LIGHTER VEIN

Every now and then you meet someone that in the language of Walter Winchell, "Deserves an orchid." I met one at the Derby last Saturday. He was very unimposing, rather small, and looked as if he could have been anything from a lathe operator to a soda jerk.

After the Derby had been run, the crowd jammed the infield exits, making a hasty departure impossible. I happened to be one of those stationed to keep people from getting on the track. A well-dressed young man, who had obviously been overexercising the Derby Day prerogative of indulgence, suddenly appeared on the fence and demanded that I let him cross the track to cash in some winning tickets.

REGULATIONS

I told him that I was sorry, but he would have to wait to use the exit under the track. As soon as I told him this, he came back with a torrent of abuses that lasted for fifteen minutes. He called me everything I believe that there is to be called.

His language was of such a nature that all the women in the vicinity left as did some of the men. And when he had apparently exhausted his vocabulary, he decided to hit me with a beer bottle he had been waving about.

A FRIEND IN NEED

He drew back his arm as if to throw it when suddenly a hand shot out and grabbed the bottle. The owner of the hand proved to be the fellow mentioned in the first paragraph. He then picked up the drunk by the nape of the neck and shook him.

"Listen, you," he said, "if you try to start a fight with him, remember you have to do it over my dead body. You just haven't got brains enough to know he's only doing what he's been told to do, and that it's all for your own benefit."

"I just don't like the army telling me what to do and what not to do," replied the drunk.

"Well, if you had any sense, you'd thank God we still have an army to tell us what to do," said my civilian helper, and with that he dropped the drunk who lay on the ground where he fell.

MORAL:

That man made me feel good, made himself feel good, and the drunk as cheap as anyone could feel. He can have my orchid. As long as there are people around like that fellow, the old gray mare will always be what she used to be.

Pratt Art Exhibit

A display of commercial art from the Pratt Institute of New York City consisting of industrial design, illustration, and photography is now on exhibit on the second floor art gallery of the Fitzpatrick Fine Arts Building.

Women Name Sallee, Hedges WHRO Heads

KATHRYN SALLEE

In the elections held during the past week, Miss Katherine Sallee was named president of Burnam Hall and Miss Mary Emma Hedges president of Sullivan Hall for the W. H. R. O. for the year 1942-43.

The other election results are for Sullivan Hall: Beatrice Goins, vice president; Helen De Camp, secretary; and Elsie Holtzclaw, treasurer; for Burnam Hall: Evelyn Hunt, vice president; Margaret Hollyfield, secretary, and Frieda Cornelius, treasurer.

HEDGES

Miss Hedges, president-elect of Sullivan, is active on the campus as band sponsor, accompanist for the Men's Glee Club, and as a performer on both the piano and organ in many recitals. Her home is in Fort Mitchell, Kentucky, and her classification will be that of a senior next year.

SALLEE

Miss Sallee, president-elect of Burnam, was sponsor of Battery A of the ROTC in 1940, is now junior class representative to the Social Committee of the college and will take part in the Mother's Day program on Sunday. She is a member of Kyma and Home Economics Clubs.

Parents Invited to Attend Mother's Day Program

The students and teachers of Eastern have set aside Mother's Day, Sunday, May 10, as the one day of the year which they will devote entirely to the entertainment and happiness of their parents.

Petty and Heucke Are Awarded High Military Honors

William C. Petty and Walter E. Heucke of the advanced corps of the R.O.T.C. have recently been given outstanding honors by the United States Army.

Petty received word May 6 from the War Department that he had been selected as one of the five alternates for commission as Second Lieutenant in the regular army. In this Fifth Corps Area there are five principals and five alternates to fill five vacancies selected from the Honor Graduates of such schools as Culver, Indiana University, Purdue, and West Virginia University.

If one of the five principals fails to qualify for any reason, then Petty is in line for one of the five vacancies.

Walter Heucke has been awarded the Medal of the United States Field Artillery Association as the outstanding member of the First Year Advanced Class of Eastern. Heucke, a sophomore, is a native of Louisville, Ky.

The college sponsors many beautiful programs throughout the school year, but this one day promises to be one of the most effective of all. It is dedicated in loving appreciation to our parents wherever they may be, and to all Mothers everywhere.

PROGRAM

The program is scheduled to begin at 10:45 a. m. with a special Mother's Day service in the Hiram Brock Auditorium. The program, as the Social Committee under the guidance of Dean Emma Y. Case has planned it, is as follows:

Invocation—Katheryn Sallee. Scripture Reading—Jean Anthony.

Announcement of Day's Activities—Charleae Watkins.

Welcome Address—President W. F. O'Donnell.

Special Music by the combined College Glee Clubs under the direction of Mr. James E. Van Peursem.

Special Solos—Miss Ann Etta Simmons, Mr. Philip Corey.

Address, "Mother's Day"—Miss Pearl Buchanan, associate professor of English.

Benediction—Robert Greene. Henry J. Fitzpatrick, Jr., a senior from Prestonsburg, will preside.

At 12:30 p. m. dinner will be served in the college cafeteria. If any prefer to have a picnic dinner on the campus, they may do so, and ice water will be furnished for their convenience.

CAMPUS TOUR

Immediately following the noon hour there will be a campus tour conducted by the students. Every department of the college will be opened so that the parents may see the places where their children work and play.

At 2:30 p. m. in the Hiram Brock Auditorium, the college orchestra will give a concert under the direction of Mr. Van Peursem. Following the concert, the day's events will be completed with an informal social hour in the Student Union Building.

All students on the campus are urged to attend, even though their parents are not able to be present.

Senior Women Name May 19 For Banquet

Hilda Threlkeld Of Louisville Will Be Guest Speaker

The senior women of Eastern will hold their annual banquet in the Blue Room of the Student Union Building at 6:30 p. m., Tuesday, May 19, with the guest speaker being Miss Hilda Threlkeld of the University of Louisville.

