McGill

Why Not An Improved Society?

By RALPH MCGILL

At mid-term, President Johnson's domestic plans are slowed by war and the public mood. That mood is uncertain, confused, and resistant. Political victories by the opposition in the mid-term elections were not a disaster. Their number was about the average of such off-year tests. But they did, and do, add to and encourage obstructionist delays and denials.

The President has announced suggestions and requests for planning to take up slack when, and if, an armistice comes in Southeast Asia. Reality of war costs and resistance to and fear of change have combined to slow down the pace of building a Great Society.

A Necessary Program

Poverty programs, for example, are a necessity. The most blindly partisan may use the Great Society phrase as if it were an epithet—it remains a necessary program. The cost of carrying it out will be more if we delay than if we pay as we go. The presence of a minimum of 32 million Americans in a condition of poverty and illiteracy cannot be ignored.

The fact that agriculture has displaced millions of these and that a huge percentage are adults who will have difficulty finding training or jobs is but a part of the web in which we are inextricably caught.

We have cut appropriations on poverty programs just as they begin proving their positive value. Schools opened for adults attracted thousands. Many of these are closed or reduced. Millions of our people have not had as much as an eight grade education. The condition of numerous rural schools in the Southeast is worse now than at any time in their history—a statement taken from reports made by superintendents. Because of the inequities of a segregated system the education of Negro adults and children is even lower.

The longer we fail to support a program to improve schools and educate adults who lack reading and communicating ability, the greater will be the cost we finally will pay.

It generally is admitted that the program of welfare, built on the foundations established in the tragic depths of the depression years, needs study and revision. But not until there is thorough examination and evaluation of it can it be reformed.

We were beginning to learn from some of the poverty community relations programs how we might change our welfare program to meet demands which have altered—and increased—since the first beginnings of Social Security.

The Price For Civilization

If a small tax increase is needed, we should pay it. Taxation, a wise man said, is the price we pay for civilization. It is not merely cruel but selfish blindness to postpone what must be done and pay a greater price in social unrest and dollars.

The comparisons are not, of course, exact. But Winston Churchill, after the tremendous war victory in 1945, was defeated by Labor because programs to meet long neglected needs in housing, public health and welfare were neither planned nor pushed.

President Roosevelt, of course, did not anticipate so early a death or the war's end. His plans, well begun prior to the attack on this country at Pearl Harbor in December 1941, had been put aside. President Harry Truman, after his election, picked them up and made progress. But the lag has continued. Housing that should have been built 20 or more years ago is still unbuilt. Reform of welfare and education to cope with the needs of persons long neglected and those new needs created by unprecedented urban growth also are unmet. Beginnings have been halted.

The objective of a society that is better educated, housed and employed is not something to muck or deride.

Pearl Buck Speaks On China

(Continued From Page 1) briefly on the orphans of China. She referred to them as "Amerasians," and said they were children of American soldiers.

Miss Buck has raised six orphans herself and also established a "Welcome House" for orphans awaiting adoption. Proceeds from her lecture will go to the Pearl S. Buck Foundation to aid these orphans.

Her reference to the orphans was abbreviated, because each time she returned her remarks to Communism and its effect on the Chinese people.

Communication Needed Now

"We know that Communism isn't working in China," she said. "We know this, but the big question now is 'what next?'" She said the best answer she could offer is "communication."

Miss Buck in closing her lecture said, "The Chinese will rebuild their nation by themselves—we must wait."

"What we must realize," she said, "is that people—all people—wish to live in peace. Our power in Asia is not arms, but communication—which leads to respect and love and human understanding."

"We must make the best of this moment. Just as I ask the Chinese to be patient with us, I ask you to be patient with China."

Miss Buck was born in West Virginia, but went to China with her missionary parents till she was seventeen. Returning to America, she received her formal education with an A.B. degree from Randolph-Macon Women's College and an M.A. from both Cornell University and Yale.

In 1931, Miss Buck received the Pulitzer Prize for "The Good Earth," a novel about the struggle of a Chinese peasant couple for land and security.

"Dragon Seed," "East Wind, West Wind," "Pavilion of Women" and an autobiography entitled "My Several Worlds" are just a few of the many books she has written.

When asked what she had planned for the future in the way of new books, Miss Buck replied that she was "always working on something." She revealed that she is keeping well ahead of her publishing schedule. Miss Buck writes about three books a year, some of which are set in America and others in the Orient. Since her publishing schedule calls for two books per year, Miss Buck has some eighteen books in reserve and is adding to the list.

