K. I. P. A. CONVENTION OPENS TODAY

STATE PROFS OF COMMERCE CONVENE HERE

State Business Education Association to Hold Convention on Campus Tomorrow

DONOVAN TO SPEAK

The Kentucky Business Education Association will meet in the Model High school auditorium of the Eastern Teachers College Saturday, April 4.

Programs for the meeting have just been received from Miss Margaret D. Fowler, of the Louisville city schools, president of the association.

Appearing on the program will be W. C. Hoffman, of the Danville High school, who is to discuss "Giving Direction to Business Education in a Small High School."

Miss Betsy H. Morton, University of Kentucky Training school, will discuss "Integration of Business Subjects in the Junior and Senior High Schools."

Mrs. Ann Walker, of Berea College, is to discuss "The Correlation of Typewriting with the Functional Method of Teaching Shorthand."

A. J. Lawrence, of the College of Commerce at the University of Kentucky and formerly a member of the Department of Commerce faculty at Eastern, will discuss "The Interscholastic League and Achievement Tests for Commercial Students."

R. E. Jagers, Director of Teacher Training of the Department of Education at Frankfort and a member of the staff of the Division of Certification, will tell of the "Preparation and the Certification of Business Teachers in Kentucky."

A speaker, who is to be announced later, will discuss "The Cooperation of Kiwanis International and the National Council of Business Education."

There will be a luncheon at 12:30 in Burnam Hall for those attending the meeting.

Dr. H. L. Donovan, president of Eastern Teachers College, and Dr. W. T. Rowland, Jr., assistant superintendent in charge of Secondary Education of Louisville City Schools, will be guest speakers.

Following the luncheon there will be a business session.

The Kentucky Business Education Association was organized just one year ago at the University of Kentucky.

The association includes Business Educators from over the entire state of Kentucky.

Many people interested in business education are expected in Richmond for the meeting.

U. of K. Swimmers Compete Tonight

On Friday night, April 3, at 7:30 the Eastern swimming team will meet the team from University of Kentucky in the pool of Weaver Health Building.

This is the first intercollegiate meet that the Eastern team has had this year.

The special event of the meet will be a fancy diving exhibition by Ronald Sharp and Marshall Arbuckle.

Eastern entrants in the distance are Tom Farris and Jim Station. The dash men are Mickey Weingerber, Norman May, Steve Edwards, Pierce Warms and Hiram Brock.

The meet is in charge of Ed Hesser and Delbert Parton, student swimming instructors at Eastern.

CALENDAR

Friday, April 13—K.I.P.A. Convention, business meeting at 1 p. m., University building. Banquet, recreation room, 6:30 p. m. Canterbury Club dance, small gym, 9-12 p. m.

Saturday, April 4—Convention of Kentucky Business Teachers Association, University building, 10 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. Varsity Debate Team vs. Lincoln Memorial University, 7:30 p. m. Eastern negative team in room 37; affirmative, room 23.

Monday, April 6—Address by W. H. Stout. Meeting of Progress Staff, 4:00 p. m. Rehearsals of Glee Clubs, 7:00 p. m.

Glee Clubs to Sing in Eastern Cantata

Both the men's and women's Glee Clubs of Eastern will combine to sing an Eastern cantata, "The Cross Victorious", on Eastern Sunday evening, April 12, at the Brock auditorium, at 7 p. m.

The clubs have been rehearsing this noted work by Clifford Demarest and Richard Cecil Pond, for several weeks, and will be ready on Easter to render what is reported a notable performance.

In the solo roles will be Katherine Prather, soprano; Nancy Covington, alto; Norbert Rechin, tenor; Edwin Barnes, baritone; and Thomas Bonny, bass.

Rehearsals have been conducted by Miss Mary Murphy and Mr. J. E. Van Peurseum, of the music faculty. The piano accompanist for the cantata will be Miss Louise Hughes.

MAROON NINE WORKING OUT

Hembree Holds Daily Drills in Effort to Find Starting Team

TO MEET INDIANA

Each afternoon this week between 3:00 and 5:00 o'clock, Coach Hembree's baseball aspirants have been holding practice sessions.

The past week was the first time the weather has permitted the boys to work out on the regular playing field.

Wednesday, Coach Hembree cut the squad to 22 men, including 5 pitchers, 3 catchers, 9 infielders, and 5 outfielders.

Charles Bryant, star hurler of last season, is the only regular who is now trying out for the pitching staff.

The four other candidates, Safriet, Rice, Wingenter, and Yeager, are all freshmen.

The receiving end will be taken care of by Caldwell, a converted outfielder, and Greenwell and Parks, members of last year's catching staff.

Three of last year's leading hitters, DeMoisey, Settle, and Emerson, are seeking outfield jobs, as are Potters and Williams, newcomers to the squad.

