Memorial Coliseum at the University of Kentucky

Pictured above is the Memorial Coliseum of the University of Kentucky, site of the 1959 State High School Basketball Tournament. Located on the Avenue of Champions between Lexington Avenue and Rose Street, the coliseum has a seating capacity of 11,400 for basketball games and 15,000 for programs in which folding chairs may be placed on the playing floor. Seating space for approximately 300 persons is provided alongside the 75-foot swimming pool. Names of the 9,307 Gold Star Kentuckians have been lettered on permanent plaques which occupy recessed wall panels in the coliseum entry ramps. Special bronze stars commemorating each University of Kentucky student who died in World War II are located in the coliseum concourses.

Cage Show Stimulating

NOTE: The following article appeared in the Milwaukee Sentinel March 23, 1958, after Sports Editor Lloyd Larson had attended the semi-final session of the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association's State Basketball Tournament. Mr. Larson, who has addressed National Federation meetings, is a former athlete and official and is presently president of the Milwaukee Public School Board.

When it comes to stimulating experiences, it's difficult if not impossible, to beat sitting in on a state high school basketball tournament, as I did Friday night.

It goes far beyond the enjoyable "lift" provided by the very presence of some 14,000 jammed into the Wisconsin field-house at Madison for the all-important semi-finals . . . the ear-splitting cheers and displays of tremendous enthusiasm in other forms . . . the skillful, all out performances by the youthful, well matched competitors . . . the mounting tension as the issue in each game remained in doubt until the very end . . . the showmanship . . . the drama of it all.

You look at those boys and think first of the lessons in true democracy already absorbed, without anyone elaborating the point. There is nothing like class distinction. Class only in the sense that one has more ability than another. Family economy status means nothing. There are no race, color and creed considerations. They are athletes, one and all. Teen age athletes engaged in clean, wholesome competition—significantly, in a sport of American invention.

The same spirit prevails in the stands. Even the most partisan fans, generally speaking, concentrate on being FOR their team rather than AGAINST the other. That's a wonderful thing in itself. The world needs more PROS and less ANTIS.

IMPORTANT LESSONS GALORE

Then those many other lessons which, by all odds, should serve as preparation for adult life and help make boys better citizens.

They are having brought home to them early many things which should stand them in good stead forevermore, like:

The value of teamwork . . . the one who goes it alone is extremely rare . . . nothing comes easy in life, which can be rough at times and almost without fail will be marked by ups and downs . . . nobody wins 'em all

. . . success often is based on the ability to take it . . . take it in the way of bad breaks, disappointing defeat or whatever . . . learn to live by the rules and accept decisions of responsible authority—officials in the case of basketball . . . learn to get along with people . . . teammate and opponent . . . superior or equal . . . learn that no matter who you are, what you are doing or what your physical or mental qualifications, there is always someone just as good as you or better . . . in short, nobody is God's gift to the world.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT FOR CRITICS

And you think of the critics who decry the emphasis on sports, regardless of how well conducted, in the total educational picture, and those viewers-with-alarm who inferentially at least, suggest that there is more bad than good in the youth of today.

It is apparent that our high schools have been and are doing a real job in channeling youthful enthusiasm in the right direction through the medium of sports. A good tipoff in this respect is the reduction of booing to an amazing minimum. That is indicative of sound guidance and continuing control.

The benefits of letting off steam, so to speak, should be quite obvious. Is anyone naive enough to believe boys and girls of high school age won't turn elsewhere if denied the opportunity to do so the right way? Can anyone think of a better outlet than an exciting competitive event, with solid control elements present? In fact, the day such extracurricular events are denied the youngsters also will see the creation of a problem much greater than the one that now exists.

Yes, it was quite a show, a terrific show even from a strict basketball standpoint. Naturally it was a sad blow for Shawano to be dethroned and deprived of an almost unprecedented string of three straight state titles. So it was, too, for Madison West in its intra-city duel with East. But victory finally went to Milwaukee's fine North Siders and East. And who can say, in all fairness, that they didn't deserve to finish on top!

Until the millenium is reached, and someone figures out how to have both sides win, that's the way of basketball—and life. Somebody wins, somebody loses. Either way, everybody keeps on living and should be better for it.

