SG President Stresses Association's 'Action'

BY DELMA FRANCIS
Staff Writer

In the annual State of the Association address, President of the Student Association, Chuck Kelhoffer informed the members of the student body present that "this Senate has become a Senate of Action, not rhetoric."

Kelhoffer then proceeded to outline the actions taken by the Senate this year. They are as follows:

1) Since the acceptance of the Powell Report as the Policy and Rules of this University concerning student life, students complained about these oppressive and vague rules. We put the students' words into action in a 35-page report of changes that the students would like to see implemented.

2) We finally dropped out of the Regional Southern University Government Association which we had greatly outgrown. For three years it was realized that we should withdraw from G.U.S.G.A. and join a nationwide organization. This year it was done...

3) Eastern's Student Government has taken a greatly active role in the reformed Kentucky Student Association, to work on a larger scale for student needs.

4) Senate meetings have not been marred by apathy. Attendance this year has been excellent; only twice have we not been able to hold meetings because of no quorum.

5) With the new procedure of bringing things up one week and voting on it the next, much of the trivia has been handled within committees."

A Progress editorial on page two explores the success and failure of this year's Student Association.

Kelhoffer emphasized that this Senate has been willing to take stands without worrying about stepping on toes, citing the willingness of members to say that they needed a new advisor.

He stated that Student Government has made great steps forward in three major areas--Student Services, Student Rights and Academic Affairs.

Among services added are a drug abuse program, providing an information center for students; the Co-op Book Exchange, enabling students to buy books directly from other students; a paper recycling drive; a voter registration drive and four $100 scholarships being awarded by the Association.

Concerning Student rights, Kelhoffer said, "The most important and greatest landmark established by the Student Senate thus far is the 35-page report of proposed changes in the Student Handbook." Other advances included a provision for write-in votes on the ballots of all Student Association elections and the abolishment of the "sexist, racist harassment of Rat Court."

In the area of Academic Affairs, the efforts of Student Senate made possible the five minute extension of time between classes and Departmental decision on the question of class attendance.

Following his outline of "missions accomplished" thus far this year, Kelhoffer announced the following proposals for the remainder of the school year:

1)...call for an end to the sexist discrimination against women; 2)...call for an end to rules that prohibit persons over 21 from possessing alcoholic beverages in their dorms, 3) those prohibiting "the use of refrigerators in dorm rooms and 4) to extremely vague rules about conduct, such as rules concerning public display of affection and students' use of the ravine.

Ice which covered nearly every uncovered object on campus last weekend left this illuminated effect to the newly planted trees near the Powell Building. The ice remained nearly a week

'We Had People Waiting In Line'

BY FAWN CONLEY
Staff Writer

Chuck Kelhoffer, Student Association President, termed his book exchange program a success this week when he stated that he was "extremely pleased" with the results.

The program took place January 10-12 after being set up by Kelhoffer and a Student Association committee.

According to Kelhoffer, the program was set up as a permanent one, but continuation of the exchange will depend on next year's Student Association president.

"We had people waiting in line several times," said Kelhoffer in describing the success of the program. However, he had no idea how many students had participated.

The main reason for this lack of information centers around the fact that the Student Association did not handle the financial end of the exchange.

Students who wanted to sell or buy books through the program filled out an envelope with their name, campus address and telephone number.

The Student Association suggested a price and then got in touch with the student when a buyer was found. The money was placed in the envelope and given to the seller.

Kelhoffer stated that apparently the students were satisfied, because, "I received no complaints." The idea for the book exchange program was originally his.

He also stated that Dr. Martin had been "very cooperative" about the matter.

The committee in charge of the program, headed by Ellen Collins, senior from Morganfield, received lists of texts to be used and other pertinent information from Dean Stovall's office.

Narcotics Detectives Say:

'At Eastern, There Shouldn't Be The Problem There Is'

BY BETSEY BELL
Academics Editor

There were twelve arrests for possession of narcotics and five for sale of drugs last month, according to Robert Webster, narcotics detective of Richmond. Webster and Captain Donald Thompson are working for Narcotics Investigation Commission of Kentucky, a state narcotic division. Webster and Thompson started the program in Richmond, August 28, 1971.

Webster said of the drug problem on campus, "At a school the size of Eastern there shouldn't be the problem there is." Webster stated, "The biggest problem is the students using dexedrine." He explained that many students use the drug to stay awake.

Webster said, "The problem is, are we going to accept it or are we going to enforce the law?" Webster also explained that they made no arrests for four months, "We starting arresting people on December 1. We know more than what we are moving on." Webster stated that 20 to 30 per cent of the information concerning drug users "comes from students and security." Webster added that "President Martin is the main one pushing the program." "He wants us to move in as soon as possible."

Thompson explained "The students arrested come from all social levels." He and Webster said that many of the students are supplied by outsiders. They also stated that they suspected that there was some heroin on campus.

Under Kentucky Law anyone arrested for sale or manufacturing of dangerous drugs shall be punished by confinement in the penitentiary for not more than five years or by a fine of not more than $5,000. Subsequent offenses are punishable by ten years in the penitentiary or by a fine of not more than $10,000. If caught selling or administering any dangerous drug to a person under 18 years of age the punishment is not more than 20 years in a penitentiary or a fine of not more than $20,000.

This is the first of a series concerning drug usage on the college scene. Next week: "The Convicted User."

Police court Judge, Paul Fagan explained that in June 1970 a law was passed which made the first offense of possession a misdemeanor. Anyone charged with such an offense is referred to a facility designated by the commissioner of the Department of Mental Health where a program of rehabilitation and treatment not to exceed one year shall be prescribed. If the accused fails to report to such a program he is subject to not more than six months in jail, or fine of not more than $600.