Miss Susan Biesack, retiring president of the Burnam Hall section of the W.H.R.O., will preside at the dinner, the eighth of its kind given at Eastern. Miss Threlkeld, who is dean of women of the University of Louisville and state president of the A.A.U.W., will speak to the college women on "After College—What?"

Miss Vivian Weber is general chairman of the dinner. Those on the general committee are Rachel Johnston, Susan Biesack, Mary Stayton, Mary Gregory, Charlotte Haynes, and Edna B'Hymer.

Sophomores and freshmen should pay particular attention to the government ads on pages three and four of this paper.

Senior Ball Will Be Given Saturday, May 23, in Union

Root, Dunvant Will Attend Queen Fawbush In Season's Final Dance

The senior class will hold its annual spring ball on Saturday, May 23, from 8:00 p. m. until 12:00 p. m. in the Walnut Hall of the Keen Johnson Student Union Building with Jamie Thompson and his orchestra furnishing the music.

Miss Mae Fawbush of Benham, Kentucky, was chosen queen of the ball and will be attended by Miss Georgia Root of Corbin, Kentucky, and Miss Theda Dunavent of Harlan, Kentucky.

The senior class, at its last meeting on May 5, decided that the price of admission would be $1.50 for all men with or without escorts and that there will be no corsages.

A patriotic theme will be used for the decorations, including flowers, bunting, and lighting.

All profit from the ball will be put into defense bonds which in turn will be turned over by the senior class to the student loan fund to be used as it sees fit.

Bud Petty of Ashland, Kentucky, is president of the senior class and Dr. Thomas Herndon is its sponsor.

Graduation Speakers Are Announced

Bishop Abbott Speaks At Baccalaureate; Dr. Rockwell on June 2

The administration announced today that the official speakers for the baccalaureate and commencement ceremonies of the June graduation of 1942, would be Bishop H. P. Almon Abbott of Lexington, Kentucky, and Dr. Harry Rockwell of Buffalo, New York.

BISHOP ABBOTT

Bishop Abbott, a native of Halifax, Nova Scotia, completed his B. A. at Kings College, Windsor, and studied at St. Stephens House, Sewanee, Tennessee, besides graduate work in several colleges and universities both in Canada and England. For five years he was dean of Trinity Cathedral, Cleveland, Ohio; for nine years, rector of Grace and St. Peter's Church, Baltimore, Maryland; and for the past thirteen years, Episcopal Bishop of Lexington, Kentucky. He will deliver the baccalaureate sermon on May 31.

DR. ROCKWELL

Dr. Rockwell, a New Yorker, completed his A.B. at Brown University with graduate work at Columbia and New York State College for Teachers. After having served as instructor and principal in several high schools in the east, he became principal of the State Normal School at Buffalo in 1919 and then president of the State Teachers College at Buffalo in 1927. Dr. Rockwell will speak at commencement on June 2.

Joint Recital Will Be Given in Union On Wednesday, May 20

A joint recital of the pupils of Mrs. Blanche SeEVERS, Miss Jane Campbell, and Miss Brown Telford will be held in the Student Union Building on Wednesday, May 20, at 8:00 p. m.

Those scheduled to appear in the concert are as follows: Voice, Imogene Trent, Roberta Stevenson, Billy Lehman, Sarah Brooks, Anna Langdon, Ann Scott Maher, Martha Cammack, Nora Maser, Muriel Mattox, and Ann Etta Simmons; Cello, Joyce Smith; Piano, Roy Floyd.

"Trial by Jury" Will be Given Next Thursday

Eastern Glee Clubs Prepare for Opera; Students Are Soloists

The Madrigal Club and the Men's Glee Club of Eastern will present a one-act opera, "Trial by Jury," by Gilbert and Sullivan, on May 14, 1942, at 8 p. m. Solo roles will be taken by Ann Etta Simmons, Bud Petty, Buell Mills, Paul Brandes, Roy Gilligan, and Lewis Kilgus with Mrs. SeEVERS and Mr. Van Peursem in charge of the production.

PLOT

This light opera, dealing with English courts and their injustices, requires a chorus of bridesmaids, a jury or twelve men including the foreman, and an audience of spectators. The plaintiff, Miss Simmons, sues the defendant, Mr. Gilligan, for breach of promise and the case is satirically tried before a pompous English judge, played by Mr. Brandes. The counsel for the defendant, Mr. Petty, easily wins the jury and the foreman over to his side, while his client puts on quite an act for all concerned.

Lewis Kilgus as the usher attempts to keep order in the court by quieting the jury, spectators, and bridesmaids at the opportune times.

COSTUMES

The glee clubs have ordered wigs and robes for the main characters while the various choruses will appear dressed as near to the times as possible. Curtains will be used as the background to set the stage for the judge's bench, the jury box, and the witness stand.

Admission to the opera to be held in the Hiram Brock Auditorium will be 25 cents for both students and adults. Miss Vivian Weber has been put in charge of costuming and make-up for the presentation.

Win Regents Medals

Paul Brandes, senior, of Fort Thomas, Kentucky, was selected by the judges as the winner of the 1942 Regents' Medal Contest and will be awarded the gold medal at commencement time for his speech entitled, "We Live in a World." Second place went to Arnett Mann, Paintsville, Kentucky. Walter Heucke of Louisville was the third orator, his speech dealing with subsidation of athletics.

Jones, Trent Appear in Organ-Piano Recital

ERNESTINE JONES

IMOGENE TRENT

Eighth Edition Of Belles Lettres Offered for Sale

Twenty-One Students Have Work Accepted For 1942 Publication

The 1942 edition of Belles Lettres has been offered for sale by the Canterbury Club of Eastern for twenty-five cents per copy. Twenty-one different students have had their work accepted for publication and their original compositions of poetry, short story, or essay appear in the volume.

