He will deliver his speech, entitled, "When is a Man Educated?" to 655 candidates for degrees. Of the graduating class, 48 are candidates for the Master of Arts degree, 145 for the B.A. and 462 for the B.S.

Eastern is expected to graduate more than 1,000 this year, counting summer session graduates.

Commencement Weekend

The Baccalaureate services come in the middle of a three-day commencement weekend. Saturday will be Alumni Day, and some 1,500 graduates, including members of the 50th, 25th, 10th, and 5th anniversary classes will convene.

Monday will close the weekend with the last graduating class of Eastern. Summer graduation will come after university status becomes effective July 1.

Dr. Owen, a native of Marble Hill, Mo., has been at Calvary Baptist Church since 1954. He had previously been pastor at Missouri, Kentucky, Alabama, and Georgia churches. He has been a minister since 1935.

An Army Chaplain during World War II, Dr. Owen received the Bronze Star and a War Department commendation for his work with combat troops.

Dr. Owen holds the B.A. degree from Southeast Missouri State College, the Bachelor of Divinity from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and the honorary doctor of divinity from Georgetown College.

A Church Leader

The Kentucky Baptist Convention president during 1964-65, he has held 18 position of church leadership since 1951.

A member of five civic organizations, Dr. Owen is current Eminent Grand Prelate of Grand Commandery of the Knights Templar of the State of Kentucky, a position he has held since 1963.

He was the author of the Southern Baptist Convention's "Baptist Training Union Quarterly Lesson for Young People," in 1956 and 1958.

Teachers Corps Applications Due

The United States Office of Education has issued a call for National Teacher Corps Volunteers and has asked for applications by May 31.

Starting by mid-June, some 3,000 recruits selected from the applicants will spend eight to twelve weeks of summer training at colleges and universities. That is why May 31 deadline for applications is necessary.

By September, Teacher Corps teams should be ready to move into 200 to 400 city and rural poverty-area school systems, where their help is requested.

Recruits Attend Courses

During the training period, recruits will attend university courses on the sociology of poverty and the teaching of educationally deprived children. While in training, they will receive $75 per week plus $15 for each dependent. Those successfully completing the training will become members of the Teacher Corps.

On acceptance by a local school agency, Teacher Corps members will be paid at the local level of teacher salaries.

About one-fourth of the Corps members will be teachers with an advanced degree or several years of experience, including many who have worked with deprived children.

Lead Teams

Most will lead teams of five teacher-interns on assignments in local school districts. Experienced teachers will, where possible, be assigned to their home school districts.

The teacher-interns will teach part-time under supervision of team leaders, assist in school and community projects, and study for an advanced degree at a nearby institution.

Application or requests for information from volunteers and local education agencies should be addressed to the National Teacher Corps, 400 Maryland Ave., S.W., Washington, D.C., 20202.

Financial Assistance Available

Any college student with exceptional financial needs and who will require financial assistance to remain in college may apply for a scholarship ranging from $200 to $800 for the academic year 1966-67.

Anyone interested should come to room 203 in the Coates Administration Building to obtain an application form. The applications should be completed and returned to the Coordinator of Student Financial Assistance as soon as possible so the decisions can be made and announced before the end of the spring semester.

Kathy Colebrook Named To Summer Work Internship

Kathryn A. Colebrook, junior political science major from Cincinnati, has been named to a summer internship by the Murray Seasongood Good Government Fund. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James N. Colebrook, she will return to her native Cincinnati to work in the budget office at City Hall.

The summer internship is open to undergraduates and graduate students who intend to pursue careers in government. Participating offices in local government allow students to work during the summer, matching the stipend of the Murray Seasongood Fund, up to $300.

Following a summer's internship, the student must submit a report to the International City Managers Association.

Kathy's job will cover ten weeks during the summer, starting around the middle of June. She plans to do graduate work in either public administration or city planning, and counts the internship 'valuable experience' in her continuing education.

The Murray Seasongood Good Government Fund, besides its summer internships in local government, provides numerous services to students. Among these is the sponsoring of speakers at college and university assemblies and classes on the general subject of good local government.

Joyce McQueen Selected For Milestone Hall Of Fame

By SANDY MURPHY
Progress Staff Writer

Joyce Ann McQueen is the recipient of this year's Hall of Fame membership. This is the highest honor awarded a graduating senior.

"The full meaning didn't hit me when I was first told. I was so surprised to receive such an honor. I still can hardly believe it," are Joyce's humble words.

"I called my parents to tell them," said Joyce. "It was a three way conversation. Father said 'that's great' and Mother 'we're proud of you.' Joyce credits her parents with understanding and wisdom to influence and encourage me to go on even when the times were rough."

Jeanette Osborne, Joyce's roommate, knew about the honor since last November. "It was hard to keep the secret, but Sunday when Joyce finally found out, her joy made it worth it," commented Jeanette.

