MUSIC COURSES HOLD EASTERN

Department of Music Has As Objects Stimulation of Interest in Work

ACTIVE ORGANIZATIONS

The department of music at Eastern Kentucky Teachers College is seeking as its principal objective to develop and stimulate a sentiment favorable to music in this state. How well this has been done may be judged by the large number of students that each year enroll in the music classes and organizations at the school.

During the past three years there has been an average of about twenty per cent of the total annual enrollment at the school that have been enrolled for the work in music. In the college classes are offered in music, for teachers of primary grades, upper grades, rural schools, music appreciation, chorus conducting, music appreciation for primary grades, theory of orchestral instruments, orchestra and band conducting, courses for Supervisors of Public School Music. In the normal department classes are offered in methods and materials, theory of music, recreational singing, chorus and community singing.

There are several active choral organizations at the school; among them are the Assembly Chorus, the Madrigal Club, the Male Quartet, and Ladies' Septette. The school orchestra of twenty-five pieces is made up of members of the classes in orchestra conducting and of those students who are studying instruments of the orchestra and band. Recently the department has added a number of school-owned instruments and these are available for use of the students free of cost; in addition free class instruction is given in the playing of these instruments.

For the past six years Wednesday Assembly period has been given over to music; community singing, programs of instrumental and vocal music, lectures on music appreciation have been given for the entire student body; in this way the department has been enabled to extend the work to reach all students. The addition of a large collection of Sims Song Slides have added considerably to the interest shown in community singing.

Private instruction is offered by the department in Piano, Voice Culture, and instruction in the playing of instruments is offered in classes; in this way the department is able to reach a large number of students who wish this type of instruction.

Miss Jane Campbell, A.B., is in charge of the orchestra and band work and the work in music in the training school; in addition she has charge of the classes for Supervisors of Public School Music. Miss Campbell has had extensive training for this type of work and has been very successful.

Miss Brown E. Telford conducts the music classes in the Normal department and teaches Piano. Miss Telford is not only a skillful teacher but is quite talented musically. She is a Pianist, a Harpist and plays the Pipe Organ; she also is much in demand as an Accompanist. Miss Telford has studied at the Cincinnati and New England Conservatories and is eminently fitted for her work.

John Orr Stewart, Jr., A.B., A.M., is head of the department of music; he has charge of all of the choral work of the school and conducts the community singing at the assembly periods; in addition Mr. Stewart is in charge of all of the college music classes. His preparation for this work was secured at the Cincinnati

NEW LABORATORY AT EASTERN

Above is a picture of one of the new laboratories that has been recently equipped at Eastern. The department compares favorably with others of the state and in most cases surpasses them. The locker space is commodious; new apparatus of the best type is on hand, enabling the student to acquire, by contact, scientific manipulation and accuracy. Two large rooms, one for beginning and one for advanced classes furnish ample space. These rooms are equipped with the best of laboratory tables, having on them direct and alternating current, water, gas, pressure, and vacuum. A dark room connected with the laboratory furnishes a place for interesting biological assays.

Kentucky Wesleyan Training School President Expires Gives a Program

Dr. D. C. Hull, president of Kentucky Wesleyan College for the past three years, died Wednesday night, April 4, after a lingering illness. A beautiful memorial service was held in the college chapel Thursday afternoon. Speakers representing the faculty, board of trustees, Methodist church, the citizens of Winchester and Clark county, and the student body paid splendid tribute to the memory of the deceased president.

The body was conveyed to Lexington at the head of a long procession of loved ones and friends, where it was placed on train enroute to Meridian, Miss. The funeral ceremony and interment took place at the latter city, the former home of Dr. and Mrs. Hull.

Dr. Hull had become quite well known in educational circles of the South prior to his coming to Kentucky Wesleyan, having been administrative head of Millsaps College and Mississippi A. & M. During the time he served as head of Kentucky Wesleyan, he endeared himself to the people of Kentucky by his splendid Christian character and intense earnestness on behalf of all that was right and worthwhile. A man of great energy and broad vision, he was fast becoming a well-nigh indispensable factor in the educational program of Kentucky, and in his passing there is a distinct loss not only to the college with which he was connected but to the religious and educational life of the southland.

College and Conservatory of Music. Mr. Stewart has also had post graduate study in Cincinnati and New York City and holds an Ohio life certificate in music. Mr. Stewart is a member of the K. M. T. A. and the National Music Supervisors Conference.

An interesting musical program was given at the Wednesday music day program by students from the Training School, April 11, 1928. The Harmonica Band composed of 15 children from the fifth grade played several favorite selections; vocal solos with Harmonica accompaniment were sung by Margaret Steele Zaring and Margaret Louise Culton. The Training School orchestra under the direction of Batson Mills also played several pleasing numbers.