National Federation Meeting

The National Alliance Football Committee and the executive officers of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations met at the Hotel Monteleone, New Orleans, Louisiana, during the period of January 4-7, 1959. The K.H.S.A.A. was represented at the football meeting by Athletic Director Edgar McNabb, Beechwood High School, football clinic director; Coach Ollie Leathers, Frankfort High School, President of the Kentucky Coaches Association; and Principal Joe Ohr, Irvine High School, Secretary of the Kentucky Coaches Association. The K.H.S.A.A. was represented at the session for executive officers by President Russell Williamson and Assistant Commissioner J. B. Mansfield.

During the first meeting of the football group, which was held on Monday morning, January 5, brief reports were given by the chairmen of the standing committees. The Monday afternoon session was given over mostly to a study of the football questionnaire results for 1959. Tuesday morning and afternoon action was taken on rules changes.

Sessions for the executive officers were held on Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning. Topics discussed were: Conditioning of Athletes, Baseball Clinics, Report of Fitness Conferences, Basketball Up-to-Date, and Track and Field Developments.

Mr. Clifford B. Fagan, Executive Secretary of the National Federation, has summarized the more important rule modifications which received the approval of the football committee. His summary follows:

A CHECK-UP ON 1958 CODE: Approximately 20,000 National Alliance Football Questionnaires were distributed by the National Federation, the National Junior College Athletic Association and the National Association for Intercollegiate Athletics. Approximately 6,800 were returned and tabulated. The proportionate vote in one group differed very little from the corresponding vote in each of the other groups. This prevailed for the check-up on last season's rules as well as for possible revisions for the 1959 season.

QUESTIONNAIRE results from all sections of the country indicated a high degree of satisfaction with the changes which had been authorized for the 1958 season. The revision which reduced the length of the coaches' boxes to 30 yards between the 35 yardlines was approved by a vote of more than 12 to 1. The check-up indicated the coach-player conference permitted on the field of play during a charged time-out was particularly satisfactory, the approval vote being approximately 30 to 1. The Umpire's primary jurisdiction over timing was endorsed by a vote of nearly 4 to 1. The 1958 provisions for extending the goal line beyond the sideline when a runner holds the ball over out-of-bounds area and for having the ball become alive even when the snap is illegal were also endorsed by substantial majorities. The requirement that a Captain make any decision before a charged time-out is granted was favored by a 7 to 1 vote. 75% reported it desirable to permit A to move the ball along the proper yardline for either a snap or a free-kick following a fair catch.

Part II of the questionnaire revealed the revised interior lineman rule was of considerable assistance to Officials and that the rule itself did not handicap the offense. The desire to use fiber or hard material on the hand or forearm was reported as a continuing problem. The practice of players faking defective equipment to stop the clock, so common a few years ago, seldom caused a problem during the 1958 season.

Valuable reports made by chairmen of the various Standing Committees provided information and material upon which the Rules Committee could base action. These reports were made by Kermit Anderson of the Safety Committee, J. C. Harper of the Game Administration Committee, Lyle Quinn of the Equipment Committee, S. D. Jackson of the Research Committee and Webb Porter of the Statistical Committee. W. M. Runyon presented the official report of fatalities resulting from 1958 interscholastic competition. Several carry-over problems and new studies were referred to Standing Committees for future study and recommendations.

ABOUT PROPOSALS FOR 1959: Questionnaire returns indicated opinion was evenly divided regarding the advisability of specifying that beginning in a given year all hard material in rib, shoulder and hip pads be covered with soft material. 3297 favored the proposal while 3280 opposed it. Only 1 out of 5 favored reducing the ready-for-play period from 25 to 20 seconds. 5 out of 6 returns did not favor increasing the value of a successful field goal to 4 points. The questionnaire showed a slight majority preferred revising the kicking rule so that when a scrimmage-kick was first touched by K beyond the line, it would immediately become dead. The discussion revealed the possibility of considerable simplification by eliminating complicated situations which can arise when K first touches. These situations must now be covered in supplementary material such as the Case Book and Meeting Folders. For various reasons, the Committee did not choose to adopt the proposal but authorized additional experimentation and continued study of it. A companion proposal which would declare a free-kick dead when K first touched beyond the free-kick line received a negative questionnaire vote.

