highly successful Eastern teams.

Other Sports Served
The arena will also serve the other intercollegiate athletic squads, including football, baseball, track and field, swimming, golf, rifle and tennis and will be the focal point for the college's extensive intramural athletic program and physical education classes.

The new Coliseum will cost $2,700,848 and is one phase of the college's burgeoning building program. Eastern Kentucky State College began as a normal school in 1906 and has enjoyed steady growth in enrollment and academic stature. It has grown to "large college" status within the past decade.

Thanks to the foresightedness of the Kentucky State Legislature, the college Board of Regents and the college administration, the building program has kept pace with the demands of the growing stu-

READY IN APRIL . . . Multi-million dollar Alumni Coliseum has been rescheduled for completion the first of April. The giant physical plant will house the physical education facilities and will be used for Maroon basketball among numerous other activities. The first activity planned in the new field-house will be the spring graduation ceremonies.

Brenda Woody's Interests Include Variety: Guernsey Cattle, Cheerleading, Drama

By GERALD MAERS
Progress Staff Writer
"My most unusual experience was being selected first runner-up contest. I don't see how I ever got it." These are the modest statements of Brenda Woody, an attractive Junior from Columbia, Ky., who represented the Agriculture Club. Brenda, a pre-vet major, is a very modest transfer student from Lindsey-Wilson College.

While at Lindsey, which is a junior college at Columbia, Ky., Brenda was quite active. She served two years as a cheerleader, was a candidate for Homecoming Queen, marched in the Raiderettes, which is a girls drill team, was a member in the Dramatics Club and Journalism Club, and in her sophomore year, was selected Most Popular Girl.

Hobbies Have Wide Range
Her special interests and hobbies include a wide range. She enjoys sports, particularly roller skating, and swimming. She likes reading and music (she plays flute and piano), and baton twirling. Her source of "summer income" is oil painting and exhibiting cattle clubs.

Former Majorette
Aside from her high school 4-H work, Brenda was a majorette in the Adair County High School Band. She was elected Miss Freshman and Miss Senior. Brenda served as Secretary of her Sophomore Class, and Vice-president of her Junior Class. She held membership in the Beta Club, Future Homemakers of America, Future Teachers of America, and Co-ed-Y clubs. After graduation from Eastern, Brenda plans to go to Auburn for her vet school. After vet school, she's not sure what she wants to do, but foremost in her mind is to "open a clinic for small animals."

Brenda doesn't have much to say along the line of matrimony. "I will consider marriage when my schooling is complete," was her only comment to this question.

20 Mademoiselle Editorships Await College Contest Winners
A thorough introduction to New York's publishing, fashion, and business worlds awaits twenty winners of Mademoiselle magazine's 1962-63 College Board Competition. Women undergraduates who are enrolled in accredited colleges or junior colleges are eligible to compete for College Board membership, and for one of the twenty Guest Editorships — a salaried month in New York, helping edit Mademoiselle's college issue.

The College Board Competition is designed for students with talent in art, writing, fashion, merchandising, promotion, or advertising. To qualify for Board membership, undergraduates must submit an entry by November 30, which shows ability in one of these areas. They are then eligible to submit a second entry in February to compete for the top prize, one of twenty Guest Editorships.

Guest Editors will go to New York and possibly Rome. Next June, the twenty-fifth annual group of Guest Editors will be brought to New York, round-trip transportation paid, to help edit the August, 1963, issue. They'll share offices with Mademoiselle's regular editors, advise the staff on campus trends, interview well-known artists and writers, as well as represent the magazine on visits to publishing houses, stores, advertising agencies, and so forth.

They also will be photographed for the college issue, and will be considered for future staff positions with Mademoiselle and other Condé Nast publications. As a special bonus, the 1962 Guest Editors were flown to Rome, where they spent five days attending fashion showings, visiting art galleries,

NEARING COMPLETION . . . Earle Combs Hall, residence hall to house 235 men students is nearing completion. Named for Earle B. Combs, Richmond, former New York Yankee baseball slugger and vice-chairman of the Board of Regents, the dormitory is expected to be completed before its March 1 target date. Costing $1,027,686, it will be completely air-conditioned.

Peace Corps Issues Call For Volunteer Coaches

The Government of Indonesia has asked the Peace Corps for 30 volunteer coaches to help launch an all-out program dealing with physical education, physical fitness, recreation and sports. Volunteers will enter training for this project in late February.

Peace Corps Volunteers, with degrees in physical education or recreation, who can coach, teach, organize and administer a complete sports curriculum, can qualify for this project.

They must be proficient in at least one of the following sports: basketball, swimming, gymnastics, volleyball, soccer, track-field, tennis, wrestling, boxing and baseball. They should also have some experience in state, regional, national or international amateur athletic competition.

Volunteers Must Be Skilled
Volunteers must also have a sound knowledge of physiology, and all the attendant sciences that are part of a physical education or recreation degree. They must be American citizens and if married, both husband and wife must have needed skills for this project. Indonesia has stipulated that some of the swimming instructors may be women.

