PROWLER SAYS MAROONS WER DUE TITLES

Columnist Claims Eastern's Remarkable Growth is Setting Record

ADS CAMPUS CHATTER

I sorta been layin down on the job here of late I guess I gettin in copy is any sign. But, I haven't been still long enough to get down to a typewriter for more than a month now. You see, I usually do my writin over the week ends and instead I have been going here and there for a few of 'em. Last week end was spent on the way to and from and in New York City. Nope, didn't get lost. Just didn't go any place much. You know that one about not bein able to see the town for the houses? That's sure so with that burg. Then the week before that was spent in the northern part of this state, most of it rite in the midst of a great big genuine snow storm. The week ned before that was spent in Columbus, O. So, you understand how I could truthfully say here and there and maybe not get in much copy.

Superiority Complex

Say, is that whats wrong with our Maroons? Doggone their hides. The season for basketball is over, but 'tis sorta under my skin yet that they should fool around and let Transy wallop them. Gee, the Maroons had to travel a good distance to thrash the Mountaineers of Berea, doncha think. But, to let that next outfit get next to them like that, it just sorta hurts, you know. But, maybe 'tis not one of those things named above, but that they just met more than they could handle. Anyway, 'tis a pretty good bunch of boys that carryin the maroon and white colors and you won't go wrong in backin them and in keepin it up rite on thru baseball.

In Commemoration

Just can't go on without sayin a word about Pauline Cruse. I been knowin Pauline for a couple years and a little more now. Worked with her as a member of Sigma Tau Pi. Worked with her as class mate. Knew her as a fellow student. She was ever willin to do her part and was one of the outstanding young ladies of the campus in all her stay there. Just one of the finest young ladies I have ever known.

Ain't We Big

Think of it. A college department with more than eleven hundred boys and girls—three girls to one boy I bet. Four hundred more than last year. A graduatn class doublin and triplin what we had last year. Well, there's no reason why Eastern shouldn't be like that. Shes the best Teachers College in the state, you know.

Chatter

See by the last issue of the Progress that President Donovan has a new picture for the paper. That ones more like the Dr. . . . Miss Pollitt seems to have added a new one to her collection. . . . Wonder how it feels to be in school with your dad? . . . Bet May Jr. watches about his class work and doesn't do any too much sparkin for fear dad commended on his 54 point standin for the first half of the year. A real student I would guess. . . . Gettin to be too many Sigmas on the campus it appears. . . . Wonder what students would do if they didn't have teachers to fuss about. . . . Wonder why some teachers talk so much about grades, grades. There's lots more to school and school work than grades, they are only a minor somethin. . . . Orlando Lea was never forced to use mathematics when a fifty-cent limit was placed on meals purchased on athletic trips. Will power was what he used. . . . Wonder how the young ladies feel over on the farm. . . . Guess they have their spring plowin done by now. . . . Sorta bad admission for "Jazz" Rutledge when he said that those persons makin out schedules this semester didn't seem to know what they were doin. . . . Just been wonderin if Dr. Donovan crossed the Detroit river into Windsor, Canada, while he was up in Detroit. . . . Of course, I meant as a tourist. . . . Its our honest opinion that Miss Roberts has had more space in Turley's cartoons than any one other person. . . . Well, sorta admire Turley in expressin in pen and ink what all the rest express in private. . . . Al Portwood's Little Maroons look about like a mountain to the rest of the frosh quintets of the state I bet. . . . Just been wonderin if "Turkey" Hughes still has to patrol the Book Store and Post Office to see that some of the s.y.t. of the campus don't keep his athletes too much from their books. . . . Bet Mr. McDonough is tickled pink that the new gym is nearin completion. . . . Howdy, Misses Campbell, Schnieb, Zellhoefer and Ford. Hope you didn't get sea sick. . . . Am curious to know if "Sad Eye" Durr has been able to reach the ground with his cane yet. . . . Maybe Chas. Pettit sold him the section he had to remove from his cane for splicin. . . . Hope the Editor isn't feeble yet. This flu sorta makes one puny. . . . Is Ray Wright as deadly in love this year as last? He was sure moon eyed last year. . . . Soon be time for K. E. A. . . . ## Canterbury Club Gives Program

The Canterbury Club, composed of English majors and first minors, and members of the English staff, met in regular session and gave a short program Tuesday, March 3 in the recreation room of Bunnell Hall at 11:30 a. m.

Mr. William L. Keene, member of the English staff, spoke briefly on "Creative Writing." He discussed the work of the Writer's Club at Murfreesboro (Tenn.) State Teachers College.

After the regular business meeting Mr. Keene read some poems from "The Still Voice," the literary magazine of the Writer's Club.

STANDARD SET FOR ACTIVITY

Faculty Adopts Rules Governing Participation in Extra-Curriculars

Upon the recommendation of the committee on clubs and forensics, the faculty of the Eastern State Teachers College at its last regular meeting adopted a set of regulations governing student participation in extra-curricular activities.

The aims of the regulations is to eliminate excessive participation and to distribute offices and participation more evenly among the student body, according to the letter received by the Progress this week from Dr. Roy B. Clark, chairman of the faculty committee on clubs and forensics.

Complete list of the regulations as adopted follows:

1. In order to hold membership (including one office) in three clubs or societies and be an active member on the regular staff of the Eastern Progress, official student publication, or the Milestone, college yearbook, a student must have a scholastic standing of "B" or higher. A standing of only "C" will permit students to hold membership (including one office) in only two clubs.

2. In order to hold office in two clubs or societies and be on the staff of one of the above-named official student publications, a student shall have a scholastic standing of "B" or better and limit his membership to two clubs or societies.

3. To hold the presidency of any one club or society and be editor-in-chief of either the Eastern Progress or Milestone, a student shall have a scholastic standing of "B" or higher, limit his club membership to two, and not hold any other office.

4. No student shall be eligible for the presidency of more than two clubs or societies, and then only if his scholastic standing is "B" or higher.

SOCIAL RULES ARE DRAFTED

Committee Sets Forth Plan by Which Social Activity Be Regulated

The social committee met in the board of regents' room March 10, and approved the following rules and regulations to govern all social functions on Eastern's campus:

1. That no one be admitted to a social function at Eastern whose name does not appear on the list of invited guests.

2. That the above list of invited guests be approved by the dean of women, the chairman of the social committee and representatives from the social committee.