Substantial majorities endorsed the present rules coverage for: (a) equipment repair time-outs; (b) ineligible players muffing, batting or catching a forward pass while legally beyond the neutral

News About Swimming

The 1959 State High School Swimming Meet for Class A will be held in Lexington on Saturday, February 28, at the University of Kentucky pool. The meet for Classes B and C will be held at the same location on Saturday, April 4.

Class A schools will include those high schools with an enrollment of 750 or more (grades 9-12), Class B will include those schools with an enrollment between 300 and 750, and Class C will be schools with an enrollment of less than 300. Any school may enter a class above its classification.

Class A will have eleven events this year, the same number as last year. Class A swimmers may compete in only two events, including Fancy Diving. The Class A events are as follows: 400 Yard Freestyle, 50 Yard Freestyle, 100 Yard Butterfly, 200 Yard Freestyle, 100 Yard Backstroke, 100 Yard Freestyle, 100 Yard Breaststroke, Fancy Diving, 150 Yard Individual Medley, 200 Yard Medley Relay, and 200 Yard Freestyle Relay.

The method of entering teams in the meet will be the same as in past years, with the State Office supplying entry blanks to the schools whose principals have indicated that they will enter teams in the meet. The Association will make the same allowance to participants for transportation, lodging, and meals, as is given State Track Meet participants in each event. Expenses for the swimming coach will be paid if the school has as many as four entries in the State Meet.

Minutes of Board Meeting

The Board of Control of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association met at the Kentucky Hotel, Louisville, on Saturday morning, January 31, 1959. The meeting was called to order by President Russell Williamson at 9:00 with all Board members, Commissioner Theo. A. Sanford, and Assistant Commissioner J. B. Mansfield present.

Louis Litchfield moved, seconded by Jack Dawson, that the reading of the minutes of the December 20th meeting be waived, since the members of the Board had received copies of these minutes. The motion was carried unanimously.

Assistant Commissioner Mansfield reported that the advance sale of State Tournament tickets had been very fine, and that it was possible that some of the sessions would be sold out before the opening date of the Tournament.

Louis Litchfield moved, seconded by W. H. Crowds, that the following regulations concerning fees for regional tournament officials be adopted: The official shall receive a fee of $20.00 per game and a transportation allowance of seven cents per mile for all necessary travel. In the event it is necessary for the official to remain overnight at the tournament site, he shall be paid an additional $10.00 per day for lodging and meals. The motion was carried unanimously.

Louis Litchfield moved, seconded by Cecil A. Thornton, that the 1959 State Track Meet be held in Lexington on May 22-23, and that the Commissioner be authorized to set the dates and determine the sites of the other spring events. The motion was carried unanimously.

The Board approved the usual invitation to the K. H. S. A. A. dinner meeting, scheduled to be held in Louisville on Thursday, April 16, and authorized the Commissioner to send two complimentary tickets to each member school upon request.

The Commissioner reported a tie in the balloting for the tournament site in District 26 between Louisville Male High School and Atherton High School. Director Jack Dawson stated that a plan had been worked out between the two principals involved by which the tournament would be held at Louisville Male under the management of Atherton Principal Russell Garth. The Commissioner recommended that this plan be accepted. W. B. Jones moved, seconded by Jack Dawson, that the plan for breaking the tie in District 26, as recommended by Director Jack Dawson and Commissioner Sanford, be approved. The motion was carried unanimously.

Louis Litchfield moved, seconded by Cecil A. Thornton, that all bills of the Association, beginning December 20, 1958, and ending January 30, 1959, be approved. The motion was carried unanimously. The Board was then called to order in its capacity as the Board of Directors of the K. H. S. A. A. Protection Fund.

Secretary-Treasurer Sanford presented a list of claims which had been paid by the Protection Fund since December 20, 1958, the total amount of these claims being $4,259.31. Jack Dawson moved, seconded by W. H. Crowds, that the claims as presented by the Secretary-Treasurer of the Protection Fund be allowed. The motion was carried unanimously. There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

zone; (c) interior linemen of the line of scrimmage making normal non-deceptive movements after having hand on or near the ground; and (a) scoring one point for a successful point-after-touchdown try. Over 4800 of the returns endorsed the mandatory replacement of an injured player for at least one down when the clock is stopped or the ready-for-play signal is delayed for him. A majority of approximately 75% favored requiring each player to wear a face protector. 2023 (85%) would require the player to use a mouth protector.