CONTRIBUTORS

Those whose works appear are Anita Beatrice Goins, Jacqueline Yavecchia, Dock Chandler, Russell C. Weingartner, Ruth Plaga, Gordon Rader, Lucille Hampton, Betty Strachan, Susan Biesack, Paul Brandes, Robert Conley, Mary Elizabeth Vaughn, Madge E. Jones, Jeanne Marcia Ruark, Constance Trusty, Arlena Turner, Emma Sams, Ann Tarlton Thomas, Katherine L. Williams, Natalie Murray, and Helen Ashcraft.

A prize will be awarded to the author of the best short story, to be selected by the members of the English faculty at Eastern. Copies may be purchased from any member of Canterbury Club or from Dr. Clark in his office.

V-7 Still Open

Enlistment of juniors, seniors, and college graduates in V-7 scheduled to close Friday, May 1, has been extended indefinitely by a Navy Department order issued during the last weekend.

Miss Ernestine Jones, pianist, and Miss Imogene Trent, organist, presented an unusual music recital in the Walnut Hall of the Student Union Building on April 26, 1942. This senior recital by the two music majors featured organ and piano duets, something rarely heard in this part of the country. Both of the young ladies appeared as soloists on their individual instruments and then presented four numbers together. The program ran as follows: Rhapsody.....Demarest Miss Trent and Miss Jones Sonata in D Major.....Mendelssohn Andante Andante con moto Allegro maestoso Miss Trent Waltz in C Sharp Minor.....Chopin Scherzo-valse.....Chapelier Miss Jones Melodie.....Wiegand Ravane.....Ravel-Staughton Adoration.....Borowski-Staughton Miss Jones and Miss Trent

Katherine Keighley To Teach Agnas Piano Pupils

Classmate Takes Over For Bride-to-Be

Upon the recommendation of Miss Catherine Agna, Miss Katherine Keighley of Oberlin College and Uniontown, Pennsylvania, has taken over Miss Agna's private piano pupils. Miss Agna left on Tuesday of this week to be married to Edward Barnes, formerly of Richmond and now in the naval reserve officers' school in Chicago, Illinois.

Miss Keighley graduated from Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio, in 1939 as a classmate of Miss Agna. From there she went to Uniontown, Pennsylvania, where she began giving private lessons. Her classes were very large and well attended. She plans to return to Uniontown after June 3 to resume her work there with her private pupils.

Renewed Faith

We had our faith renewed in human nature at the Kentucky Derby last Saturday. It was our first Derby and after all we had heard about the conduct of those attending, we expected the worst. And we were agreeably surprised!

As ROTC men we were responsible for controlling the crowd, keeping them within given boundaries. And, taking the whole day into consideration, we had very little trouble. Of the thousands of people that were there, most were extremely cooperative. We saw very little intoxication, and what we thought a minimum of drinking for the numbers present.

The crowd where we were acted like the Americans you read about, those who don't like to be ordered thoughtlessly but when given a sensible reply and the right approach will thoroughly cooperate.

Let's Use It

Now that spring has arrived at the campus again, we find ourselves wondering about that age-old question that we have editorialized on in the past—why isn't the campus open for college men and women during the late hours when they are allowed to go downtown to something distinctly less desirable.

It has always puzzled us why our young men and women are not allowed to walk around on the campus paths, use the swings, or sit on the steps during the springtime. Our surroundings here are certainly superior to many that can be found downtown and are frequented by both men and women. If we had a daughter in school at Eastern, we would certainly prefer her being up here on the campus than drinking a coke in a drug store or walking listlessly up and down Main Street or being somewhere less pleasant.

There are those who would abuse the privilege, yes. But they should be reprimanded. It is an old-fashioned idea that all of the world must suffer for the selfishness of a few. We here at Richmond ought at least to recognize that.

So we advocate opening up the campus walks and grounds to students to keep them up here on the campus rather than downtown or shut up in their rooms.

Unless You're Daniel Boone

Again we say that "Unless you're Daniel Boone," please don't make paths across the campus and please do not throw the paper cups from soft drinks along the sidewalks and in the gutters.

Nature must have been wonderfully beautiful before man came along to mar her with muddy roads and ramshacked houses. Our campus with the trees and shrubs is a good example of the perfection nature can achieve that is unequalled by mankind.

You've got plenty of nerve if you scratch the perfect canvas with some of your thoughtlessness. There are waste cans most places for you to put your paper. We would like to see one put somewhere between the Union and the Music Building for those who are walking downtown, but most any other place, there's one handy. Use them, please.

"Let no one say and say it to your shame That all was beauty here until you came."

MURRAY COLLEGE BUSINESS COURSE

Murray College, according to the latest edition of the College News, is planning to offer a business course during the summer quarter. This seems to be a current trend among colleges. It will be recalled that an announcement was made some weeks ago stating that Eastern was planning to include such a course in the schedule.

A TALE OF A CAT

From the Harvard Crimson comes the following epic in two installments.

CALICO CATS CATCH WIDENER WHIZZES AND STUMP EXPERTS

Experts at the University information bureau are at a loss to answer the queerest of queries they have received in a long time. "I have two calico cats," a lady from Lincolnville Beach, Maine, writes. "They are white, yellow, black and blue (or gray) as you might say. I have been told that the male is very rare and valuable. Can you tell me if this is so?"

Usually able to answer all such questions, the information office's consultant in Widener said that he knew of no such animal, except for "the one in Eugene Field's poem about the 'Gingham Dog and the Calico Cat'."

ANONYMOUS LADY SOLVES CAT MYSTERY AS OFFICIALS FAIL

Officials of the University office have been searching for 24 hours to find out about calico cats, in order to answer the query of the Maine woman who owns a pair. Although they discovered that the multi-colored felines are considered good luck charms, and presage riches in China, no details about the animals could be found.

The mystery was finally solved, however, when a lady, who did not divulge her name, but characterized herself as a "cat-fancier," phoned to inform the informers that the animals are rare, but not valuable. "They are half-breeds," she explained, "like mules."

