Last-Ditch Effort Planned

Student-Regent Bill May Not be Passed

It was reported that two weeks ago, some of the presidents were asked to give their views to the House Education Committee. It was understood that some sought to get the legislation killed. They apparently got their way, but this week compromise is being tried. President Martin in a press conference last week said, "I know nothing of any such effort by college presidents." The opposition wants the student regent to be chosen by his school's full Board of Regents from a list of five Kentuckians selected in a campus-wide election. Originally, the legislation called for the student regent to either be the student government president or his appointee; there was no restriction as to residency. Why the change? Some educators and legislators want to assure the regent is not some "rabble-rouser," Snyder said. "Some real misguided student might be chosen," and we'd have a real hippie community," one state senator has said. "I'm not totally in favor of this amendment," Snyder commented, "but I'm pragmatic enough to know we should take what we can get." This would be the second major compromise KSA has made. In the very beginning it wanted the students to be voting members, but gave in when told passage would be impossible. The legislation-whatever form it takes is caught in a further tangle of parliamentary procedure. House Bill 145 is virtually dead. But its sister, Senate Bill 118, may not be. The House Education Committee was to decide the latter's fate early this week. All major candidates in both the general election and primary promised the student seats to Kentucky's 18-year-old voters. The bill was the first Gov. Louis B. Nunn backed after election. And if the move fails this time, the experience should facilitate eventual approval. The current legislation is the next natural step in reforming how the state schools are governed. KSA puts it this way: Students, as citizens of a campus community, deserve a voice in the community's government. And, it argues, that voice would be helpful to other regents, who often lack knowledge of student feeling and needs.

Petition Calls For Negro Equality

BY ALLEN TRIMBLE ASST. MANAGING EDITOR Whether or not the University has the authority to tell a Negro student who he is to associate with was one of the many questions with racial overtones that was brought before the Student Council Tuesday at its weekly meeting attended by 234 persons, the majority of which were Negroes. Ron Benson, acting as spokesman for a large number of campus Negroes presented an eight point resolution in the form of a petition to the council requesting some type of intelligent action by the student organization. Benson cited the eight points of the petition and in several instances named examples emphasizing each point. The points of the petition were: --Abolishment of the present policy of segregated on-campus housing. Benson said that there were only three cases that he was aware of in which dormitory rooms were segregated. He said there would be a much larger number if the process were done on a random basis. --Permission of the administration to allow students with National Defense Loans to participate in fraternal organizations. Let students, regardless of race, color, or creed exercise their right to associate without fear of administrative reprimand. In this instance Benson related an incident in which a student was not readmitted to the university because of "trumped up charges," but in reality the student was not admitted Benson claimed because of his association with a white female student. --Representation of Negroes in the Milestone and other University publications. The spokesman felt that a student should not have to turn to the sports section of a publication in order to see Negro representatives. --Recruitment of Negro faculty members. --Banning any fraternity, sorority, or organization that adheres to or follows a policy of segregation. Benson stated that EKU had only one Negro professor and "he had to be lodged on campus." --The elimination of the playing of "Dixie" and the waving of the Confederate Flag at University functions. In regard to this proposal, Benson stated that the connotation of these practices was one of slavery, hoisting cotton, and white supremacy, and that it had definite adverse psychological effects upon the Negro student. The petition presented before the student council was signed by over 300 students, with over one sixth of the signatures being obtained from white students. After the presentation of the petition before the student council, senior Bob Tarvin replied to several of the accusations made in the petition. Tarvin stated that he had investigated the points of the petition and felt that seven of the eight points were invalid, but he felt that the eighth point had merit. He was very much in favor of this proposal. In a conversation after the council meeting, Benson and Tarvin both agreed there was a need for change concerning the eighth point of the petition, but clarification was needed on the other issues. President Martin reaffirmed the Board of Regents statement of June 3, 1964, that says: "The Board of Regents of Eastern Kentucky University does hereby reaffirm that neither race, nor creed, nor color shall be a criterion for admission to any part of any program or activity conducted by Eastern Kentucky University." Dr. Martin also answered each of the eight points of the petition. --"There's no policy of segregated rooming on the campus, each student is free to choose his own roommate. --Practically all of our students live on campus. The University does not maintain an off-campus housing list, and it does not intend to do so in the future. --No student on a National Defense Loan is prohibited from participating in a fraternal organization if the money comes from other sources." (The Student Aid Assistance Program had established such a prohibitive policy but it has since been removed). --"Students may participate freely on the campus without regard to race, creed or color or without fear of administrative reprimand. --"If the Milestone or any other University publication does not present students in the proper light without regard to race, creed or color then they are in violation of the Board of Regents policy. ### Progress Awarded 'A' Rating By NNS For Fall Semester

