ATHLETICS PROVE SUCCESS AT EASTERN

Co-ed Basketball Team Wins State Championship—Other Teams Show Real Form at Times

Taking all handicaps into consideration, the school year of 1924-25 from the standpoint of athletics has been quite a successful one at Eastern. The crowning event was the winning of the state championship by the girls' basketball team. Next was the work of the football nine in winning five of eight games played and the championship of eastern Kentucky.

The boys' basketball team showed flashes of real form while track and baseball teams are still in the field. Among the victories of the baseball nine are wins over the famous Centre College Colonels, of Danville, and over Lincoln Memorial University nine, of Harrogate, Tenn.

All of the coaching was done this year by G. N. Hembree, head of physical education for men. The track squad has been in charge of Manager Hart since Coach Hembree has had to work daily with the baseball squad. Mr. Hembree has contributed much to the success of the athletic teams and has really developed some excellent players.

The outlook for the future in athletics at Eastern is bright. This was the first year that Eastern has been a four year college and the first year that students have stayed for periods which extended over more than two years. This will help much in the future since each season Coach Hembree faces a task of whipping together a winning team from half green material.

Then, too, students are coming to Eastern in larger numbers. With this increase will of course be more athletes. Each year the boys from the mountain sections have improved. Those who have learned football and basketball here, that is most of them, have developed into star players.

At the beginning of each sport season a call for candidates is issued which are usually answered by a host of men, everyone of whom is allowed to play on some kind of a team. In football and baseball Coach Hembree has been able to equip every man who wants to try for positions on the teams. In basketball the squad was forced to be cut but those who did not make the grade were played on class teams or in physical education classes. Every man has had a chance to show his worth which means something in a college the size of Eastern.

At the start of the basketball season a class tournament was held for the girls from which Coach Hembree picked his varsity material. The class teams were continued and a tournament was held after the regular season had closed. In the 1925 season Eastern's girls did credit to the college and justly deserved the state championship.

In the future even more time will be devoted to athletics. Eastern will soon rank with some of the best teams in the south if athletics here continue on the up-grade. The University of Kentucky has only varsity teams that Eastern has not met within the past few years. Centre, Transylvania, Georgetown and Kentucky Wesleyan are all on the schedules of the Eastern teams. Numbers of teams from out of the state are also played.

An even more successful year in athletics is predicted for Eastern in 1925-'26. All efforts possible will be bent in that direction.

Helen: Yes, it is at my room, and you'll have to come after it.

BOYS BASKET BALL PROGRESSING HERE

Although they won but five of 18 games played the Eastern boys' basketball team of 1925 tackled the hardest net schedule Eastern has ever before undertaken and did this with a team composed of freshmen and sophomores.

Some real form was shown in several of the games. A 29 to 28 victory over Transylvania was a season feature. Morris Harvey College, of Barboursville, W. Va., was among the other defeated teams. Eastern also played Berea to a standstill in all parts of the game with them. Berea shared the state title with the University of Kentucky.

A much better showing is expected next season with all of the players having the advantage of one year's experience. The 1925 captain was Marshall Hurst, of Richmond. He and Beckham Combs did the guarding for the most of the season. Talton Stone led the team in scoring with 171 points to his credit. Hampton scored 121, Jones 83, Clouse 52 and Higgins 29.

A schedule just about as strong as the one of 1925 will be attempted during the coming season of 1926. The freshmen and sophomores who played on this team should be in shape by next year to make Eastern's varsity a real one. It is quite likely that quite an improvement will be made over the boys basketball team in the coming season.

Real form was shown at times during the past season but the team did not seem to be able to hit their stride consistently. Coach G. N. Hembree also had charge of the boys basketball team which he has developed very much in his five years coaching here.

MISSES K. E. A.

Friends were unusually sorry to learn that Mr. Neikirk, popular student here, was unable to attend the meeting of the K. E. A. on account of the illness of his three children. The little fellows contracted the flu and kept Mr. Neikirk in Richmond. They are much better now and are able to be out.

EASTERN CO-EDS ARE STATE CHAMPIONS

Series of Comebacks Means State Title To Eastern Girls Who Won 10 and Lost Three Games

The 1925 co-ed basketball team from Eastern won the state championship by a series of brilliant victories in the latter part of the season when they came back after a rather disastrous start. The feature of the season was the annexing of two games from Transylvania College who was touted for the championship of Kentucky before the start of the season.

The Eastern girls five gained recognition over the state. Several coaches and sport writers in selecting all-state teams named three Eastern girls. Norris Royden, editor of the Lexington Herald, the coach of the Georgetown College coach named on the all-state team three Eastern girls who are Miss Leonor Butler, center; Miss Kathleen Harmon, forward, and Miss Goldie Mauney, guard. These three girls played brilliantly all season and deserved the honor which was accorded them. These three girls with Miss Jennie Witham at the other guard and Miss Edna Hatfield at forward completed the state championship quintet.

The Eastern girls did not win every game they played but managed to defeat every team they played and did not drop a single series. All of the teams which won from Eastern were later defeated. The Eastern girls had an exceptionally hard schedule which included all of the stronger teams in the state except the University of Louisville, which Transylvania defeated and in turn was beaten twice by Eastern girls. Their record showed 10 games won and three lost. No other college team in the state was able to match this record.

