The great movement of the past several centuries can be traced almost directly to the influence of capitalism. Without its presence might never have occurred the commercial revolution, the Protestant reformation, the Napoleonic Wars, imperialism, the industrial revolution, or divers other examples that come to mind. For centuries the wealth that created it has been powerful enough to control the world.

BEING CHALLENGED

The very power of capitalism has caused its dominance to be challenged. The suppression of the vested interests on the continent caused capitalism there in its last phases to turn into fascism. In the orient the vested interests were held down so long that they too had to resort to totalitarian methods to compete.

EFFECTIVE

These methods that the enemies of capitalism have turned to have apparently been more effective than the ones that the champions of "our way" could muster. The loss of the rather imposing list of European allies and far eastern territories that have capitulated is mute evidence of this. The loss of the vast capital wealth of the continent is naturally a great blow to the Allies, but the loss of Singapore with its consequent "losing face" implications may prove more disastrous in the future than the loss of all Europe.

It will mean that even the friendly far easterners will remember, in the back of their minds, that the white man was driven out and even if he forces his way back, the knowledge that he can be dislodged will make him less willing to be subjugated.

OLD ADAGE

There is an old adage to the effect that fire must be fought with fire. This very vividly describes the tragedy of the present struggle. Capitalism unchanged could never hope to cope with the "new orders," but must alter certain of its components and in altering them, it slowly is beginning to be more like the thing it is fighting to avoid. Under classical capitalism, food would not be rationed, for those with enough money could buy it. The games goes for tires.

REGARDLESS

Win, lose, or draw, we must reconcile ourselves to an undeniable fact. Our criterion of judgment will be new and different. We have always, under capitalism, put Mammon up as the god of our existence, and we have held him high with a pedestal of morals, institutions, and ideas. These will be supplanted by others. Our calling something Victorian, for instance, shows that transitions have occurred. The ones going on at the present, however are colossal in scope and unless we wish to hopelessly lose trace of the sequence of affairs, it is our duty to ourselves to see that as these criteria change we change with them.

Co-Eds Take Up Shooting for Defense

Women's Pistol Team Organized

The war program has opened many enterprises to women that heretofore had been mostly for men alone. We often hear of lady mechanics, female taxi-drivers, and women in all sorts of positions that usually are assumed to be men's jobs. It isn't at all uncommon to find women in the armies of some foreign countries and in some instances they have been pilots of bombers and combat planes.

All this has finally led to a women's pistol team at Eastern. Of course, we hope that our women will never have to enter into actual combat with the enemy but the women of the country feel that it is their duty to be able to assume the duties of the men in the armed forces of our country that are facing the enemy.

Thusly, Eastern's first pistol team for girls has been formed. The girls that are learning the use and handling of the pistols are Leona Price, LeMonne Miller, Mary Stayton, Jean Lucas, Mary Gratz, Jean Todd, Sally Hervey, Betty Carmen, Jean Anthony, Blanche Trivette, Jackie Orr, Evelyn Hunt and Grace Waite. Captain Reeves, with the assistance of Bob Yeager, has been training the girls since April 13. The girls show a great interest for the work and will ultimately become accurate marksmen. Some of the women already show good signs of being superior masters of the pistol.

This may eventually lead to the practice becoming a course in Physical Education, to be offered along with swimming, archery, plays and games, and the others that are already on the curriculum.

The primary purpose of the training is to teach the girls how to handle a pistol themselves and they in turn be able to teach others the same.

Eastern ROTC Again To Police Derby

Kinzer, Rigby, Whalin Leave for Defense

Three Professors Assume New Duties For Government

Dr. John Ross Kinzer, Mr. Harold Rigby, and Mr. Richard Whalin, all former members of Eastern's faculty, left their positions here this week to assume new duties in the defense work of the nation.

DR. KINZER

Dr. John Ross Kinzer has accepted a position with the Wright Aeronautical Company as Consulting Psychologist and Director of Occupational Tests. Dr. Kinzer left Wednesday to assume his duties in the defense program of the company. The Wright Aeronautical Company is filling orders for the Army and Navy.

Dr. Kinzer, head of the Philosophy Department, member of the music faculty, R. O. T. C. Band instructor and College Band Director was just completing his fourth year as a member of the Eastern faculty, when he was called to take his place in the vast war program of the United States.

MR. RIGBY

Mr. Rigby will register today at the University of Tennessee in a twelve weeks course under the Ordnance Department. Rigby passed the mechanical aptitude and physical examinations in Lexington recently and was given the appointment by Mr. Frye of Cincinnati Civil Service.

It will be his duty upon completion of a twelve weeks course in physics, chemistry, and mathematics to become a munitions inspector in a government plant somewhere in Tennessee, Kentucky, southern Ohio or Indiana.

MR. WHALIN

Professor Whalin left Thursday for Fort Knox, Kentucky, where he will act as an instructor to teach other men in the army the way to train men in mechanics, woodworking, etc.

