BASEBALL TOURNAMENTS

The district baseball tournaments are scheduled to held on May 6-8. The dates should be set by the district tournament managers, and should represent the thinking of the majority of principals or coaches in the district involved. New Baseball Film

The K.H.S.A.A. has received from the National Federation office a print of the new film, The 1956 All Star Game, and has placed it on loan with the Department of University Extension, University of Kentucky. The film was produced by the National League, the American League, and A. G. Spalding & Sons.

The 1956 all star game was played in Griffith Stadium, and was dedicated to the late Clark Griffith. The film opens with a pre-game ceremony in his honor. Close-ups of the stars of today are shown, as the narrator, Lew Fonseca, comments on the past performances of each player.

The picture catches the highlights and scoring plays of the entire game. The offensive power of both leagues is in evidence as home runs are numerous. The pitching style of each pitcher working in the game is caught by the camera.

The film is in color and is designed to run about twenty minutes. Action moves at a rapid pace. The National League wins by a score of 7 to 3.

The film is suitable for all age groups, while coaches could use it as a training film by allowing their players to study the play of the game's greatest players of today.

In MemoriamHenry Chambers

Mr. Henry Stum Chambers, Superintendent of McCracken County Schools at Paducah, Kentucky, died from a heart attack on February 10, 1957. He would have been fifty-one years old on February 16, 1957.

Born at Harris Grove in Calloway County, Mr. Chambers attended school in Calloway County and was graduated from Almo High School, where his brother, the late Tullus Chambers, was then principal. He attended Murray State College and Western State College where he received his B.S. degree in agriculture. He later did graduate work at the University of Kentucky.

Mr. Chambers began teaching at Almo as a grade teacher in 1926, and became principal there in 1928. He went to La Center, Kentucky, as an agriculture teacher in 1929, and in 1930 he became principal there. He served as principal at La Center for four years, and was then elected as principal of Memorial High School in Hart County, where he taught for five years. Mr. Chambers then went to Heath High School in McCracken County. In 1945 he became principal of Wickliffe High School and served in this position for two years, at the end of which time he was elected Superintendent of McCracken County Schools. He served in this capacity until the time of his death.

On several occasions Mr. Chambers was honored by the teachers and administrators of Kentucky for the splendid work he did in the field of education. While he was principal at Memorial High School in Hart county, he was elected president of the Fourth District Education Association and first vice-president of the Kentucky Education Association.

He was a member of the Board of Directors of the Kentucky Education Association and of the Planning Board. In 1950 he was elected president of the Kentucky Education Association, and he became one of the most outstanding presidents of this great organization.

Mr. Chambers was made a Kentucky Colonel by Governor Laffoon. He was a member of the Phi Beta Kappa Fraternity and of McKendree Methodist Church. Other organizations in which he was affiliated were the West McCracken County Lion's Club, the Odd Fellows, and the First District Administrators Club.

Throughout his whole life he devoted full time to the field of education. He was teacher, principal, agriculture instructor, coach and superintendent. He loved athletics. Proof of this was the building of three fine gymnasiums in McCracken County while he was superintendent.

Henry Stum Chambers will be missed by his many friends all over the state, especially during the meetings of the Kentucky Education Association, where his advice was always welcomed. If one remark could be made to describe Henry Chambers, it would be that he was always honest and fair with his fellow man.

Survivors of Mr. Chambers are his wife; two sons, Tullus and Stum; a daughter, Alta Herrold; and three grandchildren.

Insurance Committee

Several months ago President Russell Williamson of the K.H.S.A.A. appointed an Insurance Committee from the Board of Control. The committee is composed of Chairman W. H. Crowds; Directors Cecil A. Thornton, K. G. Gillaspie, and Jack Dawson; and Commissioner Theo. A. Sanford. The committee is making a study of current K.H.S.A.A. Protection Fund fees, benefits, and regulations, along with contracts written by various commercial companies, in an effort to make recommendations to the Board of Control for the improvement of the service rendered Association member schools by the insurance program.

The Flying Dutchman

The 1957 Game Guy Award goes this year to a courageous fighter, Danny Duncan, of Hazel High School, Hazel, Kentucky. This award, which is an annual presentation of The Flying Dutchman, honors that physically handicapped athlete who overcomes the greatest handicap to accomplish the most in sports in our Commonwealth.