In Indonesia, the Volunteers will have to build home made sports equipment; supervise the clearing, building and design of athletic fields, soccer fields, basketball courts and improvised swimming pools. They will also have to teach, coach and organize all levels of competition for young Indonesian athletes; develop a mass physical education and sports program from the elementary school level; upward, and scout and select talent for the national teams and for training in the Indonesian Sports Academy.

To Obtain Information
Applications and additional information on this project can be obtained by writing Jules Pagano, Director, Professional and Technical Division, Peace Corps, Washington 25, D. C.

When that wintry wind whistles across the campus or through the stadium, there's no need for you to get that left-out-in-the-cold feeling. Your new outerwear, your "fashion front" in Fall and Winter, can be both warm and fashionable.
Fashions in outerwear, particularly those styled for campus, are more functional and individually styled than many other areas of a man's wardrobe—and this year's new coats are no exception to that glittering generality.

PILING UP POINTS . . . In popularity, new pile linings, usually of fur-like acrylic fibers, provide excellent light insulation with a lofty, comfortable feel. They're covered by angle-breasted shells of processed Dacron and cotton. Knee-length Stadium Coats, with button fronts and large pockets, come in poplin or gabardine weaves (smooth, close-woven fabrics). A removable hood for blustery days completes the picture of fashion and warmth.

SALT SEA SPRAY . . . was the test for the rugged, dark-blue denim coat. Adapted from a classic boating jacket, this climate-controller is of water-repellent, processed denim, with a brilliant scarlet lining for warmth. Masculine metal hooks and rings across the front shut-out the icy blasts, yet set-in sleeves and front-yoke styling keeps this weatherproof roomy even when hooked right up to the military collar and center-zipped hood. Utility is served with generous, almost oversized patch pockets.

ROOM TO SPARE . . . is the keynote of the Duffel Coat, this season's comeback favorite. Toggle rope closures are the distinctive trademark of this large and bulky coat, and you'll see it in tan and camel's hair tones of brown—this Fall's fashion first color. This above-the-knee coat is warm, practical, and ideal for campus and stadium wear.

SCHUSS FUSS . . . Young men on skis have made skiwear fashion news on campus. And new this year are zippered jackets in just-below-the-waist ski styles. They're quilted for warmth, and faced with water-repellent nylon and processed cotton. Solids in olive, black, tan and navy will be the most popular colors, and some models will feature detachable hoods.

BLACK AND WHITE . . . contrast is the word for rainwear colors this Fall. Raincoats will be seen either in natural tan or off-white, or in very dark olive or black. Raglan styling and 40" lengths are most popular, particularly among younger men, and zip-in linings make these campus favorites a good bet well into Winter. A bright new idea worth a second look from the daring young man is the patterned raincoat, seen for the first time this year in muted plaids.

HUNG BY THE NECK . . . of many college men this year will be the popular long, flowing muffler. It will most usually be seen in broad, 3" stripes of college colors, or in bright, bold solids.

THE MAILED FIST . . . is not as husky and masculine looking as this Fall's new gloves. The sportscar set has given us the knitted wool glove, usually in tan or light olive, with a sure-gripping tan pigskin palm. Tan and black pigskin shells will also be seen with liners of knitted wool in matching colors. And the Shearling-type glove remains a standard in every man's wardrobe. These thick, husky grippers are simply made of skin-suede leather, with the fur turned to the inside of the glove.

CHROME STRIPPING AND FOX TAILS . . . are not what we mean by accessories. You can find out what we do mean—and what little touches the well-dressed man can add to his wardrobe—next month. I hope to see you then, right here.

pantomimed the rhythmic cadence of "Drummer Boy."

Tapping to the traditional "Jingle Bells," Geri Brinegar, Carol McClanahan, and Jill Turner illustrated their knowledge and skill of the art in a lively Christmas flavor. "Night Before Christmas," complete with small boy and teddy bear, featured Carol McClanahan, Judy Weaver, Myrna Kinman, Brenda Bodkin, and Bethie Allison.

Connie Martin, Sue Lankford, and Lucille Both typified the presenting of gifts by the Wise Men in "We Three Kings." The inspirational "O Holy Night" featured Judy Ogden, Jill Turner, and Geri Brinegar.

The entire cast of 16 opened the program with the festive "Deck the Halls" and closed it with the devotional "Lord's Prayer." The highlight of intermission was the pre-season visit of Santa Claus (Art Bradford) who brought a sack of "goodies" he was asked to give the "boys and girls" from their parents, girlfriends, and boyfriends. He encouraged "all the girls and boys" to be "good."

Mrs. Mildred Maupin of the Physical Education Department is serving as the group's sponsor for this season.

Eight seniors were honored at the fete were Spenik, Elvin Brinegar, Carl Howard, Tom Sharp, Ken Goodhue, Willard Davis, Dick Wallace and Art Bradford.

Dave Whitaker, sports information director for the OVC and sports writer for the Courier-Journal, was the chief speaker, and talked on OVC sports and the bearing of football on the athlete's future life. President Robert R. Martin also made a short address of appreciation for the fine football season.

and forceful in the Baroque style. Petite Suite of Children's Games by Bizet was a light and interesting selection. The strings set the mood for each of the section of the suite except for the one entitled Trumpet and Drum.

