EASTERN MAKES PLANS FOR K. E. A.

Regents will Speak to Students, Faculty at Meeting

MANY ARE TO ATTEND MEET

CONVOCAATION GYM TONIGHT

All Members of Eastern Community Expected to Attend Evening Chapel Program

BAND, ORCHESTRA PLAY

Members of the student body and faculty at Eastern will be given an opportunity to become acquainted with members of the Board of Regents at a special convocation scheduled for tonight at 7 o'clock in the Eastern gymnasium.

Plans for this special meeting have been under way for some time, and the program was announced several days ago. The doors of the gym will be open at 6:30, and the Boys' Band, recently taken over by Eastern, will begin a concert at that time.

The meeting will begin promptly at 7:00 and last until 8:00 o'clock. Members of the Board of Regents, all of whom will be present, are Superintendent W. C. Bell and Attorney General J. W. Cammack, of Frankfort; Senator Hiram Brock, of Harlan; Colonel C. F. Weaver, of Ashland, and Judge J. A. Sullivan, of Richmond.

The convocation has been announced as a family gathering of all who have any connection with Eastern, and the faculty, the administrative officers, and "all students are expected to attend. It is hoped that even those students living at a distance from the school will make arrangements to attend.

As far as could be learned this is the first meeting of its type to be held at the school, and the largest and most representative attendance at any chapel program in the history of Eastern is expected to fill the gymnasium to its fullest capacity.

S. K. Perry was scheduled to appear on the chapel program this morning, but notified Dr. Donovan yesterday that he was unable to attend so no meeting was held at the regular chapel hour.

On Saturday the Board of Regents will hold a meeting, and among other things will consider the employment of a line coach to assist "Turkey" Hughes this fall.

MCDONOUGH AT MEETING

Thomas E. McDonough, freshman coach and director of physical education at Eastern Teachers College, returned last week from a meeting of the Southern branch of the American Physical Educational Society.

Mr. McDonough read a paper on Present Day Problems in Physical Education. He was elected district representative for Kentucky and delegate-at-large to the next national meeting.

WAS U. OF K. ATHLETE

At the meeting of the board of regents tomorrow Frank Phipps, successful University of Kentucky athlete will be recommended as line coach to assist Coach "Turkey" Hughes during the 1929 season.

Phipps, who hails from Ashland, has played football under both Fred Murphy and Gamage, and was a star player in his freshman year.

In the Centre game of 1927, when Kentucky defeated her rival 53-0, Frank Phipps sustained a broken neck and played through part of the game unaware that he had received a cracked vertebra.

Phipps is one of three brothers who now attend the university. Jack, the youngest, was a member of the Ashland team which last year won the national championship.

UNIVERSITY LAUDED TOO

In the "Report on the Teaching of Psychology" made during 1928 by the Southern Society for Philosophy and Psychology, two Kentucky colleges, The University of Kentucky and Eastern out of twelve which reported and eight which were listed, had "all work approved".

In 1926 the Southern Society for Philosophy and Psychology began a movement to improve the teaching of Psychology in the Southern educational institutions.

In 1928, twelve reports were submitted by educational institutions in Kentucky, but only eight schools were placed on the approved list.

Dr. Noel B. Cuff is head of the department of educational psychology at Eastern and came here last fall. The report of the Southern Society gives Eastern a high rating in psychology.

DUO IS LAST ON LYCEUM SERIES

Program By Artists Enthusiastically Received By Large Audience

VARIED PROGRAM GIVEN

The year's lyceum course, sponsored by the school, under the direction of the lyceum committee, reached its culmination when the last and feature number, the Farnet-Steindel Duo, was heard in the Madison HI auditorium on Wednesday evening, April 3.

Mr. Steindel's numbers, played on a cello famous for its quality, were truly inspiring, and gave many in the audience a taste of true greatness.

Miss Farnet has a voice of rare quality, and a delightful way of presenting her songs. That these songs were truly appreciated was attested by the applause that greeted each number.

Although this final lyceum number was a splendid entertainment and an artistic triumph for the distinguished performers, much of the success of the musical ensemble was due to the wonderful piano accompaniments played by Miss Margaret Farr, a pianist of unusual ability.

The latter part of the program, particularly the ensemble numbers, seemed to be especially enjoyed by the audience.

STUDENTS WILL LEAD CLASSES

Are To Take Place of Instructors Absent at K. E. A. Meeting

DIAL TO BE PRESIDENT

In accordance with the decision of administrative officers to have students fill the positions of officers and teachers absent at K. E. A., Fred Dial, associate editor of the Progress and member of the junior class has been appointed as acting president.

