Four Hundred Sixty Three On List

Sixty-Seven Students Record Perfect Grade Standings

Four hundred and sixty-three students have been named to the Dean's List of honor students for the fall semester. Dean Smith Park announced this week among those receiving special recognition scholastic achievement were 67 students who compiled a perfect grade standing and who will receive special Presidential Citations from President Martin.

To receive recognition on the select list, a student must have achieved a minimum grade standing of 3.5 of a possible 4.0, passed 14 or more semester hours, and compiled 80 or more quality points.

Earn 80 Quality Points
Compiling the highest number of quality points were June Bonny, Irvine and Dianne Hendricks, Louisville, both of whom earned 80 quality points based on 20 hours of credit.

Others Sighted
Other students compiling perfect standings include: Dick M. Allen, Milton K. Barksdale, Dover Cornett, Cheryl M. Craft, Anne R. Ginter, Angela F. Hurley, Elnora S. McIntyre, Beatrice K. Mays, Mildred H. Quinn, Alan E. Rhodus, and Stanolyn G. Wilson, all of Richmond; Brenda Holt and Greene F. Isaacs, both from Berea; Martha R. Arbuckle, Kirksville; Randall Clark, Mt. Vernon;

Donna Griffin Combs, Patricia L. Schott, and Eunice Wyatt, all of London; Shirley A. Green and Barbara R. Owens, both from Covington; Connie Miller, Harlan; Ann S. Mitchell and Linda C. Phillips, both from Shelbyville; Richard E. Newberry, Wayneburg; Rita D. Salles, Stanford; Mary L. Crabtree, Monticello; Misha A. Williams, Touristville; Clara Craycraft, Annette Jones, and Virginia R. Wheeler, all of Paris.

Paul M. Hickey, Charles J. Moore, and John P. Shields, all of Lexington; Rebecca D. King, Stearns; Sylvia E. Ramsey, Whitley City; Stephen D. McManis, Turner's Station; Sharon Y. Nicholas, Fleasville; Gerald W. Mullins, Corbin; Barbara Blevins, Ft. Thomas; Janice M. Rucke, Highland Heights; Ginger C. Burris, Lancaster; Beverly Dance Tlmes, Dianne Hendricks, Kenneth R. Jefferies, Karen E. Manion, and Sharon Zimmerman, all of Louisville. Lucy E. Nicholas, Patricia A. Parr, and Lynda M. Sherrard, all of Frankfort; Carol A. Sandy, Falmouth; Joletta C. Trusty, West Liberty; Tyrone Thomas, and June C. Bonny, both from Irvine; Virginia Brackfield McClanahan, Ravenna; Ann C. Ballard and Taylor N. Hollin, both from Winchester; Jane K. Holt, Somerset; Stephen M. Holt, Wurtland; Linda L. Ward, River; Merrie L. Holt, Lawrenceburg; Mary J. O. Huges, Ashland; Jeannie G. Ashe, Rogersville, Tennessee; Patricia L. Boone, Charleston, West Virginia; Patricia A. Davis, Paul F. McFarland, and Javis M. Routh, all of Cincinnati, Ohio; Charlotte A. Johnson, Lebanon, Ohio; and Robert E. Tarvin, Batavia, Ohio. A complete list of students named to the Dean's List will appear in next week's Progress.

McConnell Heads K E G Student Council Bid

Heading the KEG (Keep Eastern Growing) Party in the forthcoming student council election is Bill McConnell, sophomore political science major from Louisville.

The aim of the party is to activate student participation in the development of an academic, social and intellectual atmosphere by being a sounding board for constructive proposals and a working machine for making these proposals actualities.

McConnell contends that "the way Eastern will have an active and productive Student Council is through an active and productive study body. It is time for the student to get out of the bleachers and onto the playing field. If we are elected, we will need continued student support to accomplish our proposed goals. We pledge more than good intentions. We care, will you?"

The KEG Party has formed its platform around six areas; student code, party system, communications, representative student government, speaker series, and entertainment.

The Student Council election will be held next Monday with polling being conducted in all the dorms and in the Student Union.

Party System:
Because we think that the Student Code can go a long way toward establishing pride in the individual student and Eastern, we promise to initiate it during our tenure of office.

Student Code:
We propose to make a party system a reality this year. It is only in this way the activities of the Student Council, through competition and a check system, can be more productive. The party system will not be affiliated with any national organization.

Communications:
We plan to make regular communication with the student part of our official duty, by fuller use of the mass media, including the local radio station, the campus newspaper, Progress, send memos to different organizations and the campus as a whole.

Representative Student Government:
We propose to make the Student Council a more representative government by initiating the election of representatives from precincts of the campus population, and by initiating representatives for commuter members of the college community.

Speaker Series:
We promise to sponsor a series of speakers who are prominent in their respective fields for the purpose of giving Eastern students the opportunity to get a better perspective on their place in society and for the purpose of giving a broader knowledge on pressing issues.

Entertainment:
We propose to establish an entertainment fund, exclusive of the general treasury, to be contributed to by the classes and the Student Council. This would lessen the problem of planning for campus wide entertainment and make more apparent the limits of our operation.

The KEG Party is the first to announce their candidates and platform for this year's election. It is expected that three more parties and one independent candidate will announce their entrance into the election next week.

DR. COCANOUGHER

Board Fills Three Administrative Posts

The Board of Regents filled three administrative posts, including that of academic dean, at its Monday meeting in the Coates Administration Building.

Acting in a full agenda of recommendations from President Robert R. Martin, the Board hired Dr. Thomas Fisher as Academic Affairs and Dean of the Faculties and Dr. LaRue Cocanougher as Dean for Continuing Education.

Dr. Clyde Lewis Succeeded
Dr. Clyde Lewis, who has served as acting dean of the Central University School since last year in addition to chairman of the Department of History, was formally named dean of the school, under which two-year general education programs are administered for all students.

Succeeding Lewis as chairman of the Department of History is Dr. George Robinson, who has served on the faculty since 1956. Robinson holds the B.S., M.S., and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Stovall, the new academic vice president, is a native of Humland, Tenn., and presently is serving as Professor of Education and Coordinator of Graduate Study at the University of South Florida, in Tampa.

He succeeds Dr. Smith Park, who has served as interim Dean of Academic Affairs since the retirement of Dr. W. J. Moore last summer. His duties begin June 15. Dr. Park will retire July 1.

Stovall, 40, holds the bachelor's degree from the University of Tennessee and masters and Ph.D. degrees from George Peabody College. He also taught at the University of Minnesota from 1954 to 1960.

Dr. Martin called the recommendation of Stovall "the most important one to the Board since I have been president of this institution." He reported that Stovall's acceptance climaxed a three-year search for "the most qualified person to fill this position."

Cocanougher Fills Position
Dr. Cocanougher, who fills a new position created last year as Dean for Continuing Education, is now serving as Dean of Academic Affairs at Campbellsville College. A native of Boyle County, he holds the A.B. degree from Centre College and both the M.A. and Ed.D. degrees from George Peabody College.

