Board Of Regents Approve $23.3 Million Dorm Complexes

The Eastern Board of Regents, meeting in special session, Monday approved proposals for two dormitory complexes projected to eventually cost $23.3 million and named two other residence halls now under construction.

In other action the board expanded curricula in business and music, and announced two retirements.

The dormitory complexes, one each for men and women, are scheduled for construction, one hall at a time as need requires. The first dormitory in each complex is planned for completion at mid-semester of the 1967-68 school year.

The men's complex would consist of four 17-story buildings housing a total of 2,464 students, and featuring a cafeteria to seat 850. It would be constructed on the old baseball field on the campus' southwest corner at a cost of $11,570,000.

The women's quadrangle would consist of two 13-story dorms and two 21-story dorms housing a total of 2,400 women. To be built on the northeast section of the campus at a cost of $11,777,200, it also features a cafeteria with a capacity of 1,000.

Names Chosen

A 21-story men's residence hall under construction east of newly-completed Palmer Hall on Park Drive, was named Commonwealth Hall. President Robert R. Martin said the name was selected because, "We in Kentucky are quite pleased to be one of only four Commonwealths in the nation."

A nine-story women's dorm, for which ground was broken earlier Monday, was named Singleton P. Walters Hall in honor of the most instrumental figure in the founding of Eastern's predecessor on the Richmond campus - Central University in 1874.

The board approved new curricula for:

Bachelor's degree of business administration, requiring 47 semester hours for women, 55 for men, with a business core of 36 hours. The business core can come from majors in accounting, economics, finance, management, marketing or secretarial.

The bachelor of music education degree and the bachelor of music degree, with majors in instrumental study, voice, keyboard and church music.

A programs of graduate and research assistantships for 1966 was also sanctioned.

Trail: Addition Planned

Approved was another addition to the married student trailer park in anticipation of an overflow of married students and veterans due to the post-Korean GI Bill.

The board announced the retirements of:

Miss Louise Broadus, recorder in the registrar's office, who has been at Eastern since 1936.

Mrs. Helen Perry, administrative assistant in the Office of Student Affairs since 1921.

Earlier, the board had announced the retirement of: Dr. Smith Park, chairman of the department of mathematics and acting dean of academic affairs, who has been at Eastern since 1923.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Richards, members of the business and geography faculties respectively. He has served since 1926, she since 1923.

Kathy Kunkel Coming Home

Kentucky's 1965 IFYE to India left her host country (March 23) after spending six months learning about the Indian way of life.

As an International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) delegate, Kathleen Kunkel of Kenton county has been finding out how the people of India live by actually taking part in their everyday life.

Miss Kunkel who is a 1965 graduate of Eastern and a former 4-H Club member, will come back to the United States by way of Japan, arriving in this country March 30. After a week evaluation session at the National 4-H Club Center in Washington, D.C., she will arrive home on April 8.

During her stay in India, Miss Kunkel lived in three different Indian states. "In my last host state, I've organized a girls' 4-H sewing club," she writes in a recent letter.

"And I also felt very honored when some villagers walked 10 miles to ask to lay the foundation cornerstone of their Youth Club Building.

"I wouldn't trade my IFYE experiences for anything, and I'm anxious to share them and the culture of my host country with the people at home," her letter continues. The second phase of Miss Kunkel's IFYE responsibility begins when she returns home, for she will be giving talks and sharing what she has learned with the people of Kentucky.

He will spend one month of his two month trip living with a Dutch family. There he will be treated as a special guest, not as a mere tourist. During the second month of the trip, he will tour other parts of Europe with other Experimentors from other colleges.

Active on campus, Dan is a member of OAKS, a men's honorary, and the chemistry club. He has been treasurer of CCUN for the past two years, and is a senior counselor in Martin Hall.

"Canada is the farthest I've ever been away from home," Dan stated. However, he went on to add that he was not worried about being lost.

Dan does not speak a foreign language, but he expresses no worry about this matter either. His application for the Experiment consisted of an autobiography, general personal information, and a medical report. It did not require him to be able to speak a foreign language because most of the families with whom the Experimentors live speak English.

