42nd Year No. 22

Students Will Pick Council Tuesday

Three Parties Vie For Spots In Next Year's Government

Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. the Student Council will hold their election for officers of next year's student governing body. The election will be held in the dormitories and Student Union lobby for off-campus students. Three parties have submitted petitions and platforms for the election. The Keep Eastern Growing ticket or KEG offers Hugh Burkett, junior from Somerset for president; Micky Tatum, junior from Lebanon for vice-president; Sylvia Ramsey, junior from Whitley City for secretary and Ron Baker, sophomore from Somerset for treasurer. Student Advancement For Greater Eastern, or SAGE placed these names on the ballot: Gary McDaniel, junior from Madison, Ind., for president; Sid Johnson, junior from Carrollton, for vice-president; Shirley Richardson, sophomore from Waterbury, Ver., for secretary; and Ed Lamium, sophomore from Cincinnati, for treasurer. Running for office on the Student Government Party, or SGP, are: Jim Sexton, junior from Ashland, for president; Mike Campbell, junior from Louisville for vice-president; Peggy Carter, junior from Versailles for secretary; and Riley Thompson, junior from Danville, for treasurer. When asked to comment on Tuesday's event Mr. Vic Heiland, present president of the Council offered the following: Cites Apathy "The biggest single factor blocking effective student government at Eastern is student apathy toward the Council. It is nice to be stimulated and concerned around election time, but it is vitally necessary that students have a sustained interest year-round in their government. "This year's council has laid the ground work for broadening the scope of responsibilities. It has given system and cohesion in many areas. It has begun many programs that must be carried on from year to year if they are to be worthwhile. "There are, to be sure, many things that can not be accomplished in one term of office, thus the need for continuation of council programs is essential. Changes Made "This year's council has made this continuation possible through administrative and constitutional changes. Heiland said that in his opinion this year's council has been the most productive. "I hope," he continued "that whoever wins will take advantage of the products of this year's council and provide a responsible, intelligent and progressive program for next year. "Last year's Student Council election polled 1841 votes or nearly 42 per cent.

KKS Swim 'Over The Rainbow'

Rehearsing with four male swimmers, members of Kappa Kappa Sigma prepare for their annual water show which opened Thursday night and will show tonight and tomorrow night. Swimming around the theme, "Over the Rainbow, these synchronized swimmers offer one of the highlights of the year.

Assembly Caps Religious Week

"Full, first-class American citizenship is possible only to those who identify themselves with every other American", Dr. Olaf Anderson of the Louisville Presbyterian Seminary told his audience of some 2100 freshmen at Wednesday's assembly. Assembly, followed by a clergy student luncheon, marked the end of Religious Emphasis Week, with dozens of informal meetings in dormitories and classrooms. On stage also were the Rev. Thomas Clay of the Episcopal Canterbury Club; Rev. James Wilson of the Wesley Foundation; Father John McGuire of the Newman Club; and Mrs. Sara Ballard, of Ravenna, of the student Christian Science Club. Eastern's Chamber Choir presented a Palestrina selection, and Miss Mary Jo Rudd, senior from Burkhardt, offered devotions. Dr. Robert Martin noted that "St. Patrick's Day will always be important here, because Dr. Thomas Coates was born on March 17, and died on that date. Dr. Herman Donovan's birthday was also March 17."

Swim Club Depicts Coming Of Spring

Last night many people witnessed another sign of the coming of spring other than the sunshine seen at the beginning of Sigma, Eastern's water ballet club, gave the first performance of its annual spring water show. Two more performances will be held tonight and tomorrow. This year's theme is "Just Over the Rainbow." The show consisted of twelve numbers which represent the various colors of the rainbow. These numbers corresponded with the music of popular songs which imply color. The numbers are: Ruby, The Pink Panther, Lavender Blue, Deep Purple, Blue Hawaii, The Swan, Little Brown Jug, Oranges of Java, Yellow Bird, Goldfinger, Silver Sands, Greensleeves, Black Magic, and the finale "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" which represented colors from all the other eleven numbers. Costumes Appropriate In each number the performers wore costumes which corresponded in color with the color depicted by the songs. The costumes were very bright and colorful, and were designed by the KKS girls from everything from dry cleaning bags to clothes hangers. The spotlights have also been colored to match the songs. In "Little Brown Jug", the girls wore old hats and blue jeans with patches on them. Once they get into the splash of things, like the country folk they represent, the girls really "whoop it up". In another number, "The Pink Panther", the girls swam to the beautiful music of Henry Mancini. They designed pink costumes which have pink tails attached to the bathing suits and ears on the bathing caps. "The Swan" is a beautiful solo done by Miss Janice Huffman. She wears a white costume made to resemble a swan. The remaining nine numbers are equally as beautiful and interesting as the three just described. Each year KKS invites four boys to participate in their show. Although the wear very little costuming throughout the show, they are a welcome addition to an otherwise all-girl show. This year the boys in the show are Charles Tandy, Marvin Fisher, Gene Pettit, and Rick Wood. The show will be given again tonight and tomorrow at 8. Mary Nash Ginn, President of KKS, said, "I hope that we shall be able to please our audience with our next two performances just as much as we did with our first one."