Many Academic Honors

Joyce is a 22 year old business major from Eubank, in Polaski County. English is her minor. She is a 5 foot 5 blue-eyed brunette. In academics she holds many honors due to her high 3.69 point standing. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, an educational honor society. Pi Omega Pi, an honorary for business majors planning to teach has Joyce as their president this year.

"I remember when I was tapped for Collegiate Pentacle. I was asleep when the girls came in and tapped my roommate. They left, I congratulated Jeanette, and went back to sleep. It really surprised me when they came back later and tapped me."

In her sophomore year Joyce was the treasurer of CWENS. Last year she was editor of Wesley Foundation's paper Focus. This year she is co-vice president of Wesley. Wesley is a favorite of Joyce's because "of the background and encouragement

Student Code Committee Submits 1965 - 1966 Final Report

During the Student Council elections in the spring of 1965, the idea for a Student Code was born. Under the administration of Mr. Hugh Burkett, the idea materialized and began to take shape along definite lines.

Mr. Burkett and President Martin appointed a committee of faculty and students to evaluate and investigate the purposes of and the goals that could be realized by adopting a codified set of policies to serve as guide-lines in directing student behavior. The original committee consisted of Jay Roberts, Chairman, and Hugh Burkett, ex officio member. This committee proceeded to draw up a statement of what the code would be, why it was needed, and a timetable for its formulation. This committee's work progressed no further.

In September of 1965, Mr. Burkett appointed Mike Campbell to the committee and named Bill Raker to replace Jay Roberts as chairman.

This new committee met on several occasions through the year and made a most successful effort toward bringing the Code into reality. The committee accomplished a great deal of the work that had been outlined for it and progressed to it was able to do so under the prevailing circumstances.

The committee's first act was to enlarge and expand to a greater degree of specificity the exact purpose of the Code, to explain in more detail why the Code was needed and what it would embrace, and to revise the original timetable as these points had been passed on by the original committee.

Choir, Orchestra Present Concert

This week's freshman assembly consisted of a concert presented by the Kentucky State College Choir under the direction of Carl H. Smith. The program ranged from the light and lifting folk song, "Coffee Grows on White Oak Trees," to Handel's "O Admirable Commertium."

One of the highlights of the concert was "Vocalise," a song composed by Chenoweth, in which Miss Anna Garrison was soloist.

The final song was dedicated to the members of Eastern's Chamber Choir who recently presented a concert at the Kentucky State College campus. Dr. Andrew Broekema of Eastern's Music Department, who introduced the Kentucky State Choir, explained that the exchange of programs by the two schools had become an annual tradition.

The devotional was given by George W. Noe of Paint Lick.

The Student Code Committee, in an effort to determine the opinion and position that the Student Body held in regard to a codified set of campus regulations governing student conduct, prepared and circulated a questionnaire among the students during the fall semester, 1965-66.

The results of the survey indicated that the students were definitely in favor of a set of easily understood guidelines that would aid them in their campus activities, but that many of the students did not have a complete understanding of what the Code was or what it was designed to accomplish.

As a consequence a campaign was launched by the committee to publicize the Code and to explain it more fully to students. In this campaign, Bill Raker, committee chairman, made several reports to the Student Council to present the committee's work and findings, to elucidate the Code itself, and to solicit the aid of council members in stimulating interest among the students and to give a generalization of the Code to their classmates.

Several articles were published in the Progress to help explain the Code to the Student Body.

Dr. Keen and Bill Raker appeared on the Student Council radio program and made a report to the students concerning (Continued on page 5)

Mike Stokes New Chief Justice Student Court

The Student Council, at Tuesday's meeting approved the appointment of Mike Stokes as chief justice of the Student Court for next year.

Stokes, a junior political science major from Monticello, is president of the Polity Society, a political science honorary. He worked as a local government intern in Monticello last summer where he organized a municipal code for the city at that time.

Others appointed to the Court were Bill Raker, Leah Strehlow, and Jack Supplee as senior justices.

Sophomore justices are Rodney Bennett, Allan Goodrich, Steve Rehfuss.

Freshman members of the court will be appointed in the fall of next year.

In the past the court has handled only traffic violations and float-building regulations abuse.

"Next year, if the Student Code is passed, our jurisdiction will encompass enforcing that, too," Stokes stated.

He further said, "We want to see the Court take a leading position in student affairs next year. And we will be able to do so if the Code is passed. I would like to express complete confidence in my fellow court members."

Milestone Distribution Set

The 1966 Milestone will be distributed in Roark 9 Monday through Thursday from 3 to 5 next week. Fifty Milestones will go on sale to the first fifty customers wanting them at 7.50 each Monday.

Bob Hughes Gets Office

Bob Hughes, freshman from Louisville, and treasurer of the Student Council, was elected vice chairman of the Southern University Student Government Association.

The association operates on a national level with one chairman, Clint Bolte from Georgia Tech, and one vice chairman from each state Student Council. president, Bill McConnell, acted as Eastern's delegate to the Association meeting held in Fla. last week end.

Both Hughes and McConnell stated that the trip was very informative, but that Eastern needed more delegates so that all sessions could have been attended.