Steve Begley To Get Commission In Air Corps

Received Cadet Training at Stockton Field, California

Hiram C. Begley, son of Mr. James L. Begley of Reservoir Hill, Corbin, Kentucky, is a member of a class of Student Officers and Aviation Cadets to be graduated soon from the Air Force Advanced Flying School at Stockton Field, California.

STEVE BEGLEY
The graduates will be commissioned as second lieutenants in the Air Corps Reserve and will be given the coveted silver wings, symbolic of the aeronautical rating of pilot. They will be placed on active duty in their new rank with the Army Air Forces.

All members of the June graduating class must turn in their orders for announcements and invitations by May 1.

The Eastern R. O. T. C. will again go to the Kentucky Derby this year. The Reserve Officers Training Corps, under the command of Colonel Starkey will be at Churchill Downs on the day of May 2 to direct traffic in the grounds. This will be the second trip in as many years for the Eastern unit. After the impressive manner in which they handled the crowds last year, they are asked to return to Louisville for the same purpose.

At present plans are not complete for the conveyance of the boys to the Derby. Last year they were taken to Lexington in buses and from there to Louisville by train. It has been rumored that they will travel in the R. O. T. C. trucks this year.

FREE TIME

After performing their duties at the race track, the boys will be free for several hours to visit the city of Louisville and spend their time as they see fit.

It is truly an honor for Eastern that they are asked to return. The boys conducted themselves in such a manner as to merit a return engagement. The boys of the R. O. T. C. appreciate this opportunity. Although their assignment is tough, they all agree that they enjoy the trip.

EXPERIENCE

Besides doing a favor for the state of Kentucky, they are receiving valuable experience in the trafficking of huge crowds. Before the thoroughbreds can "break" and the radio announcer can scream "they're off," the crowd must be orderly and within bounds. That will be the task of the men of the military department. If some rabid horse lover decides that he can't see from his present position and had rather see the race of races from the track itself, he will be politely discouraged by an Easterner.

As Horatius made his gallant stand on the bridge, so must Colonel Starkey and his men make their stand against the thousands of racing fans.

Belles Lettres To Be Ready By May 1

Maybury Explains Present Themes Dominate Material

Miss Vera Maybury, editor-in-chief of Belles Lettres, Eastern's annual literary publication announced today that the 1941-42 edition will be ready for distribution May 1. The sale of the volumes will be, as usual, under the direction of Canterbury Club. Copies may be bought from members of the club as well as from the student who will be stationed in the recreation room.

In discussing the contents of this issue of the annual, Miss Maybury said the magazine contained various types of writing ranging from the short short story to poetry. Much of this writing reflects the present-day restlessness and disillusionment engendered by the war.

This year, the editorial staff had hoped to include illustrations in Belles Lettres but was forced to abandon the idea because of the difficulty in having the work done. It is not yet known whether or not the poetry prize will be awarded this year. An announcement will be made later in the year.

Trial By Jury To Be Presented By Glee Clubs

Students Will Take Solos In Gilbert, Sullivan Light Opera

"Trial by Jury," a Gilbert and Sullivan opera, will be presented in the Hiram Brock Auditorium early in May by the combined glee clubs. No definite date has as yet been set for the performance.

Leading roles will be sung by Ann Etta Simmons, who will appear as the Plaintiff; Roy Gilligan, the Defendant; Bud Petty, the Councillor; Paul Brandes, the Judge; Lewis Kilgus, the Usher; and Buell Mills, the Foreman of the Jury.

"Trial by Jury" is light and farcical with the romantic quality emphasized. It is unusual in that it is the only one of the Gilbert and Sullivan operettas which has no spoken dialogue.

The operetta is a humorous satire upon the established institutions of England. The scene is a court in Westminster and the subject, a breach of promise. In a miniature, satiric mock court, Angelina, the broken-hearted maiden of the opera, summons her Edwin for breach of promise. The jury halls the defendant with indignation when he refuses to wed Angelina without wedding another and thus committing bigamy. There is only one way out of the dilemma and the judge embraces it. He consents to marry Angelina himself.

"Trial by Jury," like other Gilbert and Sullivan operettas, is characterized by its humor and lightness. Unlike others, this one was conceived as a modest curtain-raiser. However, it was so well received that it soon became one of the most popular of the Gilbert and Sullivan creations.

James Gott Receives Army Commission

Navigation Cadet James E. Gott, son of Mrs. Ella Gott of Berea, Kentucky, was recently commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army Air Corps at Turner Field, Albany, Georgia, Colonel John B. Patrick, commanding officer.

Turner Field, an Advanced Flying School, is one of a group of Air Bases, which composes the Southeast Air Corps Training Center. It is here that Aviation Cadets, both pilot and navigation, are sent for their final phase of training which culminates in their receiving their much coveted wings and commission as second lieutenants in the Army Air Forces.

Union Will Again Hold Open House

Varied Program Is Scheduled For Tomorrow

Mrs. Katherine Chenault announced today that an open house will be held in the Keen Johnson Student Union Building Saturday evening, April 25, from 7:30 until 10 p. m. This party has been planned much as were the past four previous Student Union festivals.