The simplification and orderly arrangement of rules as in the National Alliance Code are, according to the questionnaire report, becoming more widely understood and appreciated.

AUTHORIZED RULES REVISIONS

Diagram Page 4: The field and equipment diagrams will show the correct placement of flexible shafted corner flags at each intersection of the sideline and goal line. The placement of both players' benches on the same side of the field will also be noted indicating that each coaches' box in such situations extends from the 20 to the 45 yardline.

1-5-1: Additional emphasis will be given to the desirability of having players wear both mouth and face protectors to ensure maximum protection.

3-4-4: The revision will make it manifestly clear that an injured or apparently injured player must be removed from the game for at least one down.

4-2-1: "The Referee" will be replaced with "An Official," making it clear any Official may cause the ball to remain dead when a foul occurs early enough to give reasonable chance for the whistle to prevent snap or free-kick.

7-5-6 Play (2): The first sentence of this play will be editorially revised specifying ineligible A2 is illegally downfield.

Heading Rule 9: This heading will be expanded to indicate the coverages provided by Rule 9. The heading will be: "Blocking, Use of Hand and Arm, Helping Runner."

9-6-1-Note: For the purpose of additional emphasis, the note will be expanded to direct Officials to be alert to any unsportsmanlike actions by a coach during the course of the game or during an intermission. The rewrite will require Officials to penalize promptly whenever there is unsportsmanlike conduct.

Rule 10-5-1: The article will be rewritten to the effect that a penalty measurement cannot take the ball more than half the distance from the enforcement spot to the offending team's goal line. If the customary or ordinary distance penalty is greater than this, the ball is to be taken half-way from the enforcement spot to the goal line.

Official's Signals: Signal 2 (Illegal Procedure) is to be used to designate illegal forward handling of the ball, Signal 6 (Delay of Game) will include "Crawling."

Summary of Penalties: Add as item 16 to list of 15-yard penalties: Pushing Runner, Interlocked Interference—9-1-2—Signal 20.

Official Play Rulings: Page 89, Rule Book 6, number 18. The second sentence of the ruling will be revised to state the penalty is automatically declined because the foul is during an advance for a touch-down.

ACTION ON INTERPRETATIONS

1. The Committee confirmed the following interpretations:

a. It is illegal coaching from the sideline to toss a tee onto the field to the offensive team unless the tee is requested by a player.

b. It is legal for a substitute to carry a tee into the game.

c. There is no infraction if a tee brought into the game is placed on the ground and not used for a kick.

d. A loose ball touching a properly-placed flag shaft is out-of-bounds from the end zone.

2. The removal of Play 409A from the Case Book and Play 31 from Installment II of the 1958 Early Season Football Questions was authorized.

GENERAL

1. It was voted to include the following items in the 1959 football questionnaire:

a. Do you favor placing the goal post crossbar on the goal line?

b. Should ineligible be permitted to move downfield as soon as the pass is in flight rather than when it is touched?

c. Is it desirable to include as part of the playing rules a method of determining a winner if a regular game ends in a tie?

2. A motion to authorize the referee to make an equitable adjustment when a ball becomes dead because of an inadvertently blown whistle was thoroughly debated. It was suggested that "in such circumstances, the handicapped team be given the opportunity to replay the down." There was agreement it would be difficult in most situations to determine which team was actually handicapped. The motion was defeated.

3. Restricting the use of kicking tees for free-kicks only was proposed but subsequently voted down by a substantial majority.

4. A proposal to start the clock when a free-kick is touched was discussed but received only limited support because if it were adopted, it would doubtlessly be inadvisable to start the clock in case of a short free-kick. Therefore, any revision to eliminate possible present and future abuses would require the clock to start when R touched the ball or when the ball was touched if there were no foul.

This was not considered workable. The suggestion that the clock start when the ball was "legally" touched provoked considerable debate and there was no agreement on a definition of "legally touching."

5. Because 1 yard is such a short distance when compared with positions on the line, a motion requiring a backfield man (other than one under the snapper) to be at least 2 yards behind the line at the snap was offered. After considerable discussion concerning the possible effects of such a requirement on the systems of play now popular, the motion was lost.