CLIPPING

In a Massachusetts court, Mrs. Gladys Miller, suing for divorce, offered as evidence a full box of her hair which she said her husband had pulled out of her head.—Time.

THEY DID IT BEFORE BUT—
 The Tau Chapter of Beta Theta Pi at Wabash College initiated three girls into the fraternity in 1861. How times have changed! (Or have they??).

FATALISM

Mr. Whosit is my teacher,
 I shall not pass.
 He maketh me to expose my ignorance before the class;
 He causeth me to waste paper, drawing maps,
 For my grade's sake. Yea, though I study until midnight,
 I shall gain no enlightenment;
 For educational events bore me;
 The famed educators trouble me;
 Whosit prepares for me a low mark,
 My grades languish under;
 Surely "F's" and zeros follow me all the days of my life;
 And I shall dwell in the education class forever.

SEEN IN THE REC ROOM

With a wild yell he sprang behind a chair, threw it madly to one side and then flung himself under a table. For several minutes he lay there giggling and squirming. Then he dragged himself out, hitting his head on the bottom of the table, and cursing furiously, dashed across the room and dived over a divan. After a minute he crawled from behind it and stood up. "These blessed ping pong balls sure are hell to catch," he muttered.

There are to me two kinds of guys And only two that I despise:
 The first I'd really like to slam,
 The one who copies my exam;
 The other is the dirty skunk
 Who covers his and lets me flunk.

A bird in the hand is bad table manners.

Success has turned more heads than halitosis.

OPEN QUICK

(Dedicated to Paul)
 "What have you done?" St. Peter asked.

"That I should admit you here?"
 "I ran a paper," the editor said.
 "Of my college for one long year."
 St. Peter pityingly shook his head
 And gravely touched the bell.
 "Come in, poor thing, select a harp.
 "You've had your share of hell."

A visitor to E. K. S. T. C. on a certain Monday night was passing the Ad building and heard the singing of the Glee Club. He stopped to listen.

A college freshman was standing nearby admiring the sweet chirp of a cricket.

"What beautiful singing," suggested the visitor.

"Yes," said the boy, "they do it by rubbing their hind legs together."

Learning to hula is a crimp. You needn't attend a class. Just give a wiggle of the hip And be a shake-in-the-grass.

DERBY DAY . . . for Don Ameche, from 2 p. m. until 7:30 p. m.; for the ROTC, from 1 a. m. until 7:30 p. m. . . . beginning with some staying home because not enough room on the buses . . . ending with Sunday stragglers woefully returning . . . someone ask Argyle Lowe what he did all day . . . Joe Ballonis punching a drunk in the nose and Keuper with a torn collar and shirt . . . some guy slipping us a hot tip on Lady Roulette in the ninth . . . everyone picking out Dorothy Lamour in the crowd (she certainly changed every few minutes) . . . Prewitt Paynter and his mercurochrome countenance . . .

PARDON ME, SIR BUT YOU WILL HAVE TO STAY BEHIND THE FENCE . . . so much for some of the boys to right at the finish line . . . those nickel jackpots . . . dust and more dust . . . and that beautiful sun . . . poor Battery "C" on the back fence and practically everyone else on the finish line . . . people taking pictures . . . Bob Yeager in the Louisville Courier . . . at least one third of all the men present in some form of uniform . . .

STAY BACK FROM THE RAIL, PLEASE . . . just try to get over and see what happens . . . yes, these rubber hose DO hurt, bub . . . yes, lady, we're from Eastern College at Richmond, Kentucky . . . yes, sir, sonny, army life certainly is hard; why I was fighting at Aix-la-Chapelle—no, I wouldn't kid you . . .

THEY'RE OFF . . . and one-hundred thousand heads turn in the same direction . . . plenty of people losing money on Requested . . . cokes for the measly sum of 15c . . . and those straight backs in the school buses . . .

HOME AGAIN . . . would you go again tomorrow . . . some said sure and the others' remarks were censored.

It Might Be You

College Post Office
 Richmond, Kentucky,
 May 8, 1942

Dear Bill,
 It is May again in Kentucky and how often now I think of another May when you were here. Spring was tardy that year, but that very day it had burst upon an expectant world with unrivaled splendor. The violets lifted their modern heads, blinking reproachfully at the glaring sun and the deep fragrance of the lilacs was wafted thru the breeze as we strolled leisurely along.

We had been silent for awhile. It was not a strained silence. We felt humbly reverent when the world was so lovely. That night we were serious as we often were now. For as we saw the beauty of the world, a refrain kept ringing in our ears, "They are dropping bombs on England." And England must be beautiful in the springtime.

You broke the silence. It was then that you told me as we stood there in the twilight with the shadows closing about us. You had that determined look upon your face, and I knew you had thought it all out. There was no use for me to say anything.

You were going to Canada to join the R.A.F. For a moment I couldn't fully appreciate your words. You were leaving—leaving in the spring—they were dropping bombs on England. . . .

Suddenly I realized what you meant, and I knew you were right. We couldn't enjoy the spring here in America unless there was spring everywhere in the world. We had often talked of our ideals, but they are such glittering and abstract things. We were groping for something tangible, and you had found it.

YOU had taken your stand and were very brave about it. I tried to be brave, too, but I was only a woman and it was harder for me. I smiled though my lips trembled as I bade you adieu. You shouted as you boarded your train that you would be back for a stroll next spring. Neither of us believed it although we tried hard enough to. A wave of your hand and you were gone.

I was alone—and it was spring.

Tonight, Bill, you are dropping bombs on Europe. When I read of the bombing of Rostock, I thought, "He may have dropped some of those bombs. We are all in it now, Bill. America at last knows what you meant on that spring night so long ago when you said before we had spring in America, there must be spring throughout the universe.

I know what you meant now more than I possibly could that night. There isn't much else I can say, Bill, except "Goodbye and all the luck."