3. That the names of the invited guests be arranged alphabetically, and opposite each name the name of the student responsible.

4. That any organization sponsoring a formal dance turn in with their list of guests the names of the students who are to be at the door, the names of the students composing the floor committee, and a list of chaperons who are expected to be present during the entire time of the affair.

5. That the floor committee be composed of seven students from the organization who are to take entire responsibility for the conduct of guests at dance or other social functions.

6. That any student, or guest drinking at a dance be asked to leave by a member of the floor committee.

7. That any student or guest smoking in the building, be asked to leave by a member of the floor committee.

8. That any organization which fails to comply with the above regulations forfeits the privilege for one year of having any social function.

9. That the secretary of the social committee be instructed to send a copy of the regulations approved by the social committee to the president of each of the organizations, class and social, on the campus.

Progress staff is made up of students that have more than their share of extra-curricular. . . . The Milestone staff is in the same mess. . . . Lets hope that the time will soon come when such work will be more evenly divided.

—THE PROWLER.

WINNERS IN POPULARITY

Eastern Students Choose Eva Dean Squires, Allington Grace

BEAUTY CONTEST ON

Results of the Milestone popularity contest at Eastern was announced by Professor Richards in the assembly Wednesday morning, March 11.

The winners are as follows: The most popular girl, Miss Eva Dean Squires; the most popular boy, Allington Grace; the most handsome boy, Charles Work. The eleven girls receiving the highest number of votes for the most beautiful girl were Betty Baxter, Louise Broadbent, Mrs. William Check, Ruth Miller, Anna Lee, Nora Moore, Hazel Moris, Dorothy Nisbet, Dorothy Sewell, Thelma Willoughby and Dolly Woods.

The pictures of the winners and the girls receiving second and third places in the girls beauty contest are to appear in the Milestone. The pictures of the ten girls mentioned in the beauty contest have been sent to Ziegfeld for the selection of the first three.

MELODRAMA POSTPONED

Second Showing of Mystery Play Will Not Be Given

The previously scheduled "S. Q. V.," a three-act melodrama which was to be produced for the benefit of the second semester students will not be offered, according to the information received today. "Due to the absence of several of the cast from school it has been impossible to offer the production earlier, and as every available date until late in March has been taken, we deemed it best to postpone the offering indefinitely," stated Miss Pearl Buchanan, faculty sponsor of the Little Theater Club, in interview Tuesday.

The melodrama was offered for the first time on January 21 and required skillful handling to do it justice as the most finished production the club has ever presented. The first showing of "S. Q. V." was the initial performance of the Little Theater Club this year.

AMOS, ANDY, MADAM QUEEN JACKSON, Ky., March 12 (AP)—

Radio has its devotees in the heart of the Kentucky mountains. When triplets were born to Mr. and Mrs. Levi Deaton, at Wick, Breathitt county, two boys and a girl, they were named Amos, Andy and Madam Queen, after the principals in the recent famed radio breach of promise suit.

GRADES

When the last exam is taken And the ink is blotted and dried, When the last term paper is finished And all the low grades decreed, We shall rest and, faith, we shall need it.

Can sleep for a morning or two Till the first of another quarter Sets us to work anew. Those who made good grades shall be happy, And each in his favorite crowd Can whisper how he made them If he doesn't talk too loud.

MISS POLLITT TELLS OF HER RECENT TRIP

Eastern Teachers in Party of Educators that Visits Caribbean Island and Panama; Haiti of Special Interest

SPEAKS AT CHAPEL

Miss Mabel Pollitt, who has recently returned from a visit to the Caribbean Islands and Panama, was the chapel speaker on Friday. Miss Pollitt went as a member of a group of college professors, business and professional men and women, organized to study present-day conditions in the Latin-American countries and to bring about a mutual understanding of the countries to the south of the United States. Among the sixty members of the group, the most notable were Dr. Ralph E. Benner, until recently chancellor of the University of Porto Rico; Dr. Ernest Gruening, former editor of the Nation; Mr. George Plimpton, president of the Ginn and Company; Dr. Samuel Guy Inman, professor of international law at Columbia University; Mr. E. C. Lindeman of New York, and Mr. Frank McCullough of Chicago. The following colleges and universities were represented: Smith, Columbia, Chicago, Northwestern, Wellesley, Cleveland, Wisconsin, Loyola and Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College.

The first country visited was Puerto Rico, where the group was entertained by Governor Theodore Roosevelt in the governor's palace, built four hundred years ago by the son of Ponce de Leon.

In Panama, President Alfaro, who was recently minister for Panama in Washington, entertained with a formal reception, as did also the American minister, Mr. Roy Davis. The party made the trip thru the Panama Canal and flew back from the Pacific to the Atlantic in a seaplane. Miss Pollitt said in her speech that she felt like Balboa himself as she sat high in the air and saw both oceans at once.

Probably the island that aroused more interest than any other was the Island of Haiti or Santo Domingo. Miss Pollitt said: "The two countries are entirely separate and distinct, Santo Domingo occupying the eastern section, and Haiti, the negro republic, the northwestern part. Santo Domingo is Spanish in speech, in tradition and in culture. Here we were received by the rector of the University of Santo Domingo, who is a lineal descendant of Christopher Columbus. The university itself is very old and historic, having been founded in 155, seventy-eight years before Harvard and a century and a half before Yale. Santo Domingo was the important center and the capital of New Spain in the sixteenth century. The historic cathedral was built in this century and in the beautiful plaza facing it once walked Christopher Columbus, his son, Diego, Balboa, De Soto, Pizarro, Cortez and the whole train of Spanish conquistadores. Within the cathedral is the beautiful chapel containing, as the Santo Dominicans believe, the bones of Christopher Columbus, which were not moved to Havana and thence to Spain. In Haiti we were much impressed with the intense and flaming hatred against the policy of the United States marines. President Hoover's commission had just been into the island and the United States government withdraw the marines at the earliest possible date seems to be a wise one. Haiti is a land of caste. Here there is a population of some two and one-half million blacks ruled over by the ruling caste, an oligarchical minority of some six thousand families. The president and the officials of the government tendered a beautiful reception to us in a room lined with the busts of the twenty-six black men who had preceded him as chief of the state. Five were assassinated, one committed suicide, three died in office, fifteen had been driven out of office into exile by revolutions, and only one of the presidents had served out his term, retired and died a natural death. In Haiti no one can hold an office or own land except a negro."