For a second conviction of possession the punishment is confinement in the county jail for not more than one year or by a fine of not more than $1,000 or both. For a third conviction or subsequent conviction the punishment shall be not more than five years in a penitentiary or both.

Fagan explained that when a person is charged with possession he is taken to the police court for a hearing, after which he has the option of taking his case to court or pleading guilty and receiving punishment. Fagan stated that most persons charged with possession plead guilty.

Fagan stated that the campus security had been certified by the governor for arrests on campus or in pursuit of a person off campus.

Webster stated that in most cases of first offenders to person receives a suspended sentence. He pointed out that in two cases Eastern students were dismissed from the University. He said that after the sentence was suspended he and Thompson requested that the students be readmitted. He stated that 80 to 89 per cent of the arrests are marijuana charges. "We haven't missed a case yet." He also stated that most the charges were on male

In Association Address

Kelhoffer Reviews State Of His Administration

Perhaps the television networks should've considered televising Chuck Kelhoffer's "State of the Association" message last Monday night instead of the prime time political speeches that often clutter our TV sets.

In deliberate, strongly spoken terms, Kelhoffer reviewed the first semester of his administration, while setting the tone for the second.

One thing was apparent. Many of the complaints registered by the campus student leadership during past years have, at last, been acted upon.

Probably the prime concern of Kelhoffer is student rights. The Student Senate's 35-page study and suggested improvements to the "Powell Report" is a major step forward in correcting the vagueness of the document which was billed as a great breakthrough in behalf of students.

The expense of textbooks is a longstanding complaint which has never received the active attention it deserved. With the success of the Student Senate's "co-op book exchange," students now have a way to bypass the high prices of the two bookstores.

The Student Senate's willingness to get involved in the "Case Hall incident" was a step in the direction of putting an end to the too often haphazardly run dormitories. It's not that all dorms have such problems, but the fact that if there are any mistakes in procedure or management, then it's the case of "one mistake too many."

The need for legal help for students has long been recognized. Through the work of Student government this year, it appears that legal counsel will finally be available.

It is also true, that for years it has been suggested that Eastern drop out of the Southern Universities Student Government Association. Finally, due to Kelhoffer's urging, Eastern did drop out last fall, and placed their membership in the Association of Student Governments, which is no doubt the better of the two organizations.

Last year, on one cowardly occasion, the Student Senate could not see fit to honor America's war dead in a special day of mourning. This year, such a day was declared.

Kelhoffer, himself, accepted the responsibility of facing the issue of the University president appointing student members to the official University committees. It appears now as though students have a better hope of choosing their own representatives in the future.

Some of the results of original projects for Eastern are:

The news paper recycling that has resulted in some 7 tons of paper being reprocessed for use again.

Another is the draft counseling that will soon be available here. Along the same line, a pregnancy information service is also in the making. Also, a drug information service, talked about in the past, but never acted upon, is currently available.

The student government will sponsor a voter registration drive in the spring. This comes in the wake of a recent court ruling giving students in Kentucky the right to vote in the town where they attend school.

Rat court has been ended. That didn't take much doing, but the nonsense of the procedure is no longer with us.

Four $100 scholarships will be given by the Student Association: this semester-one to a member of each undergraduate class. They are based on scholarship, student activities, and financial need. With the SA budget being some $10,000, we can only say "it's about time" some money came back to the "student taxpayer."

Student Senate meetings, still in great need of improvement, have come a long, long way considering past years.

This year we won't have to go through the hassle of wondering if "write-in votes" are legal on the student ballots. They are legal now.

There can be no doubt that this student government has gotten down to what really matters—putting students first—with a vital part of the input coming from the officers.

Not all the praise goes to the student president. He drafted a large number of students to help. It was a good move when he named his "cabinet" of advisors at the first of the year.

And don't forget the student vice president. Sharon Crews always adds a smile and a listening ear to any situation. She works hard to make life better here. As the ranking female member of the Student Association, she added a touch of dignity to the scene, while taking up for the women's side.

So we can gather from all this that something has definitely been going on in student government...something for the better. Let's hope the same is true for this semester.

SOMETHING TELLS ME THAT I SHOULD HAVE BROUGHT MY LUNCH INSTEAD OF EATING IN THE CAFETERIA.

Official Problem

Dear Editor,
This letter is in regard to the poorly officiated East Tennessee-Eastern game played Monday night. Time after time, the officials made the bad or questionable call. Some against East Tennessee; most against Eastern.

Example: An Eastern player, driving for the basket, goes up for the shot and is called for fouling an East Tennessee defender, who is well out of position with only his hands outstretched trying to block the shot.

Example: An East Tennessee inbound's pass is clearly knocked out of bounds by an Eastern player. Result; Eastern's ball.

Example: An Eastern player, with his man blocked out well, is called for pushing off while going up for the rebound.

On several occasions, the officials were out of position to make the reasonable call. At one instance near the end of the game, one of the officials, standing in the middle of Eastern's offensive backcourt, had to duck a pass between Eastern's two guards.

Doesn't the Ohio Valley Conference deserve a better calibre of officiating than this?

Stomach Trouble

Dear Editor:
It's a real shame that with a beautiful new facility like the University Center that the food should be so super poor. I thought the food was bad before, but now it's served cold to top it all off.

I was really upset tonight when I stopped in for a cheeseburger after a game of pool and could only choke one bite of it down. The looks of it were sickening, a Gaines Burger looks like it has more meat in it than the grill's hamburgers. I wouldn't serve that cereal patty to a dog.

I've been to three colleges that have Saga Food Service doing all the serving of food. I never found anything that tasted, or looked bad. Every Friday students were served char-broiled steaks. There were always at least five or six different kinds of salads to choose from, the same wide selection of deserts, at least two or three meats to choose from and several vegetables. Breakfast too had a variety, and the eggs weren't powdered. They make their own soups from scratch instead of canned soup. They also do all their own baking. These students are satisfied with their food service, are you?

