Higher Education Bill Introduced In House

University Status Endorsed By Many Organizations

Endorsements supporting university status for Eastern have poured in from dozens of civic, professional and alumni organizations throughout Kentucky. To date, some 50 organizations have gone on record enthusiastically endorsing the issue, which is expected to be presented to the General Assembly as part of an administration-backed education bill at the current session of the Legislature.

And more are coming in according to college officials who say that groups throughout the state are calling to lend their support. (Some of the resolutions appear on page two of the Progress.)

Endorse Proposal

In addition to community organizations, city and county officials are endorsing the university status proposal.

So far, endorsements have been received from the following organizations in Richmond: Rotary, Kiwanis, Civitan, Lions, Chamber of Commerce, Farm Bureau, Senior Women's Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Women's Auxiliary, Junior Women's Club, Saturday Afternoon Matinee Musicals, Altrusa, and Fish and Game.

Other Richmond groups include the Madison County Bar Association, Garden Club, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Elks, Masonic Lodge, Daughters of American Revolution, Business and Professional Women's Club, Richmond Ministerial Association, Cecilian Club, Exchange Club and D. A. V.

Richmond Mayor Approves
Also giving endorsements were Mayor Chester Luxon and Police Judge Tommy M. Smith, Richmond, and Madison County Judge Robert Turley.

Other organizations include the Kentucky River Footbills Development Committee, Mayor Clint Hensley of Berea, the Berea Lions Club, Mayor Kelly Hampton of Beattyville, and Mayor Francis Green Miller of Irvine.

The Executive Committee of the Eastern Alumni Association endorsed university status, as did each of the alumni chapters throughout the college service area.

Milestone Rates Tops In The Nation

The 408-page Eastern annual, The 1965 Milestone was in a class by itself last year, according to magazine reports from the three major national rating services. The 408-page annual was the lone college or university yearbook to receive top ratings from more than one national journalism association. Each awarded the Milestone its top rating, unofficially marking the first time this feat has been accomplished.

The Milestone was one of only three books in its class to receive the All-American honor rating from Associated College Press, whose headquarters are at the University of Minnesota. Others were from the University of Notre Dame and University of North Dakota.

Columbia University's press service gave only one other Medalist rating besides the Milestone's award. The National School Yearbook Association listed only six A-plus awards, including the Milestone. All enrollments competed in the same division in the Columbia and NSYA contests.

Research by Foote & Davies, Inc., Atlanta, printers of the Milestone, has revealed no other instance where one college or university has ever won the mythical "Triple Crown."

Eastern's student publications—the Milestone and the Eastern Progress, weekly student newspaper—have won 25 high national awards in the last five years.

Editor of the '65 Milestone was Francis Jay Roberts, presently a graduate assistant at the University of California at Davis. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Roberts, Richmond.

Director of student publications is Don Feltner, Eastern coordinator of public affairs.

Milestone Workers Wanted

Applications are now in the Milestone office for Milestone sports staff workers and typists. The applicants must be dependable, accurate and willing to spend some time working. Applications may be secured in the Milestone office, room 8, Roark Building.

Mrs. Janet Oldham In Hospital

Mrs. Janet Oldham, assistant professor of English, has a cracked pelvis from an accident just preceding the semester break. In six to eight weeks she expects to be back teaching at Eastern. She is now recuperating in Pattie A. Clay Hospital.

Students Register For Spring Semester

Although bad weather set the Spring semester registration back a day, registration was a smooth operation. The event is the same each time with students forming never ending lines to sign up for their classes. Registration for the Spring semester totalled 6,336 Saturday with a higher number expected.

6,336 Registered; Higher Number Expected

Cooperation Key To Smooth Spring Semester Registration

Spring semester has started with 6,336 students registered. The figure is expected to climb even higher after the final day of registration, tomorrow.

Cooperation was the key to the success of second semester registration. Administration concerned about the bad weather conditions moved all registration back a day. Special help was given to students who had difficulties in registering at the proper time. At mid-week some 13 students from the Eastern states who had made arrangements with the college were just arriving for registration.

Registration was under the direction of Dean Ambrose and Dean Park. Both deans commended the Student Council for their great efforts in aiding the registration. "The Student Council helped their fellow students in areas where a student's viewpoint was needed. This gave the administration time to work on some of the more major problems," Dean Ambrose stated. Student Council Aided Many suggestions by the Student Council were put into use at this time. The Council utilized the arrangement of the Combs building and moved the waiting lines inside, thus providing warmth and shelter for the students.

Inside Weaver gym the Council was responsible for having the subject cards hung high in order to allow them to be seen easier. An efficient line and found booth was also manned by this group. Dean Park said "Council workers were very conscientious and they saw to it that their members were available in key positions throughout the registration process." This was the second time the Student Council has assisted the Registrar at registration.

Pre-Registration Eased Strain "Pre-registration of eligible sophomores, juniors, and seniors took much of the pressure off of the regular registration," Dean Park remarked. Registration of freshmen with the upperclassmen also eased the strain of registration. This plan was felt to be very beneficial by both the deans. This was the smoothest registration ever according to the comments of the faculty to Dean Park. Dean Ambrose said, "We did a planned four days of registration in three due to the snow, but still weren't overcrowded. The organization and co-operation of everyone, students and faculty alike, was deeply appreciated by the Registrar's office."

Don Feltner Named Chairman Of Advisors Council

Don Feltner, coordinator of public affairs, has been named Kentucky membership chairman of the National Council of College Publications Advisers. The national association is a professional organization for advisers of college and university student publications.

Feltner is adviser of Eastern's award-winning student publications—The Milestone and The Eastern Progress—two of the country's leading prize-winners. Advises 'Triple Crown' Winner

The Milestone this year won the mythical "Triple Crown" of journalism, receiving top ratings from each of the three major national journalism rating services, including the All-American from the Associated Collegiate Press, the A-plus from National School Yearbook Association, and the Medalist from the Columbia Press Association.

Some 25 high national honors have been won by the Eastern student publications during the past five years.