Several weeks ago President Donovan announced that to further carry out the school's policy of training students for leadership, and in order to give them practical experience, all classes in which the instructor would be absent should be conducted by members of the student body.

Dr. C. A. Kelth, head of the social science department announced his appointments as follows: Social Science 307, James Alvin Roe; 102, Gayle Starnes; 108, John Osborne; 305, Wilburn Clifton; 342, Mary Congleton.

Professor A. J. Lawrence, head of the commercial department, indicated today that he would request the following to lead the class discussion: Commercial Education 121, Maude Bowen; 122 and 123, Roy Staton.

Miss Neely's selections for her classes in English are: English 101, Ross Anderson; 211, Fleming Griffith; 211, Elizabeth Golden; 7, Fannie McFeron; 101, Dudley Brandenburg; 161, Kathryn Moore; 112, Stella Ward.

In the last issue of the "Balance Sheet," a magazine devoted to commercial work, there appeared an article telling of the work which Prof. A. J. Lawrence, head of the commerce department, has done at Eastern.

L. T. C. PRESENTS ONE-ACT PLAYS

Campus Dramatic Organization Demonstrates Newly Acquired Talent in Three Productions

ARE WELL RECEIVED

The new talent which the Little Theater Club has gathered into its midst was demonstrated to a curious and admiring public on Tuesday evening, April 9, when three one-act plays were presented at the gym by the club's newly-elected members.

The first play, entitled "The Burglar," was presented by five girls. All played their parts well and the play, which was exciting as well as entertaining, was well received by the audience.

The second offering, appropriately entitled "They Say," was not only entertaining but taught a most excellent lesson which it is to be hoped the audience took to heart.

The third production, "Pursuit," was last, but by no means least. It was followed with breathless interest and much mirth by the audience, and may be accurately said to have "made a hit" with all present.

Little Theater Dance Is Saturday Evening

Indications were that attendance at this year's meeting of the K. E. A. would exceed that of any previous year.

Members of the organization has constantly increased until at present more than 12,000 teachers and school officials are members.

Several members of Eastern's faculty are on the program for general or sectional meetings. A. J. Lawrence, head of the commerce department, is chairman of the commercial section.

SEVERAL ARE ON PROGRAM

As plans for Eastern's participation in the meeting of the Kentucky Educational Association, to be held at Louisville, April 17-20, approached their culmination in announcement of final arrangements for the banquet and appointment of student teachers to substitute for instructors absent at the meet.

The executive meeting of the alumni has been scheduled for 4 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Brown, and representatives from every county in the state are expected to be present.

The feature of the K. E. A. program for Eastern students, faculty and alumni will be the annual banquet to be held at 6 o'clock Friday evening in the Crystal Ballroom of the Brown.

More than 300 are expected to be present at this affair, and a splendid program has been arranged. Four speakers are on the program.

R. K. Salyers, editor of the Eastern Progress and a member of the senior class will represent the student body, and will have as his subject "My Education: What Price? What Obligation?"

Prof. Kearney Adams, director of extension, will represent the alumni and will talk on "College Patriotism."

Dr. A. L. Crabbe, of George Peabody College, will have the final address and his subject will be "The Allurement of Higher Education."

Dr. H. L. Donovan, of Eastern, will act as toastmaster. The Eastern orchestra will be present and has arranged a program for the occasion.

Members of this organization are Eunice Dunn, Sara Tanner, Edith Denton, Louise Lowry, Agnes Combs, Emily Land, Sara Land, Irene Taylor, Ray Wright, Hattie Henry, Miss Jane Campbell is director.

Arrangements for plates at the banquet may be made at the business office or at the headquarters at the convention.

Large Attendance Expected

Indications were that attendance at this year's meeting of the K. E. A. would exceed that of any previous year.

Mr. Coates is a native of Tennessee and Mrs. Coates is from Harlan county. They said that there were very few students here at present who were here 25.

Welcome, Regents

It is not often that students and faculty at Eastern are presented the opportunity of meeting the members of the Board of Regents, the body on which so much of the well-being of the school depends, and with the members of which few students are acquainted. The men who compose this board are distinguished citizens, occupy responsible positions which require much time and effort. That they have seen fit to come to Eastern for the purpose of meeting the members of the school community seems especially gratifying.

The Progress hastens to welcome these men who have rendered great service to the school and the commonwealth by serving as members of this board; in behalf of the student body it expresses appreciation, pledges future cooperation in behalf of a constantly growing Eastern, predicts constant improvement under the wise administration of these men.

Welcome, Regents!

Congratulations

The recent establishment of a remote control radio station at the University of Kentucky seems to the Progress to constitute a forward step in the development of education in Kentucky. By means of this arrangement with WHAS the vast amount of educational information and talent to be found at the university and in the blue grass region is made available to radio audiences everywhere.