A junior at Hazel High School in Calloway County, he is not only a star, but one of the most aggressive and spirited players in the First Region. He is Calloway County's fifth high scorer with 470 points, averaging sixteen points per game playing with a team that lost nineteen games in a row. Danny is highly commended also for his fine sportsmanship. Dozens of letters from Western Kentucky say that he is admired by players and coaches of opposing teams everywhere. Danny has done all of this with the handicap of a deformed and useless right arm. Although he operated with only his left arm, many of his opponents confusedly thought he was operating with three or four arms as he often faked two or three defenders out of action as he drove to the basket for a goal.

When Coach Ed Diddle, of Western Kentucky State College, presents the Game Guy Award to Danny Duncan at the annual dinner of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association during K.E.A., he will be recognizing not only a stellar athlete, but one who is serving as an example to countless hundreds who have handicaps and will be inspired to have the same fun which the Game Guys are having.

It is singular to note that among the many commendations of Danny Duncan for the award was one from Price Lytle, of Hopkinsville, who said he had taken a particular interest in this young man because he, himself, is physically handicapped with Osteo in his right leg and that it gives him satisfaction to see people overcoming physical handicaps as Danny is doing.

Miss Lissy May, of Peaks Mill High School, who recently received the Corn Cob Pipe of Honor for outstanding work with cheerleaders, writes the Dutchman as follows: "What a wonderful name!—And do you sit on Pandora's troublesome box? My certificate is proudly framed and the Corn Cob Pipe occupies a place of prominence. I am highly complimented and you have another avid admirer."

Fred Hodge, of Evansville, Indiana, who ranks high among the sports officials of that area, writes the Dutchman as follows: "I cannot help but believe that the Dutchman's projects, Commissioner Sanford and Assistant Commissioner Mansfield are largely responsible for the high level on which Kentucky's athletic program rests. I think the clinics help greatly and I want to say that it is a pleasure to work in Kentucky."

Such remarks coming from in and out of Kentucky are greatly stimulating and constitute encouragement to "keep pitching" for improvement of the projects aimed at building character in boys, sportsmanship in communities and unselfish desires on the part of individuals to help others.

Kentucky crowned sixteen champions at the State Tournament this year when the coaches of the sixteen regional representative teams displayed a brand of coaching sportsmanship both on and off the bench which drew compliments from hundreds of people in attendance. Another champion was crowned when the teen-age students attending the meet drew applause for outstanding behavior not only from fans, but from hotel people, beside public praise from the press. Kentucky had another champion when the crowd also displayed admirable behavior with only an occasional "boo", which is to be expected as emotions run wild. Still five more champions were crowned when George Conley, Dick Betz, Jim Baker, Roy Winchester and Ralph Mussman turned in officiating performances which were consistent and efficient.

One gentleman said to me, "Dutchman, it seems like the crowd was not satisfied on several occasions with the calls the officials made." Our reply was that it is not the job of the officials to satisfy the crowd, but rather to enforce the rules consistently. On officiating calls, it is impossible for an official to be more than fifty per cent correct from the fans' viewpoint, assuming the crowd is evenly divided. So the officials join the other champions crowned at the 1957 Kentucky State High School Basketball Tournament.

The K.H.S.A.A. may have the solution to the problem of students' conduct in town and in hotels when games are not in session. Teen-Ville, the youth club provided for teenagers, kept a total of 9,000 youngsters off the streets and supervised during the three days and nights it was open. Other states are asking, "How was this done? . . . Please send us the plan."

Tech basketball team, remarked at the final session of the big show that there were more people in attendance on that one night than watched the entire Georgia State High School Tournament.

L. V. Phillips, Commissioner, and Bob Hinshaw, Assistant Commissioner, of the Indiana High School Athletic Association, and two first rate chaps, were in Freedom Hall during one day's competition, along with countless visitors from other states. Commissioner Phillips holds the finals of the Indiana High School Basketball Tournament in Butler Field House, which has a seating capacity of 14,943. He tells me that the total seating capacity for all the tournaments played in Indiana is 434,793.

Commissioner Phillips introduced the Dutchman at a pre-sectional tournament banquet at Muncie, Indiana, where thirteen Indiana high school teams were banqueted just prior to the opening of the tournament competition. The idea of this dinner is to bring together the 550 coaches and players who will be involved and encourage strong competition, with sportsmanlike practices being emphasized at the same time. This idea might well be copied everywhere. Incidentally, Cliff Barker, the spark-plug of the "Fabulous Five" of the University of Kentucky, was in that banquet audience as coach of Eton, Indiana High School.

