Martin Predicts New Gym Edifice

Is Speaker At Sports Banquet

Dr. Robert R. Martin, Eastern State College's next president, told an Eastern athletic banquet audience Tuesday night that he hopes to soon see within the near future a new gymnasium building on the campus.

The speaker, presently state commissioner of finance, remarked that the school's enrollment will greatly increase within the next decade and that the basketball court seating arrangement in Weaver Health Building will be much too small.

Dr. Martin opened his address, his first on the campus since it was announced that he would take over the presidency in July, by saying: "Where Dr. O'Donnell leaves off in supporting athletics at Eastern, Bob Martin wants to begin. I want Eastern to beat Western, Morehead and Murray fairly and squarely every time we play them."

Coaches, Teams Introduced

Continuing, he said, "Athletics are a big part of a college program. But the best athlete should not be excused from being good scholastically. If we cheat them now, we would be cheating them forever if any such plan is adopted. Athletics can be a strong force in life."

The incoming president said he regretted that no tennis coach and tennis team were introduced at the banquet. He said he had learned that there were not enough funds for tennis this year. He promised that next year there will be funds for a tennis program.

In giving a brief speech, Dr. W. F. O'Donnell, president of Eastern for 19 years, said, "I want it understood right now that I want two reserved seats to every home football game and two to every home basketball game. I'm going to be pulling for the Maroons just as I have for these many years."

KAPPA DELTA PI HAS BANQUET

The Delta Alpha Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi held its spring initiation Wednesday, May 14, at 5:00 P. M. in Walnut Hall. Those initiated were: Janet Adams, Amanda Anderson, Art Belmonte, Peggy Sue Carr, Laura Cropper, Virginia Hagan, Peggy Ann Harris, Robert Evan Magowan, Ralph Mills, Marie Patterson, Frances Mae Dobbs, Betty Lucille King, David Rush Magowan, Sarah Crump Welch, and Janet Gay Wesley. Officers elected for next year are: Jocelyn Ferguson, President; Marjorie Hill, Vice President; Arlene Hatton, Secretary; Ann Scott Carnes, Treasurer; and Gail Holbrook, Historian.

Following the initiation forty-four old and new members with our advisors Mrs. Mabel Jessee and Miss Ida Teater attended the banquet at Boone Tavern. Special guests of Kappa Delta Pi were President W. F. O'Donnell and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Maddox. Special music was provided by Peggy Carr.

HENRY CLAY GIVES ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

On Wednesday, May 18, our president said that it was a shame that not more of the students at Eastern were there to hear Henry Clay Orchestra perform. It was a pleasing sight to both eyes and ears to hear this young group of future musicians play. Their playing was indeed a credit to their school and their instructor. Among some of the selections which they played were: the Prometheus Overture by Beethoven; a symphonic arrangement of Bizet's Carmen; a modern piece; Dance Rhythm by Wagner and a medley from South Pacific by Rogers and Hammerstein.

GRADUATION

As the seniors prepare to graduate, it gives one a feeling of nostalgia. What a horrid thought it is to leave behind a place which for four years has been one's second home. But even more than that, it is hard to leave the many friends that have been made at college. Many of the close friendships which have been fostered at Eastern will be separated. Some, we will see again, and we will be able to sit back and laugh about the good times that we had at Eastern. Others, we may see again only in memories.

Graduation, to some of those who will walk down the corridors for the last time, is a sad occasion. To others, it is a joyous time when they can embark upon a new career—thanks to the training at Eastern.

After graduation, Eastern is our Alma Mater, not our home. But even so our loyalty, respect, pride, and friendships remain with us. Eventually, we are all forgotten, but this is as it should be for the freshmen arrive, just as we did, eager and ready for the task which prepares them for the role of graduation.

EXCELSIOR

In the fall of 1956 a very naive, somewhat frightened freshman entered Eastern for the first time. Four years later she prepares to depart—a very naive, somewhat frightened graduate. With the realization that one has almost completed his formal education comes both a sense of success and of failure. Graduation from college is an accomplishment of which many people have dreamed, and few, until recent years, have achieved. Nevertheless, the average college student fails so often to avail himself of the opportunities which present themselves. Many times, too, even the BEST that one has to offer proves to be not good enough.

Although the days and months at intervals seemed to drag on endlessly, in retrospect, they flew by all too rapidly. They cannot be called back even if one so desired. It seems, however, a great loss that one does not realize this until the time comes when nothing can be done about it.