I suggest, that we students try for something better... Saga Foods Service.

Eating off Campus,

Senate Without Students

Dear Editor,
In view of the student turnout of the State of the Association address, I was very disappointed at the number of students who did not care enough to find out what the Student Association has done this past year. Since the Student Senate is a branch of the Association, how can the members of the Student Senate represent someone that really doesn't care one way or the other? No longer do we have to stand in the background and be told what to do; we can speak up for ourselves and act on what needs to be done. The Student Association has helped improve this campus and will continue to do so. Anything that is done for the student body is worthwhile. If it is there for the students, it seems we should be interested enough to find out what the Senate can and will do for us.

EKU Infirmary: A Place For Only The Healthy

Today Eastern Kentucky University is a totally modern up-to-date institution in all outward appearances. The University boasts a new University Center containing many recreational facilities and innumerable new classroom buildings, all of which were erected with the comfort of the students in mind.

But what about an internal operation of the campus which is not so obvious, namely the Infirmary which supposedly caters to the students with health problems? How modern is it? How well equipped and well staffed?

Contrary to what is sometimes thought by the middle-aged set, students are not invulnerable, but are subject to illnesses, some of which are serious, and deserving of proper treatment.

Proper treatment of student ills is not derived at the University Infirmary where nose spray and cough lozenges are distributed indiscriminately as a remedy for every ailment.

The diagnosing of an allergy as homesickness may not seem to be a monumental mistake, but even small mistakes can cost lives. More serious examples of mistakes in diagnosis are as follows:

A student reported to the Infirmary for a weekly allergy shot. In this age of disposable inexpensive hypodermic needles, the nurse prepared to inject the student with a bent needle.

Upon discovery of the bent needle, the nurse attempted to straighten the needle. When this had been accomplished to her satisfaction, she proceeded to inject the student, never thinking to sterilize the now non-sterile needle.

A second example of shocking misjudgement, was the diagnosis of a fracture as a possible sprain. The student involved had fallen, twisting her ankle. When she arrived at the Infirmary she was told that it was most likely a sprain and not an emergency. When she asked to go to the hospital for an X-ray to make sure she had no broken bones, she was again informed that it was not an emergency. Besides, they would have to trouble the technician at home, as there was no one on duty at the hospital then. In her 45 minute exchange with those on duty, the student's ankle had swelled perceptively.

'Cactus' Is Great Experience

When a rock group takes a month's vacation and reorganizes their members their first performance maybe rather gauche. Not so with "Cactus." This group sounded like they had played together for years. "Cactus" was definitely an audience pleaser. They had a little bit of everything.

The lead singer's style was a cross between Joe Cocker and Mick Jagger while the drummer, who was capable of giving a concert by himself, resembled "Blind Faith". The guitarists and organist although they did sound like many other similar groups were extremely versatile.

"Cactus" was successful in keeping their songs from sounding too similar. Brother Bill a rock-blues style could be identified with works of the "Rolling Stones," while Evil with its hard electrifying notes resembled songs performed by "Grand Funk".

Solos performed by each member of the group kept the concert from becoming monotonous. The personality of the group was also refreshing.

Although the majority of Eastern's students do not hold hard rock as their "cup of tea" Tuesday night's concert was appreciated.

Here's hoping Eastern experiences more moments like those with "Cactus."

Flanked by most versatile guitarists, the lead singer of "Cactus" sings in a style comparable to Mick Jagger of the "Rolling Stones." "Cactus" also performed in a style similar to "Grand Funk" and "Vanilla Fudge."

CIT Presents 'Winter Jazz'

CTI and Kudu Records will present "Winter Jazz", a concert package with an All Star group of names in Cincinnati February 24th at the Music Hall at 8:00 PM. Appearing at the "Winter Jazz" concert will be guitarist George Benson, trumpeter Freddie Hubbard, flutist Hubert Laws, tenor saxophonist Stanley Turrentine, tenor saxophonist Hank Crawford, organist Johnny Hammond, bassist Ron Carter, percussionist Airto, alto saxophonist Grover Washington, Jr., singer Esther Phillips and Aretha Franklin's award winning drummer Bernard Purdie. The emcee for the concert will be Frankie Crocker of WLIB in New York.

Tickets are priced at $6.50, $5.50, and $4.50, and are available by mail order by writing to Community Ticket Office, 29 West 4th Street in Cincinnati. Patrons are requested to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. All seats are reserved.

Creed Taylor, President of CTI and Kudu Records, put the "Winter Jazz" concert package together due to the huge success of CTI's "Summer Jazz" concert package which played the Hollywood Paladium to a capacity crowd of 5,000 people on July 18th. Strong record buying interest has been shown in Cincinnati. Hence the demand for these artists to appear in the "Winter Jazz" concert.

"California Concert," a live album of the "Summer Jazz" concert, has just been released by CTI and will be heavily promoted by CTI local promotion men. In store promotions, newspaper publicity and advertising, local and national television appearances by the artists, along with special radio promotion designed at hitting this market and surrounding colleges are other highlights of the promotion of "Winter Jazz."

In addition to the various CTI artists appearing on the "Winter Jazz" concert package, Kudu artists Esther Phillips, Johnny Hammond, Hank Crawford, and Grover Washington, Jr. will be appearing. Esther Phillips' first Kudu album "From A Whisper To A Scream" and Johnny Hammond's "Wild Horses Rock Steady" album will be released nationally on January 31st. Johnny Hammond's first Kudu album, "Breakout", was a best seller on all pop, soul, and jazz charts. Hank Crawford's single record "Brian's Song," written by Michel Legrand, is receiving saturated national air play. Grover Washington, Jr., first album "Inner City Blues" has passed $250,000 in its first two months of release. All of the CTI artists on "Winter Jazz" have had top 20 charted albums during 1971.