On the subject of gymnasiums, Jarvis Parsley passes on the information that a new gymnasium is under construction at Brooksville which will be a landmark in that area, involving not only excellent seating capacity and a fine playing floor, but including class rooms besides.

Ray Heinisch, of Maytown High School, is loud in the praises of Dick Looney, popular mountain official, whom he says is one of the greatest gentlemen of that section. Ray says that Dick has a knack of turning away sharp remarks made to him by coaches in such a manner that they are taught lessons. On one occasion when a coach belligerently assailed Dick, the big official made officiating history with this gentle remark, "Son, you've got a lot to learn, but you're smart and I believe will soon regret your remarks to me." This same coach is now asking that Dick he recognized by a Flying Dutchman Award. Dick already possesses the Corn Cob Pipe of Honor, but he will be presented with an inch-thick T-bone steak the next time the Dutchman is in Pikeville.

"How much should an official be paid?" is one question the Dutchman has been asked to answer, and here it is: A laborer is entitled to his hire and his employer to a day's work. Good officials have never been paid enough anywhere; poor ones are often overpaid. Good contests depend on good officiating. There are no officiating bargains. If you want good officials, expect to pay good fees.

The Kentucky High School Athletic Association Banquet Committee racked up a big score when it tied up Western Kentucky State's youthful president, Kelly Thompson, for its annual banquet address during K.E.A. Without question, Kelly is not only one of the country's most progressive college presidents, but he is also one of the finest after dinner speakers anywhere. Kelly's latest administrative masterpiece was to sign Nick Denes as Varsity Football Coach.

We want to close on this note because Nick, who handled the press table for Commissioner Sanford at the State Tournament for years and did an outstanding job, is one of the best men with boys it has been our privilege to meet. Nick is gentle, firm, and the kind of man you like to see your boy associated with.

Drop by the Dutchman's office for a visit during K.E.A., Nick. We're missing you up this way.

Lafayette Cheerleaders Best

Cheerleaders representing the Lafayette High School were first place winners in the third annual competition for the Cheerleaders' Cup, awarded by K.A.P.O.A. The runner-up honors went to the Eastern High School, with honorable mention to Hazard High School. The presentation of the cup was made by K.H.S.A.A. President Williamson during an award ceremony following the final game of the 1957 State Basketball Tournament. The cheerleaders were judged on the basis of a rating schedule which included appearance, ability, conduct while in uniform, and sportsmanship toward opponents and officials.

TABULATION OF VOTES ON HIGHEST RATED OFFICIALS - 1957 STATE TOURNAMENT

Listed below are the tabulations of votes on the thirteen officials who received the highest ratings by coaches of the sixteen teams which participated in the recent State High School Basketball Tournament. Each coach voted on six Certified officials in the order of his preference, the official whose name was listed first by the coach receiving six points, the second official five points, etc. This is the method which has been used for many years by the Board of Control and the Commissioner in selecting State Tournament officials. The schools given below are not listed in order by regions nor are they listed in the order of the tournament bracket.

Charlie Vettiner, The Flying Dutchman, was flown to Asheville, North Carolina, April 2, by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools to receive the Honor Award of the Southern District for 1957 at its annual convention April 2. The convention dates were April 2-5.

Betty Autrey, Stetson University, president of the Health, Physical Education and Recreation section of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, sent her personal congratulations and the deep appreciation of the Association for the meritorious service and outstanding contributions to health, physical education and recreation which Vettiner has made in the Southern District when she announced him the winner of the highest award the Association can bestow. The Honor Award was presented at the General Session of the Southern District Convention, April 2, after which Vettiner was in a receiving line with officers of the Association at the honor reception.

To receive this honor, the executive must be at least 40 years of age. His contributions must be in the field of health, physical education and recreation. He holds national honors conferred by the National Recreation Association; and is a member of the De Molay Legion of Honor. On June 28, 1956, President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines, of Mexico, conferred on him a citation recognizing the valuable contributions he has made to the furtherance of mutual understanding and respect between the people of the United States and Mexico through the Youth Ambassadors of Friendship. This honor was conferred in Mexico City. President Fulgencio Batista, of Cuba, also cited him in Havana for the same contribution.

Widely known as an author, recreation consultant and lecturer, Vettiner is recognized as an authority in the field of recreation. He has written three textbooks on the subject, his latest being A New Horizon of Recreation.