The program includes dancing in the recreation room with music by the nickelodeon, bingo, ping-pong, and cards. The bingo games will be held in the grill as usual, while the upstairs lobby will be given over to bridge. All of the recreational facilities of the Union will be free for the student body.

Due to the fact that this type of entertainment is becoming increasingly popular with the student body, Mrs. Chenault plans to make the Open House Night a fairly regular event.

Regents Medals To Be Given Winners At Commencement

Walter Heucke, Arnette Mann, and Paul Bradnes were chosen to appear in the finals of the annual Regents' Medal Contest to be held in chapel on Tuesday, April 28.

These three men were selected by judges of the colleges from those who appeared in the preliminary contest held last Wednesday in the Little Theatre of the Student Union Building.

Heucke, a sophomore, is a newcomer to speech activities at Eastern, having already shown himself outstanding in athletics. Mann, a junior, has participated in debate and public speaking since his freshman year. Brandes, a senior, placed second last year in the contest.

Students will be judged on the chapel speeches by the college faculty and the first and second place winners will be awarded with a gold and silver medal respectively at the commencement exercises on June 2.

Five Music Majors Will Give Recital

Scholarship Pupils To Appear Sunday, May 23

Home Thoughts from Abroad

April 1, 1942

Dear Mr. O'Donnell:

I guess you are wondering just who is writing this very informal letter. I thought it would be very nice to write a letter to you to let you know that Eastern students are all over the world—practically.

As you know, United States is at war, and I am trying to do my part, even though it is very little. I wish I could do more, but there is always a time and a place.

I am stationed in Alaska. If you look on a map of the Aleutian Islands you will find a place called Cold Bay. Here is the exact location of my unit. Due to strict censorship, I cannot tell you too much about our place, but it is much different than I expected to find. I was very surprised. But I am glad it was. I am glad it is all for my good. There is an active volcano a good distance from here, but we can see it. One evening last week it flared up. The sky was a bright red. There were a few clouds in the sky at the time. The reflection off these formed a very pretty picture. Something an artist could never paint. Cameras aren't allowed, or I would have had a picture of it.

Well, Mr. O'Donnell, I hope you will forgive me for being so informal, but I think I can write a better letter this way. I wish I could express my gratitude for dear old Eastern. I certainly did enjoy my school days. I would certainly give anything to be back there. I would appreciate it very much if you would say hello to your dear wife. Maybe she remembers me, and maybe she doesn't. In case you don't remember me, I was that blond that played a little basketball for Eastern.

Mr. O'Donnell, I think that every student of the male sex that comes to Eastern should take the R. O. T. C. course offered. There is no better training for a young man. It would make a good soldier out of any boy that took it. I wish I could be there to see the Senior class in R. O. T. C. graduate. Tell them to listen to everything that is said, and not to miss a thing.

I must close now. I would appreciate it very much if you would write me a letter. It would help a lonely soldier a lot from getting too homesick. It gets very lonesome here, at times, but I always come to the decision that I have a task to perform, and I must do my part to keep our country free. I am waiting, impatiently, to get my hands on those darn Japs, and when I do, I will bring you a souvenir from one of them.

Yours very truly,
Charles R. (Peck) Perry

Consoling Thought

The following quotation, although radical in nature, seems to contain in it some consolation at the present time. Written by a philosopher, it may help us to be philosophic about the present crisis:

"Whatever may be said against the principle of 'natural selection' in other departments, there is no doubt of its predominance in early human history. The strongest killed out the weakest as they could. . . In every particular state of the world those nations which are strongest tend to prevail over the others; and in certain marked peculiarities the strongest tend to be the best. . . The best institutions have a natural military advantage over bad institutions."

Bagebot, "Physics and Politics."

It does one good to believe the bold-faced statement, but it takes socially-minded men to keep that true.

THE STATE OF THINGS

by NATALIE MURRAY

From The Trivial Review of Albino Abnormal (whose slogan is "we don't print nothing important):

Discovery—We know what is wrong with Russia. Shhh!! It has vulgar boatmen!

Unfrock a young lady and you will find dusty rose or misty green lingerie. Vogue.

O a slap in the face. Trivial Review.

"Gee—" she sighed, gazing at a white-sweated athlete asleep (as usual) in class. "All he needs is a letter."

"Well," inquired her practical girl friend, "Why don't you write him one?"

An instructor, while discussing conditions in the South said, "Pretty soon the Southern planter won't be able to sit on his veranda." Well, that's certainly a new name for it!

And he said to me: "Are you one of those Albino glamour girls? Gee, you ought to be on the front of a magazine!" We give our vote to Horror Tales. (Isn't this enough from Albino Abnormal State Teachers College? We think it's too much.)

One last one from Albino. The $64 question: Why didn't they play cards on Noah's Ark? Ans. Noah sat on the deck. (Note: Ain't this horrible?)

FROM THE TRAIL BLAZER

Neat Signs Seen Around Town
Perhaps the best one is that which is tacked over the pin ball machine in Farnell Martindale's billiard room:

"In case of air raid, crawl under the machine, for it has never been hit."