Three colleges from Kentucky presently belong to the Association: Kentucky Southern, Georgetown, and Eastern.

Hughes stated that his duties as vice chairman are to plan certain functions such as workshops and conferences, and to try to pull other Kentucky colleges into the Association.

Joyce McQueen Selected For Milestone Hall Of Fame

of the people I met through this affiliation."

Joyce is dedicated to service for Eastern. She is the senior counselor at Sullivan Hall. This is my first year as a counselor. It's wild, but I enjoy it," she stated. The closeness and bonding between Joyce and her freshman girls can easily be seen in room 101 of Sullivan. Numerous girls come in the room asking for aid with their academic and personal problems. The girls in turn helped prepare their counselor for the Prom and Military Ball.

At home on her parent's farm Joyce lives with her two brothers. There she pursues her hobbies of cooking, reading and horse back riding.

An ambitious girl, Miss McQueen has many plans for the future. In the summer she will work, as she has the past four years, at General Electric. She will teach vocational business in Versailles, Ohio, in the fall. "I can hardly wait to begin teaching," Joyce said with an anxious look.

"I would love to travel. My fiance plans to make a career of military service, so I will probably travel extensively. I'm very excited about military life," twinkled our Hall of Fame winner.

Joyce has felt the influence of others on her life. She said, "My seventh grade teacher, a graduate of Eastern, was so fabulous (Continued on page 5)

Would You Believe The 'Commentator'?

FOR SEVERAL WEEKS we have watched with much curiosity and some agitation the growth and development of an off-campus "newspaper" (and we use the term very loosely), titled the "Eastern Commentator."

We are not opposed to competition. For freedom of expression, and more mature expression to survive in this society, competition must exist. In fact, competition is one of the basic principles of our free economic society. Competitors exist and, in most instances, flourish in all areas of endeavor. But most enterprises have the satisfaction of recognition of their competition. As we have stated earlier, we are not opposed, and definitely are not afraid of competition. We would just like to know who it is.

The first issue of the "Commentator" was a humorous, to say the least, attempt in publications. At first we viewed it as something like an annoying animal that one simply ignores and soon it disappears. But this is not the case with the "Commentator." It has not disappeared.

The first two issues of the publication, while not flawless, were not entirely in bad taste and gave lip service to all these values of freedom of expression and freedom of the press that any of us that have ever associated with newspapers cherish.

The "Commentator" editors are not to be ridiculed for their efforts to produce freedom of expression. Perhaps they even realize that this freedom of expression must be coupled with responsibility to become meaningful. Their issues to date seem to reflect this attitude. But it is indeed sad that the have not the "intestinal fortitude" to maintain their beliefs in an accepted fashion. The Progress maintains an attitude that was long before developed as a basic requirement for freedom. If one believes what he states enough to state it, he should also be willing to affix his identity to his statement.

Contrary to what the "Commentator" editors might state as a valid reason for not signing their newspaper, their chances of administrative consternation are quite slim indeed. We invite the "Commentator" to stand up and be recognized as if they are proud of their efforts. We invite editors to gain official college recognition as an established organization. We do not feel that this request is severe. If they are to function on this campus and for the benefit of this campus as they seem to feel that they do, official recognition as merely a step in the progress of gaining a following among the student body. As it now stands, the "Commentator" is an object of curiosity, recognized for its novelty. Confidence in it as an instrument of accurate reporting is not included in its following.

If this invitation is not considered conducive to the over-all effectiveness of the effort, or the editor's freedoms, we further invite the editors to join forces with the "Progress." We can guarantee that their freedoms will not be violated within this organization.

The last issue of the "Commentator" reveals that it is in reality antithetical to everything for which American journalism stands. And, it might be pointed out that these frailties are not results of the lack of training of the "Commentator" staff, or the fact that it is a mimeographed publication. These faults are diametrically opposed to the very values the "Commentator" purports to endorse.

The first of these principles is "accuracy." We perhaps "remember Tom Coffey" better than anyone. It also appears that no one else remembers that, regardless of the fact it was submitted to the Progress, his letter WAS NOT a letter to the editor of this newspaper, it was a letter to the administration and so stated in its salutary line, which was left out of the "Commentator." We would like to ask the "editor" of Eastern's new paper how many times he has seen letters to the governor, president, or any official printed in professional newspapers?

Another canon of journalistic expression is never attack anyone, or any institution, on your pages, if he, or it, cannot reply on those same pages. How can anyone reply to a nameless editor?

And the "Commentator" suggestion of sending its letters to the Progress is ridiculous. How many letters to the "Courier-Journal" have been printed by the "Lexington Herald" this week?

Perpetration of rumor is also not a part of responsible journalism. "Would you believe" that a question asked someone with the answer might do more good?

We would suggest the editor of the "Commentator" invest some of his apparent meager funds to buy a book on journalism. We don't think he'll find one that says freedom of expression means that one is also free from defending that expression against someone with a contrary view.