Love,
 MILDRED

Albino Abnormal Reveals Wonderful Class Situation

Albino Abnormal reveals the most sensational figures on class attendance ever to come before the public. Commentators, movie men, and Martin D— are all upset about it. LISTEN to this!

After consulting practically nobody of any importance and that woman in the blue dress at the Derby who was supposed to be Dorothy Lamour, the figures stand as follow:

Do You Like to Go to Class?
 99% . . . hell, no.
 and a stooge . . . it's positively scintillating (we purposely misspelled that, dope).
 and Tom Webb . . . I really wouldn't know, I go so seldom.

Do You Learn Anything at Class?
 a freshman . . . who me? I sleep.

a faculty member . . . how to tell a good excuse.
 a senior . . . seems to me I did, but I can't recollect.

two coeds . . . you meet the cutest fellows and what they can't teach you.

Do You Go to Class?
 Prewitt Paynter . . . class, shucks, what's that?
 Hazel Tate . . . that all depends on who the instructor is, kid.
 Mary Gratzler . . . I'm going to buy me a new alarm clock.
 88.34% . . . physically, yes; mentally, no.
 What Do You Think of Your Textbook?
 Elmer Graham . . . good way for the book store to make money.
 Vivian Weber . . . I always read them, but it doesn't seem to get me anywhere.
 Roy Kidd . . . I can quote 'em, but don't ask me what they mean.
 All the rest . . . It's a gyp.
 How Do You Like Your Instructors?
 Funny thing, but when they found out we were going to print this, we got narry an answer:
 Yours till Niagara Falls,
 Mabel
 P. S. We were only kidding.

MAROONED

Horses, Horses

with BOB RYLE AND ROY GILLIGAN

DERBY DATE:

It's a weird sensation to go all night without sleep and then stand in a broiling sun all day with only cheese sandwiches and apples for sustenance, believe us. It's definitely not constitutional. Besides, we were on the wrong horse. . . . Unusual sights to be seen around the Downs: Dr. Moore snoozing in the sun minus his shoes. . . . Practically the whole corps at the finish line for the Derby's end, Lord knows how they got there. . . . The smile on Billy Bradley's face as he collected on a wager from Captain Reeves. . . . Everybody becoming very, very sunburnt, including the Colonel, who we think takes the prize for red faces. . . . Shut out winning the Derby, upsetting our reckoning completely. . . . Ameche appearing for every race and disappearing into the Jockey Club Bar immediately afterwards. . . . The girl who we hope was Dorothy Lamour leaning languidly over the railing on the front row of the second tier of the grandstand. We wonder if she became field-glass conscious.

ORPHANED BY VALDINA ORPHAN:

We had the misfortune to be holding a place ticket on Valdina Orphan, who was beaten out by a whicker for second spot in a photo finish. Oh, well, it was close, anyhow. . . . The best we've heard to date, though, concerns a lad who was holding a couple of tickets on Devil Diver when the race ended. Now Devil Diver and Shut Out were a double entry and when you bet on one, you bet on 'em both. If Devil Diver had won, Shut Out bettors would have collected and vice versa. But this young chap aforementioned was blissfully unaware of this fact. And when Shut Out came in first and Devil Diver didn't even place he disgustingly tore up his tickets and cast them on the greensward.

CADETS LAMENT:

O, Gene Tierney, Fairest of de fair,
 I soched de stands fer de beauty of yer hair.
 I saw Ameche wit a peachie,
 And a chair fer which to seatcha,
 O, Gene, why weren'tcha dere?

APOLOGIES, JUST IN CASE:

We would like to state that anything similar to what one might call "off-color" humor which has appeared in this column has appeared purely because we, as a team, saw nothing radically wrong with it and considered it good fun. We're sorry if we've offended anyone or lowered any moral standards.

AND WE AIN'T LYIN':

The squirrels have taken to the trees,
 No girls are left to vamp us,
 No one has stayed,
 They're all afraid
 Of the dandy lions on the campus.

JIVE NOTES:

"Ooch-Ooch Agoonatahc," a sort of a double reverse, upside down version of the "Chattanooga Choo-Choo" is Woody Herman's latest contribution to the division of bounce numbers. . . . G. Miller's always good for a couple of top-notchers. This week they're "She'll Always Remember" and a new jump tune, introduced on the "Serenade" program the other night, entitled "Jeep Jockey Jump." . . . Our song double of the week (not to be facetious or anything like that) is "Don't Sit Under the Apple Tree When the Swallows Come Back to Capistrano." . . . It's thirty in the newsroom.

THANK YOU, EXTREMELY:

We're sure that we express the views of all the men in the dormitories when we display our gratitude for the sidewalk under construction across the drive by Cammack building. It's a heck of a thing on rainy mornings, crossing that muddy expanse. Many a lad has had difficulty when rushing to a first period class in navigating this sport and has ended up by speeding horizontally on his conscience all the way to the Ad. building.

FINIS:

We've said enough about the Derby, we guess. After all, it was just another horse-race. We've never seen such beautiful horse flesh, though. Gad, those animals could clip, believe us. A lot has been said about the grind and the long trip and the cheese sandwiches, but we're sure that every man who went was certainly glad he did. It's something to remember, something to put away in your memories to frighten your grandchildren with. It's over, however, and may we say let it rest in peace.

HOT SPOTS

Girl's School

by HELEN ASHRAFT

Derby Day in Kentucky and with the absence of the R.O.T.C. boys the campus looked about as empty as a girls' school. "WHAT THE DERBY DID TO ME."

Wally Smith: "I'm a dead man."
 D. T. Ferrell: "Nothing, I feel fine."
 Ellwood Lucas: "I ain't talkin'."
 Bill Bradley: "Those CHEESE sandwiches."
 Bumps Nelson: "Is my face red."
 Jack Loper: "I could sleep anywhere."
 Bill Mason: $5.80.