Sponsored each year by the Student Council, the Experiment program operates for the purpose of acquainting young college people with the actual way of life of a people in a foreign country.

The Experiment representative must be a person who has at least one more year left to be on campus in order to speak to organizations and students and show pictures or whatever he may have collected throughout his travels.

The major expenses of the Experiment trip are paid by the Student Council from a special fund set aside for this each year. The traveling expenses to and from the states must be paid by the Experimenting student himself.

Eastern's representatives in 1964 and 1965 were Marvin Marcum and Max Lyles respectively.

Arrangements for the trip are being handled by the Student Council Experiment Committee. Members of the committee are Marvin Marcum, chairman, Sue Marshall, and Sharon McBride.

Receives Honorary Degree

During the elaborate ceremonies commemorating Eastern's founding Monday, Governor Edward T. Breathitt was presented an honorary doctor of laws degree by President Robert R. Martin following his address to the Founders Day audience.

Dan Owings, a junior from Dayton, Ky., has been chosen as Eastern's Experiment in International Living representative for this summer.

One of three of Eastern's finalists, Dan was chosen by the Experiment organization in Putney, Vermont on basis of recommendations and attributed as shown by his application. The three finalists were selected by a committee of faculty and Student Council members.

The 20 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Owings, Dan is a chemistry and history major. His request of the Experiment organization to have Holland as his major country of the Experiment trip has been granted.

Founders Day Signals Eastern's 7th Decade

Governor Cites Expansion; Urges New Responsibilities

Eastern began a new era Monday as it enters into its seventh decade of educational service. The College took note of the historic occasion in elaborate Founders Day ceremonies in Alumni Coliseum, jointly commemorating the 60th anniversary of the school's founding and the granting of university status by the General Assembly in February.

Governor Edward T. Breathitt signed the bill redesignating Eastern and three other state colleges as universities Feb. 28, Meeting March 7, the Eastern Board of Regents picked July 1, a date coinciding with the fiscal year, as the effective date for Eastern's assuming university status.

"The demands for higher education are no longer required by a few, but are a necessity for a majority of our young people," Governor Edward T. Breathitt told a Founders Day gathering of 6,000 Monday morning.

Also, he said, "if our Commonwealth is to survive in a technological and space-age world, we must and we shall meet the demands upon us year by year and decade after decade."

Greetings were extended from the students by Student Council president Hugh Burkett, Somerset, from the faculty by Dr. J. Dorland Coates, associated dean for teacher instruction; from the alumni by Homer Ramsey, Whitley City, president of the Alumni Association, and from the Board of Regents by Harry M. Sparks, state superintendent of public instruction.

During the interim (1901-1906) between Central University and Eastern, Walters Collegiate Institute existed on the campus. Eastern's history has also been marked by growth in enrollment and the physical plant.

The first graduating class in 1907 totaled only nine, compared to the more than 1,000 who will receive degrees at spring and summer commencement exercises this year.

In the past half decade Eastern's enrollment has increased 133 per cent from 2,987 to 6,949. If facilities are available to meet the growing applications for admissions the 1970 enrollment is projected at nearly 12,000 students.

To accommodate this increase, a gigantic construction program is underway that has embodied $35 million in new facilities and reconstructions since 1960.

Eastern has been served by six presidents: Ruric Nevel Rorack (1906-1909); John Grant Crabbe (1910-1916); Thomas Jackson Coates (1916-1928); Herman Lee Donovan (1928-1941); William Francis O'Donnell (1941-1960); and Robert R. Martin (1960-present).

262 Student Teachers At Off-Campus Schools

Completing their first week of student teaching and final stages of their professional teacher-training program are 262 Eastern seniors stationed at 77 off-campus elementary and secondary schools.

In making the announcement, Dr. J. Dorland Coates, associate dean for teacher education, said that these students have completed six weeks of preparation this semester by observing and studying methods of professional teachers at the college.

They will teach, under the guidance of supervising teachers, for ten weeks, Dr. Coates said. Of the total, 96 are performing student teaching at the elementary level and 166 in the secondary area.