During the year Eastern girls ran up a total of 259 points compared to 130 for their opponents. Only one more point was needed by Eastern to double the season's score over their opponents. Captain "Johnnie" Harmon led the scoring with an even 100 points. Miss Hatfield, the other forward, scored 41 points. Miss Butler, at center, made a total of 81 points. Under modified boys' rules which were used by the college teams in the state the center was the only player allowed to run the entire floor which made Miss Butler's work all the harder. The

K. E. A. SESSIONS ARE COMPLETE SUCCESS

Honor Awarded President C. A. Keith, of K. E. A., for His Work in Connection With the Programs

(By Staff Correspondent)

The 54th Annual Convention of the Kentucky Educational Association, which was held in Louisville, April 22-25, reached the largest membership in the history of the organization, and was favorably commented upon for the dignified, business-like procedure of the general sessions, as well as for the filling of every speaking engagement by the speaker previously appointed.

President Charles A. Keith, of this College and the students who worked so manfully to convince the present and prospective teachers of the state of Kentucky, that this organization's working for the good of themselves and the children of the state, were more than gratified to learn that the present membership of 8,532 excels by 1,230, or more than any former membership of the organization. The fact that the Eastern Teachers' College went over the top 100 per cent, and to the number of 1,000 members, has, without doubt, been a deciding factor in this matter.

That the attendance at the general sessions was the best in the history of the organization was attested to by several members of long standing. The auditorium was crowded for standing room both morning and evening programs. The crowd was orderly, quiet, and attentive, the speakers commented upon the splendid attention given them. Letters, telegrams, and word-of-mouth messages conveyed to the president, such congratulations as the following:

"The best conducted meeting ever held." "The largest, most orderly, and the best-behaved crowd that has ever attended." "Sessions started on time." "Remarkable convention, in that every speaker filled his engagement, at the time mentioned, and not one absent." "The best meeting in ten years, and one of the best ever held." "Congratulate you on the absence of long introductions of the speakers." "The dignity of the presiding officer was most acceptable toward a more cultural atmosphere."

The convention opened at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, with the excellently rendered cantata, "Pan on a Summer Day," given by 150 boys and girls from the Covington schools. Doctor Mimms, of Vanderbilt University, followed this by an address in which he made a strong appeal for clear, logical thinking, saying that "the educated man or woman is under as great an obligation to think straight as he is to live straight."

The President's address of Thursday morning, on "Kentucky, Her Youth and Her Future," was a direct, sincere statement of the State's duty to her children along education lines.

The Eastern banquet, held on Friday evening, was well attended. The tables were beautifully decorated with red and white carnations, sent by the faculty and students of Eastern who could not be there in person. The responses were short and interesting. President Keith, dwelt upon the strenuous banquet programs, and rushed off to attend the second one before the evening session began at 8 o'clock.

H. L. Donovan, now of the Peabody faculty, but formerly of Eastern, spoke on the need of the Kentucky schools preparing themselves for the teachers who are to enter them. Mr. Donovan said that the first problem of Kentucky had been that of preparing teachers to

GILBERT WINNER IN ORATORY AT LONDON

The Eastern Kentucky Oratorical Association held its annual contest at Sue Bennett Memorial School at London, Friday, May 1. All schools in the association were represented except Cumberland College and Asbury College.

W. S. Gilbert, of Eastern, won the medal in oratory. His oration, "The Appalachian American," was a strong appeal to the mountain men and women now in school to solve the problems of the mountain folk by returning to the mountain sections as doctors, lawyers farmers, teachers or leaders in other occupations.

The other contestants in oratory were J. Kye McLaugherty, Berea; W. E. Flanery, Morehead, and F. E. Swamer, London.

The medal for the declamatory contest was won by Miss Catherine Cramer, of Morehead State Normal. The other representatives in the contest were: Dorothy McBrayer, Eastern; Edith Hull, Berea; Thinzia Quinlan, Sue Bennett School, and Bernice Humfleet, Union College.

The judges were Supt. Babb, of Mt. Sterling; Supt. Birkhead, of Winchester, and Supt. Evans, of Corbin.

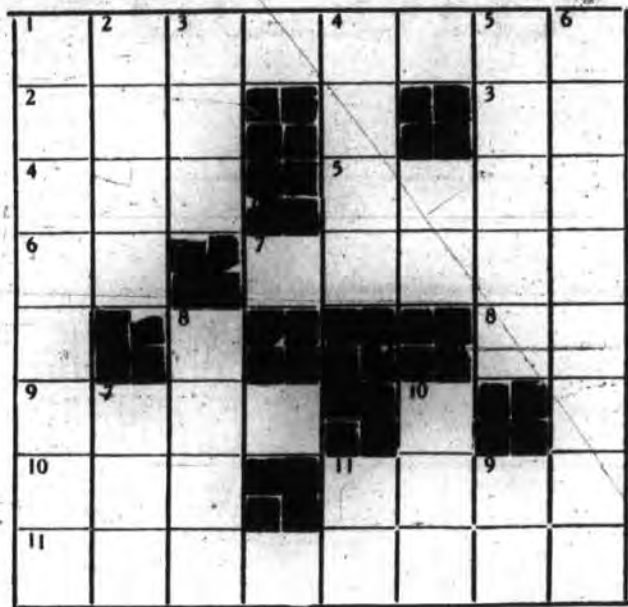

At the business session following the contest Eastern was chosen as the place for the next contest the first Friday in April, 1926. Mr. C. Touchstone of Sue Bennett, was chosen president of the association, and Miss Pearl Buchanan, of Eastern, secretary.