JUNIOR PROM

A number of former Eastern students were back on the campus for the Junior Prom. . . . Esther Dillman, '41 queen, returned to crown her successor. . . . She was accompanied by Billy McClurg as usual. Also, Dorothy and Ed Gabbard, Jim Brock, Vernon Kalb, and Tommy Mancho. Jamie Thompson's band—though not ultra—was plenty good.

WAR EFFORT

The school finally, we are glad to notice, is becoming war-conscious. This is largely due to the work of the Women's Defense organization on the campus. Those little placards that meet our eye at every turn aren't to be laughed at. . . . even if sugar was spelled 'suger' on one in the cafeteria.

FLASHES

A younger edition of the Trautwein family was here last weekend—just like Marilyn only a later model. Speaking of Marilyn, her old friend, "Fibber" was here also on furlough. Nobody quite understands exactly what happened in the Wynn Shriver-Helen Colvin and the Paul Houchell-Pat Griffith affairs but now it looks like Houchell and Colvin but definitely. We have never mentioned Grace Carol Meade, another one of those Ashland gals, and Jimmy Crigger, but they are one of the steadiest around. Ditto for Martha Cammack and Don Scott. This is a new one and is it mellow. . . . Blanche Trivette and Roy Gilligan walking around holding hands and looking just that way. Flash . . . Sue Biesack went out with a boy who popped her knuckles (now don't quote us) and she broke a blood vessel (blame the editor) in her hand. Bill Wayman says "Yes, I sure do go with Alice Kopenhoefer" and he isn't kidding from the looks of things. Our very best wishes to a marriage that we know could be nothing but a great success . . . meaning Bill and Alice (Kinzer) Stocker.

Maroons Meet Western Nine at 1:00 Saturday

Season's First Doubleheader With Hilltoppers Tomorrow

Tomorrow at 1:00 the rivalry between Western and Eastern will be revived again when their baseball teams square off for the first game of a doubleheader. The second game will start about one-half hour after the first ends.

Western comes to the campus with a very strong ball club led by their top moundsman, Earl Shelton. Coached by Ed Diddle of basketball fame, the Western lads have managed to be victorious in most of their ball games for this season. They will come prepared for the grudge battle and with determination to continue in the win column over Eastern teams. However, the Eastern baseball team seem to have the plurality of victories and this year's team seems equally determined to continue this domination.

In the first game the Maroons defeated Transylvania 14-4 on 12 hits and 3 errors while Transy hit safely 8 times and made 7 errors. This game, as indicated by the score and errors, was very haphazardly played. The errors were costly to Transylvania and gave to Eastern most of their runs although the Maroons did get some good hits.

GENE RALL

The brightest spot of the game was the pitching of Gene Rall, who struck out 14 batters. In the hitting department, Bartlett and Nonnemacher came through with 3 hits in 5 times at bat with Nonnemacher and Schuster hitting home runs.

BOX SCORE

Eastern's box score in the Transy game:

	AB.	R.	H.	E.
Nash, ss	1	2	0	0
Dorna, 3b, 2b	2	0	1	0
Nonnemacher, 3b, ss	5	3	3	1
Schuster, cf	5	2	2	0
Bartlett, lf	5	2	3	0
Babb, c	5	1	1	1
Rasnick, 2b	3	1	0	0
Balions, 3 b	1	0	1	1
Brady, rf	1	0	0	0
Crowe, rf	2	1	0	0
Garrett, 1b	2	0	0	0
Novakowski, 1 b	2	1	1	0
Rall, p	3	0	0	0

ERRORS

The second game against the University of Kentucky was much better to watch but again errors proved dominant. The University won 3-2 on three unearned runs as a result of 5 errors by Eastern. The game was a pitchers' duel throughout with the pitching odds in favor of Eastern's Rall, who allowed the Kentucky team only 5 hits and struck out 12 of their batters. Carl Akers was equally as effective against the Eastern batters, allowing only 3 hits and striking out 7 men. Schuster whiffed three times before he finally connected for a powerful home run with Rasnick and Rall connecting for the other hits.

Rall's effective pitching seems a definite factor in favor of Eastern and Coach Hughes is determined to find an infield and outfield to give him the support he deserves. The playing in Thursday's game will go a long way in determining the lineup for tomorrow's game.

BOX SCORE

Eastern's box score against Kentucky:

	AB.	R.	H.	E.
Nonnemacher, ss	3	0	0	1

Jenkins Resigns To Become Math Teacher for Navy

Another member of Eastern's faculty entered the service of the government when Dr. E. D. Jenkins resigned his post May 2 in order to become an instructor of naval mathematics.

Monday morning, May 4, Dr. Jenkins enrolled at the Aviation Ground School in Chicago. There he is to receive two weeks intensive training in specialized naval mathematics. When the course is completed, he will be transferred to one of the navy's subsidiary schools to take up his duties as an instructor.

Dr. Jenkins received his A. B. from Colgate University, and his M. A. and Ph.D. from Ohio State. While doing graduate work for the latter institution, he began his career as an instructor. Before coming to Eastern he was associated with the University of Kentucky.

Every Tuesday and Thursday night from 7 to 9 the gym will be open to juniors and seniors for recreational purposes under the direction of the Physical Ed Clubs. All seniors and juniors are cordially invited to participate.

Eastern's Track Team

Track Team Will Appear in Berea Meet

Particularly Strong In Field Events

Monday, May 11, the Eastern track team will journey to Berea to participate in the annual track and field meet for the members of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

Last year the track team placed second in the meet and this year's team seems to be an improvement over last year's team. The team seems especially strong in the field events with a scarcity of good runners. The meet is almost equally divided between the track and field events so Eastern should have a good chance of repeating last year's performance.

During the track meet there will also be held a tennis tournament among the representatives of the various colleges. Each school sends one doubles team and one singles player. The three representatives from here have not been chosen yet but will be chosen this weekend. Those trying out are Claude McSpadden, Harry Lucas, Harold Mills, Tommy Moberly and Bud Petty.