The following are members of the Harmonica Band: George Evans, John Edgar Snodgrass, J. D. White, Paul Fife, Jake McCord, Murray Smith, Caperton Burnam, Henrietta Cosby, Margaret Louise Culton, Margaret Steele Zaring, Mildred Abrams, Jane Case, Ernest Kearns, T. J. Black, James Clyde Whitaker. The latter contributed several solos for the Harmonica which were well received.

Members of the orchestra are, Robert Terrill, Morris Barnes, Hazel Bond, Violins, R. E. Baker, Harold Berthold, Cornets, Mamie Hamilton, Piano, Stephen Edwards, Bass Drum, John Stewart, Snare Drum. The Harmonica Band is under the direction of Miss Jane Campbell who is in charge of all of the music work in the Training School.

FARQUAHR SPEAKS

On Thursday of last week E. F. Farquahr, University of Kentucky, gave a very delightful talk on "The Changing Order."

Mr. Farquahr's talk proved to be one of the best we have had in chapel this year. One was impressed with his enthusiastic belief that the change from the old beliefs and way of doing things to the present day method was beneficial and not harmful as some few want to believe. He gave much

EASTERN WINS AND LOSES ONE

Maroon Baseball Team Defeats Centre and Loses to Wesleyan

TEAM LOOKS GOOD

The Maroons of Eastern Teachers College opened their baseball season with a bang against the Colonels of Centre College on Monday, April 9, by slamming out a 4-1 victory. On Thursday of the same week they lost their first home game to the Panthers of Kentucky Wesleyan by a 5-2 count. The Colonel game started off with all the intentions of being a pitcher's battle. In the fourth inning, after striking out one man and making the second pop to first, Hatter walked Goings who scored on Purdon's hit. The count stood 1-0 against the Maroons until the seventh. Taylor hit safely and Lane was safe on a fumble by the first baseman. Then Hampton sacrificed, sending Taylor and Lane to third and second. W. Hatter came up and drove out a sharp single to score both men. In the next frame Raider got on when Thompson lost one and Moberly sent him to second with a nice bunt. Fryman was sent to bat for Pennington and rapped out a nice double to score Raider. Purdon allowed Taylor's boulder to get away from him and Fryman scored the fourth marker for the Maroons.

That ended the scoring. W. Hatter, the Maroon star portsider, had the Colonels at his mercy at all times. Although he walked six men he was able to bear down in the pinches and hold the Centre lads to two singles. He struck out fifteen men. Edwards pitched a good game for the Colonels, striking out eight men, but his mates

ENROLLMENT IN EASTERN BIG

Total Registration is Greater Than Ever Before at This Time of Year

TOTAL NOW IS 1,652

The Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College and Normal School at the present time has an enrollment of 1,280 students, according to figures released today by G. Marshall Brock, business agent of the school. Of this number 979 are full semester pupils for the second semester and 301 are new students registered last week at the spring term.

In addition to those in the college and normal departments 222 students are registered in the training school on the Eastern campus and 150 are enrolled in the two rural training schools at Kavanaugh and Green's Chapel, making a total of 1,652 students in the various departments of Eastern.

These figures reveal an increased enrollment in the college department and a decreased registration in the normal department as compared with last year. The total registration, however, is greater than ever before at this time of the year, according to Mr. Brock.

Cafeteria Food Prices Discussed

March 12, 1928.

Mr. G. M. Brock, Business Manager, Campus.

My dear Mr. Brock:

In behalf of the Open Forum Committee, I am submitting a report which is the result of a detailed investigation. We hope that you will give it your earliest consideration and write us your reaction. Because of numerous requests for a public statement concerning the findings of the study made, we think it advisable to publish the report in the Progress. We do not want to do this until it has been submitted to you.

As you know, the Open Forum is the organization on the campus to which each student, both Normal and College, automatically becomes a member. The Open Forum Committee is the official organ through which the student body may bring questions for discussion. We have found this an excellent substitute for impulsive petitions.

We are very glad that the student body feels it has a means through which it may work. Although it has meant much work on the part of the Committee, it has been a real pleasure to take up various problems which have been submitted,—for instance, the Red Cross Membership, chapel attendance, etc.

As the result of numerous and urgent requests made to the Open Forum Committee by representative students on the problem of prices in the Cafeteria, a detailed investigation was made. Please know that this study was made not until we felt there was no alternative.

The study was made entirely open-minded and free from any prejudices, because we wanted to get facts and not opinions or hearsay reactions. At no time were snap judgments made or impulsive opinions stated. We trust that you will accept the report in the spirit in which it is made and that the prices will be adjusted.

