Volume 38, Number 16

Lexington Symphony To Present Concert Wednesday Night; Eastern Graduate To Be Featured Soloist

The Lexington Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Erik Kahlon, will present a concert at the Brook Auditorium on Wednesday night, February 22.

The works to be performed are Bruch's "Violin Concerto No. 1, in G Minor," in which Miss Mary Jo Leeds will be violin soloist; Beethoven's "Egmont Overture," and Franck's only symphony.

Miss Mary Jo Leeds will perform as violin soloist. Formerly a member of the Cincinnati Symphony, she has been concertmistress to the Lexington orchestra since it was created four years ago. A graduate of Eastern, Miss Leeds received her master's degree from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music.

Miss Leeds will be playing an authentic Guarnerius violin. These instruments, made by Giuseppe Guarneri of Italy, are famous for their tonal quality. Guarneri's was second only to Stradivari among all makers of the instrument.

The orchestra has been engaged by Columbia Artists, Inc., for performance on its regular Community Concert series. The Orchestra is in its fourth season.

Student admission will be by I. D. Cards.

MARY JO LEEDS

Vocational Conf. Set For Apr. 11-14; Chairmen Named

The Dean of Women, Mrs. Emma Y. Case, met with the group of students Wednesday night who will plan the bi-annual Eastern Vocational Conference.

The 1961 conference will be held on the 11th, 12th, 13th, and 14th of April. The committee that met Wednesday will be in charge of laying the ground work for the conference and obtaining members to serve on the standing committees.

John Anderson, a senior physics major, and Arlene Hattan, a senior elementary major, were elected general co-chairmen for the conference.

Don Axson, senior commerce major and Diane Munson, a junior education major, were appointed program chairmen. The program committee is one of the vital committees of the conference. It is responsible for most of the student participation.

Other committee chairmen are: Jimmy Jefferson and Norma Schmidt, chairmen of Pamphlets and Exhibitions; Don Stivers and Judy Kendle, chairmen of Hospitality; Jim Pearce and John Prall, Posters; Barbara Sammons and Nancy Campbell, Coffee Hour committee; Ronnie Elliot and Judy Peters, General Information; and Bill Baber and Susan Congleton, finance committee.

The planning committee represented all four classes, the presidents of all men's and women's organizations, the student council and the student newspaper.

The vocational conference is held every two years in order to acquaint ESC students with prospects of their chosen careers. Leaders in the fields of law, medicine, education, business, religion, home management, social work etc., are invited to visit the campus and address groups of students who are interested in recent developments in the fields in which the speakers are prominent.

Maroons Defeat Western; Martin Dismisses Friday Afternoon Classes: Cole Breaks Three Scoring Marks

WESTERN'S BURIED. These students led by "Diddle O'Dell" alias Barry Brennan offer their opinion as to where Western should be. The Maroons obliged and put Western in the coffin to the tune of a 81-72 victory. See sports page for game story.

Responding to last Monday night's victory over Western and chants of "We Want a Holiday!" from the triumphant Eastern student body, President Martin cancelled Friday afternoon classes and was widely cheered by the three thousand plus milling students.

The Western game was the climax of a victorious four game stand that saw Tom Tech, Murray, and 10th rated Louisville fall by the wayside. The victory, giving the Hilltoppers their first OVC setback, was essential to keep alive Eastern's hopes of the OVC Championship and NCAA bid.

Western entering the game 7-0 in OVC play is now in much the same position as was Eastern at this point in last season's schedule. The Hilltoppers must now play five OVC games on the road, including contests with Murray and Morehead. If Western loses just one of these games and the Maroons win their remaining ones, a tie and a playoff will result.

Eastern Tied For Second
McBrayer's Maroons are now tied for second place in the OVC with Morehead. If Morehead should defeat the Maroons at Morehead and Western lose two games, a three way playoff could result.

The game was marked with the usual instances of high spirited Eastern-Western rivalry. The overflowing crowd piled into the Health Building an hour before game time and were chanting anti Western-Diddle yells.

A group of students put on a pre-game skit which portrayed a mock funeral with a coffin symbolizing Western. From the number of red towels being waved, the Richmond merchants experienced their usual run on Ed Diddle's favorite colored towel.

Cole Stages Comeback
The play of All-American candidate Carl Cole was tremendous. Sinking 9 of 21 field goals and 16 of 17 free throws, Cole scored 34 points—his career high. He also established a new Eastern all time record of 14 consecutive free throws in a single game and advanced to number four position among the college's all time scorers. His 1,006 points is only shy of the three year total of Larry Wood, the third top scorer.