To the "Commentator": The challenge has been made. Let us now see if you have the strength of conviction to meet it?

Congratulations For

Best 'Milestone' Ever

MONTHS OF EXPECTATION culminated this week for the Eastern student body with the appearance of the 1966 Milestone.

The largest book published yet, this year's annual contains 480 pages including 32 pages of full-color. A special feature of the book is the special 8 page section covering the granting of University status for Eastern.

The Milestone has been received this year with much favoritism. Comments range from "Tremendous!" to "Surely it can't get any better," to "I'm glad I don't have the responsibility for it." Many man-hours of labor went into the production of the annual, and the results of the effort bear witness to the dedication and determination of the editors and their staff.

The 1966 Milestone is a book to be cherished by each and every student. It is a complete and accurate account of the 1965-66 school year at Eastern. Some of the features permanently recorded by the Milestone include: growth and expansion of the college physical plant; every day activities and experiences of the students; campus beauty; student honors; campus organizations; military units; sports; classes, and special activities.

The Milestone editors and staff are to be commended for an exceptional job with this year's annual—undoubtedly the best annual in the history of Eastern.

Well, Here We Are

Spring Fever Gets Students, Profs

(ACP)—Students and professors have been sticking their academic tongues out, saying "bleah!" to the university lately, says the Iowa State Daily.

The couldn't-care-less sickness they all suffer from is not sudden or unusual, but now during the post-midterm, pre-final period it's especially pronounced. It has afflicted even the most enthusiastically resistant.

The symptoms are easy to detect. The professor looks out onto a sea of blank faces and mechanically asks, "Are there any questions over this material?" And the class sits vegetating, waiting for the professor to switch into low and continue with the next page of notes. Possibly, the funny little guy who sits in the third row might raise his hand, whether he does or not, everyone sits expectantly, waiting for him to Come Up

With Something.

A professor might try a line of attack, if he feels at all motivated, by making a distorted statement—a lie—just to get class feedback, punctuated with How-Does-That-Grab-You? written all over his face. The challenge is greeted like a fuzzy sucker.

Classroom attendance falls off by a third. Eight o'clock look like an incomplete study in sleep. Students become obsessed with Anything Unacademic. They complain of being 13 weeks behind; they say its The Weather, it's Spring Fever, it's Being Close to Graduation.

No one really cares what it is. Students settle back and gaze at the professors and the professors gaze back at the students.

Well, here we are . . .

THE INCOMPARABLE MILESTONE!

Dictionary, Anyone

Vocabulary Section Causes Consternation

(ACP)—Among the many fascinating pieces of mail delivered to the University of Richmond Collegian office within the past few weeks, including Hugh Hefner's "Playboy Philosophy" and "Fair Play for Rhodesia" literature, the prize winner must stand as "Barron's How to Prepare for the Student Draft Deferment Test," by Samuel C. Brownstein and Mitchell Weiner.

Commenting on the book in an editorial, the Collegian said:

Not stopping to wonder why we were so honored as to receive a free copy, we cannot but sympathize with those who are faced with the necessity of either passing the test or losing their student draft deferment status. The vocabulary section alone would cause consternation to a Ph.D. in English.

For example, the following section is made up of a few words from the "s" section: "The sanguine and scurrilous man, while studying sidereal bodies uttered the shibboleth to the saturnine scullion, who lived in a salubrious area and had not a scintilla of sententious, yet sardonic and sapient, remarks." In another section the student is asked to give antonyms for a number of words including clandestine, obfuscate, amorphous, apothegm, chary and abstemious.

Not to be outdone, the word relation section, where one is required to discover the relation between the first two words and then find another pair which exhibits the same type of relationship, asks the student to find the relationship between such words as chauvinist: country; cadaverous: robust; antimacassar: sofa; purloin: borrow; and peaceful: halcyon.

Any person who finds himself in the position of having to take this test is welcome to look at our copy of Barron's book. Moreover, anyone who knows every word in the book, or even 80 per cent of them, ought to be awarded the third edition of the Webster's intellect medal.

All is not lost. For those who must take the test and don't have time to memorize the dictionary, just remember that: "The proclivity to a pristine proboscis in the progenitors of the Viet Cong does not debilitate nor defalcate the contumacious, yet condign and contiguous, appurtenances."

SILENCE IS GOLDEN

Silence is golden, but in a time of crisis it can be costly. When vital issues are at stake, silence denies democracy. Our constitution guarantees freedom of speech, and this freedom should be used by every American.

Freedom of speech also carries the responsibility of first thinking clearly and thoroughly. One cannot exercise his freedom of speech without realizing that its prerequisite is responsibility, and responsibility's prerequisite is clear and thorough thinking. As the German religionist, Kleckgaard, said, "People hardly ever make use of the freedom they have, for example, freedom of thought; instead they demand freedom of speech as a compensation."