Track Team Places Second At Centre

Berea Takes First; Hosts Place Second

By BEN SANDERS

The Eastern Maroon track team, coached by Tom Samuels, traveled to Danville Monday, May 4, and brought home a second place in a triangular meeting which was won by the Berea Mountaineers with the host, Centre, finishing third. Berea scored 70 2-5 points, Eastern tallied 53 1-5 while Centre collected 40 2-5.

Berea won the meet in track events piling up 58 of their points. The Mountaineers took five of the eight track events and both relays.

As Berea dominated the track events, so did Eastern take command of the field events, the Maroon thinclads sweeping every first place in the six events.

FIRSTS

Taking the firsts for the Maroon school were Hudnall and G. Becker. In taking three straight field events the rang West Virginia freshman tossed the shotput 37 feet 9 inches, threw the discus 114 feet 9 inches and then sailed the javelin 161 feet 5 inches.

Sophomore Lloyd Hudnall took the pole vault, going over the bars at 10 feet, copped the high jump at 5 feet 10 inches and then leaped 19 feet 7 inches to win the broad jump.

Richards Secures Captain's Commission In Army Air Corps

Joining the parade of Eastern faculty members taking positions in the armed forces of the United States, Mr. R. R. Richards, assistant professor of commerce, has resigned his post here to receive a captaincy in the United States Army Air Corps.

Mr. Richards, who has had previous military training, was recommended for the commission by Captain George W. Norton, Knoxville, Tennessee, who is in charge of securing technically trained men to serve as officers in the Army Air Corps in the southeastern United States.

Mr. Richards passed his physical examination at Bowman Field, Louisville, Kentucky, and is to report to Miami Beach, Florida, May 30, where his duties will be those of an instructor of cadets who are taking flying training.

Soon after he expects to be transferred to Randolph Field, Texas, to take up similar duties.

The Greatest Air Army in the World
Needs Flight and Ground Crew Officers

NOW FOR COLLEGE MEN A NEW OFFICERS' TRAINING PLAN

★ New Deferred Service Plan Allows You to Continue Your Education ★

In the skies over America the mightiest air fleet in the history of the world is mobilizing for victory!

So fast is it growing that there is a place here — an urgent need here — for every college man in America who can qualify for Officer's Training.

The U. S. Army Air Forces need Flying Officers and Ground Crew Officers. And many of them must come from the ranks of today's college students — men who make their plans now for the necessary Aviation Cadet training.

Thanks to a newly created Air Force Reserve plan, men of all classes — aged 18 to 26, inclusive — can enlist for immediate service or continue the scholastic work required for graduation before being called to active duty.

You must meet the requirements for physical fitness, of course. In addition, you take a new simplified test to determine your ability to grasp the training. A college man should pass it easily.

$75 A MONTH DURING TRAINING

Those accepted who wish immediate duty will go into training as rapidly as facilities permit. As an Aviation Cadet, you are paid $75 a month, with subsistence, quarters, medical care, uniforms, equipment.

In 8 months you can win an officer's commission as a bombardier, navigator or pilot — and be well started on your way to serve America and advance yourself in aviation.

Three Enlistment Plans for College Men

Juniors—Sophomores—Freshmen
May Continue Their Education

1. A new plan allows Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen, aged 18 to 26, inclusive, to enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and continue their schooling, provided they maintain satisfactory scholastic standings.

All College Men May Enlist for Immediate Service

2. All college students may enlist as privates in the Army Air Forces (unassigned) and serve there until their turns come for Aviation Cadet training.

3. All college students may enlist in the Air Force Enlisted Reserve and wait until ordered to report for Aviation Cadet training.

Upon graduation or withdrawal from college, men will be assigned to active duty at a training center as facilities become available.

If the necessity of war demands, the deferred status in the Army Reserve may be terminated at any time by the Secretary of War.

The new Army Air Force Enlisted Reserve Plan is part of an over-all Army Enlisted Reserve Corps program shortly to be announced. This program will provide opportunities for college men to enlist in other branches of the Army on a deferred basis and to continue their education through graduation if a satisfactory standard of work is maintained. In case of necessity the Secretary of War shall determine when they may be called to active duty.

It is understood that men so enlisted will have the opportunity of competing for vacancies in officer's candidate schools.

This plan has been approved in the belief that continuance of education will develop capacities for leadership. (Reserve enlistment will not alter regulations regarding established R.O.T.C. plans.)

MANY BRANCHES OF SERVICE

There are also commissions awarded in ground crew service. College men particularly will be interested in the requirements for Armaments, Communications, Engineering, Meteorology, Photography. If you have engineering experience your chances of getting a commission are excellent.

As a Second Lieutenant on active duty with the Army Air Forces, your pay ranges from $183 to $245 a month.

ACT AT ONCE

If you want to fight for America, this is where your blows will count.

If you want the best training in the world, and years of solid achievement in aviation—the great career field of the future—this is where you belong. Your place is here—in the Army Air Forces.

If you plan to enlist immediately, start getting your necessary papers ready for the Aviation Cadet Examining Board when it meets in your locality. For complete information, see your Faculty Air Force Advisor. You can take your mental and physical examinations the same day you apply. Get further information now.

NOTE: If you wish to enlist and are under 21, you will need your parents' or guardian's consent. Birth certificates and three letters of recommendation will be required of all applicants. Obtain the forms and send them home today—you can then complete your enlistment before any Aviation Cadet Examining Board.

Eugene Keith Wins Coveted Ames Prize

Eugene D. Keith of Washington, D. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Keith of Eastern, was recently awarded the Ames prize by a special committee of Harvard University faculty men. The annual prize of $300 was divided again this year between Keith and George W. Heiden of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Keith recently left his studies at Harvard to enter the naval forces of the United States. Previous to that time, while at Harvard, he was third marshal of the senior class, former president of the Council, and editorial chairman of the Crimson.