Candidates for first base are Hinkle, out for baseball for the first time in his college career. Music member of last year's squad, and "Wild Bill" Singleton. Preston Short is out for the keystone position, while Les Voschell, a left handed clouter, and Lester King, are seeking the short stop berths.

Ward, regular from last year's team, Sloane, and all-state basketball man from Inez, and "Little" Potter are candidates for the hot corner.

The boys are looking forward to the opening game of the season with Indiana University on April 13, on the Eastern diamond.

A second game will be played between the same two teams the following day.

DEBATE SQUAD TO MEET LMU

Lincoln Memorial University Forensic Team Encounters Eastern Tomorrow

TO MAKE TRIP

The debating teams from Lincoln Memorial University, of Harrogate, Tenn., will be the opponents of Eastern's varsity teams in two debates here tomorrow night.

The national intercollegiate question for debate is: "Resolved, That congress should be permitted, by a two-thirds majority vote, to override any decision of the supreme court declaring a law unconstitutional."

Lucien Wilcox and Donald Michelson will represent Eastern on the negative side of the question. They will debate in room 37 of the Administration building, while Eastern's affirmative team, Kelly Clore and James Neale, will debate in room 23 of the same building.

Both contests are scheduled for 7 p. m. Next week the Eastern teams are planning to travel to Morehead and Winchester, where they will meet the representatives of Morehead Teachers College and Kentucky Wesleyan College.

At the last scheduled debate, Kelly Clore and James Neale met the negative team from Western Teachers College in a non-decision debate.

DR. SCHNIEB, MRS. TYNG HOSTS TO COUNTY CLUB

Dr. Anna Schnieb and Mrs. Julian Tyng entertained students from Washington and Marion counties at a theater party at the Brock auditorium Tuesday evening when "The Crusades" appeared as a motion picture. After the show, refreshments were served at a local confection shop.

23 STUDENTS ARE HONORED

Presented at Chapel at Eastern for Making High Grades

DR. DONOVAN IN TALK

Twenty-three students, who received scholarship honors for the first semester at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, were presented to the student body by President H. L. Donovan at a special chapel program held last week.

Students who received forty or more grade points for the semester's work were included in the group. Dean W. C. Jones presided at the exercises and the devotional was led by Dr. J. T. Dorris.

In presenting the students, Dr. Donovan said in part: "Primarily, we have met to honor those students who have shown some marks of scholarship during the past semester."

"Scholarship is a prediction of success. A man or woman who succeeds in college usually succeeds in life. No occupation can bring so much satisfaction in life as the pursuit of scholarship, to live in the region of the mind, to live a good life, to be an individual always seeking the truth."

"I am glad that the time has passed when scholarship was evaluated in terms of money; that the individual who lives fully and splendidly is regarded as living a successful life."

Students who receive scholarship honors for the first semester were: Elizabeth Lee Ammerman, Shawhan; Mary Agnes Bohn, Shelbyville; Nancy Covington, Thomas Farris; Marion E. McDougle, and James J. Neale, Richmond; Agnes Edmonds, Bristol; Elizabeth Eifer, Harold Graham, Rosa McNeill, and Lona Lee Turner, Covington.

Naomi Goble, Prestonsburg; Emma Holtzclaw, Lancaster; Furman Jones, Corbin; Naomi Margaret Kalk, Brooksville; Walter Lee Mayberry, Somerset; Smith Noe, Mt. Vernon; Lucille Nunnell, Hustonville; Morris D. Rutledge, Buena Vista; Willis Throckmorton, Mt. Olive; Daily Turner, Morris Fork; Melva Walker, Bellevue; and Carrie Mae Wilson, Crab Orchard.

DR. KRICK IN CHAPEL TALK

Professor of Biology Discusses European Travels At Assembly

PRESIDENT BABBS PEAKS

Miss Harriette V. Krick, professor of biology at Eastern Teachers College, discussed some of her European travels at the college assembly hour last week.

Her subject was, "Wandering Through Europe." Miss Krick spent last summer in Europe studying and traveling. Some of the countries she visited were England, the Netherlands, Denmark, and Germany.

One of the things about London that impressed her, she stated, was the number of well dressed young men who were beggars on the streets. In England she attended the University College at Southampton, where many French and English people were in attendance, in Denmark the International People's College and in the Netherlands the Botany Congress.

President Harvey A. Babb of Morehead State Teachers College was introduced by Dr. H. L. Donovan and spoke briefly.

Weather Hampers Tennis Workouts

Due to inclement weather, the Eastern tennis squad, working under Coach Turkey Hughes, has not been able to practice regularly during the last two weeks.

The boys definitely out for the team this year are: Farris, Hughes, J. Greenwell, Parker, Cox, Rankin and Arbuckle. Other aspirants who indicated earlier that they would out, have not yet reported for practice.