Largest Number in P.E. The largest number of students, 31, completing their training at the secondary level are in the field of physical education. Social studies ranks second with 26, and English third with 24.

Congratulations To K.E.G.

Election Necessitates Double Charge

WE EXTEND CONGRATULATIONS to the K.E.G. (Keep Eastern Growing) Party for their success in the Student Council election held this past week.

As far as we could observe, this has been one of the cleanest Student Council elections held on this campus for several years. For this, all candidates in the election are to be congratulated and praised for their effort to maintain fairness in campus politics.

The candidates representing the K.E.G. Party, lead by Bill McConnell, have voluntarily undertaken some of the more responsible positions in student leadership on campus.

They outlined six goals for their administration and hopefully will complete all of these objectives before their term of office expires. These goals include: implementation of party system for representation of campus elections; completion and activation of the much discussed student code; regular and complete communication of Student Council activities; representation on the Student Council determined by precinct; a special lecture series to acquaint students with a much greater diversity of areas; and establishment of an entertainment fund to be pro-rated for campus activities to facilitate ease in planning and making more apparent restrictions in the budget.

It is perhaps a guarded assumption, but never the less an assumption, that these students were elected to their position because their platform was considered by more students to be representative of actions felt necessary. These goals may appear in writing not to be a great deal, but in accomplishment their benefits are apparent and will take a great deal of work and effort on the part of the officers to accomplish.

We charge the new officers of the Student Council not to forget the commitment they made to the student body of Eastern when they chose to run. They have volunteered to serve Eastern and its students. We are confident that they can and must fulfill this purpose.

But the life and activity of student government on campus does not rest entirely with the officers of the Student Council. The responsibility to oversee their action lies with the entire student body. We must see to it that they work in view of the completion of their chosen projects. We must extend the congratulations for jobs well done and accomplished. We must extend comments pertaining to other activities we might wish to see performed. We must criticize and hold accountable the proper persons when criticism is due.

We implore the Student Council of-icers to work responsibly for the student and charge the student body to support and help their chosen officers to accomplish their purpose.

Student Unrest

The Lost Generation

(ACP) — Youth has always been a period of experiment, excitement and education. But not until after World War I were generalities tagged to youth's activism, writes Glenn Dromgoole in the Barrington, Texas A & M.

Gertrude Stein started the whole thing when she classified the post World War I youth the "Lost Generation."

Educator Mark C. Ebersole says the entire generation was preoccupied with "high living, madness, devolution, frivolity, wildness, petting parties, tennis, jazz, flamboyance, kicking, roaring, flag-pole sitting, vamping, bobbing, and whoopee. With happy abandon they gave themselves to outlandish propositions and to zany ventures, to easy diversions and to naughty play."

Then came the Great Depression, and a lack of resources kept sweeping titles off the back of youth for a while. Things got better and the "New Generation" emerged. "Their only principle," one critic wrote, "is that there is no moral principle at all, their only slogan that all statements of policy, all appeals to standards, are nothing but slogans and hence are frauds and deceptions."

This behavior lasted through World War II and the generation that followed. The generation was regarded as a sophisticated one — instead of loud, they were subdued; they drank cocktails instead of whiskey straight from the flask.

About 1950 Jack Kerouac reclassified the "New Generation" as the "Beat Generation." This prompted William Styron in his "Lie Down in Darkness" to have a young girl say: "Those people back in the Lost Generation? Daddy, I guess. Anybody who thought they were lost was crazy. They weren't lost. What they were doing was losing us."

Then came the "Religious Generation" of the late '50s. Students began questioning their relationship with the Supreme Being, their existence, their birth and consequences after death.

During this era, a theological school president decided, "Nowhere does the tide of religious awakening flow more powerfully than among the younger generation, especially on college and university campuses."

Next was the "Committed Generation" of the 1962-63 Kennedy influence, with their interest in the welfare of humanity, their civil rights crusades and their involvement in the Peace Corps. They were termed "vital, alive and ardent young people."