Coach McBrayer credited Wierwille as playing "the greatest game of his career. I don't know what we'd have done without him."

DEADLINE SET FOR BELLES LETTRES

Elizabeth Shaw, editor, has announced that March 15 will be the deadline for material for this year's Belles Lettres.

Belles Lettres is a collection of original student writings published every spring by the Canterbury Club.

Short stories, one-act plays, poems and essays are the four types of writings that are used in the publication.

Any student who wishes to submit a composition for consideration can see any member of the English faculty.

The Canterbury Club has voted to expand Belles Lettres in order to improve the book. The price will be one dollar.

NEW HEATING SYSTEM TO BE INSTALLED THIS SPRING

In the very near future, Eastern will have a completely new heating system. This system will be designed for efficiency and for beautifying the campus. The installation of this new heating system will be in three phases.

First, a new steam boiler and heating plant will be made available plus new modern coal handling equipment. The new boiler will develop as much steam as both of the college's older boilers, and will generate 47,000 lbs. of steam per hour, which will be sufficient to take care any expansion for many years to come. This new boiler will be the first step in giving Eastern cleaner and purer air. It will have a modern dust collection system which will remove 80 to 90 per cent to the fly ash, which is normally discharged from the stack and falls on a wide area around the campus.

The second step which will also give the campus cleaner air will be completed by spring. This step includes the installation of gas water heaters in the various buildings, and a small gas operated boiler to supply the needs of the cafeteria. This project will enable the power plant to shut down in May and not start up again until September. This improvement will mean a considerable saving to the college in the cost of operation, plus a cleaner campus and surrounding area.

The third step concerns the installation of larger steam pipes across the campus to take care of the greater amounts of steam produced by the new boiler. The new system will be able to supply heat to the new dormitories now under construction and to any others which may be built in the future.

FACULTY ROUND TABLE TO HAVE OPENING SESSION TONIGHT

The joint program of the Faculty Round Table and Student Discussion will meet for its opening session tonight at 7:00 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

Mr. Kerney Adams, chairman of the division of social sciences will be the speaker and discussion leader. His topic will be "The Challenge To The Teaching Profession: Conditions which Threaten Academic Integrity."

The theme for the spring semester is to be "The Teacher In A World of Uncertainty." The discussions shall deal with student-teacher relationships and the nature of a teacher's duty.

FRANK WHALEN

WHALEN CHOSEN AS SWEETHEART KING

Frank Whalen, senior chemistry major from Paris, Kentucky, was crowned King of Sweethearts at last Friday's annual Sweetheart Ball. Members of his court were Harvey Turner and Evelyn Craft and Jimmy Jefferson and Carol Brown.

Frank is active in campus activities, being president of Caduceus Club, and treasurer of the OAK's, the Senior Class, and the Biology Club. He was chosen as a member of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Frank is a pre-med student and plans to enter medical school this September.

The dance was sponsored by Collegiate Pentacle.

National Defense Loan Plan Provides Aid To 262 Students

Loans totaling $62,568 have been given this semester in connection with the National Defense Student Loan plan. Two hundred sixty-two students — seventy-one freshmen, fifty-two sophomores, forty-four juniors, eighty-two seniors and thirteen graduate students — are attending Eastern on defense loans.

$5,000 may be borrowed during a student's college career. A maximum of $500 per semester may be applied for. The average amount applied for at Eastern is between $250 and $500 but loans above and below the average are not uncommon.

Eastern College requests $20 for every full time student as a basis for the amount of funds to be received from the government.

Scholastic potential and need are the determining factors concerning the loans. Those students who plan to be teachers also receive preference.

Since this is a loan program, the funds must be paid back. After the loan is discontinued there is a one year period of grace before interest begins to accumulate.

HECKROTTE DISCUSSES AQUATIC BIOLOGY

Dr. Carlton Heckrotte of Eastern's biology faculty described the work in the aquatic biology section of graduate work at the University of Illinois at the Biology Club meeting, Thursday, February 9. Slides were shown on the methods and importance of studying the life in small bodies of water.

Business discussed was a club project, bulletin boards, and a spring outing. Sue Campbell, Jerilee Jackson and Elmer Mullins were appointed to make the plans for this biology field day.

