FOREWORD

"Beauty is truth, truth beauty—that is all Ye know on earth, and all ye need to know."

"Ode on a Grecian Urn"

—JOHN KEATS

AND SO IN EDUCATION WE PURSUE TRUTH. The method of science, the art of communication, the philosophy of history—these are the truths we learn.

The green earth with its infinite resources; the classic buildings with their tall, still columns; the queen's smile with its glowing warmth; the fiery determination of a football player; the tradition of Kentucky's mountains and lakes—these are the truths we see.

All these constitute the charm, the spirit, the life of Eastern. Without them the campus is lifeless—these are the truths we feel.

Combined they are the foundation of Eastern's beauty.

College is a gathering-place for those who wish to pursue education, and the busy Eastern community provides a perfect setting for living and learning.

The pageantry of a coronation, the sweet bliss of a pastoral ode, and the elegance of the Parthenon; a bejeweled crown, a velvet green tree, a columned porch—these create the setting. We, the students, play the parts, and revise the plot each day as we grow in knowledge and experience.

Inward joy and excitement bursts into a smile on every queen's face, whether she be queen of the campus or queen in the eyes of that special person—the delight is equally thrilling.

Construction keeps Eastern's beauty fresh and up-to-date. Through the media of concrete, glass and brick, architects and builders create the facilities for student life and activity. In these buildings we will laugh and cry, dream and hope, succeed and fail.

The skeleton of giant Alumni Coliseum, the nearly-completed shell of towering McGregor Hall—these, too, are “the charm, the spirit, the life of Eastern.”

Football is running across the goal line, intercepting a pass, recovering a fumble, hurling helmet-first toward the ground, sweating from tension, writhing in pain. It is satisfaction in a battle hard fought and pride in a battle won.

The spirit of Eastern is evidenced in many forms throughout the year. But this spirit rises to tremendous heights on a glorious Autumn afternoon when two highly-keyed football squads battle for a championship. The air tingles even more with excitement when 3,500 high school musicians from 60 bands mass for a spectacular halftime show. . . . This is the spirit of activity, the essence of Eastern's beauty.

A thousand and one trombones . . . and clarinets . . . and drums . . . and trumpets filled Hanger Stadium with invincible sounds of music. Multicolored columns of high school musicians stretched across the field to send the strains of "My Old Kentucky Home" to proud hometowns all across the state.

On Eastern's friendly campus, informal chats dispel fear and create understanding.

Human responsibility is two-fold: we must learn the truth and we must teach the truth. Four years of our lives are spent at Eastern learning how to fulfill this obligation. All of us will be teachers. It matters little whether we teach in a classroom, in a laboratory, in a business office, or in a home. Wherever we are, all those who depend on us are our students and we must teach them truth and beauty.

Their future is in our hands. We must prepare ourselves to guide them into a life of harmony with one another.

Kentucky's enchanting hills, meadows, and streams surround Eastern, inviting a leisurely weekend sightseeing, sunning, and swimming. We leave the wooden columns of our dorms and classrooms and seek the quiescence provided by the rocky columns of a hillside, the misty columns of a waterfall, and the live columns of a forest.

Skimming across Lake Cumberland, or relaxing at Cumberland Falls, we forget the gravity of the math test, the research paper, the unbalanced journal, and the case study.

Calumet Farm, the home of many Derby winners, is part of Kentucky's legend.

Located on a grassy lawn in the heart of town, the Madison County Court House stands as the center of local government.

Richmond's churches are the foundation of truth and beauty—belief in God. Built on the site of a renowned landmark, the Christian Church is one of these.

Eastern is a part of the community which envelops it. Shady avenues and stately homes sprinkle the historic city with dignity and the tradition of the Old South is represented in all its splendor here, near which the Commonwealth was born. From the traditional elegance of the sparkling colonial courthouse to the newer, modern appearance of the First Christian Church and the Post Office, Richmond is beauty with people living in it.

The pages of history were turned back when "Echoes of the Past," a drama depicting the rich history of the County, was vividly presented in conjunction with the observance of the Civil War Centennial.

"All the earth's resplendent beauty Nature gathered here?"

And so we receive full benefit from Eastern by participating with our entire being. Only by giving of ourselves in this way, can we expect to learn about people, places and things. To learn how to love and obey, to win and lose; to learn when to be tolerant, to be stern, to be brave; to learn to defend and seek counsel—we can expect these and something more as we grow through the truths we learn, see, and feel. We can expect to live in truth and beauty.

WE CAME from cities, towns, and farms to share a life very different from any we had known before.

College teaches a daily course in social living: we eat together, and work together; we acquire the art of living with our peers and learn the responsibilities of community life.

Fall Brings Excitement and Adjustments

September 9, 1962, began like any normal Sunday in Richmond. The day was sunny and warm and there was a faint smell of autumn in the air. Then someone noticed that the traffic was heavier than usual, and, as the day progressed, it became worse. The invasion of Richmond had begun!

The whole family got into the act as students established residence on campus.

No one has the touch like mother, whether she is helping daughter with her clothes or showing son how to make his bed.

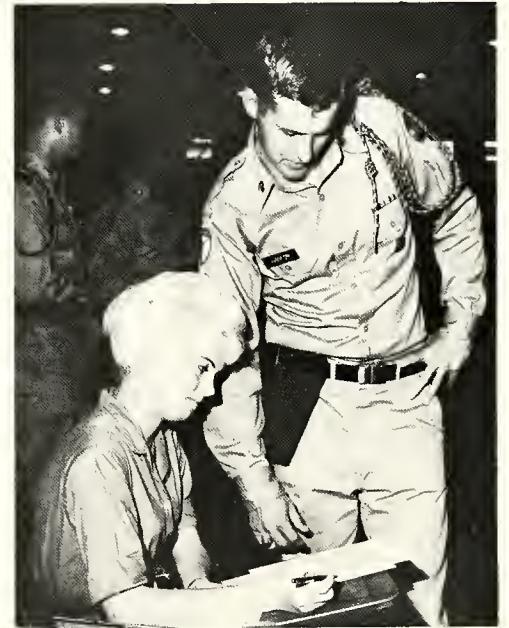

Dr. Ambrose, Dean of Admissions, talked to students instructing them in registration procedures.

Registration Proves Trying... Rewarding

Registration at Eastern meant long lines of students, schedule problems, and scores of mixed-up freshmen. Soon, however, with the aid of faculty members and older students, most of the problems were solved. When the day was over, everyone breathed a sigh of relief. For the Freshman it meant that he had officially begun his college career; for the upper-classman it meant that another step toward his ultimate goal was under way.

Students made many new friends during registration, thus easing the strain of a tense day.

Pershing Rifle men were always present helping bewildered Freshmen rearrange confused schedules.

The first week gave freshmen a taste of college testing.

Highlight of Orientation Week was the annual talent show sponsored by the YWCA in which talented freshmen entertained hundreds of their classmates and professors.

Orientation Makes Frosh Feel At Home

During Orientation Week, freshmen got to know their classmates and became familiar with the campus. They attended parties, dances, shows, and many informal get-togethers. The entire week was dedicated to the freshmen, helping them to feel at home.

Orientation Week closed with a bang on Friday night as freshmen were entertained at a dance held in their honor.

Football Dominates Fall Scene

Football was king as autumn came to Eastern. Bright fall days and enthusiastic student spirit dominated Hanger Stadium as the Maroons led the Ohio Valley Conference for the major part of the season, posting a fine 7-3 over-all record and tying for the conference championship.

Eastern gladiator, Jamie Keller, watched from the sidelines as teammates carried on the battle.

Richie Emmons, Maroon gridder injured in Eastern's first tilt of the season, joined teammates in practice.

These are the lethal weapons of the Maroon football team—the hands that passed and caught the ball with skilled precision.

A KYMA pledge took time out from cheering during half time.

Campus Hums With Student Activity

For those who enjoyed the great outdoors, Eastern's beautiful tree-filled campus provided a lovely setting for Indian Summer exercise and relaxation.

When the autumn rains came it was warm and cozy inside. Dancing with friends and fellow students in the Main Grille helped pass the dreary days and evenings.

Two Eastern cheerleaders, Clydia Case and Minga Kenamer, screamed with delight as Eastern scored.

Cheerleaders Chosen for '62-'63

Weaver Gymnasium was the scene of cheerleader try-outs. Judges were representatives of KYMA and Student Council; the event was open to the student body.

The new cheerleaders shared congratulations as judges announced the winners.

Miss Eastern reigned over the dance held in her honor in the Student Union Building.

Student Votes Elect Miss Eastern

Miss Eastern, the official representative of the college at various functions throughout the year, was elected by a campus-wide vote early in the fall. She was pert blonde Jo Ann Conley, a senior from Paintsville, Kentucky.

Students worked on decorations for the dance which was sponsored by the MILESTONE.

Lovely Jo Ann couldn't believe she really had been elected Miss Eastern for 1962-63.

Band Day Is Biggest Ever in Kentucky

Eastern had its biggest parade ever on Band Day. Featured were some sixty bands composed of about 3,500 musicians from all parts of the Commonwealth.

After the parade, tired band members gathered in the Martin Hall parking lot for a chicken dinner furnished by the college.

Visiting bandmen cheered the Maroon gridders to a victory over visiting East Tennessee.

Grillology is Favorite Pastime

Students relaxed in the Main Grille with music and dancing.

The Main Grille, located at the center of the campus in the Student Union Building, was a popular meeting place during students' free time.

Crazy costumes were the word as Sigma Tau Pi, the fraternity for commerce majors and minors, initiated pledges.

Eastern is Building for the Future

Looking ahead could well be the theme for Eastern's comprehensive building program. In anticipation of a greater enrollment, the program has been expanded to meet the needs of the future. The changes taking place may mean inconvenience today, but the Eastern student of the future will be studying in one of the most modern institutions in the South.

Combs Hall, newest addition to the men's dormitory facilities, was completed and occupied in the spring. The hall was named for Mr. Earle B. Combs, veteran member of the Board of Regents.

Beautiful, modern McGregor Hall, located at the west end of Hanger Stadium, was the most recent women's dormitory to be completed. Named for Thomas B. McGregor, member of the Board of Regents, the new dormitory is air-conditioned throughout.

Eastern went up, up, up! Giant areas of construction were readily visible from all parts of the campus.

"Around the World" Welcomes Grads

Homecoming queen candidates were introduced to the public at the annual Alumni Dance on the eve of the Homecoming festivities.

Crowds line the streets of Richmond as Eastern displayed the biggest Homecoming parade in her history.

Returning alumni, along with undergraduates, took a world voyage at the 1962-63 Homecoming festivities. The trip was taken aboard the good ship KYMA, and the global travelers viewed, among other splendid sights, London's Big Ben, Holland's wooden shoes and windmills, the pyramids of Egypt, and the ever-beautiful Statue of Liberty.

Versatile undergrads turned into carpenters, designers, and artists overnight as the work reached the final hours.

Hundreds of students worked night after night building floats and preparing for the big day.

Intricate and difficult designs were a part of many of the floats. Students devoted many hours in order to make them the finest possible creations.

Gloria Elliott was crowned Homecoming Queen of 1962-63 in colorful pre-game ceremonies. The new queen received a congratulatory kiss and a crown from Wendell P. Butler, Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The enchanting rhythm of the Roy Sharpe Orchestra was featured at this year's dance.

Amid lovely fall decorations of red, gold, and brown, Eastern alumni and students enjoyed the traditional Alumni Dance.

Thousands Watch as ROTC Parades

Precision drilling and colorful exhibition of military maneuvers marked Eastern's second annual Military Day. Led by the color guard, the 1,200-man brigade passed in review at the all-important Eastern-Morehead game.

Sponsors turned out in full dress uniform to parade with their respective units.

Approximately 1,200 cadets and sponsors marched to the music of the ROTC Band.

Snow Adds to Campus Beauty

The tranquility of a snowy morning was broken by wild laughter and excitement as students succumbed to the enchantment of the first snowfall. A race of snowmen arose all over campus only to be attacked by their creators seconds later. Serious study gave way to gay frolic as Eastern's campus was initiated into winter.

Mincing steps and toboggan-like skids seemed to be the only modes of transportation over the icy sidewalks.

Plans for sled riding in the ravine were made at odd moments between classes.

Even the bravest of coeds shied away from a snow bath in the Amphitheater.

Christmas Spirit Enlivens Campus

YWCA girls solemnly carried greens for the traditional ceremony of decorating Walnut Hall.

Christmas at Eastern means the magnificence of the Messiah, the tradition of the Hanging of the Greens, and the beauty of the Drum and Sandal Show. These events have joyously heralded the Yuletide season for many years.

The actual Hanging of the Greens in the Student Union Lobby was an inspiring scene.

The Messiah drew alumni and visitors from all over the state as participants and observers.

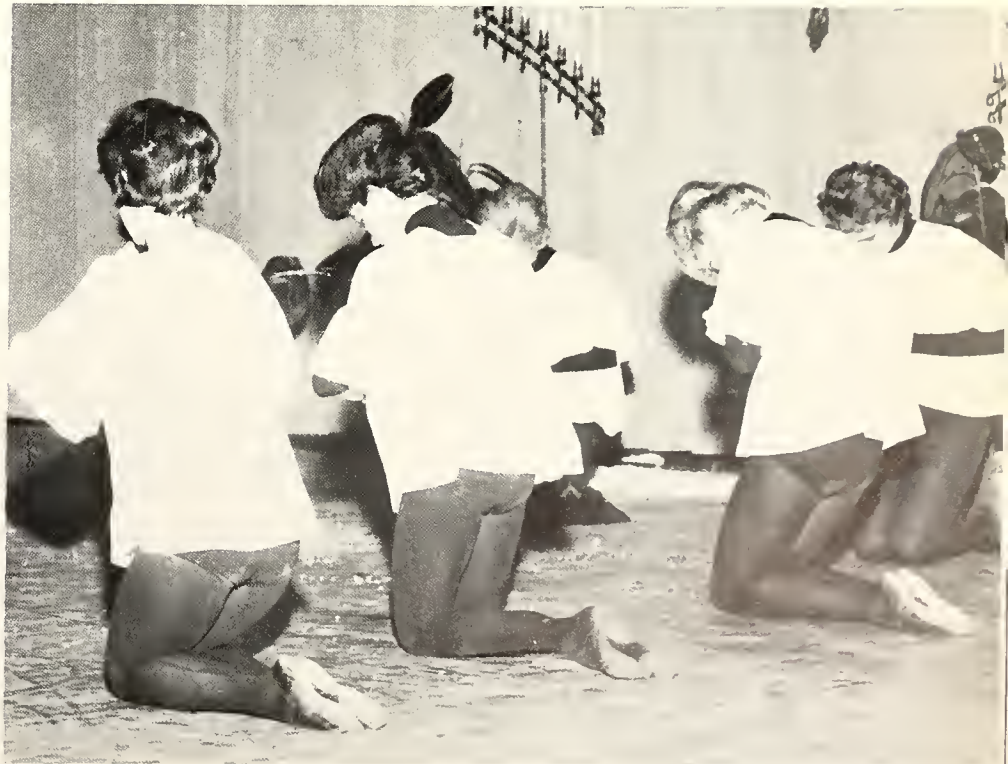

Sallie Stubbs, popular campus vocalist, was featured guest in the program.