BY REGALD SMITH PROGRESS NEWS EDITOR The Eastern Progress has been awarded an "A" Rating for the fall semester of 1967-68, by the National Newspaper Service. NNS has been in operation since 1950, and it has a membership of approximately 2500 school-college publications. Grades handed out by the service range from A to C, with a special excellent A plus going to about five per cent of the publications. Ten fifteenth per cent of rated publications earn "A" ratings. Judges for the NNS are all professional journalists, such as H. S. Carlson, former head of Journalism Education Association, and J. W. Click, executive secretary of Alpha Pi Gamma, honorary journalism fraternity. "Here is one of the more ambitious papers in the field of college journalism. . . a full size (eight column) paper of eight to fourteen pages weekly, with a phenomenal amount of advertising and consequently an unusual amount of news space," reported NNS. The service was pleased with the art work of the Progress, stating, "Your art work may be your biggest asset. The line drawings are on the professional level, and your photographs are far above average." "The fashion feature is excellent," reported the service. They also praised the attention the Progress gives the Alumni. NNS also reported that the Progress does a great reader service with its calendar of coming events and with the index in the Page One ears. They stated, "Editorials are purposeful, timely, well thought through, and on subjects of general interest. They may look long, but their content justifies the space given them." In summing up the rating, the NNS commented, "This is a high quality paper, despite the demands imposed by its unusual size." The Progress has never received a lower rating than "A" since it began submitting newspapers for evaluation in 1961. It has received the highest, "A" plus, rating for four of the past thirteen semesters. The award-winning staff included: Fred Mullins, editor in chief; Craig Ammerman, managing editor; Roy Watson, business manager; Steve Callender, advertising manager; Neal Donaldson, editorial cartoonist; Barbara Donnell, feature editor; Jamie Houchell, fashions editor; Joyce Lee, organizations editor; Karl Park, sports editor; Gayle Schloss, research editor and Regald Smith, news editor.

The New Folk

New Sound in Folk Rock Coming to Campus Friday

"You can tell the world about this. . ." The New Folk, a revolutionary new folk group, have songs to sing and a message to make known. They are now touring college and university campuses across the nation and will be appearing this week at Western Kentucky University, Centre College, University of Kentucky, Georgetown College, Eastern Kentucky University, University of Louisville, Kentucky Southern College, and Murray State University. The group will appear here Friday night at 8 p.m. in Hiram Brock. Their concert consists of popular songs such as "Up, Up, and Away" and "Groovy," and folk music like "If I Had My Way" and the Negro spiritual "Bethlehem." The program provides outstanding musical entertainment, plus a unique element--a clear presentation of the claims of Jesus Christ. These ten college students have found that Jesus Christ is relevant to their own personal lives, and their purpose is to challenge their fellow students to experience Christ and the abundant life which He offers. After a concert at the University of Illinois, one student said, "All the top professional folk groups have exploded my mind with questions, but the New Folk, with their exciting new beat, have for the first time satisfied me with some answers." The New Folk are sponsored by Campus Crusade for Christ International, an interdenominational Christian student movement sharing Jesus Christ with college and university students and Professors across the United States and around the world. Campus Crusade works on hundreds of campuses in this country and in 36 foreign countries with a staff of more than 1,100 college graduates.

Eels Seek Sixth Straight KISC Title

The View From Here

By KARL PARK Progress Sports Editor

KISC To Be Held Here

The Kentucky Intercollegiate Swimming and Diving Championships will be held next weekend in the Alumni Coliseum Natatorium. The Eastern Eels will be seeking their sixth straight championship.

Behind Eastern in order of their finish in last year's meet, were Kentucky, Morehead, Kentucky freshmen, University of Louisville, Union College, Berea College, Western Swim Club, Bellarmine College, and the University of Louisville freshmen.

Last year the Eels received 31 of 48 possible medals. In the 16 events the Eels took eight firsts, 12 seconds, and 11 thirds. Eastern defeated their closest opponent by 275 points.

Two seniors, Rick Hill and Bill Walker, will be making their last home appearance for Eastern. Students are urged to attend and support the Eels in their quest for their sixth straight championship.