Then the "Tormented Generation" appeared according to Ebersole's "The Rise and Fall of Student Generations." These students "were distraught, beset with confusion, misery, frustration and failure and preoccupied with their personal plight," he wrote.

The rapid turnover of generations continued. 1964 produced the "Political Activist Generation" with its participation in sometimes reactionary — in politics, education and government affairs. A Berkeley campus and hundreds of discontent began to be felt on other campuses.

Political activism continues into this academic year, but more and more this generation is slipping into a new classification — that of the "New Left."

From the Lost Generation to the New Left, students of this century have always been fitted into ready-made categories. Their individual philosophies and ideologies have not mattered — they have only been part of the whole. As individuals break away from the current classification, others follow and a new "generation" is born.

Perhaps this partly explains some of the unrest that accompanies each movement — individuals struggle against society's tag, only to win the struggle and be tagged again.

Campus Politics . . .

Gone With The Wind

(ACP) — Gone are the days of torch-light parades for campus politicians, massive marches on the Capitol and rigged cheerleader elections, says the Daily Texan. Election turnout is the same as ever — appallingly small, but in the olden days at least a portion of the student body seemed to care about the University's brand of personal politics.

Student government has gone "responsible." Candidates and electorate no longer care about the froth that once consumed so much sound and fury. This trend toward seriousness could be for the better, but unfortunately the Student Assembly and Students' Association are still geared to the days when somebody really cared about getting his best friend appointed to the sweetheart nominee appeals board sub-committee.

Today students are asking for a role in the governing of the University. They are willing to sit through hours of droning Regents meetings, plow through acres of administrative red tape, delve into important but unspectacular aspects of University policy. Student leaders have approached the Board of Regents, asking for seats on some of the policy-making committees, and the Regents have shown a willingness to consider their requests.

This plea for the very life of student government. For if students cannot have a significant voice within the University they will attempt to influence it from the outside through such methods as demonstration and unionization.

If student government is not granted a greater degree of power, fewer and fewer outstanding University students will be attracted to it. Even now, independent groups attract many potential leaders by confronting significant issues such as integration, American foreign policy and academic issues which student government most often ignores.

We hope this year's campaign platforms will reflect thoughtful suggestions for reform, rather than tired promises to solve the parking problem and hold regular office hours. There has been a change in attitude among thoughtful elements of the student body. But if student government does not herald — or at least reflect — this change it will alienate itself even more from potential leaders and lose its opportunity to articulate and help solve the University's problems.

Founders Day Reflects Success

MONDAY COMMEMORATED an important day in the history of the College with the recognition of the successful completion of six decades of higher education at Eastern, and the beginning of the seventh decade.

It also attempted to honor the progress made, as well as predict the future steps that must be made.

We were overjoyed to witness the success of this day of honor for the Founders of Eastern and congratulate all those who worked to make the occasion a successful one.

This day of honor carried with it recognition of the past as well as prediction for the future of the responsibility Eastern must play in higher education in Kentucky. For this reason, it was perhaps one of the most important single days in the history of the school. Founders Day was met with the significance of the day in mind and it reflected this importance.

Founders Day observed the ninety-second anniversary of education on this campus. From the conception of Central University through Eastern Kentucky State College which is a recognized and respected institution in pursuit of knowledge and understanding it promised future greatness for Eastern Kentucky University.

It was significant that the guests of honor for this occasion should be Governor Edward T. Breathitt and the members of the legislature as well as representatives of the past five decades of the administration of this College.

The day proved to be one of enjoyment and success in all areas of the program.

Not Cruise, Or Play

Belles Lettres Published By, For Students

Belles Lettres is not a French cruise or a new Broadway play; it's an English students' annual publication, an anthology of student writing, sponsored by Eastern's Canterbury Club for English majors and minors.

Unfortunately, Belles Lettres has been fraught over in vain by anguished editors and assistant editors in the past, because the majority of Eastern's students feel that English anthologies, although composed by their fellow students, are verbose, stuffy, and generally too formal for enjoyable reading.