Of course every Yuletide program must have a Santa Claus and Drum and Sandal supplied this jovial gentleman.

"Christmas Belles," presented by Drum and Sandal during assembly period, depicted Christmas by a series of interpretative dances.

Prayerful attitudes emphasized the spiritual theme of the season.

Throughout the evening, dancers admired the tinsel-bedecked Christmas tree that greeted them as they arrived.

Smiling Connie Mullins was crowned Snowball Queen by Dean Henry G. Martin at the annual Christmas dance.

The Pastels provided the music as the Queen's Court began the Coronation Dance.

The Mardi Gras Queen was chosen by chance. Balloons containing papers which indicated the queen and attendants were released and caught by the escorts of the nominees.

Bob Vickers and queen candidate Carolyn King waited anxiously to see if her balloon contained the lucky number.

Winter Holidays Are Celebrated With Dances

The winter social season starred the traditional Snowball Dance and the newly initiated Mardi Gras Dance. Both dances provided the pageantry of queens and decorations. The Snowball Dance was a warm evening in the midst of snow and cold winds. When the Mardi Gras season swept the South, Eastern was not left out. Horns, masks, and murals captured the festive mood.

Janet Ann Catlett, a Harrodsburg junior, was Queen of the Mardi Gras. Miss Catlett represented the Home Economics Club.

January Brings a New Semester

Picking up first-semester grades was the first step in the long process of registration.

January brought the New Year, 1963, followed closely by a new semester. The task of registration was repeated as students found their places in the long lines outside Weaver Health Building.

Students received special help and instructions from Eastern's Pershing Riflemen. The PR's were on duty during registration week.

Friendly personnel and faculty made the day less strenuous by helping students with their problems and giving valuable advice on scheduling.

A new addition to the Military Science Department is the counter-guerrilla raider organization. The group's purpose is to train young men in guerrilla tactics and warfare.

Eastern Boasts New Organizations

Quentin Keen, associate professor of Political Sciences, signed the charter initiating the Eastern chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, an educational fraternity.

The men of Martin Hall organized an inter-dormitory chorus. This year they gave a Christmas program, provided entertainment at basketball games, and frequently serenaded the women's dormitories with their musical talents. The chorus was under the direction of Mr. Donald Hendrickson, head-resident of Martin Hall.

Brock Auditorium Is Campus Cultural Center

The Tucson Arizona Boys Chorus established rapport with the audience the moment they walked on the stage. The 8- to 15-year-old-boys are recognized universally as "ambassadors of good will."

Senator Thruston B. Morton, promoting his political career, pointed out the advantages of "voting for the man."

Eastern has its own theatre, concert stage, and lecture hall. Hiram Brock Auditorium in the Coates Administration has been the scene of plays, concerts, and addresses by noted speakers.

The warmth and vitality of Miss Loiseau's and Mr. Gray's personalities extended beyond the stage presentation.

“Wilde Evening with Shaw” Takes Campus

Seldom has an Eastern audience responded as favorably to a worthwhile presentation as did the one which attended “A Wilde Evening With Shaw.” The play, based on the works of Oscar Wilde and George Bernard Shaw, starred Richard Gray and Mayo Loiseau. The Sir Cedric Hardwicke co-directed production was on its pre-Broadway tour.

The best received scene was “Caesar and Cleopatra.” On the light side, it offered a laugh with every line.

Other Hiram Brock Features

In his speech "Abraham Lincoln and the Political Convention which Nominated Him for the Presidency," Guy Shearer, Louisville attorney, explained the ironies that led to the "great emancipator's" nomination.

The Student Style Show featured current and future modes in clothing and hair styles.

Members of the Eastern PROGRESS interviewed Lieutenant Governor Wilson W. Wyatt following his address in assembly.

Eastern's Orchestra, conducted by Dr. Robert Oppelt, exemplifies the music department's high standard of quality.

Culture Extends To Little Theatre

The Eastern Little Theatre's production of "The Crucible" proved beyond a doubt that the theatrical organization is a vital part of Eastern's culture. Through the club, students not only view art, they participate in it.

This upsetting look is the way an ant sees the human race. Samuel Spewak's satire, "Under the Sycamore Tree," was ELT's second production under the direction of Mr. Joe Johnson.

Progress Day Is Salute to EKSC

Progress Day was an official salute to ever-advancing Eastern. It was a day of speeches and groundbreakings by educational leaders of Kentucky. With Governor Bert Combs as special guest, ground was broken for the Towers (Todd and Dupree Halls), an addition to the John Grant Crabbe Library, and a new classroom building.

Breakfast in the Student Union Building cafeteria was the official beginning of Progress Day at Eastern.

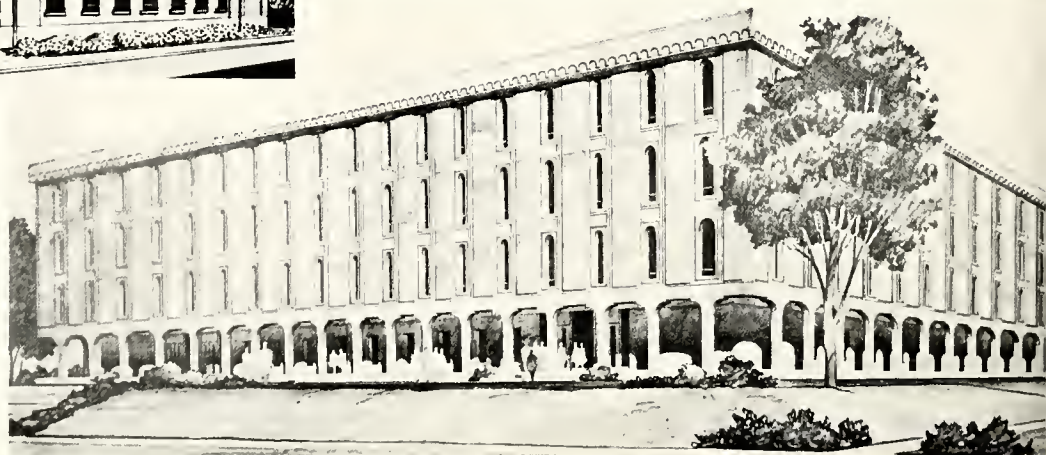

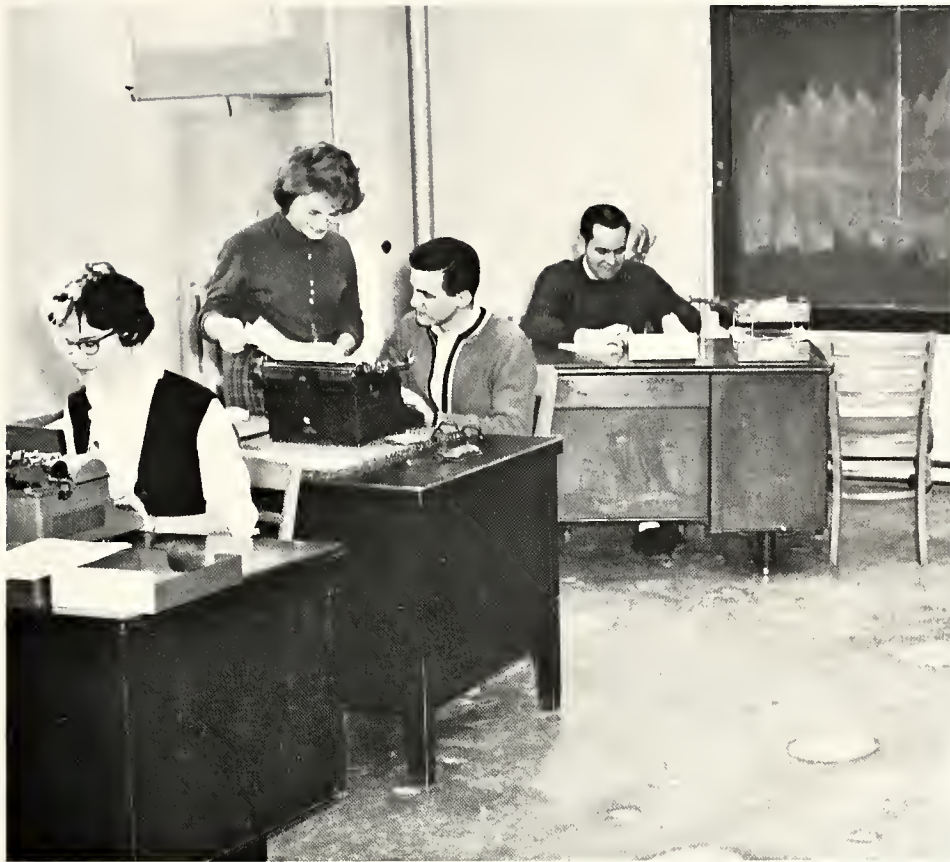

Todd and Dupree Halls, named for two members of the Board of Regents, will be located behind the Weaver Health Building.

A million-dollar addition to the library will provide more space for storage, reference rooms, and stacks.

Also to be built is the new classroom building between McGregor and Keith Halls which will house the English, Commerce, and Graduate departments.

The PROGRESS staff produced a weekly paper consisting almost entirely of student-composed stories.

Student Publications Require Time and Imagination

Eastern's Student Publications, the PROGRESS and MILESTONE, received state and nation-wide recognition. Already a proven asset, the publications demanded a great deal of time as well as imagination in order to maintain their high quality. Their purpose, however, was not only to merit esteem, but to provide the campus with current news and a record of campus events.

Photographs and copy were welded into a multi-thousand dollar publication, the MILESTONE.

Couples Take Time Out For Fun

As classes ended, students looked forward to a relaxing weekend. We exchanged books and worries for a few hours of fun with special friends. "Tomorrow," we said, "we'll worry about studying, but tonight we'll have a blast!"

A typical Eastern gentleman, Alan assists Diane with her coat as they prepare to begin their evening of fun.

Having a car available makes for a wider area of activities, and our couple took full advantage.

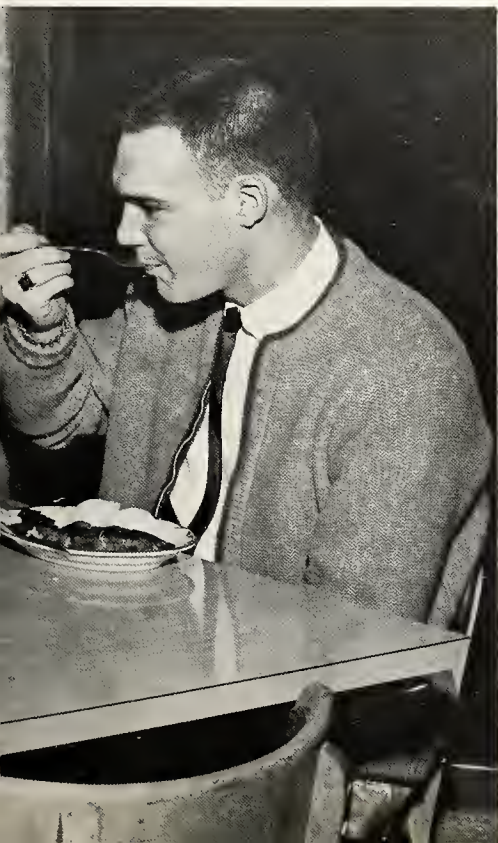

Of course Diane and Alan had to have fuel to run on, so dinner was the first stop on the agenda.

There's nothing like a movie after a fine meal; an especially good one was on at the local theater this weekend.

The end of a pleasant evening came with an especially nice "Good Night."

The Maroon center leaped desperately in an attempt to get the ball.

Wes Eads, Eastern's most loyal fan, was presented a life-time pass to all games. Of all the basketball, football, and baseball games played by Eastern's team, Wes missed only one in fifteen years.

Maroons in Action On the Hardwood

Weaver Health Building, in its last season as the basketball center of Eastern, continued to be noted for spirited teams and ardent fans. The record of victorious games and capacity crowds has made the gym a memorial to student life.

The crowd went to their feet for ovations, questionable calls, and "Hail, Hail, Eastern Maroons."

An efficient desk boy was on hand to relay messages to fellow students.

A determined player aims for the pocket.

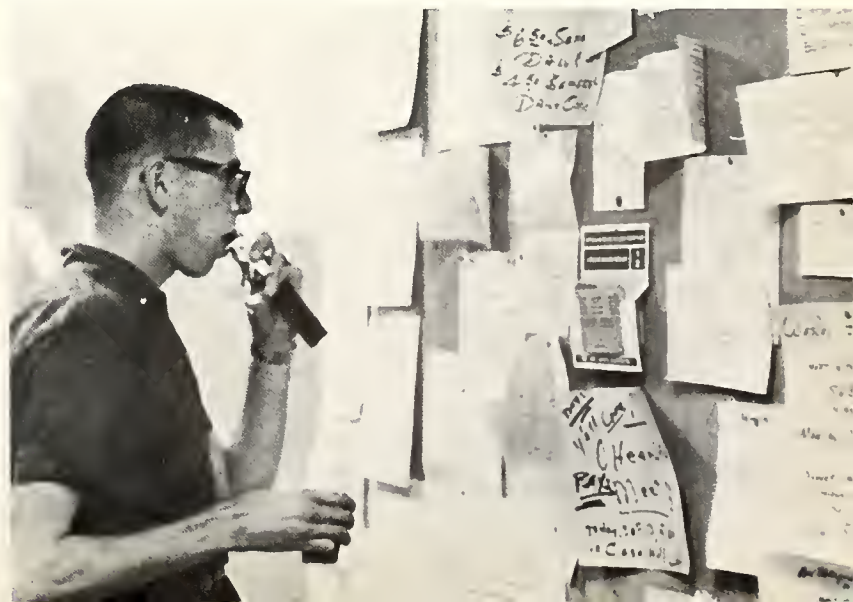

Typical of any dorm was the sight of students deeply absorbed in their studies.

Life in the Dorm Is Rewarding

Among the many activities on campus, certainly dormitory life will always stand out as one of the most exciting and rewarding. The dormitories provided a multitude of centers—centers for eating, playing, studying, and exchanging ideas.