The last country visited was Cuba, where the party was received by President Machado, who continues in power despite unrest and political agitation. Mr. and Mrs. Guggenheim gave a reception for the group on the eve of their departure for the United States. Mr. Guggenheim is the American ambassador to Cuba.

Miss Pollitt said that she was greatly impressed and to some extent depressed by the problems which must assuredly arise within the next century in connection with the Caribbean states, Central and South America. "Economically these countries desire our interest and support. Politically and culturally they have no liking for the United States. The Monroe Doctrine they regard with distrust and dislike; the United Fruit Company, which brings into them means of livelihood, they hate; the United States marines are anathema to them; as is also the National City Bank of New York, a branch of which stands on the principal square of each of these island states."

"Poverty and illiteracy, as we rate them, are high. Standards of living

Ben Greet Cast Coming to Eastern

SHAKESPEARE PLAYS DATED

Sir Phillip Ben Greet and Players to Appear at Eastern

COMING ON MARCH 20

Sir Phillip Ben Greet and his company of English players will appear at the Hiram Brock auditorium at Eastern State Teachers College on March 20 in Hamlet and As You Like It. The company is coming to Eastern under auspices of the fine arts committee of the college. The matinee performance will be given at three o'clock and the evening performance at eight.

This is Sir Phillip's second trans-continental tour. He has been in this country on the present tour since October. After fifty years of public service in giving Shakespeare and the classics, Ben Greet was recently honored by a knighthood bestowed on him by the king of England.

This season Sir Phillip is appearing as Jaques in As You Like It, and Polonius in Hamlet. The company includes eighteen English players among whom is one of the best known English actors, Russell Thorndike, who will be seen in the part of Touchstone in As You Like It, and in the title role in Hamlet.

Sir Phillip creates an essential atmosphere of medieval reverence. Nothing detracts from the play's significance. His only modifications of the true Elizabethan manner is in the use of richer and more elaborate hangings than were employed in the Elizabethan days. The simplicity of his productions is based on the theory that the stage should stimulate and inspire rather than relieve the imagination. Sir Phillip has schooled his actors in the forgotten art of speaking words. When his actors speak, it is easy to understand the words and sense of what is spoken.

"ATOM" HOST BABY MAROON

Freshmen Squad Entertained By Portwood After Successful Season

"The Mighty Atom," Alfred E. Portwood, coach of the state championship Eastern State Teachers College freshman basketball team, entertained the members of his basketball squad with a dinner at the Phoenix Hotel, Lexington, Ky., Thursday, February 26, at 6:30 p. m.

Guests of Coach Portwood at the banquet were: Capt. Gillis Madden; Alternate Capt. James Vest, Guernsey Adams, T. C. McDaniels, O. Feeback, William Hansen, H. Phillips, R. Campbell, C. Carder, G. Green, C. Flannery, I. DeWitt, manager, Mrs. Portwood, and Al Craze.

Portwood, former stellar athlete at the University of Kentucky, Eastern's first full-time freshman coach, led the boys to a successful football season last fall, winning all but one of the games played. But the young mentor made an even more impressive showing during the net season just ended by winning every contest attempted in the state.

The outstanding victories of the twelve straights were a pair of wins over the University of Kentucky Kittens.

Crawford Speaks at Chapel Period

"The modern teacher is a robot—a teacher of subjects, not of students," A. B. Crawford, superintendent of the Anchorage city schools and a graduate of Eastern Teachers College, quoted in a talk in chapel at Eastern this morning in the Hiram Brock auditorium.

"The modern teacher is not a robot," Superintendent Crawford went on, "because he does not do what he is told. A robot does just what he is told—nor more, and no less."

are low, comforts are few and the luxuries, except among the ruling classes, non-existent. If better relationships are to be maintained, they must be established thru international understanding and tactful diplomacy."

VINCENT WILL GIVE LECTURE SERIES HERE

Noted Literary Student Will Be Heard in Three Addresses at Eastern Beginning March 18

TWO CLASS LECTURES

Dr. Leon H. Vincent, of Boston, Mass., who has devoted his career to the exposition of what is enduring and estimable in letters, will give a series of lectures at Eastern, beginning March 18.

Dr. Vincent is a notable member of a notable family in the education of the American people toward an intelligent attitude with regard to men, their affairs, and their literature. His father was revered as an apostle of religious inspiration in Colorado while it was yet a border state; his uncle, Bishop John Vincent, was the great creator of Chautauqua; his cousin, George Vincent, the educator and publicist, is the present executive of the Rockefeller Foundation. He is a recognized contributor of critical essays to leading magazines and has published in book form "American Literary Masters," "Studies in French Letters and Society of the Seventeenth Century," and "Dandies and Men of Letters."

According to the announcement of Dr. Donovan, Dr. Vincent will give three public lectures and two class lectures during his stay at Eastern. The public lectures will be given in the morning at the regular assembly hour, while the class lectures will be given in the afternoons at four o'clock. The series begins Wednesday morning, March 18, when Dr. Vincent will lecture on Lord Byron's London Career. On March 20, at the assembly Dr. Vincent will lecture on Tom Moore, the Drawing Room Minstrel. His last public lecture will be on March 23, on Lady Blessington and Gore House. His class lectures on Sydney Smith as a man of the world and Benjamin Disraeli, the novelist and the dandy will be given at four o'clock March 19 and 24, respectively.

DONOVAN IN CHAPEL TALK

Contribution of Teachers Colleges to Education is Outlined

NO NORMAL SCHOOLS

Twenty-five years ago March 21 Eastern and Western Teachers Colleges were made state institutions and Dr. H. L. Donovan, president of Eastern, made an address in regular chapel period this morning in the Hiram Brock auditorium telling of the relation of the teachers colleges to the commonwealth of Kentucky and their advancement during the past 25 years.

Dr. Donovan emphasized the fact that there are at present four teachers colleges and no normal schools in the state. "The normal schools are no longer in use in this state," he said. "As defined by law, the normal school was a teacher training school on the level of a high school, but our teachers and standards have risen to another level and our preparation now has to be done in college."

