Board Of Regents Approves Const.

The new dormitory for men, now under construction at Eastern, was named for Dr. W. F. O'Donnell, president of Eastern since 1941, by the board of regents in executive session on Monday, April 28. The dormitory will be called O'Donnell Hall.

This is the fourth major building to be constructed on Eastern's campus during President O'Donnell's administration. Others are Science Hall, the new Music Building, and Keith Hall, a men's dorm. Other improvements completed during his term include the enlargement of the Health Building to provide additional space for the physical education department and to double the capacity of the gymnasium, the remodeling of Sullivan Hall, and the rebuilding of the power plant and laying of an entirely new underground steam distribution system.

The board requested the State Department of Finance to approve an application for a loan of $600,000 to finance the construction of 100 family units for married students. President O'Donnell reported that much of the temporary housing which was acquired in 1946 should be replaced because it can no longer be maintained at a reasonable cost. The college secured these barracks buildings under a contract which required that they be dismantled by 1950. The demand for the houses forced the college to continue to use the buildings even though the income from the units did not equal the cost of needed repairs, the President reported.

In other business, the regents approved plans and specifications for the renovation and remodeling of the north wing of Burnam Hall. Bids for this work will be received on May 29, and construction will begin immediately after that date.

After the adjournment of the meeting, the board and all members of the Eastern faculty attended a luncheon in the Blue Room of the Student Union Building. President O'Donnell spoke briefly and introduced the regents to the faculty.

Caps and gowns mean graduation. Beth Brock, Pat Franklin, Julie Cook, and Sydney Brown are prepared.

Skaggs Competes In Laurel Festival

Miss Phyllis Jayne Skaggs, Eastern's candidate in the Mountain Laurel Festival, left school Thursday morning for Pineville to participate in the annual pageant there.

Miss Skaggs, accompanied by Jackie Kidd, a senior from London who was her escort, spent Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and part of Sunday participating in the lovely spring festival.

Girls from colleges all over Kentucky vied for a crown, a scepter and a kiss from Governor A. B. "Happy" Chandler. They were judged on beauty, personality, and poise. Unlike most other beauty contests, this affair has no "bathing suit parade." Long white formals are worn by all contestants.

Miss Skaggs' gown is white silk organza with large flowers embroidered in seed pearls and chrysaline on the bodice and on a narrow band of tiny tucks encircling the skirt at knee length. With the gown, which has a sweep of eight feet, she wears 16" white kid gloves.

The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Skaggs of Paintsville, Kentucky, she has been chosen Basketball and Snowball Queen and is sponsor of the Third Battalion of ROTC. She was selected for the Mountain Laurel Festival in the annual Milestone Miss Eastern contest.

(Ed. Note: The Progress went to press before the results of the Mountain Laurel Festival could be obtained.)

The band also went to Pineville this week-end for the Mountain Laurel Festival. It was the featured band in the parade Friday morning and played for the coronation ceremonies Friday afternoon.

Accompanied by four chaperones and director Nicholas Koenigstein and Mrs. Koenigstein, the band members left Eastern by Black Brothers' Bus at 1:00 Thursday and returned Friday night.

RATLIFF, FIELDS, BROWN, CARTER SELECTED FOR S.C.

Seven hundred students voted in the Student Council election May 15, 16, and 19, to elect four officers of the Student Association for 1958-59.

John Ratliff, senior from Newport, Kentucky, and a commerce major, was elected president. John was vice president of his class two years in high school. He hopes to go into sales work after he graduates and spends a couple of years with Uncle Sam. He is an active member of the "E" Club, Eastern Cadet Officers' Club, and Sigma Tau Pi.

English major, Glenn Fields who hails from Cynthia, "the biggest little town in the Bluegrass" was elected vice president. Glenn, a 21-year-old junior, hopes to teach school in Florida after graduation. He is a member of the Canterbury Club, the Harrison County Club, Eastern Cadet Officers' Club, and Sigma Lambda.

Scottie Brown, elementary education major from Louisville, was elected secretary. She graduated from Shawnee High School in Louisville. Scottie, a 19-year-old junior, wants to teach, the first grade in Louisville after graduation. She has held several offices on campus. She is feature editor of the Progress, president of Collegiate Pentacle for 58-59, publicity chairman of the Junior Class, historian and reporter of Kappa Delta Pi for 58-59, president of the Jefferson County Club, and a member of the Little Theater Club, and the Big Sisters Club.

Leroy Carter, who will be a second semester sophomore next year, was elected treasurer. He is 24 years old, from Newark, Ohio, and an industrial arts major. He was Junior Class vice president at Newark High School. Leroy plans to teach industrial arts after graduation. He is a member of the Vets Club and the Industrial Arts Club.