Keeping the college student notified of events as well as opportunities was a king-size job that only a bulletin board could accomplish.

Spring Arrives

Nature outdoes herself in the spring. She re-builds the earth, giving it charm and strength. She enlivens man, bestowing him with vigor he had yet to know. He feels a desire to soak up the world around him. In spring, all things cease to exist and begin to live.

Campus Revives

Spring is the scene and season of afternoon walks, formal dances, swimming parties, and baseball games at Eastern. Located where the mountains meet the Bluegrass, our campus is the focal point of the state's famous beauty spots.

On a pleasant May day, the only roof we required was a cool archway and the only light, that of the sun.

Amid the sunshine and the shadows, we strolled along familiar paths and enjoyed the freshness of the season.

After a cold winter inside, the change of season called us to linger outdoors in its warmth.

Spring semester brings the beach season with its sunburns, bikinis, sand and picnics by the river. Meeting at Boonesboro Beach was one of our favorite pastimes.

A Sunday afternoon drive took us to Calumer Farm, near Lexington. Beautiful horses grazing in broad fields, white barns trimmed in red, and Kentucky hospitality make this world-renowned horse farm a landmark of the bluegrass region.

A popular meeting place for students was the Student Union Building Grille where we drank coffee, talked shop, learned the new dances, and met new friends. Many of the top social functions of the campus were planned here over a cup of coffee.

Dances Highlight Spring Season

Dances for all—from casual street dances to elegant balls—added sparkle to the spring season. Outstanding among these events were the Military Ball and the MILESTONE Distribution Dance.

The Military Ball was set in the splendor of an Oriental atmosphere. Formals and fans and men in uniform enlivened the scene; the coronation of Queen Athena added the royal touch.

A newly inaugurated event was the Distribution Dance, sponsored by the MILESTONE and Student Council. Year-books were given out, and between twist numbers, we wrote brief messages which personalized each book.

In keeping with the Oriental setting, a little "native" welcomed everyone to the Military Ball.

The MILESTONES and the music divided our attention at the Distribution Dance.

Passage from Eastern to the North Pacific was accomplished by donning brightly colored leis.

We paused and took a deep breath, for we were on our way to another land.

During our journey, we enjoyed refreshments and conversation American style.

Juniors, Seniors Take Tropic Cruise

The Seniors took a "Hawaiian Cruise" at the Junior-Senior Prom. "Hawaiian natives" in authentic island costumes greeted guests with traditional leis. Couples lingered under floral arches before boarding for the cruise. Time was taken out for the coronation of the king and queen and after the ceremonies their Royal Majesties and their court danced the traditional coronation waltz. The cruise was completed amid the beautiful Hawaiian scenery as we danced to the music of Barney Rapp and Company.

Their thrones were of bamboo—their castle, a little Hawaiian hut.

The excitement of our excursion was enhanced by the presentation of the court.

The John Grant Crabbe Library is Eastern's primary source of reference material. Throughout the year, students spent many hours there seeking information.

Hours of Study Lead to

"Young man, ply your book diligently now, and acquire a stock of knowledge; for when years come upon you, you will find that poring upon books will be but an irksome task."

—ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON

Laboratory experimentation combines book knowledge with practical application.

The Lamp of Learning was bestowed on the woman graduate with the highest academic standing.

Dr. Donovan spoke to an attentive audience on Men's Honors Day.

Academic Recognition

Eastern's honors program includes group honoraries and individual awards. These special distinctions are the results of concentrated study and persevering application. Yet membership in most honoraries requires qualities beyond academic achievement—leadership and dependability. All these combined constitute the well-rounded student, the student who contributes to both the academic and social heritage of Eastern.

After being called from the audience, Collegiate Pentacle candidates were initiated into the honorary.

President Robert R. Martin and Senator John Sherman Cooper led the academic procession at spring graduation.

Receiving honorary degrees at the June, 1962, commencement were former Eastern presidents, H. L. Donovan and W. F. O'Donnell, and Senator John Sherman Cooper.

Many good-byes were said as graduates left the campus for the last time as students.

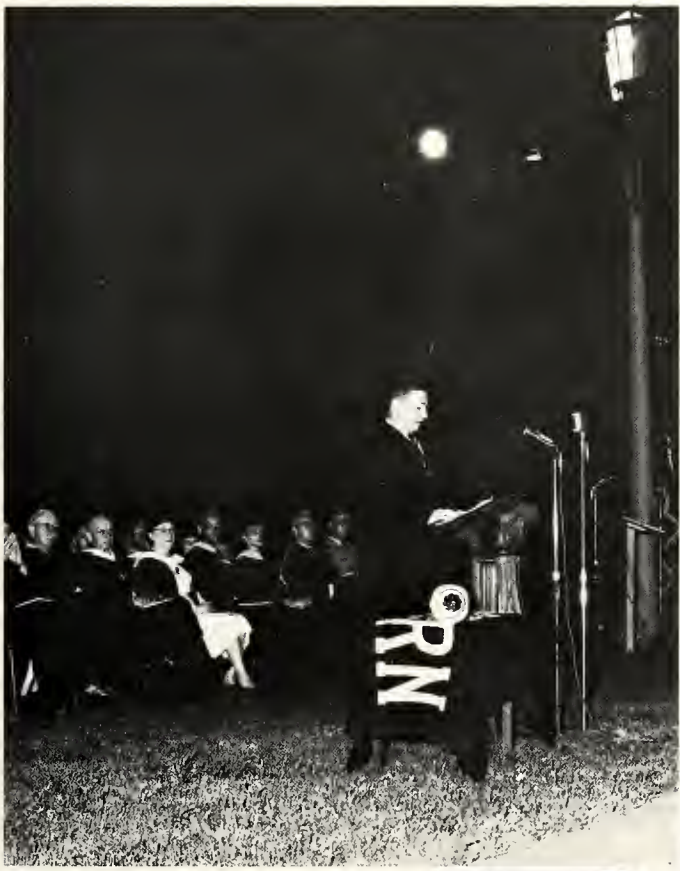

A Dream Becomes A Reality

Graduation opened the door to the future as the class of 1962 received its diplomas. Many months of hard work were rewarded as another group of tomorrow's citizens left their beloved Alma Mater.

Final adjustments had to be made just before procession time.

Mr. Ben Reeves, Managing Editor of The Courier Journal, addressed the graduating class at summer commencement ceremonies in the amphitheatre.

Alumni Enter Professions

Entertainers are vital in a society of cold wars and tension.

Eastern received acclaim this year for its lead in teacher production in Kentucky. Our program does not end here, however. Lawyers, doctors, musicians, secretaries, executives and a host of other professional people began their education on our campus. Some of them ended their formal training upon graduation, some continued at other institutions. Whichever path they chose, all saw the birth of their plans at Eastern.

Specially trained for their specific duties, dentists and nurses ease our pains and discomforts.

Pharmacists are trained to help us in problems varying from choosing our daily vitamins to compounding powerful miracle drugs.

The doctor serves mankind by healing his physical ailments.

Those who take the courtroom as their place of business are dedicated to the protection of our inalienable rights.

"Nor has the day been limited. It has a natural balance of physical, intellectual and social life. It has an easy unforced rhythm."

Gift from the Sea, ANNE M. LINDBERGH

PRESENTING us with knowledge, directing us toward our goals, and helping us understand ourselves and our community—these are the intentions of our leaders. To help us become strong leaders and understanding followers is their aim.

GOVERNOR BERT T. COMBS

Governor Bert T. Combs

A 1939 honor graduate of the University of Kentucky College of Law, Governor Bert T. Combs has directed the most rapid and progressive educational advancements in the history of the Commonwealth. Since being elected Governor of Kentucky in 1959, he has realized that only through adequate training can the youth of Kentucky become the leaders of tomorrow.

Appointed to the Kentucky Court of Appeals in 1951, he has served as chairman of the Kentucky Judicial Council.

During World War II, Governor Combs was chief of the Investigative Section of the War Crimes Department. He holds the Bronze Star and a decoration from the Philippine Government.

A frequent visitor to the campus, Governor Combs is, indeed, a great friend to education.

WENDELL P. BUTLER

Superintendent of Public Instruction

Wendell P. Butler performs a dual function to the state of Kentucky as Superintendent of Public Instruction and as ex-officio chairman of the Board of Regents.

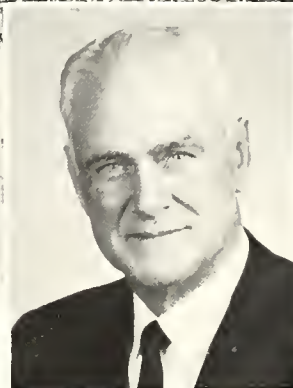

JUDGE THOMAS B. MCGREGOR is joined by other members of the College Board of Regents in laying the cornerstone for six-story McGreggor Hall, residence hall for women.

SIDNEY W. CLAY

EARLE B. COMBS, SR.

Board of Regents

Eastern has been fortunate throughout its history to have outstanding men of wisdom and forethought to serve on the Board of Regents, the governing body of the College. The present Board, as others have done, encourages expediency and efficiency in handling the many programs which help Eastern to grow in size and quality. The group is composed of outstanding men in the Commonwealth, duly appointed by the Governor.

F. L. DUPREE

JUDGE THOMAS MCGREGOR

SIDNEY W. CLAY, vice president of the Liberty National Bank and Trust Company, Louisville, is completing his first year on the Board. EARLE B. COMBS, Sr., a former Eastern student and major league baseball star, is a Richmond insurance executive and serves as vice-chairman of the Board of Regents.

F. L. DUPREE resides in Harlan where he is a businessman.

JUDGE THOMAS B. MCGREGOR, a former Circuit Judge, is an attorney in Frankfort.

WILSON PALMER, a resident of Cynthiana, is an insurance salesman and State Senator. He, too, is completing his initial year of service on the Board.

DR. RUSSELL I. TODD is a dentist residing in Richmond.

WILSON PALMER

DR. RUSSELL I. TODD

Robert R. Martin, the first alumnus to serve as president of his alma mater, has directed great advancements, not only in the growth of the physical plant, but also in the quality and quantity of instruction, since assuming duties as sixth president on July 1, 1960.

Previous positions as State Superintendent of Public Instruction and Commissioner of Finance of the Commonwealth have prepared him well to fulfill the obligations placed upon him as President of the College.

The dynamic administrator was a leader in the drafting of the Foundation Program for Education Law and worked for its enactment at the General Assembly. As Superintendent of Public Instruction, he implemented the law and as Commissioner of Finance, he supervised the preparation of the Executive Budget, which provided for the highest level of financial support for education in the state's history.

He was the recipient of the first "Outstanding Alumnus" award presented at Eastern in 1956.

President Martin is joined by Dean W. J. Moore and Mrs. Martin in laying the cornerstone for Martin Hall, named in his honor.

PRESIDENT ROBERT R. MARTIN

President and Mrs. Robert R. Martin

Community as well as campus activities play an important part in the life of Eastern's First Lady.

W. F. O'DONNELL, President-Emeritus

He Remains an Integral Part of Eastern

Dr. W. F. O'Donnell's tenure as the fifth president of Eastern, from 1941 to 1960, was longer than that of any of his predecessors. During those nineteen years, the beloved President-emeritus saw Eastern grow from a college of 981 students, in 1941, to an enrollment of 3,000, when he retired in 1960. Initiator of the early stages of the building program presently in progress, Dr. O'Donnell continues to participate in many campus activities. As Eastern continues to grow, he shall always be an institution.

Deans of Instruction

Planning the academic program of the College is the major concern of the Deans of Instruction. Responsible for directing the academic structure of the College is Dean W. J. Moore. Working with him are Associate Deans of Instruction for Teacher Education, and for Graduate Studies, and the Director of In-Service Education.

DEAN OF THE FACULTY, DR. WILLIAM J. MOORE, who has served Eastern since 1928 and has shown a sincere interest in Eastern, its faculty and students, has been invaluable to the College. Dean Moore's friendliness and keen sense of humor are great assets in helping him to solve many of the problems that face him each year in the capacity of Dean of the Faculty.

ASSOCIATE DEAN OF INSTRUCTION FOR TEACHER EDUCATION, DR. J. DORLAND COATES, son of Eastern's third president and former director of the Model Laboratory School, is responsible for selecting students for teacher-education curricula.

ASSOCIATE DEAN OF INSTRUCTION FOR GRADUATE STUDIES, DR. CLYDE L. ORR, came to Eastern from Ashland, where he served as director of the University of Kentucky Extension Center. Supervisor and adviser to all graduate students, he certifies qualified candidates for the Master of Arts degree in Education. Dr. Orr also serves as chairman of the Graduate Council.

DIRECTOR OF IN-SERVICE EDUCATION, MR. D. J. CARTY, is head of the Placement Bureau, and is in charge of correspondence and extension work. He has served Eastern since 1948.

Office of Student Affairs

Student personnel services and programs are administered through the office of the Dean of Students. Dr. Henry G. Martin, Dean of Students; Dr. Charles Ambrose, Dean of Admissions and Registrar; and Miss Evelyn Bradley, Dean of Women; coordinate the student services program. Included among the services are admissions and registration, housing, counseling, financial aid, students organizations, social affairs and health services.

Several administrators have been added to the staff this year so that an expanded program of student services could be given Eastern students.

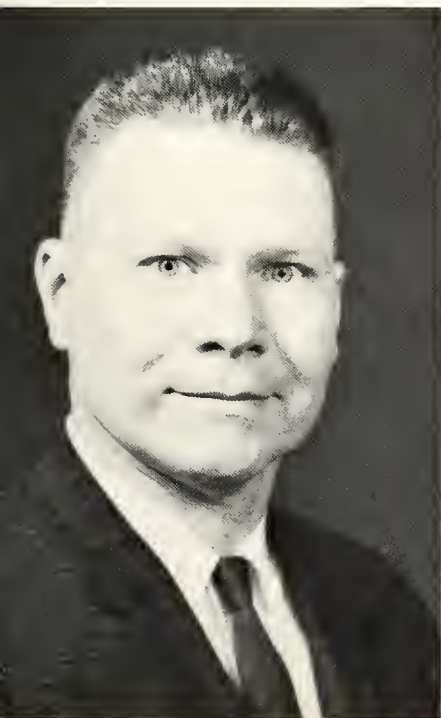

DEAN OF STUDENTS, DR. HENRY G. MARTIN, maintains general supervision over all student personnel matters. In addition to this task, his office is open to the students for counseling and guidance in their many phases of college life. Before assuming the responsibility as Dean of Students, he served as director of the Model Elementary School.