Feltner said the membership drive for Kentucky will begin March 1 and continue until April 1. Eligible for membership in NCCPA are advisers of all college, university, or junior college student publications, he said.

Founded in 1953, NCCPA is represented in nearly all of the 50 states, the District of Columbia, Canada and Mexico. Functions Widely In addition to regular services provided to member institutions, it conducts nationwide research on high school journalism, on college magazine and yearbook contracts, and other areas of interest to the publications adviser.

The association also provides a network of authorities across the nation to answer campus publications problems for both advisers and administrators.

A bill to rename Eastern and the other three large state colleges as universities, introduced Thursday in the House of Representatives, yesterday received approval by a House Committee on Education and was given its first reading.

The bill—House Bill 238—is expected to be given its second and third readings today and Monday and to be put up for vote in the House early next week.

Fifty-four signatures are now on the bill that would redesignate Eastern as Eastern Kentucky University, as well as make other noticeable changes in the structure of Kentucky's system of public higher education.

A simple majority is required for passage in both the House and Senate. There are 100 members in the House of Representatives, 38 in the Senate.

Rep. Osborn Is Sponsor

Sponsor of the bill, which consists of major recommendations of the Governor's Commission on Higher Education including renaming of the large state colleges and authorization of these institutions to award graduate degrees in fields other than education, is Rep. Ted Osborn, D-Lexington.

If the legislation is passed by both the House and Senate and signed by the Governor, the effective date would be June 20—90 days after the conclusion of the current session of the General Assembly.

It is expected that, if the legislation is successful, the respective Boards of Regents of the four institutions would agree to a common date of July 1 for change in status. Eastern and Western state colleges would be known as Eastern Kentucky University and Western Kentucky University while Murray State University and Morehead State University.

The bill would authorize Eastern and the other "new" universities to offer graduate programs at the masters degree level in education, business and the arts and sciences; and work beyond the masters to meet the requirements for leadership and other educational certificates.

It also provides for research and service programs directly related to the needs of the primary geographic areas served by these institutions and authorizes development of programs of a community college nature in their own communities "comparable to those listed for the University of Kentucky Community College System. . ."

Revised Structure The bill would also revise the section of the Kentucky Revised Statutes concerning the organizational structure and some of the functions of the Council on Public Higher Education.

Basically, it restricts voting privileges on the Council to nine lay members appointed by the Governor and provides only advisory rights to the presidents of the state universities and colleges.

Applications Being Taken For Best Dressed Coed

Applications are now available in the Progress office to select Eastern's best-dressed coed in connection with the tenth annual contest of Glamour Magazine to find the "Ten Best Dress College Girls."

Eastern has again been asked to enter a representative, and the Progress is sponsoring the contest to select an on-campus winner. Last year over 301 colleges in 42 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and Canada sent entries to the magazine, and even more are expected this year.

The judging standards used by the Glamour Magazine and by the Progress committee are: 1. A clear understanding of her fashion type. 2. A workable wardrobe plan. 3. A suitable campus look (she's in line with local customs). 4. Appropriate—not rah, rah—look for off-campus occasions.

5. Individuality in her use of colors, accessories. 6. Imagination in managing a clothes budget. 7. Good grooming, not just neat, but impeccable.

8. Clean, shining, well-kept hair. 9. Deft use of make-up (enough to look pretty, but not overdone). 10. Good figure, beautiful posture. Campus activities and off-campus interests are also important in choosing the co-ed who will represent Eastern.

Applications Are Available

Any who is interested in the contest is urged to fill out an application blank. They are available now, and can be obtained from committee chairman Brenda Philpot in Clay Hall, room 1020; or Nancy Priznel, McGregor Hall, room 638. They must be turned in by Monday, February 21. A snapshot is required. Also, anyone who wishes to suggest a contestant contact the chairman of the Progress office.

The semi-finalists on Eastern's campus will be notified before February 25, following an interview with the committee. A schedule for interview will be arranged by the chairman, and each entrant will be notified in advance.

Miss Cheerleader USA Contest Set

The Progress will again sponsor the annual selection of Eastern's Miss Cheerleader. A tentative date of March 3 has been set for a campus-wide election. The election will be conducted by the Student Council Election Committee.

Eastern's Miss Cheerleader for the past year has been Miss Dianne Hendricks who also won the title of Miss Cheerleader USA last year.

The winner of the Miss Eastern Cheerleader contest will submit an entry form with pictures to Miss Cheerleader USA contest sponsored by Florida Cypress Gardens, Inc.

Finals In Florida April 10 Five finalists will be selected from photographs and entry blanks. Each one will win an all-expense trip to Cypress Gardens and arrive April 8, 1966. The finals will be on April 10, Easter Sunday, before an audience of cheerleaders from throughout Florida.

The winner will be chosen by her ability to lead cheers and enthrall a crowd. She will receive a $200 scholarship, a trophy, a complete Janzen wardrobe, and a 9 1/2 horsepower Johnson outboard motor. As a contestant on "To Tell The Truth" she will have a chance to stump the panel as Dianne did.

Dianne Active On Campus Petite Dianne Hendricks is a physical education major.

Among her rewards of being Miss Cheerleader USA she has a four foot trophy (just one foot shorter than herself), a pair of water skis, a $200 scholarship and appeared in New York on the television show "To Tell The Truth."

Dianne was last year's Miss Eastern and represented the school in the Mountain Laurel contest. She is a member of Kappa Delta Tau, KYMA Club, PEEM Club, and WRA. Her many activities have included being an ROTC sponsor, a member of CWENS and an interested and enthusiastic in Eastern and its affairs.

Miss Cheerleader U.S.A.

Eastern will again select an entrant for the Miss Cheerleader U.S.A. contest which our own Dianne Hendricks, a physical education major from Louisville won last year. The Progress is sponsoring the campus contest. Florida Cypress Gardens, Inc. is the sponsor of the contest to be held April 10.