Infirmary

Receiving no help from the Infirmary, the student called her mother, who took her to a Lexington hospital. There it was discovered she had three fractures requiring a cast, which she wore for six weeks.

These are just a few of the innumerable mistakes in judgement made by the Student Health Services, constituting a deplorable situation which must be corrected.

Yes, students need good classroom and recreational facilities, but they are also entitled to proper treatment of physical ills.

Reader's Theater To Be Held At Model

BY PATRICIA DOTSON
Staff Writer

The Reader's Theatre production of the Canterbury Tales will be held February 10-12 at 8:00 in Edwards Auditorium at Model High School.

Reader's Theatre is an art dating back to ancient Greece. Scripts are not memorized, but are read. The idea is to create a mental illusion of the occurring action over the audience's head.

The readers themselves generally use only a bare minimum of movement. They use their voices and facial gestures to create the mood, character and action.

There is usually little use of props, make-up or costumes. In this production the director, Professor Max Huss, is using a stylized set which will consist of a series of platforms backed by a plain dark curtain of backdrop.

Costumes are merely suggested with the women in long dresses and the men in slacks and shirt covered with a mantle.

To combine the Traditional aspects of Reader's Theatre with the contemporary to create a new production of a familiar tale. The Canterbury Tales has been described as "the practical joke being played."

Professor Huss, who adapted five of the many tales, said that he chose these tales because they are the most easily adapted and because they have the best continuity.

The five tales adapted by Professor Huss from Chaucer's 'Canterbury Tales' include: 'The Priest's Tale' featuring H.R. Giles, Jim Alford, Pat Dotson and Iver Standard.

'The Wife of Bath's Tale' featuring Toni Trimble, Don Harris, v Vicki Wolfe and Ruth Moore.

'The Pardoner's Tale' featuring Lewis Wilson, John Begley, Mike Bugek and Bob Gray.

'The Miller's tale' featuring Ted Wendt, Mike Woods, Carol Cole, Dan Browning and Don Meade.

'The Reeve's Tale' featuring Lee Ewing, Roger Hogg, Bryan Kirby, Tricia Perry, M. Hall Middleton, and Kathy Paris.

The host of the inn will be played by J.C. Kincer.

Most of the tales contain a moral and all poke fun at human foibles. 'The Priest's Tale' is concerned with vanity and pride which cause man's downfall.

'The Pardoner's Tale' shows how gluttony and greed can cause man's downfall again.

'The Wife of Bath's Tale,' instead of being strictly moralistic, shows how man is often subservient to woman.

Tickets are $1 for students and $1.50 for adults. Tickets may be reserved by calling 622-5851. They are also on sale in front of the grill on either side of the lobby.

Forensic Team Invited To Participate In Nationals

Under the guidance of Professor Max Huss, the Forensic Team at Eastern is eligible to participate in the National Individual Event Tournament at De Paul University in Chicago, Illinois on April 14-17.

Professor Huss explained that in order to participate in this tournament, the student must win in a preliminary round and either place or win a trophy in the final round. Since many

EKU students won in the preliminaries and finals in the last three tournaments held at Heidelberg University, Western Kentucky University, and Miami University, Eastern received an invitation.

Professor Huss is also coordinating a two-day high school forensic tournament at Eastern, starting February 25 and 26. All the high schools in Kentucky have been invited, along with many NFL high schools in Ohio. On March 10 and 11, Eastern is hosting the Blue Grass Invitational Forensic Tournament to which approximately 300 colleges and Universities are invited.

In both of these tournaments there will be six preliminary rounds and three final rounds for both novice and varsity debate. Other categories offered are: Discussion, Dramatic Duet, Oral Interpretation of Poetry, Oral Interpretation of Prose, Original Oratory, and Ex-temporaneous Speaking.

Las Vegas Night: A Cheap 'Expensive' Date

"Honey, I'm gonna spend $5,000 on our date Friday!"
"Oh, goody! Where are we going?"
"To Las Vegas Night."
"Las Vegas? What group is that...they got any good records out?"
The little lady doesn't realize it, but her beau is not being all that generous. In fact, she can't have $5,000 of her own to spend on that big date. Simply because there will be $4 million floating around the Martin Hall cafeteria Friday night...Las Vegas Night.

Legalized gambling! The perfect opportunity to try all those games of chance that you hear about or see on the tube...roulette, Black Jack, stud poker, dice...just like at Vegas or Reno or Lake Tahoe.

Las Vegas Night is perhaps the greatest undertaking yet sponsored by Eastern's residence hall program directors. The "action" begins at 8 p.m. and the tables close down at 11 p.m. or shortly thereafter. Can you blow $5,000 in three hours? Or can you build it into an even more tidy sum?

Best thing...it won't cost you a penny. It won't be your $5,000. The only admission to the games room is by ECU ID card. Each student will be issued $5,000 with which to gamble. You can bet fairly conservatively and play all night, or you can blow your wad on one spin of the wheel. But $5,000 is the house limit...when that's gone, you're through.

One important house rule, though, is that there shall be no food, drink or smoking in the vicinity of the games. The gambling devices are expensive equipment very similar to those used in the professional casinos and are being rented out of Columbus, Ohio.

The games will be set up and ECU students will be instructed as to their operation by representatives of the owner. A group of volunteer students will run the games and tables...honestly.

As a further incentive, a prize will be awarded to the "gambler" who is the biggest winner of the night...the one who wins the most money over and above his allotted $5,000.

Winnings may be registered with the management for those who leave before closing time and the prize will be awarded when the winner is determined. If the big winner is still present at closing time, the prize will be awarded on the spot.