Then too, there are males on campus who think that anything connected with literature (in the true sense of the word) is poison and bound to be fatal to the reader upon first glance at the print. I'm sure that these people would not be as unwilling to glance at such a publication if they were aware that its reading would be enjoyable. Here are a few example themes from last year's Belles Lettres, the majority of which were written by male students:

The mechanical industry of computers; war, its purpose and frailties, bravery and frustration; cannibalism, game hunting; love; eternity; religion and evolution; drunkenness, prettiness, beauty, solitude, snowfalls, rainfalls, epitaphs, and tear-parties.

These themes have taken and will always take form in short stories, plays and poems. Their writers were not overly-intellectual snobs who made their creations fuzzy conglomerations of words that only confused their readers; their main purpose was plain old communication of feelings, which deserve to be heard or read, and acknowledged.

Much of the material Susan Reinert and I will review for publication in Belles Lettres this year will be from Advanced Composition classes and from people who enjoy writing for personal satisfaction.

Most of us at some time or other, have found ourselves humming a tune we had somehow composed ourselves, or have been so emotionally stirred by some happening that we have jotted down a small poem or rhyme.

Each person has his own ideals and sentiments, but for most of us who take time to read a short story or poem by one of our classmates, there is a warm feeling as we say "That's exactly how I feel," or "I never thought of it that way."

The Belles Lettres Staff of 1965-66 includes: Kathleen Hollis, editor; Susan Reinert, assistant editor; Mary Doyle, circulation manager; and Gerald Maerz, business manager.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:
This letter is being written in response to several remarks that have been made to me by my students at Madison Central High School. The other evening, March 16, I assigned my high school dramatics students to go see the movie, "A Long Day's Journey into Night," at Hiram Brock Auditorium. I must say that I was thoroughly disgusted and greatly embarrassed at the behavior of the Eastern students.

This movie was an important literary, historical, and dramatic masterpiece. It discourages me greatly to see the intellectual level of the Eastern student at such a low ebb.

Constantly throughout the movie we were subjected to jeering, consistent talking, constant giggling, and assorted four letter words that were issued orally. It seems to me that people of this age could enjoy a movie of this merit and if not try to keep from disturbing others.

The comment that I would have to make concerning this matter is that if the Eastern student is not subjected to a sex movie he cannot appreciate anything else.

Let us see if something can be done so this matter can be regulated.

WHEREAS, the swim team representing Eastern Kentucky State College, known as "The Eastern Eel," has won the Kentucky Intercollegiate Swimming Championship by winning first place in all sixteen events; and

WHEREAS, this is the fourth consecutive year "The Eastern Eels" have won this honor under the able direction of Coach Donald Combs; and

WHEREAS, this achievement reflects high credit upon the vital athletic program of Eastern Kentucky State College;

NOW, THEREFORE, Be it resolved by the Senate of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, Section 1. Student Witnesses Fires

I have watched two fires in the flowerbeds in front of McGregor grow and be put out. And, other weeks I have witnessed this same thing. This letter is being directed to the careless smokers who have been throwing their cigarette butts into the flowerbeds. I hope these reckless people realize that they have destroyed Mother Nature's work, and that Eastern will probably have no flowers there this spring. These careless smokers are giving Eastern a bad reputation — a reputation that shows that Eastern students don't care about the beauty of their campus. Well, I do and I am sure others do too. So, please, please be more careful as to where you throw your cigarette butts. Thank you.

First Lieutenant John Hanlon Receives Silver Star Tuesday

First Lieutenant John B. Hanlon, a 1964 Eastern graduate, will receive the Silver Star for gallantry in action in Viet Nam Tuesday in ceremonies at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Cincinnati.

The medal will be presented 11:30 a.m. by Colonel Myron A. Pink, commanding officer of the University of Cincinnati Army ROTC unit, a former Silver Star honoree.

Representing Eastern at the ceremonies will be President Marshall and Professor of Military Science, Colonel Everett M. Smith.

Lt. Hanlon is being cited for his action against the Viet Cong Nov. 3 and Nov. 4, 1965, while serving with the 2nd Cavalry of the 1st Air Cavalry Division.