"There are about 11,000 students pursuing higher education in the 15 or 16 colleges in Kentucky," Dr. Donovan said, "and of this number approximately one-half are enrolled in the four teachers colleges. Eastern has 1,174 college students and over 400 children enrolled, and reaches about 1,100 more thru correspondence courses." Eastern ranks a little below Western in attendance, but far above Murray and Morehead Teachers Colleges.

"The student who attends the teachers colleges," Dr. Donovan stated, "has less money than those who go to endowed schools and state universities, but this is more than compensated by a firmness of purpose and ambition which will carry them higher. A check-up at Eastern has shown that those working their way thru school make the best grades on the average."

ARTISTS GETS ORGANIZATION

Art Students Form New Organization to Promote Work

The Pen and Pencil Club, an organization for students interested in art, was formed on the campus of Eastern State Teachers College on Wednesday, February 25. The new club is under the supervision of Miss Maude Gibson, head of the art department at Eastern.

Mr. Maynard Stammer, senior, was elected to head the artists. Miss Eva Mae Berry was elected secretary and Mr. Abshear, treasurer.

The organization will consist of about 80 members and will have regular meetings every second and fourth Monday from 6:20 to 7:30.

Welcome, High Schools

The Eastern Progress wishes to join the administration in extending to you our most sincere welcome to the campus for your short stay. We are glad that you have come and want you to feel free to roam the campus as you like. Many of you have represented your schools here in previous tournaments. To you we are glad to extend a hand of greeting and renew our friendship. Others of you are finding this your first visit to Eastern. To you we wish to say "the latch-string is on the outside."

While every team entered in the meet cannot win the regional championship, we are back of all of you. To the winners we extend our congratulations. When you go to Lexington for the state meet next week, rest assured that every faculty member and student at Eastern is pulling for you. To the losers we extend our sympathy and promise to be as gracious to you as to the winners.

In the past years the winners of this region have given splendid account of themselves at Lexington. Several times "our" representatives were hard-pushing the winners in the finals. We should have another state champion from this region and we believe we shall. Seventh region, show your basketball.

The Teacher's Creed

I believe in boys and girls, the men and women of a great tomorrow; that whatsoever the boy soweth the man shall reap. I believe in the course of ignorance; in the efficacy of schools; in the dignity of teaching, and in the joy of serving others. I believe in wisdom as revealed in human lives as well as in the pages of the printed book, in lessons taught, not so much by precept as by example; in ability to work with the hands as well as think with the head; in everything that makes life large and lovely. I believe in beauty in the school room, in the home, in daily life and out of doors. I believe in laughter, in love, in faith; in all ideals and distant hopes that lure us on. I believe that every hour of every day we receive a just reward for all we are and all we do. I believe in the present and all its opportunities; in the future its premises, and in the divine joy of living.

And They Were Rumors

And there were rumors—wild rumors—wild rumors that the Senior class of 1931 was not going to publish an annual. And rumors they were. The Senior class of Eastern, the largest graduating class in the history of the institution, is publishing an annual. True to our prediction they are going to offer to the student body the best yearbook ever put out by any class of grads yet to leave the college.

Led by an untiring editor who has thrown himself whole-heartedly into the task, and backed one hundred per cent by the carefully-selected staff, classes, faculty, and administration, the fourth-years are about to bring forth a product which the college will praise for years to come.

When controversies arose—as controversies have a habit of doing—the faithful staff lent its untiring efforts toward finding some solution.

BUT—work on the annual is being withheld by the failure of several students to submit their pictures. A deadline had to be set and March 20 it was found is the latest possible date for the acceptance of any pictures for the yearbook. ALL PICTURES MUST BE MADE BY MARCH 20.

The Milestone to be indicative of the life and spirit of Eastern must contain YOUR picture. You have become a vital part of the college, and the omission of any one part will not make the annual truly representative of the college as you and others wish to remember it. Secure an appointment with the staff photographer TODAY and have your picture made. You will prize the 1931 annual. It will contain evidence of student activity—due to our present system of records—that can be secured from no other source. It is going to "broadcast" Eastern during '31. It is an official hand book to which the alumni and administration can refer for information and data that will assist you in future years.

Again—have your picture made today, and this year's Milestone, headed by the institution's largest graduating class, published in a year of the college's greatest growth, shall be the pride of your college memories.

Congratulations

Again "Turkey" Hughes and his Maroons have brought to an end one of the most successful and colorful basketball seasons ever to be enjoyed by an Eastern team, and—"The Mighty Atom" Portwood, Eastern's first full-time freshman coach, and his fighting Baby Maroons crossed the finish line with an unparalleled freshman record for Eastern—twelve straight victories in the state—undefeated in the regular season—State Championship—downed University of Kentucky Kittens twice.

Quite true, both coaches had a number of players that were stars in their high school days. But the best of material needs a guiding hand, and both teams had it—training under most efficient and capable hands. "Turkey" and "Al" during the season perfected two of the most formidable basketball machines in the state. Both teams faced unusually difficult schedules and came thru with flying banners. Congratulations, "Turkey," "Al," and boys, we are proud of you.

Placement Bureau

The Placement Bureau, maintained free of cost to and for the use of nay and all students enrolled in the institution, is a service that the administration feels is due students who choose Eastern as their alma mater.

Dr. L. G. Kennamer and his assistants give much of their time toward the gathering and compilation of data necessary to assist students in securing positions. The demand for positions is going to be greater this year than ever before and students are urged to file enrollment blanks at once. The bureau has made contacts with Kentucky's foremost educators and is in a position to place applicants as teachers, principals, superintendents, and in other positions that should be of interest to every student enrolled.

Yet the bureau can be of no assistance to you unless you have placed at their disposal the information they need. If you are "in the market" for a job, get the enrollment blanks at once, fill them out carefully, including all of the information asked for, file a photograph with the blank, and return to the bureau immediately. This small effort on your part may be a deciding factor in securing a worthwhile position for next year.

Within a few weeks the Kentucky Education Association will be in session at Louisville. Many students will be placed thru the bureau during the educational conference. Furnish the bureau with the necessary information within the next few days. It may be of greatest advantage to you.

