Founder's Day To Be Most Commemorable Stage Guest Represent Five Decades Of Service

Founder's Day at Eastern this year will be the most memorable day in her history as the institution begins its seventh decade of service. Eastern was granted university status effective July 1, by the higher education bill which was passed by the General Assembly two weeks ago.

Governor Edward T. Breathitt will deliver the main address and receive an honorary doctor of laws degree as the stage is graced with persons representing five of the six decades of Eastern's leadership.

The College, founded on March 21, 1906, will observe its 60th anniversary in a formal program which will be open to the public to begin at 10:30 a. m. in Alumni Coliseum.

Stage guests will include persons representing five of the six decades of Eastern's leadership: Dr. J. Dorland Coates, associate dean for teacher education, whose father was the College's third president, serving from 1916-28; Mrs. Herman Lee Donovan, widow of the late Dr. Donovan, who was Eastern's fourth president, serving from 1928-41; President-emeritus W. F. O'Donnell who served from 1941 until 1960, and Dr. Robert R. Martin, the sixth president.

The faculty and administrative officers of the College will participate in an academic procession for historic program.

Brief messages will be presented by the following: Dr. Harry M. Sparks, Superintendent of Public Instruction, representing the Board of Regents; Dr. Coates, representing the faculty; Hugh Burkett, Somerset senior, president of the Student Council, and Homer Ramsey, Whitley City, president of the Alumni Association.

Governor Breathitt will be presented for his honorary degree given at Eastern since President Lyndon B. Johnson, then Vice President of the United States, was awarded the first in 1961 following a commencement address. It will be the first honorary degree presented at a Founder's Day program.

A noon luncheon honoring Governor Breathitt and the legislators followed by ground breaking ceremonies for the 9-story women's dormitory to be located on University drive will highlight the afternoon of activities. The Board of Regents will meet during the day.

Special invitations are being sent out to all Administration, Faculty, and students.

Jim Wihebrink Runs On Independent Ticket

Jim Wihebrink is an Independent candidate for treasurer. He is a sophomore English major from Covington. Jim was a member of Student Council and president of his junior class at St. Xavier High School in Cincinnati. He is currently sports editor of the Progress.

"I feel an independent candidate still has a chance on this campus and my candidacy proves this. I believe students should elect the candidates of their choice not on a party basis but by the merits and qualifications of the individual," said Jim Wihebrink.

Selective Service Test Schedule

Selective Service deferment tests will be given May 14 and 21 and June 3 at Kentucky colleges and universities. Printed information will be available at local boards after April 1.

Science Research Associates of Chicago which administers the three-hour test said Eastern is among the 13 institutions to be giving the test. Scores will go to local draft boards for use in passing on student deferments.

Student Council Gives Regulations Covering Election

The Student Council has stated the regulations of this year's Student Council officer election. These regulations are applicable to all students who are running for office in Tuesday's election.

1. There will be a $25 limit for each candidate in his campaign expenditures.
2. There is to be absolutely no campaigning around polls on election day.
3. Campaign posters and other materials are to be dismantled the day following the election.
4. No campaign posters are to be placed inside the Grille, on the bookstore windows, outside the SUB lobby, the stairs leading to the SUB cafeteria, or in any classroom building.
5. Any nominee caught defacing, destroying, or removing campaign posters or materials owned by other candidates will be disqualified.
6. Petitions must have been filed in the Student Council office by 5 p.m. last Friday.
7. Candidates will be listed on the ballot alphabetically.

Any student violating the above rules and regulations will be an offender, therefore, subjecting himself to a Student Council decision.

The Student Council Election Committee has been instructed to constantly tour the polls and to be watchful throughout the campaign for infraction of these regulations.

'On Broadway' Presented By KKS Last Night

The Kappa Kappa Sigma version of Broadway, U. S. A. opened last night in an array of color and excitement.

The theme, "K. K. S. On Broadway" pays homage to America's rich heritage of musical hits. The plays, from Rogers and Hammerstein's "South Pacific" to Bernstein's "West Side Story" are presented skillfully and originally by Kappa Kappa Sigma, Eastern's synchronized swim club.

The sights and sounds of Broadway linger in the air as K. K. S. swims gracefully through such numbers as: Paint Your Wagon, Carnival, My Fair Lady, Pajama Game, The King and I, South Pacific, and Kiss Me Kate.