ORDER IN CHAPEL

The action of men and women after going out from college determine, to some extent, the public opinion of their Alma Mater. The action of students determine what visitors think of their school. Then, this being true, it behooves every student to do his or her best to make a favorable impression upon every one, not only for the good of the school but for his or her own good.

Order in chapel has been a source of embarrassment for several weeks. A number of students persist in talking, flipping paper and the like while some one is addressing the assembly. Still, many others insist on leaving as soon as the ten o'clock whistle has blown. This within itself is one of the greatest, if not the greatest, discourtesies that can be shown any speaker. Such order has caused some speakers to say that they will never attempt to address another student body at Eastern. Others have said that they have never seen such rude, non-respecting student body as we have here. Is that the kind of advertising we want? Is that sort of comment all we are able to get from an education?

Some one has suggested that those students that leave, before the speaker is through, are student teachers and have to be at the Training School at a given time. Granting that they are, there seems to be two ways out of the present difficulty. There should be one or more rows of seats reserved in the rear of the room for those that are doing student teaching in order that they might slip out, if it is necessary for them to go, without causing so much disorder. If it is not possible for such an arrangement then it seems the only alternative is for the student teacher to remain away from chapel.

Every speaker that comes to us has spent some time in preparation for the address that is to be delivered. In addition to that, he has graciously taken his time to come here and give us the best he has. For that reason, if no other, we should see to it that he has the best of attention in our assemblies. Eastern is growing by leaps and bounds. She is taking her place in the front ranks of the educational world along with the other great educational institutions of the state and south. She is to soon have two new buildings that will give her the necessary working equipment to place her where she rightfully belongs. Are the students advanced in proportion to accept the responsibility that is theirs in making for a great institution?

CAFE LOWERS PRICES

The Progress has commented on prices in the Cafe some several times in the past and various students have aired their beliefs before the Forum Committee. As a result of the wishes of the student body an investigation was conducted by the Forum Committee, the official representative committee of the student body, that extended over a period of weeks. Comparison in prices was made with many of the restaurants and stores in town. The conclusions drawn from the comparisons can be found in another part of this paper.

We express the voice of the student body when we say that the interest shown and the cooperation manifested by those having to do with the regulation of prices is greatly appreciated. It is thru such consideration on the part of the administration that a bigger and better Eastern will develop.

The administration has made it clear more than once they do not intend to make a profit from the students. That cost of operation and maintenance is all that is desired. The action of the business agent in regards to the report submitted to him and his effort to put the Cafe on a strictly scientific bookkeeping basis with all books pertaining to the Cafe being kept by one person, and over there instead of the business office, is ample evidence that ever effort is being made to give the students full service for their money. Such consideration is appreciated.

messed up a few that hurt when the Maroon lads got to him for a few safeties.

On Thursday the Panthers of Kentucky Wesleyan came to town and carried away the long end of a five to two count. The Maroons had hopes of taking the Panthers' measure to make up for the two wallopings handed them last year. For a long time it looked as if they would do that very thing. In the first frame the home boys were able to push over two markers on a hit and a couple of misplays. But the Wesleyan lads came back fighting in the third frame and scored twice on two hits and an error. From there on it turned out to be a regular pitcher's duel. Three hits and two sacrifices sent three markers across the plate in Wesleyan's half of the last frame to win the game. Patton pitched eight innings, allowing the visitors only three weak hits. After two men got on in the ninth he was yanked in favor of Line. He seemed to serve them up to suit the Panthers for right away they slapped out two hits to score twice.

LYCEUM NUMBER

The students of Eastern had a chance to see something new in the way of a Lyceum Thursday night when F. V. Fisher gave his wonderful illustrated lecture on "Ultimate America."

Mr. Fisher came to us as one of the regularly scheduled lyceum numbers. He carried with him one of the latest improvements in the way of a projector, causing one picture to fade into another similar to the "fadeout" in the movies. Most of the pictures were of western United States, especially California. One was held spell bound by the beautiful hand colored pictures, wondering if it is possible that any place can be as beautiful as the pictures showed the various places to be.

Cincinnati Artists

Heard in a Concert

Young artists from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, Lydia Cleary Dozier, soprano, Robert Bernstein, violinist, and Helen Eichorn, pianist, gave a very interesting program April 6, 1928, in the gymnasium auditorium of Eastern Teachers College. Mrs. Dozier possesses a rich coloratura soprano of wide range and excellent quality; she sings with an ease of tone production and with ample breath control; her voice appeared to best advantage in the numbers, "Waltz from Romeo and Juliet," Gounod, and the aria from "Barber of Seville," una voce poco fa, by Rossini.

Robert Bernstein, a fourteen-year-old boy, is an unusual violinist for his age. The numbers he essayed to play were difficult and yet well performed; he has a command over his instrument that might well be the envy of older and more experienced violinists. His playing of the Gypsy Airs of Sarasate and the Obertass of Wieniawski were very commendable.