CAMPUS PHILOSOPHER

Thruout the year we have occasionally used sports stories written by James Miller, local newspaper writer. Most of the time his stories have been used without his "by line." We are glad to use this means of recognizing Mr. Miller's contributions.

The best way to settle a difficulty is with the other fellow and not with everyone not concerned.

It has been said that women are a necessary evil, and from the looks of some of the boys at Eastern, they are extremely necessary.

The Little Theater Club is to be commended upon the recent production of "S. Q. V." Undoubtedly the sponsors of the local dramatic club have realized—and we wish they would pass the information along to some others responsible for our amusements and entertainment—that they have been shooting entirely over the heads of the student body. We thank the dramatists for "coming down to earth." Here's hopin' you have started something.

We have found—as experienced editors always know—that too many people want publicity and when they get it they don't want it.

CAMPUS COMEDIES

MACPHERSON AT EASTERN

Noted Scientist Emphasizes Application of Facts to New Ideas

Dr. William MacPherson, president of the American Chemical Society and dean of the graduate school of Ohio State University, approves the modern trends in education he said in an address delivered in the Hiram Brock auditorium this morning during the regular chapel period at Eastern Teachers College.

"The passing from static receptor to dynamic education within the past few years is very pleasing," Dr. MacPherson declared. "Formerly an education was the reception of facts imparted by teachers, but today the emphasis is placed on the application of facts to new ideas, to the advancement of science and to creation."

"The merely well-informed man possessing a great accumulation of facts," Dr. MacPherson quoted, "is the most useless man alive and life's greatest bore."

The speaker urged the combination of all sciences for progress. "For," he said, "it has been found that the greatest progress in physics and chemistry has been made through physical chemistry and in physiology and chemistry through physiological chemistry."

"The most important scientific advancement during the present period of the world's history is concerned with the structure of the atom. Several years ago the atom was considered the unit of matter and, as its name denotes, was supposed to be indestructible. But now even the policeman on the street is talking of electrons. It was Thomson who found that the atom is in reality a small universe composed of electrons who knows but what the electrons may be found to have a similar structure?"

Dr. MacPherson declared that he was very well satisfied with living in this age for "the present generation has witnessed the unearthing of more fundamental knowledge than any other period in the world's history—we might say than in all other periods."

Dr. MacPherson spent Wednesday on the campus at Eastern and returned to Ohio that night. In the afternoon he made a trip to Berea to visit the Churchill Weavers. He was the guest of Prof. Meredith E. Cox while here.

BEAUTIFUL TEA

The Home Management House Girls were hostesses to a tea given Saturday afternoon, February 28, in honor of the Home Economics club and other friends. About thirty-five guests enjoyed the hospitality of the girls in their new home. The dining room was beautifully decorated in a pre-St. Patrick's decoration of white sweet peas and green candles.

Miss Margaret Stucker, of University, spent the week end with Miss Sarah Jackson.

Mrs. J. E. Rhodemyre, of Ashland, has been visiting her daughter, Miss Alice Rhodemyre.

Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Donovan were the dinner guests Tuesday of the girls in the Home Management House.

Miss Dorothy Nesbet's mother of Atlanta, Ga., has been visiting Eastern.

Miss Maudred Owens, a former student at Eastern now teaching in Maysville, was the week end visitor of Miss Naomi Maddox.

Mrs. Jean Burns, of Ashland, has been a recent visitor of her children, Miss Mary K. Burns and Mr. Dan Burns.

Miss Elizabeth Austin had as her week end guest Miss Elizabeth Spurlin.

Miss Edith Sparks has been visiting Miss Mollie Lee Gould.

Miss Ada Hood has been delayed from her return on account of the illness of her mother.

Mr. Haldon Durr spent the week end with Mr. Kenneth Marshall in Corinth.

Miss Frances Proctor spent the week end with home folks in Waddy.

Miss Mabel Williams spent the week end in Harrodsburg, guest of Miss Hazel Megee. While there Miss Williams visited old Fort Harrod, and several places of historic interest.

What's In The New Charles F. Weaver Health Building And Gymnasium

Enough brick if laid end to end to build a double row from Richmond to Lexington—five thousand tons of cement, sand, and gravel—enough to build a ten foot concrete walk around the entire state farm—seven freight trains of twenty-five loaded cars each of stone, steel, and lumber, etc.—3,692 square feet of glass—that's in the New Charles F. Weaver Health Building and Gymnasium at Eastern.

The new $190,000 structure contains 410 tons of cut stone, 8 car loads of lumber, 40 cars of gravel, 35 cars of sand, 1,800,000 pounds of cement, 7 car loads of glazed tile, 280 tons of structural and reinforced steel, 3 cars of door frames and window sash, 400,000 face and common brick, 5 cars of lime, laths, and roofing material, and 4 cars of glass.

The new gymnasium will be 220 feet, 10 inches by 102 feet, 11 inches with a main playing floor 110 feet by 90 feet and a smaller floor 40 feet by 75 feet.

A swimming pool of regulation size 25 feet by 75 feet with a capacity of 75,000 gallons of water is included in the building. The water may be heated from 40 degrees to 180 degrees by the heating equipment which will be constantly filtered through quartz gravel in passing through the circulating system. Markers of black tile will be put in the bottom of the pool which will be lined with white tiling.

There are five shower rooms for varsity teams, freshmen, faculty, visitors, and girls. The girls' showers alone contain 34 separate compartments.

SCANDELETTE

I fairly held my breath the other day in CHAPEL while HAROLD PRIM was talking about us, because I thought he was going to tell on us. MY PARTNER IN CRIME says that she guessed the dear boy did not know who to tell on or he would have done so. Say, I got an ear full the other night on BOB KEENE. I passed the RECREATION ROOM and heard MCKINLEY telling a most romantic story about BOB one night. I experienced PURE LOVE.

BOB DAVIS seems to have cast his lot with the BLONDS this year. The order of his choices runs something like this: GENEVA JORDON, NANCY FRAZIER, EMILY HARRISON, HAZEL LLEWELLYN and LOUISE BAIRD. By the way, I noticed GEORGE CARRELL going out with NANCY FRAZIER the other night. Do you girls know VIRGINIA BICKLEY, the new LIBRARIAN? From the way she was dashing around getting a book for THOMAS BENNETT the other day I think she is trying to make a HIT with TOMMY.