COMMENCEMENT SERMON MAY 24

The baccalaureate sermon of the 1925 graduates of Eastern will be delivered on the evening of Sunday, May 24, at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. Rutherford E. Douglas, of Middlesboro. He will speak to a graduating class numbering 150.

Doctor Douglas is a graduate of old Central University which once occupied the campus of Eastern. He graduated in the class of 1884 after spending four years in Richmond as a student. He married Miss Annie Letcher, daughter of the late Col. W. R. Letcher, of Richmond. She will accompany him here with her daughter. They will be guests in the home of Col. H. B. Hanger here during commencement.

NORMAL DEPARTMENT IMPORTANT COG HERE

Although Eastern has recently grown into a four year college and attracts many more college students than formerly, the Normal students compose a large part of the present mammoth student body and make many valuable contributions to the general welfare of the institution.

A recent investigation discloses the fact that more than 500 students of Normal standing are now enrolled. This vast number have shown evidences of school and professional spirit by the unstinted support they have given the literary societies and to all other extra curricular activities. They have become so enthused over society work that one society could not accommodate the multitude seeking admittance and it became necessary to organize two extra societies, the Platonian and the Utopian. Thus there now exists on the campus three societies designed to give training to Normal students. The majority of these enthusiastic workers were not content with alliance with one organization, but sought membership with several others. The Henry Clay Debating Club, the Little Theatre, the Men's Club and the Country Life Club all boast that they have on their roll many students identified with the Normal department. In all these organizations the Normal students are not contented by following the line of least resistance but are always striving to do the lion's share of the noble work.

In addition to the splendid support given to the social phases of school life, the Normal matriculees have also furnished valuable material for all branches of athletics. Each year marks the appearance on the various squads, of several sterling Normal performers on whom depends the task of holding aloft the athletic torch carried in former years to such noble heights by Eastern's warriors.

ALUMNI NOTES

A member of the class of '23 who is doing splendid work as principal is W. D. Dunaway, who is located at Hardlebury, only a few miles from Hazard. The numerous offices he held in the different organizations while at Eastern speak for themselves of Danley's popularity.

He was business manager of the Little Theatre Club. Many good stories and enthusiastic advertisements of the Mileston and Progress emanated from the journalistic ability of Dunaway, who handled so well that branch of advertising. Dunaway is making one of the best and most capable principals that Eastern has sent out.

A most capable and conscientious teacher in the Theodore Roosevelt School in Louisville is Miss Blanche Jayne, who graduated from Eastern in '24. Miss Jayne was secretary of the Senior class last year. Report comes that she is doing excellent work in the field of teaching. In addition to the duties of teaching she is enrolled in a class in the Louisville Normal. Miss Jayne plans to work this summer toward her degree at the University of Kentucky or Peabody.

Mrs. Cecile Ellis and sister, Miss Corinne Arthur, both of the class of '24, are teaching at Lakeland, Fla.

Miss Flossie Mae Green '24, is teaching at Van Lear, Ky.

Miss Mary Bradshaw is teaching at Whitley City, Ky.

Miss Mary Vance Day '24, has been visiting Miss Sue Chenault.

Miss Virginia Rominger was a recent visitor on the campus.

EXTENSION WORK ON INCREASE HERE

Home study and correspondence work are certainly finding a welcome with the students of Eastern who are out in the field teaching. Eastern students are wide-awake and eager to prepare themselves for better work so they are availing themselves of the opportunity of making credits while they are teaching and can not be in school.

The enrollment in the Correspondence Department at Eastern is always lower in April than any other month on account of the large number of students who are able to enter school for residence study.

However, April, 1925, shows the following increases over the same month for 1924:

	1924	1925
Number enrolled	12	17
Courses taken	12	22
Lessons sent in	435	560
Fees paid	$109.50	$212.85

This department enrolls more students at the close of semesters when students are leaving here to begin teaching. The enrollments for June, July and August of last year were well over the 50 mark. R. Dean Squires, Director of Extension, believes that many more than ever before will enroll this year.

Mr. Thomas R. Webber has been visiting his daughter, Marion, this week.

COUNTRY LIFE DOES SPLENDID WORK

(By John Jennings)

When the Country Life Club met to elec officers for the present semester, the members exhibited tact in selecting as president, Mr. Manford Craft, who has been ever faithful in discharging his duties. He has never failed to be present to preside at the regular meetings. Mr. Thomas Eversole has made good as first vice-president, Miss Lucile Huffman and Miss Minnie Hale are due much praise for their excellent services to the organization.

Mr. Ira Bell has been at his post as sergeant-at-arms throughout the semester. Miss Aileen Duly has met the responsibility of song leader in furnishing the best music for the club at all meetings.

On last Wednesday evening one of the best programs of the year was rendered. The principle business was that concerning a social in the near future, which was passed upon. The chair was empowered to appoint a committee to take care of all preliminaries. When these preparations have been properly arranged the members will be notified of the date set for this particular occasion.

The first number of the regular program was a discussion of the "Reaction of Commerce," by John O. Sims. He made the subject very interesting. This number was followed by music offered by a string quartet, Messrs. Chadwell, Gay, Tudor and Leonard. Mr. Kendall Conley addressed the club on the subject, "Equality Before the Law." Although the time for the speaker was limited, he made many high points in the legal development, pictured the branches of law, told how the protection of the individual was preserved as compared with earlier times, and explained the reforms in a general way that have made this protection more liberal in favor of the individual.