All you Mavericks remember, now, what your old pappy used to say, "If you can't trust the Martin Hall Casino, which one can you trust?"

By the way, don't get any ideas about being satisfied with just the $5,000 and leaving then...it's just play money and all must be turned in before departure.

Mad Scramble Is On

The OVC race at this point has turned into just about what everybody thought it would be—a mad scramble between all eight teams with upsets galore. The Colonels had the upper hand in the proceedings with their road victory over Tennessee Tech last Saturday, but let it slip away with that costly home court loss to East Tennessee Monday.

So, the Colonels find themselves tied with defending champion Western for first place, each with two league losses. Four teams are tied with three losses, and the two others have four losses.

The way things are going now, nobody is really out of it. It looks like a team could win the championship with as many as four losses, and if things stay as close as they are now one could possibly even tie for the title with five losses.

East Tennessee's Buccaneers caught the Colonels on an off night last Monday, but you've got to give the Bucs credit. They played an excellent first half, and after blowing a big lead and getting behind by 10 points in the second half they refused to give up and came back for an upset win. It just goes to show that any OVC team is dangerous on a given night on anybody's home court.

The fan support this year has been great and one bad game is no reason to let it fall off any. Eastern is still right in the thick of the race, and the last few games are the ones when the support will be needed the most.

While most of the sports focus right now is on basketball, Eastern's teams in other sports have been making some noise lately, too. The track, wrestling, and gymnastics squads have done particularly well so far—the wrestling team has won six of their seven matches, the gymnastics squad is off to a fine 4-1 start, and the mile relay team set a Midwestern Indoor Championship Meet record in their event at Columbus, Ohio, last week. All of these teams deserve a pat on the back for their great work so far, and good luck for the rest of their seasons.

Sophomore-studded Eagles Host Colonels

IT'S MINE! NO, IT'S MINE! East Tennessee's John Rice and Eastern's Billy Burton appear to be staging an argument as they wrestle for a loose ball in last Monday night's action in Alumni Coliseum. The Bucs edged the Colonels 68-66 on

"We plan a running offense and a pressure defense," Morehead Coach Harrell said in a pre season outlook. "Our people now have the speed, quickness and ball handling skills to do both of them excellently."

Eastern will face the Morehead Eagles this Saturday, February 5 at Laughlin Fieldhouse in Morehead. This will be the Colonels' seventh conference game and they will be going for their fifth win.

Only three players return from last year's basketball squad at Morehead and Coach Harrell is starting four of the nine sophomores up from an unbeaten freshman team of 70-71. The other starter is a transfer student from Seminole Junior College in Florida. The three returnees are juniors "Bubba" Abell and Ike Unsel and senior Eddie Conley. They were each part-time starters last season but will back-up the sophomores this year.

Eastern's second loss in conference play came against the predominately sophomore East Tennessee team Monday night, and Coach Harrell's sophomores are a more talented group than those of East Tennessee.

Perhaps the most promising of the Eagles' sophs is 6-5, forward Leonard Coulter from Danville, Kentucky. He is a former high-school All-American and he averaged 25.3 points and 17.9 rebounds for last year's frosh. In Monday night's game against Tennessee Tech he hit 18 of 24 attempts from the field 6 of 7 from the free throw line for a total of 42 points. He also led the game in rebounds with 15.

The Eagles' playmaker is sophomore guard Howard Wallen from Williamsport, Kentucky. Also a former high school All-American, Wallen averaged 19.1 points for the frosh and turned in 128 assists, including 13 in a single game.

Transferring from Seminole Junior College in Florida is 6-8, junior center Ron Nicholson. In Florida he averaged 16 points and 16 rebounds last season. The Eagles expect quite a lot from him and he is proving to be a valuable player as he scored 12 points Monday against Tech.

Gymnastics Team Posts 4-1 Mark

Eastern's gymnastics team, considered to have a good chance at the state title this year, extended its winning season on the road this past weekend by defeating Miami of Ohio and the University of Cincinnati, but suffered its first loss of the year to Central Michigan. The squad's record now is four wins and one loss, including previous victories over Murray and the University of Kentucky.

Two seniors, Bill England and Don Paulin turned in outstanding performances in the meets. England and Paulin placed second and third in the all-around competition, respectively.

In the Miami meet at Oxford, Ohio, last Friday, Eastern outscored Miami by a 104.30-102.15 count. England was a standout in this meet in the individual events, placing second in the free exercises with a 7.55 score and second in the side horse vaulting with a 8.20. Bob Sanderson of Eastern finished first in the side horse with a mark of 5.15, and Paulin placed second in the still rings with a 5.50.

Eastern dominated the parallel bar and high bar competition against Miami, as in the parallel bars Paulin finished first with a 6.30, England second with a 6.10, and Kim Charleston third with a 6.00, and in the high bars England won with a 6.40 and Charleston took second with 6.00.

Eastern's domination of these two events, the parallel bar and the high bar, led them to a 111.95-105.20 win over Cincinnati. England, Paulin, and Charleston finished 1-2-3 in the parallel bar competition, respectively, and in the high bar Charleston finished first, England second, and Paulin third.

Sanderson took first place in two events against Cincinnati, winning the long horse vaulting with a score of 8.55 and the side horse with a 6.75. England won the free exercises with a 7.70, placed second in the side horse with a 5.65, and third in the still rings with a 4.85. Paulin placed second in free exercises with a 6.36 score.

This coming weekend the squad has two meets. Friday they will travel to Georgetown to take on Georgetown College in a 1:30 p.m. match, and Saturday afternoon they will return home to meet Miami of Ohio in a 2 p.m. match in Begley Gym 119. The public is invited to attend the meets.