The immediate popularity which the programs radiocast from this station have attained demonstrates clearly the interest which Kentuckians everywhere manifest in their educational institutions and the popularity thus obtained cannot help but add to the momentum of the campaign for better schools and school systems in the state which undoubtedly needs an aroused interest in this field more than in any other. It seems to demonstrate that education, like business, must and will utilize to the fullest the advantages for growth which modern science and invention offer.

The Eastern Progress congratulates the University of Kentucky upon the establishment of the station and upon the splendid programs which it has arranged.

We Like It

More than gratifying to the Progress have been the many complimentary remarks which have been made within the last two weeks in regard to the recent spring number, which from many standpoints eclipsed all previous efforts on the part of those responsible for the publication of the school paper.

Ofttimes it is difficult for the members of a staff to obtain tangible evidence that they are pleasing or displeasing the readers of their paper, and the Progress has at all times invited any comments, favorable or unfavorable, on the part of the students. It has received some, but not enough, of both kinds, and would like to get more. Comment, expression of opinion, is what we want, and favorable or unfavorable, we like it.

One other thing. It is often impossible for those responsible for obtaining news to obtain complete information on everything that happens on the campus. If students would cooperate by dropping in the window of the Progress office a note containing any news of interest it would help a lot. Need we say, too, that the Letter Box is always open for expression of opinion. Give us all the news.

We like it.

Journalism

In an editorial some weeks ago the Eastern Progress discussed the situation in regard to student publications which exists at Eastern and recommended the establishment of a journalism department, or at least a class, as the remedy for the difficulties which arise in connection with publishing a satisfactory school paper under the present system. Deeply gratifying to the editors is the interest which has been taken in this matter, as evidenced by the many comments which have been made recently concerning this situation.

As far as we can ascertain, there seems to be no question as to the advisability of such a step; comment seems mainly to involve questions of method and policy which should be pursued if such a class is established. Since in the editorial mentioned heretofore, no specific recommendations were made, the Progress hastens to make such suggestions as would seem advisable in light of the experience which the members of the staff have had in the field.

Without doubt, the first step should be the change to a weekly, since within the next year or so any paper issued less often than once per week will lose standing in the K. I. P. A. The paper should be published under the auspices of the journalism class, but with the positions on the staff open to any students whose experience and interest in the work would justify their appointment; in this way those working on the paper would receive due credit for their efforts, which is not now the case, and the paper would constantly be supplied with an abundance of well written material, the scarcity of which at the present time throws the brunt of the writing upon a very few.

Another great advantage of the class would be the fact that from year to year there would be a supply of staff material and a continuity which is now lacking; under the present system it is necessary to completely reorganize each fall. The work of publication could be subdivided, and regularity of system so essential to a good paper, would be provided.

As to the size of the paper, we believe that for the weekly a four page, seven column paper, a little longer than the present size, possibly printed on regular newspaper, would be practical and effect economies in publication. This of course is one of the policies which must be worked out by the staff and class members. Other problems, too, would doubtless arise from time to time.

As to the value of a good paper to any college there is no doubt, and the progress, which college publications have made during the past few years is indication of the fact that the true importance of journalism is being everywhere recognized. Eastern cannot afford to allow itself to be remiss in this field, and the establishment of a journalism class looks as a necessity. The Progress sincerely hopes and believes that within the next year definite steps will be made in this direction.

The Campus Philosopher Says:

One thing leads to another. Someone has remarked that the game of love is one that is not called on account of darkness—and a coach and referee are superfluous—and clinches are not barred—nor are strangle-holds taboo. But—one side usually wins—and players often become expert—and every season is open season—and so on.

Which reminds us that everyone has his own problems, an idea well expressed in the rhyme:
*For even fleas have other fleas
 Upon their backs to bite 'em,
 And these in turn have smaller fleas,
 And so ad infinitum.*

Some cynic in referring to the fond evening partings in front of Burnam hall said cruelly that "love may be blind, but Miss Roberts ain't."

The recent art exhibit has provided to Eastern students and faculty as well as town people an opportunity to see the work of many of the foremost American artists. One does not need to be a connoisseur to enjoy them, for they are such that even a novice may experience delight in viewing them. Exhibits of this type provide opportunities for cultural and educational growth, furnish one of the most valuable sources of intellectual growth a college can offer. The school and the Open Forum are to be congratulated upon securing such an exhibit.

Another word about the K. E. A. It is not too late to join, nor to make plans to attend the meeting. Students who plan to become teachers are too well aware of the advantages which membership offers to make a repetition of them necessary. April 17-20 is the date.