The club is making plans to extend its work through the summer terms.

STUDENTS PROMINENT IN EASTERN AFFAIRS

Students at Eastern are doing more and more for themselves. In the first place this paper is published entirely by members of the student body, some of whom are elected and others appointed. Of course the Progress has a faculty advisor who is very active.

The girls of the institution have just voted to have student government which will be a great step in the progress of Eastern. The Milestone is put out through the efforts of the students. Strictly student organizations abound on the campus in great numbers.

All that a prospective student wants to do is to find out just what line of work he wants here and take part in organizations where this will be done. The Progress is a striking example of the many organizations on the campus which are strictly student affairs. These are on the increase every year.

Miss Maude Gibson spent the week-end in Cincinnati.

Miss Lucille Thomas spent Saturday in Lexington, shopping.

MEN'S CLUB HAS FINE PROGRAM

An interesting meeting of the Men's Club was held on Monday evening, April 27, with Mr. Gilbert presiding. The program committee arranged for a parliamentary discussion, which was entered into freely by every member of the club. Many puzzling problems were threshed out in these discussions.

The club believes it has many members that will some time in the future be excellent leaders in not only the field of education but in other fields of service, and will appear at many a public assembly where matters of important business are being transacted. This excellent drill here may in this way benefit the public in some time of emergency when those even taking the advantage of this practice will expect it.

The presiding officer shifted the work in a very complimentary manner, and is worthy of congratulation on the ability he exhibited on this particular program. It is regrettable that the end of the semester is so near when the valuable programs offered by the club will be passed asid for ohr work, which will be carried on through the summer as has been stated in an earlier issue of this paper.

Plans are being made to extend the work of this organization.

Misses Mae Waltze and Carynne Lowe were the guests of Miss Waltze's parents in Lexington this week-end.

PROGRESS OF EASTERN REVEALED BY STUDENT

(By A Student)

"Acquire wisdom, real wisdom! which inspects, discerns, compares, weighs, separates, infers; seizes the right and holds it to the last."—Young
 There were three wise men in Kentucky who journeyed from the North, the East and the West. Led by a vision far into the future they came to the campus that was once the home of old Central University.

Other Kentuckians had dreamed dreams and by legislation had made possible a teachers training school there. A small school it was and they needed a real man for its leader. Dr. Ruric Neville Roark journeyed from Clark University to become its first president in 1906. So came the first wise man and the school prospered and grew.

In 1910 Dr. J. G. Crabbe, the second wise man began his journey that led to Eastern. He came with a wealth of experience, personal ability and devotion to the cause of education. As president, his vision made greater things possible and gradually that same school became bigger and better.

The third wise man is the present president, T. J. Coates, who has guarded the interests of Eastern since 1916. This third wise man is president of a Teachers' College granting its first baccalaureate degrees this year, . . . a college it is, full grown at nineteen years; a standard college, despite its youth; a college with equipment and faculty sufficiently strong to compete with the best of schools; a college with a future for itself and all Kentucky; a monument to those who dreamed the dream of its making; a lighthouse to those who shall in the future dedicate their lives to the cause of education in Kentucky; a project so carefully directed by these wise men as to claim the admiration of all.

Far into the future gleams the light to guide all "would-be-wise-men." To them we fling the challenge of service to Kentucky—a service loyal to Eastern.

ROARK SOCIETY DOES FINE WORK

Adhering to the unselfish service creed of its founder, the Roark Literary Society continues to encourage and support measures which make for the improvement and betterment of all Eastern. The Society is one of the oldest and most stable organizations on the campus. It helps to serve as a model for imitation and as a steady-going course for the other virgin groups.

Recently the Roarkites became so bold as to issue debating challenges to all the college societies, only one of which was accepted and that by the Horace Mann. The Roark programs afford such thorough and valuable training that their representatives are classed as unequaled and unsurpassed, and although the college entries might have the advantage on experience and training the Roark exponents promise to furnish dangerous opposition.

At the regular meeting of the Society, April 30, one of the most interesting programs of the year was given when all the members responded nobly and brilliantly. At the conclusion the members disposed of a debating challenge by accepting the one hurled by the Platonian Society. After accepting the invitation of the president to use the chapel period May 8, in the rendition of a program, the society adjourned.

ANNUAL FIELD MEET TO BE HELD MAY 25

This year the annual track and field day for both the men and women of Eastern will be held Monday, May 25 on the athletic field. This is a great annual event in which a large percentage of the students take part. Last year every girl who took a physical education class was included in the activities.

On field day all of the usual track events are held. Dashes, runs and all kinds of contests are held. The broad jump, high jump, pole vault and hurdle races are always successful.

Miss Ruth Perry, head of the physical education department for women and Coach G. N. Hembree, will have charge of the handling of field day. It is planned to make it a great occasion. Prizes and medals will be awarded to the winners. Quite a number of students are already training for the coming events.

Mr. Claud Hood is ill.

GREETINGS

"Best wishes from us who stayed at home. We are with you twelve hundred strong. Expecting great things."