VOLUNTEERS LAND CORPS

From the Centre College Cento comes news of an organization to help solve the threatened shortage of farm labor. The organization, known as the Volunteer Land Corps, originated with the students of some eastern universities, namely, Dartmouth and Harvard, and at the present is still in the experimental stage with its activities being centered in New Hampshire and Vermont.

When it was learned that the farmers of the region were willing to take college and high school students, the directors appealed to the following classes of young men students: Those below draft age, those rejected for minor physical qualifications, and those registered but not called as yet. These young men were offered jobs at $22 a month plus room and board. Many girls, after hearing of the opportunity, offered to join and were accepted.

TIP TO THE LADIES

Bad breath? . . . Do you wake up in the morning with a terrible taste in your mouth? Does your date shudder when he starts to kiss you? Do even your best friends tell you? If you have all these symptoms, you have bad breath.

Fortunately, there is a certain but harmless cure. Simply gargle slowly one-half quart of drano and wash out your mouth (the teeth may come out too but don't let it worry you—glue them back in with tooth paste) with a glass of preston anti-greeze. This treatment will leave the mouth cool and refreshed.

MORE JOKES

Most pedestrians are crossing streets safely nowadays—sneaky bunch!

Sleep is when you don't get enough of the night before you wake up the next morning.

POETRY

A man may smile in the face of death
But never will there be found
A man who can draw a placid breath
With his garters coming down.

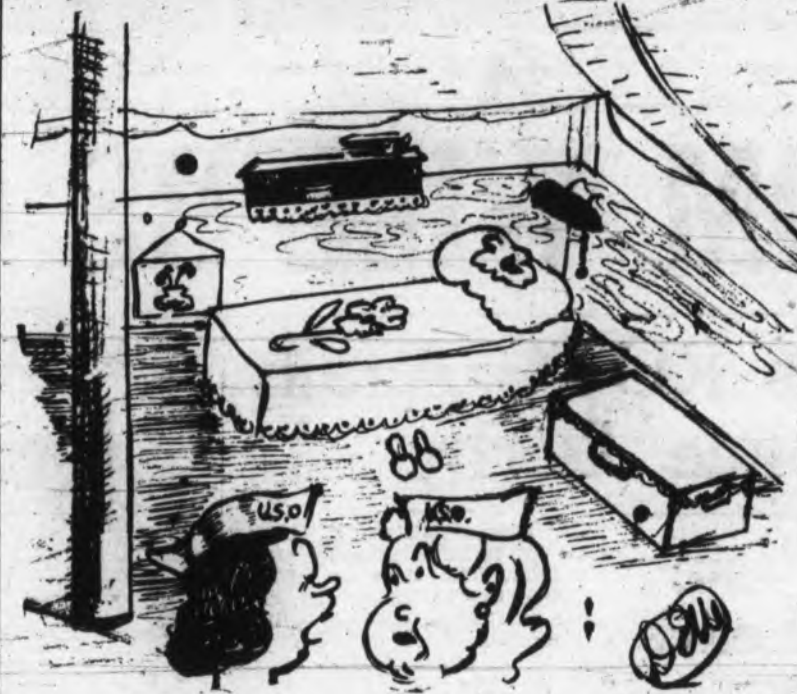

FRIED WARM

For something really tasty, a food with the old-fashioned nauseating twang, for a food that leaves a tempting, gangrenous taste recipe that is guaranteed to win over the most loathsome of men. If you serve the boy friend a portion of this recipe, he will be your slave for life whether you want him or not, because the body will be on your hands, and it will be up to you to get rid of the corpus-de-derelict.

Go to the nearest large city and purchase twenty-four long beautiful worms, the Japanese variety preferred. Gently stick a nail through the brain of the worm, and when he is dead, stretch out in a length-wise position. Roll the worms in prepared mixture of plaster of paris and corn-starch. When this most unkind deed is done, drop the worms in a pan of hot bar grease. Fry until the worms turn and assume a crisp, rigid position.

Worms prepared in this manner are enjoyable to crunch on with that "before bed" bottle of beer (oh brother). To really get the most enjoyment out of the worms, drink at least twelve bottles of beer before you begin crunching. To keep from getting drenched in drool, hang a bucket around your neck.

THE FEMININE ANGLE

Won't the boys be thrilled when they come in from maneuvers.

Capital to Campus

JOBS . . .

WASHINGTON—(ACP)—Secretary of War Stimson has announced that 100,000 men and women will be trained for civilian war jobs—inspectors at government factories, depots and arsenals; production workers, etc.—in government and state-owned schools. Students will be paid $900 to $1,440 a year while in training. (Men trained must be "outside" Selective Service requirements.)

Civil Service here in Washington virtually assures stenographers a job within one week of filing an application. Within the next few weeks Civil Service must furnish 1,000 stenographers to Washington war agencies.

Typing and shorthand skills are an excellent entering wedge if you are interested in working for Uncle Sam and can't discover any vacancies in your field. Your chances of transferring to the kind of work for which you are especially trained are termed "very good" if the specialty you are seeking ties in with the war effort.