A new semester is beginning and any biology major or minor may join in the fun of learning and playing together if he has a C in his biology course and a 1.0 standing overall.

Former Custodian Seriously Ill

Hazel Warford, beloved custodian of the Weaver Health Building, is reported in serious condition at the Patten W. Clay Hospital in Richmond. He underwent a delicate operation in September and, after being released for a short time, suffered a relapse. Hazel, who has served Eastern since 1930, when he first came here as a construction worker during the erection of the Health Building, remained as the custodian and has been here since.

Any Eastern student, or alumnus, who has known Hazel and would like to contribute toward helping to pay a large hospital bill may send their contributions to: Box 561, Richmond, or on-campus students may leave contributions with athletic director, Charles T. Hughes.

U.K. PROF. SAYS CONSTITUTION WAS BEATEN BY POLITICS

Last November's referendum to call a constitutional convention in Kentucky was killed by political criticism of the administration as by ignorance, misunderstanding, and apathy about the convention, according to a University political scientist.

Dr. Malcolm E. Jewell, assistant professor of political science, writing in the January issue of "Review of Government," summarizing the defeat by saying, "Education in government is a slow process. The lesson of the 1960 referendum is that a public climate of understanding about Kentucky's constitutional problems can be achieved only by gradual and persistent effort."

Analyzing the referendum vote in the publication issued by the UK Bureau of Government Research. Dr. Jewell said that contrary to the expectation of many, the convention did only slightly better in urban than in rural counties.

There is evidence based on post-election sampling by Dr. Jewell that the convention did poorly in lower income urban areas. Noting its defeat in Jefferson, Campbell, and Kenton counties, the professor said there are sizeable low-income areas in those three urban counties.

As to apathy, there were 457, 184 voters who marked the ballot for president but ignored the question of the convention, Dr. Jewell said.

"If only 4 percent of these per-

A HARBINGER OF SPRING hit the campus this week as a reversal in the usual high and low pressure centers sent temperatures soaring above the 50° mark. The ravine was once again the fashionable place to sit and talk, while cries of "To The Beach" were echoing across the campus. The warming trend is expected to last through the weekend with rain as a good probability. —Photo by Dan Webster

A SIGNIFICANT MOVE

Two weeks ago an incident took place on the campus that can have far reaching effects. The Pershing Rifles, a quasi socio-military organization, were allowed to move into the Lancaster House. No doubt the administration will say that we are trying to read too much into the move, but it is impossible to deny that the P. R.'s regard the new situation as fraternal in nature.

In the past, there have been attempts on the part of men students at social living but all have failed for a variety of reasons—usually inexperience and lack of discipline. However, we believe that the P. R.'s will not have this trouble and we are glad such a dependable group were chosen for this experiment.

Thus we now come to the real issue involved—Why not have social fraternities and sororities? It has always been the policy of previous Eastern administrators to oppose such organizations as being snobbish, not suitable for our campus, etc. We do not know President Martin's ideas on the subject, but let's examine the situation.

The social life at Eastern is not extensive; it is centered primarily around a local restaurant. Fraternities and sororities would fill in this gap and help to keep students on campus over the weekend.

The presence of fraternities and sororities on the campus would also be an added incentive to prospective students, since both Western and Murray can offer them such organizations.

Fraternal organizations are also great builders of character. Senator Barry Goldwater calls them "America's greatest defense against Communism."

It is true that fraternities are supposed to be on the decline nationally but we still feel that they can serve a definite and useful function for Eastern.

The Progress would welcome opinions on the subject from students, faculty, and administration, as to the pros and cons of fraternities and sororities.

A THREATENING DECISION

Living on a college campus, we often tend to let the outside world pass us by, but sooner or later we must wake up to certain facts, and today basic American civil liberties are being threatened.

The Supreme Court recently confirmed by a 5-4 decision the right of cities to establish and operate motion picture censorship boards. By this decision, the Court has suggested that a small group of people—without voter approval—can decide what is moral, decent, and fit for consumption for their fellow citizens to see.

Everyone will agree that moral standards of pictures should be governed by a code of decency but such a code should be sponsored by the movie industry. Then if the motion picture standards of decency are too lax (as many think them to be), the most effective censorship would be public refusal of patronage.

Certainly a small body of untrained adults acting as censors should not be able to determine the morals of their fellow adults who are equally mature and able to judge for themselves right from wrong and moral from immoral.