262 Performing Student Teaching

Two hundred and sixty-two seniors are performing student teaching at 47 off-campus elementary and secondary schools located throughout the State. In making the announcement, Dr. J. Doriand Coates, associate dean of instruction for teacher education, said that these students have completed six weeks of preparation by observing and studying methods of highly-trained professional teachers. Of the total, 78 will perform student teaching at the elementary level, 141 at the secondary level. The largest number of students performing student teaching are in the field of social studies. Physical education ranks second with 32, and business next with 30. Professional degrees are awarded to those who successfully complete their student teaching and other required curricula for bachelor's degree. Enter Teaching About 80 per cent of Eastern's 13,000 graduates have entered the teaching profession. Eastern's student teachers are presently located at these off-campus teaching centers: Bellevue (Madison County); Berea High, Boone County; Breathitt County, Bryan Station, Carrollton, Central, Daniel Boone (Madison County); Danville, Dunbar, Eastern (Jefferson County); Estill County, Eubank, George Rogers Clark High School, Harlan, Harrodsburg, and Highlands. Eastern To Host Pioneer Debaters

Eastern will host the fourth annual Pioneer Debate Tournament tomorrow where 23 schools and over one-hundred debaters will participate. At the same time Eastern will be represented at the Invitational Novice Tournament at the University of Cincinnati. Debaters for Eastern in the varsity division of the Pioneer Debate Tournament will be Dave Hill and Gordon Camuel or Jim Bragg for the affirmative. Jay Roberts and Joe Dunn will compose the negative team. In the novice division Mary Jo Rudd and Charles Greenwell will represent the affirmative team while Eugene Gray and Alan Muncy will compose the negative team. The cross-examination type of debate will be employed where a questioning period is used to clarify issues and to expose the weaknesses of the opponent's case. A question is asked and the opponent must answer it briefly and directly. Speech students from 131 and 231 classes will act as time keepers. Trophies will be awarded to first and second place winners. "Boone" Gavels (Eastern's own unique award) which are made by the Industrial Arts department out of trees taken from the Eastern campus, will be awarded to each first place winner in each division. Small individual trophies will be awarded to second and third place winners in each division. The schedule for the day of debating will begin at 8:30 a.m. with registration in the foyer of the Bert Combs Building followed by a briefing session in the Grise Room. The debates will begin at 9:45 and go until 12:30, where lunch will be served in the Blue Room of the Student Union Building. From 1:45 to 3:15 debates will resume. At 4:45 the presentation of the trophies will take place in the Grise Room. St. Patrick's Day Memorial Service Honors Dr. Donovan

Eastern paid tribute to the late Dr. Herman Lee Donovan in a Memorial Service held in Walnut Hall of the Keen Johnson Student Union Building Wednesday afternoon. Speaking on the occasion of the late Doctor's birthday was Professor of English, W. L. Keene, who recalled memories of the "middle years" of Dr. Donovan's life. He said that "we honor a man whose life reached fulfillment and the realization of life's hopes and purposes - in his own chosen field - all the way from the little schools, through village and city systems, a deanship here, a professorship at George Peabody College, 13 years as president here, followed by 15 at the state university, not to add a significant continuing participation as elder statesmen in education after his retirement." Fourth President Dr. Donovan served as fourth president of Eastern from 1928-1941. At the service, Professor Keene recalled some milestones of Dr. Donovan's years as president of Eastern. I remember the tangible growth - the rising of buildings against the lean backdrop of the Great Depression; the completion of the Brock Auditorium, the Health Building, the newer two thirds of the present library, and then the crowning building accomplishment - the dormitory triplex of Beckham, Miller, and McCreary, the Arts Building, and the Student Union Building." Keene remembered three words which he said characterized Dr. Donovan - a scholar, a cultured man, and a professional minded individual. These qualities he endeavored to instill within those at Eastern. Presiding at the program was President Robert R. Martin. Other members of the Eastern staff participating in the memorial tribute were: the College Chamber Choir, under the direction of Thomas Lancaster; the String Quartet, consisting of Dr. Robert Oppelt, Miriam Oppelt, Alan Staples, and Lyle Wolfrom, and Landis Baker. Among the guests of the College at the ceremony were Mrs. Donovan and other members of his family.

Dr. Lewis To Replace Mr. Adams Resigns As History Head

The resignation of Professor Kerney M. Adams as chairman of the department of history and the appointment of Dr. Clyde J. Lewis as his successor were announced today by President Robert R. Martin. Effective date for both will be June 1. Adams, who has served on the faculty since 1928 and as chairman of the department since 1953, will remain on the teaching staff. In a letter to President Martin, Adams requested to be relieved of the departmental headship "in order that I may again devote my time to teaching and to the completion of some writing projects for which I need more time." "I am sure that I can be more conducive to these pursuits than my present duties allow," Dr. Martin expressed his appreciation to Professor Adams "for his loyalty and dedication to the institution for nearly four decades." Dr. Lewis, who has served in the department since 1946, is a Past president of the Eastern chapter of the American Association of University Professors, he is a member of several professional organizations, including the American Historical Society. Adams who holds the A.B. in history and political science from the University of Kentucky and the M. A. in European History from Cornell University, has done additional graduate work at both Harvard and Cornell.