WAR . . .

More than 5 per cent of the nation's 20-year-olds who registered in the last draft are college students—some 136,700 of them. They were assigned order numbers March 17 and prospects of an early military career are very real for most of them.

The War Department says that beginning June 1, quotas will probably call for men in both the first (21-35) age group and the second age group (20-year-olds and 36-45 year olds).

Local boards have been instructed to mail questionnaires to registrants in the second age group in "sufficient numbers to insure filling of the June call entirely from this age group if necessary."

It Might Be You

By JEANNE RUARK

April 24, 1942

Dear Margie:

All's quiet on the Eastern Front—comparatively speaking. Spring has "sprung," and the girls are wearing print dresses, and the lucky few who have balls and don't mind rough courts are playing tennis. The swimming pool and the amphitheatre are crowded, and the old American wolf-cry "Play Ball!" has been howled across the sandlot.

Yes, it's just about as it was last spring when you were here; just about as it has been every spring, except for a few minor changes. There aren't quite so many boys on the campus this spring, and lots of the girls are knitting heavy woolen sweaters, and more dimes are going into defense stamps instead of cokes, and once-in-awhile, you notice a worried, preoccupied frown on some smooth young brow.

You remember Kathie Hart? Last-week she received a notice from the War Department that her brother, Sid, had been killed in active duty on the Pacific. We all feel so sorry for her. He was her only brother and they were orphans living with relatives. But, after that first wild frantic moment of sudden agony, Kathie has been very calm.

I think about you a great deal, Marg. You were a brave woman when you married Tom, and sent him away to his army camp, after that one week honeymoon. I realize now how, loving him as you did, you could not let him go without those final vows. In your last letter you seemed so triumphantly happy. You must continue to be triumphant. As long as he has you, in all your glorious optimism, to fight for, Tom cannot fail to come home victorious. Nothing can defeat us as quickly as defeatism.

How I envy the men, Marg! How I would welcome the chance for active participation instead of passive endurance! Always before it has been woman's place to keep the home fires burning. I believe that this time we will have the opportunity to do more than that. I believe that, at last, our qualifications and merits will be recognized. In this all-out effort against totalitarianism, we are needed more completely than ever before; and I believe we are ready to answer the call to colors. Before long, Uncle Sam's nieces will be driving taxis, delivering mail, enforcing the law, running factory machinery, and cultivating crops. And with it all, they will still be gay and witty and charming and beautiful. They will still be, first of all, wives and mothers and sweethearts—keeping the home fires burning. As one American girl to another, Marg, let's show 'em we can!

It's almost time for the Friday night date, and I've gotta get glamorized and ready to be mixed up in a Moonlight Cocktail. See what you can do about filling that aching void in my P. O. box soon, will you?

Love,
LINDA

Progress Takes Pertinent Poll of Puny Particulars

In the latest poll taken by the A. I. P. T. (Amateur Incinerator Poll Takers), several relevant facts were discovered concerning the present situation on Eastern's campus.

After interviewing at least five thousand cafeteria buns, the 9,000,000,000 education books in the library, two Saturday night drunks, three members of the W. C. T. U., and a couple who wouldn't talk, we reached the following conclusions.

FIRSTLY:
What is your favorite song?
67½% . . . "She's Comin' Around the Mountain" (in four parts).
500¼% . . . "If I Thought She'd Come, I Wouldn't Be There."
1½% . . . The cannibal's theme song "The Min-u-e-t."
And Mary Lou Lucy . . . "She Cried in My Beer."
And Ann Thomas . . . "I'm Walkin' the Floor Over You."

SECONDLY:
Who would you like to be shipwrecked on a desert island with? Jackie Orr . . . "Are you kiddin'?"
99 44-100 of the men . . . "Well, it wouldn't make much difference, say between Hedy Lamarr, Gene Tierney, Betty Grable, Veronica Lake, or Lana Turner."
99 44-100 of the Eastern girls . . . "It would be too much to wish for a man, I guess."

THOUGHTS:
What is your favorite novel? Madge Jones . . . "Why a novel experience, don't be sill."
Guy Hatfield . . . "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm."
100% of the dorm guys . . . "Thuperman."
Betty Masters . . . "Poisonally, I like some cultural, like say "Gone With the Wind," ain't that what they call it?"

100% of the dorm girls . . . "(It amounts to just about that, the way they starve for good reading over there.)"
LASTLY!
What do you think about the national debt?
James Little . . . "I don't owe nobody nuttin'"
Theda Dunavent . . . "Why, it's just terrible, just atrocious, and something ought to be done about it. Say, what are we talking about, anyway?"
Jack Faries . . . "I think so too."

Everybody else . . . "Why, bother us. This is a democracy. Let the government worry about it."
Be certain to watch the next issue of this paper for the next A. I. P. T. which will have to do with class situation at dear old Albino Abnormal State Teachers College.

Yours till chocolate drops,

The virile young athletes, attired in Dorothy Lamourish costumes, bronzing themselves in the dorm courtyard. . . Don Harrison polishing apples a La Fuze. . . The ravine well-upholstered with humanity. (this ought to make Picturesque Speech and Patter).