Mr. Victor Venettozzi, sponsor and mentor of the Student Council, has announced his resignation from that post. Mr. Venettozzi, of the English Department, gave the press of other affairs as one reason for resigning.

He also said that he thought that a fresh point of view would come with a new sponsor, and perhaps the Council could make a new start toward being an influence in student governing.

Council President Jim Skaggs expressed regret at the loss of Mr. Venettozzi to the Student Council of next year. Mr. Venettozzi has been a big help to the Council, and we appreciate it very much.

GRADES—Remember, if you want to have your grades mailed to you at your home this summer, you must leave a self-addressed, stamped envelope at the registrar's office during finals week. Anyone who fails to do so may pick up his grades at the office during summer school or next fall.

Hats Off

By BEVERLY DANSBY

HATS OFF to Harriet Harris and Herman Looney, two seniors who have given us four of the best years of their lives.

Harriet (sometimes known as Hank) is from Stanton, Kentucky, and majors in Elementary Education. After graduation — to be exact, two days after graduation — she plans to marry Jim.

She has had four busy years belonging to and working for Pi Tau Chi, Drum and Sandal, Photo Club (she prints pictures for the Progress and Milestone), Westminster Fellowship, Y. W. C. A., and Milestone staff.

Harriet thinks you should study, then have as much fun as you can. She believes you should take other subjects besides those pertaining to your major in order to get as much out of college as possible. Even if you fail every subject, you still get an education at college, according to Harriet, who knows that college years make lasting impressions on your life.

Herman Looney, from Grundy, Virginia, is president of the Senior Class, made Who's Who in American Colleges, and is a member of Sigma Tau Pi, Letcher County Club, and the Milestone staff. He also played Intramural basketball.

He is a Commerce-Accounting major, and plans to do this type of work, either in industry or for the government after his service time.

He also plans to marry Peggy, he said with a grin, in the near future.

Herman says to decide on your major, plan your schedule, then get down to working toward your goal. He admits that graduation first looked a long way off, but now that it's here, he'd like another year to do some things he meant to do. It was a lot of hard work, he knows, but he remembers more of the fun than the hard work.

So, Hats Off to these seniors, and all seniors; we hope you'll remember all the fun we have here.

Too Beat

Twenty-seven hundred people were eligible to vote in the Student Council election last week—seven hundred voted. Discounting seven hundred night and Saturday students, and perhaps two hundred students who had no opportunity to come through the grill on Thursday, Friday, or Monday, we still have 1800 people who were not only eligible, but who had the opportunity. That means 38 per cent of Eastern's students were interested in choosing their own officers, and 62 per cent didn't care.

Do these figures show a lack of enthusiasm for the Student Council? Perhaps; but every other organization on campus has had the same trouble. This lack of response to voting opportunities is only symptomatic of lack of response to anything. It's as though our senses were dulled. The title "The Beat Generation" fits us aptly.

When we lack energy to even interest ourselves in what is about us, we deserve to be passed by. When we settle for a minimum of activity, we deserve the maximum amount of being ignored by those who count. When we cannot stir up enough decision to choose a candidate, we deserve to have the privilege of choosing taken away.

Our Thanks or Apologies

This is the last issue of the Progress. Before you start cheering, let us say thanks, thanks for turning in stories on time; thanks for devoting your time to proofreading, typing, and helping on layout; thanks for providing interesting material for editorials; thanks for your constructive criticism; and, finally, thanks for being patient with us.

Before you wrap your dirty clothes in this paper, let us say we're sorry—we're sorry for all the mistakes that managed to slip by our proofreaders; we're sorry for overlooking important stories; we're sorry for stepping on any toes undeservedly; we're sorry that the Friday night edition of the paper sometimes came out on Saturday afternoon; and, finally, we're sorry for any long-windedness, undue sarcasm, over-enthusiasm, and insane rambling.

If any of the thanks apply to you, we'll appreciate the same service next year. If any of the apologies apply to you, we suggest that YOU see to it that it doesn't happen again by doing part of the paper yourself. We'll see you next year. P. S. We're extra sorry if we spelled your name wrong.

Tony Parrent

Parrent Wins Weaver Award

The winner of the Charles F. Weaver Oratorical Award for 1958 is Tony Parrent, a senior from Frankfort, Ky.

Mr. Parrent spoke on "Would You Make a Scientist?" His talk was a model of scientific method and was excellently delivered.

The Weaver Award is in memory of the Northern Kentucky businessman for whom the Weaver Health Building is named. Mr. Weaver was a member of the Board of Regents and long-time friend of Eastern.