6. Increased use of the slot-back to block opponents from the rear within the area of close line play (where clipping is not a foul), was reported to be causing many serious injuries. It was predicted an increasing number of offensive styles will incorporate the maneuver and, as a result, an even greater number of injuries will result. A motion requiring that player executing a block from the rear be no farther than 5 yards on either side of the snap and no more than 2 yards behind the line of scrimmage at the time of the snap was thoroughly debated but rejected.

7. A resolution for the purpose of eliminating unsportsmanlike conduct on the part of coaches and those officially associated with a team and to discourage coaching from the sideline was adopted unanimously. The Editor was directed to secure as much publicity as possible concerning this matter in all publications and to urge increased vigilance on the part of Officials from the elimination of all phases of unsportsmanlike conduct. Toward this end, the use of all publicity media as well as rules and training publications was urged.

8. The Committee authorized those states so desiring to experiment with:

a. Placement of the goal post crossbar over the goal line.

b. Rules for the breaking of tie games. Authorization for experimentation will be granted to any group requesting it with the understanding that the experimenting group will submit reports of its experience to the proper Standing Committee. The considerable discussion concerning the methods of breaking tie games was evidence that there are varying opinions concerning how and whether or not such games should be eliminated. Some feel it is necessary to eliminate tie games only in connection with the championship series, others feel total yardage should determine the winners in case of a tie score and still another group believes any tie at the end of a regularly played game should be broken by an additional score. A minority indicated that on occasion, tie games are a satisfying experience.

9. The National Federation office was directed to gather material concerning the various plans now used in several states for the elimination of tie games, to prepare a summary of these plans and to make the summary available to State Executive Officers and to members of the Football Rules Committee.

10. Motions to consider legal football pants which carry a cleat cleaner and a hand glove with plastic cover were both lost by very substantial majorities.

11. A resolution commending the Official Sports Film Service for excellent service in preparing football film strips was unanimously approved. The development of a film strip library in which one strip would cover free-kick situations, another scrimmage-kick situations, another forward passes, another illegal passes and another positions at the snap was recommended. It was suggested individual strips could be produced as time permitted in cooperation with the National Federation.

12. By resolution, the Committee requested a tentative agenda including the major topics scheduled to be considered by the Rules Committee and the questionnaire results be sent to members several days prior to the opening session so each representative would have an opportunity to study possible proposals before the meeting convened.

EIGHT-MAN RULES REVISIONS

Rule 3: Quarters will be increased to 12 minutes.

The Flying Dutchman

From J. D. Rayburn, Superintendent of Providence Schools, comes the following letter to the Dutchman:

We would like to nominate a student in our school (Providence High School) for the Game Guy Award of 1958-59.

He is Maurice Jenkins, sixteen-year-old member of the Junior class. In September of 1955 he was injured in a motorcycle accident. His left leg was shattered and broken. The doctor said that his leg was shattered just as a light bulb would shatter if you were to drop it on a concrete sidewalk. Now his left leg is shorter and smaller than his right leg. He has to walk on the toe or ball of his foot and limps considerably. He is still under the doctor's care and has to report to him every two months.

In the fall of 1957 Maurice reported for football practice and was on the squad for the entire season. This fall he reported for football and broke into the starting lineup before the season was over. He beat a 260-pound center out of his position.

Maurice is a member of the Beta Club. Out of a total of 16 semester grades, he has 13 A's and 3 B's. I think you could classify him as an A student. He is also a member of the school chorus.

Maurice has a very pleasing personality and gets along well with his fellow students and the faculty. So there is the description of our nomination, Maurice Jenkins, for the Game Guy Award of 1958-59.

Johnny Haynes of Henderson has recommended that the Dutchman send a Corn Cob Pipe to Coach Jewell Logan of Charleston High School, Dawson Springs, and to Billy Birdwell, Principal of Slaughters High School. According to John these two gentlemen deserve the honor for countless unselfish hours given to Kentucky youth and for outstanding courtesies to sports officials. Every time a Corn Cob Pipe goes out it occurs to the Dutchman that great men never feel great and that small men never feel small.

Basketball fever has now fully infected the Commonwealth and the only cure is an injection of top-notch school-boy basketball at the 1959 State Tournament. Kentucky has the greatest school-boy spectacle this writer has ever seen. It's a show that belongs to Kentucky and is dignified by hard play, fine displays of sportsmanship, and a tolerance between coaches and officials rarely seen any place.