That telegram to President T. J. Coates, who was toastmaster at the Eastern banquet in Louisville during the K. E. A. shows the school spirit at Eastern. Nor was that all. To back up the message the collection plate was passed and flowers were sent for the banquet by the students and teachers who did not go to K. E. A. But they met classes according to the same old whistle and work moved along at a rapid pace.

This is the school spirit meant in the charms of one of Eastern's songs.

"Teachers College, Teachers College,
 Ever true are we
 This the pride of all Kentucky,
 Hail to old T. C."

K. E. A. SESSIONS ARE COMPLETE SUCCESS

fill the many schools of the state, but that now the problem had turned itself about; the present education of the teacher being on a higher level, for rural schools, than it had formerly been for schools of higher training, and that the schools would, necessarily, have to reach a higher level in salaries, equipment and other advantages before they could expect to get and keep the well equipped teacher on the job. The speaker also referred to Eastern in a way which added to the bond of love already existing. He reminded us of the old adage, "Tis better to have loved and lost, than never to have loved at all," and restated it as, "Tis better to have once been at Eastern, than never to have been there at all."

The R. O. T. C. band of the University of Kentucky, which opened the program on Friday evening, won the hearts of the audience by their splendid spirit, and rendition of the numbers given. Their director, Sergeant John J. Kenned, also did this. "The Passing of Empiricism," by John Haward Payne, superintendent of the Richmond schools, was a timely address, given with all the force, directness and eloquent presentation for which Supt Payne is noted. It showed great care in both preparation and presentation.

The outstanding address of the week was that of Tom Skeyhill, poet, author, soldier and writer. Mr. Skeyhill is a clean-cut, energetic young Australian, 25 years of age, whose engaging personality, friendly attitude, lovable characteristics and enthusiasm quite disarm criticism of any kind, and puts one and all in an attentive mood the moment he appears on the stage.

The subject of the address was, "The New Renaissance in Europe," and the long, broad, sweeping strokes in which Mr. Skeyhill painted the picture, showed a thorough acquaintance with history both past and present as well as the ability to think clearly and logically. Mr. Skeyhill predicts not a necessary decline and destruction of the present civilization, as do the older men of former power, but the passing away of the old order of the New Democracy, and the passing of world powers into the hands of the inquiring, thinking, acting New Youth of the present, who are no longer satisfied to listen to the old men, and abide by their decisions and convictions. His reasons concerning the destructions of past civilizations, and convincing presentation of thought, which he states, will continue the present one, are interesting, to say the least, and in the main, rather startling in their possibilities.

Miss Florence Hale, of Maine, lived up to her reputation of being a live wire on the stage. Miss Hale is interesting, instructive and full of those qualities which she says, distinguish a teacher from a schoolmarm. She is optimistic, concerning the outlook for the young folk of today; she is bubbling over with a friendly good humor, and kindly consideration for every one; and says that these qualities are some of those which plainly show a close observer whether one is a teacher, or just the schoolmarm dreaded by all children as well as adults.

The business meeting was held on Saturday morning. The organization went on record as against the patent law, and stood for its repeal. Mr. M. E. Liggon, of Lexington, was made the next president, and Dean Homer Cooper, of the Eastern Teachers College, added to the Legislative committee.

HEADQUARTERS AT K. E. A. KEPT BUSY

At Eastern headquarters during the K. E. A., at the Watterson Hotel several hundred people registered during the three and one-half days of the meeting, and were impressed by the growth of the institution as shown by the pictures of the student body and of new buildings. An architectural drawing of Burnam Hall as it will be when finished, attracted much attention, as well as that of the new library.

Wide interest was manifested in the Summer School. Many of the two-year graduates of the institution signified their intention of returning to Eastern for the Summer school.

The banquet on Friday, April 24, was a very delightful affair. Music was furnished by a pianist and violinist, who play regularly for the Louisville Exchange Club, and who are often radio entertainers.

President T. J. Coates presided as toastmaster and the following persons responded: H. L. Donovan, former Dean of the institution; W. S. Taylor, Dean of the College of Education of the University of Kentucky; C. D. Lewis, Dean of Morehead Normal, formerly connected with Eastern; C. A. Keith, Dr. E. H. Cooper; H. S. Pullen, formerly head of the Department of Agriculture of the institution; and Ray E. Smith, who finished the Life Certificate Course last year.

Mr. Robinson had charge of the Teachers' Bureau at headquarters and was kept quite busy. President Coates was almost confined to the conference rooms interviewing scores of leading school men from over the State in regard to school matters. Miss Sue Chenault was in charge of the extension desk.

EDMUND BURKE

Edmund Burke, baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Company, was born in Toronto, Canada, of a musical family. Most of his schooling was at Bishop's College School, Lennoxville, from which he matriculated to McGill University, Montreal, to study law. His school and college career was marked by a keen interest in studies, athletics, and music. At college he was president of the College Glee Club and conductor of the University Choir.

As an amateur he made quite a name for himself in musical circles of the city. "Music will be your downfall," said the dean of the law faculty. "Law can't prevent my singing," replied Burke. A trip abroad, following his graduation, convinced him of that; for very soon his diploma was packed away in a bureau drawer and he was off to the Royal College of Music in London to take up music as a profession. His graduation from there found him winning instantaneous favor in opera, following a debut in Montpellier, France, in such cities as Nimes, Beziers, etc. Marked ability in the leading baritone roles soon brought him an engagement for the Royal Opera, Covent Garden, London, and for the Royal Opera at The Hague, Holland. Mr. Burke's great successes at Covent Garden attracted the attention of Dame Nellie Melba, and she selected him to accompany her on a tour of the world in company with the famous violinist, Kubelik. He returned to America, all preparations were ready for a coast to coast tour when the war broke out. He immediately joined the Canadian forces and subsequently served in France for three years with the rank of captain. He was twice mentioned in dispatches and decorated.