Too many people speak before thinking. They are not completely knowledgeable of what they are speaking, and therefore their views are somewhat distorted. In times of such major issues, it is most important that the American people know and understand the problems faced by our society and make well-thought decisions concerning them. When vital issues are at stake, silence denies democracy. It can signify fear, unconcern, lack of knowledge, or cowardice, but more often it indicates a man of very little faith and even less conviction.

Words are legitimate weapons of civilized men facing the issues of their times. The opinions of each man carry weight; his ideas count.

On subjects from Viet Nam to soil conservation, Americans should think and speak, relating their ideas and opinions in hopes of reaching the right answers.

Men of conviction exercise their right. The weak are not heard from.

VISTA Seeks Volunteers For War On Poverty

The action arm of the War on Poverty known as VISTA is urgently seeking college-trained persons to spend a year of their lives in a battle against the economic desperation that still grips more than 35 million Americans.

Most of the Volunteers in Service to America are young—in the 20-to-24-year-old age bracket—and of these, more than 75 percent have attended college. VISTA has found that its college-trained Volunteers have the resourcefulness and ability to fight poverty in its worst pockets for low pay, bedrock subsistence allowances, and the satisfaction of doing something for somebody else that no one has done before.

To join VISTA, a Volunteer must be at least 18 and a citizen of the United States. He can be over 80 and nobody questions how much over. After a Volunteer is accepted, he is trained intensively for a period of weeks and then dispatched to a spot where poverty has sunk deep, often generations-old roots.

Working under the general guidance of a local sponsor, most frequently with a minimum of supervision, the Volunteer discovers that his job is usually whatever he cares to make it. The job is to relieve the hurt of poverty; how much he can relieve it in a year is up to the Volunteer.

For this, the Volunteer receives $50 a month—which is banked for him until his year is up—a bare subsistence allowance, and free medical and dental care.

A Volunteer may be sent to Alaska to work with the poverty-stricken and isolated Aleuts on Kiska Island. Or a young woman Volunteer may find herself living in a six-sided hogan on a Navajo Indian reservation in Arizona where she uses her college training to teach Indian children who had no teacher before she came.

Other Volunteers are found in the migrant farm worker camps of California, Oregon and Florida. Still more have been sent back into the hard-hit areas of Appalachia and others work with the mentally ill and retarded.

The Volunteers spring from virtually all backgrounds, trades, professions and skills. Their reasons for joining VISTA are as varied as the walks of life from which they came. There are 846 of them with teaching experience and 564 have been trained in social welfare, sociology, guidance and counseling, and other social sciences.

There are those from construction and technical backgrounds and still others with experience in agriculture and farming. Another 177 come from the medical and health fields. And among its Volunteers VISTA has seven lawyers, four medical doctors, four dentists, and 19 registered nurses.

A number of colleges and universities have decided to give course credit for VISTA service. Several universities are granting a full year of academic credit for 12 months of VISTA service and it is anticipated that more than 100 theological seminars will follow suit by the end of 1966.

VISTA plans to have 3,500 Volunteers in the field this year and by June, 1967, it is anticipated that 4,500 will be working with the poor wherever they are found—whether it's a New York slum or an Alabama rural community. The Volunteers can now be found in both places.

There are no regular hours for the VISTA Volunteers. They work when they are needed, where they are needed. One young Volunteer in New York, who specializes in dealing with street gangs, finds his quarry is seldom up before noon and seldom in bed before three in the morning. He follows suit.

The Volunteers can pretty well pick the area in which they want to serve—and where. They can also set their enlistment date and the time that they leave VISTA so it will not interfere with future schooling plans.

All a person has to do to be considered is write VISTA, Washington, D.C. for an application. There are no tests to take. The Volunteers are selected for the usual reasons—emotional stability, initiative, adaptability, creativity, and perhaps most important, the ability to communicate with others. A lot of VISTA work is just quiet listening.

Glenn Ferguson, the Director of VISTA, said recently: "We're looking for the college trained who are tough enough to take it and sensitive enough to do something about it. So far, we have been most fortunate."

General Jackson's Saber On Display

A Confederate saber believed to have belonged to General Thomas ("Stonewall") Jackson, was loaned to the Military Science Department, for display during Armed Forces week.

The saber was loaned to the College by Mason S. Jackson of Richmond, whose family came from Virginia. The sword, Jackson said, was given him by his father; family tradition has it the weapon belonged to "Stonewall."

Along with the sword, a photograph of a Jackson portrait which hangs in the United States Military Museum at West Point, New York, makes up an Armed Forces Week display in the lobby of Alumni Coliseum.

Armed Forces Day is Saturday, May 21.
Professor of Military Science at Eastern is Col. Everett N. Smith. Loan of the sword came about through Lt. Colonel Thomas Harris, who is a neighbor of Mason Jackson.

Instead of a sit-in, teach-in, or bleed-in, Eastern student organizations have scheduled a stick-on for today from noon until 5 p.m.

