Maroons Win 66 - 54 Over N. M.

By DOUG WHITLOCK The visiting Aggies from New Mexico State University threw quite a scare into the nation's offensive leader last night as the Eastern Maroons were only able to defeat them, 66-54, after holding a very small lead for most of the ball game.

Holbrook Plays Mark Twain

By ALLEN COMMENTS Mr. Richard Allen, head librarian at Eastern, comments in an interview that the library has grown considerably since he arrived on campus about four years ago.

Average Life Span Of 100 May Be Possible In Future

Science is working to expand man's Biblical life expectancy from "three score years and ten" to at least five score, or 100 years; and if the trend of new discovery continues, our children of theirs may live in a time when 100 years of age is merely a respectable average.

Mrs. W. E. Lander, Jr., the former Charlotte Newell who graduated from Eastern in 1949, will be on campus Thursday to inspect the Nu chapter of Owens, National Sophomore Women's Honorary Society.

Coming Interview Dates Announced To EKSC Students

Mr. M. L. Archer, Recruitment Officer, Department of Personnel, Frankfort, Kentucky, will be on campus today for the purpose of explaining the job opportunities in State Government and the procedure for applying for employment through the State Merit System.

New Rifles Made Available To Army

Acting to expedite manufacture of the new, lightweight M-14 rifle to reequip the active army as soon as possible, the army is now considering a third production source to step up the rate at which the rifles will become available to troops.

University Dean Speaks At Eastern Convocation

Dr. Lyman Ginger, dean of the University of Kentucky College of Education, told the Eastern students Wednesday morning that 1962 will hold a great deal of success for them if they decide that learning is their responsibility.

Exam Schedule

Below is the final examination schedule for the first semester. Saturday classes will have the final examination on Saturday, January 20. All grades are due in the Registrar's Office at 8:00 a. m., Friday, January 26.

Table with 2 columns: Class and Examination. Lists various classes and their corresponding exam dates from January 22 to 29.

HOWDY NEIGHBOR—Dr. Lyman Ginger, dean of the U. K. College of Education, who addressed the Eastern Kentucky State College assembly of students Wednesday morning greets two college students following his talk.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

Somebody Goofed!

The leisure of the holidays has ended and faculty and students have returned to the campus to resume the mad rush in the pursuit of education. However, the pace promises to quicken during the final week when bedraggled students are expected to prepare all they have learned and accomplished and take all examinations in five days, five very confusing days. As if this weren't ridiculous enough, the faculty has only two days to grade these apparent disasters and return a hurried verdict.

It would seem that such an arrangement would cause undue hardships on an already overworked faculty. Before, the faculty has been given a week to regain enough stamina and courage to face another term, but now they are expected to take more students and more responsibilities and accomplish a similar feat in less than half the time. Logic would tell us that this is an impracticability.

The students are the ones who will be doing a great deal of suffering. After spending some eighteen weeks (more or less) in gaining a wide range of knowledge, they are expected to compile and condense it all and have it perfected in time to take an examination. Their minds would be taxed enough just trying to figure out what day the examinations are supposed to occur.

This is not the only scheduling boner Eastern has experienced this semester. The students will have been faced with three major ones before the beginning of the second semester. First (and forgivable) was the appearance of the Ralph Marterie Orchestra and the Northwestern Louisiana game on the same evening. This provided only minor complications as compared to those which will occur when exam week arrives. And then there's the biggest boner of all: Eastern's arch rival Western arrives in town while the students are supposed to be home on the lengthy semester break.

One boner is over and two more are on the horizon. The students proved that good music was as important as good basketball in the first. The second will test the students' ability to fool themselves into thinking that they did well on their semester exams, and the teacher's ability to convince himself that "Johnny" would have gotten a C whether he had graded his final exam or not. Thirdly, the Richmond merchants will be tested to see if they can stay in business without their annual sale of red towels. "To be or not to be, that is the question." Evidently, someone isn't.

"SO I SAID, 'MAYBE YOU'D LIKE TO TEACH THIS CLASS?'"

Looking For A Job?

The best and most rewarding summer jobs are obtained each year in January... believe it or not!

The new enlarged 1962 annual Summer Placement Directory, the largest and most comprehensive listing of actual summer jobs, projects, and apprenticeships, is now available. This is the same directory used each year by over 1500 college placement offices and copies can be examined at most University Placement or Deans' office, college and public libraries, and school superintendents' offices.

This unique directory completely revised and brought up to date each year, is particularly prepared for college students, teachers, professors, and librarians. Jobs for which high school seniors may also apply are clearly indicated.

Some of the over 15,000 unusual summer earning opportunities listed throughout the United States and many foreign countries include leading bicycle trips, grants-in-aid to study numismatics, working on farms in Switzerland, theatrical apprenticeships on a show boat on the Ohio River, conducting tours to Europe, camp counseling aboard a ship in the Bahamas, trainees for the Coast and Geodetic Survey museum exhibit demonstrating archeological work in the Missouri River Basin, leading canoe trips through northern Quebec, construction work in Belgium, wrangling in Colorado, and lecturing on a sight-seeing boat.