Letters Of Support

Numerous Groups Endorse University Status

Dozens of endorsements have been received by college officials from civic, professional and alumni organizations throughout Kentucky supporting university status for Eastern. Some of them appear below:

The Louisville Chapter of the Eastern Kentucky State College Alumni Association, after full consideration of the question here involved, and taking into consideration the limited opportunities and urgent need for graduate facilities in Kentucky beyond those now offered, and evaluating the physical and organizational facilities, together with the faculty, help to build a greater Kentucky.

Francis G. Miller, Mayor
City of Irvine

We, the undersigned, members of the Junior Woman's Club of Richmond, do approve and support the proposal to elevate Eastern Kentucky State College to the status of a university. (24 signatures).

Mrs. Elmer Curry, President
Junior Woman's Club of Richmond

It has come to the attention of the Board of Directors of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce that consideration is being given to granting university status to Eastern Kentucky State College.

Such action is deserved and would have my personal approval, as well as the approval of the Board of Directors of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. W. R. Isaacs, President
Richmond Chamber of Commerce

The people of Beattyville and Lee County are very much interested in Eastern Kentucky State College. The way it has grown and developed has been amazing. We are proud that our young men and women have such a fine college to attend.

Therefore, it seems fitting at this time to make Eastern a university. I have talked to people in most all organizations and civic clubs here in Lee County, and everyone is for it. This definitely would be a step forward and would mean great progress for the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

Kelley Hampton, Mayor
City of Beattyville

The following resolution was adopted by the officers of the Pike County Alumni Chapter of Eastern Kentucky State College on January 28, 1966:

Whereas, Eastern Kentucky State College has for many years provided top quality education for the young men and women of the state; and

Whereas, Eastern is now a multi-purpose institution providing training at both the undergraduate and graduate levels; and

Whereas, the general public will view with more favor the university status; and

Whereas, with the increased demands of an ever-increasing number of high school graduates who are seeking quality training in a greater variety of academic areas; and

Whereas, we believe with the vast economic resources of Kentucky there is room for an expansion of education at the university level.

Now, therefore, the officers of the Pike County Alumni Chapter of Eastern Kentucky State College heartily recommend to the General Assembly that Eastern Kentucky State College be accorded university status.

William Hickman, Jr., President
Pike County Alumni Chapter

We have been reading with great interest the news that Eastern State College may possibly soon achieve university status.

Certainly, Eastern's growth and development in the past five years is more than noteworthy, and to be granted university status would be earned recognition for that which has already been accomplished and would also enable this fine institution to further expand its graduate offerings and thus render an even greater service to the broad area which it now serves.

The Richmond Altrusa Club, a member of Altrusa International, Inc., wishes to give our wholehearted endorsement to this recommendation of the Commission on Higher Education.

Richmond Altrusa Club
Mrs. Mary Adams Long, President

Richmond Lodge No. 25 F. & A.M., at its last regular meeting, voted unanimously to endorse the resolution making Eastern Kentucky State College a university.

We pledge our full support and offer our assistance in anything that we may be able to do to bring this about.

Fred L. Bellou, Secretary
Richmond Lodge No. 25, F. & A.M.
Masonic Temple

The Richmond Woman's Club voted unanimously to support a proposal which has just been presented to the Legislature that Eastern Kentucky State College be granted university status.

Mrs. William F. Pollock, Corresponding Sec.
Richmond Woman's Club

Upon a suggestion having been made and there having been no objections, the Saturday Afternoon Matinee Musicale Club goes on record as endorsing any plan that would enable Eastern Kentucky State College becoming a university.

Mrs. John W. Connet, Jr., President
Saturday Afternoon Matinee Musicale Club

The McCreary County Chapter of the Eastern Kentucky State College Alumni Association, wishes to go on record as endorsing the name, "University" to be used instead of the word, "College," when referring to this institution located at Richmond, Kentucky. Done at Whitley City, Kentucky, this 28 day of January, 1966.

Lester P. Cooper, President
McCreary County Alumni Chapter

The Board of Directors of the Perry County Chapter of the Eastern Kentucky State College Alumni Association, do wholeheartedly endorse the resolution to make Eastern a university. We believe, because of her growth and the first rate job of producing excellent teachers, administrators, and other leaders for our state and nation, she deserves to be called a university.

James F. Cornett, President
Perry County Chapter

We, the Harlan County Chapter of the Eastern Kentucky State College Alumni Association, do wholeheartedly recommend that Eastern Kentucky State College be granted university status.

We feel Eastern is organized for and doing the work of a university and should be recognized as such.

Paul Hughes, President
Harlan County Chapter

The Richmond Garden Club supports university status for Eastern.

Mrs. Douglas Chenault, President
Richmond Garden Club

This letter is to let you know officially that the Exchange Club of Richmond went on record at their regular meeting Monday, January 31, 1966, as endorsing the proposed change of status of Eastern Kentucky State College to university.

Claude H. Bivins, Secretary
Exchange Club of Richmond

The members of the Richmond Lion's Club of Madison County, Kentucky, endorse Eastern Kentucky State College for university status.

J. R. Mavity, President
Richmond Lion's Club

I favor the changed designation of Eastern from college to university for more than one reason or fact. Eastern provides training in several fields of learning and she has the physical plant and facilities, as well as faculty, to operate a university at the definition suggests.

As an alumnus of Eastern (even before it grew to college level), I am proud to claim Eastern as my original Alma Mater. Congratulations for building such a tremendous college.

C. S. Dale
628 Nelson Place
Newport, Ky.

The Tri-State Chapter of the Eastern Kentucky State College Alumni Association would like to go on record as endorsing the resolution that Eastern be given university status.

We feel that this would aid our alumni in being able to promote our Alma Mater, and also we believe that such a status would be of much benefit to Eastern to be of greater service to the youth of our area and the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

Dr. Willis C. Potter, President
Tri-State Alumni Chapter

I have been informed that Eastern is seeking to obtain university status. As Mayor of the City of Irvine, and speaking, I am sure, for the citizens of Irvine, I would like to endorse this move. It would be a great step forward for education in Kentucky, besides the obvious benefits that would accrue to the students who attend your college from this immediate area.