The dates on which Eastern will be able to play have been sent to several schools but as yet no contests have been definitely scheduled.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS TO BE ORGANIZED HERE

A Young Democratic Club will be organized on the campus in the very near future. All students who are Democrats or wish to affiliate with such an organization, please leave your name and address with either Bob Mavity, Dick Greenwell, Violet Lewis, Roy Pille, or Paul Tierney before April 8. Watch Bulletin boards for further announcement of club activities.

ANNOUNCE LTC DANCE PLANS

Annual Dance on April 25; High School Tournament During Same Week

INITIATE MEMBERS

The Little Theatre Club of Eastern will hold their annual dance April 25 in the small gym. Committees have been appointed and arrangements are being made for a bigger and better dance than ever before.

The following people were subject to the Little Theatre Club initiation which was held Thursday, April 2: Joyce Herman, Geraldine Allen, Elizabeth Collins, Mildred Abrams, Mildred Richardson, Jane Case, Gretchen Garriot, Ann Margittay, Leo Moss, Virginia Winter, Andrew Rucker, James Hart, William Worthington, Lon Dorsey, Russell Childs, Charles Warner.

Plans are being laid for the state dramatic which will be held here April 23-24. This tournament will be sponsored by the Little Theatre Club and supervised by Miss Pearl Buchanan.

The schools will be put into classes according to their size. A and B. Class A will include the larger schools and they will present tragedies on Friday. The smaller schools will present comedies on Thursday and the finals will be held on Friday evening.

A cup will be awarded to the winning cast and individual wards will be given to the best actors in each division. The following schools will participate in this tournament: Fort Thomas, Erlanger, Frankfort, Henry Clay, University High, Paintsville, Benham, Corbin, Berry, Shelbyville, Carter, Carmago, Oddsville, Kirksville. The dramatic club of Model High will act as assistant hosts during the tournament.

PI OMEGA PI IN ELECTIONS

National Honor Fraternity Names Ella Rae Hastie President

CREECH IS HISTORIAN

At a meeting of the members of Pi Omega Pi, national honorary commerce fraternity, last week, Miss Ella Rae Hastie, senior, of Mt. Sterling, Ky., was named to head the organization for the coming year.

Frank Hill, of Germantown, was elected vice president.

Miss Marguerite Wyrick and Miss Gladys Karrick, both of Richmond, were named secretary and treasurer, respectively, and Morris Creech was re-named historian.

The Alpha Beta chapter, which is the local organization, has the distinction of being the first fraternity to be established on Eastern's campus. Although there are chapters in practically every state, the local chapter is the only one in Kentucky.

There were nineteen charter members of the chapter when the initial meeting was held in the recreation room of Burnam Hall February 9, 1935, the number including students, faculty members and alumni.

New members will be taken in this semester if there are a number who can qualify. To become a member, a standing of 2 is required in all commercial subjects, a standing of at least 1.5 in all college subjects, ten hours of credit in Commerce and five hours of credit in Education.

Collegians Get More Than Credits

TUSCALOOSA, Ala.—Completing a required number of hours is only part of the things a student has to do before being awarded a college degree according to Hubert Shaddix of Athens, Ala., undergraduate at the University of Alabama. He cited these figures:

The average four-year student has read more than 450 miles of printed words, if placed end to end. He has written more than 6,000,000 words—estimated to run 200 miles.

He has gone to 2304 classes, consumed 125 gallons of milk and approximately two and a fourth tons of food, used 54 pounds of soap, and nine pounds of tooth paste, walked 3,000 miles, slept 7,680 hours and sat 12,900 hours.

BAND GIVING BANQUET

Eastern's band will give its annual banquet sometime during the week following Easter. A banquet each year is given by the band which has as its guests of honor Director James E. Van Peurseum and Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Donovan. The place of the banquet has not been definitely determined.

Canterbury Dance Ready for Tonight

The annual spring dance of the Canterbury Club will be held tonight at the small gym of the Weaver health building. The special feature of the dance will be the invitation extended to the delegates of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association as guests of honor.

The association is meeting on the campus this week-end in their regular spring convention.

The popular local orchestra, headed by Gordon Nash, will furnish the music for the occasion.

According to Jack McCord, Canterbury Club president, this dance promises to be a huge social success. Subscription will be one dollar, as usual.

MEN DANCERS RETURN HERE

To Appear At Brock Auditorium After Successful Tour of East

TICKETS ON SALE

Ted Shawn and his world-famous troupe of men dancers will return to the stage of the Brock Auditorium by popular acclaim on Monday evening, April 13, at 8 o'clock.