DIRECTOR OF STUDENT FINANCIAL AID, MISS LOIS COLLEY, is responsible for administering the National Defense Student Loan Program, and the Student Aid Society of the College. She is also in charge of the student employment program.

DEAN OF ADMISSIONS, DR. CHARLES F. AMBROSE, is serving his first year in this capacity. He is responsible for the development of a speedy new admission program put into effect in September. Under his direction, more rigid entrance requirements have been set up in order to help Eastern maintain higher educational standards.

DEAN OF WOMEN, MISS EVELYN A. BRADLEY, is concerned with the total personality of each of Eastern's women students. She maintains a direct supervision over their many interests and needs. Through her office, social affairs are planned and executed, high scholarship is encouraged, and counseling is provided.

COLLEGE PHYSICIAN, DR. HUGH MAHAFFEY, serves Eastern by maintaining general supervision over the College Infirmary and for encouraging physical well-being among students.

Office of Business Affairs

Due to the tremendous growth and expansion of the College and its physical plant, the reorganization of the Business Department was essential this year. This reorganization has brought about complete mechanization of business affairs. The Department provides services, facilities and equipment necessary for the academic program of Eastern to be carried on efficiently. Functions of the new Office of Business Affairs are purchasing, receiving, disbursement, accountability, and maintenance and operation of the College plants.

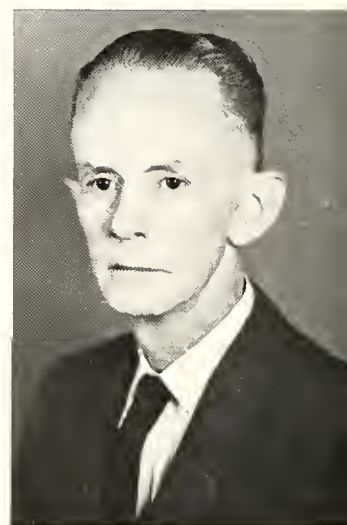

DIRECTOR OF BUSINESS AFFAIRS, Mr. J. C. POWELL, serves as general fiscal and business officer of the College and chief administrator of business functions. Prior to this appointment, Mr. Powell served as Executive Assistant to the President. Before coming to Eastern, he was Director of the Division of Records and Reports, State Department of Education.

DIRECTOR OF BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS, Mr. RALPH CONLEE, is in charge of the maintenance of the College plant and care of the grounds. The Division is responsible for campus security and certain duties concerning the architectural and engineering design and construction of College facilities.

DIRECTOR OF PURCHASES AND STORES, Mr. BILLY A. GRUBBS, handles the purchasing, receiving, and disbursement of goods to specific departments of the College. He formerly served as Senior Buyer for the State Division of Purchases.

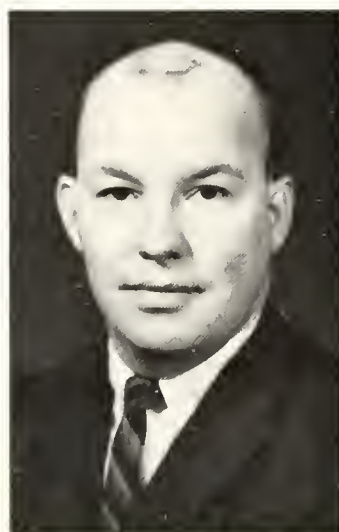

COMPTROLLER, Mr. G. M. BROCK, who has served Eastern since 1918, is responsible for the collection, accounting, budgetary control and disbursement of all funds of the College and directs the functions of the Division of Accounting and Budgetary Control, and the Cashier.

DIRECTOR OF HOUSING AUTHORITY, Mr. LARRY MARTIN, sees that housing is kept in condition to meet the needs of Eastern's students and is responsible for the assignment of quarters in Brockton.

DIRECTOR OF ACCOUNTING AND BUDGETARY CONTROL, Mr. WILLIAM F. SMITH, is specifically responsible for the accountability of all funds of the College, and participates in compiling the College Budget.

College Development

The College Development program of Eastern provides various means of communication between the College and the public. Telling the story of Eastern through mass communications media is the direct responsibility of the Division of Publicity and Publications. The College-Community Relations Director recruits worthy students and brings groups to the campus and the Director of Alumni Affairs maintains a liaison between the College and its alumni.

EXECUTIVE ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT, MR. JOHN L. VICKERS, is responsible for the college-community relations portion of the program. He introduces many prospective students and professional persons to the Eastern campus. Telling the Eastern story to the public requires constant travel, not only in Kentucky, but also in adjacent states.

COORDINATOR OF COLLEGE DEVELOPMENT, MR. DONALD R. FELTNER, directs the affairs of the Division of Publicity and Publications and coordinates the program of college development. His office is responsible for all mass communications through publicity and publications. In addition, he maintains a general supervision of student publications, the Progress, and the Milestone. He is editor of the Eastern Alumnus.

DIRECTOR OF ALUMNI AFFAIRS, MR. JAMES W. THURMAN, is concerned with maintaining a connection with Eastern graduates. He keeps the former students informed of current events in a college community of which they once were a part. Issues of the Progress and the Eastern Alumnus are distributed periodically by his office.

All English classes are located in the Roark Building, named in honor of Eastern's first president, Nevel Roark.

To prepare students to meet the demands of a technical society by teaching them to think clearly, to write effectively, and speak logically is the goal of the English professor.

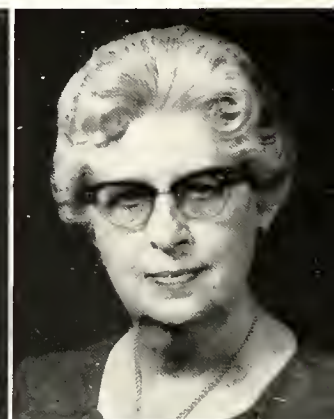

Courses in English composition and speech open the doors of communication with our fellow man—one of the greatest needs of our day. The excellent guidance given at Eastern in the study of literature and drama clarifies the way to understanding the ideas of great minds in all areas of thought.

Presenting a general art education to the Eastern student is accomplished by the Art Department. The course of study consists of the acquisition of knowledge, skill, and technique necessary for appreciation of and creativity in art. To guide one to enjoy art and to express himself through this media is the ultimate goal.

In the foyer of Cammack Building the best examples of creativity on the part of Eastern art students are displayed for the enjoyment and appreciation of the public.

Self-expression on a canvas, satisfaction in the completed work-- this is the beauty of art.

Mathematics Department Combines the Practical with the Abstract

Mathematics, one of the oldest mental disciplines known to man, underlies the logical development of reasoning in any field of endeavor. Although largely traditional in nature, the approach to mathematics has undergone radical changes in the last decade. Eastern, in recognition of the effectiveness of the modern approach, has added new courses to its curriculum.

Eastern offers majors in mathematics for prospective teachers, for future graduate level mathematicians, and for those preparing themselves for basically mathematical positions in the business world. Due to increased pressure and desire to improve instruction in mathematics, elementary education majors must take six semester hours of content mathematics designed strictly for them.

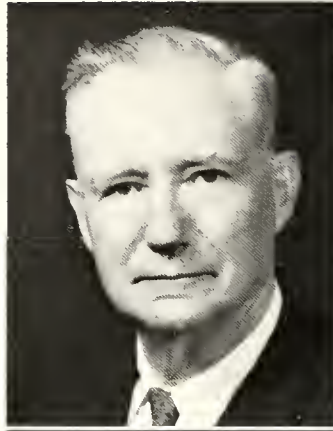

Class participation and an interesting teacher combine to make a good class.

Education Department Stresses Higher Standards in Teaching Profession

Eastern's reputation for preparing those who will direct the education of the coming generations has long been established. Future teachers, supervisors, administrators, and guidance counselors are trained by the Department of Education.

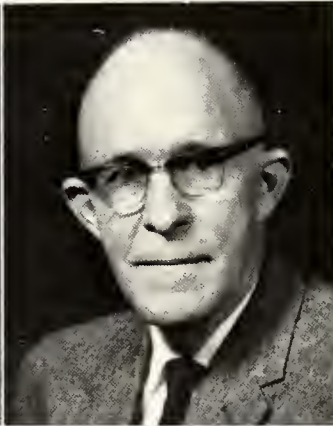

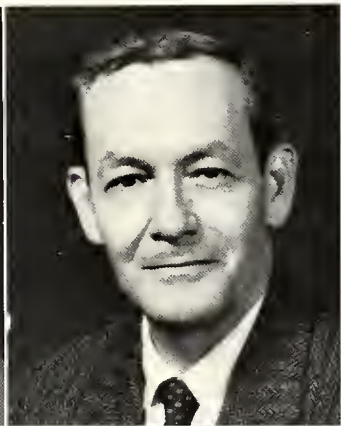

The growing need of teachers in Kentucky has brought about great changes in Eastern's teacher-training program. An evolutionary process from a Normal School to a growing college with a graduate curriculum demonstrates the desire of the Education Department to meet the challenges of this growing need.

Student teaching is that ultimate skill test before entering the professional world.

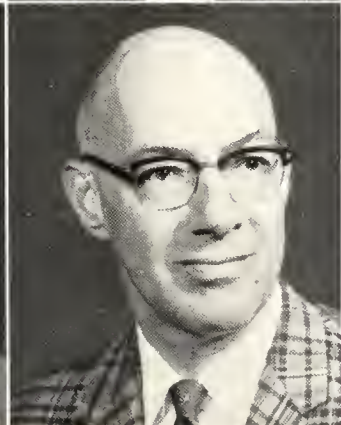

Mrs. Mabel Jennings, supervising teacher at Model Laboratory School, welcomed K.E.A. President Charlton Hummell and delegates to the annual Leadership Conference. Workshops and conferences involve many of Eastern's faculty members.

Passing years in no sense diminish in importance, but rather increase with a knowledgeable understanding of the patterns set down by history; these patterns have molded the framework of our complex world.

An eagerness to understand the problems of our own day can be satisfied by the study of sociology. From the less familiar past, the student of history may follow the development of civilization to the present. A scientific study of man and his origins is carried out by the Anthropology staff.

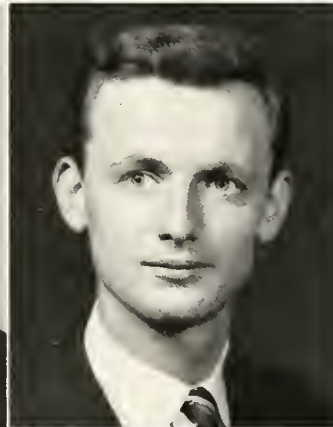

History comes alive in the hands of a skillful professor. The flying pencils attempt to capture every vivid thought.

A former history professor, a noted historian of Madison County and an author, Dr. J. T. Dorris is the curator of Eastern's Museum. After organizing the material which had been collected over the years, and upon his retirement in 1953, he established the museum which was named in his honor. The museum, formerly housed in the Science Building, is located in the basement of the newly-renovated University Building.

With a desire for his students to gain a concept of the broad field of humanities, the social science teacher approaches his classes.

With the increase of staff members in the Department of Political Science, the study of international relations, political theories, and political administration has been augmented at Eastern this year.

Dr. Dorris is proud to show Eastern students items of historical importance to Madison County and the state of Kentucky.

Eastern's Marching Maroons, under the direction of Nicholas Koenigstein, is one of the many organizations which affords musical enjoyment.

Cultivating skills in listening, creating, teaching, and performing, thereby developing an understanding and responsiveness to music, is the goal of the Department of Music.

The band, symphony orchestra, choir, and various ensembles give many programs throughout the year. The annual presentation of Handel's Messiah and the active participation of music students and faculty in Richmond's Centennial Celebration, provided entertainment and musical satisfaction for the Eastern family.

Commerce Staff Trains Personnel

Modern business and modern business practices necessitate the training of qualified personnel to fill accounting, secretarial and general business positions.

Future commerce teachers from Eastern will fit into one of the most important segments of our society by instructing young men and women in general business skills and by instilling in them a professional attitude.

Expanding Facilities Meet Growing Demand of Industrial Arts Program

Having the opportunity to use his hands as well as his mind, the student in the Department of Industrial Arts is provided practical and creative experiences. The facilities of the department have been extended into the Ault and Gibson Buildings where courses in electricity and woodworking have been expanded.

Preparing students for careers in the fields of architecture and designing, this department serves our society as it constantly builds and re-builds.

Ag Places Emphasis on Modern Techniques

A fast-moving technical society has not left the Department of Agriculture without change. Utilization of scientific methods in farming has become the rule of the modern successful farmer; therefore, the young man training for this occupation needs a solid background of facts and theories as well as practical experience.

Offering a two-year program in Agriculture, Eastern helps prepare students to become scientific farmers.

Home Economics Trains for Careers

An idea, developed with needle and thread, materializes into becoming attire.

Training young women to become well-informed and proficient professional and domestic homemakers is the primary purpose of the Department of Home Economics. Demonstration agents, dietitians, consumer guides, and home economics teachers are demanded daily.

Anticipating the time when she will have a home and family for which to care, every young woman wants to prepare herself for this responsibility. The Department of Home Economics takes great pride in training efficient homemakers of tomorrow.

In the fast-moving technological society in which we live, the sciences are of paramount importance. Through biology the student learns to understand the mysteries of life and to improve existing life. Chemistry leads the student in the study of matter and its forms; whereas physics teaches him the essence of matter. The sciences provide a systematic method of study which is used in every field of human endeavor.

Eastern's biology, chemistry and physics departments offer students both a theoretical and practical approach to their subject matter. Students are given a solid background for such vital fields as medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, medical technology, engineering, and nuclear physics. Success is denoted by the high percentage of graduates who are accepted by universities throughout the nation for postgraduate work. Graduates, however, who do no additional work at the graduate level are also in wide demand: as teachers, for government jobs, and by industry.

Five new faculty members have been added this year and thousands of dollars have been spent as these departments keep pace with the growing demands of science.

Military Science Train

Training able-bodied young men to become officers in the United States Army is the aim of the Department of Military Science.

Sponsored by the College under the regulations and supervision of the U.S. Army, two new divisions have been started this year for senior cadets, a flight-training program and a course for ranger-training. The Basic Course consists of compulsory two years' service, but the student is not obligated to enter the Advanced Course. Completion of the four-year program and the six-week summer training camp entitles him to receive a commission as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army Reserves or the Regular Army.

A vital part of the physical education program is the training of its women students. Upon completion of Alumni Coliseum, the women's athletic and physical education department will be housed in the Weaver Health Building.

To develop and maintain a sound body for a sound mind is the basic aim of the Department of Health and Physical Education. This department is striving for the maximum development, growth and adjustment of the individual. With the new Alumni Coliseum nearly completed and more qualified personnel on the staff, this aim is being fulfilled.