BLANCH WIMBLE says that DR. FARRIS' medicine for an ever supply of acid must have helped her case of measles as she had them for over a week before she knew what was wrong with her. JIMMY AULT reports that he performed a good deed by helping HOMER HENSLEY and LOREL HOUGH get out of a wire fence in time to get back for supper. MARGARET MAE FISH says that due to her illness, she was unable to enjoy her visit home as much as per usual.

BILL WHITE says that CURRY HORN certainly registered surprise when he burst into a lady's bedroom the other morning by mistake. ORLAND LEA pronosticates a great business future for BILL MCGIBNEY. ORLAND says that just the other day BILL charmed VIRGINIA CECIL into paying him double for a bar of candy. SAM ROUTENBURG has become the proud owner of a life-size picture of IRMA WICKER. SAM is having trouble deciding which he likes better—the picture or IRMA. I notice that EVANGELINE SHAFER has joined in the parade after HARRY CORNELL. I guess she is taking SHERLEY WICKER's place.

MITCHEL DENHAM says that WINSTON WILLIAMS is afraid that his BEEBA FRIENDS will find out that he took RUBY CARRIER to a dance in Winchester the other night. RUTH SCHAEFFER says that HAZEL LLEWELLYN's bright and shining lights are beginning to dim. By the way, MARY EVELYN YOUNG hinted that RUTH broke into MILDRED KELLY's piano recital by telling MILDRED that she was wanted on the phone. HERMAN HALE was teasing BEN ADAMS about RUTH MILLER turning down his generous offer to take her to the basketball game because she had a LIBRARY DATE.

According to AL CRACE, SAD EYES is due for a beating at the hands of KENNY MARSHALL when they go to bed, that MARY ELSTON is the prettiest girl in the school. SAD EYES says that KEN is not going to make a liar out of him. MITCHEL DENHAM boasts of being on HOLLIS MATHERLY's quartette which broadcast from WLW last Monday. By the way, speaking of DENHAM, HOLLIS MATHERLY is complaining of DENHAM causing so many unnecessary stops along the road. Besides the duties of being director of the cafeteria, MISS McILVAIN is assistant to Night Watchman LAWHORN, according to RUTH MILLER and EMILY HARRISON. MENDEL PARSONS says that LESTER MCHARGUE ought to pick on someone his size and stay off of little J NEWT LEE.

MR. LAWHORN seems to have won the friendship of FRANCIS PROCTOR and MARY ELSTON by "passing them up" the other night. PAULINE PULLIAM says that KITTY MARTIN is coming to visit

On The Campus

Dr. Herman Lee Donovan, president of Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, returned from the annual meeting of the National Education Association held in Detroit, Sunday to Thursday, February 22-26. Dr. Donovan also represented Eastern at the meeting of the American Association of Teachers Colleges held in Detroit, Friday and Saturday, February 20-21. He spoke before the National Education Association on the subject of "Progressive Steps in Rural Education" from the standpoint of the teachers college president.

"Hamlet" and "As You Like It" will be offered by the Ben Greet Players in the Hiram Brock auditorium of the Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College Friday, March 20, according to the announcement last week by Dr. Jacob D. Farris of the fine arts committee. Sir Phillip Ben Greet, eminent English actor and producer, will take part in the cast of each of the two plays. The Greet Players have been making a return transcontinental tour of the states and will stop over at Richmond to offer the productions to the college and the city of Richmond. The plays will be an added attraction of the second term and are not one of the regular offerings of the fine arts series.

A presentation of Richard Dix in "The Love Doctor" was offered to the student body by the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations in the Hiram Brock auditorium Wednesday, February 25, at 7 p. m. This presentation was the third of a series of pictures to be given by the local units of the associations during the second term. Proceeds from the shows will be used by the organizations to send delegates to the Blue Ridge conference again this year. The picture showed Wednesday night was to have been offered last week, but had to be postponed until Wednesday, February 25.

Mrs. Janet Murbach, member of the faculty of the foreign language department at Eastern, spoke at the banquet of the Berea-Laurel Ridges D. A. R.

The mysteriously titled "S. Q. V." a three-act melodram, will be given a second presentation by the Little Theater club, dramatic organization at Eastern, in the Hiram Brock auditorium within the next two weeks, according to the announcement this week by Thomson Bennett, president of the Little Theater club. The melodram is a Homeric production written by Edward E. Paramore, Jr. Characters for the presentation will be practically the same as before. Those assigned for the first presentation were: Louise Rutledge, Curt Howard, Molly Hayes, Hazel Miller, Thompson Bennett, Jack Bayer, Herschel McKinley, Edwin Holder, Bob Davis, Evadean Squires, Sam Routenberg, Ruth Miller, and Jennings Jackson.

"If you can't guess who it is in three guesses I am going to kiss you," said the boy with his hands over her eyes.

"Jack Frost, Davy Jones, Santa Claus."

And he did.

Prof: "Shh, not so loud, they're our seniors."

Adam was the first radio bug; he made a loud speaker out of his spare parts.

CARL GARRETT some time in the near future. Guess this will be SAD NEWS for BILL WHITE. PAULINE says that KITTY and CARL have been SWEET HEARTS for over a year. Well, that's all for this time. If any of you hear anything, let us know.

Marshall Attends Press Convention

Kenneth T. Marshall, senior at Eastern and editor-in-chief of the Eastern Progress, official student publication of the Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, left today for New York City to attend the seventh annual contest and convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, March 12-13-14.

The convention of young journalists is an annual affair at Columbia University, New York, and editors of college publications throughout the country meet there to discuss problems which are common to all paper staffs.

The Eastern Progress is a member of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association. According to the statement by Mr. Marshall before his departure, the Progress has been entered in both the contest being held at New York and the one to be held next week at the University of Kentucky.

LIBRARY NOTES

A LITERARY ESCALATOR
The habit of reading should grow through a gradually increasing interest that produces a genuine urge to read. If our aim is literary enjoyment, we must provide wisely the first happy contacts with enjoyable literature, according to our capacity. We readily agree that we can't jump from Gene Stratton Porter to Thackeray, so why not use an escalator and lift ourselves up to higher literature.