But even more threatening than the decision itself is the possibility that similar Court endorsed censorship rights might eventually be extended to govern the vast communication media of radio, television, and possibly even newspapers and magazines thus violating our constitutionally guaranteed rights of freedom of speech and freedom of the press. There is a strong movement to have the Bill of Rights amended to specifically guarantee freedom of the movies and television, and we certainly endorse such actions.

Ours should be a government that recognizes and respects the individuality and integrity of its citizens, not a government of control and censorship.

ADVICE NO ONE WILL TAKE

Don't attempt to hide behind the potted plants in the lobby of Burnam Hall, or you'll learn from experience that they bite. Don't take ornithology. It's for the birds.

Never try practicing what you preach, or you won't have any time left to have fun.

Dormitory life's one of the most influential forces in your college life. Try not to let your studies interfere with it.

Remember, when you consider taking Biology, that though there is more than one way to skin a cat, all the methods are messy.

Never tell anyone that you have an "open" mind. They will think you mean "empty."

Don't get angry when, while hunting a parking space, you find cars cleverly parked to take up twice their normal space. Warm weather will soon alleviate the campus parking problem (and create one instead at the beach.)

Join the Progress staff and see the whirl.

The college should line the walls of the rest rooms with black boards and furnish chalk. This would be a great convenience to the overworked janitors and to artistically talented, literary minded vandals.

VIEWS ON THE NEWS

by Marian Bazzzy

The world awaits the end of the story of Hammarskjold versus the strength of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. With the dawning of a new week came the death of Patrice Lumumba and disorder within the United Nations. Patrice Lumumba was a pro-Communist patriot who was ousted by the forces of the present President Kasavubu. Kasavubu represents the West in the Congo and the United Nations sought to maintain his new regime by force and world recognition of his rule. Now the United Nations is on the verge of public something or other; Russia demands the removal of Dag Hammarskjold while the United States stands staunchly behind him—who will win?

With the revolt led by Kasavubu and his militia leader, Maj. General Mobutu, the world focused on the Congo. Discord in the U. N. appeared with opposite stands of Russia and the United States. On Wednesday, February 15, wild disorder broke out in the United Nations as the Security Council publicly debated a motion for the removal of Secretary-General Hammarskjold. Ten Negroes rushed down the aisles with shouts of "Viva Lumumba." The presiding officer, Sir Patrick Dean, of England, recessed the meeting until guards could remove the disturbances.

Someone will lose face by the acceptance or rejection of the Soviet motion. Russia holds the Secretary-General responsible for Lumumba's death; Russia says his death was an act of the capitalists; the world searches for the truth; Congolese officials say his death was unpremeditated and an act of villagers as Lumumba escaped prison. When will the truth be known? Mourners of Lumumba demand revenge and retribution. Meanwhile the West watches the United Nations seek the truth—the nations of the world will undoubtedly sway to the right! Idealism and optimism are at almost lost. Russia has a strong, emotional stand which cannot be covered or removed by any flowery, logical speeches from the West. Why must this situation exist? Is it real or make-believe? Lumumba is dead; that's it.

In Cairo and other cities of the world demonstrations rage against the United States, British and Belgian Embassies. Does this mean that most of the world stands behind Russia? Or, are the people reacting by orders from headquarters? Is the world trend away from the West? Due to the lack of answers and the prevalence of questions, best raise your head with a patriotic stand. I wait and watch for the answers of the world. Maybe we won't have time to learn Russian after all.

ENGLISH DEPT. OFFERS VARIETY OF COURSES AND ACTIVITIES

by Ronnie Wolfe

It is a well-known fact that a great many Americans have many difficulties in using their native language and certainly no one is more aware of this fact than the English faculty at Eastern.

Since many high schools do not stress the importance of using the English language skillfully, the colleges usually are blamed for the sub-standard English work of the students. However, on Eastern's campus the standards in English are being raised for the 2200 students who are enrolled in the various English classes and the 170 who are working toward majors or minors in English.

Housed in Roark, the English department is experiencing crowded conditions at the present time. When other buildings on the campus are completed, some of the English classes will be moved out of Roark.

As it stands, the English department now offers work for an area in English, a minor in English, a second major in English, a minor in English, a minor in drama, and a minor in speech. Additional drama courses are to be added at a later date. Thirty-three hours of English are offered in lower-division courses while sixty hours are reserved for the upperclassmen. Twelve hours in graduate courses are also offered. Some of these English courses are offered as general education courses, English 101, 102, 211, and 122 are such courses.