Her newest publication, to be released on February 20, is entitled "Time Is Noon," and is one of her most personal books. In it she becomes deeply involved personally by drawing so heavily on the real life dramas she has experienced.

Tax Relief Bill Is Introduced

Senator Abraham Ribicoff (D - Conn) last Feb. 6 introduced his bill to give tax relief to parents and students who pay the costs of a college education.

The proposal provides an income tax credit of up to $325 on the first $1,500 of tuition, fees, books, and supplies. It would go to anyone who pays these expenses for a student at an institution of higher education.

The measure this year has picked up strong support; it is co-sponsored by 46 Senators from both political parties and from all sections of the country.

It is the same as that Ribicoff has introduced in previous Congresses with one exception: An amendment would include coverage for students in accredited post-secondary business, trade, technical and other vocational schools.

Senator Ribicoff pointed out that under his proposal over two-thirds of the benefits would go to families earning less than $10,000 a year.

In a statement on the Senate floor, Senator Ribicoff said: "Now we must decide if, as a nation, we are to treat education costs as we do the interest on a home mortgage, or flood damage, or health expenses. This proposal is for the average family in America. It is for the people who constitute the backbone of America—the blue collar workers, the white collar workers, the wage earners and salaried persons of the lower and middle income group who are struggling to pay their bills, buy their homes, and educate their children. They work hard for their wages or salary—and it is all taxable."

Such tax relief is needed and will be needed, he explained, because the costs of going to college continue to increase. "Ben Franklin could experiment with a kite and key, but today's universities require atomic accelerators, mass spectrometers, and other sophisticated equipment."

DEAR REB:
Composer wants to know the score on '67 compacts

DEAR REB:
I'm a well-known composer, and I need a new car. The trouble is, I'm just too Bizet to pick one out. And what's more, many of the new cars I see are Offenbach in the garage for repairs. But I do have a good friend who is pleased with his new '67 Dodge Dart. He was given an excellent deal and Berlitz any money on it. My Bach is to the wall. Can you help me?
LUDWIG

DEAR LUDWIG:
My advice is that you let yourself Ravel in the enjoyment of driving the sporty, all-new Dart for '67. You'll find its Liszt price is a lot lower than you'd expect. And even though it's longer outside and bigger inside this year, Dart's still an easy car to Handel.

Sincerely, Reb

Here's the swinging, man-sized compact for '67 that's got three B's of its own: Bold, Brassy and Beautiful. Dart has been completely restyled this year, inside and out. It's longer, roomier, more powerful. But still at that snug compact price. Drop in at your nearest Dodge Dealer's and try it out for yourself.

Colonels Tackle Western Monday

Eels Blast U.K. In Swim Meet

By Roy Watson
Swimming Editor

Eastern's "electrifying" Eels continued to dominate swimming in Kentucky by crushing the University of Kentucky swimmers 69-35.

The Eels, relying chiefly on their younger swimmers, captured nine of the first 12 places. "Our young people really came through for us," said Combs, "we finished one-two in five events."

Upset-minded UK jumped to an early 21-13 lead, but Eastern gradually closed the gap and went ahead 29-26 in the one-meter diving. In the last four events UK managed only three points.

Eastern's 400-yard freestyle relay team established a team record with 3:25.6 timing. The relay team, composed of Bill Walker, Lacy Hagood, Ron Nour, and Rich Anderson finished 14 seconds ahead of UK's team which set a school record of its own.

Freshman John Buckner scored ten points to pace the Eel attack. Buckner finished first in the 1,000-yard freestyle and 500-yard backstroke.

John Sims, a transfer student from UK, put forth a fine effort against his former teammates. He took first place honors in the 500-yard freestyle and placed second in the 200-yard individual medley for a total of eight points.

Incoming freshman, Joe Peck and Jim Miller, both of whom have only been practicing a week, proved that they will be seeing plenty of action before the season is over.

Peck tallied 182.05 points to win the one-meter diving event, individual medley and finished second in the 200-yard breaststroke.

A 2:13.5 timing gave Greg Marquis first place in the 200-yard butterfly. In his first meet as an Eel, transfer Bruce Boyer went 2:14.7 in the 200-yard butterfly, his best time yet.

Several of the Eel veterans saw little or no action in the UK rout. All-America Rick Hill didn't even get wet. All-America Walker participated in two events, swimming as anchor man on the record-breaking relay team and taking first in the 200-yard freestyle. Bob Walker won the 200-yard breaststroke event.

Fred Zirkel's record-breaking performance in the 100-yard freestyle and a win in the 30-yard free gave him ten points to lead the UK swimmers.