He collaborated with Dr. Harry Elmer Barnes in writing a two-volume study, "History of European Civilization," and has contributed to numerous learned periodicals.

He is especially noted for establishing the "Ideological Foundations of Western Civilization Course," which has as its objectives helping students acquire some acquaintance with the ideological content of our cultural heritage, some familiarity with great ideas of enduring significance, and the cultivation of the qualities of mind to which we are indebted for these ideas.

ROTC Names Top Students

Six Eastern senior-cadets have been designated as "Distinguished Military Students." In making the presentation, Col. Everett Smith, professor of military science, recognized the young men for their superior achievement in military subjects and overall academic standing. Receiving awards were Cadet Lt. Col. John Decoursey Aterberry, and Cadet Lt. Col. Kenton Douglas Moberly, both of Richmond; Cadet Colonel Charles O. Campbell Campbellburg; Cadet Lt. Col. Thomas Roark, Hebron; Cadet Lt. Col. Ronald Lee Walke, Paintsville.

Emphasis On Religion

In Election

Students Must Show Interest

TUESDAY, EASTERN STUDENTS have another chance to do something about Student Government on this campus. They will cast their votes for members of three student parties running for next year's Student Council posts.

There has been considerable comment about the ineffectiveness of student government on this campus, with most of the criticism aimed at the administration. But, this is a case of mis-placed blame to a large extent. Eastern students have never in a campus election indicated that they were really desirous of a truly active student government, and this is a primary cause of a student government lacking in areas that need a majority of student support, not just the fraction that vote in campus elections.

Vic Hellard, present head of the Student Council, admits that while this year's Council has accomplished several of the objectives listed in its platform of a year ago, including an office and secretary, that some of the goals have been slowed in passage by an apathetic student attitude.

"Students get concerned about Council each spring, and forget about it the rest of the year," Hellard said. He pointed out that this is especially true of the Council members appointed to the body by campus organizations. "Organization members do not press their representatives for information concerning the Council.

"This display of apathy by students is no encouragement for councilmen to become deeply involved," Hellard stated. He estimated the number of student visitors to Council meetings this year as five.

"We have been hampered this year," Hellard said, "not by the administration, but by lack of student body interest."

So it seems if the Eastern student is to have the student government he says that he wants he must demonstrate his feelings through an election turnout that far surpasses the figure of only about 42 per cent of the student body that has voted in the past. Also, the student body must not forget the Student Council until the next election. It must let the Council know that it is interested and offers support after the election as well.

But, student lethargy does not stop at poor turnout at Student Council elections and lack of interest in the Council, it goes much deeper. Approximately one-fourth of the total number of Eastern students are members of campus organizations, a discouragingly low percentage of membership.

However, the proportion of truly active clubs in relation to the number of organizations is even more alarming. The active clubs on this campus, that do something for the student body, and return do something for Eastern, can be counted on the fingers of one hand. A much-repeated comment about far too many Eastern organizations is that they "exist only to get their picture in the yearbook."

This lackadaisical attitude can do nothing but hinder the possibilities of expanded student government responsibilities.

Research Vs Instruction

Students Critique Faculty?

(ACP)—Professors need incentive to place instruction ahead of research, says the EMORY WHEEL, Emory University, Atlanta, Ga.

The incentive suggested was a student survey of professors. Emory's College Council last year asked juniors and seniors to rate professors according to such things as knowledge of subject, preparedness and classroom attitude. The tabulated results were distributed to the student body.

The newspaper said:

While the report was being compiled, severe criticism was heaped upon the College Council for having the audacity to suggest that one professor might be a much worse teacher than another.

After the report was issued, however, the comments were more favorable. Faculty and administrators admitted that students had been very open-minded about the ratings and had shown an unexpected perception.

"Hard" professors, verbally criticized for difficult tests, had some of the best ratings, while professors who don't force students to produce ranked low.

Results were noticed in some areas the following quarter, and several professors told their classes the report had shown them inadequacies in their teaching they were unaware of.

In other words, the faculty evaluation served as an incentive to some faculty to improve what should be their primary job—teaching.

This question of teaching versus research is receiving increasing attention as one of the major problems facing the teaching profession. A recent article in TIME magazine entitled "Publish or Perish" told of professors released from colleges or decreased in rank because of their lack of productivity in journals.

John Fischer said in Harper's magazine that "There is no solid, safe yardstick that a dean or department head can use to justify raising the pay of a good instructor or firing a poor one . . ." so "the administrator falls back on something that can be measured: research and publications."

There is more, but the moral is here: If a student survey of teachers were taken regularly, preferably with the approval of the administration, a yardstick would exist. Such "guides to courses and teachers" are published quarterly at some schools (such as Harvard and the University of California at Berkeley) without inflicting "any irreparable blight."

Think Twice

Needed: Rational Thinking

One of the problems of today is that there is not enough rational thinking in the world. It is usually when we have hasty actions that life turns into chaos.

If we could develop the art of rational thinking, many of us would not be found in some of the confusing situations that we are in, situations which were brought about as a result of hasty actions.