MAURICE JENKINS

It's interesting to watch the new crops of outstanding athletes take the floor in the University of Kentucky's colossal colosseum. It is gratifying to us Kentuckians to watch the fight of these kids who will soon be our leaders. Good sound philosophy is developed in our state meets. The kids learn to keep facing the wind and fighting. Every school boy competitor should study the following philosophy before this year's tournaments.

A tramp when asked his philosophy replied: "I turn my back to the wind." That's probably why he was a tramp. Following the line of least resistance is what makes rivers and many men crooked. A man cannot drift to success.

In contrast consider the words that Captain MacWhit spoke to his mate in Joseph Conrad's immortal tale of the sea, "Typhoon." In the midst of a great storm, MacWhit said: "Keep facing it! They may say what they like, the heaviest seas run with the wind. Always facing it. That's the way to get through."

The trees that face the winds on the coasts become the straightest and tallest. From them are made the masts and spars of sailing ships. The scrubs grow in the protected valleys. Strength and power are built up through facing resistance.

"Keep facing it" is a good motto for today. There is no sense in kidding ourselves; wishful thinking must go. Whether the going is rough or smooth we can't turn back. We must keep plowing ahead into the storm. As we go in, facing whatever comes, we will grow in endurance and courage. We will win because we deserve to win.

Good school boy philosophy reflects good school leadership. Dave Longenecker is high in his praises of the outstanding manner in which the Fern Creek invitational basketball tournament was conducted. In his third year of officiating this tournament, Dave says that he is amazed at the improvements and refinements added each year. He praises the hospitality and the spirit of fellowship which prevails over everything else. Kay Niman, Fern Creek Principal, may well take a bow for the reputation he is making for his county in the administration of this tournament.

As we go to press the welcome news has come in that Cliff Fagan, Executive Secretary of the National Federation of High School Athletic Associations, and Johnny Carrico, popular sports writer of the Courier Journal, are leaving their hospital beds and are well on their ways to complete recoveries. Two finer gentlemen never lived. Their recuperation is the best news we could write.

The telephone has just rung. Kenny Arnold, one of the state's leading basketball officials, was inviting the Dutchman to speak at the annual Falls Cities Basketball Officials Association Banquet in March. Each year about two dozen such calls come in for athletic banquets and commencement speeches. The Dutchman regrets that he cannot accept them all. Due to the pressure of his park and recreation job he must limit his speeches. His policy has always been to accept the first three commencement and the first three sports calls coming in.

We live in a competitive world and it is important that our young people learn to compete vigorously on all kinds of athletic teams. It is a grave mistake, however, to overlook that a time will come when age will forbid strenuous team competition. Unless we start placing strong emphasis on sports which have a "Carry-Over" value into later life, these youngsters face a dim future as spectators. Spectator interest is to be desired but good mental health in later years requires that recreational outlets, adaptable when the body functions slow down, be provided.

So it is that more emphasis must be placed all over the state on such sports as golf, swimming, bowling, hunting, and fishing. This summer the Dutchman played golf with a man 80 years of age who out-walked him all over the course and was living happily because he had learned a sport that had a strong carry-over value. In the thrill of team combat we must not forget the individual.

The Dutchman closes out this column with a little more of Foster "Sid" Meade's quotes: "If it costs a dollar to keep a friend, keep the dollar. If it costs a friend to make a dollar, keep the friend."

Postscripts on Athletics

The statement is frequently made that athletics, especially football and basketball, are incompatible with good scholarship and that they lower the standard of scholarship for both the participants and the general level of the school. Research does not bear out these statements as in all of the statistics which this writer has been able to locate in this area, the conclusion points to just the opposite.

Several Master's theses have been written in the area as to whether students participating in athletics have their academic grades increased or decreased through this participation. In every thesis the conclusions have been the same; that is that the grades made by students who participate in athletics are higher while they are participating in athletics than when they are not participating in athletics. Regardless of whatever reasons that might be presented, the records show that students participating in athletics do better while they are engaging in athletics than when they are not participating in athletics.