Outstanding performances were Janice Huffman and Phil Stoffey in the aquatic version of The King and I. Adorned in Royal Purple, Janice and Phil, execute a masterpiece of precision in their duet.

Another exciting performance, and one that is most difficult to execute is the number from West Side Story, presented by Ann Howard, Kathy Wirth, and Janie Pugett. The girls locked themselves together and made an underwater wheel.

Adding comedy to the production was a number choreographed by Carolyn Campbell and Carol Barr. Ann Howard, Karen Gruber, Janice Huffman,

Sharon Dudley, and Trussie Farley frolic in a game of Cops and Robbers in time to a tune called "Hermundo's Hide-away."

Equally beautiful and well done were all the numbers, which were choreographed by individual members of Kappa Kappa Sigma.

The costuming was all made by the club members. Tippets of material, bits of lace, chicken wire were items collected and used by the girls.

Participating with the girls of KKS were Mike Campbell, Phil Stoffey, Marvin Fisher, and Gene Pettit.

Girls participating in the production were: Carolyn Campbell, Carol Barr, Karen Gruber, June Gray, Janie Fugitt, Willa Fitzpatrick, Phyllis Marcum, Bobbie Duerson.

Kathy Colebrook, Janice Huffman, Eddie Belle Sheriff, Sharon Dudley, Leah Strelow, Ann Howard, Cathy Wirth, and Trussie Farley.

Miss Dorothy Kirkpatrick, faculty sponsor of K. K. S. gave the girls the support and direction needed to insure the show one of the season's highlights of entertaining.

The show will continue tonight and tomorrow night with the lights out and the curtains drawn at 8:00. Tickets will be on sale at the door.

B. E. S. T. Party Vows Best Student Government

The B. E. S. T. Party (A Better Eastern Striving for Tomorrow) has a full slate of candidates. The Presidential candidate of B. E. S. T. is Bill Wobekind, a junior, political science major from West Milford, N. J. Bill was the President of the Newman Club. He is currently vice president of Polity Society and a member of Oaks.

Other members of the party are: vice-president, George Dodge, a junior business education major from Detroit, Mich.; secretary, Sue Moberly, a freshman English major from Richmond; and Ken Spurlock, treasurer a sophomore English major also of Richmond.

The aim of the B. E. S. T. Party is to provide Eastern with the best possible student government. Their platform is:

STUDENT CODE
We do support and will complete the Student Code. We feel that the Code will be of great value to the Eastern students, especially since we will officially become a university July 1, 1966.

STUDENT COUNCIL
We propose a Student Council that will represent the student body to the administration, and not the administration to the student body.

SURVEYS
We will comply with the wishes of the student body through the extensive use of surveys and opinion polls. These will be conducted over such important topics as fraternities and sororities, food and book prices, and revision of out-dated rules.

PUBLICATIONS
We will publish in the Progress all findings of surveys and polls, and important details covered in the meeting. We will do this in order to better inform the students of what their Student Council is doing for them.

SYSTEM OF ELECTIONS
We support the established system of election in which any qualified student may run for office, either independently or on a party of his choosing.

ENTERTAINMENT
We feel that the Student Council should, in cooperation with other organizations and the student body, initiate and expand the entertainment program, which we believe is vital to the social life of any university.

STUDENT COURT
We are in favor of continuing the Student Court. We feel that every student should be able to present his grievance to a student government.

PLEDGE
We will finish what we start. The members of the B. E. S. T. party urge all students to vote Tuesday. They state "the parties running in the election are good ones, but only one can be the best."

University Party Pledges Implement Of Platform

The University Party is headed by Mike Stokes, political science major from Monticello. Stokes is a junior and was recently elected President of the Polity Society (Political Science Honorary) here.

This past summer Stokes wrote a Municipality Code for the City of Monticello, under the Murry Seasongood Good Government Internship in Local Government which has its headquarters on the campus of Miami University in Ohio.

Stokes states that "this has given me valuable experience in the mechanics of practical government at a small level and should be of great help in keeping the quality of Student Government on level with our university."

Stokes' running mate is Joe Arterberry, a chemistry and math major from here in Richmond. Arterberry is presently serving as president of the Junior class. He has also been an active member of the Pershing Rifles and KIE.

Also running on the University ticket are Becky Sizer for secretary and Leah Strelow for treasurer. Becky is a secretarial training major from Louisville and is a junior. She has served Eastern for two years as a cheerleader. Leah is an elementary education major from Arlington Heights, Ill. She is presently serving the Junior class as student council representative and is secretary of KYMA and treasurer of the Association for Childhood Education.