JOKE OF THE WEEK

Probably you've heard this. We don't claim originality on it. We heard it over a coke in the grill. Anyhow it's a griller-diller. A little Indian girl went to school for the first time. When the teacher asked her name, she replied, "Happy Bottom." Quoth the teacher: "Little girl, I think you'd better change your name, for some of the little boys and girls might laugh at it." The child said she would and went home. The next day when she returned, the teacher asked her if she changed her name and the little girl replied, "Yes, teacher." "And what is your name now, little girl?" asked the teacher. "Gladys," replied the little girl.

ARSENIC AND OLD CAFETERIA NAPKINS

We would like to know just what happy little soul tossed what must have been a bucket of water out of one of the cafeteria windows upon us the other evening. 'Twas a foul deed, by Jove. We wonder why we didn't think of it ourselves. . . O! Massa Bob Yeager, the Pride of Oneida, has taken charge of the pansy patch in back of Beckham Hall these days. We'll toss the old boy an orchid which we'll buy at Reichsparr's as a token of our gratitude for the six new rose bushes which they donated for our garden. Thanks a lot. . . Crash Rasnik and Speed Dickerson have been wearing the latest thing in adhesive tape since their little mishap over by the Health Building. That's using your heads, boys. A bicycle is only a bicycle but when you pile 'em up like that—well, what can we say. . . This stuff about a girl's not being allowed off the campus without an escort or two other girls after six o'clock is complicated business. The next thing you know they'll be specifying what size escort.

If I don't pick a horse to win,
So, Bless Me, I don't know.

JIVE NOTES

Glenn Miller grabs the spotlight this week with a trio of numbers, one of which we heartily condemned in a previous column. They are his smo-o-th version of "Skylark," a bluesy called "Soldier, Let Me Read Your Letter," and a new Tex Beneke slant on "Deep In the Heart of You-Know-Where." If it weren't for the really fine vocal and tenor work by Beneke on this last we would overlook it completely, but Tex is dear to the hearts of both of us. . . We haven't heard a recording of "Breathless" but Skinny Ennis can really put it over on the air. . . If you have B. Goodman's "Zoot Suit" lying around some place, try turning it over and playing the other side. "My Little Cousin" is rhythmic and melodic in a large way. You'll get a kick out of it.

HOT SPOTS

by HELEN ASHCRAFT

Spring, no doubt. Lilacs bloom—co-eds sunburn—and the ravine looks like Fountain Square. For those who can stand to spend these beautiful nights in a theatre we suggest the picture, "Kings Row," well worth anyone's time. With the coming of spring, we, like the proverbial earth worm, turn once more to digging the dirt. Beginning of a new romance is sighted between Beulah Ford and Jim Little. It looked like half of Eastern migrated to Lexington some time during the last weekend—Junior Prom at State, Kepeland, and Saturday afternoons. Jackie Forman beamed with Barbara Boone breezing in. Flo Crook is entertaining a nifty number from Mississippi. Nancy Beaty has shifted her affections to Buddy Wright. Walton was the scene of a merry, merry crowd weekend last. . . Jack Loper and Ruth Crowe got it bad and it looks good. . . ditto for Betty Carmen and Don Grollig. . . It looks like Dot Deringer for Ted Benedet.

We hate to see Mary A. Kister leave but we're happy for her. Clement Bezold and Caroline Willis make one of the cutest of campus couples. Now that the worm has found the dirt, we'd better turn, before the early bird gets the worm or we get the bird. Or something.

L. A. (speaking to an inmate): "And who are you?"
Nut: "I'm Hitler."
L. A.: "Who told you so?"
Nut: "God told me so."
From another cell: "That's a lie. I never said any such thing."

SERIOUSLY NOW . . .

G. K. Chesterton once wrote, "The only way to love anything is to realize that it might be lost." NOW is the time to realize that all the things which we cherish so much might be lost in this war. Support your government and protect the things which All Americans are fighting for. Help our boys at the fronts get on the offensive. Let's all give Uncle Sam the support he deserves and buy defense stamps, not tomorrow—not next week—but NOW, TODAY! MAKE IT A HABIT.

Eastern Will Begin Diamond Season Against Transy Today

This afternoon at 3 p. m. Eastern's baseball team will begin the current season of play after their first scheduled game with DePauw was rained out.

The game this afternoon will be with Transylvania who for the first time in many seasons is sponsoring a baseball team. Transy began practice only a short while ago and have not played any games, therefore, no advance notices concerning the team are available. The game should be an interesting one however as it will be the first test for both teams.

COACH HUGHES

Coach Hughes has been working his candidates continuously and is rounding the team into shape. Warm weather has been a great aid to the practice sessions and several practice games have been held among the squad members enabling them to get some practice under pressure similar to actual game play.

From their performances in these practice games Coach Hughes has been able to get a better judgment of the ability of each of the players.