Since the war he has been with the Metropolitan Opera Company, singing important roles. His temperament is one of natural dramatic quality, but he does not make the mistake of allowing his dramatic inclinations to run away with him. He is above all a true artist, and knows the value of restraint. He is equally successful with his song as he is with opera numbers. He is a very celebrated interpreter of Wagner and sings faultlessly in Italian, German and French, as well as his native tongue.

Mr. Burke will give a concert here on the evening of May 16 as part of the annual May Music Festival. To all students holding lyceum tickets the programs will be free. The first program of the festival will be given May 14 by the Ladies Madrigal Club, assisted by Howard Koch, violinist. On the evening of May 15 Charles Mathes, Hungarian court pianist, will give a concert at 8 p. m. in the auditorium. Mr. Burke's concert will be the feature of the festival.

NOTICE!

All students are requested to put their credit slips in the black box in the corridor of Roark Hall, on or before May 9, 1925. All students who are withdrawing are requested to put an addressed stamped envelope into the box and your credit slips will be mailed to you.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF LITTLE THEATRE SOON

The Little Theatre Club holds its regular meeting on Wednesday, April 29, the main business of which was the report of the banquet committee which was appointed at the previous meeting for the purpose of outlining plans for the annual feast. The committee's report gave promise of one of the best banquets in the history of the Club. The banquet will be a dinner-dance given at the Glyndon Hotel on the evening of May 22. All of the arrangements have not been completed.

The alumni invitations will be sent out this week and a large representation of the old graduates is anticipated.

The net proceeds from the play, "Mrs. Bumpstead Leigh," that was presented by the Club on March 25 and 26 were $165.00. This is practically the largest returns that has ever been received from any play put on by the Club.

The Senior play which is being rehearsed every day is reported to be showing fine prospects for a strong production. Judson Harmon, Elmer Mullins, Mrs. V. E. Burns and Miss Isabel Roach, who are active members of the Little Theatre Club are in the cast.

Donald M.: Only fools are positive.
Earle Jones: Are you sure?

BASE BALL CARD NEARS COMPLETION

The Eastern baseball schedule is drawing to a close. Four games this week did much to diminish the number of games of which there are now left but four to play. May 15 the Eastern nine will invade Morehead for a game with the Normal nine of that city. The following day Coach Hembree will lead his men into West Virginia for a game with Morris-Harvey College at Barboursville. Returning to Kentucky, the Eastern nine plays Transylvania at Lexington on May 19. The final game will be played with Morris Harvey on the college diamond here on May 23.

Hard luck has played a part in the last few games of Eastern. Bill Stevens, dependable right-hand twirler, withdrew from school. It was a hard blow to the pitching staff but Coach Hembree has his ace, Harvey Hayes, and John Dooley, the southpaw, ready for work in the remaining games.

Eastern will endeavor to make a sweep of the remaining games and has an excellent chance to do so.

Georgetown Game

Eastern lost a game last Saturday to Georgetown College by a score of 2 to 1 in which the Maroons pulled several "bone-head" plays which meant the loss of the game. Hayes twirled well and allowed only one outfield hit. Van Hoose let Eastern down with three hits and but a single run.

Each team scored a run on the squeeze play. Eastern played poorly the third round when Georgetown scored both of the runs made by the visitors. A mix-up in the signals resulted in a man being caught at third in the same inning.

Moberly contributed to the fun of the fans with a sparkling catch of a skipper off the bat of Hackman which he stabbed with one hand to throw Hackman out at first. Both teams played steady baseball for the most part. The box score follows:

Wesleyan Tilt

Kentucky Wesleyan by a ninth inning rally in which they scored three runs were able to win over Eastern 5 to 2 in a hard fought game here Monday, which was a pitching duel between Dooley and Currie. Until the seventh inning Eastern was leading but weakened in the latter frames and finally cracked in the ninth inning. Of the six errors made during the afternoon by Eastern four came in the ninth inning and with a three bagger by Rouse which opened the inning gave Wesleyan three scores and the game.

John Dooley twirled fine baseball for Eastern and deserved to win. Fate was against him. The Eastern nine simply could not connect with the slants of Currie who had them guessing from the start.

The only earned run of the game was made by Eastern when Mainous was hit, stole second and scored on Gay's single. In the eighth Eastern got three men on with but one down but failed to score. The squeeze play failed in this inning and once before when the batsmen did not bunt.

Adkins led the Wesleyan attack with three clean hits. The box score:

Danville Battle

Centre avenged the 2 to 0 defeat handed the Colonels May 2 in a game at Danville Wednesday afternoon in which the Colonels won the decision by a rally in the eighth inning in which they scored three runs. The game was hard fought from the start.

Hayes and Burbank were the opposing pitchers and staged a neat little battle. Both seemed to be ably equal in effectiveness. Hayes was unable to control his overhand ball on account of his arm being slightly sore and was forced to pitch underhanded.