EKU decals, which arrived this week, will be affixed, free of charge, to rear windows of student and faculty automobiles at five different points today beginning at 12. Students may drive their automobiles to either of these locations: Martin Hall parking lot, front of Todd and Dupree halls, or front of Student Union Building.
Faculty may have decals applied to their rear window by leaving their cars unlocked in either the Administration Building lot or the University Building lot, with a note on the front windshield; or at either of the three student locations.
Students or faculty desiring the decals are requested to remove any old decals from their rear window of their vehicles.

PROGRESS ON SPORTS

with Jim Wiehbrink

WRESTLING BEING DROPPED AT EASTERN

Intercollegiate wrestling has been dropped after three years of successful competition, so announced Athletic Director Glenn Presnell.

Presnell stated that there were two reasons which lead to the abolishment of wrestling. The first being the difficulty of finding a coach. Former football coach Tom Harper took charge of the wrestlers last season but his lack of sufficient knowledge of this sport hindered the progress of the team as most of the work was done on an individual basis with the team members helping each other.

Last year Don Webster coached the team to an impressive 8-2 record but he along with Harper have since departed from Eastern.

The second reason cited was the difficulty in getting a workable schedule. There are many schools in the East that place great emphasis on wrestling and those matches are viewed by thousands.

These schools have been wrestling for a long time and have built power houses through stringent competition. In order for Eastern to schedule competition in this sport, great distances must be traveled. The "Big" schools in Kentucky such as the University of Kentucky and University of Louisville do not have a wrestling team not to mention any of the other schools. Morehead is the only school besides Eastern that has a wrestling team.

The Ohio Valley Conference does not have any wrestling plans as far as my knowledge is concerned, but Coach Presnell said that it would be a good idea if conference competition in wrestling was started.

It is a shame that Eastern and Morehead are the only schools in the state that took the initiative to start a wrestling program. The "big" schools should at least make an attempt to get a program started because their resources are more plentiful than the "small universities" funds.

I believe that UK, U. of L., Centre, Western, just to mention a few, should get on the ball and not fall behind the times.

The administration should get behind these programs and give it their 100 percent support. The abolishment of wrestling is a step backward rather than forward and since university status has been ratified, Eastern and the other university throughout the state should strive for progress rather than take a static attitude in this matter. Backsliding is to be pitied rather than condoned and the so called "big universities" should have followed the leadership that Eastern has shown in promoting this sport.

BODKIN DRAFTED BY CHICAGO BULLS

Eastern's all-time scoring leader Eddie Bodkin was picked as the number three draft choice by the newly formed Chicago Bulls of the National Basketball Association. Bodkin set many records in his three years at Eastern and posted a 25.4 points per game average during the past season.

Racketeers Trounce Marshall Morehead; Face Western Tomorrow

Victory was achieved twice last weekend by Eastern's tennis team as they defeated both Marshall and Morehead on the local courts.

Friday afternoon against Marshall each EKSC team member played excellent tennis. Sparky Snyder of Eastern made use of several well placed shots in the process of beating his man 6-2, 6-1.

Kent Chalfin using his strong American Twist serve easily overcame his Marshall opponent 6-1, 6-0.

Mike Jeffries turned in another fine performance as he defeated his competitor 6-1, 6-1.

Steady Steve Burley held his man to three games for each set as he outplayed the Marshall team member 6-3, 6-3. Lindy Riggins played several well controlled games in defeating his opponent 6-2, 6-1. Doug Greenburg by winning his sets 6-2, 6-1, rounded out a long line of Eastern victories.

The double's units of Eastern, Snyder-Chalfin, Riggins-Jeffries, and Greenburg-Cruise, outplayed the Marshall offerings 3-0.

The final score for the entire match was sound victory for Eastern 9 to 0.

In the return match against Morehead the Eastern Racketeers defeated them by the same score as before 9 to 0.

Acas Sparky Snyder and Kent Chalfin played outstanding games and after games as they defeated their men 6-0, 6-0 and 6-0, 6-3, respectively.

For the remaining four EKSC team members the competition was rougher as Riggins, Jeffries, Burley and Greenburg were all forced into play off sets.

Lindy Riggins opened his encounter with Morehead well, he defeated his man 6-2; but he was forced to forego the second set 6-3. Riggins, however, in the decisive third set regained the upperhand and defeated the Morehead team member 6-4.

Mike Jeffries fate was the same as Riggins.

Steve Burley and Doug Greenburg both opened their separate sets with a loss. But dogged effort on the part of these Eastern team members forced a toss upset. Steve Burley won his all important 3rd set 6-1, as did Doug Greenburg.

Tempera tiared and sweat flowed freely under a boiling sun as Eastern overcame a strong Morehead doubles teams. Sparky Snyder and Kent Chalfin finished the weekend in grand style by winning their doubles encounter 6-0, 6-4.

Lindy Riggins and Mike Jeffries in a contest that seemed to move slowly emerged as victors 6-2, 6-1. Doug Greenburg and Jack Cruise were the winners in their contest 6-3, 6-1.

This weekend the EKSC Racketeers will play two off-campus matches with David Lipscomb and Western.