With this curriculum, these instructors, and adequate training, students who major in English have many fields open to them. Advertising, civil service, personnel work, public relations, radio, various types of writing, sales work, and secretarial work are only a few. The records show that the English department at Eastern is trying to give the students the necessary training to be successful in these fields.

In rounding out its work, the English department sponsors many additional activities on the campus. Little Theatre productions, debates, and special speech and dramatic events are some of these. However, the most popular is the Canterbury Club which is composed of students interested in English work. These students edit and publish Belles Lettres, a publication of poems, stories, essays, and other writings by Eastern students. In doing so, the English department strives to provide the type of training, instruction, and activities that will lead to proficiency in the students' chosen professions and to a meaningful and satisfying life on a significant cultural level.

A MAN WITH A DREAM

by Alice Kennely Roberts
 (Dr. Jonathan T. Dorris, retired history professor, Eastern Ky. State College, Richmond, Ky.)

He used to stand before his class
 And say, "Each student has a debt,
 Something his heart must not forget.
 Whence comes the knowledge that we seek?
 Who gathered it together here?
 Does it not make our debt more plain,
 Our task more visible and clear?"
 And then his eyes would glance away,
 Envisioning his favorite theme:
 A college building meant to house
 Help us to save historic lore!
 "Send back the things your hearts would keep,
 Help us to save historic lore!"
 This was his plea to many groups,
 And now time proves the fruit it bore,
 His name will live, his portrait stand;
 A plaque will tell the wondrous tale
 Of how the Eastern museum grew:
 The "Dorris Dream"—which did not fail!

Note: The poem was copied from the Cincinnati Enquirer. I had Mrs. Roberts in classes some twenty years ago. She was Alice Elizabeth Kennely then, and Mrs. Roberts was on the staff of the Covington, Kentucky, high school for many years and a contributor to the Enquirer almost as long. She has published three volumes of poetry and is now death of girls in one of Cincinnati's largest high schools.—J. T. D.

Vietnamese Students Hope To Aid Their Country's Educational System

Mr. Tuyen and Giane are examples of the way in which the college students of foreign countries are working to improve conditions in their home lands.

These two young men were born in remote villages in the hill country of South Vietnam. They were both educated in small village schools before going away to the University of Saigon where they studied to be teachers.

They went back to their villages and began to work for the improvement of their small and new republic.

When Tuyen and Giane were young the French controlled the government of their country. In 1954 the Red Chinese invaded and drove the French out of the Northern section of the country. Under the terms of a peace treaty a referendum was held and the French left the country as a result.

The were on their own now and they looked to their greatest resource, the young people. College students, to help mold the future. Tuyen and Mr. Giane have come to the United States. The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare is sponsoring their stay in this country so that they can study educational methods that are used in America.

Both young men see many differences in Vietnam. The most noticeable one for them was the weather. Vietnam has an average temperature of 94°. When they arrived in Richmond msnw covered the ground and the temperature was 16°.

Tuyen explained in an interview with a Progress reporter that there are only two large religious groups in Vietnam—Catholics and Buddhists. Mr. Giane is a practicing Buddhist. Mr. Tuyen has not made up his mind but leans towards Buddhism.

Tuyen also told our reporter that he felt Vietnam was pro-western and that the people living under the communist government were unhappy. He bases his conclusions on the large number of refugees that flee into South Vietnam and from the South of

MAROON ROUND-UP

With LARRY KNARR

EASTERN IMPROVES NCAA CHANCES

The Eastern Maroons successfully completed a four game home stand suffering a nearly disastrous road defeat at the coal-smear hands of the OVC's dwellers, Tennessee Tech.

Tennessee Tech, Louisville, Murray, and Western Kentucky all made visits to the Weaver Gym, which proved anything but beneficial to them. Eastern chomped them up, spit them out, and labelled them Consecutive Home Court Victims Numbers 30, 31, 32, and 33.

All but the Murray game were especially sweet victories for the Maroons, who gained a measure of revenge for three of this season's losses.

In order for the Maroons to represent the O. V. C. in the NCAA tournament this year, they must score wins over East Tennessee and Morehead. The East Tennessee game to be played Friday night at Johnson City will be a rough one as will the Morehead at Morehead game of February 28. On March 4, we play Morehead at home in the final game of the regular season.