Centre counted two runs in the first inning but the Maroons tied the score with one in the fourth and another in the sixth. Hampton's error, Rabenstein's infield single and a double to center by Wilson meant two runs; Pace's single counted Wilson with the third. Gay led the Eastern attack with two hits, one a double. He drove in both of Eastern's runs. The box score follows:

Merit— and merit alone!

LITTLE has been said in print about the Woodstock—but much has been said by thousands of enthusiastic operators.

It's mainly this background of good will—earned by good performance—that is responsible for its success.

Users will tell you the Woodstock is a most exceptional typewriter—a composite of all improvements conducive to effortless writing—plus a rare beauty of type and sturdiness of construction that stamps this machine as a thing apart.

EASTERN LARGEST OF NORMAL SCHOOLS

Eastern with more than 1,200 students enrolled here for work is the largest of four white normal schools in the state, according to recent figures given out by McHenry Rhoads, state superintendent of public instruction. In the report in which he declared that Kentucky will soon have more trained teachers than ever before in her history it was brought out that the Western Teachers College at Bowling Green, had an enrollment of 1,000; the Eastern Teachers College an enrollment of 1,200; the Murray Normal, 700, and the Morehead Normal 500.

These figures show that the establishment of the normal schools at Murray and Morehead have in no way affected the attendance at Eastern and Western. There are 300 students at the University of Kentucky specializing in education in addition to the 3,400 students in the normal schools.

The University of Kentucky is now the only college in the state with a larger attendance than Eastern.

WINNERS IN CROSS WORD PUZZLE CONTEST

On account of the fact that one of the instruction lines was left out of the cross-word puzzle in the last issue of the Progress, it was not possible for any correct solutions to be turned in. Since this affected but one letter, those who turned in the puzzle amounted to 17 of which there were but 9 correct. In the drawing Miss Ethel Owens and Miss Julia Barberick won the free haircuts offered by R. C. Boggs, manager of the Hotel Barber Shop.

In this issue of the Progress is another puzzle made up by James Wert, the news editor. Mr. Boggs is offering two more hair cuts for the first two correct solutions. This will be the last time that prizes will be offered for correct solutions. There will be a cross word puzzle in the last issue of the Progress this semester on May 23, but no prizes will be offered.

All those who answer the puzzle in this issue must have their answers under the door of the Progress office, on the second floor of the University building or in the hands of C. M. Hood, the business manager, before Thursday of next week.

Miss Ruth Dix spent the week-end with friends in Indianapolis.

Miss Pauline Collins spent the week-end with home folks in Wilmore.

CANTERBURY CLUB HEARS MISS NEELY

The Canterbury Club had a very splendid program at the last meeting, including Miss Neely's most interesting and instructive talk on the Canterbury Tales. It is five hundred and forty years since the twenty-nine Canterbury pilgrims were bound for the tomb of the martyr, Thomas A. Becket, she said. Some of the points she discussed are as follows:

It is interesting to note the different classes of society found in this group of pilgrims. They may be divided into several groups, such as that of the Knight, the church group and others.

The Canterbury Tales which are considered by the critics the best, are: "The Squire's Tale, Neen's Priests, Prioresses, The Wife of Bath, Clerk of Oxenford and the Parsons Tale."

As the pilgrims gather at the inn, the host suggest that each tell two stories on the way. He says, "Who would travel dumb as a stone?"

The story of "The Wife of Bath" is interesting in that she is one of the few women in literature who speak for themselves. Browning is about the first writer who permitted a woman to speak in literature for herself.

Women were formerly looked upon either as angels or enchantresses. However, the "Wife of Bath" does not seem to be a perfect saint or a perfect sinner. On one hand, the wife of Bath seems to be good natured and capable; on the other hand she seems to be coarse and sensual.

Miss Neely brought out the point that after the coarse vulgarity of the prologue to this story of the Wife of Bath. We are surprised at the story she tells.

At first thought this story of "The Wife of Bath" does not exhibit any special characteristics, but if we compare it with similar themes by other writers we find that it is distinctly Chaucerian and thoroughly English.

After Miss Neely's talk Mrs. Talbot, with her usual dynamic personality, read a few of her splendid poems for the club.

After the program delicious refreshments were served and the club enjoyed a social hour.

The visitors of the evening elected honorary members of the Club were: President Coates, Mrs. Foster, Miss Neely, Mrs. Talbot and Mr Smith.

All students desiring further information concerning Summer School arrangements can secure the special bulletin in the Dean's office.

The above information is included in an announcement by Dean Homer E. Cooper.

Miss Virginia Routt spent the week-end with her parents at Hustonville.

Mr. J. W. Collins has been visiting his daughter, Pauline Collins, this week.

HORACE MANN NOTES

At the last meeting of Horace Mann Society Mr. "Chick" Hensley was elected to fill the office of sergeant-at-arms, which office became vacant when Mr. Sylvastine Little withdrew from Eastern.

Thursday night, May 7, in the chapel Horace Mann held a debate with the Roark Society.

Since President Mills was absent last Thursday, Miss Law, vice-president, took charge of the meeting. Mr. Hale gave a splendid talk on the success of the society. He plainly showed that to make our organization or society successful each member must share in its work. Miss Nichols and Miss Hanks gave most enjoyable readings.

The feature of the Horace Mann program on April 30 was a debate. The subject was, "Resolved, That Athletics as now conducted in college is detrimental to the best interests of our educational institutions." Mr. Dalton and Mr. Jennings won the debate.

