SCANDALETTE

MISCELLANY

By TURLEY

IRMA WICKER is still rejoicing over meeting the family, the ROUT-ENBERGS, recently, but she told SHIRLEY that none of them were like SAM. Hurrah for you, SAM; you've accomplished lots during the first two years—president and originator of the WOMAN-HATERS club the first year—then the great flop to the extreme this year.

RUTH MILLER confided to ANN RUSSELL OATTS this week that she was going to prove that "absence makes the heart, etc." was all the BUNK. Sounds bad for little KELLY WAGERS. He had better keep an eye on her. JACK HAMILTON said KELLY had already planned how many week ends he was going to spend in ASHLAND this summer.

Another case of "the pal taking away the girl." I saw BEN ADAMS and HERMAN HALE walking up the street with NANCY FRAZIER last week, and poor little BILL MELTON was faithfully bringing up the rear. RED EASTIN says BILL forgot that NANCY was from the north and placed too much confidence in her. Speaking of confidence, I wonder what DANNIE BURNS will do without EVELYN NEWELL; or is he really planning to do WITHOUT her?

NELL PELPHREY says that SAD EYES has been reading the Sunday funnies with more care since he returned from visiting ADA HOOD in ASHLAND. DOROTHY NISBET indicated that SAD EYES got Maggie and Jiggs mixed while at the EAGLE'S NEST in Morehead.

GEORGE CARRELL said this week that he would be glad when ALLINGTON CRACE, CURTIS HOWARD and FLOYD GAINES left school. VIRGIL FRYMAN added that he and GEORGE had been the victims of STACKED rooms long enough. But then CRACE says that the ITCHING POWDER that GEORGE scattered throughout Memorial Hall was the cause of it all.

RUTH SCHAEFFER always was a great sport fan, but she has recently added another one to her list. Go to it, RUTH, we agree that BOWLING is great exercise. We wonder what CHARLIE RAY thinks of this new participation. Just another disappointment! And speaking of disappointments, MOON MULLINS told me recently that he had been sick ever since he found out that MR. and MRS. KEITH spent the night away from the hall without letting it be known. JESS BOYER threatened to whip CLARENCE ELLISON and the other post office boys for not disclosing the fact. And what a SWIMMING POOL Memorial Hall would have been if NEWTON OAKES had known of their absence!

SUE GILLIS at last found out a way to escape CHAFEL. HAZEL COOKSEY confided that she also had intended to try PRINTING but could never find the right boy near enough to catch her. HOPE HINKLE told me today that if the one whose PICTURE is found on Page 77 of the MILESTONE were to be around, HAZEL wouldn't hesitate a minute. Maybe that's why HAZEL has acquired the nickname, BEN HURR.

Three cheers for ADA HOOD! When she, FRANCES PROCTOR and JENNY KELLY were recently campused by MISS ROBERTS for getting a "coke" after seven trials, ADA demanded her seniority rights. ADA said that like HERSCHIELE MCKINLEY, she didn't "die on third, but was caught stealing home."

The END is almost here, and we must congratulate you for your honesty during your EXAMS. Not a single note-book could be found that was BOUGHT. We hope that each and every one enrolled will make all A's. We also hope that you have enjoyed reading the year's SCANDAL as much as we have enjoyed writing it. It has been a real pleasure finding out some of the little harmless events and BROADCASTING them over ETC. Everything that has been said has been for the AMUSEMENT of all of us. We have tried to HIT ourselves as hard as anyone else to BALANCE accounts. Some of you have been RIDDEN harder than others, not intentionally, but probably because we knew you better and had opportunity to FIND OUT more about you.

We hope that everyone enrolled enjoys a peaceful summer, free from the worry of having your little private affairs found out and scattered to listening ears.

THE SCANDALETTE WRITERS, William White, Mary Elstou.

As an afterthought,—how would "Reach for a Textbook Instead of a Sweet" do as a slogan for the up-and-coming university of the future? Or, "When Better Instructors are Built, We'll Build 'Em'?"—The Daily Illini.

Music is Feature in 'Trojan Women'

Music by the Eastern Teachers College orchestra was a feature in Euripides, when presented by the Sigma Lambda foreign language society under the direction of Miss Mabel Pollitt, head of the foreign language department, on the portico of the Coates administration building Monday, June 1.

Selections rendered by the orchestra, directed by James E. Van Peursem, include Celebrated Minuet, Valensin; Minuet, Handel; Dance of the Happy Spirits, Gluck; Largo, Handel; I Would That My Love, Mendelssohn; Adagio A Major Symphony, Mendelssohn; and To a Wild Rose, MacDowell. The cast of the play includes nine students. Helen of Troy was ably played by Miss Louise Rutledge, and Jack Bayer played the part of the Greek king, Menelaus. The grief and lamentation of the Trojan women at the fall of Troy was portrayed by a chorus of twenty-six students. The classic dances presented in connection with the play were directed by Miss Gertrude Hood, assisted by Miss Frances Blackwell. Twelve students posed as Greek statues during the action of the play which was first presented in Athens in the year 415 B. C.

CHICAGO PRESIDENT SHOCKS C. C. OF C.

President Hutchins of the University of Chicago exploded something of a bombshell the other day in the midst of the members of the Chicago Association of Commerce, in holy conclave assembled. Mr. Hutchins had the effrontery to hint that the spirit of Service (with a capital "S") was something mighty much like bunk, and that it might not be the most desirable thing in the world for a university to become imbued with it.