GEORGIA 56 EASTERN 48

The Eels finished with a one-and-one record for their week's work. The University of Georgia handed Eastern its third loss in nine meets 56-48. UK hosted the double-duel meet Saturday in Memorial Coliseum.

Ahead 49-48 going into the last event, Georgia edged the Eels by a narrow three-second margin to gain the victory.

"We wanted to beat them real bad," said Coach Combs, "because the win would have made us the number two team in the South, behind the University of Florida."

Eastern was led by veterans Rick Hill, Bob Walker and Bill Walker. Hill won the 200-yard backstroke and finished second in the 200-yard individual medley and butterfly events to lead the Eels with 11 points.

FANS VIEW MASSACRE—A capacity crowd in the Eastern Natatorium watch the Eels demolish the University of Kentucky swimmers last Tuesday night.

Hill And Walker In Exhibition

Swim Coach Don Combs reports that an exhibition event at the Union College meet tomorrow afternoon will be of major interest to swimming fans.

All-Americans Rick Hill and Bill Walker will swim in exhibition in the 400-yard individual medley event. Combs said that this exhibition will go a long way toward determining Eastern's two representatives in the NCAA's college division swimming championships in Los Angeles, California.

Hill and Walker will have to meet the cutoff time which has been set by Coach Combs as last year's sixth place time in the NCAA championships. If both boys go under 4:42 they will be assured of representing Eastern in Los Angeles.

Score Upset Win Over Tough Murray

By Craig Ammerman

EASTERN versus WESTERN That is a line which is synonymous with hotly-contested rivalries in the world of sports.

The 114th renewal of this crossstate rivalry will take place Monday night in Alumni Coliseum before what is expected to be a standing-room only audience.

But the Colonels must first tackle Middle Tennessee Saturday night while the nationally ranked Hillhoppers go against Morehead on the latter's home court.

Eastern enters the long-awaited clash with a disappointing 4-13 record while sixth-ranked Western has won 19 straight contests since an opening-game loss to Vanderbilt.

The Colonels seem to be coming around in recent games as they just returned from a road trip which they saw Coach Jim Baechtold's charges upset Murray while dropping to Austin Peay.

The Murray contest saw the Colonels play their best game of the current season, but it took two clutch free throws by sophomore forward Gary Paul after time had expired to boost the young squad to a 73-77 victory.

Eastern had obtained a 50-42 lead in the first half largely due to the fine play of junior center Garfield Smith. Smith garnered 18 points and 11 rebounds in the opening twenty minutes of action while limiting Murray center Dick Cunningham, the nation's leading rebounder, to four points and six rebounds.

Murray quickly caught the what the records say with an outburst by guard Billy Chumbler which saw the Racers jump to a 57-55 lead.

The game remained nip-and-tuck for the next 10 minutes with each team taking plenty of time to work for better shots.

Washington Narrows Score

Chumbler hit a jump shot to give Murray a 72-69 lead late in the contest, but Bobby Washington came back to narrow the score to 72-71 on a driving layup.

The score jumped to 73-72 as Chumbler and Clark traded free throws.

Dick Cunningham, the Murray center and the nation's leading rebounder, gave the Racers a 75-72 lead with a layup as 59 seconds remained on the clock. The Colonels' sophomore guard, Washington, took only nine seconds to close the gap to 75-74 on a 15 foot jumper.

The Colonels regained possession on a violation only seconds later and began to work for a final shot. The Racers foiled this plan as they fouled Washington with 30 seconds still left to play. The 5-11 guard sank both free throws to push the Colonels to a 76-75 lead.

But it was Chumbler again. The fiery guard hit a long shot which looked to be a combination of a hook shot and jump shot to give the Racers the lead at 77-76 with 15 seconds yet to play.

5,000 Fans Present

The visiting Eastern team worked for the final shot which went to Paul. The shot was wide but he was fouled by Murray forward Herb McPherson and it only remained for the cool-headed soph to sink the two pressure throws before 5,000 screaming fans in the Murray Fieldhouse.

In the Austin Peay contest, the Colonels fell victim to cold-shooting and poor ball-handling and saw a early first half lead melt away to a 94-70 defeat.

In Middle Tennessee, the Colonels will face one of the conferences' most improved quinquennials.

AS I SEE IT

by Craig Ammerman
Progress Sports Editor

Dear Fair Weather Fan:
I guess you were really at your best last Monday night at the Tennessee Tech game.

I'm sure took guts to desert the Coliseum when your team was falling behind the visitors midway in the second half. Any school-spirited person would have done the same thing.