Eastern Clouts Tech For OVC Lead, But White's Jumper Snatches It Away

BY JIM HOUSE
News Editor

If you thought the Ohio Valley Conference race was tough to figure out last week, you'd better not even look at it this week.

Eastern Kentucky and Tennessee Tech were tied for the top spot with 3-1 conference slates going into their Saturday night showdown.

The Colonels came from behind (again) to win that one going away, 104-93, as Charlie Mitchell poured in a career-high 39 points, and Eastern was alone in first place.

Henry White, a 6-2 sophomore guard from Ft. Pierce, Florida, brought the Colonels' short-lived lead to an abrupt halt Monday night.

White tossed in a 15-foot jumper with 0:03 showing on the clock, to give East Tennessee a 68-66 victory. Western Kentucky outlasted Murray, 71-70, giving the "Toppers a share of the loop lead.

Bucs Lead At Half

East Tennessee raced to a 43-32 halftime lead, after holding a 15-point advantage in the initial stanza.

Eastern, a second-half team all year (they'd come from behind to win in six of their last 10 games) outscored the Buccaneers 12-1 at the start of the second half to tie the game at 44-all.

Big Dan Argabright, who finished with 14 points on the night, scored eight points during the stretch, while Mitchell supplied the other four. Mitchell paced Eastern with 17. Then everybody got into the act as the Colonels jumped to a 10-point lead on George Bryant's jumper from downtown at 8:05.

While then took over for East Tennessee and the Bucs rallied to within four, at 65-61, with 3:41 to go.

White Puts Bucs Ahead

White then tossed in a 15-footer and two free throws on his next trip down to put the Bucs in the lead 66-65. Argabright tied it up again with a free throw of his own with 44 seconds to go.

East Tennessee coach Madison Brooks called time out and the Buccaneers mapped their strategy for White's last-second heroics. White made his move with 10 seconds to go, firing in the shot over the outstretched arms of Argabright, among others.

Old Trick Fails

Argabright, realizing the Colonels were out of timeouts, pulled the old 'lost contact lens trick' to allow Eastern to set up for a desperation shot, but it never came off.

It was the third time this season that White had pulled the Bucs out of the fire on a last-second bucket and the second straight night he has done so. His shot at the buzzer beat Morehead Saturday night and a long one with three seconds remaining beat the University of Richmond earlier in the season.

Eastern and Western now stand at 4-2 in the conference, while four other teams are deadlocked for second place.

The Colonels travel to Morehead Saturday to take on the high-scoring Eagles at Laughlin Fieldhouse. Coach Bill Harrell's talented sophomores are currently sporting a 3-3 conference slate.

Murphy Leads Eels To Victory Over UK

Rick Murphy, EKU's splendid soph, led the Eels to a 58-55 dunking of the University of Kentucky Catfish at Lexington Monday night.

Not only did Murphy capture 3 firsts and set a UK pool and EKU team record but had to swim 1,700 tough yards to do it. Number 1 gold swim was the 1000 free where he clocked a record 10:16—the old record was 10:18. Number 2, the 200 Butterfly in a respectable 2:03 and Number 3, the 500 Free in 5:00.8.

"Rick broke them down into small where the rest of the boys could get a hold on them," smiled a happy Coach Donald Combs. He did it all for us tonight—and made it look easy."

The meet was decided in the last freestyle relay when EKU trailing 55-51, Eels Kevin Miles, Link Dorroh, Tom Javins and Bill Stapleton splashed over the 'Cats 3:18.6 UK 3:18.7 for the win.

A capacity crowd roared its approval as UK took the first relay and was never behind until Eastern made its surge in the final relay.

Greg Hook, freshman diver, captured both 1 and 3 Meter boards for Eastern with an excellent exhibition. Ken Walters was second on the 1 and 3 don the 3 Meter for EKU.

"Greg's getting tougher each meet and responds well to tough competition," stated diving Coach Dan Lichty. "He kept the meet alive to let the last relay do its thing." Hook's winning margin on the three Meter was 251.20 to UK's Marc Lukens 250.35.

The Eels only other firsts came from freshmen—J.B. Hughes :22.7 in the 50 and Wes Arnold in the 200 Back 2:05.7, a career best time.

UK upset Eastern two years ago at Lexington to be the only blemish on the Eels record against all Kentucky colleges and university since February of 1962.

This brings UK's record to 4-2 and EKU to 4-1. The Eels travel this weekend to Eastern Illinois University Friday in Charleston, Ill., and then a strong Indiana State University Saturday at Terre Haute, Indiana.

Grapplers Dominate Tournament

The EKU wrestling team won 23 of 30 individual matches in dominating a quadrangular dual tournament at the University of Dayton last Saturday against Cedarville College, Morehead State University and the host University of Dayton. The Colonels ripped Cedarville 43-3, whipped Morehead 36-5 and beat Dayton 23-16. This makes six in a row for the EKU grapplers and gives them a 6-1 record on the season.

Eastern opened the action against Cedarville College with Bill Froman, 118 lb., Dick Loewenstine, 126 lb., and Bob Roach, 134 lb. deciding their opponents. Mac Nickson, 142 lb., followed with a 15-2 superior decision and Marvin Alstott, 150 lb., pinned his opponent in 1:01 of the first period for his third pin of the season—all in a row.

Whittlesey Wins

No sooner had Alstott left the mat when Stan Whittlesey, 158 lb., disposed of his Cedarville opponent early in the second period. Cedarville scored its only points of the match by winning a close 4-3 decision in the 167 pound battle. Eastern's Chris Reeder, 177 lb., Dave Darst, 190 lb., and Hwt. Randy Randolph won their matches by forfeits since Cedarville had no participants in these weight classes.