SMITH RANKS SECOND IN REBOUNDING

Eastern's senior center, Garfield Smith, pulled off 22 rebounds in last Saturday's game with Morehead, but his effort was in vain. Neal Walk, junior center from the University of Florida, ended the season with an average of 19.72. Smith finished with a 19.67 average.

Smith's 472 total rebounds and 33 rebounds in one game were both new Eastern marks. He was presented the game ball after the Morehead match for his accomplishments throughout his three years at Eastern.

EASTERN HOST KENTUCKY INTERCOLLEGIATE GYMNASTICS MATCH

This Saturday, March 9th, Weaver Gymnasium on the campus of Eastern will be the site of the second annual Kentucky Intercollegiate Gymnastics Championships. The competition will start at 1:00, and all students are invited to attend. There will be no charge for admission.

Eastern Favored In Intrastate Meet

BY ROY WATSON
SWIMMING EDITOR
Approximately 150 swimmers from throughout the state will gather on the Eastern Kentucky University campus March 14 and 15.

These swimmers will represent the eight-team field in the tenth annual Kentucky Intercollegiate Swimming Championship to be held in the Alumni Coliseum natatorium.

In addition to Eastern, other entries are: University of Louisville, University of Kentucky, Morehead State University, Union College, Berea College, Western Swim Club, and possibly Centre College.

"Most of the records should be broken—nothing on the recordboard is out of reach," said Eastern swim coach Don Combs as he readied his team for the upcoming meet.

Summing up his team's chances this year, Combs said, "We've yet to be beaten by a team from the state of Kentucky, but championship meets score much differently than dual meets."

"Depth is a big factor since you can enter four men in one event. Also, Louisville and Kentucky will score better this year since they can now swim freshman on their varsity."

Eastern's Eels, the defending KISC champions, for the past five years, are favored to win the meet with stern competition coming from the University of Kentucky.

John Buckner, Jim Miller and

Rick Hill. Struss, a sophomore, set three KISC records last year, winning the 100 (:48.2), 200 (1:50) and 500 (5:06.5) freestyle events. He also anchored the record-setting 400 medley relay squad (3:49.4). Miller set records in the 100 (1:04.5) and 200 (2:21.1) breaststroke events. All America Hill swam the 200 individual medley in 2:07.5 for another new mark.

Team trophies will be awarded to the winner and runner-up. Trophies will also be awarded to winners of each individual event with medals going to the second and third place swimmers.

Colonels End Year With Win Over Morehead, 94-83

The Eastern Kentucky University Colonels closed their season Saturday night with a 94-83 win over the Morehead State University Eagles. Eastern took advantage of a 55-point scoring barrage the second half to break open the close contest played on the EKU Court.

In the final game of his college career, Garfield Smith averaged the crowd of 7,000 with his 22 rebounds. The 6-7 senior from Campbellsville, connected on eight of 15 field goal attempts and four free throws for a total of 20 points.

Leading the Colonels' fast break was junior guard Bobby Washington who was high for Eastern with 23 points. Rounding out the Colonels' balanced attack was Toke Coleman with 16, Bob Lynch with 13, and Gary Paul with 10.

The only senior starting for Morehead was Larry Jordan who held game scoring honors with 27. Jordan was backed by Jerry Conley with 14 and Lamar Green and Ron Gathright with 10 each. The early going of the first

In the mile run Jim Banks Bock was the winner followed finished third with a 4:18 time. by John Johnston and Tobey Tolbert. Doug Cordier finished close behind Banks with a time of 4:16.5. Eastern has five milers at 4:21 or less this year in Grant Colehour at 4:14.2, Banks at 4:18, Cordier at 4:18.5, Jimmie Nichols and Ivan Scholl at 4:21.

In the two -mile event Colehour ran a 9:04 to finish third in a meet that saw five men in at 9:10 or less. He beat former Olympians Bruce Idd of Canada and Oscar Moore of Southern Illinois. Eastern freshman Ken Silvious ran 9:16 for sixth place.

Three Eastern frosh hurdlers captured the first three places in the 70-yard high hurdles in the fine time of 8.8. Ron Jordan finished second in the 880 with a time of 1:54.3. Eastern set a new school record in the distance medley relay but finished second to Ball State. Eastern runners were 440 man Ron Brock who ran 51.7, 880 runner Banks who ran 1:55, 1320 man Cordier who ran a 3:10 and miler Nichols who ran 4:21.