The probable batting order and lineup for this afternoon will be:

- Nash—Shortstop.
- Nonnemacher—Third base.
- Babb—Catcher.
- Bartlett—Rightfield.
- Schuster—Centerfield.
- Brady or Dorna—Leftfield.
- Rasnick—Second base.
- Novakowski or Garrett—First base.
- Rall—Pitcher.

All of these boys have been showing up well in practice and should prove a very formidable team to represent Eastern. Other members of the squad are infielders, Balonis and Tabb; outfielder, Jim Crowe; and pitchers, Haas, Boyd, Wayman, Sanders, Ginter and Kinsella.

HOME GAME

The next home game for the team will be on next Friday, May 1, against the University of Kentucky team. This game was originally scheduled for May 2 but has been changed in order that the R. O. T. C. boys on the team can make the trip to the Derby.

Besides the addition of Transylvania to the schedule, Western has been scheduled for two games. The first of these here on May 9 and the second there on May 22. These games are all in addition to the original schedule that appeared in the last issue.

Samuels Starts Eastern Thinclads

Transportation Causes Schedule Difficulties

Coach Tom Samuels and his thinclad trackmen have begun practice to mold a team to represent Eastern on the cinder path.

The schedule of the track team appears because of transportation difficulties with currently only two events appearing on the schedule. A triangular meet against Berea and some other school is scheduled for May 4 with the important state meet on May 11 at Berea. Last year the Eastern lads placed second in the meet and this year are determined to come out on top.

A number of men have reported for practice and trying for participation in several events. Ray Nelson, winner of the state championship in the mile, is back for another try in the mile run and with the aid of other lettermen returning should form a nucleus for a team.

CANDIDATES

The candidates and the events they are priming for are: 440 yard run, Ben Leavell and Ted Benedett; 100 yard dash, Ken Brady and Ted Benedett; high hurdles, Henry Starkey, Gerald and Lawrence Becker; 880 yard relay, Lawrence Brady, Ted Benedett, Jim Little, Charles Dorna and Joe Bill Siphers; 880 yard run, Elmer Graham; 220 yard dash, Dorna, Brady and Lefty Norman; 2 mile run, Ray Nelson; low hurdles, L. Becker; pole vault, Lloyd Hudnall and Dorna; shotput, Norman, G. Becker, Keuhn, Deeb, Lohr, Benedett and Fred Darling; discus, Fred Darling, Norman, Little, G. Becker; high jump, Hudnall, G. Becker; broad jump, Haas, Hudnall; javelin, L. Becker, G. Becker and Siphers; with a mile relay team to be selected.

From all these candidates the best will be selected to participate at Berea.

TOURNAMENT

The event on May 11 is a track and field meet combined with a tennis tournament to decide the KIAC champion. Each conference school sends three representatives, one singles man, one doubles team and drawings are held. Last year the doubles team from Eastern went to the semi-finals and were defeated by the Western team. This year tryouts will be held to determine the men who will participate. Besides this tournament it is doubtful if there will be any other matches for a tennis team. All men desiring to try for a place on the team to represent Eastern in the state meet are requested to see Bud Petty as soon as possible.

Eastern Pistol Team Reveals Undefeated Record for 1942

By GUY HATFIELD

"You do?" "Well, I never heard of it." "They're good you say?" "They haven't lost a match?" "Why, that means they're batting 1,000."

"Keereet," they have not lost a single shoulder-to-shoulder match this year. That's Eastern's pistol team. The unheralded and little praised pistol team coached by Captain Reeves. These boys spend much time in practice in order that they may put Eastern on the map and later on slap a Jap off the map. True to form, these Kentuckians, with two adopted foreigners, Bob Yeager and Max Reed, have eagle eyes. They have defeated Ohio State at Columbus, the University of Kentucky and Xavier University at both Lexington and Cincinnati. Again they defeated Xavier here and then they outshot Ohio on our own range.

To add to these shoulder-to-shoulder matches, Eastern's marksmen have won most of their postal encounters.

SQUAD

Comprising the varsity squad are William Stocker, Prewitt Paynter, Charles Floyd, Bud Petty, Paul Houchell, Rodney Whitaker, Bob Yeager, Bill Barnett, Billy Mason and Roy Kidd. The freshmen are Bill Wayman, Eugene Karr, John Congleton, Bill Bradley, Max Reed and Neal Boyd. Karr and Congleton shot with the varsity in the match at Cincinnati against Xavier and Kentucky. Karr and Boyd helped win at Lexington.

WE WIN

In the match at Cincinnati, it appeared that Eastern had finally been defeated for as far as was visible to the human eye, Eastern lacked one shot in the bulls eye to win the match. Only nine holes could be found in the target of Devil Anse Stocker. Xavier would win the match if only nine could be accounted for. However, if the tenth one could be found Eastern had won another three-way match for the University of Kentucky was out of the race. In such matches where there is a doubt as to the number of shots in a target, the said target is sent to the N. R. A. (not the National Recovery Administration but the National Rifle Association) which possesses a machine that can accurately count the score on the target. As has been said before, Eastern hasn't lost a cheek-to, pardon, shoulder-to-shoulder meet this year. The machine had found what the human eye couldn't see. Two bullets had passed through the same hole and the second shot had made only a slight deviation from the course of the first and was therefore undetectable to the naked eye. Daniel Boone Yeager and Wild Bill Barnett say that they heard Pretty Boy Floyd, Curly Houchell, Death Whitaker and Roy the Kidd tell Merdless Petty, Six Shooter Paynter and Scarface Mason that Stocker placed that second shot purposely to tease the Xavier boys.