Let's face it! Many of the problems that we find ourselves engrossed in have come about only as a result of our own doing. We are the products of what we have or have not done. If we have not done our best to be rational, then certainly we are going to wonder later on about some of the things that we did or did not do when the opportunity was available. But the wondering will not last long, for we will know the answer to our question; we did not think twice.

Many of us never give a second thought to why we are going to do something. We only give it one thought, the thought that we will benefit from it for that moment. Only when some tragic shadow has crossed our usual state of "garden variety contentment" do we even think back on why we did or did not do something. When this chaos comes, we realize that if we had thought a second time before acting or speaking it may have a lifetime of difference.

Only when we begin to think twice and then three times and so on about the words that we feel compelled to say or the deeds that we feel compelled to do will even begin to learn the power of rational thinking. It is something that we all need to practice more. There is no better time to start than now so that later on in life we can have reasons behind the things we do, not excuses for the things we have done.

Alliance Takes Hold

Latin American Wages War On Poverty

By JAMES NELSON GOODSELL

"The alliance is taking hold," President Johnson told Congress recently. "The war on poverty in Latin America is under way."

He is not alone in his optimism. The President's views are shared widely by hemisphere observers. In its nearly four years, the Alliance for Progress has indeed made significant inroads on the continent's entrenched economic and social problems.

But the struggle against these problems is far from being won. Rising population pressures, deplorable living conditions, economic maldevelopment, and a host of other conditions beset the 23 nations of Latin America.

Moreover, disturbing signs have appeared in a number of countries in the past several weeks. They suggest that 1965 will be a critical year for the alliance and for the 23 nations taking part in its activities.

In Colombia, a lackluster chief executive was challenged by labor and by some military leaders — and only narrowly averted a crisis which could have forced him from office.

In Chile, the hopes of a reformist chief executive to push major reforms through Congress have been dashed by a conservative-oriented legislature.

Countries Infiltrated

In several countries, particularly Venezuela and Columbia, Communist-supported underground movements are increasingly active. Cuban-trained terrorists have recently been filtering into those two countries.

In Argentina, a wave of strikes has upset the national economy. Railroad workers are particularly unhappy about their pay scales and scales and have set up a timetable of 24- and 48-hour strikes in protest over the issue.

In Bolivia, there are rumblings about efforts to unseat a general who himself led the successful movement to topple that nation's constitutional president last November.

Hemisphere observers in Washington view these developing situations with some concern. For they take place against the background of new plans being laid by Latin-American Communists.

The Communist parties of the hemisphere, during a meeting "at the end of 1964," proposed that they join with non-Communists to further their own aims.

Statement Issued

"Assistance should be rendered to the formation of solidarity movements and unions, and the campaigns against repressions should be organized on a permanent basis," said a statement issued following the meeting.

Washington observers see this as an indication that the Communists will attempt to combine with other parties in order to further Communist aims.

Just how effective the Communist parties are in the Latin American countries can be seen in a report by the Library of Congress on "Communist Infiltration in Latin-American Educational Systems." This report states that the student movement in Latin America possesses tremendous political leverage.

'Climate' Assessed

Citing specific cases in Bolivia, Venezuela, and Honduras, the report adds that "the climate of political and social unrest prevalent in much of Latin America facilitates the work of the Communist agent."

The study declares that "the Communists and pro-Castroites almost invariably are better organized and harder working than their more moderate opponents." In a statement accompanying the issuance of the report, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut said that "student riots throughout Bolivia contributed to the overflow of the American-backed, anti-Communist government of Dr. Paz Estensoro."

The infiltration of Cuban-backed terrorists into Venezuela and Columbia — and reports that Columbia is the next target for pro-Castro terrorists — is being watched closely by Washington.

The inability of Columbia President Valencia's government to solve the inflationary pressures and other economic tributed to the problem. The President dilemmas facing the nation has been recently pressured by labor into removing a new sales tax aimed at shoring up the nation's sagging revenues.

With slightly more than a year in office, rumors of possible coups against President Valencia's government abound in Bogota.

In neighboring Venezuela, an increase in the number of incidents attributed to the Castro-supported terrorists organization has been noted in recent weeks. While this is of considerable concern to the government of President Leoni, observers think the Venezuelan terrorists are not strong enough to mount terrorism campaigns with more than limited effect.

To the south in Bolivia, where Air Force Gen. Rene Barrientos Ortuno is holding the reins of government after unseating President Paz, rumors of new coups abound.

New Wave of Strikes

Street demonstrations and occasional violence have been reported in recent weeks. General Barrientos Ortuno's hold is not too strong, and Paz supporters, as well as other groups, are maneuvering for new positions.

Argentina, which during 1964 saw its inflationary spiral continue to climb, is undergoing a new wave of strikes against the government of President Illia. Railroad workers want a 45 per cent wage boost, while the government, which owns the lines, offers only half that figure. So now the rail unions are calling a series of 24 and 48-hour strikes to dramatize their appeal for the wage hike.

In Chile, reformist President Frei, blocked by a conservative-oriented legislature, is taking his reform case to the people in the March 7 legislative elections. His Christian Democratic Party is a minority element in the 192-seat legislature, holding only 32 seats.