The dancers were so well received here two years ago that Shawn agreed to bring back his talented performers. These men have been in great demand all over the world, and it is a singular privilege that Eastern and Richmond have been chosen as the scene for a Shawn performance.

Only last week Ted Shawn and his dancers were enthusiastically received in Baltimore, Md., and Washington, D. C., where they appeared before some of the nation's most important dignitaries.

According to correspondence received from agents of Shawn, an entirely new repertoire will be executed at the performance next week.

The fine arts committee has announced that prices for tickets will range from 40 cents to one dollar. Students presenting a student card will be admitted for 40 cents. Towns people and visitors may secure tickets for 50 cents, 75 cents and one dollar. Tickets are now on sale at the information office.

PHYSICAL ED MEET HELD

T. E. McDonough Given Office at Convention of Physical Ed. Group

IS MEMBER - AT - LARGE

The Southern Section of American Physical Education held its convention at Knoxville, Tenn., March 11-14, 1936, with 400 delegates attending.

At this meeting officers were elected for the coming year. Miss A. Mosseroff, U. of Ala. was elected president, and the other officers chosen were Mr. A. W. Hobb, U. of Tenn., vice president; Miss E. McRee, Ga. State Women's College, secretary; Mr. L. T. Ludwig, U. of Va., treasurer, and Mr. T. E. McDonough, Eastern, and Miss Lenora Ivey, Ga. State Teachers College for Women, members-at-large. All of the above officers form the executive committee.

Mr. McDonough was also selected as chairman of the Health Education Section for next year and acted on the panel discussion, "Curriculum in Health and Physical Education in the Elementary and Secondary School."

The next meeting of this group will probably be in Houston or Dallas, Texas, March, 1937.

Enrollment Figures Are Satisfactory

The annual spring term at Eastern which is planned especially for teachers whose schools close too late for them to register at the opening of the second semester, opened this week. Figures from the office of the registrar revealed that the enrollment is very satisfactory.

A more complete schedule of classes is being offered this year than has ever been offered during this term before. Courses are offered in every department of instruction.

Mr. Reynolds and Mrs. Adams, who have been members of the Eastern faculty during past semesters, are the only additions to the present faculty to carry on the work of the spring term.

The calendar for the remainder of the term is as follows: April 4, Saturday—Last day to register for full load. April 6, Monday—Last day to register for credit.

DELEGATES TO BE WEEK-END HONOR GUESTS

18th Semi-Annual Meet to Open With Business Session This Afternoon

BANQUET IS TONIGHT

The spring session of the eighteenth semi-annual convention of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association is in progress on Eastern's campus today and tomorrow, April 3 and 4.

Approximately sixty or sixty-five delegates representing the school publications of eleven Kentucky colleges are in attendance for the two-day meeting.

The highlight of the spring session is the awarding of the Lexington Leader Cup to the college newspaper which has been judged the best publication in the state for the year.

The judging this year is done by the Cincinnati Enquirer and is based upon the all around excellence of the paper. Each school submitted two consecutive editions of their paper to be judged on the "best edited" basis.

Keys for the best individual news story, sports story, feature, and editorial will be awarded, also. The stories submitted by the member schools have been judged by the Baltimore Sun and the results are now in the hands of the secretary of the organization.

The program officially opened this morning with registration of delegates in the lobby of the Administration building. Following luncheon at 12:00 o'clock, the first business session will be held in the auditorium of the University building.

The program at this meeting will consist of the appointment of committees by the president of the organization and a period of round-table discussion.

Topics for this discussion and the schools in charge are as follows: "Feature Stories," Georgetown College; "The College Editorial Policy," University of Louisville; "Make-up," Murray State Teachers College; "Advertising," Centre College; "Covering Sports," University of Kentucky; "Securing National Advertising," Morehead State Teachers College; "Faculty Supervision," Transylvania University; "News Coverage," Kentucky Wesleyan; "College Publicity," Union College.

At 6:30 the K. I. P. A. banquet will be held in the Recreation Room of Burnam Hall. The principal speaker at the banquet will be Dr. Sutherland, head of the Department of Speech, at the University of Kentucky. The awarding of the keys for individual stories and the cup for the best school paper will be made following the banquet.

From 9:00 p. m. until 12:00 p. m. the K. I. P. A. delegates will be guests of the Canterbury Club at their dance in the small gymnasium.

The concluding business session of the convention will be held Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock, at which time the reports of the committees will be made and the officers for next year elected.

Officers of the organization are President, Norman Garling, University of Kentucky; Vice President, Walter Holman, Morehead Teachers College; Secretary, Donald Michelson, Eastern; and Treasurer, Paul Huddleston, Western Teachers College.

Baptist Students to Convene Here

The State Baptist Student Organization will hold its annual spring retreat on Eastern's campus the week end of April 24. The colleges to be represented at this retreat are Georgetown, Morehead Teachers, University of Louisville, Murray Teachers, University of Kentucky, Western Teachers, Bethel Women's College, Berea, and the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville.