Seriously, these boys from Eastern are doing a fine job for Capt. Reeves and the Eastern R. O. T. C. We should root for them can shoot.

ern are doing a fine job for Capt. Reeves and the Eastern R. O. T. C. We should root for them can shoot.

Handball Tourney

Another of the intramural activities of the Physical Education Department has just been completed with Tommy Douglas of Hazard being crowned the handball champion of the college.

Douglas survived through a field of 19 entrants who eliminated each other in contests of two out of three games. In the semi-finals, Bob Cooper defeated Braxton Duval and Douglas defeated Bob Goosens with Douglas winning the championship by defeating Cooper 21-9 and 21-18.

NAVY ANNOUNCEMENT TO COLLEGE FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES 17 THRU 19

You want to serve your country! Why not serve where your college training will do the most good?

Under the Navy's newest plan, you can enlist right now. You don't have to quit college. You can stay in college, continue your studies and qualify to become a Naval Officer—in the sea or in the air.

Who may qualify

If you are between the ages of 17 and 19 inclusive and can meet Navy physical standards, you can enlist now as an Apprentice Seaman in the Naval Reserve. You will be in the Navy. But you may remain in college, taking regular college courses under your own professors. Your studies will emphasize mathematics, physics and physical training.

After you have successfully completed 1½ calendar years of work, you will be given a classification test. This examination is competitive. It is designed to select the best men for training as Naval Officers.

How to become an Officer

If you qualify by this test and can meet the necessary physical standards, you will have your choice of two courses—each leading to an officer's commission:

1. You may volunteer for training as an Aviation Officer. In this case you will be permitted to finish at least the second calendar year of college work, before you are ordered to active duty for training to become an officer-pilot.

However, at any time during this two-year period, you may have the option to take immediately the prescribed examination for Aviation Officer... and, if successful, be assigned for Aviation training. Students who fail in their college courses or who withdraw from college will also have the privilege of taking the Aviation examination. Applicants who fail to qualify in this test will be ordered to active duty as Apprentice Seamen.

2. Those who qualify in the classification test and do not volunteer for Aviation will be selected for training to be Deck or Engineering Officers. In that case, you will continue your college program until you receive your bachelor's degree, provided you maintain the established university standards.

Those whose grades are not high enough to qualify them for Deck or Engineering Officer training will be permitted to finish their second calendar year of college. After this, they will be ordered to duty as Apprentice Seamen, but because of their college training they will have a better chance for rapid advancement. At any time, if a student should fail in his college courses, he may be ordered to active duty as an Apprentice Seaman.

Your pay starts with active duty. It's a real challenge! It's a real opportunity! Make every minute count by doing something about this new Navy plan today.

That peas are a good source of the "oomph" Vitamin B, as well as iron.

That you should eat at least two vegetables every day in addition to potatoes.

New Mental Exam Now Available For Air Corps

Opportunities For Ground Duty

New mental examination is now available for young men who wish to qualify for pilot, navigation and bombardier training in the Army Air Corps, according to Major Fletcher N. Hufford, president, Aviation Cadet Examining Board No. 3, which is located in the Student Health Building, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Kentucky.

This mental screen test is similar to the examination which has been in effect for the past three months. Advance preparation is not necessary and about the same amount of time is required as was necessary for the old screening test.

ALL YOUNG MEN

The new examination is open to all young men between the ages of 18 and 26, inclusive, regardless of whether or not they have college training. Men who failed the old examination will be eligible to take the test again after a period of 90 days has elapsed.

Both mental and physical examinations are conducted by the Board every week-day morning at 8:30 and every afternoon at 1:00 o'clock except Saturday and Sunday.

PAPERS

All candidates must have a complete set of application papers when they appear before the Board, including War Department, A. G. O. Form 60 (in triplicate), a birth certificate or notarized affidavit by parents, and three letters of recommendation.

Necessary application blanks and a booklet describing Aviation Cadet training are available to anyone writing to the examining board, or they may be secured from any Army Recruiting Officers.

GROUND DUTY

The booklet also describes opportunities for ground duty training, available to men who have had two or more years of college education, including one year of physics. Classes now open to civilians are communications and engineering. Armament, photography, and meteorology are now closed, but may be opened to application at a later date.

All types of Aviation Cadet training lead to a second lieutenant's commission. Air crew officers receive $243.00 a month and ground crew officers are paid $183.00 a month.

During the training period all Aviation Cadets receive $75.00 a month, and subsistence allowance. The government provides clothing, quarters, medical care, and a $10,000.00 insurance policy while cadets are in training.