In the Colonels' second encounter of the day they met the host team, University of Dayton. Again the lower weights got the EKU matmen an early lead with Bill Froman, 118 lb., Dick Loewenstine, 126 lb. and this time at 134 lb. Dan Nettle all deciding their opponents.

Dayton scored its first three points by winning a 6 to 1 decision in the 142 lb. match. With the Colonels leading 9 to 3 going into the 150 lb. match EKU's Marvin Alstott went to work again and pinned his Dayton opponent in the second period. This was Alstott's second pin of the day and his fourth of the season, all in a row.

In the 158 lb. encounter Dayton won a 13 to 3 superior decision to cut the Colonels lead to 15 to 7. EKU's 167 pounder Pat Combs then took over and decided his opponent 9 to 5. In the course of action during the 167 lb. match, Eastern was penalized one team point for continuous questioning of the referee's decisions during the match by EKU coach, Richard Achtzehn.

Chris Reeder, 177 lb., put the match out of reach for the Dayton matmen by scoring his first pin of the season in the second period. The Dayton wrestlers won the last two matches by a decision in the 190 lb. battle and by a pin in the Hwt. match.

The Colonels last match of the day put them against Morehead. In their first meeting of the season the EKU grapplers beat the Eagles 22 to 13. This second meeting of the season offered some interesting return matches with the Bostelman brothers and EKU's Chris Reeder and Morehead's Steve Morgan.

Eastern's 118 pounder Bill

Froman and 126 pounder Dick Loewenstine each won their third match of the day by decisioning their Eagle opponent. In the 134 pound battle the Eagles won a close 5-4 decision. The EKU matmen at this point opened the lead 15 to 3 with Mac Nickson scoring a 11-1 superior decision over his Morehead opponent and Marvin Alstott receiving a forfeit at 150 lbs.

Morehead's last score

Stan Whittlesey, 158 lb., drew with his Eagle opponent 2-2 and that was the last team points Morehead was to score. Eastern's 167 pounder, Pat Combs, scored his first pin of the season by disposing of his opponent in 2:33 of the third period. The 177 pound encounter matched brothers Ken Bostelman of EKU against Dave Bostelman of Morehead. Last week in 190 lb. weight class the brothers wrestled to a 2-2 draw. This week with EKU's Ken Bostelman losing to his brother in the last period 2-0, Ken turned his brother over midway through the period for a 3 point near fall and a 3-2 victory.

The 190 pound weight class also matched an interesting pair. Last week in the 177 lb. match Eastern's Chris Reeder and Morehead's Steve Morgan wrestled the most exciting match of the afternoon with Reeder finally decisioning Morgan 12-9. This week they met again but in the 190 lb. match and again Reeder prevailed in winning a close 7-6 decision. EKU's heavyweight Randy Randolph closed out the action for the day by pinning his Eagle opponent in 1:39 of the second period.

In winning all three matches of the quadrangular dual tournament the EKU wrestling team had some outstanding performances from individual members of the team. Marvin Alstott, 150 lb., and Chris Reeder, 177 lb., super sophomores from New Albany, Indiana both remained undefeated by winning all three of their individual matches. Alstott, 7-0, scored two pins and won his other match by a forfeit while Reeder, also 7-0, scored one pin, 7-6 decision and won the other by a forfeit.

After losing his first two matches of the season Bill Froman, EKU's 118 pounder, has come on strong to win five in a row, including three decision this past weekend, to make his record 5-2 on the season.

The other outstanding performance put forth this past weekend was by captain Dickie Loewenstine, a junior from Cincinnati, Ohio. In moving up a weight class this season, from 118 pounds to 126 pounds, Dick has put together six wins in a row, including the three at Dayton, after losing the first match of the season. Dick's record is now 6-1 on the season.

Chester Smith Keys Frosh

Eastern's freshman basketball squad was in action four times during the past week and the baby Colonels came away with two victories, running their season record to 8-6. Their most impressive showing of the week came in a 98-82 trouncing of Kentucky Business College in the preliminary game last Monday night at Alumni Coliseum.

Chester Smith, a 6-5 jumping jack from Louisville, paced the frosh against Kentucky Business as he pumped in a game high 28 points and hauled down 22 rebounds. The Colonels had two others over the 20 point mark, with forward Larry Kalker turning in one of his best efforts of the year with 23 points and guard Ron Smith chipping in 21. Howard Blakey was also in double figures, adding 13.

The Colonels piled up a big 52-35 rebounding edge and outshot the visitors 46 per cent to 41.4 per cent in defeating Kentucky Business for the second time in as many tries this season.

Last weekend the frosh team traveled to Ashland to participate in the El Hasa Shrine Tournament. The Colonels finished third in the tourney, losing their first game to the Morehead frosh 87-80 but coming back the next night to whip the Marshall frosh 96-89 in the consolation game.

Despite an excellent 31 point performance from Ron Smith, the Colonel frosh suffered one of their worst defeats of the year last Tuesday night as they dropped an 88-67 decision to the Transylvania frosh in a game at Lexington.

EASTERN FORWARD DARYL DUNAGAN (14) goes up for a layup over East Tennessee's John Rice, who seems to be doing a better job of acting than defending. Dunagan scored 10 points in the game but they weren't enough to keep the Colonels from absorbing a 68-66 upset loss to the young Buccaneers last Monday night in Alumni Coliseum. Watching the action are the Bucs' Tommy Martin (30) and Ron Hardin (22) and Eastern's Charlie Mitchell (30, in white).

THE EASTERN MILE RELAY TEAM set a Midwestern Indoor Championship Meet record at Columbus, Ohio, when it ran the distance in 3:20.6, bettering the mark set last year by Purdue University (3:20.9). First row: Tom Cahill, senior from

Mile Relay Team Snaps Record; Indoor Track Squad In Action

The Eastern mile relay team went to the Midwest Indoor Championships at Columbus, Ohio, this past weekend and came back with a first place finish and an United States Track and Field Federation record to its credit.