Not only must we take these three games, but Western must lose to either Murray or Morehead or both, who they have yet to play on hostile hardwood. Western won close victories over both teams at Bowling Green.

So a loss in one of these games would give Eastern a play-off chance and the loss of both would give us the title as long as we swept our final three games.

MUELLER-WEEK IMPRESS

A couple of 6'5" sophomore forwards, Jim Werk and Russ Mueller, have showed very much promise in the limited action they have seen so far this season.

This points to the fact that the Maroons will be strong up front again next year with Big Ralph Richardson and Ronnie Pickett in the pivot and Ray Gardner back at one of the forward posts.

Big problem so far is a running mate for Larry Parks at guard. Your guess is as good as mine, but it looks to me like the Maroons will win a lot of games again next season.

COLE MAKES COMEBACK

Eastern's fine All-America prospect, Carl Cole, hit a mid-season slump and didn't score 20 points for five straight games after hitting a season high of 32 against Murray at Murray.

Carl hit rock-bottom here against the University of Louisville Cardinals when he hit 3 of 16 shots and was held to 9 points. In his last two outings, Carl has picked up and started anew.

He hit for 20 points against Murray and then came back to notch a career high of 34 points against arch-rival Western. Carl canned 16 of 17 free throws in this game, which was won by the top-notch play of himself and pivot man Roland Wierwille. These two boys offset a sub-par performance by the rest of the team and enabled the Maroons to move into contention for the league championship.

Cole not only scored a hatful of points, but he also sparkled on defense. Guarding Western star Bobby Rascoe, who was hitting over 50 per cent for the season, Cole held the 6'4" junior to three field goals in thirteen attempts and just 12 points.

It was a great night for Carl, perhaps his greatest! EASTERN'S SECRET WEAPON

Roland Wierwille is one of those basketball players whose mere presence in the game is enough to inspire his team to greater things.

Roland fights his heart out every second. He gives his all and he complains to the referees quite frequently because five fouls put you on the bench, and that is one place Roland has no desire to be.

Roland always comes up with a key rebound, a key steal, or a key basket when it is needed most. He is a true pressure ball-player, who thrives on rugged competition.

He is respected highly by his team-mates and surely by his opponents. He is a helluva ball-player and a helluva nice guy, and we're sure glad he's on our side. A tip of the Maroon sombrero to Roland Wierwille, All-America for desire and sheer guts.

ALMOST EXTINCT

It's a pleasant surprise to see that there are a few halfway decent basketball officials still around. Stan Orzech, who called the Eastern-Western game, did a very nice job in our opinion, although the same can hardly be said for his co-worker.

Orzech is a very colorful sort of a ref who gets a kick out of re-demonstrating the foul by a variety of twists and turns of his own. He is a show-boat, but the crowd seems to eat it up. Hats off to a disappearing member of the human species, the competent referee!

ESC Baseballers Book 20 Games

Opener Is Set For March 29

Baseball Coach Charles "Turkey" Hughes has announced an ambitious 12 game schedule for his Eastern Kentucky Maroons, defending Ohio Valley Conference champions.

Included in the program are four doubleheaders, two each with East Tennessee and Morehead, the teams that, along with the Maroons, make up the eastern division of the OVC under the new setup.

In recent years, each team in the seven-member loop met the other teams at least once, with one game counting toward the championship. This year will mark the first championship playoff between the eastern and western divisions since 1954.

The western division is composed of Western, Murray, Middle Tennessee and Tennessee Tech. The playoffs are slated for May 19 and 20 at the western division site.

Indiana First Foe

The Maroons open the season with a two day home stand against Indiana University. Other non-conference opponents on the schedule include Millikin University, Hillsdale (Michigan) College, University of Kentucky, Carson-Newman, Louisville, Centre, and Berea. Two games are carded with every team except Hillsdale and Carson-Newman.

Coach Hughes had issued a call for practice for next Wednesday. Early sessions will consist of indoor conditioning and fundamentals.

Twelve lettermen, including the leading hurler, Ken Pigg (6-1), and five of the leading seven hitters from the 1960 championship team that finished with an 11-6-2 mark. Other lettermen infielders, Carter Brandenburg, 381, Heber Dunaway, 297, and Ted Onkat, 263; outfielders Bill Curry, 313, Bill Goedde, 298, and Jim Bell, 250; catcher Charles Hayslip, 93, and pitchers Pigg and Earl Campbell (2-1).