Classes Meet To Elect; Nominate

The assembly period of May 21 was given over to class meetings, with the election of officers for next year chief on the agenda.

Sophomores declined to elect officers for next year's Junior Class because of the large percentage of drop-out students between the Sophomore and Junior years. Officers will be elected at the first meeting of the class next year.

The Seniors of 1959 elected the following officers: Jerry Sutkamp, president; Cliff Swauger, vice president; Darlene Johnson, secretary; Ben Flora, treasurer; Lois Carter, chaplain. Student Council representatives will be chosen in the fall.

The graduating class met, and discussed, naturally, graduating.

Any senior who is in doubt about graduating should see the Registrar's Office on Saturday, May 23, at 10:00 a.m. Do not go through the academic procession for Baccalaureate unless you are sure you will graduate.

First Prize In Photo Contest

Mr. Gover said this about the photo: "For portraying an idea of quality in processing, and for composition, this photo is the choice for first. The cigar and empty cup make it appear that the reader has enjoyed the book. Knowing that 'Glimpses of Madison County' is most entertaining, I feel that the reader has been relaxed and resting before reading anew."

MRS JULIAN TYNG

One of the most attractive and vivacious ladies on Eastern's campus is Mrs. Julian Tying, associate professor of elementary education. A native of Richmond, she has seen many changes take place in the city.

She graduated from the Madison Institute, a girls' boarding school which stood on the property now occupied by Madison Central High School. She attended Eastern, received a B. S. degree from George Peabody College for Teachers, an M. A. degree from Columbia University in New York City, and also studied at the University of Chicago. After college she taught elementary school in Richmond and Guthrie, Kentucky. Later Mrs. Tying married a graduate of Harvard in the first wedding ceremony performed in Richmond's Christian Church. She and her husband lived in Boston and in Buffalo, New York. Her husband died at an early age, and Mrs. Tying returned in 1920 to teach at Eastern. She has served here under Presidents Coates, Donovan, and O'Donnell. Her classes include Fundamentals of Teaching Elementary Education, Teaching Reading, and some graduate courses. She can recall thousands of students by face but not by name.

Mrs. Tying now resides on the corner of Sunset Avenue and Main Street, and says that she would rather live in Kentucky than any other place. Her hobbies are her three granddaughters. She loves to read, cook, and sew, and collects old editions of children's books.

As to a philosophy of teaching, she said, "One's philosophy of education is reflected in one's teaching, just as one's philosophy of life is in living. I do believe in the essential goodness of people." Mrs. Tying feels very strongly about student teaching and says that "to drop student teaching would be just as dangerous as to drop interning in a hospital for doctors, perhaps more so. Prospective teachers should have an adequate knowledge of all content subjects. I would be willing to drop a few hours in education where there is duplication and study more of content matter, so that teachers wouldn't be afraid to teach fourth, fifth, and sixth grades."

Mrs. Tying is respected by col-

Easternites Get Berea Roles

The results of the try-outs for Berea's annual out-door drama, "Wilderness Road", were recently announced. Three of Eastern's students were chosen as members of the cast.

Mary Bailey, a sophomore from Nicholasville, who appeared in the L. T. C.'s recent production of "Lord Red Patrick", was awarded the role of June Farris. Mary played June in last year's presentation of "Wilderness Road" and understudied one of the female leads as well. Mary doesn't plan to accept the part, however, due to a change in her plans for the coming summer.

Margaret Butler, a Louisville senior, who did such a fine job singing for us in "Carousel", will be entertaining new audiences during the summer at the Indian Fort Theater, home of "Wilderness Road". Maggie's singing made a fine impression on the "W. R." people, and they were quick to cast her in a singing role.

Ralph Mills, freshman from Pineville, will be appearing in the part of Henry Simms. Ralph has been seen on Eastern's stage in "Stalag 17", "Carousel", and the recent production of "Lord Red Patrick".

The "Wilderness Road" rehearsals will begin on June 9, and the show will open June 26. It will have a continuous run through August 30, excluding Sundays.

Miss Buchanan Tells Of British Hospitality

(Editor's Note) This article is the conclusion of the series of articles written for the Progress by Miss Buchanan, describing her summer of study in Great Britain.

Like the grandeur of Tara, the summer had vanished all too quickly, and as the Aer Lingus plane bore me back to Edinburgh to collect my luggage, I began to realize how deeply I would regret leaving Great Britain. I had seen much, much more than I had ever dreamed would be possible in one short summer, but I had barely begun to explore the storehouses of historical and literary and artistic treasure to be found in this fascinating country. I had met many delightful people and made friendships that I value highly. True, I was growing more and more eager to see my own people and to return to this side of the Atlantic, yet I was loathe to leave the country and the people who had made my summer one of sheer delight.