The award is given each year to not more than three seniors who display the same qualities of sound character and leadership as were typical of Richard Glover Ames, '34, and his brother, Henry Russell Ames, '38. The two men were drowned in a vain attempt to save their father, who was washed overboard during a trans-Atlantic yacht race.

Hold Spring Retreat On May 15, 16, 17

On Friday afternoon, May 15, a group of young men and women will leave the campus for the annual Spring Retreat of the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. at Camp Daniel Boone.

After supper on Friday night, the group will convene for its first business session. Following camp-chats by the sponsors, Miss Mary Frances McKinney, Mr. Sam Beckley and Dr. J. D. Farris, a member of the group will lead a Candlelight Vesper Service.

Officers and cabinet members of this year will join with the newly elected officers and newly appointed cabinet members and with the sponsors in roundtable discussions and business meetings during the two and a half days of Retreat.

The purpose of Retreat is to renew Christian faith, foster fellowship within the cabinets, and plan a purposeful program of activities for the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. in the school year 1942-43.

SOCIETY

Le Cercle Francais held its annual picnic and last meeting of the year Thursday night, April 30, at the home of Mary Jo Leeds on Main street. At this time several new members were taken in, among whom were Sara Brooks, Esther Fucito, Betsy Smith, and Marginia Stevenson.

Born to Lt. and Mrs. Allen Zaring on Thursday, April 30, at Christ's Hospital in Cincinnati was a son, who has been named Allen Zaring, III. Lt. Zaring is at present stationed with the U. S. army in foreign quarters.

Alice Kinzer was the honoree at an informal surprise party given Monday night, May 4, in the recreation room of Burnam Hall by the girls of New Burnam Annex.

Doris Marcum because of illness has left school temporarily for her home in Salyersville, Kentucky.

The annual Baptist Student Union banquet was held at the Baptist church Friday night, May 1. The program consisted of an address by Rev. J. W. Schrader of Lexington, and musical renditions by Louise Garland and Lillard Luttrell.

At this time officers for the coming year were installed. They were: President, Lucy May Griggs; vice president, Naomi Dotsen; second vice president, Zona Daniels; third vice presidents, Clarence Benedict and Wilma Chestnut; secretary, Helen Durrett; and treasurer, Virginia Olds. Dr. Fred Engle presented awards to seniors and students who are not returning to Eastern next year.

Miss Katherine Morgan, secretary to President W. F. O'Donnell, is confined to her home in the Dunn apartments with a fractured ankle.

The Elementary Council closed its school year with a picnic on New State land farm Tuesday night, May 5. At this time officers for the coming year were elected. They were Clara Rose Riggs, president; Charlotte Schneider, vice president; and Ethel Slade, secretary and treasurer.

About twenty-five members of the Catholic Club enjoyed a picnic at Conrath Creek Mission on Sunday, April 26.

Photo Club Hopes To Continue Work During Summer

One of the newest of Eastern's campus organizations, the Photo Club, is responsible for many of the pictures contained in the snapshot section of the annual and for training Eastern men and women in the secrets of photography and hopes to continue its work through the summer.

Under the direction of Dr. La-Fuze, some twelve students joined together for the common purpose of learning how to take and produce good pictures. Aided by a laboratory at the home of their sponsor, these twelve took many pictures, developed their own negatives and made and enlarged their prints. Three hundred of the best of these were turned in to Frank Flanagan, editor of the Milestone, for use in the snapshot section.

Students use the limited equipment already on hand and purchase their supplies on a communistic basis. Most of the work this year has dealt with inside photography, how to set the camera and lighting for the best possible results.

MEMBERSHIP

Requirements for entrance into the club are a good scholastic standing, interest in photography, and resident work on the campus of at least one quarter.

Officers for the coming year are Katherine Williams, president; Kathryn Sallee, vice president; Jane Campbell, secretary; and Mary Ellen Wiley, treasurer. John Tollner has been put in charge of the summer work of the club and will work with those interested during the coming quarter.

DON'T QUIT COLLEGE

if you are 17 THRU 19 and want to become a Naval Officer!

You can serve your country best by acting on this new Navy Plan now!

YOU WANT to fight for your country! Are you willing to work for it? To toughen yourself physically? To train yourself mentally for a real job in the United States Navy? If you are, the Navy wants you to enlist now. You don't have to quit college. You can stay in college, continue your studies to prepare for active duty in the air or on the sea.

And your college will help you do it! In cooperation with the Navy, it offers all freshmen and sophomores who are seventeen and not yet twenty, special training that may win for you the coveted Wings of Gold of a Naval Aviation Officer or a commission as a Deck or Engineering Officer.

How to Become an Officer
To get this special Navy training, you enlist now as an Apprentice Seaman. Then you may continue in college, but you will include special courses stressing physical development, mathematics and physics. After you successfully complete 1 1/2 calendar years in college, you will be given a classification test.

Aviation Officers
If you qualify by this test, you may volunteer to become a Naval Aviation Officer. In that case, you will be permitted to finish the second calendar year of college work before you start your training to become a Flying Officer.

However, at any time during this two-year period, you may have the option to take immediately the prescribed examination for Aviation Officer... and, if successful, be assigned for Aviation training. Students who fail in their college courses or who withdraw from college will also have the privilege of taking the Aviation examination. Applicants who fail to qualify in this test will be ordered to active duty as Apprentice Seamen.

Deck or Engineering Officers
Those who qualify in the classification test and do not volunteer for Aviation will be selected for training to be Deck or Engineering Officers. In that case, you will continue your college program until you receive your bachelor's degree, provided you maintain the established university standards.

Those whose grades are not high enough to qualify them for Deck or Engineering Officer training will be permitted to finish their second calendar year of college. After this, they will be ordered to duty as Apprentice Seamen, but because of their college training, they will have a better chance for rapid advancement. At any time, if a student should fail in his college courses, he may be ordered to active duty as an Apprentice Seaman.

Pay starts with active duty. It's a real challenge! It's a real opportunity! Make every minute count by doing something about this new Navy plan today.