Two lettermen, infielder Bobby Mills and pitcher Ron Morgan, are not in school this year, and two lettermen, shortstop Shannon Johnson and catcher John Draud, were graduated last year. Raymond Ross, a lettermen, is ineligible.

The schedule: March 29, Indiana, home; 30, Indiana, home; April 1, Millikin University, home; 4, Hillsdale, home; 12, U. of K., away; 14, Carson-Newman, away; 15, *East Tennessee, away; 22, *Morehead, home; 25, U. of K., home; 28, U. of L., away; May 1, Centre, home; 5, *East Tennessee, home; 8, Centre, away; 13, *Morehead, away; 19-20, playoff with Western division winner; 25, U. of L., home; 27, Berea, home. * Doubleheader.

Eastern Blitzes Murray 110 - 77; Hand Hilltoppers First OVC Setback

The fired-up Eastern Maroons waltzed past a steered Murray quintet 110-77 to move into a second-place O.V.C. tie with Morehead. The Maroons, flying over the century mark for the first time this season, hitting a sizzling 50 per cent of their shots.

The ball game was a close one until the Maroons pulled away in the closing minutes of the first half. The Maroons held a 26-24 lead with 7:57 remaining in the first stanza, but quickly zoomed to a half-time lead of 55-37 on the hot-shooting of Carl Cole, Phil Estep, and Roland Wierwille. Murray was held to only three field goals during this time.

Murray came back a bit in the second half with Jarrell Graham hitting for nine points and pulled within twelve, 68-56, with 13:40 to go. This was the closest the Racers got in the second half. The Maroons, sparked by Larry Parks, scored seven straight points and kept pulling away from that point on.

With 8:48 left in the ballgame, Jack Upchurch made a steal, scored the layup, and the Maroons led 89-64. A tip-in by Upchurch with 3:52 remaining gave the Maroons a 101-71 lead. Russ Mueller's 20 foot jumper with 7 seconds to go gave the Maroons their 110-77 win.

Eastern won the battle of the boards, outrebounding the rangey Breds by the alarming count of 73-34. Murray, averaging 51.7 rebounds per game, was held to 14 in the first half by the aggressive Maroons. Ralph Richardson bagged 14 rebounds to lead Eastern, while Wierwille grabbed 12 and Ray Gardner picked off 10. Jarrell Graham, with 6 rebounds, paced Murray.

Eastern hit 46 of 92 field goal attempts for a red hot 50 per cent. Murray was good on 42.9 per cent of their shots. Eastern committed but 7 floor errors; Murray had 12. Each team was called for 24 personal although Murray had the edge on free throws 23-18.

Carl Cole, Eastern's leading scorer, who had been in the throes of a slump, celebrated a return to form with 20 points and scoring honors for the night. Close behind were Upchurch with 19 and Estep with 18. Other Maroons scoring in double figures were Larry Parks, 13, and Ray Gardner, 11.

Graham paced Murray with 14 markers.

For the Maroons it was Consecutive Home Court Victory number 32. For Coach Paul McBrayer it was win number 206.

The Maroons of Eastern Kentucky, fast-breaking to their thirty-third successive home court win, revenged an earlier loss to the high-flying Western Hilltoppers, 81-72.

Roland Wierwille's lay-up after an assist by Eastern guard, Phil Estep, gave the Maroons a 2-0 lead with 18:57. A Western flurry, paced by Harry Todd, put the Toppers in front 8-2 for their longest lead of the game.

The Maroons came back to tie the score at 11-11, 13-13, and 21-21 before pulling away to a 39-26 bulge with 3:45. Three Eastern floor errors allowed Western to cut the lead to 41-35 at intermission.

Carl Cole and Roland Wierwille each tallied 12 points to lead Eastern in the first half. Bobby Jackson and Charlie Osborne paced the Hilltoppers with 9 apiece. Eastern hit a not-so-hot 38.1 per cent in the first half as mutually cold Western hit 35.7 per cent. Eastern had a 26-21 edge in rebounds while Western led in floor errors, 13-7.

Bobby Rascoe started off the second half by hitting a 20-foot pumper after only a second had ticked off, cutting Eastern's dwindling lead to 41-37. Six quick points by Cole and four by Wierwille gave the Maroons a 51-41 lead with 16:12.

The Hilltoppers, who were far from finished, pulled within one at 56-55 on Jackson's free-throw with 11:48. Again Eastern managed to pull away as Cole hit for six straight points, fouling Jackson out with 9:43 and an Eastern lead of 64-58.