The following is an escalator of literature from the kind injurious to literary taste to the kind superior to the literary level:

Injurious to Literary Taste
T. Bailey.
J. D. Curwood.
Z. Grey.
H. B. Wright.
Tom Swift Series.
Grace Harlowe Series.
Fascinating and Harmless
Beech: The Iron Trail.
Day: King Spruce.
Deepling: Sorrel and Son.
Farnol: The Broad Highway.
Frederick: In the Valley.
Gras: Reds of the Midi.
Hay: The First Hundred Thousand.

Good Literary Level
Mason: Four Feathers.
Orczy: The Scarlet Pimperel.
Sabatini: Scaramouche.
White: The Riverman; Gold.
Superior Literary Level
Barrie: Admirable Crichton.
Birmingham: Spanish Gold.
Blackmore: Lorna Doone.
Bronte: Jane Eyre.
Canfield: Bent Twig; Hillsboro People.
Deland: The Iron Woman.
Garland: Son of the Middle Border.
Hergesheimer: Java Head.
Tarkington: Seventeen; Turmoil.
Wharton: Squad.

Superior Literary Level
Austin: Pride and Prejudice.
Bronte: Wuthering Heights.
Cather: My Antonia.
Conrad: Nigger of the Narcissus.
Eliot: Mill on the Floss.
Galsworthy: The Forsyte Saga.
Hawthorne: The House of Seven Gables.
Howells: Rise of Silas Lapham.
Lewis: Arrowsmith; Babbitt.
Sedgwick: Little French Girl.
Shaw: Pygmalion.
Tolstol: Anna Karenina.
Wells: Tono Bungay.
Wharton: Age of Innocence.

"We get no good by being ungenerous, even to a book. And calculating profits . . . so much help. By so much reading. It is rather when we gloriously forget ourselves and plunge soul-forward, headlong, into a book's profound, impassioned for its beauty and salt of truth—'Tis then we get the right good from a book."
—Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

TRAINING SCHOOL NOTES

Model High School Honor Roll
The students whose names appear below have made above average in all their subjects for the first semester:
Sixth Grade—Billy Farris.
Seventh Grade—Mary Frances Bales, Mary K. Deatherage, Margaret Denny, Billy Elder, Flora Kennamer.
Eighth Grade—Caperton Burnam, George Evans, Mollie Mae Rogers.
Eleventh Grade—Minnie Hager.
Twelfth Grade—Ray Cooper, and Lowell Pelfrey.

In the very near future students will be selected from various classes to represent their high school in the high school achievement contests to be held at Lexington on March 27. These contests are sponsored by the Extension Department of the University of Kentucky and contestants are invited from all parts of the state. Students will compete in the following: English, literature, spelling, American history, general science, biology, physics, chemistry, algebra, plane geometry, general scholarship.

The senior class at its last meeting on February 25 chose for its motto: "Before us is the timber let us build." At their next meeting it is the plan to choose the class flower and color. The rings which were ordered early in the year are expected to arrive soon. Seven students completed their work and left the class at the end of the first semester. Fourteen more are now looking forward toward graduation in June. Of the seven who finished their requirements at the end of the first semester, five are now enrolled in college at Eastern.

FROSH LICKED BY VARSITY

Maroons Quintet Defeats Yearling Champs 40 to 23 in Benefit Game

NET PROCEEDS $100

The Eastern varsity, with nothing at stake except pride, played the best basketball the Maroons have exhibited this season and soundly thrashed the Little Maroons, state freshman champions, in a benefit exhibition game last night at the Madison High gymnasium, 40 to 23.

The game was played to provide funds for the purchase of letter and numeral sweaters and was put on by the E Club, letter-men's organization. Cyrus (Rabbit) Waldrop acted as coach of the varsity, while Tommy DeWitt was freshman coach. Approximately $100 was realized from the encounter.

The Maroons had their shooting clothes on and hit a greater percentage of their shots than they have at any time during the past season while the Little Maroons apparently forgot their training and resorted to some very, very wild shooting from mid-court and seldom tried to work the ball in for crisp shots.

Coaches Turkey Hughes and Al Portwood watched their charges from the stands and although his varsity team defeated the frosh, Coach Hughes saw on the floor at least ten men who will be valuable next year in building a team. The frosh, while defeated, again demonstrated that as individuals they are good basketball players but contrary to custom failed to work together.

Big Ben Adams was particularly hot last night and in the first half accounted for five field goals, and added one more in the second half to run his total to six. Bill Melton accounted for five field goals and three of six foul shots to take high scoring honors with 13 points.

The Maroons scored 12 points before the Little Maroons scored and entirely dominated the play in the first half, holding a lead of 25 to 9 at the end of the first 20 minute period. In the second half the frosh played almost on even terms with the varsity, scoring 14 points to the upper-classmen's 15.

For the frosh Jimmy Vest got the most points, hitting five field goals, but Vest shot much more than anyone else, often blasting away from the center circle and on one occasion from even back of it.

Gillis Madden tried the long distance game in the last minute of play and connected twice on long ones as the game crept close to an end.

Seventeen of the 18 men who participated in the game last night will be available for varsity work next year, barring accidents, only Orland (Spooey) Lea, varsity sub, not being eligible next year. Lea is to be graduated in June after four years on the squad.

212 Madisonian Students at Eastern

Madison county students enrolled at Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College for the second semester outnumber students from any other county almost three to one, according to figures compiled at the business office of the college. Madison is represented at Eastern by 212 students.

Other counties having large representations are Pulaski 75, Clay 54, Estill 43, Whitley 34, Casey 31, Garrard 27, Owen 26, Owsley 26, Bell 24 and Harlan 24. Other states represented in the student body are West Virginia, South Carolina, Tennessee, Missouri, Indiana, Michigan, Georgia and Ohio.

A final tabulation of students for the second semester shows 1,580 in all departments of the college. Of this number 1,174 are college students and 406 are enrolled in the high school and training school. The present attendance of college students at Eastern exceeds last year's second semester enrollment by 232.

Dr. Donovan has announced that the new Weaver health building and gymnasium will be opened for classes on April 6 when the spring term begins at Eastern. This building, named in honor of Charles F. Weaver of Ashland, Ky., a member of the board of regents, will provide every facility for teaching physical education and health, and includes a modern swimming pool of official size, as well as two gymnasiums, handball courts, wrestling and boxing rooms, class rooms and laboratories.