He has taught at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, where he served as superintendent of the Monticello City Schools and principal of Adair County High School, and has taught in Lincoln and Mercer counties and in the Monticello city schools.

Cocanougher's duties, which begin April 1, will include extension and correspondence work, as well as the adult education program.

Dave Bennett Awarded Graduate Assistantship

William David Bennett, 21-year-old senior from Louisville, has been awarded a graduate assistantship in political science to Florida State University, Dr. Dwyll Pettengill, chairman of the department of political science announced today.

Bennett's grant, scheduled to begin in Sept., includes a stipend and tuition.

The Washington school graduate has a point standing of 3.3, with a double major in political science and history. He is a member of Sigma Chi Delta service fraternity, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, and was a member of men's honorary fraternities KIB and OAKS.

Bennett served as vice-president of his sophomore class and vice-president of the student council during the 1964-65 academic year.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bennett, 3704 Old Brownboro Hills Road, Louisville. Mr. Bennett is a past vice-president of the Louisville chapter of the Eastern Alumni Association.

Assembly Speaker Lady Forbes

The assembly program featured the very distinguished Lady Forbes of England speaking on the civilization of the ancient Inca Indians.

Lady Forbes, with her husband, English Ambassador Sir Victor Courtney Forbes, lived in Lima, Peru for ten years where she became fascinated with the history of the Incas and had an opportunity to study it extensively.

She discussed the mystery of the Inca civilization, especially architecture, Lady Forbes described the Inca civilization as "sublime, lovely, and pure."

The assembly program also included a selection by a bassoon quartet. Members of the quartet were Nancy Ashford, Vicky Smith, and Sue McCowan all of Henry Clay High School, Lexington, and Mr. Harold Robinson, assistant professor in the Music Department.

The devotional was given by Charles Greenwell, Sonora, Lady Forbes was introduced by Dean Frederick Ogden of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Board Of Regents Approves University Status, Graduate Programs At Masters Level

The Board of Regents approved designation of the institution as Eastern Kentucky University, effective July 1, and authorized new graduate programs at the masters degree level in English and history.

Meeting in Richmond just over a week after the Kentucky General Assembly had passed into law the bill granting university status and authority to establish additional graduate programs, the Board also approved reorganization of the university into five colleges and a graduate school.

The reorganization changes the existing schools to colleges and renames the School of Technology as College of Applied Arts and Technology. Other colleges are: Central University, Arts and Sciences, Business, and Education. The Graduate School retains its name.

In other action, the Board established a new Department of Philosophy in the College of Arts and Sciences and renamed the Industrial Arts Department in the College of Applied Arts and Technology as the Industrial Education Department.

Regarding the university status, the Board acted on President Martin's recommendation of July 1 as the most appropriate effective date since it coincides with the new fiscal year. House Bill 238, signed into law last week by Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, becomes effective June 16 — 90 days after the close of the Legislature.

The new graduate programs authorized by the State Legislature and approved by the regents today are the Master of Arts degree in English and the Master of Arts in history, both of which will begin next fall. Others are being developed and are expected to be ready for implementation by 1967, Dr. Martin said.

Eastern has awarded the Master of Arts degree in Education since 1935.

The new program in English is designed to train the student in various areas of the discipline and to prepare him for a career of teaching on the college and pre-college levels, as well as engaging in literary research and composition on advanced levels.

Among the areas to be emphasized are English and American literature; the history, structure, and usage of the language, including linguistics; bibliography, research, and scholarship; creative and expository writing; rhetoric; literature; criticism; folklore; and literature in relation to history of ideas.

The masters degree program in history will lead to the Master of Arts degree in American or English History. It is designed to prepare teachers at the secondary school and college levels and also to provide a foundation for graduate work toward the Doctor of Philosophy degree.

Students will be allowed to major in either Twentieth Century American History or Nineteenth Century English History.

Both the English and history degrees require mastery of a foreign language and a high standard of undergraduate achievement.

The Board also authorized appropriations totaling $62,000 to strengthen library holdings in English and history materials.

Other Approvals Made
In other action, the Board: Approved a loan agreement with the U.S. Office of Education in the amount of $1,365 million for construction of the new Moore Science Building, which is planned to be under construction this spring and completed by the Fall of 1967. Okayed the granting of an honorary Doctor of Laws degree to Gov. Edward T. Breathitt at the Founders Day convocation March 21.

Approved the fee schedule established by the Council on Public Higher Education, increasing out-of-state fees from $200 to $290 per semester and fees for resident students from $87.50 to $120 per semester. The new fees, however, include incidental fees of $20 per semester, whereas the former fees did not.

Summer school fees are $145 for out-of-state students and $60 for resident students.

Authorized a new four-year manual arts therapy curriculum in the College of Applied Arts and Technology.

Established a new Division counseling program.

of Instructional Services to handle the television, radio, audio-visual and programmed learning programs of the university.

The division is organized into five sections:

1. Television section, which will produce college programs for closed-circuit distribution, in addition to working with the Kentucky Authority for Educational Television and the Midwest Program on Airborne Television Instruction.

2. Instructional Media section, which will produce instructional materials primarily for use in the college classrooms.

3. Radio section, which will produce and disseminate radio programs from the educational FM facilities, which will be contained in the new studios in the Donovan Building addition, scheduled for completion this fall.

4. Programmed learning section, to be fully organized and staffed when there is a demonstrated need.

5. Engineering section, to service both television and radio facilities.

Director of the division is James Harris, who holds professorial rank in the School of Education.

Approved an elaborate organization and set of procedures for the Central University College, strengthening especially the academic

KKS Presents Panorama Of Well Known Plays

Want to be on Broadway? Kappa Kappa Sigma, Eastern's synchronized swim club will present the opportunity March 17, 18, and 19 in the Alumni Coliseum Pool.

Their production, entitled "K.K.S. On Broadway" is designed to present a panorama of well-known Broadway plays. The numbers are: Paint Your Wagon, Carnival, My Fair Lady, Fajama Game, The King and I, West Side Story, South Pacific, and Kiss Me Kate.

Girls Choreograph
The numbers are designed and choreographed by individual members of the club. The girls designed and constructed their own costumes, in accord with the numbers they are depicting. Color and uniqueness mark the costumes.

Girls participating in the program are: Carolyn Campbell, Carol Barr, Karen Gruber, June Gray, Janie Fugitt, Willa Fitzpatrick, Phyllis Marcum, Bobbie Dugerson, Kathy Colebrook, Janice Huffman, Eddie Belle Sheriff, Sharon Dudley, Leah Strealow, Ann Howard, Cathy Wirth, and

Each year Kappa Kappa Sigma invites four boys to participate in the show. Mike Cambell, Phil

Stoffey, Marvin Fisher, and Gene Pettit have been selected for this year's "On Broadway."