Without exception I encountered kindness, courtesy, and a surprising friendly interest. At no time was there any intrusion; one's privacy is respected even in a crowded, second-class railway carriage. But, once I had made the first gesture and "broken the ice" by requesting a bit of information or advice, these strangers took as good care of me as if I had been a favorite kinswoman. I was badly pampered and spoiled in Great Britain, and I loved it. Indeed, it was a decided jolt to have to fend for myself once I got back home.

As a teacher, I was profoundly gratified to find that education is held in great respect in the British Isles, especially in Scotland. It made me very proud of being a teacher. Whenever, in answer to queries, I explained that I taught in a college in the United States and was attending the Summer School at the University of Edinburgh, I could actually feel a warmth of approval and of respect. It's an attitude that I have not found prevalent here in the United States, I am sorry to say.

It's good to be a citizen of the United States, a priceless heritage. It's good to be back home among wonderful friends and associates. It's also good to have mingled with the people of Great Britain and found them just what I expected them to be—all sorts and kinds, with tastes and customs and ideas often different from ours but wonderfully kind and friendly. Splendid folks. I hope they liked me as much as I liked them.

The Alumni Reception and Banquet, annually held at Commencement time, will this year honor the classes of 1908, 1933, and 1958.

The reception and dinner will take place on Saturday, May 31, in the Student Union Building. The speaker will be Dr. Jack Allen, head of the History Department at Peabody College in Nashville, Tennessee.

This is the Golden Anniversary of the Class of '08 and two members of that class plan to be on hand. Mr. C. S. Dale and Miss Flora J. Sullivan are members of the second class to graduate from Eastern. The Class of '33, celebrating their twenty-fifth anniversary, will have a special meeting in the Little Theater before the reception. Herman Lóoney, President of the Class of '58, will present the class to the alumni.

Tickets for the dinner must be purchased by May 24 in the Alumni Office in the basement of the Administration Building.

THE BEST-TASTING CIGARETTE YOU EVER SMOKED!

Product of The American Tobacco Company—"Tobacco is our middle name."

Homecoming was as much fun as ever, and Pat made a lovely queen.

The year really begins with the ROTC boys in summer camp.

When construction started, it went on and on and on, and it STILL isn't through.

"Stalag 17" was the best play around here in years, or at least the funniest.

Phyllis took beauty honors as both Snowball Queen and Miss Eastern.

Remember when . . . it was snowing instead of raining? Bet you can't.

Shelby drew the title of Mr. Popularity (catch the pun?) . . .

. . . And Pat is Miss Popularity and a pretty fair ping-pong player.

Snowball Dance, Valentine Dance, White Rose Formal, Military Ball, and the Junior-Senior Prom. Weren't they lovely? Charley Blair and Barney Rapp are sure to be asked for repeat performances. Ollie and Betty Carol enjoyed themselves.

Happy Birthday, President O'Donnell. He was 68, you know.