For a brief span of time our lives have touched. Together we have loved, laughed, cried, and lived. Tomorrow the experiences we have shared will live only in memory. Yet each of us takes with him a part of the other, and Eastern leaves its influence upon each individual. For —

I am a part of all that I have met;
 Yet all experience is an arch where through
 Gleams that untraveled world whose margin fades
 Forever and forever when I move.

BOOK REVIEW

By Loretta Estridge

Sex Histories of American College Men by Drs. Phyllis and Eberhard Kronhausen is based on teaching experiences of Dr. Phyllis Kronhausen at a large Eastern University while conducting a course in marriage and family. The title of this book is intriguing, and for good reason. The book contains information directly from college men about sex. The fellows tell (in case histories) where the parents fail in teaching their children about sex, why sex education should be taught in the school (instead of the gutter), and what they expect from a date and a mate.

There are also chapters on homosexuality, prostitutes, masturbation and many other things.

The book is one of the most interesting and entertaining that I have ever read. On every page there is a laugh, but taken as a whole the book accomplishes its purpose — to explain the sex mores of the American College Man.

Social Security Positions

The Social Security Administration through its Bureau of Old-Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance is interested in recruiting qualified college seniors for the position of Claims Examiner Trainee and who have or will graduate no later than August of this year, according to R. A. Tweedy, District Manager, Social Security Administration, Lexington.

Before such a student can be considered for employment, he must pass the Federal Service Entrance Examination. The next such examination will be given by the Civil Service Commission on June 11. Applications to take the examination must be filed on Form 5000AB and must be in the hands of the Sixth Civil Service Region, Inc., Cincinnati, 2 Ohio no later than Post Office and Courthouse Building, May 28.

Upon achieving the required score on the test together with other qualifications, those students selected for the position involved may be entered on duty at the annual rate of $4,980. Within about a 12-month period of training and upon passing a promotional test, the per annum rate of pay may be increased to $5,470.

Those students who may be interested in a career with the United States Government are urged to take the Civil Service Examination. Students wishing more information with respect to the duties of the position may get in touch with the District Manager in Lexington.

Salem Moody, S. Second St., offers $5.00 for return of red cedar carving taken from his yard.

Jean Patterson and Sandy Wilhoite console Frank Pearce as he sheds a few tears over graduation.

PEARCE'S PORTRAITS

BY FRANK PEARCE

(The editors of the Progress wish to apologize to Frank Pearce for misspelling his name as Frank Bearce in the last issue of the Progress. He never misspells anything in the articles he writes for the Progress.)

Pearce, the portrait painter of the Eastern Progress, is going to hang up the old hat. Yes, loyal fans, if there are any loyal fans, this is the last Pearce's Portraits. Makes you want to cry, does it not? But before I bow out I want to salute the two fine editors of this beloved sheet. Jean Patterson and Sandy Wilhoite are two real top drawer people. Never once did they blue pencil anything I ever wrote for the Progress. I think they threw away all of the previous year's blue pencils, and they never bothered to buy any more. (Note: "Blue Pencil" is newspaper slang meaning to omit from print what the writer of the article feels is the best part of the article.)

Jean Patterson is the smaller of the two editors. But don't let that fool you; her hobby is chasing men across the ravine. Her home is in Patterson Hollow, Kentucky, where her father is a retired bootlegger and moonshiner. She is majoring in airplane flying and plans to fly spy planes over Russia after graduation.

Sandy, a former high school girl wrestling champion, comes from outer space. Her activities include the Grille Coffee-Lovers Club, Flunka Coursa Week, and Young Communist Club. She is going to be the first lady President of the United States after graduation, possibly before.

Break it off, Frank, boy. Get down to something serious.

Seriously, I have enjoyed working with Sandy and Jean on the 1959-60 editions of the Eastern Progress. To new editors, Stanley and Klonne, we wish the best of luck.

Now, for the final time, a tip of the battered top hat to Jean Patterson and Sandy Wilhoite.

I think I will put the old top hat in mothballs and take it out some day when I am old and gray. Goodbye from the old portrait, Frank Pearce.

On Wednesday afternoon, May 18, the following members of the English department were honored at a coffee given by members of the English department. From left to right in the picture the teachers are: Mr. Medlin, Mrs. Barnhill, Miss Wessler and Mr. MacKenzie. Mrs. Barnhill, who has been a member of the English department for twenty-nine years, will retire at the end of the summer school, August, 1960. Miss Kessler, who has been with the English department since 1956, will be married to Mr. Jack K. Burton, in June of this year. They will live in Athens, Ohio, where Mr. Burton will continue his work as representative for Appleton-Century-Crofts, and Miss Kessler (the future Mrs. Burton) will teach English at Ohio University. Mr. Medlin, who has been a member of the English department during the present year, will be married in June to Miss Sarah Gouge, of North Carolina and Berea College. CAREFREE DAYS

By Barry Brennan

I don't think that I will ever forget that first week of college. Those first five traumatic days at Eastern when I didn't smoke a pack of cigarettes a day and didn't know what bennies were. To prove I was moronic, I thought Specks were dirt particles on someone's glasses. Ah, innocence, ah, youth!