Eastern set another school record in the spring medley relay with a time of 3:33.1. Team members are Danny Jones, Arthur Howard, Ed Johns and Nichols. Jones, Howard and Johns are all frosh.

In the 880 relay Eastern turned in a 132.3 time for another school record. The all freshman team is composed of Johns, Howard and hurdlers Johnston and Tolbert.

In the 440 Lampkin ran a blazing 47.9 for another school mark. Lampkin's time was one of the fastest in the U.S. this indoor season.

In the first heat of the preliminaries in the 60-yard dash Johns set a new school standard with a 6.2 time. In the second heat Howard finished with a time of 6.2 also. In the finals Howard and Johns finished second and third, respectively.

Jones, Swanson, Jordan and Lampkin set a school record in the mile relay with a 3:17.5 time. This time was also one of the fastest times turned in by any college team to date.

Coach Smith said, "We have some very outstanding track men on this squad. Clarence Lampkin is one of the finest 440 prospects in the country as his time of 47.9 bears out. Earl Jordan, though never a great indoor runner because of his leg length, promises to be one of the finest 880 men in the country outdoors. Grant Colehour is rapidly coming into his own, and when we are able to go the six mile indoors he promises to be one of the better boys in the country."

East Tennessee Cops OVC Crown

BY KARL PARK
PROGRESS SPORTS EDITOR

East Tennessee used superior shooting and rebounding in defeating the Murray State Racers, 79-75. This enabled the Bucs to cop the Ohio Valley Conference crown and a berth in the NCAA against Florida State.

The Bucs jumped out front early in the game as sophomore Mike Kretzer hit a free throw and a layup to give East Tennessee a lead they never relinquished.

With the score 11-8 and 15-34 left in the first half, East Tennessee proceeded to outscore Murray 10-4 and take a 21-12 lead.

Billy Chumbler and Claude Viriden led a Racer rally that brought them within two of the Bucs, 28-26. But, Ernie Sims hit on 15-41 field goals for 36.6

per cent. and Kretzer kept up their remarkable outside shooting, and East Tennessee was once again in a comfortable lead 41-34 with 1:37 showing on the clock. Murray center Jim Stocks outscored East Tennessee, 5-1, the remainder of the half and the Bucs took a 42-39 advantage into the locker room.

Kretzer and Sims led the Buc attack with 10 points each. Leroy Fisher was the leading rebounder for the Bucs with five. East Tennessee hit on 19-31 shots in the first half for a percentage of 61.3.

Tom Moran was the leading scorer for Murray with eight points, followed closely by Don Funneman and Viriden with seven points each. Dick Cunningham had grabbed nine missed shots. The Racers were only able to hit on 15-41 field goals for 36.6

The second half started with Cunningham scoring on a layup to put the Thoroughbreds within one point. Harley Swift and Fisher mounted the lead to eight points and the margin remained constant until Viriden hit two straight field goals to close the lead to 59-58. This was the closest the Thoroughbreds could come to overcoming East Tennessee's lead as the Bucs reeled off nine straight points to virtually put the game out of reach. With the score at 79-69, Murray scored six straight points but time ran out and East Tennessee was the 1967-68 OVC champion.

JANE ADDAMS

Nominated for gallery of great Americans in public service
Born in Cedarville, Ill., Sept. 6, 1860, daughter of John and Sarah Addams; graduated from Rockford Seminary 1881, founded Hull House in Chicago 1889, first president of Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, won Nobel Peace Prize 1931, died May 21, 1935.

"LUCKY the man who dies on the day of Jane Addams' death," Arthur Brisbane once wrote. "The doors of heaven, on that day, will be open so wide that all may enter."

He echoed the feeling which thousands, ranging upwards from hapless burglars and streetwalkers to U.S. Presidents and European heads of state, held toward Jane Addams.

Daughter of a banker, miller and legislator, she was born to wealth and position. But in her there was a spark of greatness which her observations of human misery fanned to a flame of purposeful compassion.

She suffered as a child from a spinal deformity. Her health was never robust. Traveling in Europe with Ellen Gates Starr, she was inspired by a visit to London's Toynbee House to found a similar settlement for Chicago. Hull House, which she headed until her death, became a comfort to the lowly and an inspiration to the great.

She was a determined advocate of equal rights for women and a foe of waste—whether of food, of human resources in the slums, or of human lives on the battlefield. She was as firm in moral principle as she was gentle and gracious.