Leadership and Organization
The University Party states that "our advisory position in regard to the various campus organizations will be intensified by closer inter-relationship with the student council representatives of each organization."

Student Code
"The Student Code will be a collection of the present policies which will govern the University. We plan to make the Code a reference source that will benefit the students in that it will show them what policies are in effect under our University status."

Experience In International Living
"We intend to promote more interest in this very fine program which entitles some qualified student to visit abroad during a summer while enrolled at Eastern. Since this program is sponsored by the Student Council, we plan to take full advantage of its fine merits."

Entertainment
"By cooperation with the administration, we hope to provide more entertainment of a higher quality for the students residing on this campus."

The University Party further vowed to keep this campaign a clean one and asked that all students exercise their right to vote for the first Student Council of Eastern Kentucky University.

Most Important Election

Vote To Save Student Government

THE ANNUAL CAMPUS-WIDE election will be conducted this Tuesday for the purpose of selecting a new executive committee to direct the activities of the Student Government Association during the new term of office, beginning March 29.

As the day of reckoning approaches, one sad feature remains dominant among the students — they do not seem to be the least concerned that this is the most important election held on campus during the year. Campaign enthusiasm has, so far, rested mainly among the several candidates themselves. Unfortunately, this is nothing new. Student Council elections of past years and the various campus elections that have been conducted so far this school term have all had one representative characteristic in common — general student apathy and indifference towards the candidates and their respective offices.

these are the very same students who won't stop their pointless criticizing long enough to cast their ballots to do their part to insure student government, student interest, and student expression at Eastern.

As Americans and as free-thinking students of Eastern, you have the privilege to participate in the up-coming election by voting for the candidate of your choice. Do not abuse this right by neglecting to do your part. More than this, voting is a duty. Respond to this opportunity, lest by refusing to do so, you lose it.

Mistaken Conclusion

Fees Increase

Unrelated To Status

"I DON'T LIKE the added expense, and I see no immediate benefit," replied a student last week in answer to a poll question on Eastern's university status. "... I feel that the increase in out-of-state tuition is not in proportion to the gains which will be received by this new status. The new rates are high enough to force students to go to institutions which offer more benefits and prestige for the same money," said another.

These students are reflecting the campus-wide attitude that both the in-state and out-of-state tuition increases were caused by the new university status. This is a mistaken conclusion.

The recent in-state increase is from $175.00 to $240.00 per year, next fall. The out-of-state increase is a jump from $400.00 to $580.00 per year. These increases were voted by the Council on Public Higher Education last year and this year.

The out-of-state tuition raise was adopted by the council primarily as a result of a study made by a committee to look into the matter. Kentucky, being a poor state, cannot afford to educate at low rates those from richer states, who, in most cases, go back to their "greener" homeland for higher salaries, depriving Kentucky of the fruits of their knowledge. While Eastern needs and values highly the association and benefits of the out-of-state students — who add a cosmopolitan flavor to the campus — it cannot assume the burden of offering its low rates to students of average and higher than average incomes. The increase to a yearly fee of $580 is well within the range of the majority of out-of-state students.

The in-state tuition raise was approved by the Council on Public Higher Education as a reflection on the higher living standard in Kentucky and the consequent ability of students to pay the rates. The additional revenue these increases will form will be used to increase teachers' salaries and provide more benefits to the students at the state institutions.

A reasoned look at Eastern's tuition rates in comparison with those of institutions of comparable size and prestige in other states will show that both in-state and out-of-state students are still getting a bargain in education. Instead of voicing complaints at the increase, Eastern students should be grateful that they are receiving a fine education at a fast-growing college, soon to be a university.

This anti-political atmosphere on campus which, if left unchecked, could eventually smother student government at Eastern, can and should be remedied during this spring's elections. Every person on campus who regards himself as a conscientious student still has time to thoroughly acquaint himself with the declared candidates and their platforms and to make his own personal choice as to the one he feels to be best qualified and who will best serve the Student Body and who can most adequately direct the Student Government in fulfilling its ever-growing role within the realms of our expanding institution.

Every student still has time, and is rigorously encouraged, to make up his mind to exercise his guaranteed right to cast his vote for the influential voice it speaks with, and then to be certain to mark his ballot when the polls are open.