Coach Kidd Gives Instructions

Coach Kidd gives Roger Prall, Jim Guice, and Ted Holcomb a few last minute instructions during the final days of spring football practice.

The Maroon and White game will be played Tuesday night at 8 p.m. in Hanger Stadium.

Intramural Trackmeet Scheduled

The Intramural department announced that a trackmeet will be held for both men and women on the 23 and 24 of May. The meet will consist of regular team competition and any individual entries.

There will also be mixed relays. For further information and entries contact Dr. Groves in the intramural office or call Miss Maupin.

Maroon And White Game Reset For Tuesday Night

The Maroon and White football game has been rescheduled for Tuesday night because of the many injuries that the team has received in the last week of practice. This break will give the players a chance to heal their wounds and the students will get to see the team in tip-top shape. The game will be played in Hanger Stadium and will begin at 8 p.m.

Pitting the offense against the defense, the title will be the second intrasquad game for the Maroons this spring. Saturday night at Cumberland the defense nipped the offense 25-20.

Scoring for the contest will be determined by the system devised by the Maroon staff last spring. The offense scores in conventional fashion, but the defense may score in a variety of ways, ranging from 10 points for an intercepted pass returned for a touchdown to one for preventing a first down.

Eastern, picked to finish near the bottom, surprised the experts last season with a 4-2-1 OVC record, and are expected to be improved over last year.

Kidd, hoping for a good turnout for the Tuesday night class, promised an exciting battle. Offensive line coach Carl Oakley will guide the offensive unit, and defensive line coach Bill Shannon will coach the defense.

Tickets are $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students. They may be obtained from any Eastern Sports Club member, or at the gate.

Golfers Take Trophy

Coach Presnell and Ken Robey display the second place trophy which was won at the Murray Invitational Golf Tournament.

Take your good time going home.

Fly half-fare on Eastern via Florida.

Florida swings in the spring—but it really swings in the summer.

Lower off-season room rates are in effect. And Eastern will take you to Daytona or Ft. Lauderdale or even Miami for half-fare.

So take a detour and enjoy it on your way home. Or go home first and down to Florida later.

Just use your Eastern Youth ID card, or similar card from another airline. If you don't have such a card, it's a snap to get one—provided you're under 22 and can prove it. For the specifics, stop by a Travel Agent or any Eastern ticket office.

Once you have your card, you can get an Eastern Jet Coach seat for half-fare. You can't make an advance reservation. But if there's a seat available at departure time, you can fly to any Eastern destination within the continental U.S. including Florida.

THE COLLEGE PRESIDENT: HIS CAUSE AND CURE

Oh, sure, you've been busy, what with going to classes, doing your homework, catching night crawlers, getting married, picketing—but can't you pause for just a moment and give thought to that dear, dedicated, lonely man in the big white house on the hill? I refer, of course, to Prexy.

(It is interesting to note that college presidents are always called "Prexy." Similarly, trustees are always called "Trixie." Associate professors are always called "Axy-Pixy." Bursars are called "Foxy-Woxy." Students are called "Algae.")

But I digress. We were speaking of Prexy, a personage at once august and pathetic. Why pathetic? Well, sir, consider how Prexy spends his days. He is busy, busy, busy. He talks to deans, he talks to professors, he talks to trustees, he talks to alumni. In fact, he talks to everybody except the one group who could lift his heart and rally his spirits. I mean, of course, the appealing, endearing, winsomest group in the entire college—delightful you, the students.

It is Prexy's sad fate to be forever a stranger to your laughing, golden selves. He can only gaze wistfully out the window of his big white house on the hill and watch you at your games and sports and yearn with all his tormented heart to bask in your warmth. But how! It would hardly be fitting for Prexy to appear one day at the Union, clad in an old rowing blazer, and cry gaily, "Heigh-ho, chapel Who's for sculling?"

No, friends, Prexy can't get to you. It is up to you to get to him. Call on him at home. Just drop in unannounced. He will naturally be a little shy at first, so you must put him at his ease. Shout, "Howdy-doo, sir! I have come to bring a little sunshine into your dreary and blighted life!" Then yank his necktie out of his vest and scamper goatlike around him until he is laughing merrily along with you.

Then hand him a package and say, "A little gift for you, sir."

"Yes, I should," you will say, "because this is a pack of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades, and whenever I think of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades, I think of you."

"Why, hey?" he will ask curiously.

"Because, sir," you will say, "though you are no longer a young blade, still you gleam and function. Full though you are of years and lumps, rheumy though your endocrines and flaccid your hamstrings, still you remain sharp, incisive, efficacious."

"Thank you," he will say, sobbing.

"So it is with Personna," you will continue. "Naturally you expect a brand-new blade to give a close, speedy shave. But how about a blade that's had hard and frequent use? Do you still expect a close, speedy shave? Well, sir, if it's a Personna, that's what you'll get. Because, sir, like you, sir, Personna is no flash-in-the-pan. Like you, sir, Personna abides."

He will clasp your hand then, not trusting himself to speak.