If I can be of any help to you in your effort to obtain this status, do not hesitate to call on me. By working together to improve all areas of our community life, we can all and the potential that could be added to the present physical and teaching facilities have.

RESOLVED that the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Kentucky should designate Eastern Kentucky State College a university with the full powers and responsibilities of a university, and should pass enabling legislation which would make possible the institution of graduate training and degrees at this college.

The Alumni have taken into consideration the accreditation of Eastern Kentucky State College, the long and proud history of Eastern as a teacher-training institution (with emphasis on the fact that it has trained more teachers who have served Kentucky's classrooms than any other institution), and thus have arrived at this conclusion as a means to alleviate the shortage which now exists in Kentucky.

The above is submitted as the consensus of the Louisville and Jefferson County, Kentucky, Alumni.

Sidney Baxter, President
Louisville and Jefferson County Chapter

ALWAYS ROOM FOR MORE

Club Work Lacking

THE ACADEMIC YEAR of 1965-66 is slowly approaching a close as we now see ourselves at the half-way mark.

Looking over the past one-half of this year, we see Eastern sorely lacking in one area. Club work.

We see that the clubs on Eastern's campus have been less active this year than ever before, especially in the realm of providing activities for the college community.

It is a shame for a campus the size of Eastern with the numerous recognized organizations it has that these organizations can function in no other way other than to assemble once a year to have their picture taken for the "Milestone." There are quite a few county organizations, honorary societies, departmental clubs, professional clubs, religious groups, and service organizations.

The main purpose of these clubs is to seek and provide the needs of their own active members, a most admirable objective accomplished by most of the groups. But what becomes of the rest of the students on campus who do not participate in clubs, or who maintain membership in the clubs that have limited meetings and meeting times? The needs of these students are not met or rarely met.

These are the students who complain that there is nothing to do on campus and thus go home to become the proverbial "suit-casers," or seek activity away from campus. As far as we can interpret these claims, we must admit that there is more truth than fiction to the common gripe.

As there are no organizations on campus whose primary function it is to provide for the social and activity needs of the student body, the logical conclusion is that these needs should be met by the other clubs.

There are several organizations who have worked rather diligently at providing for these needs, but several groups cannot do it all.

The attendance at the functions provided by these groups proves the need and desire for more. There are dances provided by different organizations after most of the home games, but these are not enough either.

Dances and other social functions can be a profit making activity for the clubs. The attendance is usually large enough that the ticket sales can defray all the expenses and leave enough over to make a profit for the sponsoring group.

In addition to providing for the social atmosphere and helping the organization to remain solvent, the function can provide more activity for the sponsoring group to help maintain interest and promote participation of the members.

We hope to see many more such activities provided for the students this semester.

Eulogy On The Death Of Chivalry

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the first installment of the winning speech of the Keene Oratorical Contest held January 15. The speech by Miss Linda Ward, senior English major from River, is entitled "Eulogy on the Death of Chivalry." The conclusion of the speech will appear in next week's Progress.)

Friends, our subject today is a sad nature entitled—"The Death of Chivalry." The subject concerns the social relation between the male and female sexes, a much discussed subject; therefore, I needed a fresh approach. In looking for such an approach, I noted the almost universal custom to speak well of the dead. This custom was so great in one American community that a pact was agreed upon that no person could be buried until someone had truthfully said something good about him.

At the death of the town drunk, who had to no ones knowledge displayed any merits in his entire lifetime, the community found it difficult to carry out this agreement. The man had been a bratish child, a delinquent youth, had deserted his wife, left his children to starve, and had never had a kind word for anyone. After four days of attending the deceased, the community was becoming desperate. Finally, from the back of the room came—"Well, somedays, Simon was better than he was other days." The community sighed with relief and buried him.

Considering the obvious weight of this custom, I determined to present my oration in the form of an eulogy, hoping that, no matter what its merit, you will at least be able to say that it was better in some parts than in others.

Chivalry was born with civilization itself. His mother was the Lady Courtesy from near Utopia and his father was the much beloved Sir Flattery, the Earl of Ego.

Chivalry was a dutiful and loving child whose greatest delight lay in being a source of delight to others. He, with a child's innocence spoke only the truth, but with such tact that what from others lips might have seemed censure, from his became good counsel. He was of such a wholesome unoffending nature that he was always surrounded by friends and though he was constantly plied with compliments because of his many good deed, he let not the approval of others guide his actions but his own sense of rightness tempered with love.

The Lady Courtesy supervised his education and hoping that he would grow to possess the qualities she deemed most worthy, hired as his instructor the modest Gentleman. His early education under the Gentleman's direction consisted of learning the proper manner to be used in company with men and with women. Chivalry learned quickly that touches of courtesy that many deemed trivial could contribute much to social harmony and good feeling among the members of a company.

As Chivalry grew older the Gentleman thought it appropriate for the young man to travel putting into practice the things that he had been taught. He traveled widely and was well received everywhere at the very mention of his father's name — in his time Flattery could get you anywhere.

In his travels he saw many variations of and departures from the courtesies that the gentleman had taught him. The manner of displaying courtesy varied from place to place, but Chivalry was quick to see that the thing to do was to look, not for the outward mannerism, but for the well-meaning thought behind the gesture.

At about the time of King Arthur, Chivalry boomed into full manhood and was knighted by the king's own hand as a reward for the virtue of his ideals. He took as the companions of his youth, Honor and love, applying the counsel of both in deciding his actions.

Fourth Recital Announced

The fourth program in the organ recital series will be presented by Nancy Davis Lancaster Sunday afternoon at 4 p. m.

Mrs. Lancaster has been a faculty member in the Music Department for four years. She has been widely cited for her artistry and technical skill as an organist. She will use the 40 Rank Holtcamp organ in Brock Auditorium in Sunday's free admission concert.

This year Mrs. Lancaster was organizer of the second annual Church Music Conference on the campus, attracting visitors to the campus from throughout Kentucky and surrounding states.