There are no mystic secrets about a college being able to boast an influential and recognized Student Government; for the strength and the effectiveness of any Student Council are solely in the hands of cognizant students and are directly proportional to the percentage of students participating in the campus government.

Some incentive or some method of persuasion may very well be needed if the approaching election is to have more than just a mere token of students casting their votes and speaking their opinions in response to the campaign. The danger that must be recognized here is that unless a larger percentage of the Student Body takes an active, voting interest in Student Governmental affairs, regardless of how they are forced to do so, Eastern Student Government will become a high-sounding phrase with absolutely no meaning or significance, the Student Council Constitution will become a relic for the museum, and the voices of former Student Government will be heard only as fading echoes in the Grise Room.

One of the most provoking of perennial problems connected with this election issue is that of the throngs of students who find the energy and time to gripe and howl complaints all over campus about there being "no student government," "no student interest or enthusiasm," and "no way for the student to express himself;" and

Founder's Day

A Beginning In An End

FOUNDER'S DAY 1966 marks the end of an old era of unprecedented growth for Eastern Kentucky State College and the beginning of an entirely new and far more progressive era for Eastern Kentucky University.

This year's observance of Founder's Day celebrates the beginning of the seventh decade of the existence of this institution, whose birthday was March 21, 1906, and highlights the ninety second year of higher education on our campus.

Central University was founded here in 1874 as a school for advanced studies and has since that time developed into a nationally recognized and respected campus devoted to the pursuit of knowledge and understanding.

Eastern is exceedingly proud that Governor Edward T. Breathitt and the members of the state legislature will be the guests of honor on campus to help celebrate this special Founder's Day Program. It is significant that Governor Breathitt, who signed the bill giving University status to Eastern, should deliver the key address and receive an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Added importance has been given to the annual observance by the higher education bill which was passed by the General Assembly recently.

To complement the traditional procession of the faculty and administrative officers of the College, there will be honored stage guests to represent five of the past six decades of Eastern's growth for this most historic occasion.

Students and all other interested persons have been extended invitations to participate in the programs that have been scheduled as part of this year's exceptional Founder's Day observance.

It is indeed an honor to be an integral part of this ever-advancing Eastern and to have the opportunity to witness the ceremonies of this unique commemoration.

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE!

Rating The Instructors?

(ACP) — University students throughout the country are demanding a voice in rating their instructors, says the New Record, University of Cincinnati.

While these evaluations are both controversial and complex, they have been well received by the campuses which have undertaken such projects.

At the University of Cincinnati, there have been comments both pro and con from the professors. Some are completely opposed to the plan as an invasion of their freedoms as instructors while others favor the system if it is operated without administrative control.

It is doubtful these evaluations could be published in the initial stages. Actually, this would not be necessary if the results were submitted to the individual professors for their personal study and, if needed, improvement.

The rating scale would demand careful construction by personnel skilled in areas relating to behavior, statistics, and psychology; and the subsequent analysis would also require deep consideration and attention. As the system achieved recognition and success, the faculty should be given a voice in determining the procedures used to inform themselves and their cohorts of the ratings they had received. The students, however, would form the basis for the operation and success of the program.

It is to be hoped that student support for this proposal will gain momentum and that an independent organization will be established in the near future to consider this question and to devise some sort of rating scale beyond those presently provided by the university.

With the increasing emphasis being placed on college degrees, it is essential for each student to receive the best education possible and it is only through constant improvement of the quality of instruction and content of each course that this can be achieved. A rating scale would be a valuable addition if it is carefully designed — by and for the students — with only a minimum of censorship.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

No matter how smoothly the administrative body of a college or university works, I contend that any given school is only as good as its teachers, and in turn is held only in esteem however high the students and alumni of that school hold it. Insofar as I am deeply concerned and involved in Eastern and its future (for Eastern's future status concerns mine as a teacher, practically speaking) I am deeply concerned over the dismissal of five members of Eastern's English department staff, and a sixth resignation. The majority of these teachers are held by those students who were lucky enough to have attended their classes, to be "excellent" ... "fabulous" ... "remarkable" ... "exciting" — in other words, the kind of teachers, the kind of very rare teachers, which Eastern needs if it is to grow in stature as well as size.

A petition asking for reasons of these teachers' dismissal was submitted by a concerned large number of students who, I believe, feel that something closely akin to tragedy is happening because of a few technicalities that we do not understand. No reply was made. Whether the students of Eastern are informed of what seems, to many of them, the senseless dismissal of a few excellent teachers, I respectfully submit that their dismissal is depriving this college, soon a university, not only of superior teachers, but also is undermining the morale of those teachers not being dismissed.