Old-Time Hits
The swimming will be done in time to old-time hits such as: Hennessey's Hideaway, I Talk To The Trees, theme from Carnival, Wunder Bar, My Lord and Master, I Feel Pretty, I'm Going To Wash That Man Right Out of My Hair, Everything's Coming Up Roses, and the theme from West Side Story.

K.K.S. members feel this year's show will be their best and express their desire for a big success.

George Froelger has been selected to narrate the program.

Officers for this year's K.K.S. club are: Janice Huffman, president; Bea Frazier, vice president; Eddie Sheriff, secretary; Ann Howard, treasurer; and Kathy Colebrook, student council representative.

The careful planning and the diligent work of Miss Kirkpatrick, faculty sponsor of KKS, has been a great asset to the development of the program. Tickets will be on sale in the Grill of the SUB. Reserve tickets will be 75 cents, and general admission tickets priced at 50 cents. Contact Janice Fugitt in Case Hall for tickets.

Eastern Gets First Full-Time Physician

Dr. Wilbur Russell Houston was hired Monday by the Board of Regents as Eastern's first full time College Physician, effective June 1.

He will succeed Richmond doctor Hugh Mahaffey, who has served on a part-time basis for several years. Dr. Houston has been in private practice since 1925.

A native of Kentucky, Dr. Houston is a graduate of Dry Ridge High School, did his pre-med work at Georgetown College and the University of Kentucky. He is a graduate of the Eclectic Medical College, Cincinnati, in 1929. He did post graduate work at Indiana University, the University of Cincinnati and the Cleveland clinic.

Expect for 40 months in the Army, he has been in the Army since 1935. His armed force service took him to the Philippines, where he served for one year. He was discharged from the Army with the rank of major.

He has been past president of the Campbell-Kenton Medical Society, a charter member of the American Academy of General Practice, a member of the American Society Clinical Hypnosis, and a member of the Courtesy Staff of Both Memorial and St. Elizabeth Hospitals.

KEG Student Council Candidates

The candidates for Student Council offices of the KEG, Keep Eastern Growing Party, have been announced. They are from left to right, Bill McConnell, President candidate, Jerry Stewart, vice-president candidate, Pat Taubee, secretary candidate, and Bob Hughes, treasurer candidate. The up-coming election is scheduled for Tuesday, March 21.

Dean's List Regains Prestige

Double Standard Proves Effective

DOUBLE STANDARDS in the American society today are often used as the basis for intellectually stimulating and condemning conversation for college students as they sit in the grill between classes.

But one double standard adopted by the College has proved to be not only acceptable but also rewarding to Eastern students. That is the double standard adopted by the College as the criteria for selection of the Dean's List.

A total of 463 students were named to the Deans List for achievement for the fall semester. In addition, 67 students who compiled perfect grade standings received special recognition for scholastic achievement by being named to the President's List and will receive special Presidential Citations from President Martin.

These students are to be commended highly for their efforts. They are helping to attain the high standards of scholastic excellence sought after by all institutions of higher learning, but more important, they have brought honor to themselves. By concentrating on their studies they have shown the importance they attribute to knowledge and the need for concentrated effort required by our space-minded society. We applaud these students for their efforts, and charge the remainder of the student body to follow their superb example.

The double standard, which we mentioned earlier, involves a suggestion that new criteria be adopted as the basis for the selection.

With the change from the three point grading system to the four-point system now used, there was not a corresponding change in the selection basis for the Dean's List. The rather undesirable result was that the fall semester last year 734 students were appointed to the honor listing. With so many students being named to the Dean's List, it lost much of its prestige. It had not the honor it deserved. Recognizing the lack of honor provided by this not so exclusive "select group of outstanding students," the Progress made the following recommendations for changes in the criteria:

"... We suggest that a criteria of a certain point standing or a certain number of quality points be necessary to attain the list.

Since a 2.5 standing on the three point with the average 16-hour load gained the 40 necessary points on the three-point system, and a "B" with 20 hours on the three-point also earned 40 points, the corresponding figures for the four-point system should be used as a double criteria. That is to say, that any student attaining either a 3.5 or 60 quality points would make the Dean's List.

This gives both the student taking a low number of hours and the student taking the maximum number of hours an equal opportunity, and at the same time would promise to restore the lost prestige to the Dean's List."

We are happy indeed to report that this suggestion has been adopted and followed to the letter in this year's selection and has "restored the lost prestige to the Dean's List."

Teacher Evaluation

Success Lies With Instructor

(ACP) — Students at Auburn University, Auburn, Ala., indicated recently that they believe the success of any teacher evaluation program lies with the instructor, reports the Plainsman.

Without exception, the 199 students interviewed by the Plainsman said they had been fair in evaluating professors in Auburn's fall quarter evaluation project, sponsored by the student government-faculty committee. Some, however, admitted they were overly complimentary in cases in which it was necessary to protect their class standing.

Only 15 students, or 7.5 per cent, said they felt teacher evaluation would be of no value in improving instruction. Most of these said they believe professors in most cases were unwilling to change.

Some of the suggestions made for the improvement of evaluation included:

1. Conducting evaluation at mid-quarter and at the end of the quarter on an out-of-class basis.

2. Drawing separate forms for each school.
3. Allowing student participation to be clearly voluntary in all cases.
4. Allowing full freshman participation.
5. Allowing more time for evaluation.
6. Publishing evaluation forms in the Plainsman before beginning the project.
7. Allowing space for student comment beneath multiple-choice questions.
8. Furnishing a copy of the results to the student's dean and department head.
9. Rewarding good instructors.
10. Publishing the results.

In an earlier Plainsman survey, 83 instructors who participated in the voluntary fall quarter program asserted that the success of the program rested with the student.

EASTERN SHALL BE GREATER

Tooth Decay Contagious?

(ACP) — From the University of Miami comes news which may revolutionize the dating habits in America, says the Daily Reveille, Louisiana State University.

Dental researchers there have discovered that tooth decay is a highly contagious disease rather than a hereditary defect.

At first, this may seem insignificant. However, upon closer examination, who would knowingly destroy his ivory smile or earn himself a premature set of false teeth simply because he had been kissing the wrong girl?

Dr. Doran D. Zinner, one of the researchers, confirmed that tooth decay was caused by certain types of mouth bacteria. The dentist-microbiologist asserts that these bacteria are transmitted by direct contact, using case histories of rats, hamsters and humans to prove it.

A person will now need to check a prospective date's dental history as well as other vital statistics. The question arises of how this may be done without arousing suspicion.

Zinner announced that the best tooth decay protection comes from the use of flourides. Here is a positive area for discrimination. Once a person knows where his date is from, he need merely check his pocket guide of flouridated water supplies in the United States. If the local supply is flouridated, then he can be sure by subtly playing her with water.

Another method which might prove helpful calls for a bit of sleuthing. By staking out in the drugstore, one could take note of what kind of toothpaste she buys.

With this social problem exposed, one can with proper precaution be sure before saying "Pucker up."