National emphasis on intellectual and physical development has made an impression on Eastern's P.E. Department as Eastern has assumed a responsibility in raising the physical education standards of Kentucky students by training outstanding teachers.

Animals play a major role in the radiation research being conducted by Dr. Sanford Jones.

"The highest happiness of the thinking man is to have discovered the discoverable and patiently to admire the inscrutable."

—GOETHE

Mr. Harold Robison has the unique distinction of being the one of a few persons in Kentucky undertaking precision work of hand constructing double reeds for woodwind instruments.

The heart of learning is the spirit of inquiry, represented by the sciences and arts so interfused as to constitute them in a single endeavor. The professor, challenged by the unknown which excites him and captures his imagination, pursues it until his trail leads him to the object of his search or to a new motivation. He has the mission to use his time in the pursuit of ideas, truths, and experimental thinking.

Throughout the year, various members of the Eastern faculty distinguish themselves in the fields of scientific research or in artistic achievements as they pursue truth and knowledge.

Professors are Instruments of Change and Progress

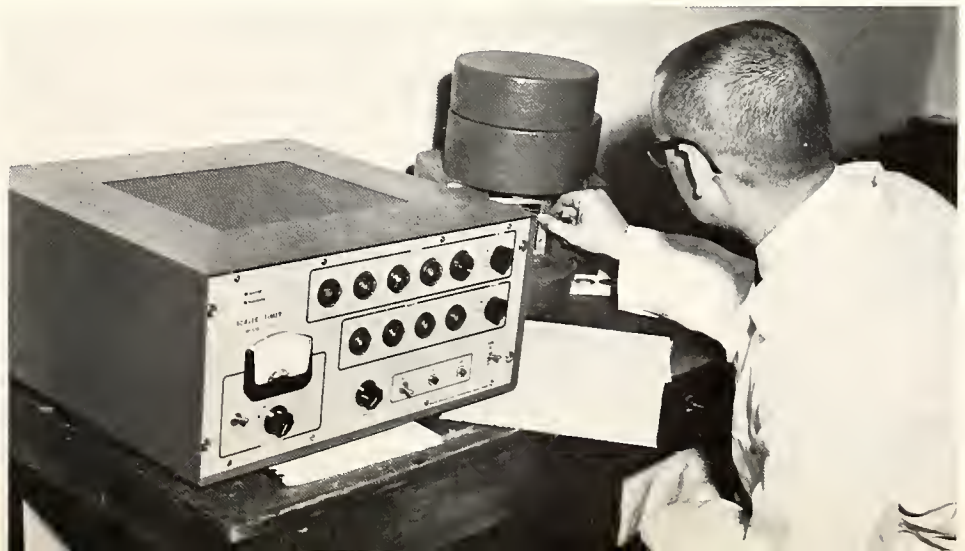

The laboratories have long been man's first area of experimentation in probing for knowledge. Six members of the Science Department are now actively engaged in research projects, which include experiments in radioactivity, nuclear research, insect control, and the study of ferns, flowers, and birds.

However, research has not been confined to the individual, for our society has increasing need also for leaders in scientific research. This involves teaching a younger generation what is now known and also, by research, extending the boundaries of the known. Grants from the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission have enabled chemistry students to participate in carefully-selected experiments, and another grant made possible the purchasing of nuclear radiation and nuclear chemistry equipment.

Like the scientist, the artist begins with an idea, whether it be in literature, music, or art. At Eastern these ideas have culminated in the publication of philosophical and of historical selections for a series of collected readings. The composition of musical scores and the use of an accomplished skill also extend the boundaries of the known. The improvement of instruments and equipment by our teachers contributes to the profession, college and society.

The student is the benefactor of grants invested in nuclear radiation equipment. This equipment, under the direction of Dr. Darrell Salyer, is used by junior and senior physical chemistry classes.

HONORS

Students Nominated For Highest Honor

For the second year the MILESTONE recognizes the outstanding member of the graduating class by bestowing upon this student membership in the Eastern Hall of Fame. Nominations for this honor were made by the senior honoraries, Collegiate Pentacle and Omicron Alpha Kappa, on the basis of outstanding scholarship, leadership, loyalty, spirit, devotion and service to Eastern.

Students nominated for this esteemed honor were Brenda Bailey, French major, Demossville; Arlene Calico, biology major, Dayton, Ohio; Barbara Sowders, English major, Richmond; John Baldwin, Winchester; William Blount, Richmond and Kyle Wallace, Somerset, all mathematics majors.

Upon studying thoroughly all available information concerning these students, a secret faculty committee, appointed by President Robert R. Martin, disclosed, "After thoughtful consideration, the committee is pleased to announce that it has unanimously selected for the Eastern Hall of Fame, 1963, MISS BARBARA ELLEN SOWDERS."

Arlene Calico, John Baldwin

William Blount, Brenda Bailey, Kyle Wallace

Miss Barbara Ellen Sowders, English major from Richmond, has been active throughout her college career. She has contributed significantly as president of Kappa Delta Pi; secretary and treasurer of Pi Omega Pi; Collegiate Pentacle parliamentarian; Canterbury Club treasurer, and a member of the Baptist Student Union. Along with being selected for membership in the Hall of Fame, Miss Sowders was chosen for membership in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges and represents the English department in the 1963 Honor Roll.

Eight Named to Eastern Honor Roll

Approved by the Board of Student Publications, the "Honor Roll of Seniors" was initiated in the 1962 edition of the MILESTONE. Believing that academic excellence should be recognized just as beauty and personality had been in former years, the board members agreed that such a distinction was in keeping with the increased emphasis on academic life, which is evidenced by the higher standards required of Eastern students.

Thirty-six Students Receive Recognition

Thirty-six Eastern students have received nationwide recognition through selection to membership in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. This national honor organization for outstanding students has been in existence since 1934.

Who's Who has become one of the most familiar honoraries in the nation, and membership to it is one of the highest and most coveted honors that a student can attain.

Students recognized by this organization are nominated from about 775 colleges and universities. The campus nominating committee, which was under the direction of the Student Welfare Committee, was instructed to consider in making its selection: scholarship, participation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities, citizenship, and promise of future usefulness.

Each member is awarded a certificate of membership by the society, and his name and activities are listed in the "Blue Book," which is published annually.

Seventy-six Rank 2.5

The complex society of today demands that the future leaders train their minds and bodies to fulfill the roles that are required in the fast-moving Space Age. According to recent studies, young people who have excelled academically have experienced greater success as leaders in business, industry, education, and related fields.

Annually the MILESTONE recognizes those students who have excelled academically by presenting them to the student body in the Honors Section. In order to receive recognition for this particular achievement, a student must have a 2.5 standing or better, and be classified as a sophomore, junior, or senior. In addition to honoring these outstanding students, the yearbook staff also presents the highest academic student in each class.

On these pages the 1963 MILESTONE presents seventy-six outstanding students who have achieved academic excellence.

Twenty-four seniors have maintained a standing of 2.5 or better. Seated: Buford Howard, Bill Eckerle, Kenneth Hoover, Bill Blount, Don Coffey, Don Landrum. Standing: Arlene Calico, Nancy Hood, Lucille Irwin, Marlene Gilliam, Barbara Sowders, Gary McBee, Kyle Wallace,

Juniors who have earned a 2.5 standing—Seated: Carolyn Hagg, Willa Mullins, Margaret McAfee, Neva Montgomery, Geraldine Spurlin. Standing: Allen Hamon, Kathleen Smith, Janice Keeton, Tommy Brown,

Junior-Senior Honoraries Offer Services

The junior-senior honoraries recognize those upperclassmen who have exhibited outstanding qualities of leadership and academic achievement.

Collegiate Pentacle, established in 1948 as the honorary for senior women by former dean of women, Mrs. Emma Y. Case, honors those young women who have attained a 2.0 standing or better and have rendered outstanding qualities of leadership, citizenship, and service to the college.

Omicron Alpha Kappa, junior-senior men's honorary, was established in 1954. The purposes of this honorary are: to recognize men students who have attained a high standard of leadership in collegiate activities, to bring together the most representative men of the departments on the campus, and to bring into close contact members of the faculty and student body of Eastern on a basis of mutual interest, understanding, and helpfulness.

Both organizations sponsor various service programs throughout the year which include the awarding of a scholarship to a deserving student, Thanksgiving baskets to needy families, the "B" average reception, and serving at various campus and community dinners.

Shipp, Robert Nightwine, Lee Hanlon, Secretary; Dr. Quentin Keen, Sponsor. Third row: Joseph Bridges, Kenton Moberly, Dwight Short, Michael Stull, Richard Laughlin, Allen Combs.

Freshman men and women students who achieve an academic standing of 2.0 or better and who portray those qualities of leadership and service during the first semester of their freshman year are invited to membership in the sophomore men's and women's honoraries. New members are recommended by the faculty and members of the organizations.

Kappa Iota Epsilon was the first men's honorary established on Eastern's campus. During fall registration the men of this organization serve the college and students by setting up information booths to aid the freshmen.

K.I.E., CWENS, Honor Sophomores

CWENS, the only national organization for women students on campus, was established at Eastern in 1945. One of the most active women's groups on campus, CWENS annually sponsors the traditional Freshman Women's Christmas Dinner.

Jointly, these organizations render services to the college and student body which include a get-acquaintance dance for freshmen during orientation week, ushering at college-sponsored events, serving at banquets, and sponsoring of worthwhile civic drives, as well as encouraging students to continue to excel academically.

Congleton, Carolyn King, Secretary; Gay Yost, Peggy Karem, Junior Advisor. Third row: Ann Fagan, Treasurer; Beverly Keith, President; Linda Nordheim, Senior Advisor; Joyce Fleckiger, Pat Keller, Janny Caudill, Myrena Jennings, Barbara Prebble, Marie Ogden, Sarah Sarles, Sandra Banks, Ann Skinner.

The purpose of Kappa Delta Pi is to encourage high professional, personal, and intellectual standards and to recognize contributions to education. The Delta Alpha Chapter was organized on Eastern's campus in 1935, and is under the guidance of Mr. Gus Franklin. Membership in this honor society is available to juniors and seniors preparing for the teaching profession who have achieved superior academic and personal standards.

Membership to Pi Omega Pi is a goal set before each student striving for excellence in the field of business education. Members of this national honorary fraternity are selected during their junior year on the basis of their leadership, scholarship, and interest in business. Pi Omega Pi seeks to create, encourage, and extend interest in scholarship; to promote the ideal of civic betterment through the practice of good citizenship; to foster high ethical standards in business and professional life, and to teach the ideal of service as the basis of all worthy enterprises.

Giles, Sponsor; Dan Blackburn, Mearl Risner.

Kappa Pi, a national honorary art fraternity, was established to honor outstanding students in the field of the visual arts. Alpha Alpha Psi Chapter of Kappa Pi was established on the Eastern campus in 1950. This is one of one hundred and twelve chapters in the United States.

As an active organization on campus, Kappa Pi sponsors art exhibits of works by graduating seniors, professors from Eastern's art department, and students of the department. The organization also engages in tours to art centers out of town, presents slides of various forms of art at their meetings, and offers their assistance to the various other organizations on campus.

Religion plays an integral part in the college community and in the lives of its residents. In order to recognize outstanding religious contributions of its students, Eastern chartered a chapter of Pi Tau Chi in 1956. Pi Tau Chi not only recognizes these campus religious leaders, but, through its members, promotes high standards of Christian character on the campus.