Overall Grades

The statement that the general academic level of the student body as a whole is lower during football or basketball season is not justifiable in the light of research on this matter. This writer has not been able to locate any specific data relating to this specific factor as related to overall student grades; but semi-scientific studies made over a selected group of high schools indicate that grades for the overall student body are as good, perhaps a little better, when a school has a good athletic season, regardless of whether it is in football, basketball or baseball.

There are so many factors involved in the overall student averages that to say that any one factor affects the entire student body to such an extent that it causes a markedly lower student academic achievement is very indefensible from a scientific viewpoint.

Good Students

Typical of the fact that football does not interfere with the academic achievements of athletes is illustrated by a typical state championship football team this year, the Angleton "Wildcats." Out of eleven starting players, eight belong to the National Honor Society, and the co-captains, Randy Curson and Bill Schweinle, are rivals for valedictorian of the senior class for this year. The Angleton group has been given as an illustration not because the same is not true of most other championship teams but because the facts happened to be available on the scholastic ability for this team.

For the Record

Throughout this past autumn, we have had the usual spate of magazine stories deploring the overemphasis of football. Soon it will be basketball that is on the pan; one author has already taken the entire state of Indiana to task for giving high school basketball the status of a "folk art." The premise of virtually all the overemphasis stories is that football (or basketball) is incompatible with good scholarship.

Not True

But the idea that sports have had a pernicious influence on scholastic standards is ridiculous on its face. Only a few students play the taxing team sports—and the incentive for these few to stay off probation in order to remain eligible for the big games must be great. For the rest, if Johnny can't read, it is because he hasn't learned phonetics in the second grade. If he can't write, it is because the "true-false" question has replaced the essay in his classes. And if he can't apply logic and realism to the problems of economics and politics, it is because his text books have ceased to tell him that things operate by natural, not political law.

Confused

For my sins, I have read a goodly number of economics textbooks. Most of them offer hodgepodge of mutually contradictory theories. Inflation, for example, is deplored—but the political actions which make for inflation are considered necessary and right. Caught between the incompatibles of the textbooks, the student often loses all contact with a cause-and-effect world.

Lifelike

In football, this does not happen. On the playing field a cause is always demonstrably followed by an effect: if a backfield man misses his signal, or starts moving too soon, the result is an unholy mess. Day after day, on a hundred fields throughout the autumn, such things as the relationship of the input of energy and skill to the output of successful achievement get their inexorable demonstration. There can be no fudging, no faking, no disregard of fundamentals, no daydreaming, if one aspires to play on a well-organized and well-drilled football team.

Values

In short, athletics teaches many valuable things, ranging from discipline to the proper adaptation of means to ends. Stupid boys don't get on in football; the game is too complex for that. As for the coaches? Unprotected by academic "tenure," they must deliver, too. Far from being overemphasized, football may be the schools' most enduring contact with the world of discipline of sharp thinking, of a demonstrable connection between what one puts into a thing and what one gets out of it at the other end. Let's have more of it.

The 1959 Track and Field Rules

RULES REVISIONS, most of which are of a minor nature, are outlined in the new edition of the Track and Field Rules Book.

RULES 2-2: The meet director should designate a Head Judge of the Finish, a Head Field Judge, a Head Inspector and a Head Timer.

RULES 2-3: No new record can be established if there is a tailwind in excess of the stated maximum at any time during the performance. This makes it necessary for the operator of the wind gauge to make continuous observation. Heretofore, it was common practice to read the wind gauge once near the time of the performance.

RULE 3-11: If the watch hand is between dial marks, the lower reading is used.

RULE 8-4: A baton may be of any type of material provided weight and size are as specified in the rules.

RULE 9-1: Jumpers are prohibited from wearing a shoe which contains any type of spring or which has a sole of a thickness greater than 1/2 inch.

For distances of less than 100 feet, the smallest unit of measurement shall be 1/4 inch. For distances of 100 feet or more, the smallest unit of measurement will be 1/2 inch.

RULE 9-6: After throwing the discus, the thrower must leave from the rear half of the circle. This is similar to the shot put requirement.

SITUATION RULINGS: New or revised situations include: 56; 541; S41 (a); S52 (c); and S59(c). These are designed to assist in matters such as when a runner may move toward the pole in a mile relay, the circumstances under which it counts as a trial even though a pole vaulter's feet do not leave the ground and the right of the Games Committee to require use of implements provided by them.