STRONG TEAMS IN 7TH REGION

Tournament to be Held Here Will Bring Leading Quintets Together

USE MADISON HI GYM

The Seventh Regional basketball tournament, which year after year brings together the best group of basketball teams in the state, this year seems to be no exception and unless the same thing happens, this year that happened last, the victors crowned here Saturday will have an excellent chance to meet in the finals of the state tournament at Lexington.

Last year Hazard and Carr Creek were the best teams in the state in their respective classes with London not far behind Hazard in the Class A division. But Hazard and London battled it out in the first round, both teams being extended to the limit, and Carr Creek and Hazard fought to a finish in the finals, taking a lot from the finalists and started them both on the way to become state for the state meet.

This year the old reliables, Hazard, London, and Carr Creek are here, as strong as ever, apparently, and another threat from the mountains is with them—Benham High School—a team of big fast fellows who have everything that a championship basketball team should have.

Then there is the local quintette—the Madison High School Royal Purples, a clever aggregation that may upset the dope bucket and be found right in the running for the regional title. Should the Purples decide to return to their early season form and play the kind of ball they played against Kavanaugh and Millersburg Military Institute they will have a fighting chance to turn the tide in their favor.

While Carr Creek stands supreme in the minds of the fans when the class B title is spoken of, there are two other teams from the mountains which may upset the Creekmen and win a big name for themselves. They are none other than Burning Springs and Hazel Green. Hazel Green had a fine team last year and with a little more luck would have eliminated the Creekmen.

Although little interest is manifested in the girls division of the tournament, the Hazard girls and White Hall girls, respectively Class A and Class B regional champions last year, are expected to repeat. The state champions of Hazard have another powerful team playing the same style of basketball played by boys.

However the other Class A teams in the girls division, Corbin, Barbourville and Wallins, are strong aggregations and may give the champions all they are looking for in the course of play. Each of the other teams will be pointed for the Hazard team while Pat Payne's girls will not be able to point for anyone.

Although White Hall is favored in the Class B division Hazel Green has a strong girls team, but Combs and Red House are not as strong as the two teams in the upper bracket. White Hall whipped Red House, 18 to 5, in the district finals here and Combs was eliminated by a top-heavy score in the finals at Hazard.

With Gayle Mohny and T. E. McDonough working the games, the tournament is sure to be very efficiently officiated. These two, with Fred Koster, worked the Kentucky Intercollegiate Tournament at Winchester in a highly commendable manner and both are known throughout the state as men able to keep the game going at a fast pace and yet prevent its becoming rough.

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the tournament Friday morning. The court at Madison High gym, where all games will be played, has been newly marked off. Large mats for the ends under the baskets were purchased last week and offer protection against injury to the players.

The trophies have been purchased and are on display. The programs are in the process of being printed so as to be ready for distribution on the opening day. The tickets are ready and minor details are being arranged rapidly so that when the whistle blows for the opening game Friday morning there will remain nothing to be done.

The indications are that capacity crowds will be in the gym for both night and afternoon sessions and everyone is working to make this tournament the most successful regional tournament held by Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College in the history of the tourney.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP

Men can never escape being governed. Either they must submit to govern themselves or they must submit to being governed by others. If from lawlessness or fickleness, from folly or self-indulgence, they refuse to govern themselves, then most assuredly in the end they will have to be governed from the outside. They can prevent the need of government from without only by showing that they possess the power of government from within. A sovereign cannot make excuses for his failures; a sovereign must accept the responsibility for the exercises of the power that inheres him; and where, as is true in our Republic, the people are sovereign, then the people must show a sober understanding and a sane and steadfast purpose if they are to preserve that orderly liberty upon which as a foundation every republic must rest.

—THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Hear Dr. Schlieb in Chapel Talk

Dr. Anna A. Schlieb spoke in chapel at Eastern Teachers College recently, telling of her experiences in Vienna, Austria, and her studies at the University of Vienna which she attended during the past year.

Dr. Schlieb explained that Vienna is the world's greatest medical center and that the University of Vienna is one of the oldest schools of its kind in the world. It was the second university to be established and the modern university is derived from it. Some slides of scenes in Vienna were shown to supplement the address.

In speaking of the University of Vienna, Dr. Schlieb said: "The faculty is primarily concerned with the scholastic attainments of the students and is not interested in what the students do outside the lecture room. Most of the social intercourse is through the many fraternities and clubs on the campus. Most of these organizations are political. One becomes a member of them not by invitation, but by application. A requirement for membership in one of the fraternities is to have engaged in at least five duels, but the Austrian and German boys think nothing of fighting duels. They do not think it as dangerous as our game of football."

Dr. Schlieb emphasized the fact that American scenery is just as beautiful as that of Europe, but seems so different because it is a realization of seeing what we have read about.

In telling of Vienna, Dr. Schlieb told of the many distinguishing features which made the city so different from others. Among these features were the location of the city, its cleanliness and civic pride of the people, the playgrounds of over 5,000 acres (the Wiener Wald), the customs of the people, their use of leisure time, the hospitality of the people, and the quaint old coffee houses that are found on every square of the city.

Dr. Schlieb dwelled at length on the economy practiced by students at University of Vienna. Dr. H. L. Donovan presided at the exercises.

WE SOMETIMES WONDER

What Miss Roberts will do when she runs out of suggestions. What Bob Davis would do if all of Eastern's blondes would dye their hair, or pharmacists should stop selling peroxide.

How all of the old maids at Eastern would entertain themselves should the library burn down.

What kind of a medal Joe Bender would deserve if he got to class on time—just once.

How the student body of Eastern could possibly repay the Board of Regents should they grant the much-needed Spring Vacation.

How Allington Crace is going to amuse himself after these seven long years at Eastern.

Who in Memorial hall has nerve enough to steal Erma's picture from Sam Routenberg's room.

Why Jennings Jackson has decided to attend chapel this semester.

What Blanche Wimple's idea was in trying to establish a dog kennel in her room.

Why Bill Ramsey suddenly decided to remain in school for another term.

Who Mr. Van Peursem will take to the next dance since Miss Lowry has returned.

The affirmative debaters of the Model High debating team went to Beattyville to debate that team on March. The local team was represented by Henry Baugh, Wilma Bond, Lucille Case.