The purpose of the retreat is to familiarize the new councils of the various campuses with the work of the B. S. U. and to plan the summer work. A most inspiring program has been planned under the direction of John Gordon Mein, president of the organization.

The local B. S. U. council extends a hearty invitation to all students to attend the meetings of the retreat.

PHYSICAL ED CLUB TO SPONSOR DANCE

The Physical Education Club is sponsoring an old-fashioned square dance in the small gymnasium of the Weaver Health Building Friday night, April 10.

The club is giving the dance to satisfy the demands of some of the students who are interested in square dancing. Several competent instructors will be provided for those interested in learning the art of square dancing.

PROGRESS PLATFORM

The establishment of an active student council. A more active alumni association. Further expansion in the athletic program. Greater participation in intramural athletics.

Welcome, K. I. P. A.

The Progress wishes to welcome to Eastern the members of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association who are convening on the campus today and tomorrow. It is Eastern's privilege to act as host to this group of Kentucky college newsmen. Only now and then does a member college have the honor of entertaining the delegates from the institutions of the state, so when our time rolls around, we feel honored in having these other press people as our guests.

We sincerely hope that the convention, which opens this afternoon, will prove to be one of the most enjoyable as well as one of the most successful conventions in the history of the organization. The Intercollegiate Press of Kentucky is decidedly helpful to the various paper members. Some of the best and newest ideas in the editing and publishing of the school newspapers are forwarded and discussed at the meetings of the group. It is in these sessions of these conventions that the problems of the college press are taken up and discussed to the benefit of the editorial staffs and their newspapers.

We hope that you delegates will avail yourselves of the opportunity to become better acquainted with Eastern—with the faculty and the student body. The Progress office will be open at all times and some member of the staff will be there during the day to be of service to you. If there is any information which you desire, just drop in at the office. If there is anything the Progress staff can do to make your visit to our campus enjoyable, just advertise the fact.

Student Government

We hope that the student body is aware that a momentous change is about to be made in student life on this campus. The announcement made in chapel last week that student government will be instituted here was not a shock to the older students, but was the natural culmination of careful inspection and wise administration. Four or five years ago it would not have been timely to organize a student council, for the students themselves were not ready for it. It is a compliment to both the administration and the student body that this move will be made; to the administration for its tolerant attitude toward student management, and to the students for their readiness and capability for self-government.

The Progress is elated that its chief platform will be realized, that of "the establishment of an active student council." Still, much of the credit must go to men like Albert Crumbaugh and William Martin, past editors of the Eastern Progress, who long sought student government.

We should like to make a suggestion as to the type of council that should be organized. We do not mean that our plan is infallible or that it should be carried out to the letter, but that at least a few of its principles will make for efficient student government. The following is our outline for organization:

(1) Six students be elected from each class (three girls and three boys) to sit in the council, which will be composed of twenty-four students.

(2) A student president, vice-president, and secretary be elected by the student body at large to preside over the council of twenty-four.

(3) The sponsors of each of the four classes of serve as an advisory board to the council, but not to have power to vote.

(4) The president of the college, the dean of women, and the dean of men to serve as ex-officio members of the advisory board, but not to have power to vote.

(5) Student council to adopt a social code modeled after the rules of the present social committee, and to replace that body, ruling on all future social policies.

(6) To handle discipline cases not too close to offenses of major administration policies.

(7) Council to hear grievances of any student or group of students.

(8) Council to promote the general welfare of the college, and to foster higher ethics in the teaching profession.

A Tidy Campus

It has always been a source of pride to those affiliated with Eastern that the campus was tidy and attractive. The comment made in chapel the other day was certainly a timely one, for part of the student body has shown laxity of late in their responsibilities of keeping the campus clean. We know that a group of students as responsive as are ours will not permit this sloppiness to continue, and will cooperate with the administration to be more careful in discarding all sorts of scraps and trash. Even a dozen pieces of paper strewn about the sidewalks hinder a ship-shape appearance. If "the culture of a people is judged by their respect for property," then let us prove that our respect for property is without censure.

GLEANINGS

Henpecked faculty husbands and enamoured young men whose loves make them toe the mark are recommended to see the Little Theatre club's spring offering, "The Taming of the Shrew." The Bard of Avon has concocted a fine prescription for henpecked husbands to handle shrewish wives.

Three countries, the United States, Russia, and Venezuela, have most of the oil. The others furnish the troubled waters.