Resumption of the Friday (or rather Saturday) night games with students furnishing the music seems to have met with a hearty response on the part of the students. Although strict admission requirements are doubtless necessary, it is to be hoped that adherence to rule will not be so rigid as to work undue hardship upon any students so well known as to make presentation of student cards unnecessary, or offend alumni who have always been welcome at such affairs. A rule so inflexible as to permit of no variation is seldom a good one.

ANNUAL MATERIAL IN Material for the Milestone has been arranged and submitted to the publishers, and proofs of the material are expected during the next few days, according to David McKinney, business manager. All students and organizations who owe for pictures in the annual have been requested to pay for them at once. Payment may be made to Robert Smith, Susan Helm, or David McKinney.

It is expected that the Milestone will be ready much earlier than usual this year, and will be the largest in the history of the school. Students who wish to have one reserved should see Mary Arnold, sales manager, at an early date as only a few extra copies will be available, due to the heavy advance sale.

Show To Be Held For Loan Fund

A picture which is said to be one of the best of the year will be presented to Eastern students when on Thursday evening, April 25, "Alias Jimmy Valentine," featuring William Haines, will be shown in the gymnasium. The picture, which is brought here under the auspices of the Open Forum, is adapted from one of O. Henry's most famous short stories.

In addition to the picture, the orchestra is preparing some special music and there will be a presentation of mountain ballads by Robert Davis, noted ballad singer. According to the members of the Open Forum committee it is planned to make this one of the outstanding entertainments of the year.

A small admission will be charged and the proceeds will go to the student loan fund.

Chapel Notes

The school orchestra presented its first program of the semester Tuesday morning. This organization is led by Miss Jane Campbell of the music department and is open to all students interested in music.

Wednesday's program, entitled "A Symposium," included several speakers who discussed the K. E. A. and who pointed out to the students the importance of becoming members of this organization. Those who addressed the assembly were Dr. H. E. Cooper, Dr. C. A. Keith, R. R. Richards, Ruth Fraser, Robert Smith and R. K. Salyers. Dr. H. L. Donovan introduced the speakers.

A new type of program was introduced Thursday at the assembly hour. Any student who had something to say was invited to use one minute to speak to the audience on any subject. Many students responded, among them Fred Dial, Calloway Taulbee, Otis Amis, Oscar Graham, Ray Wright and others. Among the subjects discussed were the change of place of holding chapel to the gym and the Friday night games. It is hoped that these programs may become a regular feature and that many more students will take part.

Friday morning all the girls entering for the spring term met in the chapel and were addressed by Dr. Donovan and Dean Roberts. Dr. Keith, dean of men, talked to the men students in the gymnasium.

The program Monday morning was devoted largely to announcements, and it is planned to make this first program of each week a time for announcing and planning the week's work. A committee from the fourth grade in the Training School requested students in the college to cooperate with this grade in its project by keeping off the flower beds in the rear of the Roark building. Dr. Donovan also urged students to make plans to attend the special Friday night assembly and meet the members of the board of regents.

One bright summer day Mr. Man sat down by a shady tree near the road to rest. As he sat there he began to think what a very nice day it was. "This is a day to live for," he said.

He noticed a very large mud-puddle in the middle of the road. He said, "How are you, Mr. Mud Puddle?"

"Very fine," Mr. Mud Puddle's reply was cut off by a big touring car coming along. Its front left wheel hit right in the middle of Mr. Mud-Puddle. A shower of water came down upon Mr. Man.

"Now, see what you have done!" shouted Mr. Man at Mr. Mud-Puddle. "Excuse me," said Mr. Mud-Puddle very humbly.

"You are good for nothing," said Mr. Man.

"But I am," said Mr. Mud-Puddle. "What, then?" said Mr. Man.

"I make the road hard for travelers," said Mr. Mud-Puddle.

Eastern Art Exhibit Creates Big Interest

The art exhibit which has been on display in the Roark building at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College for more than a week has attracted a large amount of attention not only from the student body but from many persons from Richmond and other towns.

Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock a special showing was held for persons from the town and surrounding towns who might not have been able to see this group of original oil paintings from the American Museum of Art. A constant stream of persons went thru the gallery all afternoon, those in charge said.

In addition to large numbers of persons from Richmond several groups from Frankfort, Lancaster and Irvine motored over to see the paintings. It is said by those responsible for bringing the exhibit to Eastern that it has probably caused more interest than any previous exhibit held here.

"I didn't splash any water on you."

"You did," said Mr. Man.

"I did not, the car did," said Mr. Mud-Puddle.

"Well, that's the same as you doing it," said Mr. Man.

"Oh, let's not argue about it, let's be good friends."

"All right, one good turn deserves another, as the native said when the lion turned him over."

"That's right, pull some jokes, pull me out of this hole."