In other words, Mr. Hutchins feels that a university should be something more than a stamping ground for future bond salesmen, and that courses concerning... the "unnecessary" things of life—an understanding of art, an ability to write civilized prose, an appreciation of poetry and literature—are perhaps just as much entitled to a place in the curriculum as accountancy, salesmanship, and bricklaying.

Needless to say, the Chicago Association of Commerce was not only shocked but horrified and outraged by Mr. Hutchins' unseemly conduct and his sneaking innuendoes to the effect that "Service" really means "we need your money."

Sad Eyes: "This is the first time I ever kissed a girl."
????: "Gosh, what a lot of experience you inherited."

"Do you think it right to buy a car on the installment plan?"
"Sure, 16,000,000 people can't be wrong."

CONTRACT FOR REMODELING

Reconstruction of Old Central University Building to Cost $19,876

WAS ERECTED IN 1874

Contracts totaling $19,876.00 were awarded by the board of regents of Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College at a meeting held here Saturday for the remodeling of University building on the college campus. Jack Nelson, local contractor, received the general contract for $16,330.00. Bids accepted on mechanical branches of the work were: Winchester Electric Company, electric wiring and fixtures, $1,050.00; J. J. Fitzgerald, Lexington, plumbing and ventilating, $2,130.00; Edward C. Wendt, Newport, hardware, $357. The University building was erected in 1874 by old Central University, Eastern's predecessor, and is one of the finest specimens of old southern architecture in the state. It has been used continuously since Central University campus and property were presented to the Teachers College at the time of its establishment in 1906. The plans for remodeling the four story structure provide for retaining the original structure features, so far as it is possible.

The board approved the purchase of seats for the new health building sufficient to seat 2,000 people. The Universal Bleacher Company, of Champaign, Ill., received the order for the seats. Bids received on window draperies for the Hiram Brock auditorium were referred to the executive committee by the board and purchase of the draperies is to be made later.

The report of the registrar recommending that degrees be conferred upon 23 seniors at the June commencement and 49 standard certificates be awarded to members of the sophomore class was approved by the board.

J. Dorland Coates, son of the late President T. J. Coates, was employed by the board as critic teacher of manual training and general science in the model high school for the next school year. Mr. Coates succeeds Mr. Wilson A. Boetticher, of Chicago.

Other business of the board included purchase of window shades for the Cammack building and passage of a resolution commending Arthur Tipton and Ray Wright, students of Eastern, winners of second and third prizes, respectively, in the national chemistry essay contest, conducted by the American Chemical Association.

All members of the board were present. They are: W. C. Bell, Frankfort, state superintendent of public instruction, chairman; Senator N. U. Bond, Lexington; Attorney General J. W. Cammack, Frankfort; C. F. Weaver, Ashland, and Senator H. D. Fitzpatrick, Prestonsburg.

MISS EASTERN IS CROWNED LAUREL QUEEN

Eastern Co-ed Selected as Most Beautiful of 13 College Representatives

UNANIMOUS CHOICE

Miss Elizabeth Betty Baxter, brunette co-ed of the Eastern State College, was crowned queen of the first annual Kentucky Mountain Laurel Festival at Clear Creek Springs, near Pineville, Friday, June 6.

While the University of Kentucky band played, Gov. Fern D. Sampson placed a crown of laurel upon the brunette locks of the blue-eyed winner.

Approximately 3,000 persons crowded a quarter-mile amphitheater at Clear Creek Springs, where Kentucky beauty and Kentucky's flower were honored.

Princesses who participated in the ceremony were: Misses Mary Wells, Morehead; Golds Siler, Williamsburg; Mary Evelyn Clarg, Middletown; Dorothy Lewis, Georgetown; Geraldine Huey, Albany, Ga.; Eleanor Swearington, Paris; Henrietta Fitch, Bowling Green; Helen A. Daly, Cincinnati; Marie Buchanan, Barbourville; Josephine Staples, Lexington; Lena Rue Cawood, Harlan; and Katherine Mercer, Louisville.

"The Young Man of Nazareth" Subject of Baccalaureate

He had his moral trial. He himself reported in dramatic form the fierce inward struggle through which he passed in the wilderness.

The young man of Nazareth was happy. Theologians, poets, and painters have pictured him as the embodiment of grief and pain.

Let us understand that his happiness may be ours on the same terms. The law of his life is the law of our life, the law of love and renunciation.

Although his demand is simple and open to the humblest apprehension, the young man of Nazareth has been deeply misunderstood by his friends.

When he comes into our life he brings no code, no doctrinal formula for us to sign, no whip, no fetters. If we receive him, what happens to us?

Ordinarily when I write this line of chatter I am in a light—yes, mostly light—jocular mood, but for this time I can't quite get into the free swingin' mood that have in the past.

ENTANGLEMENTS

"Is there anyone in the audience," the speaker asked, "who can tell me, ofinand, what we are on earth for? I am always hoping that some person may rise in response to my question and answer the 'Riddle of the Universe.'"

"There is inspiration in the thought," the speaker concluded, "that in learning to enjoy good art we are actually making ourselves better citizens and contributing to the welfare and advancement of the land that we love."

Mr. Taft's connection with the Art Institute of Chicago extends over forty years. He is Professorial lecturer at the University of Chicago; non-resident Professor of Art, University of Illinois; member of the National Academy of Design, of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, and honorary member of the American Institute of Architects.