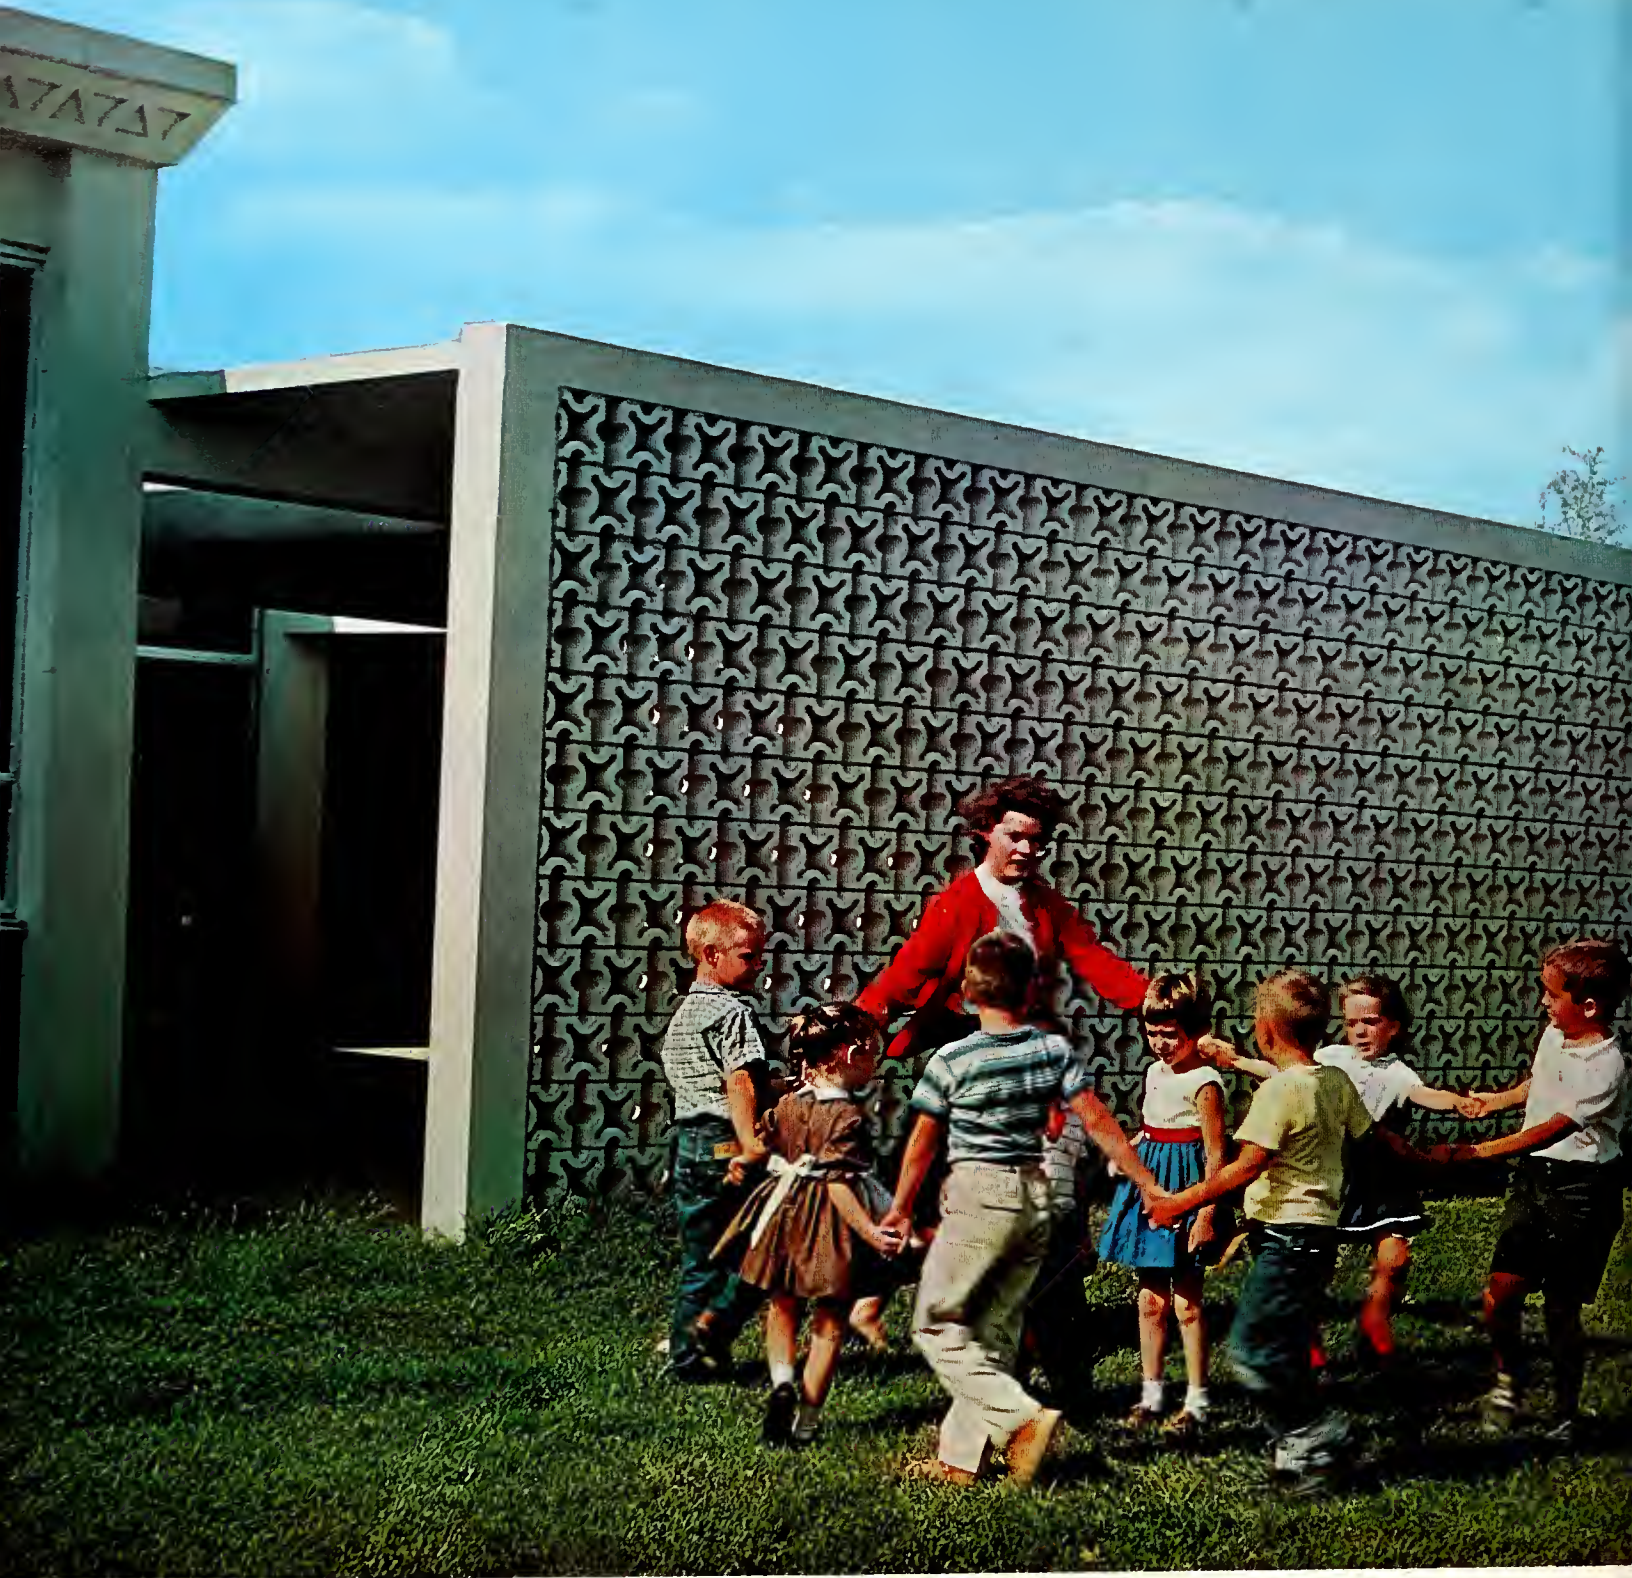

Seated: Tom Henderson, Wm. H. Poore, Robert Goodlet. Standing: Willis Parkhurst, Tommy Nichols.

Eastern's chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, a national honorary dramatics fraternity, enriches the college, as well as its members. Active and beginning members receive a liberal education in the theater through a serious literary approach to work on stage and practical experience in jobs off stage. Membership in this organization is offered to members of the Little Theatre who have accumulated the required number of activity points in some phase of campus drama.

● ARND REHFUSS

AFTER FOUR YEARS of preparation, we plunge into the world to test our knowledge and skills. Many of us have had our last formal education. What we learn in the future will come through trial and error experience. The gloom of separation disappears in the light of dreams we now hope to fulfill.

New Graduate Program Offers Thirty Hours Beyond M. A.

Eastern Kentucky State College's graduate division offers work leading to a degree of Master of Arts in Education. The graduate program is planned to meet the needs of teachers in elementary and secondary schools and to provide graduate education for supervisors, principals, superintendents, attendance officers, counselors, and guidance personnel. The Graduate School also offers thirty semester hours beyond the Master of Arts degree.

Graduate students Heasun Kim, Seoul, Korea, and Marianthi Coroneau, Cairo, Egypt, will use their new-learned knowledge to educate others. Both will be awarded the Master's degree this spring.

Dr. Clyde Orr becomes personally acquainted with graduate students through informal conferences. Linda Gassaway and Herbert Powell discuss their proposed curriculum for the Fall Semester.

Phyllis Skaggs and Ellen Harris exemplify graduate students as they spend many hours in the library preparing for tests and doing research.

THE ASSOCIATION of people with varying geographic, political, social and economic interests and backgrounds provides rich experiences that are invaluable throughout life. Campus organizations offer this opportunity as students of many kinds work together toward a common goal . . . that of giving of themselves in serving their organization and their college.

Student Council Governs

Eastern's Student Council has functioned continuously since its inception in 1955. It was formed to foster worthy traditions, encourage high ideals of conduct, promote a richer cultural experience, secure unity within our institution, cooperation, and mutual understanding and respect, and to provide a greater opportunity for the practice of democratic principles.

Major activities of the Student Council this year included governing student behavior at social events sponsored by the college, taking an active part in all student elections held on campus, organizing and sponsoring a Student Book Exchange, and continuing work toward a better constitution and a successful judiciary court.

At the end of the school year, the house council of Case Hall held an installation service in which all representatives and officers were charged with their duties for the coming year. The council promoted a friendly atmosphere and a better understanding among the residents of Case Hall.

Case House Council Charges Officers Burnam Hall Wins With Decorations

Burnam Hall, for the second consecutive year, won the beautiful trophy given by the Student Council to the dorm with the best Homecoming decorations. The dorm council initiated the idea of decorations as well as dances and other activities to help the women of Burnam Hall become better acquainted by meeting and working with each other.

Dorm Council Acts As Governing Body

Eastern's Men's Dorm Council is the active governing body of all men students in residence on campus.

The council, composed of those men in each dorm employed as councilors and the floor representatives from each section, is primarily concerned with problems dealing with the living conditions of the men on campus. Another purpose of the council is to support higher standards of conduct among all men in the effort to further the academic achievements for all.

Each year the council sponsors a drive to decorate the men's dormitory areas for Homecoming.

Math Club Holds Spring Picnic

In May the Mathematics Club traveled to the "Wilderness Road Farm" of Dr. Smith Park, head of the mathematics department, to hold its annual picnic. At this, the last meeting of the year, officers for the succeeding year were elected. Other events of the year included a square dance and Christmas party, a visit to the computing center at the University of Kentucky, initiation of new members, guest speakers, and Homecoming decorations.

The Math Club strives to stimulate interest in mathematics and its practical applications. The club goal is to help its members become proficient in the fields and areas above those of the traditional nature.

Santa Claus visited the annual Christmas party and was "ganged" by the girls. He brought everyone presents of candy.

Initiation of new members is one of the highlights of the Math Club program. As a part of his initiation, Ed Pemberton gives a talk to the club.

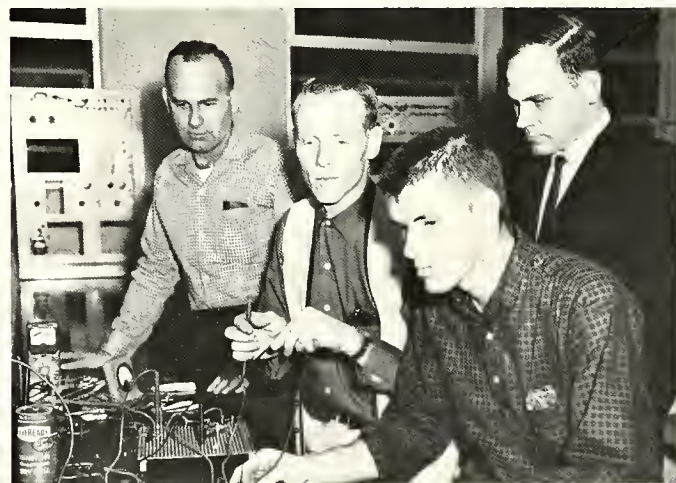

Seated: Clyde Blanton, J. C. Morrow, Willard Swinford, Dale Patrick, James T. Brown, Harold Stephens, John Thomas, William Ramsey, Don Hamilton. Standing: Gerald Orme, William Berry, Larry Elliot, William

Madden, President; James Cartmen, Donald M. Dykes, Eddie Murphy, Michael Gibson.

Iota Alpha Gamma Selects Pledges

Fifteen pledges were selected by the regular membership of Iota Alpha Gamma to undergo the initiation procedures of the club. Membership is by invitation only and admittance of the pledges is based on the successful completion of pledgship and on scholastic standing.

The first achievement of the club this year was to change its name from Industrial Arts Club to Iota Alpha Gamma. Other highlights of the year included a Homecoming queen and float, and a Christmas party.

Several club members work on an experiment in the new Industrial Arts Electrical Laboratory.

Caduceus Club Increases Medical Insight

Membership in the Caduceus Club is open to all students interested in medical services and having an above average standing. The primary concern of the club is to stimulate interest in the medical service schools and to foster good relations among Kentucky medical men and premedical service students at Eastern.

The activities of the club consist of sponsoring a dance and a movie each year, having a noted speaker at each meeting, giving an annual banquet, and participating in any service requested by the administration such as helping with the annual science day.

Customs and traditions of foreign peoples were the center of discussion at the November meetings of Cercle Francais. International problems concerning the French empire were also topics of great interest at various meetings throughout the year.

French majors and others interested in the French language constitute the membership of the club, which is sponsored by Dr. Murbach of the French department.

McCreary County Club Builds Goodwill

Students from McCreary County have joined together in the attempt to promote the welfare of Eastern through ambassadorship to their home county.

The purposes of the club are to promote friendly and social relations among students from McCreary County, to create a friendly relationship with other campus organizations, and to achieve recognition by Eastern as a promoter of goodwill.

Harlan County Club Elects Queen Candidate

Harlan County Club was only one of approximately fifty organizations on campus that elected a queen candidate and built a float for the Homecoming parade. Members of the club chose Beverly Martin to represent them as their queen candidate.

A Christmas party and Halloween dance were high on the agenda of club activities. The main purpose of the Harlan County Club is to help all fellow students from the home county to find the fun and fellowship offered by college life.

State Park Is Scene of Floyd County Club Outing

Dewey Lake was the scene of a fun-filled picnic and wiener roast sponsored by the Floyd County Club. Entering a float and queen candidate in the Homecoming festivities and sending club representatives back to talk to the seniors of their respective high schools were the most enjoyable projects of the club's program this year.

These were only a few of the activities used to build friendship and fellowship among the students from Floyd County. The membership was very fortunate to have Mr. Carl Woods and Dr. Henry Martin to sponsor the club this year.

Franklin County Students Organize

The Franklin County Club, whose purpose is to publicize Eastern in the home county as well as assist in other civic activities, was formed on campus during the 1962-1963 school year. Among the activities sponsored by the club were a wiener roast, hay ride, Christmas dance, and two bowling teams. The club's Homecoming parade float placed as runner-up in the beauty classification.

Rain did not dampen spirits of the Franklin County group at their picnic.

Cooperation of the entire club made possible a prize-winning float.

Jefferson Countians Send Members to Hometown Schools

In the spring, the Jefferson County Club sent representatives from its membership to speak to the seniors of the Jefferson County High Schools. The main purpose of these visits was to tell them about the opportunities and programs at Eastern.

This is the club's first active year since being reorganized in the spring of 1962 under the leadership of Dr. Clyde Orr. Activities of the year included "student night" in Jefferson County, a Homecoming float, a Christmas party, and other social events.

Seated: Robert Eatmon, President; Beverly Skaggs, Treasurer. Standing: David Glenn, Vice President; Terri Groves, Secretary.

Young Republicans Work In State Elections

Campaigning for the Republican Candidate for senator, Thruston Morton, was the main course of action for the Young Republican Club during the early part of the school year. Rallies, parties, and mock elections were among activities involved in encouraging the student body to participate in the Republican Campaign.

For the remainder of the year, the club strived to promote a general active interest in political affairs on the campus by featuring political guest speakers and panels.

Thruston Morton, Kentucky's Republican senator, visited the campus and talked with the students.

Several members of the club plan future programs.

Young Democrats Stir Political Interest

Young Democrats from all sections of the Commonwealth find themselves welcome at Eastern in the Young Democrats Club. The club was re-organized this year in order to support the Democratic candidates in the fall and spring elections. Their support was shown through political rallies, participation in mock campus elections, and other activities to stimulate the interest of the students. Their primary objective was to introduce to the general public the Democratic candidates and their virtues.