"Wait till I get a bucket," said Mr. Man. He started running, and when he got to the house he was completely out of breath. He got the bucket and started running back.

He got there and Mr. Mud-Puddle said: "Take me home with you."

"All right," said Mr. Man.

When they got home they could not decide how they could stay with each others always. Finally Mr. Mud-Puddle said:

"I have a fine, good, dandy idea."

"What?" said Mr. Man.

"Well, go and get a wash tub."

Mr. Man did and they lived very happily ever after.

GEORGETOWN COLLEGE
Gaul's masterpiece in melody, Joan of Arc, was presented by the Georgetown Choral Club in the college chapel Thursday night.

Mrs. Grey Gaines, of Frankfort, gave a magnificent interpretation of Joan, telling in song and story of the French maid's patriotism and sacrifice.

Ben Bewley and Homer Combs, baritone, members of the College Glee Club, were also presented in solo parts.

Soprano—Louise Athey, Mildred Ellis, Vaudie Ellison, Ruby Callahan, Aimee Louise Burris, Maurine McBeath, Nannie Lee Vaughan, Elizabeth Owen, Mrs. M. B. Adams, Mrs. T. E. Cochran and Miss Ford.

Alto—Esther Knox, Mary Louise Offutt, Mary Ellen Cook, Hazel Settles, and Miss Emma Browning.

Tenor—Frank Casebier, Glenn Vasel, Dick Walters and Prof. Jones.

Baritone—Orla O'Neal and Jack Lovette.

Several others from the church choirs in Georgetown assisted the Choral Club.

Announcement is made that Miss Martha Tull, of Middlesboro, Kentucky, has been secured as an instructor for the summer session of the college.

Miss Tull is a graduate of Ouachita College, Arkadelphia, Arkansas, and will receive her master degree in English from Peabody Teachers College in June of this year.

In addition to teaching freshman English in Georgetown, Miss Tull will also be dean of women.

While in Ouachita College Miss Tull was head of student government, and after graduation she was engaged at Central College, Arkansas, as assistant to the dean of women.

ASBURY COLLEGE
From every possible standpoint the recent trip of Mr. Lovejoy, Asbury College business manager, to the Pacific Coast, was a valuable and worthwhile enterprise.

Beauty Hints

NOTE: This column will contain in each issue an interview with a Richmond beauty specialist.

HINTS ON HAIR

Dandruff is perhaps the greatest, and yet the commonest menace to the beauty of the hair. It is easily prevented, and usually comes as the result of carelessness.

Dandruff, it has been proved, is caused by a germ, and is carried chiefly by combs and hats. Think of this, young seeker after beauty, the next time you start to borrow someone's comb, or wear your roommate's new spring hat.

There are numerous preparations on the market which claim to cure or at least decrease dandruff, and many of them are very good.

very successful in his efforts, since he was able not only to secure splendid financial encouragement, but also to make a host of new friends for this institution which he believes will prove to be sincere supporters of Asbury in the future.

On the trip Mr. Lovejoy was privileged to meet with the three Asbury clubs in Los Angeles, Denver and Chicago. At Los Angeles the club gave a banquet, at which sixty Asburians were present, including many of the outstanding holiness leaders of the State.

It is an interesting fact, and one deserving attention, that upon the occasion of Mr. Lovejoy's visit to the University of Southern California, an institution of 15,000 students, the Dean of the School of Divinity made the statement that in his estimation the Asbury students were among the best in the enrollment and that he wished we might send fifty more out there like them.

lished before committing oneself to it. Shampooing with Castile soap dissolved in hot water is beneficial for the hair infected with dandruff as is also a hot oil shampoo, which may be taken at almost any good beauty shop.

A few words of warning — beware cheap so-called hair-restorers which although improving the looks of the hair temporarily, are liable to turn it almost any color on exposure to air and light.

Advice to Lovelorn

by
MRS. MARGERY MIX
the world's lowest paid woman writer
NOTE: It is the purpose of this column to give advice and assistance to all those in the Eastern student body or faculty who have problems (particularly those of the heart) which are in need of solution. Address letters to Mrs. Margery Mix, care Eastern Progress.

Dear Mrs. Mix:
I am a new student here (male) and wish to meet some NICE young ladies. I have been carefully reared, and taught to wait for a proper introduction before making overtures to one of the opposite sex.

My dilemma is this—the second day after I came, as I stood in line at the cafeteria a girl stepped on my foot, saying "O—pardon me!" I believe her to have been quite pretty, tho I merely gave her a dignified bow—however, a little later the same thing occurred again so pointedly that it seemed more than an accident.