The program came to a joyous close with an encore, Polonaise from Christmas Night by Rimsky-Korsakoff.

This orchestra was formed in the fall of 1961, and is composed of townspeople from Lexington and several teachers from surrounding colleges. Along with Mr. Oppelt and Mr. Staples other Eastern members playing in the orchestra are Mr. Nick Koenigstein, Mr. Harold Robinson, Mr. Lyle Wolf from Freshman, Mike Campbell, and Jack Hall who is a graduate student.

A FUNNY FOSSIL? . . . Dr. J. T. Dorris escorts three Eastern students through the Dorris Museum. The museum contains relics from such fields as military, science, and theology. It is located in the basement of the University Building and is open for students' benefits.

An Amuseum Account . . .

Dorris Museum Has Wide Appeal And Rare Educational Advantage

By WAYNE CABRAL
Progress Staff Writer

Eastern students have a rare educational advantage in the Dorris Museum, located in the basement of the University Building.

The museum has a wide range of appeal. Military Science students will be interested in relics of World War I and II and a display of weapons and equipment used by the Allies and Germany, including a display of mines, bombs, tracers, and armor piercing round. Life in ROTC summer camps is also pictured.

For the scientists, showcases displaying sundry kinds of light bulbs, rocks and minerals, and telephone switch boards are offered.

Biologists can engross themselves with a teaching collection of Mollusca (shellfish) presented to the museum by the Smithsonian Institute and another collection of various shells given by the Natural History Museum, Washington, D. C.

Ancient Bible Displayed

A thirteenth century manuscript Bible, prepared two hundred years before printing by movable type, is a focal point of the book collection. More than one hundred sheep supplied the vellum for leaves, which are all hand-written in Latin. The Bible is a copy of Father Jerome's manuscript Bible of the fourth century.

An early edition of John Milton (1690) containing Paradise Lost and Paradise Regained and a 1770 copy of the New Hampshire Gazette and Historical Chronicle are other prize possessions in this display. Within the museum there are elements of history from the world over. A Babylonian tablet written 2100 B. C. pertaining to the renting of boats in the Tigris River, and a tablet written 2000 B. C. giving a list of 186 workmen and foremen who were digging a canal near Nippur, in the third year of the reign of King Ibbi, son of Ur, will illustrate the variety of old artifacts to be found.

Not only is the ancient past represented, but remembrances of more recent events have also come to rest in the Eastern collection. A copy of the History of the World (1652) by Sir Walter Raleigh, a great deal of literature about the Civil War, including books written by Dr. Dorris, and a display of Confederate and Union weapons, uniforms, and equipment recreate the lives of our American ancestors.

Indian Relics Shown

Every type of culture is depicted. A collection of Indian artifacts presented to the museum by the Smithsonian Institute and a display of musical instruments, including a tremoloa believed to have been made in 1943, are primary points of interest.

Visitors to the museum have a capable guide in Dr. Dorris, who is always willing to answer any questions concerning any part of the museum.

Dr. Dorris thinks of the museum as a tool of learning. He is confident that anyone who sees the museum will gain knowledge, a primary reason for any museum. He puts a great amount of time and work into the museum.

The director is in his 37th year at Eastern and has been teaching for sixty years, since he was nineteen. An advocate of "active retirement," he believes that one is never too old to teach, as well as learn. In 1961 he presented a gavel to the present of the Southern Historical Association. The gavel was made from a tree in which Daniel Boone supposedly took refuge.

In the museum a very important part of the history of the United States is revealed. The institution is for the advantage of each student.

Those who saw The Crucible will find interest in a place of a bed cover, cut from a bedspread made by Mrs. John Proctor. Mrs. Proctor had been convicted of witchcraft, but was not executed.

Dr. Kennamer Attends Confab On Venezuela

Dr. L. G. Kennamer, head of the Department of Geography and Geology, is attending the Thirtieth Annual Conference on the Caribbean this Thursday through Saturday at the University of Florida, Gainesville, Florida.

General theme of the Conference is "Venezuela: A Case History of Development." A number of outstanding personalities, both from this country and from Venezuela, are scheduled to speak in round table sessions Thursday and Friday.

The Conference is organized by the University's School of Inter-American Studies, in cooperation with the Creole Petroleum Corporation.

CWENS Host Frosh Dinner

Approximately 600 freshmen women will be hosted next Wednesday evening at 6:30 p.m. at the twelfth annual Freshmen Women's

The event which is presented by CWens, sophomore women's honorary, will be highlighted by an address from Dr. Clyde Orr, professor of education at Eastern.

Marlboro Country

In all 50 states, the big switch is to Marlboro

Remember 1955, when Marlboro came to town? Suddenly, the U.S. had a flavor cigarette with a filter on the end. Sales grew in every town, in every state. Today the whole place is Marlboro country—land of the filter cigarette with the unfiltered taste. Behind this popularity is the famous Richmond recipe of ripe tobaccos (the finest grown), and the pure white Selectrate Filter. Pack or box, you get a lot to like.

Sold and enjoyed in all 50 states and in more than 100 countries around the world.