With the staggering economic and social pressures facing Chile, many observers hold that President Frei's reformist program is the nation's only hope to avert serious crisis.

Hemisphere observers, moreover, are watching his Christian Democratic government and its handling of the nation's problems. Many of these observers hold that the Frei program — reform within constitutional means — is the only alternative to Communist take-over in Chile.

If Mr. Frei can push through a reform program of some magnitude, and this depends on his party's showing in the March voting, other Latin-American nations might be encouraged to follow the sort of path on which Chile is currently embarked.

Thus, in country after country, the pressures of Latin America appear to be mounting. While the Alliance for Progress is making headway, the problems remain and the specter of Communist intrigue grows.

Louisville Orchestra In Brock Monday Night

The Louisville Orchestra, conducted by Robert Whitney, will present a concert Monday evening at 7:30 in Hiram Brock Auditorium.

Featured on the program will be Haydn's "Symphony No. 89 in E-Flat"; Mikolaj Lopatnikoff's "Variations Concertanti, Op. 23"; Rossini's "Pas de Six from 'William Tell'"; and Richard Strauss' "Don Juan."

Now in its 28th consecutive season, the Louisville Orchestra has scheduled 18 performances in various Kentucky cities for the current season.

Tours provided for by State The tours are made possible by a State grant which is administered by the Kentucky Council on Public Higher Education in cooperation with the State Department of Education and the State Department of Commerce.

The state funds have been budgeted to cover a broader program of services than the concerts by the Orchestra. The cultural project also includes: Fifteen appearances throughout the State by the Louisville String Quartet and the Louisville Woodwind Quartet. Made up of the top string and wind players of the Orchestra, these two groups play educational "Introduction to Music" programs in schools and formal chamber music concerts.

In addition to regular concerts primarily for adults, the Orchestra plays concerts for students with shorter classical works emphasized to give young audiences the widest possible acquaintance with a variety of musical styles.

The Orchestra has made a series of half-hour tape-recorded broadcasts of music, narrated by conductor Robert Whitney. Last year these programs were carried by 22 different radio stations in the State.

In the Movies Two motion pictures which feature playing by the Orchestra primarily for use in Kentucky schools have been made by the orchestra. The first film is called "The Drawing of Music in Kentucky" and is of unusual historical interest. The other is called "Making Music"—an introduction to the Symphony Orchestra—and is a guided tour by camera through a symphony orchestra.

The concert is free and open to the general public as well as to the students.

Literary Showcase Features Students

Students readings will be emphasized in this month's literary showcase to be presented Thursday at 4 in the Ferrell Room of Combs Classroom Building.

Students to be presented were chosen from the Voice and Diction class and the Dramatic Reading class, and have designed a program of light as well as serious works by contemporary authors.

Students who will give individual readings include: Lea Carpenter, freshman from Oberlin, Ohio; Charlotte Mason, senior from Stearns; Bill Peyton, junior from West Liberty; and Mary Walker, junior from Paris.

Authors whose works will be cited are George Bernard Shaw, Vachel Lindsey, and James Thurber.

This is the second in a series of literary programs designed to "relax and listen to for sheer enjoyment." The first was presented last month, featuring Mr. W. L. Keene, professor of English. Mr. Keene's program consisted of readings from a series of poems whose authors are unknown. Mr. Keene calls his collection, "waifs by the wayside."

Approximately 200 people attended this first program in the series.

Four central Kentucky high schools advanced to the debate finals as a result of their ratings at the 44th annual Regional High School Debate Festival held here Tuesday.

Taking superior honors were Henry Clay, Lexington Catholic, Paris, and Woodford County.

They will participate in the state meet to be held on the University of Kentucky campus April 22-24. In all, 16 high school teams competed for the honors.

1964-65 Eastern Maroons Were Record-Breakers

Eastern's Maroons became the record-breaking team in the school's history as they racked up their third outright Ohio Valley Conference championship.

The Maroons, who finished 19-6 after the 99-52 NCAA loss to DePaul, have even new all-time season records to their credit, and holds a tie in one single game high department. The closest other team to the 1964-65 squad is the 1954-55 team with five season marks.

Four of the new records are team season marks including (with old record in parenthesis): Most points — 2,155 (2,025); Most field goals — 846 (747); Highest field goal percentage — 46.4 (42.5), and Highest point-per-game average — 86.2 (84.0).

Three individual season marks fell in the Eastern march to the OVC title. They were: Most field goal attempts — Eddie Bodkin, 477, (417); Most field goals — Bodkin, 226 (183); and Most consecutive free throws — Lee Lemos, 28, (20).

The team game record tie came when the Maroons grabbed 84 rebounds in their first clash with Marshall to equal the 1954-55 team's effort against Loyola.

Coach Jim Baechtold, voted OVC "Coach of the Year," in two polls, said that even though the Maroons suffered a "humiliating" defeat in the NCAA they still had a highly successful season, compelling the best season mark since the 21-4 record of 1946-47.

"This has been an exceptional team," Baechtold said, "and I still think they're Eastern's best, although they failed to show it against DePaul. It was just a case of being too tight."