The sophomore class has made a great contribution to the feminine cause, whether it knew it or not. By placing the young men in the position of the ladies at the recent leap year dance, they have made the fellows realize how it feels to get "stuck." Now, my brave lads, you know what it is to struggle with some poor dancer until someone rescues you. Perhaps we all were made to realize how much better it would be if we would adhere to the program dance. At least, in that system you know that you will be relieved at the next number.

And by the way, we made some interesting observations at the leap year scrimmage; for instance, when the young lady looked through her compact to find the necessary dollar bill for admission, and finding that she failed to bring any money, turned to her escort, and the embarrassed lad mumbled that he had none either... those female stags (we'll call them stagettes) who wandered absentmindedly looking for a handsome lad only to find that the one handsome lad was getting an awful rush... and did Capt. Ford get a rush, Yes, sir, at the next leap year dance we are going to wear our boy scout suit... we have concluded that the only difference between an ordinary dance and a leap year dance is that the men do not wax torridly jealous when some fellow gets a bigger "rush" than the other... just suppose we gathered in coroners and whispered that we "couldn't see why in the world that tacky person attracted all the girls" or sniffed that "he's worn that same suit to the last three dances." (Get what we mean, girls?)

At the World Affairs Club open forum last week we noticed that one speaker said that "Hitler marched right into the Rhine." We would like to believe that he meant the Rhine river.

We admit that the last batch of Love Lyrics were tame, and that they lacked the intimate touch. We trust that contributors of Love Lyrics understand that their ditties are not eligible for the student anthology. "Belles Lettres." Catch these as they fall:

These K. I. P. A. delegates A bunch of sissies be; Their press convention makes the rounds Of resolutions and sipping tea. When I was a lad, my hearties, Ne'er did I in this take part— I made loud speeches, drank great toasts, And broke female editors' hearts. By J. Gibson Frather.

We have always been interested in what college students put in their notebooks besides class notes. The other day we found a notebook, and the following is the word for word reproduction of what was found in that student's notebook marked—well, we won't tell the name of the course:

"Mr. _____'s voice drones in my ears like the swarms of bumble bees in a Mason jar... over and over... again and again in the same monotone... now talking about beans... I would fain lie down and sleep right here in good old room number — in _____ building at the Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College... All around me is quietude, by my gentle, kind, lovable, class-

save an occasional sound of snoring mates... President Roosevelt on the wall over there seems to feel the extreme dryness of Mr. _____'s lectures... The little bird, perched upon the bending bush just outside the window is swaying back and forth in the breeze, seeming to feel his freedom. Oh, how I wish I were that little bird." Yes, folks, that is an exact copy from a certain person's notebook. For proof apply at the Progress office.

EASTER HATS — in attractive styles. See the "Tuckaway" at $1.95. The Louise Hat Shop in McKee's Store.

Mr. Henry Phillips was a guest on the campus to attend the sophomore dance.

Miss Margaret Hubbard, of Ashland, has enrolled for work during the second semester.

Wednesday was April Fool day, but evidently some people forgot it. At least NELVA RICHARDSON did when BILL BENNETT told her he would give her a ring before night. Thus, all day she remained in hopeful anticipation, and when BILL did not appear with the ring, she was almost heart broken. About ten that night, BILL called her over the telephone and said, "Hello, sweetheart, how do you like this ring?"

Once there was a guy by the name of MIKE CORNETT who used to make this column quite often, but now we hear nothing about him. What has happened to MIKE? Does this mean that he has lost his attraction for the girls? Does every one know that the official looking person, SAM BECKLEY, is supposed to be engaged? Well, granting that he is, what is ELIZABETH ROBERTSON'S great attraction for him? Just an old friend from back home, we suppose. (Not in the least).

Since LOUISE KENDALL and MORRIS CREECH started sporting around together, KELLY CLORE has practically given up hope. And he is even deprived of EDITH HENSLEY'S consolation since she broke over and dated A. D. HALL KELLY, don't you know that you can't trust roommates? Since JULIA has been ill, RONDALL SHARP finds RUBY MCCOY'S company very entertaining. Nice going, RON.

What's this we hear about the discovery of a wedding ring on RUTH PERRY'S finger? Ah, ha, RUTH, we thought as much. Now will you please retire to the background of the picture, for if you don't we will tell CLARENCE SUTTER about your actions. CHARLES BRYANT has finally enlightened us as to his frequent visits to Sullivan Hall. She is BONNIE BURT. And CHARLES sings: "I'll go over to Sullivan and get my Bonnie."

Speaking of the seven wonders of the world, we have several at Eastern. Look these over.

Wonder if MISS FOWLER will catch COACH RANKIN on second or third bounce. What is happening to MR. RICHARDS' and MISS MURPHY'S case? Why does MISS WOODARD prefer crooners (N.R.) — and that's not National Radio or the like, either. When will, if they ever do, MISS HUGHES and Mr. VAN PEURSEM decide to make a go of it? Does MR. STONE like dark college beauties, or does he not?