Study projects, camp positions, jobs and apprenticeships with summer play houses and music theatres, and work at inns, resorts, restaurants, hotels, motels, lodges, and dude ranches are some of the other varied offers made to students and educators. Many branches of the U.S. Government in Washington and throughout the country have also requested their openings to be included.

All openings have been submitted directly to the Institute and include job descriptions, dates of employment, necessary qualifications, number of openings, salaries, and the names and the addresses of the employers. Helpful information is given on how to apply for positions and each directory contains a sample resume to assist applicants.

The Summer Placement Directory can be obtained for $3.00 directly from The Advancement and Placement Institute, 169 North 9th St., Brooklyn 11, N. Y., or at book stores everywhere.

A new companion guide, Summer Opportunities for Teen-Agers (1962 edition) is published each year in March. It provides teen-agers with authoritative information on thousands of ideas and activities for a really worthwhile, interesting, and useful summer. Hundreds of individuals and organizations have contributed to this tremendous compilation of teenage activities. It includes jobs; part-time work; selling opportunities; travel, sport, special interest, work, and and foreign camps; community service projects; farm work; hosteling etc. ($3.00)

Hail to the new year with all of its glory... all of its madness... all of its promises of life... all of its possibilities of war... there is a joy in all the prospective fallout shelters now on the architect's desks... There is also a feeling of acceptance, security, love in the future plans for no pep rallies, barbed wire fences, friendly faces, anything one wishes to associate with hope and happiness.

Leban means to add its name to the list of rebellious states. Another Middle East state also made an effort to overthrow its government with a powerful 42 man force which did not succeed... Lebanon has wonderful cedars so the world has been told... may the trees not perish... may the inspectors find Eastern's credentials satisfactory... may the John Glenn of skies contribute much to the scientific knowledge of nobody.

What will you do this year, Vietnam?... What will you say this year, Kennedy?... What will happen to neutralism since Nehru has forsaken it?... Why, why, why, why, why?... Why should we wonder why? Will Alfred E. drive anyone Mad this year? We may live to see what they do.

Ode to the fickle world... ode to America's fickle men... an ode to everything that walks, crawls, flies, or swims... alithers, flows, rolls or falls... the inanimate shall reign supreme though.

Around the world in 80 minutes may seem like a reality... since no one really cares, besides those who are working on this project... Maybe we should salute apathy wherever it appears, thrives and finally decays and dies.

Since one doesn't learn anything when one is talking, it would certainly be a marvel of deterioration if silence was the object of an all out campaign over the world. No more nothing... only sunshine and flowers, desert and no water, nothing of the nature that poets speak of in every generation. Dispar is the secret; forget your hopes... join the ranks of apathy... join the ranks of pseudism... join something for heaven's sake so that school spirit won't change.

Dear Editor,

I think it is wonderful the way changes taking place on campus are really for the betterment of the students. Such as moving the grill upstairs in the S.U.B. is great from the health and social standpoint.

By the grill being so small, and always crowded around lunch time, a few of the old grill group are forced to eat in the cafeteria which causes our students to be healthier. Also from the social standpoint this is the first time in the history of Eastern the grill group and the cafeteria group have mixed and met each other. I was quite surprised to find out there were other people in school besides "us old eyeballers."

But there is one thing in all this progress that worries me, and that is the new barbed-wire walls (Eastern's Great Wall). When I first came back to school I didn't know if I were leaving or entering the East Sector. This new wall could work wonders on the weekends by keeping the carpetbaggers from going home. The administration could call out the ROTC and have them guard the walls. I could see the headlines across the country now...

Oh well, so is life.

Sincerely,
"The Old Senior"

GIVE KENTUCKY TEAMS A PAT ON THE BACK

Does it stand to reason... that a Kentucky team lead the nation offensively, another is third and still another is fourth... that a Kentucky team is rated third in the national rankings... that a Kentucky team is third in foul shot percentage... that two Kentucky players are among the nation's leading scorers... and all in a year when Kentucky college basketball teams were supposed to be below par.

Eastern leads the nation offensively. Morehead is fourth and the University of Kentucky is third as the Blue Grass State has placed three of its best in the top five scorers, and the University is the third ranked major power in the country.

Eastern is third in foul shot percentage and Jim Werk and Morehead's Granny Williams are in the top 12 scorers in the country.

BLANTON COLLIER REMOVED AS KENTUCKY GRID MENTOR

It was announced Tuesday night that the University of Kentucky Athletics Association had bought up the remaining three years of Blanton Collier's contract as head coach of the state school. Collier compiled a 41-36-3 record in eight years at the University after he came there to replace Paul Bryan, currently coaching at Alabama.

Collier, well-liked by everyone who knew him, has been berated lately due to the low finishings of Kentucky in Southeastern Conference play and the lack of first-class recruiting.

None has been named as a successor to Collier, but if the new head coach comes from the current members of the coaching staff he will probably be Ernal Allen, assistant coach for 14 years.

FOOTBALLERS TO FLORIDA?