Again Western pulled within two on fielders by Panny Sarakatsannis and Osborne, before Eastern finally pulled away for good. Carl Cole converted eight straight charity tosses in the final four and a half minutes as the Maroons pulled to within a half-game of the first-place Western quintet, by trouncing the Hilltoppers, 81-72.

Carl Cole was the big gun for the Maroons as he ripped the cords for 34 points, his career high. Cole hit 9 fielders and coolly dropped in 16 of 17 free throws. Roland Wierwille played his usual inspiring game and contributed 20 big points. Larry Parks scored 10. Osborne led the Hilltoppers with 22 points. He was followed by Jackson (14), Rascoe (12), Sarakatsannis (11), and Todd (10).

Eastern hit a coolish 34.6 per cent while Western hit 37.3 per cent. Each team grabbed 54 rebounds. Jack Upchurch with 12 grabs and Wierwille with 11 paced the Maroons. Harry Todd cleared 16 for Western.

The Maroons now stand 12-5 on the season and 7-2 in OVC play. Western is 15-5 and 7-1 respectively. It was win number 207 for Eastern Coach Paul McBrayer.

PLAYER(S) OF THE WEEK

TOO BIG A CHOICE—That's what Coach McBrayer must have said when he tried to pick this week's Player of the Week. These seven, Estep, Parks, Upchurch, Cole, Richardson, Gardner, and Wierwille were chosen because of the team's outstanding efforts against Louisville and Murray. A tip of the hat to the Maroons' starting seven.

sons had voted for the referendum it would have passed," he noted.

Concerning voting along administration lines, Dr. Jewell presented these figures: Of the 27 Republican counties (those who voted Republican in the 1959 gubernatorial election), 24 voted against the convention, 18 of them by margins of over 60 percent. Of the 43 counties which support former governor A. B. Chandler, 30 voted against it, 19 by margins of over 60 percent. Of the 27 counties voting more than 60 percent for the convention, only two were Republican, only four were Chandler counties, and 12 were Combs counties.

FASHION TIPS

New Knits Prove Fashionable For Spring

UNDOUBTEDLY A SEA CHANTY inspired this nautical blue double knit wool suit with a captain's jacket. It's double breasted with powder toned metal buttons, flap pockets, curved collar and reverses and three quarter sleeves. Fully lined too. Contrasting white edges the collar, jacket body and pockets. The slim skirt is seat lined. Also comes in pale yellow with white trim, beige with taupe and black with beige trim. Sizes 8 to 18, under thirty-five dollars. Black patent handbag under eight. Both J. C. Penney.

by Gretchen Wuederman

Good news for the feminine front...and back!

Until this season, the only females who could wear a knit suit were the starved creatures who stand at 45° angles and peer out from the pages of various fashion magazines. But now thanks to someone's realization that the rest of the female population partakes of food now and then, a new type of knit has been designed for girls who have been wary of wearing knit suits for fear of showing an over abundance or lack of poundage.

Here's what a New York fashion center says about the new look in the knits shown. Notice too that each suit is set off by strings of beads which are still listed high in fashion blue books.

Good design plus easy wearability have catapulted flat knits to a top position in spring suit and dress fashions. Many are double knit which means they are stronger and drape well without looking pasted on, thereby negating the necessity for a perfect figure. The design to help the average figure, too, since current fashion emphasizes a fluid line—easier loose or just lightly fitted. The waistline is often a hint rather than a statement.

The costume look, important for spring, is interpreted in two piece suits with companion over blouses. Jackets are mostly boxy and range from the waist to the hip, skirts are slim and sleeves vary from short to bracelet length.

Both soft and strong colors pervade the spring spectrum extending from string tones and creamy pastels rich hues somewhat darker than medium. Striped contrast is frequent, either as an integral element within the body design or as trim edging a jacket and pockets.

CREAMY BEIGE, important in spring fashion colors, adds to the subtle contrast of cocoa in a three piece ensemble of double knit worsted. The open front lined jacket has a rounded flat collar, low placed patch pockets and bracelet length sleeves, and is completely edged with cocoa self material except for the sleeves. The cocoa companion over blouse has a lowered jewel neckline and cap sleeves. The slim skirt is seat lined. Also comes in black with beige trim or lilac with amethyst trim. Sizes 10 to 18, under forty dollars. J. C. Penney.