The citation reads, in part: "First Lt. Hanlon distinguished himself by valorous action while serving as a platoon leader during a night helicopter assault in the Republic of Viet Nam.

"As they approached the landing zone, a strong hostile force opened fire on the helicopters. After landing and dismounting, Lt. Hanlon led his troops through a barrage of Viet Cong small arms and mortar fire. As they fought their way across open ground to positions only 30 meters from the entrenched Viet Cong forces, he was wounded in the side and back by automatic rifle fire.

"Although he was partially paralyzed, Lt. Hanlon, with complete disregard for his own personal safety, remained in the forward positions and retained effective control of his platoon. Despite his painful condition, throughout the numerous Viet Cong assaults, he continued to direct the fire and deployment of the platoon.

"Because of his courage, devotion to duty, and outstanding leadership, he saved his platoon from annihilation and the landing zone was held enabling additional troops to land.

"The heroic actions of First Lt. Hanlon were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, and the United States Army."

A native of Gwent, he is a graduate of Carrollton High School. A geology major at Eastern, he was commander of the Pershing Rifle Honor Society of the Army ROTC, and his senior year won the National Guard Association Scholarship award.

to better serve the Commonwealth as a multi-purpose liberal arts institution of higher education.

A graduate program, leading to the Master of Arts degree in education, was established in 1955. The same bill granting Eastern university status, enlarged its graduate capabilities, and this fall Master of Arts degrees will be offered in English and history. Further expansion is planned.

Education still offers the most advanced graduate courses with a six-year program of 30 hours beyond the masters available to those seeking positions of leadership in education.

Last spring the College was reorganized into six schools, replacing the old departmental division, and when university status goes into effect the organization will be five colleges and a Graduate School.

The colleges will be the College of Arts and Sciences; The College of Education; the College of Applied Arts and Technology; and Central University College, which coordinates the two-year general education program.

TRACKSTERS FAIR WELL IN LIVINGSTON RELAYS

The track team participated in the thirteenth annual Livingston Relays held at Dennison University last Saturday. Twenty-six colleges and universities participated in this meet and their was no composite team score kept.

Freshman Kent Andersson set a new record for the mile run with a time of 4:12.3. He completely out ran all competition as the closest competitor was a full five seconds behind. Andersson has already ran a 4:05 mile against the best competition in the country.

The distance medley relay team took the only other first as they completely outclassed the other competition running it in 10:17.6 compared to second place Miami's 10:22.6. This team was composed of Earl Jordan, Bill Swanson, Larry Whalen, and Kent Andersson.

The two mile relay team finished a close second to Michigan getting nosed out by .003 seconds, EM's time was 7:45.6. The mile relay team finished fourth in a race which saw .012 separate the first four finishers.

Wilbert Davis took second place in the pole vault and fourth in the long jump. Davis vaulted 14'6" while the winner set a new meet record of 16'3 1/2," the old record was 14'7." Davis long jumped 22'7 1/2."

SPRING SPORTS UNDERWAY THIS WEEK

With the beginning of Spring Eastern finds the opening of many news sports attractions on campus.

The golf team, coached by Glenn Presnell, will begin their season today, opening with the University of Kentucky at Lexington.

Coach "Turkey" Hughes' diamondmen will open their season at home this Tuesday against rival Kentucky at 2 p.m.

The tennis team, coached by Jack Adams, will also open up with Kentucky on Thursday in Lexington.

Indiana University will invade Eastern's campus to give Connie Smith's thinclads their first outdoor challenge of the season. The track team will have a lot of explosive runners ready to show what they can do as they have been running and working out all winter long and should be ready to go. The meet will begin at 3:30 p.m.

The students on campus should make an attempt to turn out for some of these home events as they may find a new interest in one of these sports. The talent is there and if the students come out and support the teams, it will help the morale of these athletes.

Coach Rupp Basketball Banquet Speaker

Adolph Rupp, the Baron of basketball, will be the featured speaker at the Eastern basketball banquet Wednesday night at 6:30 in the Keen Johnson Student Union Building.