The following compositions will be presented in Sunday's program: Concerto in B Minor, Johann Gottfried Walther; Was Gott tut, das ist wohlgetan, Johann Petr Kellner; Prelude and Fugue in D Major, Johann Sebastian Bach; Sonata I, Paul Hindemith; Modal Piece No. 1, Jean Janigals; Transports de Joie, Olivier Messiaen.

The public is cordially invited to attend the recital.

Newman Club Sponsors Mardi Gras

The annual Mardi Gras Dance will be held on February 18, from 8:00 p. m. to 12:00 p. m. The music will be by the Bonbonaires. The dress is semi-formal, except for the candidates who are asked to wear long formalis.

There is still time for all clubs to turn in their queen candidate. The success of this event depends on club support, and any club wishing to enter a candidate may contact Joe Howard in Martin Hall 149.

The queen is chosen by escorts jumping and popping in the balloons held to the ceiling in the center of the dance floor. The pieces of paper inside the balloons denote the queen and the runner-ups.

MARY SLATTERY

Circle K announces Mary Virginia Slattery as the February Sweetheart of the Month. Mary is a 21 year old senior majoring in English area. She is senior editor of the Milestone, president of Alpha Psi Omega, the honorary acting fraternity, and member of Canterbury Club and Eastern Little Theatre. Her future plans include marriage and teaching English and drama.

OGR's Open For New Pledges

The Counterguerillas will meet Monday at 5:15 in the Military Science Department area of the Coliseum to welcome prospective pledges for this semester. All men students interested in joining are invited to attend.

Interfaith Dinner Coming Up

The second Interfaith Dinner will be held February 16. Following suggestions from students after the first luncheon, it will be in the evening instead of being at noon. The dinner will take place in the Blue Room of the Student Union cafeteria from 5:15 to 6:15. Everyone is invited to attend.

The program will be about Racial Relations. The guest speaker will be Mr. Walter Reid, minister of the African Methodist Episcopal Church.

Newman Club Elects New Officers

The Newman Club held an election of officers, at which they elected: Joseph Howard, president; Sandy Striker, vice president; Carol Raven, recording secretary; Dorothy Walker, corresponding secretary; Stephen Hochler, treasurer; and Jane Cairns, reporter.

Also at the meeting, Jane Cairns was chosen as their Mardi Gras Queen candidate.

Home Economics Club Has Speaker

The regular meeting of the Home Economics Club was held February 8. The guest speaker was Dr. Chase, a member of the department. She spoke on the values of Home Economics.

A committee was appointed to choose the candidate for Mardi Gras Queen.

Freshman Class Seeks Volunteers

The freshman class wants volunteers who will work with cerebral palsy children in Richmond. Anyone who can devote some time to this service will be greatly appreciated, even if it is only as much as an hour a week. The children need a little special attention and extra care in order to do things that we take for granted. We hope to have one worker for each child. Anyone who is interested may sign up and get further information from Marsha Kovac, 204 Sullivan Hall, or from Miss Ross at the Epis-

Driver Education Enrolls 24 Students

A course in Teacher Preparation in Driver Education, new this term at Eastern, has enrolled 24 students, according to George Niva, who is instructor of the course.

After some eight weeks of training, Eastern's students will become student teachers for non-drivers in the Richmond area. Niva is compiling a list of such persons, who would be interested in learning to drive, beginning around April 1.

About three-fourths of his 24 students are men. Niva says there is a "long waiting list" for the class. He hopes to add two more driver- and safety-education courses later this year. They are Traffic Safety Education and Safety Education. Presently such courses are offered within Eastern's department of Health Education.

A maroon-colored (burgundy) 1965 Ford Galaxie, equipped with dual controls, has been given to Eastern for the exclusive use of the driver education program, by Cox Ford, Big Hill Road, Richmond.

Persons interested should call Niva at 623-732, Room 128, Alumni Coliseum.

SHARPSHOOTERS SCORING AT ALL-TIME RECORD RATE

The college basketball teams are scoring more points than any previous season this year.

The NCAA Service Bureau statistics for 2229 games played by major-college teams through midseason show that the current scoring average is 154.3 points per game.

Geographically every section of the country is sharing in the scoring increase except the traditional point leader, the Midwest.

Among the miserly, the Missouri Valley is threatening to rest the resistance crown away from the perennial leader, the Far West.

Bodkin May Set Record

Eddie Bodkin may become Eastern's leading all-time scorer a game earlier than expected.

The 6-7 Harrodsburg senior, who is averaging 25.0 points per game, was expected to catch assistant coach Jack Adams in a road encounter with Murray.

And, the Maroons have two more games in Alumni Coliseum before they take to the road.

Bodkin, who started the season with 955 career points, now has 1,405, with seven games to go.

The Maroons face Middle Tennessee Saturday and Austin Peay Monday in Alumni Coliseum clashes.

That's a tall order for anyone, but Bodkin has scored 28 points, or better, in seven of 18 games this year.

The All-America candidate's other statistical credentials are as impressive as his scoring.

He's hitting an even 50 per cent of his shots, 179 of 358, and 77.3 per cent of his free throws, hitting 92 of 119.

Other key men in the Maroon attack, who will be trying to improve Eastern's 11-7 overall and 5-3 OVC marks.

Carr, a 52.7 per cent shooter, has developed offensive consistency after a shaky start, scoring in double figures in the Maroons' last three contests.

Leading the OVC in shooting, the Maroons are sinking 47.1 per cent of their field goal attempts and averaging a potent 84.2 points per game.

INTERMURALS

The gymnastic club will hold a meeting this Monday from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. in the north end of the Weaver Health building.

The intermural basketball games scheduled for Tuesday will be postponed until a later date.

PERFECT PRESSING — FOR YOU!

Perfect is an absolute word — like never or always. So when someone says a thing is perfect, this usually means he is completely satisfied with it.

Now we don't want to say that we do perfect pressing. That would be bragging, wouldn't it?

But we can say this: No matter what it is, no matter whose it is, we go to work and put out every effort to clean it and spot it as thoroughly as we can.