"But away with gloom!" you will cry jollily. "For I have still more good news to tell you of Personna!"

"How is that possible?" he will say.

"Hearken to me," you will say. "Personna, in all its enduring splendor, is available not only in Double Edge style but also in Injector style!"

He will join you then in the Personna rouser, and then he will bring you a steaming cup of cocoa with a marshmallow on top. Then you will say, "Good-bye, sir. I will return soon again to brighten your dank, miasmic life."

"Please do," he will say. "But next time, if you can possibly manage it, try not to come at four in the morning."

Prexy and undergrad, late and soon, fair weather and foul—his perfect shaving companion to Personna® Blades is Burma Shave.® It comes in regular and menthol; it soaks rings around any other lather. Be kind to your kisser; try Personna and Burma Shave.

Student Code

the committee's achievements and the values and purposes of the proposed Code.

Letters were sent to a number of other colleges and universities asking for aids and suggestions and information that could be utilized in compiling the Code. In addition, several handbooks from other institutions were consulted for ideas.

After much deliberation, evaluation, and discussion the committee was able to come together and submit concrete results for the Code, including: "The Student Creed," a summary of principles professed and adhered to by the students when they enter Eastern and accept the Code as their guide; "The Basis for the Creed," a statement explaining the Creed in more detail and setting forth, as the basis for the Creed thirteen points called "student responsibilities" and eighteen points called "student privileges," and a table of contents for the Code itself.

The Code, when completed in the fall of 1966, will contain extensive coverage of at least the following areas: the student creed, the basis for the creed, the organization and administration of the university, the Office of Student Affairs, administrative committees, the academic policies and procedures of the institution, residence hall and procedures, auto registration, and student conduct policies, women's housing policies, and social events.

Kentucky statutes and Richmond city ordinances, police relationships, the Student Court, fraternity - sorority regulations, campus election laws, and the Student Council constitution.

The committee has finalized its work on all of the above except women's housing policies, social events and procedures, the Student Court, and campus election laws. These sections are to be dealt with during the fall semester.

It is the consensus of this committee that students, as members of the University community, will benefit by living within the realms of this code. The code can better perfect a harmonious atmosphere on campus conducive to the properly balanced growth and maturation of the whole person.

It was with this attitude in mind that the committee so diligently pursued its objectives this past year, and the committee submits this report of its endeavors and accomplishments with the hope that the Code will be completed and implemented in the near future to make these things part of the reality of Eastern.

Joyce McQueen

I felt I just had to come here to college. My instructors at high school and at college have been a source of encouragement. Eastern has been wonderful. There is nothing I'd change if I had to live the four years over again. I'm pleased that I got to witness the growth of the university. Everything here has been highlights for me. Even the every day things are exciting.

The thing that keeps Joyce going and gives her the will power to go on is her outlook on life. Joyce's philosophy is "Never look too far ahead. Live each moment to the fullest whether it holds sorrow or joy. Each morning look forward to the coming day with anticipation and expectation, wondering what excitement or adventure it will hold for you."

Miss McQueen was selected for the Hall of Fame by a vote of a secret committee of faculty members appointed by the President. Nominations for the award were submitted by the senior honorees, Omicron Alpha Kappa and Collegiate Pentacle and the Student Council.

Pershing Rifles Unit Ends Drill Season

Company R-1, Eastern's Pershing Rifles Unit, under the leadership of Company Commander, H. Rick Tatum, ended the 1965-66 drill season at the Queen City Drill Meet.

The meet, held at the University of Cincinnati Field House last Saturday, allowed Company R-1 to bring back to Eastern four more trophies. This brings the grand total of 23 trophies brought back to Eastern this drill season. This is the most trophies won in any season in the history of Company R-1.

The famed "Suicide Squad," commanded by 1st Lt. George W. Quisenberry, ended its season with 6 wins and no losses. They have defeated teams from Pennsylvania Military College, Gannon College, Pratt Institute, John Carroll, Canisius, University of Dayton, and others. These are the best drill teams from the Eastern Section of the United States. As in the other meets, the Squad's sequence was the most difficult and the most precisely executed. Members of the Squad are: Mark Poole, William Brewer, Tom Thompson, Larry Wilson, David Arkman, Greg Struve, Bob Osborne, and Bruce Williamson.

The Infantry Drill Regulation Squad, commanded by 1st Sgt. Larry W. Wilson, placed second; they were only a few points behind Canisius College.

The IDR Platoon, commanded by 1st Lt. Terry N. Tallent, took a third place trophy. The Exhibition Platoon, commanded by George W. Quisenberry came in fourth in the competition.

The Meet was attended by Lt. John Hanton, the recipient of a Silver Star for heroism in Viet Nam. Hanton was Company Commander of R-1 1962 and 63.

Also attending the meet were Miss Mary Jo Rudd, Alternate sponsor; Miss Judy Green, 1st Battalion Sponsor; Miss Ruth McCann, their chaperone; and the advisors, Captain Dan McClendon and Sgt. Maj. Ivan Steele.