I believe the act of their dismissal will rob Eastern of something it will never be able to regain.

Sincerely
Allen F. Schaaf

I would like to take this opportunity to thank whoever is responsible for bringing the Art Film Series to our campus. I have thoroughly enjoyed the two showings to date. I do hope that the immaturity shown by a select few of the student body at the Wednesday, March 16, showing of "A Long Day's Journey Into Night" will do nothing to stop the films. There are a number of students here who have been hoping for such a series. A special note I would like to include is that the Art Films are shown on Wednesday nights. For those who do not care for this art form, please do not attend, your demonstrations of disinterest are distracting.

Meet Man At His Best

Peace Corps Celebrates Fifth Anniversary

By BILL RAKER
Progress Feature Editor

It hardly seems possible but March 1, 1966 marked the fifth anniversary of the Peace Corps, an established force for world change that has succeeded even beyond the dreams of its supporters. The celebration of the Corps' fifth birthday this spring is a prominent milestone for calibrating the mushrooming growth of a noble and dedicated organization that has, with few short years of existence, virtually revolutionized international relations on a global scale.

The Peace Corps' official birthday is March 1, the date in 1961 when President John F. Kennedy issued the executive order creating the structure for the agency. Congress passed the Peace Corps Act not quite seven months later, on September 22, 1961. It also established three fundamental goals for the Corps.

1. To help the people of developing nations meet their expanding needs for trained manpower.

2. To help promote a better understanding of other peoples on the part of the American people.

3. To help promote a better understanding of the American people on the part of the peoples served.

First in Ghana

The first group of fifty dedicated and determined volunteers arrived in Ghana on August 30, 1961. By the end of 1961 there were 614 volunteers in 13 countries; at the end of 1962, over 1,000 workers in 15 nations, 3,000 in training, and recorded agreements with a total of 37 countries.

With the volunteers on the job in their foreign homes, working directly with and for the common people, the cry was soon changed from "Yankee go home" to "Send us some more Peace Corps Volunteers." Nations long cynical about the motives of the great world powers found the Peace Corps approach refreshing and promising.

Efforts Ridiculed

It has been years since detractors ridiculed the effort as "Kennedy's Kiddie Korps" and the "Second Children's Crusade." Historian Arnold Toynbee predicted, "I believe that in the Peace Corps the non-western majority of mankind is going to meet a sample of Western man at his best." The Corps has become the most widely copied organization of its kind in the world. Thirty nations in Europe, Latin America, Asia, and Africa have created international or national voluntary service agencies modeled after the Peace Corps.

Around the world there are nearly 12,000 volunteers now at work in 46 emerging nations, and the demand for more workers has long exceeded the supply. Nevertheless, over 100 million hours have already been spent by volunteers in the field. Peace Corps teachers have had personal contact with some 13 million students, many of whom would have had no teacher without the Peace Corps.

Another measure of its effectiveness is that the Corps, which simply was described as a source for "skilled manpower," is now talking about nation-building. This concept is seen most readily in Africa, where in six nations more than one half of all high school teachers with college degrees are Peace Corps Volunteers. Still the largest concentration of volunteers, nearly 4,000, is in Latin America.

In five years the Peace Corps has evolved from a promising idea to a considerable force for assistance and incentive in hundreds of otherwise isolated communities in developing countries all over the world. The campaign pledge made by President Kennedy to send "the best Americans we can get to speak for our country abroad" has been realized.

Coincidentally, the month of March marks the climax of the 1965-66 efforts to recruit Peace Corps Volunteers. At this moment, the Corps is recruiting for more than 100 projects in Asia, Africa, and Latin America. That means that 7,000 or more volunteers are to begin training in June, the largest number in the Corps history.

Little Theatre Presents Two Plays At Festival

Eastern Little Theatre, chosen to represent the United States in the World University Theatre Festival, will present two plays March 28-April 2, at 8 p. m. in the Pearl Buchanan Theatre. The program will consist of the two plays the group hopes to perform in France in April. Mrs. Joe Johnson, Director of Eastern Little Theatre, announced the program.

The plays are "Send for John or Will the Bell Toll at Midnight?" a musical melodrama, and "The Victory," a play based on the theme assigned by the Festival Committee. Both plays are original—written by Mr. Johnson and John Welden, instructor in the Department of Speech and Drama.