When inspection shows that it's "PERFECT" — we hang it up, and it's ready for you! If you want perfect pressing —

Maroons Show Scoring Punch By Tripping Marshall 93 - 86

A spectacular 40 point performance by Eddie Bodkin led the Eastern Maroons to a 93-86 victory over Marshall's Thundering Herd Wednesday night at Alumni Coliseum.

Bodkin, the 6 ft. 7 in. Ohio Valley Conference scoring leader from Harrodsburg, enjoyed the finest night of his career. He tossed in 15 of 28 field goal attempts and connected on 10 of 14 foul shots.

The 40 points outburst surpassed his previous season high of 37 scored against Harvard in the Motor City Classic.

The Maroons never trailed after taking a 39-33 lead late in the first half.

Bob Redd led the Marshall scoring with 28. Bill Whitsell added 18 while George Stone and Orville Stepp tossed in 15 and 14 respectively.

Puerto Ricans Invade Coliseum Tuesday Night

The Eastern Maroons take a break from their Ohio Valley Conference in fact, their NCAA — schedule Tuesday night when they host the Puerto Rico National Basketball Team in Alumni Coliseum.

The Puerto Ricans, playing in the 1964 Olympics, led the United States by 10 points at the half before losing in the second period through lack of depth.

Earlier this season they posted a 66-60 win over Poland, a team that lost by only four to Bradley Braves.

Eastern coach Jim Baechtold, who hasn't had an opportunity to scout the visitors, says he expects "a real basketball game. I'm sure these are outstanding players and fans in this area can expect a good show."

Maroons Split With Morehead And Tech

The Maroons conference hopes were almost put out over the semester break as they dropped a 103-93 decision to Tennessee Tech, but slipped by Morehead 81-79.

Eddie Bodkin pumped in 31 points against Tech, hitting nine field goals and 13 of 13 from the free-throw line.

Eastern found the range against Morehead as they shot a phenomenal 58 per cent from the field, hitting 29 of 50 shots.

Morehead also had an exceptionally good night as they connected 30 of 58 for a hot 51.7 shooting percentage.

John Carr scored his all-time career high for the Maroons as he hit 6 of 7 field goals and wound up with 18 points.

Morehead led throughout the first half and the Maroons trailed 41-37 at the half.

The second half found the lead changing hands 11 times and being tied 5 times.

Eastern Hosts Middle Tenn. Tomorrow Austin Peay Monday

Eastern's next two games find the Maroons facing conference foes Middle Tennessee and Austin Peay.

Middle Tennessee invades Alumni Coliseum on Saturday night. The Blue Raiders are currently in seventh place in the Ohio Valley Conference with a 2-5 record.

Jay Cole, a junior college transfer, is the leading Blue Raider scorer sporting a 15.4 points per game average.

Austin Peay is riding in the conference cellar with a 1-5 league mark.

Eastern guard Bill Walton looks as if he's getting ready to feed a passing to center John Carr through the outstretched arms of East Tennessee's Bill Tipton in Monday night action.

Austin Peay employed a full court zone press in both contests and the Maroons can-

The Eastern Maroons paced their finest collegiate game by the fine performances of Jerry Bisbey and Eddie Bodkin.

The game started out with Eastern drawing first blood on a 25 ft. jump shot by Jerry Bisbey.

The grapplers traveled to Morehead for a wrestling meet and were edged 19-15.

The loss evened the wrestlers record at two wins and two defeats.

The second half opened up with the Maroons adding on to their first half lead.

Track Team Ready For Mason-Dixon Meet

Track coach, Connan Smith, revealed a little bit more of his Maroon thimble squad Saturday at the Illinois Open Indoor Track Meet. The results were impressive.

Earlier, Smith unveiled part of his team in the Orange Bowl Track Meet. Their next big outing will be the Mason-Dixon Relays.

Most impressive of the Maroon wins at the Illinois meet was Swedish-born Ken Anderson's 4:11.3 mile effort on the indoor oval. The victory came against a field of 20, including Tennessee's SEC champion Rocky Soderberg, and Illinois' Al Carus, Big Ten champ two years ago.

"Anderson's time was exceptional for an indoor meet, especially this early," Smith said. "He'll go well under 4:10 this spring."

But, Anderson wasn't Eastern's only high finish in the mile. Fellow Swede Jan Halh was fourth at 4:16, and defending OVC champ Larry Whalen was fifth at 4:18, both good times for an indoor mile.

Another key win was posted by Wilbert Davis, a transfer competing unattached who will be eligible for team competition in the next meet. Davis set a field house record with a pole vault of 15-3 1/4, and high jump of 6-4.

Davis will pole vault over 16 feet, high jump 6-8, and broad jump better than 24 feet this spring, says Smith. "He's one of the greatest track athletes this conference will have ever seen," the coach said.

Hurdler Carey Guesz, always good in intermediate to long hurdle events, showed improved short distance form in the 70 yard high with a third place time of 8.2. Winning time in the event was 8.1.

Smith was also pleased with his mile relay team's 3:21 fifth place finish. "They had all run in other events," he said, "and were tired. But, it's still a good time for this early in the season."

Last season the Maroon mile relay squad set a new OVC record with a time of 3:12.1, better than the NCAA college division record. "We'll run with anyone in the country this spring," Smith said. "This relay team will run under 3:10. The NCAA university division is 3:07.4."

Eels Splash To Split In Four-Meet Trip

Easterns traveling Eels have recently completed four swimming meets during the semester break against the University of Georgia, Emory University, St. Louis University and were victorious against Emory U. (57-38) and St. Louis University (69-25) but were reversed by U. of Ga. (55-40) and Evansville College (57-38). This brings the tankmen to a 5-4 record.

ST. LOUIS
The Eels easily beat host St. Louis by winning 10 of 11 first places. Two pool records were lowered in the 400 yd. Medley Relay and the 200 IM. The relay team recorded a 4:03.8 and was composed of Bill Walker, Bob Walker, Fred Bartlett and Charlie Tandy. The old mark was 4:09.2. Bill Walker came back three events later to scratch the old 200 IM pool mark from 2:22.4 to 2:12.3. Bob French, a frosh from Cincinnati, Ohio, was high with 10 points. Following close behind was senior Phil Stoffey who just recently joined the team with nine points.