Notice to faculty women: Come to meals early in order to avoid the rush! (Let she who can interpret).

The other day BESSIE HENRY went to the P. O. with her heart all a flutter in anticipation of receiving a letter from the boy back home. So great was her disappointment on not receiving one that she asked the postmaster to write a note and put it in her box so she could say she did get a letter. By the way, has CORA LUTES' ad been withdrawn? Did she ever get a man? What attraction does Berea hold for ANNALIE HUGHES and BOB COX, EDITH HENSLEY and HARVEY GREEN? We wonder. MARGARET NEY is very pleased that MARGARET HUBBARD is back on the campus, and we can truthfully say that he has been true to her.

OTWELL RANKIN and KATHERINE PRATHER are not together so much lately. Nothing has happened to them, has it? LEONARD STAFFORD finds BONNIE APPLE-GATE'S presence more necessary to his well being every day. He likes his work on the campus, because it gives him an opportunity to see her more frequently. ED McCONNELL likes to stroll in the twilight with VIRGINIA WINTERS, but VIRGINIA puts duty first and does her library work before she takes the stroll. ED objects to this vehemently, but VIRGINIA still does it regardless of his objections. Three cheers for anyone who dares put duty before love!

You have all heard the story of a boy named WILLIS THROCKMORTON who had no liking for girls. But one day a fairy by name of LELIA MAE FRANCISCO made herself known to WILLIS, and since he has no more been called an old bachelor. Moral: The power of a blonde shall move them.

NOEL CUFF IS GIVEN PATENT
 Testometer Method of Grading Papers Invented by Eastern Prof.
 HAD OFFERS TO SELL

Dr. Noel B. Cuff, professor of psychology at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, has just received notice from the United States Patent Office that his testometer, a device for grading student examination papers by weighing results, has been granted a patent.

Dr. Cuff perfected the testometer after several years experimental work and it is now used by several instructors at Eastern for grading student examinations.

The invention uses a perforated test card over which a thin paper sheet, which has previously been punched by the student in taking the test, is placed in such a manner that weights suspended above the perforations fall through the perforations where correct answers are given onto a scale below, where the result of the test is calibrated by reading from the scale.

The apparatus is novel in construction and eliminates the drudgery and errors in counting answers as is now done in educational institutions. While it is extremely simple in construction, it is reliable and efficient, enabling the instructor to obtain correct student grades at a glance and the device is said to be inexpensive.

Dr. Cuff has had several offers from firms interested in manufacturing the testometer but has not yet decided just what plan he will adopt for the distribution of the device.

Son of Mr. Keith Honored at Choate

The Progress recently received the information that Eugene Keith, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith, has been named president of the News Board of the Choate School, Wallingford, Conn., where he is a junior. He takes the place which was vacated by Richard Young, son of Owen D. Young, who graduates in June.

The News Board consists of the Editor of the school publication, the managing editor, business manager, and twelve associate editors. The paper is called the Choate News.

Eugene began "heeling" for the paper in January, 1935, when he was a sophomore at the institution and was named to the Board four months later, which was a promotion to be commended. The account in the school paper of the awarding of the shingles to those who survived the competition is as follows:

"At a meeting of the entire News Board, six heelers were elected to the literary department of the board. Following the presentation of the shingles to the new members, by the head master in chapel, Friday, heelers for the final competition of the year were called out. The fellows recently chosen to the Board: Branch, Dally, Duncan, Fisher, Froeb, and E. Keith."

John Brewster, of Atlanta, one of the six highest ranking students in the senior class at Choate and also a member of the Board, is visiting with Eugene on the campus.

WARNING
 Oh thou heroic sons of Hannibal Pray call me not uncouth. Thou flaming daughters of Gabriel I come to tell the truth.

Thinkst not thou me, a false prophet Nor laugh my tidings to scorn. Heedest not my sermon with an epithet Or you'll rue the day you were born.

The saddest of these it might have been A writer once boldly wrote Nor truer words of tongue or pen Will an artist ever quote.

Seekest thou not the ravine, Nor dark corners, drug stores, and shows But the library with its knowledge supreme And find out what you "knows"

I prithee burn that mid-night oil For alas the time is near And train your molded minds to toll For mid-term tests are here. Oakley E. Lanham.

A Word From the Y's

By LEMUEL STAMPER
 At the March 22 vesper services, the Y was addressed by Donald Michelson, who spoke interestingly on "War and Religion." In his lecture, Mr. Michelson emphasized the hypocritical paradox of the nations of the world who profess Christianity, but yet who practice savagery and paganism. "The history of the world is a chronology of successive warfare fought in the name of religion, but the principles of that religion being cast aside for monetary or territorial gain," he said. He concluded that if ever any sort of Messiah is to be achieved, the nations of the world must look more closely to their concepts of religion before violating them.