The Real Threat To The United States

EDITORS NOTE: The following is the winning speech of the Charles F. Weaver Oratorical contest held last Wednesday. The winning speech by Gene Gray is The Real Threat to the United States.

The United States has often been thought of as a united, complete country with common goals, common principles, and a consensus of a majority for policy determinations, but the truth is that it has become simply an aggregate of homogenous people with individual interests, individual goals, and individual philosophies that play no role in the formulation of governmental policy and doctrine.

Yes, we have a country which is a myriad of class distinctions, although we are reluctant to accept the term. We are a country composed of racial antagonism, very influential and powerful work unions, and their counterparts—big business. We have other varied powerful interest groups and the wealthy supporters of government who exert individual pressures.

We are plagued with student demonstrations, instigated many times by people who are concerned with their own personal advantage or interest. These demonstrators in most cases really do not know what they are marching for, but inevitably they always have these connotations: they are always protesting something, allied against a policy, or objecting to a decision.

How many demonstrations or youth movements have you seen that are for something that advance some attribute of Americanism, or that uphold the American cause? You do not hear of many because there exists so many minorities, so many special interest groups that are concerned with individual desires and pleasures, that none of them can concur in a majority. In other words, they have no public philosophy.

Carrying this division of the United States into special distinct groups a little further, one finds that we have southern democrats allied with some of the republicans against the rest of the democrats and republicans, and of course there is the perennial split of the two parties themselves. Recently, we have had the evolution of the staunch conservatives and liberals, factions with somewhat radical ideas in their respective spheres.

Karl Jaspers is quoted in Walter Lippman's book, The Public Philosophy, as having said that the Western democracies have dissolved into "anonymous mass" because they are "without an authentic world, without provenance or roots," and as Lippman concludes, "without a belief and faith that they can live by." Arnold Toynbee, one of the most renowned contemporary historical writers says that these same people are "in" but not "of" the society they dominate.

What I am saying can be illustrated by viewing three major events that are happening in the world at the present time, the outcomes of which will affect us tremendously in whether or not we continue to live the way we do today. Those three areas are: 1. The Viet Nam situation, 2. The United States' alliance in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, which is seriously threatened by deGaulle, and 3. The unrest and uneasiness that confronts us here in the continental U.S. We want to know the public philosophy or public attitude toward these important areas of concern.

Turning to Viet Nam, almost everyone admits that there is a war going on and the United States is in a precarious position to say the least. But how does the majority concur in relation to this problem. Let us examine the different factions: the Liberals demand the policy of fighting, or go over with, to fight Red China if necessary. The rather conservative segment of the population backs the view that we should pull out, to let them do their own fighting.

Others have had other ideas, such as for us to initiate peace talks with the North Vietnamese now. Some say to have peace talks with the North but to include the Viet Cong in the south. And others want to talk peace with the Chinese, for there is the source of conflict anyway, and some feel that a coalition government is the answer.

These are only a few of the widespread ideas. Who can say that a consensus of opinion exists for any one of the proposed solutions, or any two of them? Who can say that a majority cares what course is taken, if any? Does the public opinion which has the right to decide have any opinion at all?

I am not saying that varied opinions and solutions should be discouraged but there has been due time for a majority to decide on and support one course. There has been time to carry out the democratic process of reaching a compromise and then following it. There has been time for the majority to exercise their right to govern.

In turning our attention to the other side of the world, to the NATO problem that I mentioned we find there basically the same public reaction. This Atlantic alliance is one of the most important for the continued success and for prestige regarding the United States' position to western Europe and the rest of the world. The dissolution of it is threatened and the allied forces to check the spread of communism there could be ultimately dispersed. Such a change would affect each individual of the United States.

It will determine what is going to happen in the future. But what does the average American know or care about it? Most of them could care less. But a decision will have to be reached and the wealthy supporters and pressure groups which I mentioned will influence the government's choice and the whole population will take the consequences, whatever they may be.

Concerning the third area, we see that the recent race riots, sit-ins, and demonstrations profoundly affect our image abroad, and it is evident that those engaging in such personal gain protests do not really care about the public image. Unless these problems occur within a person's state or immediate area, he regards them as happening in some remote place, not affecting him personally. There is no common or public sentiment toward such occurrences. Perhaps many people voice different opinions on the subject but that is as far as it goes.

There appeared an article in the Star Herald, in Luverne, Minn. by Alan McIntosh entitled, "I Am a Tired American" which points up what I have been trying to say. Mr. McIntosh writes: "I am a tired American — choked up to here on this business of trying to intimidate the Government by pickets, picket lines, and sit-ins by the hordes of dirty unwashed who rush to man the barricades against the forces of law, order, and decency. I am a tired American — weary of the beatniks who say they should have the right to determine what laws of the land they are willing to obey. I am a tired American — weary unto death of having my tax dollars go to dictators who play both sides against the middle with threats of what will happen if we cut off the golden stream of dollars." He is not pleased with the extreme personal interests existing today nor the control of policies by special interest groups.

These are but just three examples where a majority of popular support or a common idea on the subject is needed so as to carry out the public will, but do we have that majority? If there was a common philosophy, an idea, goal, or objective which we were trying to secure for our posterity, the majority would influence public relations and policies. They would show an opinion of what the government should do, not merely to approve or disapprove of what the government has already done.

Instinctively, we know that if there is no philosophy, of public attitudes and beliefs, there exists today initiative for personal gain at all costs, profits for private interests through exploiting certain rights, and the attitude of 'let the other fellow do it' when it comes to running the affairs of the country, and it is happening at a time when some type of real unity is needed.

It is my belief that unless a situation such as we are experiencing is not recognized by the populace and changed, democracy as we know it cannot exist. My reason for this is that there becomes too many minorities, too many private interests, too many who will not compromise, that one common majority cannot be had and thus the rule of government belongs to the strongest minority, and the majority is subjected.

Yes, it is a pretty radical belief, but if one honestly and objectively considers what is happening in the country, he will see that many of the points I have made do exist. We are becoming subjected to personal interests, sectionalism, unwieldy minorities, and major interest groups who once in power are very critical of a change.

The attitudes concerning the areas that I pointed out, North Viet Nam, the NATO crisis, and the problems at home, tend to substantiate the assumption that we are failing in a unified, public philosophy, in a common goal for the good of all. And if we do not attempt to meet and change this situation, it is anybody's guess to the position we will hold tomorrow in the area of world affairs.

I, too, am a tired American — weary of the neglectful attitude of the people concerning the whole country, weary of the petty self-interests, and utterly exhausted from trying to decide what course the United States is going to take.

Most Students Approve New University Status

By BRENDA PHILPOT

Progress News Editor
An opinion poll, taken by the Progress to get student reactions to Eastern's university status, yielded students' comments. Similar to those given in a poll taken before Eastern was designated a university, these reactions stem from certain questions asked by the Progress reporter.

The questions asked were: What are your particular feelings toward Eastern's having become a university? and do you think you will be effected personally and immediately?