Rupp, the nation's winningest active coach, has won four national championships at the University of Kentucky, finishing second this season after being ranked no. one for most of the campaign.

The banquet will honor Coach Jim Baechtold's 1965-66 Eastern Maroons who finished second in the Ohio Valley Conference this season with a 9-5 league mark. They were 16-9 overall.

Also highlighting the banquet will be player awards, including the Most Valuable Player trophy presented by the "Eastern Progress," campus weekly.

Tickets for the fete are $2.00 and may be purchased at the Athletic Office in Alumni Coliseum, or from any member of the Eastern Sports Club, local boosters organization.

Eels Proved To Be Best Ever In State Of Kentucky

Champions Display Trophy

Eastern's Eels, who took all 16 first places in the Kentucky Invitational Swimming Meet and finished 13th in the nation, display their state championship trophy. They are, from left, front row: Bob Walker, Fred Bartlett, honorable mention All-America; Coach Don Combs, and Johnny Warren, first team All-

America. Second row: Bill Holzapfel, Gerry Seutholz, Bobby Reuff, Charlie Tandy, honorable mention All-America; Tom Baehle, and Rick Hill, first team All-America. Back row: Bill Walker, first team All-America; Phil Stoffey, Bob French, and Joe Barrowich.

When Eastern swim coach Don Combs calls his 1965-66 Eels the greatest swimming team ever in Kentucky, he has the facts to back him up.

The Eels had their biggest in a series of banner years this season, compiling the following accomplishments:

(1) They won their fourth straight (for a total of five of eight possible) Kentucky Invitational Swimming Championship by taking first place in every event.

(2) Finished 13th in the nation at the NCAA College-Division Meet, the highest for any southern school—and would have been higher if a bad turn hadn't cost a Maroon swimmer a third place.

(3) Placed three swimmers on the bona-fide All-America swimming team, and two others as honorable mention.

(4) Kept alive an unbeaten skein against other Kentucky schools that dates since Jan. 1962.

(5) Broke every Eastern record but one.

(6) Were honored by a resolution of the Commonwealth of Kentucky Senate.

The only blots on the Maroon record were the breaking of two streaks—a home winning streak of 17, and a dual meet skein of 21. Combs explained the losses in his 9-5 dual meet record with the mid-season sickness of Rick Hill, and the fact that while the Maroons had better times in every event they were not as deep as in other seasons.

Combs is proudest of his team clean sweep of all events in the Kentucky meet, and the team and individual showing in the NCAA meet.

The All-Americans, all of whom finished in the country's top six in at least one event were:

Bill Walker, a sophomore from Lexington, scored 25 points in four events in the NCAA meet, and 56 in the state meet. He holds eight team records, and took four first places in the Kentucky championships. He qualified for All-America with a 3rd place finish in the 200 yd. individual medley.

Johnny Warren, a Louisville senior, who took second place in national three-meter diving competition, missing first by only 4.5 points. He took first in both the one and three-meter state meet.

The third is Rick Hill, sophomore from Louisville, who scored 12 points in the NCAA meet. His fifth place finish in the 200 yard individual medley qualified him for All-America. He holds six team records and took three firsts in the state meet.

Honorable mention (top ten in the country) went to backstroker Fred Bartlett, Cleveland, Ohio, senior, and freestyler Charlie Tandy, a Louisville senior.

Tennis Team Has Potential Could Prove To Be Tough

"The team has great potential, and if they accept the challenge they can beat the top ranked teams," so commented tennis coach Jack Adams in discussing the 1966 Eastern Racketeers.

In discussing the outlook of this year's team Adams also noted, "the top three men from last year are going to be pushed to retain their positions, which means we are going to be stronger down the line than we have ever been."

This year's program is going to be rough, the team has to face tough tennis teams in the south. Coach Adams feels that this group of boys are capable of improving their fourth place finish of last year, and make a stronger bid for the OVC championship this year.

Adams' closing comments were that he wished for the support of the student body at the home matches; "the support of the students will help the boys a great deal."