I was weary of lines by the time that week was over. We stood in line for everything. It got to the point that I was automatically falling into every line I saw and before I knew what I had done, I had signed up for R.O.T.C., Esoterics, and the girl's soccer team (no comment here). And then the greatest line of all — it forms at 5:45 and you wait like Cayl Chessman for 8:00 when you can gasfixiate yourself in the grim process called Registration. I won't bore you with details, you all know what it's like. I think this was my first contact with "noble guides of youth." You could tell which ones they were — they were "holding high amid the darkness, knowledge, light, and truth." That brings me up to present, and what I have learned.

I couldn't wait until I learned the school song, the alma mater, a few college yells, and a curse word or two (I learned more). To think, I was in college. I might even meet a beat-neck or two (I met more). All of this was easy. I had the greatest difficulty in learning the difference between Ivy covered professors and Ivy covered Halls. (Both of which are terribly institutional by the way).

Oh, happy college days, on care-free college days; going to Morey's (whatever that is), sleeping through classes, cheating on exams. But, we'll pass — and be forgotten with the rest. So three cheers for college, three cheers for youth, three parts gin and one part vermouth.

What About the Value of Gold

Before you spend your money to purchase any article which may have some gold content, it would be to your distinct advantage to know exactly what you are paying for. It is with this in mind that KESSLER'S is extending this bit of fact, so that your future purchases might be made more intelligently.

Pure gold is classified as 24K and naturally is the most valuable. However, in the commercial manufacture of rings and other jewelry, gold of this grade is impractical because of its very soft physical property. As a result certain alloys are added and the gold content reduced to varying degrees. The most common gold content in stone rings is 10K, and in diamond rings and wedding bands 14K. It would certainly be to your advantage to examine carefully what you buy. Make certain you get your money's worth.

If you are even in doubt, why not stop in and visit us. Perhaps our 20 years of experience might give you the answer you are looking for.

ESC Marksmen Third In Match Pershing Rifles Elect Officers

Eastern's First Regimental rifle team champions showed their sharpshooting ability in defeating 16 of 18 colleges and universities in the 1960 Pershing Rifles First Regimental drill meet at Lexington.

Eastern's deadeyes placed third behind John Carroll University and the University of Kentucky in a highly competitive match. The 18 colleges and universities represented the states of Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky.

The local rifle team coach is Fred Crump, a junior from Richmond. Crump will return to Eastern next fall and again resume the task of being the team coach.

Eastern's Pershing Rifles drill masters placed second and third in the individual drill competition with 600 competing. Second place winner was Brian Cook, an Eastern sophomore. Third place was taken by Harvey Turner, also a sophomore. Both received trophies and medals for the achievements. McKinnie Commander

Eastern Downs Morehead Eagles

Eastern clinched at least a tie in the Ohio Valley Conference baseball championship when it downed the Morehead Eagles, 7-0, here Tuesday.

Ken Pigg, freshman ace, performed with a two-hit shutout.

Pigg, who has a 6-1 record, struck out nine and walked but two men during the game, which was called after six innings because of a thunder storm.

Eastern now has an 11-5-2 record.

The Maroons did not collect an extra-base hit although four men had two safeties each. Morehead's Larry Wright captured the game's only extra-base knock when he led off the top of the first frame with a double. Eldon Seecrest got Morehead's only other hit, a sixth inning single.

Fans howled at the expense of Dannie Pierce, Morehead shortstop. He stopped a grounder but couldn't rid himself of the horsehide. The ball, hit by Ted Onkst, struck the back of Pierce's glove and rolled up his arm and inside his shirt. He yugged at his waistband but could not free the ball and Onkst was safe with a base hit.

Even Virgil is with the Winston beat

I Sing Of Arms And Like FILTER-BLEND, Man,

For if you dig a modern filter cigarette
It figures that it's what's up front that is the most
Like pure Flavorsville, orbit stuff, and all that jazz;
And only Winston swings with FILTER-BLEND up front,
A real gone combo of golden, rich tobaccos
Selected and processed like for filter smoking;
That's why, dear cats or even squares, it's understood

Winston tastes good like a cigarette should!

GOOD OR BAD by Barry Brennen

By BARRY W. BRENNEN

The Sorority-Fraternity question has been kicked around quite a bit this year. The student body is divided along the usual lines over this situation.