In answer to these questions, Charlie Haynes, biology major from Richmond, stated that he is very well-satisfied with Eastern's attainment of university status. "We're getting new professors and courses in the whole Biology Department already."

Sandy Stewart, sophomore from Cincinnati, said, "Certainly I am overjoyed that Eastern is a university now. But I feel that the increase in out-of-state tuition is not in proportion to the gains which will be received by this new status. The new rates are high enough to force students to go to institutions which offer more benefits and prestige for the same money."

Students Not Ready
Richmond political science major, Marvin Marcum stated that he did not believe Eastern students are ready for university status. "They haven't taken advantage of everything Eastern could offer as a small state college. So it is unlikely that they will take advantage of the added offerings which an university entails."

Sophomore Donna Price stated, "I am in favor of the change because it will give us more prestige, better teachers, and more scholastic achievement. However, I don't think I will benefit immediately by the change. It will take time to build the program."

Junior Mike Stokke said in regard to the questions, "We're fortunate to get the status. Everyone more or less wants to graduate from an university."

More graduate programs will ignite more progressive attitudes on campus. Student apathy must change from that found in a college to that found in a university.

Clinton Ison, freshman, said he favored the change. "It will bring in more students from out-of-state as well as in-state."

One sophomore who did not wish to have his name used stated that he felt that Eastern should be a branch of the University of Kentucky. "I don't like the added expense, and I see no immediate benefits," he said.

Junior Frank Louder stated, "I think university status is a hoax because it exists in theory only. If it is a workable idea, then 'hurrah'; but as I see it, it is only a political front to gather prestige."

Shirley Osborne, sophomore, said, "I believe Eastern is ready for the change because we are a mature college. I see no immediate benefits. It is a hindrance to me because of the added expenses it brings."

James Kurz, Lexington history major, said, "I'm very happy about it because it will eventually lead to a higher caliber of education by bringing more qualified teachers into the school."

Art major, Adele Mills, said, "Eastern will have to make many changes in order to establish university status in the minds of the students."

Jim Snyder, transfer from Ohio State University, said, "The courses to choose from will be broadened. For instance, the Biology Department will be subdivided into other departments so that other majors which come under biology can be offered."

An anonymous junior stated, "It hasn't been covered enough for me to have a real opinion about it. It has no immediate benefits for me. It will effect the freshmen and lower classmen more. I believe that now we are an university some of the petty dorm rules should be abolished."

DONALD McDONALD

McDonald Presents

Organ Recital

Donald McDonald, distinguished organist from New York City, will present an organ recital in Brock Auditorium Sunday at 4 p.m. Mr. McDonald appears as the fifth organist in the current organ recital series presented on the new Rank Holtkamp organ in the auditorium.

Donald McDonald has been called not only a "champion at the organ, but also a champion of the organ. A persuasive soloist noted for his impressive and virtuosic recitals, Dr. McDonald is an equally persuasive spokesman for what he considers an organ renaissance."

Dr. McDonald holds the Bachelor of Music from Curtis Institute and the Master's and Doctor's degrees from the Union Theological School. He has been a pupil of Clarence and Helen Dickinson, Harold Friedell, Fredrick Schlieder, and Julius Hereford. At the present time, Dr. McDonald is a member of the faculty at the Westminster Choir College where he is professor of organ.

He has appeared in recital throughout the country in some of the most distinguished Church Music Conferences and conventions. At the present time he is also serving as an organist and choirmaster for the West End Collegiate Church in New York City, one of the oldest congregations in America.

Dr. McDonald will present a program of music chosen from such masters as William Boyce, Johann Pachelbel, J.S. Bach, Marcel Dupre, and Maurice Durufle.

The recital will be presented free of admission. Students, faculty, and friends of campus are cordially invited to attend.

TRACK TEAM IN N.C.A.A. INDOOR CHAMPIONSHIP
The Eastern track and field team will compete in the N.C.A.A. indoor track championship which will be held in Detroit tomorrow. This meet will have some of the best college runners in the country participating in it and the competition should bring about many record breaking times.

Eastern will be sending six runners; the two mile relay team will be composed of Larry Whalen, Earl Jordan, Bill Swanson, and Ron Benson; Carry Guess, who will compete in the 60 High Hurdles, and Ken Anderson will run in an Invitational Mile.

The two mile relay team, which holds the third best time in the country will be out to set a new N.C.A.A. indoor record. Georgetown in Washington, D.C. holds the record with a time of 7:31.3, Villanova is second with 7:32.0 and Eastern is close behind with a 7:32.3. This race should develop into a very interesting one.

Ken Anderson will run in a special Invitational mile run composed of ex-college runners and outstanding U.S. freshman. In this race Jim Ryan, a frosh, from Kansas holds a time of 3:55.3, while Rich Cunningham from Miami has a time of 4:04 and Al Carrie, the ex-Big Ten champ with a 4:04 will compete for top honors.

The N.C.A.A. committee is paying the traveling expenses for the best competition possible.

INTRAMURALS
The intramural wrestling tournament will be held on March 23 and 24 in the Alumni Coliseum. There is still plenty of time to enter and individual or team entries will be accepted.

HILLTOPPERS SCORE IMPRESSIVE VICTORY
The Western Hilltoppers scored a very impressive 105-86 victory over fourth ranked Loyola of Chicago to advance them to the semi-final round of the Mid-East regional.

The "Toppers" will play ninth ranked Michigan tonight at Iowea City, Michigan is boasting a 17-7 non-loss mark while Western is 24-2. If the Toppers are victorious they will have a chance to take on Kentucky in the final game of the region. The "Toppers" have proved that the O.V.C. does produce some fine teams and a victory over the Wolverines might give the conference some recognition in next year's press ratings.

Ten-Game Card Announced For Maroons; Tampa Returns

A ten-game 1966 football schedule for Roy Kidd's Eastern Maroons has been announced by director of athletics Glenn Pressnell.

Besides the seven-game Ohio Valley Conference card, the Maroons will face three non-league foes.

Small-college power Findlay will play the Maroons in Hanger Stadium, while Eastern will go on the road to face university-division Marshall University and NAIA strongboy Tampa University, returning to the Hanger Stadium, against Murray, Sept. 30; East Tennessee, Oct. 15; Tennessee Tech, Nov. 5, and Morehead, Nov. 12.

The East Tennessee battle has been designated as High School Band Day, the Findlay game is Cheerleaders Day, and Tennessee Tech will provide homecoming opposition.

Road league games come at Austin Peay, Sept. 17; Middle Tenn., Oct. 8, and Western, Oct. 29. Eastern plays at Marshall Sept. 24, and Findlay comes to Richmond Oct. 22.

The schedule:

Sept. 17	Austin Peay	Away
Sept. 24	Marshall U.	Away
Sept. 30	Murray State	Home
Oct. 8	M. Tenn.	Away
Oct. 15	E. Tenn.	Home
Oct. 22	Findlay College	Home
Oct. 29	Western Ky.	Away
Nov. 5	Tenn. Tech	Home
Nov. 12	Morehead	Home
Nov. 19	Tampa Univ.	Away

Swimmers Defend KISC Championship Today

Eastern Kentucky University's swimming team embarked this weekend for the Kentucky Intercollegiate Swimming Championship in Louisville, as defending champs. Eastern has assumed this dominating role for the past three years.