Yesterday in chapel an even more exciting thing occurred—the same girl (who is quite plump and healthy looking), sat down, by mistake, on my lap—instead of on the next seat. Imagine my embarrassment, as it was several seconds before she discovered her mistake. I felt so sorry for her too, as the thoughtless young folks around seemed to see nothing but humor in the situation. Again I was so confused I could only bow as she offered profuse apologies.

What ought I to have done? Do you think her actions indicate that she is trying to get acquainted with me? Mrs. Mix, do you think she is the kind of a girl it would be all right for me to associate with?

—High-minded but heart-hungry.
Dear H. M. B. H. H.:

There is nothing the matter with you except that you are 45 1-2 years or so behind the times. You seem to need special attention from SOME one—as you are evidently blind, deaf and dumb a good deal of the time. The next time you see that girl OBEY THAT IMPULSE—unless you are so far gone that you never even have them any more.

—M. M.

My Dear Mrs. Mix:

I am a young girl of tender age (24) and have an earnest desire to fall in love, with an eye to marriage, but just cannot find my Ideal Man.

Each time I THINK I have found him, some little act or word sends my castle tumbling around my ears. Early this semester I quite fell for the Editor of the Progress, but my dream was shattered when I one day saw him smoking a pipe! I have heard tobacco is bad for the heart, and also on the parlor curtains.

Next I entertained a secret yearning for the President of the Little Theater Club * * * but alas! I beheld him standing with a girl on the Library steps, and he was Chucking Her Under the Chin! I could adore the Milestone Editor—for a short while I allowed myself to hope I had found the Perfect Man—but I am informed on good authority that he CHEWS Gum!! Do you think it is worth while for me to pursue my search for the Man of My Dreams? Where, oh where can he be found?

—Yearning.

In Heaven, my poor dear child—you are not looking for a Man—and if there are any Angels attending Eastern this term the Registrar has not gotten their names and addresses as yet. I am sorry, but there is no help for you—if you have already tried and found wanting three such sterling young men you are indeed hard to please.

—M. M.

Dear Mrs. Mix:

I have just entered Eastern. I signed up for classes as advised by those who registered me, without knowing anything about my teachers. Nothing was said to me about taking Hand-writing—But yesterday I saw such a handsome young Blond, and was told he was the teacher in that course. Don't you think I write a bad enough hand to justify my taking Hand-writing? Don't you think the Dean would let me if he knew how I really feel about it?

My roommate too wants to make a change. She is taking English in the College—but wants to take it in Normal School, instead. She hasn't found out the number of the course, but it is the one taught by that young, good-looking, dark-haired Professor who teaches so much Shakespeare—she adores Shakespeare.

—Sweet Young Thing.

P.S.—What does my hand-writing indicate?

Dear Child, your handwriting shows that you are of a very changeable disposition, and hardly know your own mind as yet. But, I am not the one to consult in this crisis—Dean Homer!

Lindsley To Speak At Chemistry Meet

Dr. L. C. Lindsley, instructor in chemistry at Eastern, will speak before the Kentucky section of the American Chemistry Association at a meeting to be held in the physics room at the University of Kentucky Tuesday, April 16, at 4 o'clock. He will talk on "Industrial Chemical Microscopy."

Dr. Lindsley secured his doctor's degree at Cornell University and graduated from William and Mary with the A.B. degree. Soon after his graduation at the latter school he became principal of high and grammar schools in cities and rural sections in Virginia, which positions he occupied ten years before entering the graduate school at Cornell. He had been head of the department of chemistry at William and Mary and Marshall Colleges, respectively, and each summer has taught in the summer school at Columbia University. He has also done extensive research work for industrial concerns and museums and recently published a book on chemistry.

Dr. Lindsley came to Eastern at the beginning of the second semester. He and Mrs. Lindsley have an apartment at the home of Mrs. R. C. H. Covington on Lancaster avenue.

Library Whispers

Seen, heard and suspected in the library.

The most popular author in the library at night seems to be "Noyes" (not Lord Alfred, however).

We should like to remind the library public that the place for meal tickets, love letters and lesson plans is NOT in the library book you have just returned—especially if you have forgotten the name of the book and are vague as to its color. Remember, folks, there are only 30,000 such volumes in the library.

Heat could often be dispensed with in the library (especially the magazine room) if a way could be found to utilize the warm glances that pass from eye to eye and table to table.

Not only does the library urge the students to "Reid Moore," but it tenderly "Posters" all types of learning.

We would also gently remind the new students that when the librarian says "What do you want?" a good deal of breath could be saved by coming to the point immediately instead of saying "I want a book" as the librarian knows by experience that you do not expect either a sandwich or an ice cream cone.