On March 29, the Y vesper service was climaxed by a delightful recital by Miss Virginia Ruth Arnold, who sang "Trees," and Mr. Norbert Rehtin, who sang "The Rosary."

WE CAN'T HELP BUT NOTICE—That Dorothy Crews lingers on with Red Walters after the lights have blinked over at Sullivan Hall. Mr. Van Peurse's laughs at his own jokes.

Bessie Henry's singing alto in chorus.

That the ancient Ford (fresh air) touring car that Don Michelson used for a trip to Lexington, is still on the campus.

That Lucille Case goes driving often.

Dean Jones' politeness. Dr. Houchell's soft accent. Miss Floyd's smile in the library. Elmer Furgerson's driving. Emil Dixon's appealing height. That smudge of lipstick on Pleaz Moberly's forehead.

NIGHT WAKING
 Cold and clear and calm, A white night in the starlight. Sleep I sought in vain, So I gaze at the dazzling whiteness of new snow

And dream with open eyes. Sometimes while I am sitting here It seems the intense stillness comes to life

And every atom vibrates With some powerful force of being. The howling winds go rocketing through the trees, Sending cold fingers of fear to clutch at my heart.

It seems the starry hosts are singing As the world spins madly to and fro. And then all is calm again, Calmer than before....

And so I wait through the long hours 'Til the first faint rays of dawn Streak the sky with silver. C. L. J.

The "mailman" at Osborne, Kas., is Miss Elizabeth Cradick, one of the few women carriers in the United States.

The Viewpoint

By KELLY CLORE
 Let's take a tour over the campus and see the different forms of athletics that are now in progress at Eastern. On leaving Memorial Hall we see the tennis courts crowded with the racket-wielders who are trying out for Coach Hughes' tennis squad.

We continue our journey to the baseball field, where the crack of the bats and the thuds of the balls as they hit the gloves have attracted our attention. There Coach Hembree is putting his charges thru their daily workouts, and after witnessing their practice session, we feel certain that Eastern will be represented by another outstanding team this season in the national pastime.

We then meander down toward Weaver health building but stop to watch the football men in their spring practice. Coaches Rankin and Samuels are giving the grid-iron representatives instructions in blocking tactics and, as we view these huskies with envy, we suddenly hear a "swish" behind us and we turn to see a pole vaulter going thru his maneuvers.

We now remember that it is the time of year for the other track and field candidates to be taking their exercises, so we amble over in the direction of the cinder path and there see a number of human harriers at work. A little farther on we observe that the tennis courts behind Burnam are also occupied and that a lone golfer is endeavoring to improve his swing as he drives the ball about the regular football field.

We hate to leave old Sol's beaming rays, but we must see if there are any activities going on inside the health building. First, we wander down to the handball courts and discover to our great amazement that these are both in use. What's that? Let's go up and see if it is. Yes, sir, there are a couple of young pugilists throwing the leather at one another in the boxing room.

When we go up into the main gym, we find a few lovers of the hardwood engaged in a game of basketball. If you really like the game, you'll play it no matter if it is a little past the regular season.

There's only one other place left, so we head for the swimming pool. There we see some classy diving and some speedy traveling up and down the length of the pool as the boys prepare for their swimming meet. Boy, the water looks good! However, it's almost closing time, so we had better be getting out of the building.

Ah, would you believe it. Even the co-eds are getting in their outdoor exercise in the form of roller skating. Where is their knitting? It's a wonder they aren't trying to knit as they skate, but maybe that fad has passed over. We'll not shed any tears if it has, will we?

Well, it has been a nice stroll, hasn't it? Sure, I'll walk with you again the very next pretty day. Maybe I can gather some more material for my column. I'll be seeing you. So long.

Social Scientists Plan Pie Supper

Some time in the near future the Social Science Club will sponsor an old fashioned pie supper in the little gym of the Weaver Health Building. Music will be furnished by some of the campus musicians.

According to Fuson E. Smith, chairman of the club, this is to be one of the gala events of the season. In addition to the eating of pie, there is to be an interesting amateur show which will be given by some of Eastern's talent.

The admission price has not been announced, but it has been reported that it will be 10 or 15 cents.

BASEBALL

Baseball, our national pastime and Eastern's most successful sport from the standpoint of games won and lost, opens with two games with Indiana University on April 13 and 14.

Eastern's baseball team and state college champs of 1935, is coached by George Hembree and needs your support. A gate admission cannot be charged, due to no enclosure, but in order to finance baseball this year a hat collection will be taken at all games. So bring a nickel or a thin dime so that this great sport may be continued at Eastern.

Show your appreciation of the Kentucky State Champions by being present the first game.