Helen Eichorn contributed two very interesting numbers, the Rhapsody, Op. 79, No. 1, of Brahms and Widmung of Schumann-Liszt. The most praiseworthy part of Miss Eichorn's playing was the very fine support she gave the soloists in her accompaniments.

The program as a whole was very well received and the audience was very appreciative of the playing of these young artists.

and loyal student body. We feel that some reduction, especially in the articles mentioned, will do much to eliminate the disgruntled spirit which is still rather prevalent.

The report is enclosed.

Very sincerely yours,
(Signed) Mildred Redding.

The Report

Upon detailed investigation, prompted entirely by the student body, which covered a period of six weeks, we submitted the following conclusions for your consideration:

1. The prices on various articles of food served in the cafeteria, with the exception of the following:

- potatoes
- pickles
- meat

are reasonable.

2. Prices on potatoes, pickles and meat should be reduced.

3. Smaller portions should be served and less charged for the following articles,

- hominy
- lima beans
- pork and beans
- rice
- salads.

4. Salads should be served without salad dressing and a bowl of salad dressing should be placed along with mustard and ketchup and be charged according to individual serving.

5. We appreciate the high quality of food served, but we also feel that from our observation based largely upon frequent complaints made by students, if quality need to be sacrificed in order to reduce prices, we recommend that that be done.

Respectfully submitted,

Mildred Redding,

Secretary to the Open Forum

April 4, 1928.

Miss Mildred Redding,
Secretary, Open Forum Committee,
Eastern Ky. State Teachers College,
Richmond, Kentucky.

Dear Miss Redding:

Your letter of March 12 accompanied by a report of your investigation of the Cafeteria prices and practices came to my desk several days ago but I have been unable to acknowledge receipt of it for reasons of which you are well aware.

In the first place I want to assure you that I greatly appreciate the effort which the student body through the Open Forum Committee has made to bring to light any deficiencies in the service in our cafeteria. I realize that such an investigation entailed considerable study on the part of those conducting the investigation and wish to express my thanks for the action of the Open Forum Committee which instigated this investigation.

The report which you have submitted certainly indicates that your investigation was unbiased in view of the fact the very items which your investigation discloses are facts which I have been aware of but which have been difficult to correct.

The entire personnel of the staff in the Cafeteria is composed of students, therefore the fixing of portions served is largely in the hands of the individual who does the serving. Personally I have experienced the difficulty that you call attention to, that of getting a larger serving of certain foods than I desire. Such overserving naturally results in a waste of food not consumed and increases the cost of meals served students because of this waste.

The prices of certain commodities, such as Irish potatoes, fluctuate so much due to the seasonal market changes that it is difficult to fix a price and size of servings which will be in effect continuously on such items.

The fullest cooperation of students serving in the Cafeteria is necessary to the success of the Cafeteria. This service is maintained for the benefit of students and for no other purpose. It is intended to provide a variety of good wholesome food at the lowest possible prices. Such investigations as your Committee recently made are welcomed indeed and will bring about the desired results.

I am taking this matter up with our Miss Edith McIlvain, Manager of the Cafeteria, and I am requesting that the wishes of the student body as expressed in your report be complied with because I believe your requests are most reasonable.

Very truly yours,
G. M. Brock,

Business Agent.

Miss Edith McIlvain,
Dear Miss McIlvain:

I am inclosing a letter together with a report of the Open Forum Committee which I received on March 12. For reasons which you know I have been unable to take this report up with you sooner.

I thoroughly agree with the Committee which made this investigation on all items except item No. 5 in which it is suggested that the quality of food served might be sacrificed in order to reduce prices. This practice has already been tried in the Cafeteria and has not been found desirable. There is no economy in serving cheap grades of foods.

This report of the Open Forum Committee together with acknowledgement of it will, I understand, be published in the Eastern Progress in order that all students may be informed. In view of the fact that the students originated the idea of conducting the investigation I feel confident that our student employees in the Cafeteria, particularly those who fix the size of servings at the steam tables will be influenced to comply with the wishes of the student body, as expressed in their report, rather than to cater to the demand of certain students who insist on large servings. Every phase of favoritism on the part of student employees in the Cafeteria must be abolished if the desired results as demanded by the student body are to be obtained.

I wish to ask that you give this matter your careful consideration and that the prices of potatoes, pickles and meat be reduced as much as possible and that smaller portions be served of the items enumerated by the Committee. Overserving of any items particularly vegetables should be guarded against and I am confident that you are doing everything possible to prevent the tendency on the part of those students concerned to serve too large portions.

Very truly yours,
G. M. Brock,
Business Agent.