ALUMNUS IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Thomas C. Yager, who graduated at Eastern in 1927, is head of the wood-working department in the senior high school at Columbia, S. C., according to word received by friends here recently. In his letter Mr. Yager requested that the Eastern Progress be sent him that he might not lose touch with the school.

E. Cooper is the man you want. Just a word to you and your chum—don't put too much affection or dependence on these young instructors—they have such a way of getting married on you about mid-semester—thus taking all the joy out of life for that term.

LOAN FUND CHECK IS GIVEN TO PRESIDENT

The treasurer of the Open Forum Committee handed this week to President Donovan a check for three hundred twenty-five dollars which represents the amount of money raised for the student loan fund by the students of the institution during the first semester.

The students contributed a dollar which they earned or saved. W. T. Sistrunk Company, of Lexington, contributed twenty-five dollars as a result of a challenge to the student body that 60 per cent of the number enrolled contribute dollars. The contribution is much appreciated by the students.

Dr. H. L. Donovan, President, Eastern State Teachers College, Richmond, Ky.

Dear Sir:

At the last meeting of the senior class a motion was passed by a unanimous vote that the class express by a letter its approval and appreciation of the splendid chapel programs which it has been enjoying.

The class feels that such programs as we have been having are very much worth while. We assure you that you may depend on us to lend our support to such a worthy cause.

Sincerely yours,

Eastern Member of Oratorical Assn.

Eastern has just become a member of the Eastern Kentucky Oratorical Association which is composed of Georgetown College, Berea College, Asbury College, and Eastern State Teachers College. This organization has been in existence for several years and is very much alive. Each year an elimination contest is held by the schools belonging to the Association and the winners in these local contests represent their respective schools in the state contest.

On Monday morning, April 15, at 7:00 o'clock the local contest will be held in the chapel room of the University building. The boys taking part in the contest are: J. B. Runyon, Curtis, Demaree, Silvers, and A. Smith. The girls to be in the contest are: Mary Evelyn Allen and Gladys Moore.

Two medals will be given for the local winners—one for the winning boy and one for the girl. Medals are also given for the state winners.

The state contest is to be held at Eastern this year. The date has not been set yet, but it will probably be in the last week of this month or the first week in May.

APPOINTMENT BUREAU FOR EASTERN STUDENTS

Some weeks ago all seniors and certificate people were requested to register with the Bureau of Appointments before April 10 in order that the department might have a complete list before the meeting of the K. E. A.

Dr. L. C. Kenamer is in charge of this department which is designed to serve students of Eastern who wish to secure positions. Last Tuesday a list of positions open was posted and all students interested were advised to arrange for interviews in regard to them. Through this bureau the school plans to furnish a service in line with its policy of taking care of its graduates and certificate holders who intend to become teachers.

The offices of the Bureau of Appointments are located in Room 27, Administration Building.

"I am going on a tear," said the patch as it was adjusted on the seat of the boy's trousers.

KY. NET STARS ARE HONORED

Netmen Make Good Showing At National High School Meet

JOHNSON IS ALL-AMERICAN

Although both Kentucky representatives in the National High School Basketball Tournament were eliminated in the meet last week at the University of Chicago, they gave good accounts of themselves and for the second consecutive year a Kentucky player received a position on the All-American team.

Heath, the "unknown" school from the western part of the state, waded into their first game and won by the wide margin of 18 points. They drew a bye for the second day and did not play. On the third day they met their defeat at the hand of Jena, La., by a two-point margin, but only after they had put up a game fight.

The Ashland boys, national champions of last year, started off with a very poor showing and were able to take their first game by only a two-point margin, but the next day found them playing a much stronger game to win by a larger margin. The third day found them facing a bunch of six-footers from down Texas way. The Athens boys were able to take the Ashland boys into camp by a two-point margin to go on and win the national championship.

Ellis Johnson, star guard of the Ashland team and picked as All-American guard last year, was awarded the same honors again this year. Johnson is probably one of the best high school players that has ever been developed in the state. Allen of Ashland and McElya of Heath also received honorable mention from many of the Chicago sports writers, and the latter youth scored the most points made by any player in the meet in a single game, managing to hit the hoop for 20 points in Heath's first game.

TRAINING CAMP TALK

After weeks of experimenting and shifting his players, due to injuries or lack of condition, Manager Connie Mack has about decided upon his team with which to open the season. The team is expected to be nearly down to the limit of players next week.

The nearer they get to home and the start of the major league season the better the Yankees look. They did some of their real big time hitting against the Birmingham Barons yesterday.

Grady Adkins is ready to go and Manager Lena Blackburne of the White Sox is glad. Adkins went against the Louisville club yesterday and in nine innings pitched allowed the Colonels only five hits.