Eddie Bodkin, a 6-7 junior forward who was over-looked in the All-America voting, finished the season with 560 points, just eight short of assistant coach Jack Adams' all-time record of 568, and a team-leading average of 22.4 points per game.

He was followed by Lee Lemos, nifty senior guard, with 16.5 junior guard Bill Walton, 12.3 senior forward Dennis Bradley, 11.6, and senior center Bob Tolan with 9.9.

Bodkin and Lemos, both All-OVC picks, rank as No. 5 and 6 in all-time Eastern scoring with 951 and 932 points, respectively.

Tolan, at 6-8, was the team's leading rebounder with a 12.7 save-per-tilt average. He was followed by Bodkin's 11.6. The Maroons, 4th in national rebounding figures for most of the season, finished averaging 56.2 per outing to the foes' 40.1.

Single game individual highs during the season were Bodkin's 34 points against Morehead and Tolan's 22 rebounds against Marshall.

The season brought Coach Baechtold's three-and-one-half season career total to 49 wins and 30 losses.

EELS SWEEP SWIMMING HONORS

Our powerful swimming team captured their third straight Kentucky Intercollegiate Swimming and Diving Championship by taking 10 of 13 first place trophies and 8 of 13 second place medals while compiling 150 points.

The Eels will compete in the NCAA college division swimming competition in St. Louis, Miss., next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. The swimmers have done an outstanding job this year and will be counted on to make a good showing next week.

Coach Don Combs, "The boys have worked hard for every meet and deserve all the praise they get. I wish I could take them all to St. Louis, but freshmen are not allowed to compete. We will do well there if last years' times are any indication of the competition. Some of the boys should finish in the top 10."

BENSON PLACES FOURTH IN TRACK FINALS

Ron Benson, junior from San Mateo, Calif., ran 4th in the United States Track Finals at Milwaukee, Monday. Benson ran a good 1:12.1 in the 660. The field was made up of the finest college and ex-college runners in the country.

The mile relay team composed of Larry Whalen, Vern Brooks, Bill Swanson and Benson also competed. The team qualified for the national championships by running 3:20.9 at the Mason-Dixon games.

Rick Dyer, freshman from Elmhurst, Ill., competed. Dyer qualified for the meet with a 6' 7" effort in the high jump for a new Eastern record.

ATTENTION PROSPECTIVE FOOTBALLERS

Coach Roy Kidd has asked that all students interested in trying out for spring football report to Room 108, Alumni Coliseum Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. and to bring athletic shorts and gym shoes with them. Coach Kidd said that spring practice will officially begin April 12.

WANTED: TENNIS PLAYERS

Tennis Coach Jack Adams wishes to announce that anyone interested in trying out for the tennis team should contact him. Coach Adams' office is on the ground level floor of the Alumni Coliseum.

Kentucky Swimming Champions

Frosh Surprising With 12-4 Season

Eastern's freshman basketball team averaged 96.4 points a game, scored 100 points or more on eight occasions, and surprised nearly everyone, including their coach, Jack Adams, as they posted a fine 12-4 season record.

Coach Adams had expressed concern for the team's success in pre-season comments.

The "Baby Maroons" defeated some very fine freshman teams during the course of the season. Morehead, Transylvania, Lexington, Y.M.C.A. and the University of Cincinnati, are some of the better teams that the freshmen defeated.

Two of the four losses came at hands of the Marshall freshmen. Marshall's freshman team was the best in the school's history and the third best in the nation. The scores of the two games were 106-94 and 91-81.

In the sixteen games the "Baby Maroons" hit on 46.9 per cent of their field goal attempts and 65.2 per cent of their free throw tries. They averaged 62.4 rebounds and Farley set the record for a game against their opponents 45.6 mean. Pratts holds the team record for most free est field goal percentage, 90.9, and most consecutive free throws, 13.

The most points that the team scored in one game was 132 against Lee's Junior College. The score of the game was 132-47. The team also set records for the most field goals, 58; most rebounds, 86; and highest field goal percentage, 59.8 in the Lee's Junior College game.

Eastern Hosts Tri-State Meet

Last Saturday one of the largest tri-state rifle meets was held at Eastern for the first time.

The National Rifle Association's International Rifle Competition Match consisted of 14 teams which represented 7 schools. Kentucky was represented by Eastern, Murray, Western, Universities of Louisville and Kentucky. The other schools were Southern Illinois University and Xavier University. Ohio State was unable to attend.

Each team had a chance of attaining a possible 1200 points. The University of Kentucky won the match with a score of 1055 while Eastern finished fourth with 1040.

Eastern's fourth place team consisted of David Spratt, junior; captain Delbert Fritz, senior; James Cornett, senior, and Ralph Klaber, sophomore.

Colonel Everett Smith and Captain Ronald Coffman presented the awards to the teams. James Cornett received a third place high average trophy for the season with an average of 261.25.

Other members in the match were William Rigby, Joseph Shaffer, D. W. Bataille, Ron Jackson, Larry Akers, John Elkins and William Murphy. The coach of the rifle team is a Sergeant James Baker.