This year Eastern's team which will make a strong bid for its fourth straight championship, is composed of Tom Baechle, Fred Bartlett, Bob French, Richard Hill, Bruce Lennie, Bill Holzapel, Richard Fowler, Phillip Stoffey, Charles Tandy, Bob Rueff, Bill Walker, Bob Walker, Johnny Warren, and Gerry Suetzholz.

If past performances are any indication it can be assumed that Eastern should emerge once again as KISC Champions. Last year, not only did Eastern win 10 of 12 events but in the process set 10 state records. This year the Eels being composed mainly of last year's winners, has improved tremendously, with the aid of their freshmen swimmers, should offer very stiff competition to any challengers.

Rich Hill of EKV has established a team record of 2:11.0. This year, which is 2.9 seconds under last year's winning time has been accomplished.

Improvements have been achieved in one event after another, by Hellman of U. K. Bill Walker has bettered his own state record of last year for the 200 yard freestyle by 2 seconds.

A newcomer to the Eels roster is Bob Walker, a freshman, has recorded a time of 5:38.2 for the 500 yard freestyle. This is one second under last year's record winning time of 5:39.1 set by Eastern's own Fred Bartlett.

Johnny Warren, Eastern's senior diver should find the diving competition easier than in 1965 as his finesse and skill in the more difficult dives has developed into near perfection this year.

Coach Combs in commenting on the forth coming championship meet stated, "every record ought to go" and that, "the new records will remain for a long time." The Eels director continued to point out that the twice-a-day workouts have been the "secret to the good times."

Those who desire to root the swimming team on to victory should be at the Crawford Gym on the University of Louisville campus on Friday. Opening heats start at 1:00 p. m. and 7:00 p. m. The finals will be held Saturday morning at 9:00 a. m. is the time designated for the remaining heats and that 1:00 p. m. Saturday is scheduled time of the finals.

SCOTT WALLACE
Cadet Of The Week
Last week's "Cadet of the Week" is Scott Wallace, a freshman from Louisville. He is a sociology major and a member of the counter-guerilla raiders. His future plans are still undecided.

Eels Down Morehead In Seniors' Last Meet

A sparsely populated sport-181.20, third Holzapel of Eastern's galley saw the Eastern Eels triumphant over a weak Morehead team 545-41 last Saturday in home waters.

Bob Walker and Bob French tied for top scoring honors with 10 points each. Bob Rueff was second in scoring with 8 points.

In the opening event, the 400 yard medley relay, a blazing school of Eels, Charles Tandy, Rick Hill, Fred Bartlett and Bill Walker, shattered both a pool and a team record by registering a time of 3:55.3. During this event Charles Tandy established a record for the 100 yard backstroke with a time at 59.3.

The 200 IM saw two fine duels developed. First, between freshmen Bob French and Bob Rueff both of Eastern which resulted in French winning the event with a time of 2:38.5. The second duel of this event developed as Bob Rueff fought off a challenging Blazer for second place.

Johnny Warren, Eastern's senior diver, opened and closed the diving contest with near perfect dives receiving top scores from the judges.

The over all result of this 1 meter board contest was Warren first with a total of 223.5 points, second Vandever with 145.0, and fourth Spurling of Morehead with 140.45.

Rick Hill, an outstanding Eastern merman, established a team record in the 200 yard back with a time of 2:11.0.

Bob Walker's unbelievably smooth form in the grueling 500 yard freestyle gained victory for him in the event with a time of 5:38.2 down 16 seconds from his old time.

Senior Tom Baechle gained 5 points for Eastern by placing first in the 200 yard breast stroke.

A splash of misfortune befell as Eastern false-started midway through the 400 yard freestyle relay. Had this event counted the relay team of Bill Walker, Phil Stoffey, Fred Bartlett and Charles Tandy would have put a new time of 3:26.5 on the books.

This last meeting of the season resulted in Eastern's electrifying Eels posting 9 victories and 5 defeats for the season. Appearing for the last time as swimmers for Eastern were five seniors, captain Fred Bartlett, Charles Tandy, Johnny Warren, Tom Baechle and Phil Stoffey. Next the Eels journey to Louisville, to defend their title as Kentucky State Collegiate Champs.

Bodkin Sets Nine All-Time Marks, Maroons Lose Title Defense

Biggest newsmaker for the 1965-66 Eastern Maroons, who closed their season Wednesday night with a 59-52 win over Miami of Ohio, was 6-7 forward Eddie Bodkin who closed his career holding nine Eastern records.

The native of Harrodsburg now has his name in the Eastern record book more times than any other individual.

Bodkin, who started the season with two marks, finished with these records (old standard in parentheses): (1) Career points, 1,586 (1,460); (2) Career average, 21.4 (20.6); (3) Season points, 631 (568); (4) Season average, 25.2 (23.2).

(5) Career field goals, also an Ohio Valley Conference record, 840; (6) Season field goals, 254 (226); (7) Season field goal attempts 491 (477); (8) Season field goal percentage, 52.8 (50.2), and (9) Single game goals, 18 (17).

All of the records except the three season field goal marks were held by Eastern assistant coach Jack Adams. Bodkin broke his own attempts. Larry Parks held the old percentage mark.

Increase Percentage
The Maroons set only one team mark, compared to five established by last season's OVC champs. Their 47.2 field goal percentage topped last year's 46.4.

Eastern closed its season with a 16-9 over-all record, and a 9-5 second-place OVC mark, losing its title defense to Western Kentucky (14-0).

Behind Bodkin, who also led Eastern rebounders with 10.2, came seniors Bill Walton, 14.0, Jerry Bisbey, 8.6, and John Carr, 8.6.

Sophomore Garfield Smith was fifth at 8.2, followed by junior Dick Clark, 7.3, sophomore Fred Johnson, 6.9, and junior Doug Clemmons, 6.5, rounding out regular performers.

As a team, the Maroons scored 82.7 points per game while giving up 77.3. They out-rebounded their opponents by 47.3 to 43.6, and outshot them 47.2 to 41.9.

Season highs came primarily against Central Missouri, which fell 105-69 against a 43 field goal and 68 rebound Maroon barrage.

Individual High Scores
Individual highs went to Bodkin with 40 points against Marshall, 18 field goals against Austin Peay and 13 free throws against Tennessee Tech, and Garfield Smith, who snared 21 rebounds against Central Missouri, and 26 rebounds by Austin Peay (94-65).

The season brought Coach Jim Baechle's four-and-a-half year record at the Maroon helm to 68 wins compared to 36 losses, one OVC championship and two second place finishes.

Golf Team Young But Experienced

The prospects for the Eastern Golf Team for 1966 look bright, even though the team will be a young one.