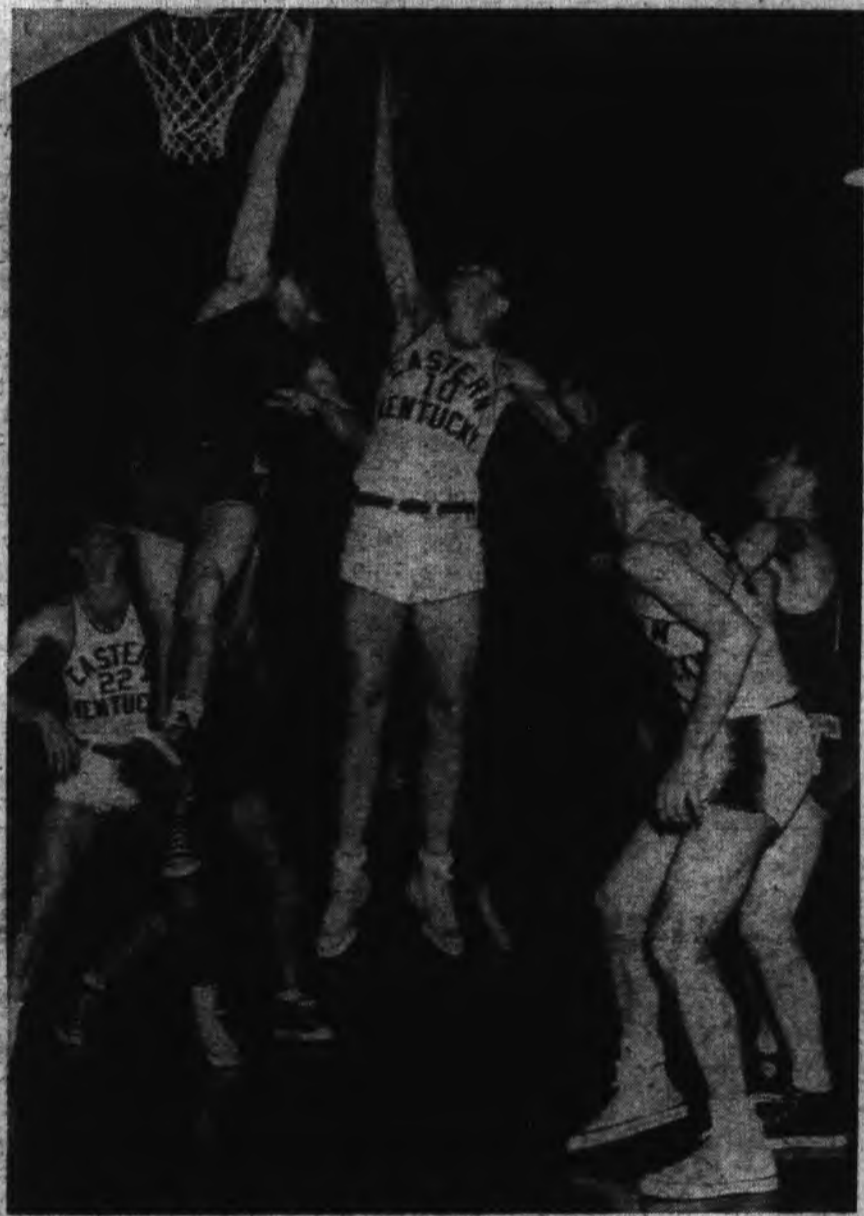

Last walk across campus

As fall comes, so comes registration and the beginning in earnest of another year.

When fall comes, can football be far behind? The annual Band Day is a big event.

From football to basketball is just a hop and skip, and as always the Maroons provided an exciting season.

The Student Council venture into public relations must have been successful; the blue paint

Spring sports come before you realize it's that time; all the spring teams did well this season.

Did we fool you? Remember, Easter Sunrise Services got rained out this year, like lots of other things.

Some of us. Some of us will begin again at summer camp. We're the lucky ones.

This is O'Donnell Hall and a beautiful thing it will be. Right now it's just a hole.

LOOKING BACK

Nellie Whalen

As I sit in my room gazing out the window across the campus, many thoughts go through my mind. It's hard for me to believe that in a few weeks all these friends, and carefree days will be left behind. As a green Frosh I thought—"I'll never make it"—that Senior year and graduation day seemed years and years away. Believe me though, it ro's around all too quickly.

My first day at Eastern is one I'll never forget. On a Sunday, with all my bags packed, I began my new life at Eastern. When I arrived, boys were lined up on the steps of the Student Union Building like sitting ducks. When I walked in my bare room in Burnam—three bunk beds and a dresser stared me in the face. I went downstairs and told Mom I wasn't staying. Several of the guys heard me, and they began singing "Ma-ma, come and get your baby daughter." I was humiliated and felt more like leaving than ever. Soon though, I learned teasing and joking were two favorite pastimes here.

Many things happened to us Seniors that first year at "Big E."

As it always seems, I suppose the Frosh year stands out most in my mind. College life was new and different. Homecoming was an event I'm sure we'll all remember. Those of us in KYMA will remember how on Saturday morning we were on the football field at 6:00 decorating. The beauty and excitement of that day will make it live in our minds.

Our football team that year was undefeated and school spirit flourished. We received a bid to the Tangerine Bowl and on the night when we heard the good news—Burnam Hall was invaded. A party raid! We had heard about them, but this was the first we had witnessed.

We gripe now because we have rain and more rain, but in '54 and '55, we would have been glad to have rain instead of being almost blown away. Tornadoes were the order of the day then. They scared all of us to death and one couple in the village awoke in the middle of the night gazing at a sky of stars instead of their usual ceiling.

One morning about 6:00 we Burnam gals were drawn out of a sound sleep by sounds and shouts of "Fire! Fire!" Some girls were more interested in getting their clothes out than themselves, but when we discovered it was just a trash can of fire, we calmed down somewhat.

Then there was the morning when the dairy barn burned. My roommate and I had a room which looked directly on the stadium and the dairy barn. Our shade was drawn and when we awoke our room had a bright red glow. We were both half asleep and we couldn't imagine what it was—my roommate thought it was reactions from the atomic blasts and I prophesied that the world was coming to an end. We were quite relieved when we raised the shade and saw what it was.