Funds Necessary
The Little Theatre group hopes to attend the Festival but their going depends on the financial support they receive. If the necessary funds are not raised by April 2, the trip will be cancelled. At present $1,000 of the approximately $6,000 needed has been raised. Any person on campus who desires to make a voluntary contribution to the trip may do so by leaving it with the person on duty at the entrance to the grill or in the lobby of the theatre from 9 to 5 daily. If the trip does not materialize, all contributions of one dollar or more will be refunded, and donations of less than one dollar will be placed in the Little Theatre account for the production of plays on campus.

Tickets On Sale Monday
Tickets for the productions will go on sale Monday, March 21, from 2 to 5 daily at the theatre box office. All seats are reserved.

The World University Theatre Festival is a competition among outstanding university theatre groups throughout the world. The competition which Eastern would face includes the U. of Moscow, U. of Berlin, U. of Ankara (Turkey), U. of Birmingham (England), Kwansai Gakuin U. (Japan), U. of Sophia (Bulgaria), U. of Lisbon, U. of Madrid, U. of Budapest, U. of Tunis, U. of Venice, U. of Wageningen (Holland), U. of Lodz (Poland), as well as troupes from Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Belgium, and Brazil.

Send For John Or Will The Bell Toll At Midnight?

Gordon Jennings, left, Al Allison, and Suzanne Ankrum rehearse a scene from the Little Theatre production of "Send for John, or Will the Bell Toll at Midnight?" The play was written by Little Theatre Director, Joe Johnson. It is one of two plays which the group hopes to present if the prospective trip to the World University Drama Festival materializes.

British Debaters Again At Eastern

The British are coming again for a debate with Eastern. The debate, open to the public, will be held in the Grise Room of the Combs Classroom Building, March 24, 1966. The debate will begin at 8:00 p. m.

Representing England will be Michael John-Hartley Brewer and Richard Calder Jose.

They represent the Universities of Nottingham and Birmingham, respectively.

Brewer received his B. A. degree in Political Science at the University of Nottingham.

Jose obtained his degree in Law at the University of Birmingham.

Both are actively interested in politics and debate. Both have been finalist in the "Mace" debating tournament.

The topic of the debate is: "Resolved that this house would not push the button." The debate concerns itself with the possibility or probability of nuclear war.

Possible candidates for Eastern's defense are Eugene Gray, Charles Greenwell, Gordon Chammuel, and Jim Cottrell.

Mrs. Amie Alexander will pick the two persons to participate in the debate.

Judges for the event are: Dr. Fergus Kurrie, the associate executive secretary of the Speech Association of America, and executive secretary of the Committee on International Discussion and Debate.

Dean Frederick Ogden, Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences, and Dr. Dwyal Pettengill, chairman of the Department of Political Science.

The Eastern team will debate the affirmative side.

Tickets may be obtained at no cost to the students or faculty, Monday, 21, in Dr. Kings office, room 106 of the Cammack Building. Also see Mrs. Amie Alexander in room 204 of the Combs Classroom Building.

'Missouri Northwest' Audubon Film

"Missouri Northwest", filmed in color and narrated by photographer Roy Coy, will be presented as the fourth program in the Audubon Wildlife Films series. The program is scheduled for Thursday, 7:30 p. m. in Brock Auditorium.

Mr. Coy's film will guide his audiences through that part of the United States which he calls "home" — northwest Missouri. Local residents and transients include hundreds of thousands of blue and snow geese and white pelicans; a rare whooping crane, the white opossum, muskrat, and tiny green tree frog, to name a few.

Mr. Coy's artistic photography, scientific knowledge, and lifelong familiarity with his subject have combined to produce a most interesting and enjoyable film program.

Admission to the series is by season ticket, which is good for five single admissions, to be used by more than one person on the same day if desired. Tickets, priced at one dollar for the season, may be purchased by contacting Dr. H. H. LaFuze, chairman of the Biology Department.

This month's film is the last in this year's series of programs. They have been sponsored throughout the school year by the Biology Department.

Eastern finished fourth in the varsity division.

Novice teams participating were: Ball State, Western, Cathine Spalding, Harvey, Cumberland College, Westminster College, Morris University, University of Kentucky, Transylvania and Berea.

The debate tournament was a cross-examination debate. Teams alternated arguments against teams of opposing views.