Returning will be five lettermen from the 1965 team which won 11 and lost four in dual competition. However, they made a disappointing finish in the OVC Championships, finishing seventh in the eight team league.

Last year's four lowest shooters were freshmen Ron Roby, Edwin Luxon, Jack Good and Jimmy Martin all scoring in low 70's for the season. We are expecting these boys to improve considerably this spring.

Also returning, will be Ken Kreutz, the only senior on the team, who has been a consistent golfer the past three years.

Pushing these boys will be newcomers John Cowen, a transfer from the University of Houston, Walter Brittle, Jr., a transfer from University of Miami, Two freshmen Dennis Bruneau of North Bay, Ontario, Canada, and Billy Reed from Huntington, W.Va., both are outstanding high school golfers.

A very attractive golf schedule has been arranged, we will meet representative teams from Kentucky and surrounding states.

Dr. Stratemeyer Named Laurette Counselor

SAUNDRA MURPHY
Feature Writer

Dr. Florence B. Stratemeyer, of the Education Department, was recently named Laurette Counselor of Kappa Delta Pi. Dr. Stratemeyer has been a member since 1950.

Kappa Delta Pi is an honor society in education. Its aims are to foster high standards of preparation for teaching and to invite into bonds of fellowship those who have attained excellence of scholarship and distinction of achievement as students and servants of education.

The society consists of institutional and alumni chapters and a Laurette chapter. The Laurette chapter is composed of no more than 60 prominent persons who have made significant contributions to the field of education. Education is taken in the broad sense of the word to include all achievements in the arts and sciences which enrich the cultural heritage. Some of the more notable members of Laurette of the past and present include: Eleanor Roosevelt, Walter Lippmann, Jane Addams, George W. Carver, John Dewey, and Albert Einstein.

Dr. Stratemeyer was elected Laurette Counselor at the 25th biennial convention of Kappa Delta Pi members. The convention was held in Houston, Texas during Feb. 23-26. "I was very surprised at being elected," said Dr. Stratemeyer, "but I am very glad to serve the society."

She has previously served on the executive council and was the first vice-president of the national chapter for 14 years.

Dr. Stratemeyer was born and raised in Detroit, Michigan and received her B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. from Teachers College of Columbia University. In 1924 Dr. Stratemeyer joined the faculty of Teachers College of Columbia where she served for 41 years as a research associate in curriculum and taught teacher education.

This year a lecture series in her honor by the National Association for Student Teaching began. It will last five years.

Dr. Stratemeyer has written several books and articles dealing with teacher education. This is Dr. Stratemeyer's first year here. In the education department her fellow faculty members include Dr. Joseph Howard and Dean Dixon Barr. These men both received the doctor of education degrees under her.

Eastern is a member of the Delta Alpha chapter of Kappa Delta Pi. In 1935 it became the 97th chapter. There are now some 239 Kappa Delta Pi chapters throughout the United States.

G I Bill Provides Benefits

The Veterans Readjustment Benefits Act of 1966, signed into law last Thursday by President Johnson, provides a permanent program of benefits to veterans who have served or who will serve in the U.S. Armed Forces since Jan. 31, 1955.

Chief among these benefits will be education, home loan guaranty and the extension of VA hospital benefits on the same priority basis as for wartime veterans.

Approximately four million veterans (about 50,000 in Kentucky) discharged since Jan. 31, 1955, have become eligible for benefits somewhat similar to those granted veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict.

President Martin said this week that Eastern is preparing to admit large numbers of qualified veterans and that eligible students should make application with the Dean of Admissions Dr. Charles Ambrose.

The educational assistance provisions will go into effect June 1. Veterans with more than 180 days active duty, any of it coming after Feb. 1, 1955, will be eligible for one month of college for each month or fraction of a month on active duty.

Those taking full-time courses will receive $100 per month if they have no dependents, and a maximum of $150 with dependents. The income of the veteran will not be considered.

The maximum period allowed will be 36 months. There will be no retroactive payments.

Three Cadets Honored

Jerry Geist, sophomore from Wheaton, Maryland, represents M company as a "Cadet of the Week." He is a history major who plans on a future as a lawyer.

G company is represented by freshman Eddie Draud. He is a pre-veterinarian major from Covington, and hopes to be a veterinarian.

Freshman Robert Jackson, a member of B company, is a history and political science major from Shelbyville. He hopes to go into politics after graduation.

Debaters Complete
In Bluegrass
Tournament

"I know now how basketball coaches must feel when they play in the upper bracket of the OVC—it's all or nothing," remarked Mrs. Almee Alexander, debate coach.

Two debate teams were in the finals of the Bluegrass Debate Tourney at Georgetown.

The two teams were composed of Gordon Camuel and Charles Greenwall, and Eugene Gray and Donna Wolfe. They both went undefeated in five rounds of debate in last Friday's competition.

The schools competing were: University of Kentucky, Southwestern Louisiana, Rose Polytechnic Institute, Northern Michigan, and Centre.

In the semifinals last Saturday, debate's placed in the upper bracket. At that point they shared debating honors with Rose Polytechnic Institute. Both teams won round five and had yet to face Rose. The teams were defeated by Rose's affirmative team. Eastern debater defeated Rose's negative side in two rounds. Rose was declared the winner and took first place in the tourney.

"I enjoyed participating in the debate. This was my first varsity debate and I found it very challenging," freshman Donna Wolfe commented.

The second and third place teams were determined by win-loss records and speaker points. Berea and UK, who were in the lower bracket before the final round due to two losses emerged second and third respectively.

Mrs. Alexander, debate coach, said "I was extremely gratified with the excellent record chalked up by Eastern's debate teams. I wish that one team had been placed in the lower bracket so that there might have been some tangible notice taken of Eastern's fine record."

Mr. Weatherly and Mrs. Alexander accompanied the teams to Georgetown.

WAKE ME WHEN IT'S OVER

The trouble with early morning classes is that you're too sleepy. At late morning classes you're too hungry. At late afternoon classes you're too hungry again. At late afternoon classes you're too hungry again. The fact is—and we might as well face it—there is no good time of day to take a class.

What shall we do then? Abandon our colleges to the Ivy? I say no! I say America did not become the hope of mankind and the world's largest producer of butterfat and tallow by running away from a fight!

If you're always too hungry or too sleepy for class, then let's hold classes when you're not too hungry or sleepy! namely, while you're eating or sleeping.

Classes while eating are a simple matter. Just have a lecturer lecture while the eaters eat. But watch out for noly foods. I mean who can hear a lecturer lecture when everybody is crunching celery or matzo or like that? Serve quiet stuff—like anchovy paste on a doughnut, or steaming bowls of lamb fat.

Now let us turn to the problem of learning while sleeping. First, can it be done?