As usual there were dances and parties of all kinds. There were new romances and many lasting friendships were formed.

Our Sophomore year, as I remember, was much harder than our first. We had new responsibilities in clubs and other activities on campus. We also had to hit the books more often.

Homecoming that year was a big event for us because of our classmates—Pat Raker was crowned Homecoming Queen.

As Juniors, we pulled out of our Sophomore slump. We became more involved in campus activities—many of our class were presidents of organizations and we felt we had found our real place on campus.

Our big class project was the Jr.-Sr. Prom. We had various money-making schemes, and worked hard to give the Seniors a Prom they'd remember. Many of our original number failed to return for their third year at Eastern. Those of us who were here, though, continued to learn and grow.

Again, that year's Homecoming was important to us, for our float won first place in the originality contest.

Our Senior year to which we have looked forward these past three years is now upon us. Homecoming again saw one of our classmates, Betty Carol Hurst, as a runner-up.

For all of us who had student teaching the first semester, life was pretty tedious and social life was at a low ebb. It took a lot of our time, but it was an experience which helped us all.

As Seniors we had many new responsibilities. Our biggest being the Milestone. With Peggy Hinkle as our editor though, things rolled along smoothly.

"Who's Who" honored many of us and it was a thrill for all of us in November when we found we had been elected. Many good things have already happened to members of our class—to mention a few—Fann Herndon has received a Fulbright Award and will study in France next year; Tony Parrent received a scholarship to Vanderbilt; and many will be married soon after school is out in June.

Those of us who thought our last semester at Eastern would be one in which we could loaf and socialize a lot were wrong. What with writing for applications for jobs, filing with the placement bureau, interviews, ordering of caps and gowns, and invitations, and sending out these invitations, we've been very busy.

Our class seems to be closer this year than ever before. After being together for three years, we've come to know each other very well. We've had some rough times, but the good ones outweigh them.

Our Senior banquet, held at the Campbell House, was the beginning of our graduation activities. Then there was the Jr.-Sr. Prom which was lots of fun. The Juniors gave a Prom which I'm sure we'll long remember.

The many picnics and banquets which come with spring have kept us all on the go.

Into these next 2½ weeks many activities will be crowded—alumni banquet; Senior Women's Dinner; President's luncheon; Baccalaureate, and last of all, Graduation.

It's been hard for me to try to express for all the Seniors the highlights of our four years here. One remembers many things, but it's hard to write them down for they are memories which will always remain, but can't be expressed. I'm positive that I can say for all of us that these four years have been packed with fun and that the friendships which have been formed here will not be broken and forgotten when we leave.

Eastern, I'm sure, will always have a spot in our hearts. To the faculty, fellow students, and every one who has anything to do with Eastern, we say "thank you for these four wonderful years."

As we leave, I'm sure the words

Niblack Awarded PTA Scholarship

Dolores Ann Niblack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Niblack of Alexandria, recently was awarded a $1,000 scholarship by the Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers. This scholarship, believed the largest of its type ever given to an Eastern student, covers a two-year period.

Dolores, a sophomore, is president of the Iu Chapter of Owens at Eastern and a member of Wesley Foundation. For the past two years, she has maintained the highest scholastic average of any woman of her class.

Fann Herndon To Study In France

Miss Fann Rutledge Herndon, a senior at Eastern State College, has received announcement from the U. S. Department of State that she is one of 900 students awarded grants for graduate study abroad during the academic year 1958-59. She will study French and social science at the University of Bordeaux, France.

These grants are provided by the Fulbright Act and are financed through foreign currencies owed to or owned by the Treasury of the United States. Students are recommended by the campus Fulbright committee and by the Institute of International Educational Education in New York. Miss Herndon was recommended by Miss Edith Ford, member of the Eastern faculty and Fulbright adviser on the campus, and by the State Fulbright Committee.