Coach Glenn Pressnell is trying to schedule a game with Stetson University, De Land, Florida, to highlight this year's football card. This corner wagers that student desire to attend the game, if scheduled, would be much greater than to attend any other.

Murray Thoroughbreds Offer First Maroon Conference Competition

Player Of The Week

Russell Mueller

Honored for the week following the Phillips 66 game is Russell Mueller from Erlanger for turning in one of the outstanding basketball exhibitions ever seen at Weaver Gym as he helped the Maroons upset the AAU team.

Mueller, a 1959 graduate of Erlanger Lloyd High School, where he was the second athlete in Lloyd history to score more than 1,600 points, played a total of 25 minutes and 46 seconds in a reserve role and had a "perfect" evening, from every standpoint.

Perfect Shooting
The scholarly athlete hit 8 of 8 field goal attempts and 6 of 6 from the free throw lanes to rack up a total of 22 points, second high in the game. Eastern's Jim Werk, 6-5 junior from Camden, Ohio, was the game's top scorer with 28 points.

"Russ had a remarkable night on offense," said his coach, Paul McBrayer, "but his defense was even better than his offense, if that was possible."

McBrayer grinned from ear to ear over Mueller's performance. "Never in my wildest dreams," he said, "did I expect our team to perform as well." "And, Mueller did a beautiful job out there."

Mueller, an All-Northern Kentucky Conference and honorable mention all-state performer at Lloyd High, averaged 20 points and Eastern's nation leading offensive machine will open its O.V.C. crown defense against the Murray Thoroughbreds Monday as out of all the nation's major colleges our "small" Maroons are the leaders in offense with a 91.5 average in two official games.

It seems ironic that this season's team should accomplish this feat.

In what was supposed to be a rebuilding year for Coach Paul McBrayer his Maroons have climbed to the top of the heap scoring wise for probably the first time in the school's 56 year history.

After a "mere" 87-78 win over Pennsylvania the Maroons rolled over the visiting Northwestern (La.) quintet 102-77 to boost their per game output to the fabulous 94.5 clip. The non-counting game with Phillips would raise the average to 98 points per game.

Eastern's offensive feats do not stop with team point production. The Maroons are third in free throw percentage with .810 and junior forward, Jim Werk, is the nation's 12th leading scorer with an average of 26 points in two outings.

Racers Reversed

The team that comes to our campus to help the Maroons open their conference championship, held jointly with Morehead and Western, is a complete reversal of last season's Racers. Last season's Murray basketball team was billed as an all-veteran outfit with all starters returning from the previous season, but this year nine of the top ten players are gone and Ron Greene, a 6-3 guard is the only returning letterman.

Eastern will be trying to get a repeat of the 110-77 win over the Racers that they posted last year. In the game at Murray last year the Maroons posted a 75-73 win over the Thoroughbreds to sweep both contests from Murray, quite an accomplishment in the tough conference.

HELP ME KEEP THE GOLD AT HOME, could be the thought of Coach Paul McBrayer as he is shown here with the only remaining letterman from his 1960-61 O.V.C. co-championship team, Ray Gardner (25), and Larry Parks, (21). The Maroons open their title defense Monday night against the young Murray Thoroughbreds.

Maroons Upset Phillips 66ers

Beat Demons 102 - 77

After winning their revenge victory over the Northwestern (La.) Demons the Maroons took to the floor the following Monday to roll to a surprising 105-80 victory over the Phillips 66 Oilers.

With Jim Werk, Russell Mueller, and Larry Parks all scoring over 20 points the Maroons were able to pull steadily away throughout the second half and thrilled the virtually studentless crowd with outstanding play.

Mueller was the hero of the evening even though his 22 points were second to Werk's 28. The 6-5 junior from Erlanger played perfect offensive ball and was even better on defense.

An interesting sidelight to the game is the fact that it was the first time in three years that Carl Cole, ex-Eastern cager now with

Larry Parks Shines

Coach Paul McBrayer got his wish the previous Thursday when his Maroons defeated the visiting Demons from Louisiana by 102-77. It was in this game that Larry Parks first showed that he was all McBrayer expected of him as the senior guard burned the nets for 32 points, the season high so far for any Maroon.

After trailing by three points at the half Eastern closed the gap in the second half and in the closing minutes literally ran the tiring visitors out of the gymnasium.

18.5 rebounds his senior year. He is developing as a college player and will be called upon to carry a heavy portion of the load when action resumes on January 4th, against New Mexico State University. A commerce major, he plans to coach or enter into business administration upon graduation from Eastern next year.

Check your opinions against L&M's Campus Opinion Poll '66

 more education European tour stocks sports car

② Should the faculty have the power to censor campus newspapers?
 Yes No

③ What's your favorite time for smoking?
 during bull sessions
 while studying
 during a date
 anytime there's stress & strain

Expect more, get more, from L&M

There's actually more rich-flavor leaf in L&M than even in some unfiltered cigarettes. You get more body in the blend, more flavor in the smoke, more taste through the filter. So get Lots More from filter smoking with L&M... the cigarette that smokes heartier as it draws freely through the pure-white, modern filter.