Yes, it can. Psychologists have proved that the brain is definitely able to assimilate information during sleep. Take, for instance, a recent experiment conducted by a leading Eastern university (Stanford). A small tape recorder was placed under the pillow of the subject, a freshman named Wrobert Wright. When Wrobert was fast asleep, the recorder was turned on. Softly, all through the night, it repeated three statements in Wrobert's slumbering ear:

1. Herbert Spencer lived to the age of 109 and is called "The Founder of English Eclectic Philosophy."
2. The banana plant is not a tree but a large perennial herb.
3. The Archduke Ferdinand was assassinated in 1914 at Sarajevo by a young nationalist named Mjilas Cvetnik, who has been called "The Trigger of World War I."

When Wrobert awoke in the morning, the psychologists said to him, "Herbert Spencer lived to the age of 109. What is he called?"

Wrobert promptly answered, "Perennial Herb."

Next they asked him, "What has Mjilas Cvetnik been called?"

Wrobert replied, "Perennial Serb."

Finally they said, "Is the banana plant a tree?"

"To be honest," said Wrobert, "I don't know too much about bananas. But if you gents want any information about razor blades, I'm your man."

"Well," said the psychologists, "can you tell us a blade that shaves closely and cleanly without nicking, pricking, scratching, scraping, scoring, gouging, grinding, flaying or flensing?"

"Yes, I can," said Wrobert. "Personna's Stainless Steel Blades. Not only does Personna give you a true luxury shave, but it gives you heaps and gobs and bushels and barrels of true luxury shaves—each one nearly as truly luxurious as the first."

"Land's sake!" said the psychologists.

"Moreover," said Wrobert, "Personna is available not only in the Double Edge style blade, but also in the Injector style blade."

"Great balls of fire!" said the psychologists.

"So why don't you rush to your dealer and get some Personnas at once?" said Wrobert.

"We will," said the psychologists, twinkling, "but there is something we have to do first."

Whereupon they awarded Wrobert an honorary L.L.B. (Lover of Luxury Blades) degree, and then, linking arms, they sang and danced and bobbed for apples till the campfire had turned to embers.

If you're looking for an honorary degree yourself, we recommend B.S. (Barma Shave®)—from the makers of Personna. It soaks rings around any other lather; it comes in regular or menthol.

Four Students Take Part In Business Games

Four students from Eastern are among those from 38 colleges and universities throughout the South participating in an Intercollegiate Business Game and Conference at Emory University in Atlanta March 10-12.

The local students and their faculty advisor are: Kyle Reagan, Sondra Tudor, Alan Rhodus, and Jon Ferrante. The advisor is R. Parker Gowing. Schools from Texas to Virginia are competing in a computerized business game. Most game plays were made on local campuses in February and March, with final decisions to be made at Emory during the conference.

Scheduled activities include seminars, panel discussions, job prospecting, talks by outstanding businessmen and educators and recognition of the game winners.

The conference is being held in conjunction with the Sales and Marketing Executives' Fourth Annual Sales Clinic.

A simulated business environment has been programmed into a computer at Emory. Each school will make ten to fifteen plays before the game is concluded. During each play every team must make six decisions: price of product, production volume in units, budgets for advertising and selling research and development, and plant and equipment; as well as the amount of dividends paid to stockholders.

The computer will digest the data and "print out" each team's results including an income statement, a balance sheet, and a cash flow statement after each play.

The computer is programmed to consider the seasonality of the product, and will borrow funds automatically for a team that runs short of operating cash to pay its bills.

Five winners, one from each industry, will be announced. These winners will make oral presentations to a panel of top-flight Atlanta business leaders who will select the grand winner.

SYLVIA DAVIS

Sylvia Davis Exemplifies Quiet Recruiting

Sylvia Davis of Lancaster and Lexington, is one of the young scholars Eastern has been quietly recruiting with an eye to university status.

A Ph. D. candidate from the University of Cincinnati in German, 24-year-old Miss Davis has held her MA from there since 1964. Her BA, also in German, is from the University of Kentucky, from which she graduated magna cum laude.

She teaches elementary and intermediate German at Eastern, and plans to spend the summer abroad, hoping for an interview with German writer Herman Kasack of Stuttgart, subject of her doctor's dissertation.

Member of Phi Beta Kappa at UK, Miss Davis was selected as an exchange student for a year's study at the University of Heidelberg. She visited eastern and western Europe during the same trip, including Russia, Poland, Yugoslavia and Hungary.

Hobbies are cooking, playing the piano and furniture refinishing. Miss Davis is doing just what she planned: teaching college German.

Her mother, a Romance Language major, sparked a childhood interest in languages. Miss Davis is the daughter of Mrs. J. Wade Walker of Lancaster and the late Rodger G. Davis.

Air Force Team On Campus

Yesterday and today the United States Officer Selection team is on campus. The team of three men will discuss Air Force officer's Training School with interested college seniors. They are in front of the grill in the SUB.

Vacancies Open In Career Positions

College graduates or those with equivalent experience are needed to fill nearly 100 vacancies in entrance level career positions in professional, administrative and non-technical fields. These positions are with Federal agencies in Kentucky.

All those interested must take the written Federal Service Entrance Examination, open to college seniors and graduate students. Starting salaries are $5,181 or $6,289 per year, depending on the candidates qualifications. Applicants who file by March 16 will be scheduled for the written test given April 16. An additional test is scheduled for May. The final date for applying is April 19.

The career opportunities include personnel management, general administration, social security administration, tax collection, electronic data processing and procurement and supply.

For details, see Announcement No. 389, which may be obtained from college placement offices, Civil Service information offices at most post offices, or from the U.S. Civil Service Commission, Chicago Region, Main Post Office Building, Chicago, Illinois 60607. All qualified applicants will be considered without regard to race, religion, national origin, sex, politics, or any other non-merit consideration.

Petitions

Due Today

Student Council election of officers will be held March 21. Any petitions of candidates that have not been turned in must be in to the Student Council office today by 5 p.m.

Eastern Professor Publishes Book

Miss Ethel Garber, assistant professor of English, reports that she has written and published a book. The work is entitled "A Student's Guide to Research."

The author spent almost two decades preparing and perfecting this work published by the W.S. Welsh Printing Company.

She studied intensely the bibliographic style set forth in research manuals that had already been published. She fashioned her own Guide so that it would harmonize with the bibliographical systems most widely used in American colleges and universities.

Miss Garber has devoted much time and effort in testing her work in classroom and after classroom. Continuous revisions were made according to the student need.

Miss Garber's purpose in preparing this manuscript is to provide an outline or guide that college freshmen can use to help them write presentable manuscripts of a research.

Miss Garber states that her guide is intended primarily for college freshmen, but that upper classmen, and even graduate students will benefit from it.

Miss Garber acquired the B.S. degree in liberal arts from Madison College in Virginia; an M. A. in Education from the University of Virginia; an M.A. in Library science from George Peabody College for Teachers; an M. Ed. (6th year degree) from George Peabody College; an M. A. in English from the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, New York University; graduate credit in journalism at the University of Wisconsin.

She has taught in Brooklyn College, New York; Vermont College, Montpelier; and Findlay College, Ohio. She has been at Eastern since 1964.