Joe McCarthy and his Chicago Cubs were many miles nearer home today, taking a day's rest before tackling the Kansas City Blues in the first of a three game series tomorrow.

The Cincinnati Reds have been balked the last three days in their efforts to play exhibiting games, twice by rain and once by cold. They will return to Cincinnati tonight from Indianapolis.

With George Grant and Walter Miller scheduled to do the pitching the Cleveland Indians are playing a two game series with Birmingham today and tomorrow.

A home run by a rookie outfielder, Tom Jenkins, clinched a victory for the St. Louis Browns over the Tulsa team yesterday.

The Detroit Tigers are on their way north with a disastrous training season behind them. They wound up the southern trip yesterday by taking another pasting from Pittsburgh 10 to 6.

The Boston Red Sox returned home today with only a series between them and the Braves and the opening of the regular season.

Captain Pie Traynor is going to play third base for the Pirates in today's exhibition game with the Crickets as to see if his defective hip is improved. Bush consented to let him try it.

The Washington Nationals were on their own back yard today to show the home folks some of the power that made them the sensation of the spring exhibition games.

MAROONS TO PLAY WESTERN

Eastern Nine to Meet Hilltoppers At Bowling Green

PLAY TWO GAME SERIES

Coach Hembree and sixteen of his Maroon baseball men left yesterday for Bowling Green, where they will meet Coach Diddle's Hilltoppers today in the first game of a two-game series, the second game being played tomorrow.

The Maroons have been working every day since their opening game last Friday and expect to be in much better condition when they trot on the field this afternoon. The starting lineup for today will be something of a puzzler and will not be definitely known until game time. It is very likely that Staton will be called in from short to pitch the first game. If so, Waldrop may be shifted from third to short with one of some two or three men filling in at third. In case Staton doesn't start the game from the pitcher's slab it is likely that the infield will be the same as last week.

Hatter, the chap that whiffed twenty-three of the thirty-three men to face him in the opening game, will be on the mound for the second game. Although Hatter was a little wild last week he was effective apiently when it was necessary.

The Maroons and the Western lads did not meet last year. But the spring before they came here for a two-game series and split even on wins and losses. The Maroons hope to do even better this time and come home with two victories to their credit.

U. K. Has Remote Control Studio

The University of Kentucky inaugurated on Monday, April 1, a remote control radio station, connected by a special leased wire with WHAS, operated by the Courier-Journal and Louisville Times at Louisville. The first program opened with an organ solo, "U. K. Alma Mater," played by Elmer Sulzer, and President Frank L. McVey spoke on "Radio Greetings from the University."

According to the Kentucky Kernel student publication at Kentucky, programs will be broadcast from the extension station at noon five days each week, between 12:45 and 1:00 o'clock. Three of these days, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, will be used by the College of Agriculture; on Tuesday the radiocast will be talks by Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, head of the Department of Zoology, and other departments will be heard on Thursdays. The program on Wednesday nights, between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock, will be devoted to music by the University band glee clubs and orchestra.

By means of this special arrangement the educational and musical talent of the University is made available to the radio audience. A feature of the first week's program was a talk by Coach Harry Gamage on football.

Now is the time for all Progress readers to make a careful survey of the advertisements. It pays big dividends.

little something about it. Anyway the speakers were all supposed to speak on the K. E. A. and the benefits derived from belonging and attending same. You would be surprised if I were to tell you that some of those young men admonished—is that the right word?—you about not belonging and right then they didn't belong. But it's the truth. Anyway you should go to the K. E. A. next week, they say.

Did you know we have a first class boys' band now. Heard 'em over at the University Buidlin here a few nites ago. You see the president has been given permission to take over and support the boys' band that was sponsored by the Exchange Club here in town. Now we have a real school, a band and everything. Those boys are going to play every now and then, and you will enjoy hearin them. From here on out they will be a vital part of the school.

FLOWER GARDENS

Much is being said about the shrubbery which is being set out on campus, but few of us are aware of the flower gardens. On almost any beautiful day you may see Miss Werts and Miss Wingo with shovels and hoes digging up flower beds. The jonquils and hyacinths in Miss Burrier's flower garden have already bloomed. This garden was planned by the interior decoration class under the direction of Miss Burrier. Miss Sullivan's and Miss Gibson's garden is also progressing nicely. Miss MacIlvanis flower garden, back of Burnam hall, is seldom seen, but it is beautiful just the same.

Perhaps the most interesting garden on the campus is that which is being planned by the fourth grade in the training school. The aim of the project is to help beautify the campus. These children are making borders along the walks back of Roark. In the center of the circle there is to be a bird bath, surrounded by flowers. Bird houses will be put up and are already built. Let's do all we can to help these children by keeping paper and trash off their plots.