Miss Margaret Smott was a recent guest of friends at Kentucky Wesleyan College, Winchester.

Misses Sallie Bush, Lucille Bryant and Elizabeth Bryant, spent the week-end in Winchester with their parents.

Miss Mary Virginia Manby spent Saturday in Lexington.

1924 FOOTBALL AT EASTERN BEST YET

Winning five of the eight games played, the Eastern football eleven had the most successful year in 1924 that has been experienced by the Maroons in a number of years. The team however, was in the experimental stage most of the time with building for the future going on constantly.

In 1924 games were lost to Transylvania, Wesleyan and Lincoln Memorial University, of Harrogate, Tenn., while the five victories were over Union College, Morehead Normal, Cumberland College, St. Mary's College and Georgetown freshmen.

Like basketball, the work of the squad in 1924 was mainly building for future teams. Some likely material was uncovered which will be developed. The success was due mainly to the punch and fight which the Eastern gridders showed throughout the season.

Next season the schedule will be somewhat harder. Games will be played with Wesleyan, Transylvania, Georgetown, Morehead Normal and Morris Harvey, of West Virginia. The major portion of the letter men of 1924 will be back in uniform and a real eleven is being expected for 1926.

Football is rapidly coming to the front at Eastern. Like all other colleges a greater interest is being shown in the fall sport which in the past two or three years has won thousands of followers. In the past Coach Hembree has had to whip together each year an eleven from practically green material.

Eastern is looking forward to the 1926 football schedule which should attract unusual interest here.

EASTER CO-EDS ARE STATE CHAMPIONS

guarding of Misses Mauney and Witham was nothing short of brilliant. The work of the Eastern girls was all the more brilliant when it is known that not a single letter wearer of the previous season was in uniform at the start of the season. All of the varsity with the exception of Miss Witham were freshmen. Rice entered school at the beginning of the second semester after making a letter last season and showed splendid form in some of the games.

This is all the more remarkable from the fact that for the past three seasons contenders for the state title which they won the first time this past season. Coach G. N. Hembree deserved much credit for this since he handled the team in such a way as to get the very best playing that they possessed.

An even harder schedule will be attempted next year in order to hold the state title at Eastern. Much is expected of the co-eds in 1926. The record of the past season is as follows:

- Eastern 19, Georgetown 15.
- Eastern 29, Hamilton 4.
- Eastern 10, Western 15.
- Eastern 30, Cumberland 10
- Eastern 17, Wesleyan 18.
- Eastern 2, Transylvania 0
- Eastern 24, Union 8.
- Eastern 21, Wesleyan 8.
- Eastern 39, Union 6.
- Eastern 17, Transylvania 12.
- Eastern 18, Hamilton 8.
- Eastern 13, Western 6.
- Eastern 10, Georgetown 20.

FALLS CITY EDITOR IS SPEAKER HERE

Tom Wallace, editor of the Louisville Times, spoke to the students at the chapel period Monday morning on the preservation of wild game in Kentucky in which he made special appeal to the teachers to use their influence in this behalf. He pointed to the good work that had been done in Pennsylvania where game and fish have been increased so that they are almost as valuable as Kentucky's livestock.

He pointed out that Kentucky has 1,200 miles of streams in which fish abound and 256,000 fishing acres. He played the vandalism of tourists but complimented the work in recent years in enforcing the game laws.

The entire audience seemed much interested in the subject and showed that they would co-operate with the movement in every way possible.

MUSIC FEATURED AT TEACHERS COLLEGE

As the main work of the Normal School and Teachers College is necessarily with that large body of students who are preparing themselves to teach in the graded and high schools, it naturally seems that the work of any special department should be to help in their preparation for service.

The Music Department at Eastern strives to reach every member of that ever changing student body, and if possible to influence, in some way their taste for music.

Real appreciation for music comes not only from a study of material, methods, etc. which is taken up in the required music classes, but also, and very much so, from the songs the student body sings at all assemblies, and that music they hear, not only on the campus, but in the community in which the school is located.

Eastern numbers among her school organizations, many societies that feature music as a part of their regular programs, the literary societies, the Upper-Grade Teachers' Council, the Primary Group, Y. W. C. A., the Mens Club, the different classes in their weekly sessions; at these times the students not only get a chance to hear good music, but very often have the opportunity to take part in it.

Eastern is justly proud of her musical organizations, among which are the Serenaders, the Madrigal Club, the Community Chorus, the Orchestra, the Male Quartet, the Ladies' Quartet. The Serenaders is an organization composed of men from the Normal School group; the Madrigal Club a small group of selected voices, chosen from both the Normal and College groups; the Community Chorus in which about two thirds of the entire student body are members; the orchestra, male quartet and the ladies' quartet are recruited from that part of the student body that show unusual talent in a musical way. Each year one or more of these organizations is represented at the annual May Music Festival, an event that is always eagerly looked forward to not only by the student body but also by the people of this vicinity as well. The best talent available is secured, not only for the Music Festival but also for several of the numbers offered on the regular lyceum course. Students at Eastern have the unusual opportunity every summer of hearing splendid musical organizations at the annual Redpath, Chautauqua held on the school campus.

The music building, located at the southeastern part of the campus, houses all the music classes, the studios and offices of the Director of Music and the assisting teachers, the practice rooms; the building is steam heated, and the system of ventilating is so good that the rooms are comfortable both in winter and in the extreme heat of summer.