The EKU relay squad, under the direction of track coach E.G. Plummer, broke the meet record set last year by Purdue University (3:20.9) when it took first place with a 3:20.6 time.

Members of the relay team and their times were Tyrone Harbut, freshmen from Lexington (Bryan Station High School), : 50.0; Tom Cahill, senior from Levittown, Pa., :52.1; Keith Bertrand, junior from Trinidad, :49.5; and Mervyn Lewis, senior from Trinidad, :48.6.

Other relay teams who qualified for the final heat were Kent State, Ball State, Middle Tennessee and Indiana State.

Lewis also set a new meet record in the 600 yard run with his time of 1:11.6.

Eastern's indoor track team will travel to Ball State University in Muncie, Indiana, this Saturday for a triangular meet with Ball State and Illinois State. Eastern track coach E.G. Plummer said that the entire squad would make the trip and that everyone on the team would get an opportunity to compete.

Coach Plummer said that he is anticipating a few more of his squad members to qualify for the NCAA competition, especially Ron White in the 60 yard dash and the mile relay team (which needs only three more seconds off its time to qualify). The main purpose of the meet, he said, will be to serve as a stepping stone toward the Mason Dixon Games in Louisville later this month.

Ailing Students Depend On County

BY JILL BARTHEN
Staff Writer

Many Eastern students are depending on the county health department, located in Richmond, for health needs, especially family planning and skin testing.

"From every student I get a poor statement" (about Eastern's health services), said Mrs. Hinkle, supervisor of the Madison County Health Department.

Technically speaking, these facilities are not available to university students. "Students don't live in this county and we are supported by state and local health tax," said Mrs. Hinkle. Local taxes amount to 40 per cent.

A Progress editorial examining the effectiveness of student health services appears on page two.

Mrs. Hinkle said that more than 100 students have come for birth control purposes. The number, increasing each week, is causing a problem for the county residents the service is primarily for.

Dr. Wilbur R. Houston, Director of the Student Health Center, said that Eastern's administration does not allow family planning control measures to be prescribed. According to him students coming to the infirmary are referred to the county health department.

"Eastern has one of the best health services in the state," said Mary Shannon, one of the four registered nurses available to students. Eastern is allotted up to $11,000 each year for medications alone.

A fee of $3.00 per semester is charged students to help raise this money. Professional advice is available to students "around the clock."

A new health center is being planned and will be located in a 3-story building near Commonwealth Hall. The center will contain more beds, and possibly a pharmacy, laboratory, X-ray room, and a physical therapy department.

"We've been 4 or 5 years trying to get another doctor," said Dr. Houston. "They're not available—generally throughout the county."

With the new facilities, they hope that the distrustful attitude of students will improve, and students will stay within limits and discontinue undue pressure on the county health department.

Tutor Applications

Applications are now being accepted for Upward Bound tutor-counselors for summer, 72. These positions are full-time for eight weeks during the summer school term. Tutor-counselors will live in the dorm with the Upward Bound students. Only students with junior or senior classification qualify. Applications are available in the Upward Bound Office, Fourth Floor (409) Jones

Counselors Befriend Students

At last she had built enough courage to take her drug problem to the Counseling Center. She did not know where to go but someone had told her that the Counseling Center treated all its information confidentially.

Across campus another student decided to consult the Center. He had been worried for the past three semesters about choosing a major. Everything he tried seemed wrong—first math, then chemistry and now chemistry seemed wrong.

From vocational to psychological disturbances, the Center attempts to help

Friends And Former Students Honor Hood, Hughes, Presnell

Three longtime workers in health, physical education, and athletics who are retiring this year—Miss Gertrude Hood, Charles T. (Turkey) Hughes, and Glenn Presnell—will be honored at a dinner tonight.

All friends and former students of the three are invited to the dinner given by the School of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Athletics and the University at 6:30 p.m. in the Powell Building—University Center.

The chairman of the dinner committee, Miss Dorothy Kirkpatrick, assistant professor of health and physical education, said friends and former students of the three EKU veteran teachers are also invited to write letters for a memoir collection to be presented to each of the retirees, who have served Eastern a total of 114 years.

Contributions are being received for establishment of a scholarship fund in honor of Miss Hood, Hughes, and Presnell, Miss Kirkpatrick said.

Miss Hood, associate professor of health, came to Eastern in 1928, and "has probably been here longer than any other present faculty member," according to Miss Kirkpatrick. She has taught in almost all fields of health and physical education for women, and has been active in many women's organizations. She received the bachelor's degree from Ohio Wesleyan University and the master's from Columbia University.

Hughes, the dean of Ohio Valley Conference coaches, came to Eastern in 1928. As a baseball coach, he has won 10 OVC championships. He has coached football and basketball and served as EKU athletic director. He helped form the OVC and served as its first president.

Presnell, now assistant professor and EKU golf coach, was athletic director, serving seven years in this office until last Jan. 1. He came to Eastern in 1947. In 10 years as football coach he guided his team to 42 victories and 49 losses. He won one OVC title and shared another in a four-way tie.

Donald Combs, who succeeded Presnell as athletic director, will be master of ceremonies at the appreciation dinner. The program will include reminiscences about the retirees by various friends and colleagues.

Kelhoffer Speaks

He also proposed that the University have no control over who may or may not be officers of an organization; that at the end of each semester objective questionnaires be made available to students and that Student Government be recognized as the official voice for the Student Association.

In conclusion Kelhoffer said, "the state of the Association is one of activism, initiated by concern and sustained by unwavering strength to make our stay at Eastern truly an educational experience, socially, culturally and intellectually."