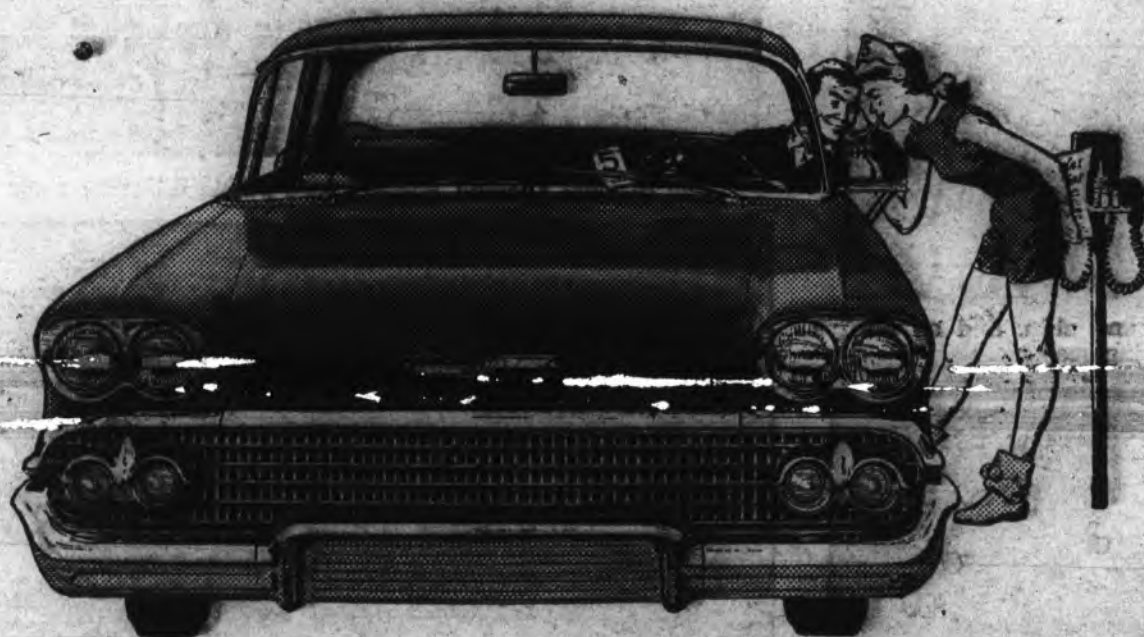

Fann Herndon

Miss Herndon will leave Kentucky about September 15. She will sail from New York on the 20th and will take part in an orientation program at Paris from Sept. 30 through Oct. 24. She will receive tuition, a maintenance allowance, and transportation both in this country and abroad.

As a student at Eastern, Miss Herndon has been a member of Sigma Lambda, foreign language club; Collegiate Pentacle, senior society for women; the college annual staff, Drum and Sandal, modern dance club; and sponsors of Owens, sophomore honor society for women. During the summers she has worked in a Girl Scout Camp in Alabama, a New England resort, and last summer at Yellowstone National Park. She is the niece of Dr. Thomas C. Herndon, chairman of the science division of Eastern.

This summer, Miss Herndon will study in Montreal, Canada, in preparation for her European journey. She will attend a university at which only French is spoken.

Maroon Corner . . .

BY LARRY KNARR

Most of the activity on the spring sports scene has died down to practically nothing as the current school year is finally meeting its well-deserved and timely end. The track team has completed its schedule, closing with a fine 6-1 mark. The golf and tennis teams are through for the year, while the baseball season is coming down to the wire. The Eastern nine, after dropping five consecutive contests, bounced back to capture six of the next seven. The slate now stands even at 6-6. The latest conquest was a 10-5 victory over the Wildcats of UK at Lexington. Tom Goodwin started on the mound for Eastern, but it was John Sebest who came in to register the win in relief.

Jim Patton, 5'10", 210 pound tackle from Lexington, has been elected captain of the 1958 Maroon football squad. Joltin' Jim has played three years of varsity ball, earning three letters. The Maroon gridders will lose the services of ten men through graduation. They are Tom Schulte, Theron "Sonny" White, Eddie Bass, John Sebest, Chuck Bell, Paul Thomas, Roy Hartman, Jack Rodgers, Ralph Consiglio, and Buddy Wallin. The basketball team, not hit quite so hard, will lose Jim Kiser and Virgil Butler.

"Eyebrow Raisers" of the week are Clayton Stivers and Tony Harris, who are both members of the Eastern track team. Stivers set a new record in the high jump at the OVC meet when he leaped six feet, four inches. The conference title was won by Murray who nosed out the second-place Maroons by twelve points. Harris, freshman from Barbourville, broke the record in the low hurdles at Morehead. Tony shaved seven-tenths seconds off the old mark with a time of 26.2.

Carl Cole, freshman basketball star from Cincinnati, averaged 22 points a game and connected on 54 per cent of his shots. Not only did Carl pace the freshman hoopsters in scoring, but he also led the way scholastically. He achieved the highest grade made in the entire freshman class in the classification test at the beginning of the year.

Vernon Hatton, backcourt wizard of the National Champion Kentucky Wildcats has signed to play with the Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball association. Hatton will join ex-Kentucky stars Cliff Hagan and Frank Ramsey in the professional ranks. Hatton should prove to be one of the outstanding rookies in the league. He will doubtless see plenty of action as the Royals are reputedly weak at the guard posts.