EVANSVILLE
Evansville College's Indiana Conference swimming champions proved to have too much depth for the EKSC Eels in a tight battle. Eastern managed to stay 42-37 behind with two but one point in finishing. Ailing Rick Hill, swimming with very little practice, showed signs of recovery by finishing third in two events.

Johnny Warren, little All-American diver, showed unusual finesse on the three-meter board to win easily. Warren finished 9th in the NCAA finals last year.

Eastern's next home meet will be tomorrow when the powerful University of Cincinnati tankmen come to Richmond at 2 p.m. UC has been the Missouri for the last four years. All-American backstrokeer Jack Zakim is their leading team member. Zakim has recorded a 2:04 for the 200 yd. backstroke. Eastern's pool record is 2:11.8.

GUESTS AT YESTERDAY'S OPEN HOUSES... State Senator and Mrs. Wilson Palmer of Cynthiana stand before the new eight-story men's dormitory on the campus of Eastern named for Mr. Palmer, member of the Eastern Board of Regents. Open house was held at both new halls yesterday, beginning at 2 p.m.

ROOMMATES: THEIR CAUSE AND CURE

You'd think that with all the progress we have made in the education game, somebody would have found a cure for roommates by now. But no. Roommates remain as big a problem today as they were when Ethan Mather founded the first American college.

(Contrary to popular belief, Harvard was not the first. Mr. Mather started his institution some 100 years earlier. And quite an institution it was, let me tell you! Mr. Mather built schools of liberal arts, fine arts, dentistry and tanning. He built a lacrosse stadium that seated 200,000. Everywhere on campus was emblazoned the stirring Latin motto CAVE MUSSI—"Watch out for moose." The student union contained a bowling alley, a weighing machine, and a sixteen-chair barber shop.)

It was this last feature—the barber shop—that, alas, brought Mr. Mather's college to an early end. The student body, being drawn chiefly from the nearby countryside, was composed almost entirely of Pequot and Iroquois Indians who, alas, had no need of a barber shop. They braided the hair on top of their heads, and as for the hair on their faces, they had none. The barber, Tremblatt Follicle by name, grew so depressed starting day after day at 16 empty chairs that one day his mind gave way. Seizing his vibrator, he ran outside and shook the entire campus till it crumbled to dust. This later became known as Pickett's Charge.)

But I digress. We were exploring ways for you and your roommate to stop hating each other. This is admittedly difficult but not impossible if you will both bend a bit, give a little.

I remember, for example, my own college days (Berlitz '08). My roommate was, I think you will allow, even less agreeable than most. He was a Tibetan named Ringading whose native customs, while indisputably colorful, were not entirely endearing. Mark you, I didn't mind so much the gong he struck on the hour or the string of firecrackers he set off on the half hour. I didn't even mind that he singed chicken feathers every dusk and daybreak. What I did mind was that he singed them in my hat.

Bodkin Could Break Record One Game Early

Eddie Bodkin may become Eastern's leading all-time scorer a game earlier than expected—at least his hometown Alumni Coliseum fans hope so.

The 6-7 Harrodsburg senior, who is averaging 25.0 points per game, was expected to catch assistant coach Jack Adams in a road encounter with Murray Feb. 19, but a 40-point outburst against Marshall Wednesday night pushed him within 55 points of Adams' mark.

And, the Maroons have two more games in Alumni Coliseum before they take to the road. A third encounter, against the Puerto Rico National Basketball Team, will be played here Tuesday, but statistics will not be counted.

Bodkin, who started the season with 856 career points, now has 1,405, with seven games to go. Adams scored 1,460 in three seasons from 1953-56.

The Maroons face Middle Tennessee Saturday and Austin Peay Monday in Alumni Coliseum clashes, and Bodkin needs to average 27.5 in the two games to tie Adams, 28.0 to go ahead.

That's a tall order for anyone, but Bodkin has scored 28 points, or better, in seven of 18 games this year, getting more than 30 on four occasions. He needs only to put two such efforts together on successive nights to become Eastern's greatest point-producer before his hometown fans.

The All-America candidate's other statistical credentials are as impressive as his scoring. He's hitting an even 50 per cent of his shots, 178 of 358, and 77.5 per cent of his free throws, hitting 92 of 119. In one recent stretch, he hit 23 consecutive gratis tosses without a miss, five short of an Eastern mark.

He's also the team's top rebounder with 10.7 rebounds per game, divided almost equally between the offensive and defensive boards.

Other key men in the Maroon attack, who will be trying to improve Eastern's 11-7 overall and 5-3 OVC marks, against the Blue Raiders and Governors are 6-3 Bill Walton, 14.2, and 6-9 John Carr, 8.2.

Carr, a 82.7 per cent shooter, has developed offensive consistency after a shaky start, scoring in double figures in the Maroons' last three contests.

Other regular performers, adding balance to the Maroon attack, are 6-8 Jerry Bisbey, 8.4, 6-3 Dick Clark, 7.6, 6-1 Fred Johnson, 7.3, and 6-0 Doug Clemmons, 5.9.

Reserve pivotman Garfield Smith, who has seen limited action in recent weeks, has dropped from a double-figure average to 7.8 points per game.

Leading the OVC in shooting, the Maroons are sinking 47.1 per cent of their field goal attempts and averaging a potent 64.2 points per game. Statistical weaknesses have been rebounding, where they hold a mere 47.4 to 48.5 edge on the opposition, and a defense that is allowing 79.8 points per game.

To be fair, he was not totally taken with some of my habits either—especially my hobby of collecting water. I had no jars at the time, so I just had to stack the water any-old-where.

Well, sir, things grew steadily cooler between Ringading and me, and they might actually have gotten ugly had we not each happened to receive a package from home one day. Ringading opened his package, paused, smiled shyly at me, and offered me a gift.