Did you know the Eastern basketball team is currently experiencing its worst season in quite a few years?

The record of this determined but unsuccessful group of athletes has been reflected in the home attendance, particularly on the side which is designated for season ticket holders.

Most of the students had maintained respectable attendance throughout the victory drought and they had shown good school spirit until the Tennessee Tech showing.

With eleven minutes remaining to play, this writer looked up with astonishment as about one-third of the student section headed for the Coliseum exits.

These fans, or whatever they might be termed, missed an Eastern rally which pulled the Colonels from 19 points down to an eight-point deficit before Tech was able to secure the victory.

Had the team received a little vocal support from someone other than the cheerleaders, the game might have had a different ending. We will never know now.

Eastern's athletic program is excellent when viewed from an all-around standpoint. The Eastern athletic teams secured the Ohio Valley Conference all-sports trophy for excellence in the complete sports program for the 1965-66 school year.

Eastern's swimming, cross-country, football and yes, even basketball teams, are annually some of the area's best.

Since 1958, Eastern basketball teams have won 116 games while losing 63 and they have played in three N.C.A.A. play-off rounds.

The Ohio Valley Conference is one of the country's best collegiate basketball leagues. The edge between victory and defeat is a thin one. The Colonels have been unable to find extra quality that differentiates a winner from a loser. So have many of the so-called school-spirited fans.

But the outlook for the future is bright, for the basketball team anyway.

Coach Jim Baechtold has nine sophomores on his roster of 13. These relative strangers to big-time collegiate basketball have experienced difficulties, to say the least, but they appear to be rounding into the type of performers it takes to win in the OVC.

The Eastern freshmen team is possibly the best in the school's history.

When these freshmen join the current varsity, the Colonels should return to their accustomed spot among the elite teams in the conference.

But athletes are like other people. They tend to lose interest when people lose interest in them.

It is easy to support a winner; any run-of-the-mill person can do that. It is not as easy to support a team which is struggling through a losing season.

Are we going to allow ourselves to be run-of-the-mill people?
I hope not.

Club NOTES

Gymnastics Club Enters First Formal Meet

For the first time in Eastern's history, members of the gymnastic team competed in a formal gymnastic meet. These members represented the school in the University of Louisville Second Invitational Gymnastic Meet on January 14, 1967. Those who competed are as follows: John Hayman on the parallel bars, Tony Baker on the still rings, and Lannie Busey on the side horse.

Although the members did not place in the upper divisions, Dr. Groves, the team's coach, said they did achieve a higher rating than was expected of them. From the experience obtained during the meet, the members felt higher ratings will be within reach in the near future.

On January 7, a trampoline exhibition was given at the half time of the Eastern vs. Austin Peay basketball game. Three members of the Gymnastics Club performed. They were: Greg Struve and Vicky Barbour in a double routine, and Greg Struve and Butch Hays each doing a solo routine.

On January 13, the Gymnastics Club put on demonstrations at Woodford County School in Versailles, and Kentucky Village in Lexington. The club showed students basic and advance stunts on the mats, trampoline, and in floor exercises. The club has been traveling to various schools around the area to try to promote gymnastics in elementary and secondary educational levels.

New officers were recently elected by the members of the Gymnastics Club. These officers are: Ray Susong, president; Vicky Barbour, vice president; Sharon Perpington, secretary; Linda Blanton, treasurer; Debra Lodico, club reporter; and Donna Babinski, student council representative.

Drum and Sandal To Begin Tryouts For Spring
The Drum and Sandal Club will be conducting tryouts for second semester during the following weeks.

All students are invited to try out for Eastern's Modern Dance Club.

The actual tryouts will take place on February 22. All workshops and meetings are in the Dance Studio located in Weaver Health Building at 6:00 p.m.

The Club welcomes new members for the coming semester.

Circle South Open To All Students

Circle South, Eastern's folk and square dance club, will meet this semester on Thursday nights from 8:30 till 8:00 p.m. in the Weaver Dance Studio.

These meetings are open to all students, and no folk dancing experience is necessary. Dancers should bring tennis shoes, or any soft soled shoe that has not been worked outside.

Colonels-Western

lets as Coach Ken Trickey's outfit has experienced many of the same troubles that are familiar to Eastern in that they have dropped close contest.

But all eyes will be turned towards the Western contest Monday night.

It may be that the Hilltoppers possess one of the country's elite basketball teams and the Colonels are suffering one of their worst seasons in history.

But it never seems to matter what the records say when EASTERN versus WESTERN.