Of the current crop of major league baseball players, only four hail from the Bluegrass State. They are Eddie Haas from Paducah of the Milwaukee Braves, Pee Wee Reese from Ekron of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Jim Bunning from Southgate of the Detroit Tigers, and Gus Bell from Louisville of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

As this is our last issue of the year, the sports staff of the "Eastern Progress" (Jim "Smiley" Williams, Gerald Lunford, and Clyde "Beans" Barnes, etc.) wishes everybody good luck on their exams and in their efforts to return to Eastern next year. Till then.

THINLIES FINISH SEASON; PLACE IN OVC TOURNEY

Murray State College scored 481 3/4 points to take the Ohio Valley Conference track meet last weekend. The Eastern track team finished a close second with a total of 361 3/4 points.

Four new records were set and two of them were by Stivers and Knight of Eastern.

Records were set in the discus when Murray's John Daniels made a 139' 8" toss to better Don Hartman, Eastern; in the high jump by Stivers of Eastern at 6-4 1/2 which broke the 6-3 record by Ken Thompson of Morehead; in the shot put when Eastern's Earl Knight bettered his own record of 47-3 3/4 with a heave of 47-9, and in the pole vault when Murray's Joe Voyles and Tech's Robert Inman both cleared 12-7 to better the old record of 12-6 1/2 held by John Brooks of Murray. The Eastern thinlies kept up to their standard in track though they surprised quite a few people when they went to the meet. As you know, Eastern has a fairly young track team and some people in the other schools weren't expecting too much from them, but the boys made a very fine showing and came in a good second.

Coach Darling said, "I am very proud of the boys for the fine showing that they have done this year and I am looking for a fine season next year."

Athletes Honored At Annual Dinner

The Annual Sports Banquet honoring members of the baseball, football, basketball, golf, rifle, swimming, tennis and track teams was held last week in the Cafeteria of the Student Union. Approximately 200 persons heard guest speaker Tommy Bell, a well known basketball and football official and young attorney of Lexington, stress two points in his speech. First he said that a person should have faith in him self, and secondly he said every athlete should ask himself the question, "did I do my best?" Mr. Bell also stressed the point of "It's not whether you win or lose but how well you played the game." He had praises for the coaching staff at Eastern and said everyone associated with Eastern should feel honored to have such a fine coaching staff.

During the course of the evening, at which Mr. C. T. Hughes, athletic director, served as toastmaster, he introduced the individual coaches and they introduced the members of their respective teams. Head Football Coach, Glenn Presnell, announced that the members of the football team had voted on a captain for the coming season and had elected tackle, Jim Patton, a product of Lexington Lafayette.

Closing the banquet, President W. F. O'Donnell said he was very proud of every one of the athletes and he praised the coaches very highly. The coaches include: football, Glenn Presnell; basketball, Paul McBrayer; track, Fred Darling; baseball, C. T. Hughes; golf, Glenn Presnell; swimming, Donald Combs; tennis, John Cooper; and rifle, Paul Jouve.

Boys State Set For EKSC Campus

Approximately 300 high school boys will be on Eastern's campus for Bluegrass Boys State, June 8-14.

Summer Session, originally scheduled to begin June 11 has been moved back to June 16, so that the boys may have full use of the dormitories and other facilities.

Boys State is an annual event sponsored by the American Legion to promote interest in politics and government. The boys are chosen on the basis of scholarship, character, personality, and good citizenship, and are in their junior year in high school.

Question

Why aren't there enough sheets for to go around in the boys' dorms? Is someone tearing them up to be used for dust rags? Are they being split and hemmed to be used as curtains? Have any old Romans claimed them for togas? Or is there just a bottleneck somewhere that is preventing them from coming through? If the latter is true, would you mind getting out of the way long enough to let the sheets come through for graduation week. Parents will be coming to pick up sons, and dirty sheets will make a filthy impression.

CLUB NEWS

The first meeting of the new members of Omicron Kappa Alpha, Junior-Senior Men's Honorary, was held on May 12. For better organization of the society next year, officers were elected. The officers of OAKS for 1958-59 are as follows: President, Gus L. Franklin; vice president, James Rolf; secretary, Estel M. Hobbs; treasurer, Ben Flora.

Dr. Harry Zimmaek, a member of Eastern's Biology Department, was chosen by the members to sponsor the organization through the coming year.

Newly elected officers for the KYMA Club are: President, Jim Day; vice president, Stan Bradbury; treasurer, Nancy Hammons; secretary, Pat Jones; tryout manager, Sharon Frazier.

For the uninitiated, KYMA is taken from Kentucky Maroons, and is the pep club for all sports events at Eastern.