Saturday the team travels to West Virginia University at Morgantown to participate in the National Rifle Association's Conventional Sectional Meet.

Eastern finished third in the Kentucky league with a final average of 128.25.

Netters Begin Preps; Face 18 - Meet Card

Eastern's tennis team, under the direction of Coach Jack Adams, will soon begin preparation for their upcoming season.

The netmen will face a rugged 18 match schedule that includes conference foes Western, Morehead, Murray, Middle Tennessee Tech, Non-conference opponents, Kentucky, Marshall, Louisville, Bellarmine, Wittenburg, Kentucky Wesleyan, and Ohio University round out the schedule.

The team has three returning lettermen in Jack Kench, Jerry Sanders, and Jerry Brown. Newcomers Ross Snyder, Mike Jefferies, Kent Chaffin, and Gene Hashem are expected to help the squad considerably. Snyder, Jefferies, and Chaffin were rated among the top 8 high school tennis players in Ohio last year.

Jefferies was on the Ohio high school championship doubles team the last two years. Snyder, was beaten out last year by the state champion in three sets. Chaffin has beaten Snyder and Jefferies on several occasions. Coach Adams said that Hashem can also be dangerous if he regains his old form.

In summing up the tennis team, the coach said, "These four newcomers should provide the returning men with some keen competition to get everybody ready for the rugged schedule."

Eels Submerge All Foes In State Swim Meet

Combs' Mermen Capture
Third Straight Title

Eastern's Eels, who finished the regular season with a perfect 12-0 mark, left all other teams in their wake as they splashed to their third straight Kentucky Intercollegiate Swimming Championship meet at Alumni Coliseum natatorium Saturday afternoon.

The Eels compiled 160 points by winning 10 of 13 first place trophies and 8 of 13 second place medals. They have won four of the seven championships held since its beginning in 1959. Points accumulated by the other teams were: Kentucky, 67; Kentucky freshman, 30; Louisville freshman, 27; Berea, 21; Morehead, 16; Union, 12, and Louisville, 7.

All Records Fall
Every existing KISC record was broken during the two day meet. Leading the assault on the records by breaking three records each were Charlie Tandy, winner in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle events and a member of the record-breaking 400 yard freestyle relay team; Bill Walker, winner in the 200 and 1650 yard freestyle events and also a member of the 400 yard relay team; and Rick Hill, winner in the 200 yard individual medley, 200 yard butterfly, and the 200 yard breaststroke.

Hill was high point man for the meet with a perfect score of 21 points. He was closely followed by Walker, 17½, Fred Bartlett, 17, and Berea's Wallace Campbell with 14½.

However, Warren came back on the three meter board to squeak out a first in one of the most exciting finishes of the day. Warren's total was 370.05, Long's total 369.30, and Parris was third with 333.80. One of the best dives of the afternoon was performed by Parris with a back 1¼ somersault with a 2¼ twist that has a degree of difficulty of 2.7. He scored 51.3 points for this dive. Eleven dives were performed by each participant.

Summing up the champions, Coach Combs said, "Without a doubt this is the best college swim team ever assembled in Kentucky."

Too Busy To Retire Characterizes Dr. Van Cleve

By DORETHA BELLEW
Progress Staff Writer

A man too busy to completely retire from the profession he loves is an accurate description of one of Eastern's most interesting English professors, Dr. Charles F. Van Cleve.

Dr. Van Cleve was on the faculty of Ball State University at Muncie, Ind., for twenty-five years. Retiring there in 1962, he accepted a position at Eastern in the fall of the same year. His wife, Betty, is Eastern's reference librarian.

Seen Many Countries
Dr. Van Cleve and his wife have visited nearly every country in the world. They have been to Europe three times and also to Mexico, Canada, and Alaska. Many of the stops on their trips included places often mentioned in the various literature courses taught by Dr. Van Cleve, so he has many personal observations to contribute during his lectures.

"Probably the three most memorable highlights of our trips," says Dr. Van Cleve, "were seeing the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II, the Passion Play, and the Holy Land."

When the Van Cleves went to see the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II, they sailed on the Queen Elizabeth. During the trip, they had the opportunity of personally meeting and chatting with the Duke of Windsor.

Dr. Van Cleve is an excellent photographer as is evidenced by his collection of more than two thousand slides showing the places he has visited. After returning from his 1953 European trip, he showed them on more than one hundred fifty occasions in Muncie. He uses the slides to illustrate class material.

Prepared Assemblies
At Ball State University, he served for nineteen years as chairman of the faculty committee on convocations (which are comparable to Eastern's assemblies). It was the job of Dr. Van Cleve and his committee to obtain the speakers for these gatherings.

During his tenure as chairman, he had the pleasure of meeting such people as Clement, Lord Attley, former prime minister of England, and author Jesse Stuart. Dr. Van Cleve and his wife also entertained poets Robert Frost and Edwin Markham as overnight guests in their home. Dr. Van Cleve received his A. B. degree at Ohio Wesleyan and his M. A. degree from the University of Chicago. For his doctor's dissertation at George Peabody Teachers College in Nashville, Tenn., he wrote on "The Teaching of Shakespeare in the High School"; a subject which he plans to pursue further. Celebrating fortieth

He and Mrs. Van Cleve will have been married for forty years next June. They have one son, Dr. Charles W. Van Cleve, a professor of political science at Arlington State College, Arlington, Texas.