SNEA Regional Host to FTA

Approximately 500 high school students, members of Future Teachers of America chapters in about 30 Central Kentucky schools, were guests of the local chapter of the Student National Education Association on November 12. During National Education Week, November 11-17, the SNEA also sponsored the freshman assembly program which was presented by student teachers from the various departments.

Music Club Sponsors Clinics

The Music Club, a social non-professional activity organization, invites anyone who is interested in music to join its membership. Presenting one of the most active and enjoyable programs on campus, the club sponsors instrumental and vocal clinics, assists the Extension Division with the State Music Festival, and presents the annual spring jazz show.

PEMM Club Decorates Stadium

There are no "Butts" about it, the PEMM Club always has something different at its parties. This time somebody was the "goat" of the party.

In past years it has been traditional for the Physical Education Majors and Minors Club to decorate the Weaver Health Building for Homecoming. But this year, due to an expanding campus and construction work, the club voted to decorate the entrance to Hanger Stadium. Other club activities included family fitness night, Madison County play day, the Mason-Dixon games, a steak fry, participation in the Sabin Clinic, and an initiation dance.

The club, which is a charter member of the American Association of Health and the Physical Education and Recreation Association, strives to raise professional standards and ethics.

Intramurals Play Big Part In WRA

Look, Ma, no hands!! Tumbling is the favorite of the girls, when it comes to recreation.

Intramural sports such as bowling, volleyball, basketball, ping-pong, bridge, and tennis were the main standouts this year in the Women's Recreation Association program. WRA members served at faculty dinners, built a Homecoming float, and sponsored dances.

Recreational opportunities provided by the club are used to develop desirable physical, mental and social qualities and to promote good sportsmanship among the women on campus.

"E" Club Assists At Athletic Events

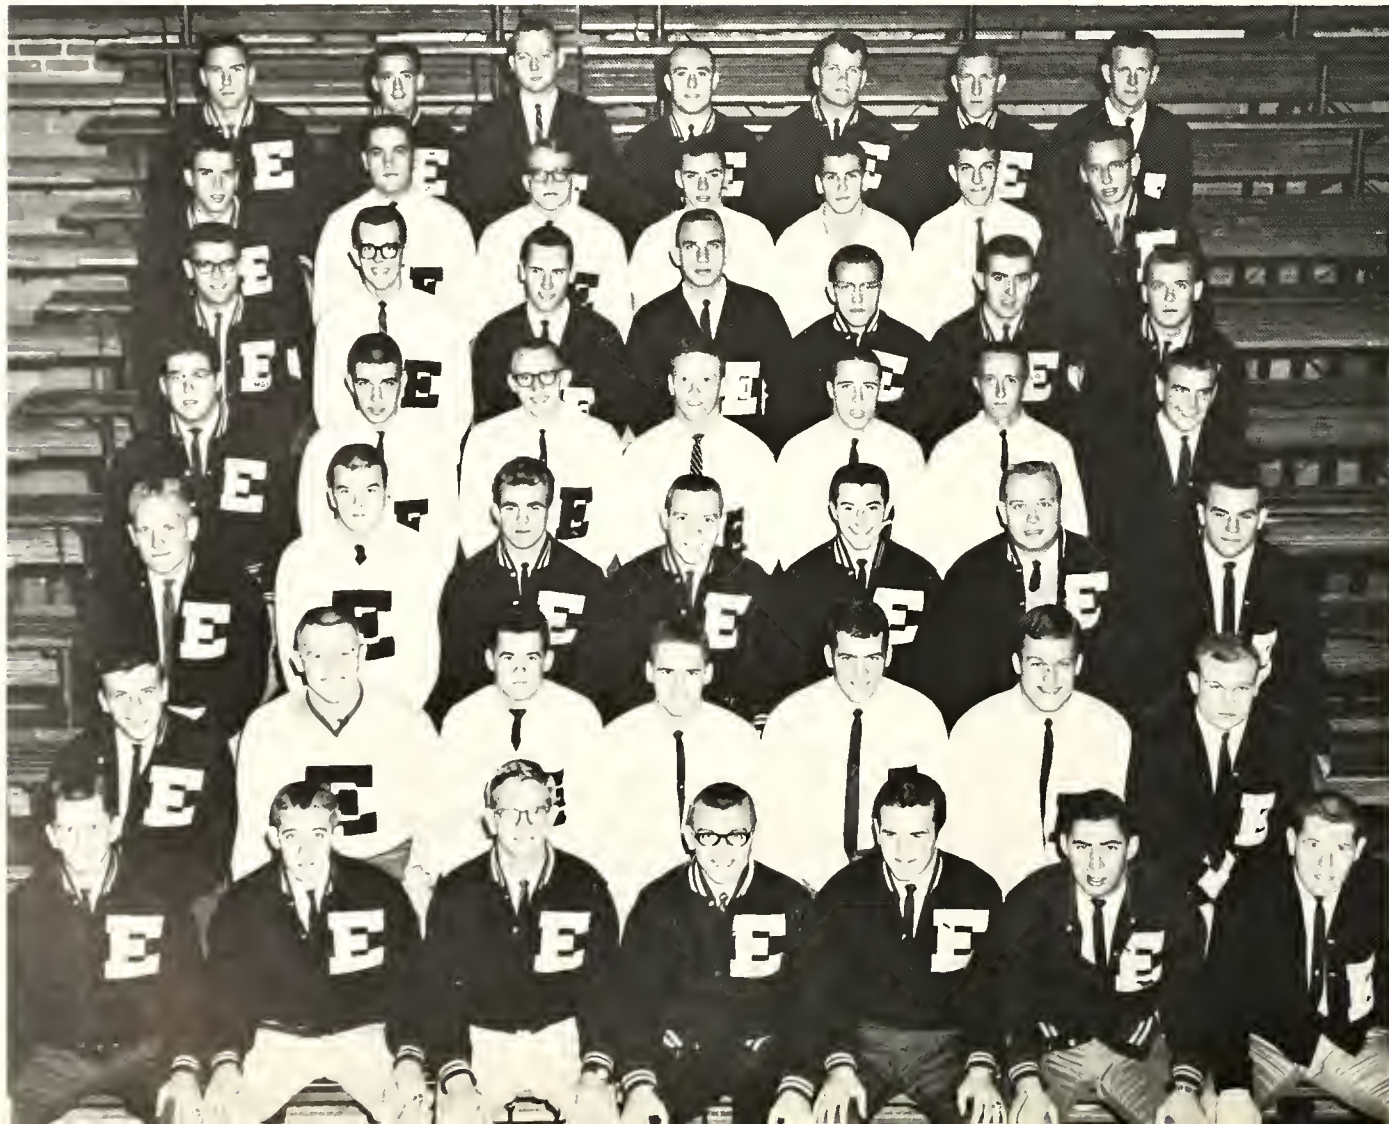

Eastern's athletes join together as an organization under the name "E" Club. Membership to the club is open to all athletes who have won letters while participating in a sports activity at Eastern. The purpose of the club is to form better relationships between the phases of the athletic program and the student body. The "E" Club further aids the school by ushering at all home football and basketball games.

KYMA Actively Supports Athletics

Indeed it is a Merry Christmas with dances such as this one sponsored by KYMA.

The cheerleaders, sponsored by KYMA, lead the Homecoming parade.

Stimulating school spirit among the students on Eastern's campus is the objective of KYMA. This is attained by active support of all athletic events. The primary function of the club is the sponsoring and coordinating of the Homecoming parade. KYMA acts as a unifying agency between the athletic department and the student body.

Field Trips Highlight Biology Club Program

The club relaxes after an interesting outing.

Undergraduate biology majors and minors who have maintained a better than average scholastic standing in biology as well as in their over-all study and graduate students who have at least a minor in biology are eligible for membership in the Biology Club. The purpose of the club is to stimulate individual and campus interest in biology, and to promote friendship and exchange of ideas among students.

Activities of the year served to combine educational experiences with social events. A weekend outing to Camp Daniel Boone, which included a study of the birds and flowers of the area, was the highlight of the year. Other major social activities included a fall outing to Adam's Cave and a Christmas party.

An outstanding social event of the year was the annual Christmas party.

India, the central theme of their float, featured Linda Wood as queen candidate.

A panel composed of Eastern's international students proved to be one of the most interesting and informative programs of the year. Topics concerning international customs and problems were presented and discussed by the panel and the club members. Other meetings featured guest speakers, panels, motion pictures, slides, picnics, and a Christmas party. The club sent representatives to the regional World Affairs Convention and entered a queen candidate and float in the Homecoming parade.

Dr. Kennamer, head of the Department of Geology and Geography and sponsor of the club, often led the group in informal discussions.

International Students Are W. A. Guests

The foreign students are from many different countries. Jairo Riano, Colombia; Belgin Danisman, Turkey; Mohsan Nazari, Iran; Ayako, Masuda, Japan; Heasun Kim, Korea; Sang Il Shin, Korea; Emiko Ando, Japan; Marianthi Coroneou, Egypt; Yasumasa Matsumoto, Japan; Ichiro Igarashi, Japan; Tawfig Chihade, Syria; Gisela Herdler, Germany.

Commerce Majors Initiate New Members

"Circle, circle on the walk, I hope I soon run out of chalk!"
Three Sigma Tau pledges go through the paces of initiation.

Sigma Tau Pi is the student organization for commerce majors. The purpose of the organization is to bring commerce students together for discussion on topics of major interest in the field of economics.

Activities of the club include having speakers from the business world, building a float for the Homecoming parade, and holding a banquet and picnic at the close of the school year.

Canterbury Club Stimulates Writing

Dr. Grise discusses the importance of English with some students at the Chocolate Hour.

Plans for the 1963 Belle Lettre are the main points of discussion, as President Ronnie Wolfe presides over a monthly meeting.

Students above the sophomore level, majoring or minoring in English, are invited to membership in the Canterbury Club, providing they have an above average scholastic standing. It is the purpose of the organization to stimulate creative writing, through the Belle Lettres, and to create an over-all interest in English.

Among the activities of the club this year were the Chocolate Hour for Freshmen, the presentation of an award to the senior graduating with the highest academic standing in English, the Presley M. Grise award for the best prose selection in Belle Lettres, and the Roy B. Clark award for poetry in this publication.

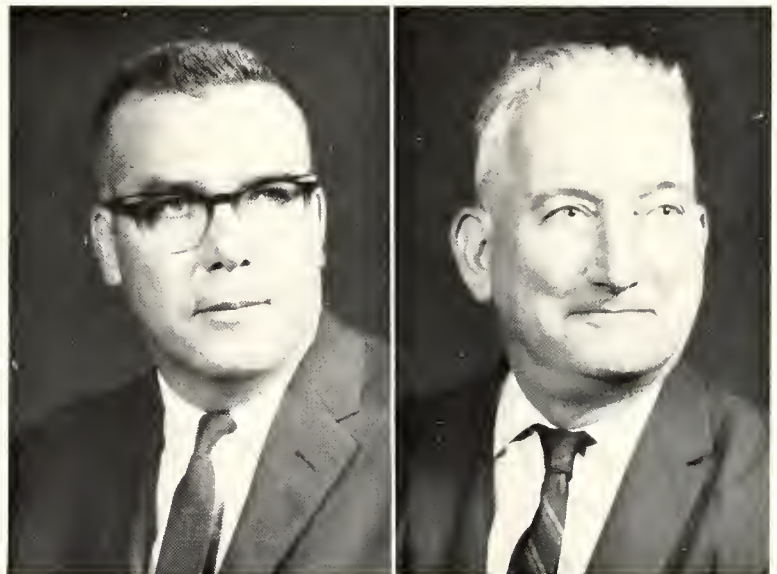

Belles Lettres Has Spring Publication

BELLES LETTRES, a student publication sponsored by the Canterbury Club, is published once each year and contains only student writings. The sole purpose of the book is to give deserving student authors an opportunity to present their own composition to the student body and the general public. As a publication of student writers, BELLES LETTRES is highly regarded by many colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Editor Melva Groot and Assistant Editors Mary Ann Nelson and Marleen Shaver, look over a few of the many short stories and poems submitted for publication in this year's BELLES LETTRES.

Dr. Rhodes and Mr. Mankin not only sponsor BELLES LETTRES, but also proofread the short story selections and offer advice concerning the writings.

Big Sisters Greet Freshman Women

New students relax as they make new acquaintances with the help of their "big sister."

Freshman women are greeted by their Big Sisters upon arrival on the campus. The Big Sisters introduce the new arrivals to fellow students, and escort them through the various activities of Freshman Orientation Week. With these first contacts, impressions and thoughts concerning college life are formed.

The Big Sisters program is a service of the YWCA, and serves as an aid to help each girl in adjusting to college life.

Everyone is happy as they clear room reservations with the housing office.

Sigma Chi Mu Plans Holiday Programs Retreat Highlights Westminster Program

Westminster Fellowship, the Presbyterian sponsored group for college students, began the year with a retreat to the mountains and a summer conference in Tennessee. Westminster strives to promote Christian fellowship among students of all denominations through such activities as youth work, Tuesday night suppers, hikes, a Thanksgiving Banquet, and a fellowship meeting every Sunday night. Spiritual education and growth are the main goals of the group's program.

Wesley Foundation Presents Worship Program

The Wesley Foundation float, depicting England and her Queen, won the prize for beauty in the Homecoming parade.

Approximately once every month, Wesley Foundation sponsored a deputation trip to a nearby community, where they presented various worship programs in the local Methodist church.

Student devotions and Bible study groups were the central themes encouraged by the Foundation in order to promote the spiritual enrichment of all students on campus. Wesley also provided students with fun and fellowship through parties, picnics, retreats, Christmas caroling, and conferences.

B. S. U. Members Attend Convention

Lexington, Kentucky, was the site of this year's annual Baptist Student Convention. Seventy-five members led by Larry Pacey, President, and Dwight Lyons, BSU director, converged upon Lexington with the determination to return to Eastern with a greater understanding of the meaning of religious principles and their application to everyday living.

Other religious functions included daily devotions at the center, Young Women's Auxiliary, monthly newspapers, retreats, banquets, and special mission projects. The BSU also sponsored an excellent choir which sang for the worship services in various Baptist churches throughout the state.

New Church Provides DSF New Home

With the completion of the new First Christian Church, the Disciples Student Fellowship for the first time in thirty-eight months had a permanent meeting place. The new church made it possible for the organization to once again carry on activities such as Sunday morning and evening programs in an atmosphere of worship.

The purpose of the DSF is to provide Christian fellowship to the students throughout their college careers.