"Thank you," I said. "What is it?"

"Yak butter," he said. "You put it in your hair. In Tibetan we call it gree see kidstuf."

"Well now, that's mighty friendly," I said and offered him a gift from my package. "Now you must have one of mine."

"Thank you," he said. "What is this called?"

"Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blades," I said.

"I will try one at once," he said. And did.

"Wowow!" he cried. "Never have I had such a smooth, close, comfortable shave!"

"Ah, but the best is yet!" I cried. "For you will get many, many smooth, close, comfortable shaves from your Personna Blade—each one nearly as smooth, close, and comfortable as the first!"

"Wowow!" he cried.

"Moreover," I cried, "Personna Blades come both in Double Edge style and Injector style!"

"Sort of makes a man feel humble," he said.

"Yes," I said.

We were both silent then, not trusting ourselves to speak. Silently we clasped hands, friends at last, and I am proud to say that Ringading and I remain friends to this day. We exchange cards each Christmas and firecrackers Fourth of July.

Transfer, New Students Voice Opinions Of Eastern

BARBARA DONNELL
Progress Staff Writer
This semester Eastern is host to a number of new students. Some of these are encountering the many phases of college life for the first time while others are transfer students, inevitably comparing Eastern to other colleges they have attended.

Sissy Baldwin, a 19 year old transfer student from Paris, declares the prevailing atmosphere of Eastern to be warm and amiable. In comparison to the school she previously attended Sissy, a freshman, finds that our faculty members seem to take a much greater interest in the students. She is most enthusiastic about the relatively short distance between the dorms and the classroom buildings.

Danny Ramsey, an Art major from Lexington, was a little more cautious when asked his opinion of Eastern. He feels that he "hasn't really been here long enough to know," but he does think that the cafeteria food leaves quite a bit to be desired.

Another new Freshman, Ron Battle, from Louisville, has nothing to say about Eastern that isn't complimentary. Larry Denmore, an Industrial Arts major from Germantown, Ohio, also thinks that Eastern "is a very good school."

Another transfer student is Rhoda Lusk, a sophomore from Louisville. Rhoda, who has a twin already enrolled at Eastern, especially likes dormitory life on our campus. However, she does find Eastern a little dull after attending two "party schools."

Susan Fouts, a Freshman from Hazard, also feels that social activities on campus are rather limited, but she says that the people are very cordial.

Wanda Woodyard, a junior transfer student from Spe Bennett College, London, thinks that attending a larger college is a great experience for her. Although Wanda is having a difficult time adjusting to campus life, she "can't believe that everybody is so friendly and helpful." Andrew Vogel, a Freshman from Cincinnati, Ohio, agrees with her on this point. He came to Eastern because it is small, and is impressed with the facilities offered in comparison to the size of the college.

Ray Deaton, Newport, describes Eastern students as "funny, but in a nice way." Ray, a University of Kentucky transfer, is a drama major. This is his first experience with dormitory life and finds that living with so many other people is the biggest adjustment he must make.

Student Code Needs Campus Interest

By LEAH STREHLOW

To be ignorant leaves one with a miserable feeling. The students had no idea until a few days ago what the Student Code is or what benefits it could provide for them.

members are: Dean Bradley; Dr. Quentin Keen; Mr. Donald Hendrickson; Mike Campbell, Supreme Court Justice; Sylvia Ramsey; Gordon Jennings; Bill Baker, Chairman; and Hugh Burkett, ex-officio member. The student members were appointed by Student Council, and the faculty members were appointed by President Robert R. Martin.

It was thought the Code involved more rules that students would have to follow. If the students didn't follow the rules given to them in the form of a booklet, they would be summoned before the Court made up of students their age.

The Committee has written to seven colleges known to have student codes and asked for their impression of the effectiveness of a student court, their policies, and the formulation of their codes. These colleges are: University of Indiana; Vanderbilt University; University of Colorado; Massachusetts State Teachers College; Texas Christian University; Claremont College; and Southern University Student Government Association.

Why, for the past three or four years, have other students been laying the foundation for a Student Code and trying to influence collegians to accept it?

Future Plans
As soon as these letters are received the Committee will study the methods employed by other colleges. They will study their opinions and compile existing campus procedures and policies set up by the other colleges mentioned above.

Getting A Better Deal
The Student Code Committee feels that every student has certain rights that shouldn't be overlooked or disregarded. This Code seeks to identify, determine, and to guarantee these rights. The students will be aware of their rights because each will be issued a booklet as soon as the Code is approved and put into effect.

This committee also hopes to make available to the Student Body an explanation of the Student Codes and the function of the Student Court in order to clear up any questions that may arise.

Since the student body is interdependent, each of us is expected to value and to protect the welfare of all concerned. The Code can only be effective by interested students, so your suggestions and criticisms would be greatly appreciated.

The Committee hopes the students will take enough interest to find out what the Code is and how a Student Court can benefit them. The student cooperation in implementing the Code will help unite the student body.

Who's Who
Eight people constitute the Student Code committee. Its

Sign-Up With Placement Office

It is very important for you to sign-up with the Placement Bureau in the immediate future. On-campus interviews are continuing in the Placement Office and all graduating seniors should take advantage of these opportunities to interview with numerous recruiters from industry, business, and school systems throughout the United States.

Palmer And Clay Hold Open House

Open house introduced the public to multi-million-dollar Palmer and Sidney Clay halls on the expanding Eastern campus Sunday.

The public was invited to tour with student guides the two buildings at simultaneous open houses, according to President Martin. Ceremonies of the day began with a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. honoring Louisville banker Sidney Clay and Mrs. Clay

State senator and Mrs. Wilson Palmer of Cynthiana.

Others attending were representatives of the contractors, Hargett Construction Company, Lexington (Clay Hall), and White and Congleton, Lexington (Palmer); architects Lewis and Henry, Lexington (Clay); and Brock, Johnson & Romanowitz, Lexington (Palmer); together with representatives of the faculty and administration.