They still maintain their home in Muncie, although they have time to visit there only about four or five times each year. He has been a member of the Kiwanis Club there for many years.

Does he have any plans for the future? He certainly does! He will retire from Eastern in 1968, and he and his wife are planning a trip to the Orient, coming back by way of Russia.

At the present time a book he has written on the history of Ball State University is being revised for printing.

His future plans also include editing a series of Shakespeare's plays for use in the high school.

Too busy to retire? Yes, indeed. With all the plans he has ahead of him, it will certainly be a long while, if ever, before Dr. Van Cleve could possibly think of completely retiring.

A Man Of Many Travels

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Van Cleve can often be found, as here, in the research room of the John Grant Crabbe Library. Dr. Van Cleve is known to be a man "too busy to retire." His wife is Eastern's research librarian.

American Studies To Hear Papers Friday, Saturday

The Kentucky-Tennessee chapter of the American Studies Association, of which Dr. George Robinson of the history department is secretary-treasurer, will meet here next Friday and Saturday.

At the meeting which will be held in the Farrell Room of the Combs Building the following papers will be read:

"Edwin Mims: Popularizer of the Southern Literature Tradition" will be read by Miss Leah M. Park from Vanderbilt; "Stephen Crane Meets the Police," by Edward Hagemann, University of Louisville; "The Myth of Southern Culture," by Bruce Denbo, University of Kentucky Press; "The American Studies Association," by Robert Luced, ASA executive secretary and main speaker; "An American Studies Program: 'Projections and Problems'" by Richard Drake, Berea, and a commentary on that paper by Paul Nagel of U. K.

It is a 10 year old organization dedicated to the study of interdisciplinary areas of American civilization. Members are from the fields of history, American literature, sociology, anthropology and political science. Meetings of the organization alternate yearly between Kentucky and Tennessee.

Orchestra Concert Solos Goldovsky

Boris Goldovsky, renowned concert pianist, will make his debut with the Central Kentucky Philharmonic Orchestra at 8:15 p.m. on Friday, at Memorial Hall, University of Kentucky. Mr. Goldovsky will be featured in Beethoven's "Emperor" Piano Concerto No. 5.

Goldovsky was born in Moscow in 1908. He learned to play the piano from his mother. During the Russian revolution the family escaped to Germany where Goldovsky continued his musical activities. He was graduated from the Liszt Academy in Budapest, Hungary. A few years later he came to the United States where he began activities as an operatic coach. Goldovsky now resides in Boston where he is closely affiliated with the Opera Department of the New England Conservatory.

Goldovsky is known throughout the nation as the former Master of Ceremonies of the intermission feature, "Opera News of the Air," of the Metropolitan Opera Saturday afternoon broadcasts, as well as for his numerous piano recitals and lectures.

Winner of the 1954 Peabody Award for outstanding contribution to radio music, Mr. Goldovsky was cited for his "contagious enthusiasm — and the joy he experiences sharing his knowledge or opera."

In 1956 Mr. Goldovsky was made an honorary Doctor of Music by Bates College. In 1961 he was elected a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Included in the concert at Memorial Hall will be "Roman Carnival" by Berlioz. Also to be heard are two "Choric Dances" by Creston. Ending the concert will be the "Fourth Symphony" by Johannes Brahms.

For tickets and information, call 255-7418. After 5 p.m. call 266-6790.

A message of importance to sophomore men

If you've got what it takes to be an Army Officer, you may qualify for this new on-campus training program

A new Army ROTC program starts this coming Summer for sophomore men who apply prior to May 1—only 3,000 applicants to be accepted

If you're a sophomore now attending one of the 247 colleges and universities that offer Army Officer training—or you plan to transfer to one of these schools next Fall—you may qualify for the new two-year Army ROTC program.

This new program—designed especially for college men who have not taken Army ROTC during their first two years—will commence with six weeks of field training this coming Summer, beginning June 14. Then you'll have on-campus training during your junior year... six additional weeks at camp during the following Summer... and more on-campus training during your senior year. Even flight training is offered at some schools.

ROTC training is really a process of learning to organize and direct others—to be a leader. Consider how important this ability can be to you throughout life; yet, to acquire it you will spend relatively little time in the ROTC classroom. You'll obtain valuable junior management experience... a fuller and richer campus life... extra spending money ($40 per month during your junior and senior school years, and even more during Summer training)... and, when you graduate, an Army Officer's commission as Second Lieutenant. Then you'll normally spend two interesting years on active duty, often abroad with opportunities for travel.

Talk to the Professor of Military Science on your campus about this opportunity. Ask him to describe this new short program in detail.

Or send in the coupon below for complete information. There's no obligation involved, and you'll not be subjected to any "hard sell" recruiting effort. The kind of men the Army wants can decide for themselves if this new opportunity is right for them.

If you're good enough to be an Army Officer, don't settle for less. Sign up now for Army ROTC.

Send in this coupon for more information on this new two-year on-campus Army Officer training program.