A few are for them, a few against them, and the great majority do not care one way or the other. I suppose the same thing is true of the faculty.

The President obviously feels that the problem should be studied, for he appointed a faculty committee to investigate the matter. Dean Moore is the head of the committee that will recommend or condemn Sororities-Fraternities for Eastern.

Any conclusion that this committee comes to, however, will not be hastily drawn for they have given consideration to all sides of the argument. Students who favor Fraternities and Sororities have presented their case before this group, and they were fairly and impartially heard.

Letters were mailed to sixty colleges with backgrounds similar to Eastern's that have social organizations of this type. Their responses, good and bad, have no doubt been taken into consideration.

The feeling of the student body as a whole has not been sought, however, and this does not seem to be as it should be. If you would like to make your preference known, for or against, write a letter or note to Dean Moore, Mary Kappas or Barry Brennen, and leave them in the Progress office. Your opinion could prove to be valuable to the committee.

English Students Receive Fellowships

Several English students at Eastern have received scholarships, fellowships, or awards for further English study during 1960-61. Mr. Tommy Kelley has been awarded a fellowship to do graduate work in English at the University of Arkansas during 1960-61. Mr. Kelley will complete his Bachelor's degree in English at Eastern in June of this year. He is the son of Mrs. Mabel Kelley, Hazard, Kentucky.

Mr. Ralph Mills has been awarded a graduate assistantship in the English department at Ohio University. He will do graduate work in English. Mr. Mills will graduate from Eastern with a major in English and with a minor in dramatics and speech. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Mills, Pineville, Kentucky. His wife, Rita, is also an English major.

Miss Jean Patterson, also an English major, who will graduate in June, has been awarded a scholarship at the University of Kentucky to study library science during 1960-61. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Patterson, Horse Cave, Kentucky.

Mrs. Linda Gassaway has been awarded for the third time a Stuart - Ellerdge scholarship by the Carnation Milk Company. She will use this scholarship to continue her work in English at Eastern. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Judson Lassiter, Watertown, Tennessee. Her husband, Mike, is also an English major.

Former Eastern Students Appear On Research Program

Three former Eastern Kentucky State College Physics students appeared on the research program of the Kentucky Section of the American Association of Physics Teachers at the University of Kentucky.

Donald Mattox reported work on semiconductors, a new and promising branch of Physics; Roger Alexander reported work dealing with nuclear physics studies, and Dr. Fletcher Gabbard reported work dealing with the size of the nuclei of atoms.

Mr. Mattox is the son of Professor and Mrs. M. E. Mattox of Richmond; Mr. Alexander is the son of Judge and Mrs. Clyde Alexander of Owingsville, and Dr. Gabbard, now assistant professor to Physics at U. K., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Gabbard of Sand Gap, Kentucky.

Mr. Mattox and Mr. Alexander are working on their Ph.D. degrees in Physics at the University. Dr. Gabbard obtained his M. S. and Ph.D. degree at Rice Institute in Houston, Texas. This Institute has for many years had an excellent program in Physics Research.

CAMPUS PROFESSOR HEADS RED CROSS

Mr. Parkhurst served recently as the campus chairman for the American Red Cross. A team was picked of key personnel in each building and area to contact all faculty, staff, and students wishing to participate in this humane fund. This team was composed of:

Mr. Charles Hansel, Administration Building; Mrs. Baldwin, Roark; Dr. Jagers, Science; Dr. Martin, Cammack; Mr. Wickersham, University Hall; Mr. Dickerson, Library; Mrs. Ballard, Student Union; Mr. Van Peursem, Music; Mrs. Coleman, Weaver; Joyce Halsey-Eubank, Vet Village; Nancy Campbell-Barbourville, Owens; James Showalter-Louisville, KLE.

Anyone who was not seen by this team may contribute through Mr. Parkhurst, or through the Richmond chairman, Mr. Riggert, at the J. C. Penney Company or directly through the local Red Cross office in the courthouse.

The total campus collection was $241.80 and the total pints of blood contributed by EKSC was, at the last visit of the bloodmobile, 44.

Mr. Parkhurst noted that campus collections of many of the faculty and staff were influenced by the fact that many had given previously when a Red Cross representative called at their homes.