"There are plenty of things we need in this country for the protection of the health and morals of our people," she said in a plea for women's suffrage. "We could have them if we would ask for them. But the men won't ask for them, and the women can't."

She lived to see the triumph of many of the causes for which she worked, and to win an enduring place in the hearts of humane men and women the world over.

Dr. Ben Stark Explains Sociology Major

BY NANCY OWEN
PROGRESS STAFF WRITER

A major in Sociology is being offered to Eastern students for the first time this year.

Mr. Ben Stark, associate professor of sociology and a graduate social worker, commented on this new offering.

BEN STARK

"Sociology," Mr. Stark said "concerns itself with what human beings do and how they do it. It is a theoretical science dealing with human behavior and is best approached through an inter-disciplinary nature."

Mr. Stark, former Greenwich Village professional drummer, suggested that even though there has been a rapidly increasing number of students interested in sociology, many still do not realize that such a major exists. He also said that the general public has a misconception of sociology and social work.

Ron Gibson, a senior sociology major, agreed and added, "There is more to social work than the general public realizes. One half of sociology courses teaches methods, history, research and theories of social work. These must be understood to know why people need help and how to help them. The other half is the proper application of this knowledge. It is a demanding course with much busy work involved."

"In this period of non-involvement, it becomes ever more important to become involved. We have a responsibility for helping people and unless we do it, we are not meeting our obligation."

"People just immediately associate social workers with poverty-stricken people that really do not deserve the help," said Mr. Stark. "These people are supposed to be lazy, shiftless freeloaders that do not really need the welfare, but this conception is absolutely false. When the government goes to cut welfare, they always find even more people that need it."

Sociology majors take regular courses until they are given a field assignment with a social work agency. This field work allows the student to actively participate in social work and to apply the knowledge he has learned in previous sociology courses. These assignments, which are usually during the last semester, are given in child welfare, probation placement, community organizations, public welfare or other agencies.

Mr. Stark said that Eastern has 75 sociology majors. He expressed the hope that more people who are genuinely interested in helping people consider social work careers. "Prepare to do a lot of reading, studying, and working. This is not a snap course, but it is a rewarding one."

There are many job openings for the sociology major and pay in social work is increasing. Mr. Stark concluded by saying

Negro Equality Debated

--Faculty members are recruited without regard to race, creed or color although an effort is being made to recruit qualified Negroes for the faculty.

--Each organization is expected to adhere to the non-discrimination policy set forth by the Board of Regents; if they are not doing so, the administration has no notice of it.

--The University is currently studying the rights, responsibilities and obligations of students. The administration, however, does not believe that banning the playing of songs or the display of emblems or banners is a sound approach to a problem. We think it would be denying basic rights to students and organizations."

President Martin concluded by saying: "If any student, faculty member or organization believes that the non-discrimination policy is being violated I wish they would seek an appointment with me to discuss the matter."

In regard to the petition, the council voted to form a committee of five to investigate the validity of the accusations and proposals made by the petition. This committee will submit a report at the next meeting of the council.

In other council action, a motion was made and adopted which would call for the quoting of the pledge of allegiance before all council sessions in the future.

A Committee was formed to look into the feasibility of establishing a policy of student discounts in the Richmond area. The committee was to meet with local businessmen to investigate the possibility of such a program.

A third committee was assigned the task of clarifying and explaining certain areas of the document adopted at the last session concerning mandatory ROTC. A request for this action was made by Dean Ambrose, secretary of the Faculty Senate.

market. Matching coats give added wearability as two-somes for cool or rainy weather. And boots especially created for these unpredictable days would be very complementary for the short hemlines.
Perhaps the unique popularity of boots has been responsible for the latest feature of footwear, since they brought renewed interest to this area.

Two sophomores have the right idea.
Merle Metelits, Norwalk, Connecticut, is quite cheerful in bright, bright green. Her short sleeve, knobby knit top has a stovepipe collar, which has replaced the collarless simplicity, like the turtle-neck, in several of the returning favorites. This elementary education major wears a plaid kiltie in slightly more subdued tones. The shoes for the outfit match: green and yellow.

Linda Chism is an English major from Winchester, Kentucky, whose choice is a bright orange kulotte-dress. The round neckline and short sleeves both have their edges stitched in yellow, while her shoes are primarily yellow with a touch of orange on the top.