Oaks Elect Officers

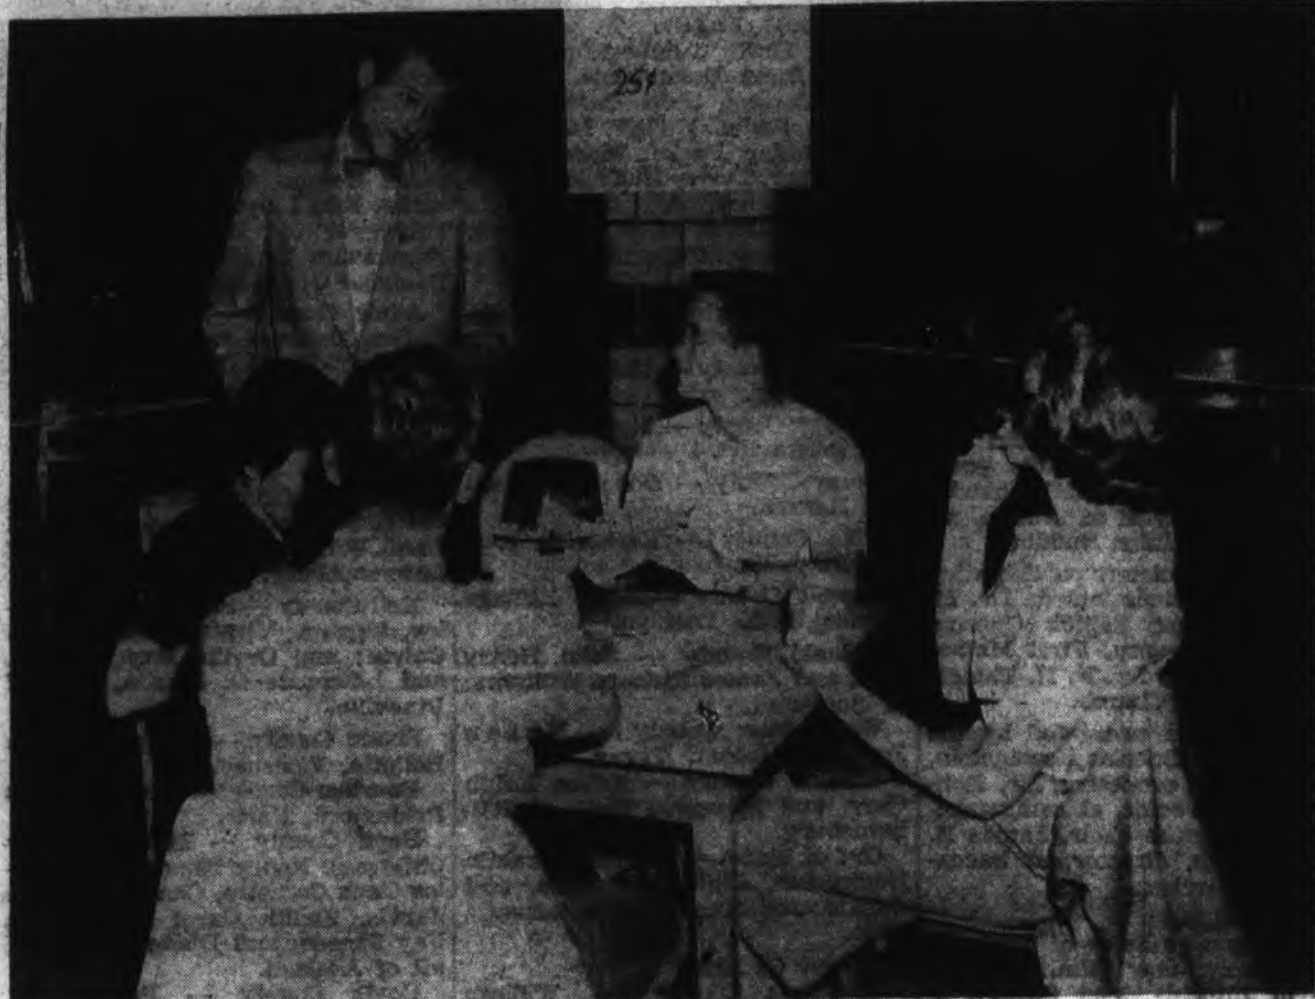

OAKS, junior-senior mens honorary, has elected officers for next year. Re-elected as president and vice president were John Anderson and Leonard Jefferson. David Groshiedler was elected secretary. Frank Whalen was chosen treasurer.

Elected as permanent committee chairmen were Jim Showalter and and Don Stivers, membership; Don Whitaker, service; David Morgan, publicity; Jim Barrett, historian.

There are 19 countries or dependencies in the Near East.

The youngest president of the United States was Theodore Roosevelt at 42.

This foursome is shown playing a hand of bridge during the bridge tournament. The tournament was the first to be held on Eastern's campus. Mr. Bareilly, tournament director and Eastern graduate, looks on.