Newman Club Studies Theology

"What does it profit the man to gain the whole world; yet suffer the loss of his soul," is the theme of the Newman program at Eastern. To fulfill this theme a three-fold system of educational, social, and spiritual activities have been employed. Sponsored activities of the Catholic group include educational courses in theology, speakers with a variety of lectures, dances, and parties.

Pershing Rifles Develop Military

Recognition of a high degree of military ability among the cadets of the ROTC is the purpose of the Pershing Rifles, a National Military Honor Society. The P.R.'s encourage, preserve, and develop the highest ideals of the military profession; attempt to create a closer relationship among military students, and provide appropriate recognition of top ranking ROTC students.

Among the activities of the organization are the participation of the ROTC rifle team in competitive matches and the co-sponsorship of the annual Military Ball.

AUSA Active On Eastern Campus

Participation in activities to enhance respect and devotion to the United States and to the Army of the United States is the purpose of the John N. Combs Memorial Company of the Association of the United States Army. It also promotes incentives for increasing military skills, adds Army background, supplies information about the place of the Army in defense, and cooperates with the national AUSA.

Through activities such as building a float for the Homecoming parade and co-sponsoring the Military Ball the AUSA contributes to campus life. Activities such as participation in rifle matches serve to enrich the military experience of the members of the organization.

Acting in an advisory capacity, the board helps the student publications serve the college and its community in a more efficient manner. The board, which is a governing body for the student publications, is composed of the editors of the EASTERN PROGRESS and the MILESTONE, the president of the Student Council, and members of the College administration.

Milestone Editors and Staff Rush to Meet Deadlines

Since being chosen in the spring of 1962, the editors and staff of the 1963 MILESTONE have collected pictures and written copy concerning campus groups and events which depict life at Eastern.

Color has been employed on the divisional pages to add emphasis to the sections. Newspaper heads and news slanted copy were also among the improvements included in the 1963 MILESTONE.

Arlene Calico and Kyle Wallace, co-editors, lost quite a bit of sleep and tore out a lot of hair worrying about their section editors and the deadlines. Countless hours were spent selecting pictures and editing copy for the book. Through their tireless efforts, the book was finally completed and sent to the publisher.

The MILESTONE staff sponsored the second annual Distribution Dance, at which the yearbooks were distributed to the students. Below: At the 1962 Distribution Dance, 1963 editors got their first glimpse of work to come.

Patti Byrne, Assistant Editor, consumed much of her time checking layouts and copy.

George Beckett, Business Manager, directed the business affairs of the MILESTONE.

The 1963 MILESTONE is the 40th yearbook published at Eastern Kentucky State College. Production of a college yearbook of this size is a major enterprise. Eight major sections constitute the book, each requiring separate editors and staffs. Working as a team, these editors and staffs have as an ultimate goal, the creation of a progressive yearbook for a progressing Eastern.

Contributing to the color and gaiety of the 1962 Homecoming parade was the Milestone float depicting Holland. It carried queen candidate Mary Myers, seated in a field of tulips.

Eastern Progress Wins CSPA Award

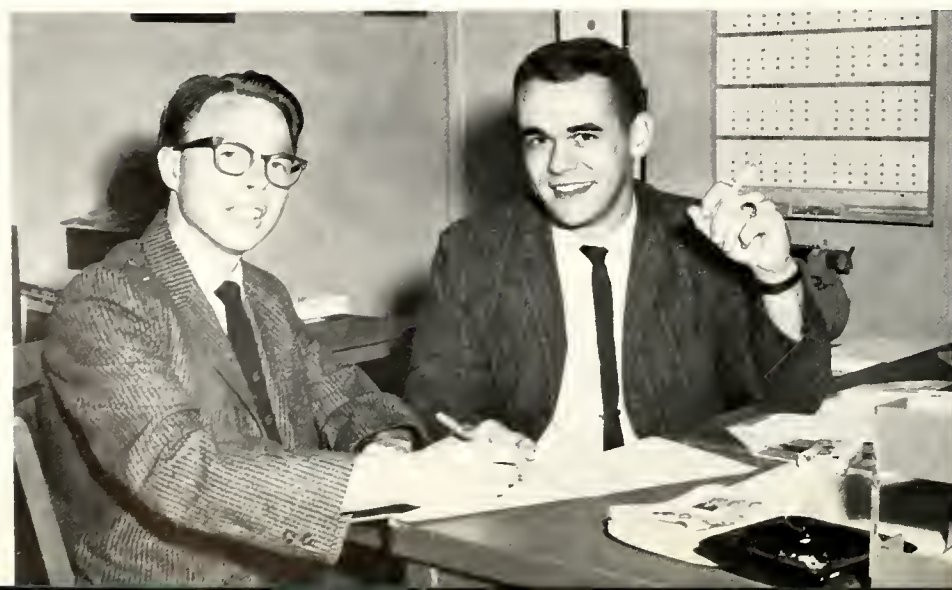

As Editor-in-Chief, it is the duty of Ronnie Wolfe to see that the over-all operation of the PROGRESS is smooth, and that its policies and opinions are kept on a high standard.

Published weekly under the supervision of Mr. Don Feltner, by the authority of the Student Board of Publication, the EASTERN PROGRESS has won recognition as one of the top weekly newspapers in Kentucky, and was given a First Place rating by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. The PROGRESS, through the efforts of its editors and staff writers, attempts to keep the student body up to date on the happenings around campus through editorials, feature articles, pictures, and news stories of all descriptions.

Ben Cartinhour, Managing Editor, has the responsibility of gathering, coordinating, editing, and laying out each issue of the PROGRESS. It is his job to police all news activity for the paper.

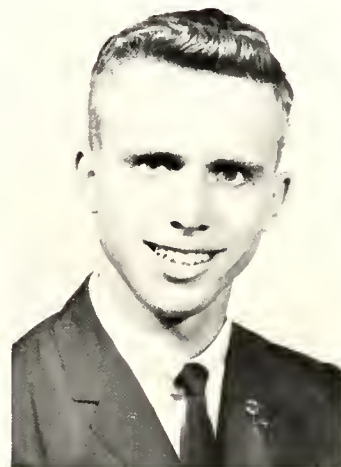

Franklin Harris (left) is the Assistant Business Manager. It is his responsibility to see that the PROGRESS is circulated each week, as well as being in charge of some local advertising. Steve McMillin (right), the Business Manager, is in charge of advertising, bookkeeping, collection of accounts, and purchasing activities.

The feature staff of the PROGRESS attempts to make the paper enjoyable by providing the readers with varied human interest stories. Seated: Donna Rie McKinney, Brenda Owens, Feature Editor. Standing: Paul Fuller, Mary Jane Mullins, Joy Graham, Sandy Goodlett, Sandy Wilson, Judy Woods, Clubs Editor.

"Mac" is an invaluable aid to the make-up of each week's PROGRESS.

Doug Whitlock, Sports Editor, has the responsibility of each week handling all sports items of interest to PROGRESS readers.

To provide for the coverage of each and every news event on Eastern's campus, or in the surrounding area is the huge job done with ease and excellence by the news staff. Seated: Ellen Rice, Mary Ann Nelson, News Editor; Pam Oliver. Second row: Jon Anderson, Tom Norman, Donna Rie McKinney, Ron Walke. Third row: Don Coffey, Doug Anglin.

Eastern's Choir Sings Messiah

Under the guidance of Mr. Van Puersem, Eastern's Choir has gained recognition as one of the finest in the Commonwealth.

Eastern's Choir for the thirty-first consecutive year presented the Messiah to the student body at Christmas. The Choir this year is the largest in the history of Eastern, and has improved with its growth. The activities of the choir include an annual tour of high schools throughout Kentucky in the hopes of stimulating musical interest especially in vocal participation; the presentation of an assembly program, and appearances at various other events on the campus during the school year. The Choir is a major drawing card for prospective students who wish to sing in an excellent organization.

Orchestra Gains In Quality

During the 1962-63 school year, the Eastern Orchestra again made significant gains in quality. The performance of the Beethoven Symphony No. 8 at the fall concert was one of the exciting accomplishments of the year. Frances McPherson, Eastern faculty pianist, was the featured soloist; her performance was brilliant, and was heard by an audience of more than eight hundred.

The second concert of the season, played in February, featured cellist Lyle Wolfrom, another member of the Eastern faculty who gave a warm, expressive performance of the Stamitz concerto. Also featured at this concert were the Symphony No. 103 (Drum Roll) and a wind symphony selection conducted by Mr. Harold Robison, of the music faculty.

The orchestra also supplies music for the annual presentation of the Messiah, and it makes an annual tour to schools in Kentucky where strings are taught and orchestras supported. Personnel of the orchestra includes faculty wives and Model High School students in addition to Eastern Students.

Much credit to the growth and development of Eastern's orchestra is attributed to its fine conductor, Dr. Robert Oppelt.

Eastern's Band Grows

Dave Goodridge, drum major, inspires the band through his leadership both on and off the field.

Gary Wilson and John Kelemen, twirlers, awe the on-looking crowd with their precision baton maneuvers.

The great success and rapid growth of the band at Eastern can be attributed to the leadership of its director, Mr. Nick Koenigstein. Through his tireless efforts, the band performs with the ease and coordination that has made it famous throughout Kentucky.

Half time presents an opportunity for the band to present one of its difficult precision marching drills.

The Marching Maroons, an outstanding musical organization, composed of students for all departments, is now over 100 musicians strong. They performed at each home football game both in pre-game and half time activities, and at other college and community affairs. In recent years, the band has participated in the Governor's Inauguration, the Mountain Laurel Festival, Christmas parades in Frankfort and Richmond, and many others.

The Concert Band is heard in approximately three concerts during the school year. In addition to these concerts, the Concert Band makes an annual tour in the spring, visiting six or seven Kentucky high schools where concerts are given.

The Symphonic Band, a group of outstanding musicians selected from the Concert Band, present concerts at various times throughout the school year. This organization consists of some fifty performers, each chosen for outstanding ability on the various instruments, and the group stresses the performance of only the most advanced type band literature.

The beauty of the band is enhanced by Eastern's lovely majorettes. Clockwise: Joyce Alexio, featured twirler; Joanne Conley, Vicky Check, Judy Abner, Peggy Karem, Shirley Kay Bryan.

STAMINA, skill, and alertness—these make an athlete. Eastern's competitive teams represent the entire student body; their win is ours; their loss is ours. Wherever they travel, the spirit of Eastern is reflected in their sportsmanship and teamwork.

Maroons Gain Share of OVC Crown

Eastern Kentucky's young football Maroons, picked for a fourth place finish in the unpredictable Ohio Valley Conference, missed by a whisker of winning their second undisputed league championship. Coach Glenn Presnell's ninth Maroon team did manage a share of the loop title in the whackiest conference race in history.

A 20-12 upset to underdog Morehead at Hanger Stadium cost the Maroons the title. Entering the November 10 showdown, Eastern led the race with a 4-1 OVC mark. The defeat gave Morehead a one-quarter share of the winner's crown, along with Middle Tennessee, East Tennessee and the Maroons.

The 6-3 season posted by a team that was destined for a second division finish marked the best campaign since Presnell's first Eastern team, in 1954, compiled an 8-0-1 record and earned a trip to the Tangerine Bowl, along with the conference championship. This also was the first time a Kentucky team has won or shared the title since that '54 team did it.

There were many highlights and many stars of the successful season. Perhaps the brightest star was All-America halfback Jimmy Chittum, who led the conference in rushing and set a new Eastern record by scoring eight touchdowns this season. A new star was born in sophomore quarterback Larry Marmie, who became one of the top signal-callers in the conference. Hard-nosed Bill Goedde, the Maroons' Most Valuable Player, certainly was one of the mainstays, as were All-OVC guards Ken Goodhew and Tom Sharp, and many others.

Nine seniors ended their college careers: quarterback Elvin Brinegar; guards Sharp and Goodhew; end Ed Spenik; centers Art Bradford, Dick Wallace and Willard Davis, and halfbacks Carl Howard and Chittum.

Football certainly was given a big shot in the arm by these 1962 Maroons and the look is toward next fall when the '63 Eastern gridders are expected to again be challengers for the crown.

Maroons Split Season Openers

EASTERN 22, TAMPA 6

A highly-regarded Tampa University fell to a smooth-working Eastern Kentucky football machine in the season opener in sunny Florida by a surprising 22-6 margin. Down by 6-0 early in the game, the Maroons gained momentum after little Richie Emmons returned the ensuing kickoff 95 yards for Eastern's first score. That touchdown was costly, however, as Emmons suffered a dislocated hip two plays later that sidelined him the remainder of the season.

Jimmy Trachsel and Jimmy Chittum added the other touchdowns and the Maroons tacked on a safety for the important opening-game triumph.

EASTERN 14, MURRAY 17

Before a capacity crowd at Hanger Stadium, the upset-minded Thoroughbreds of Murray came from behind twice in the second half to defeat the high-strung Maroons 17-14.

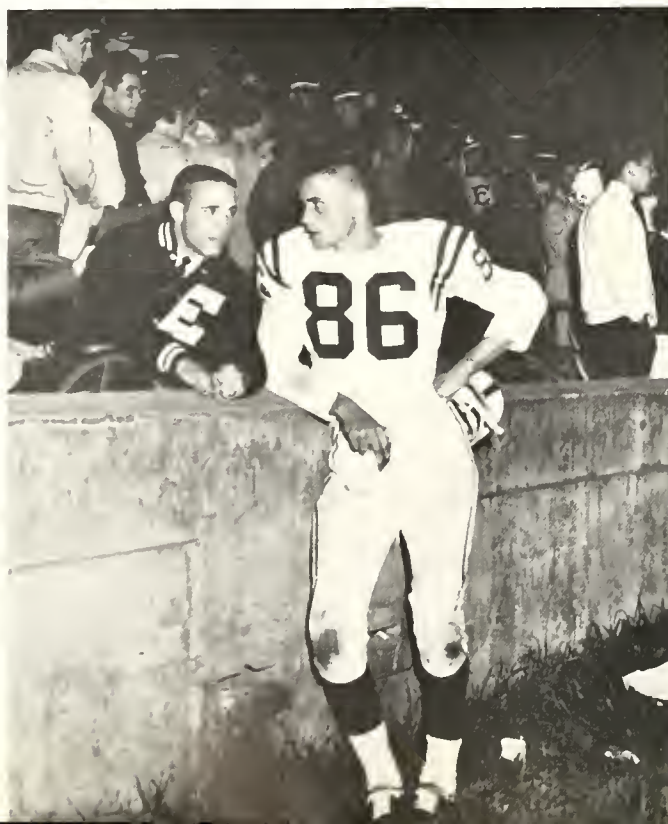

With 3:49 remaining, Murray quarterback Tony Fioravanti flipped to end Gary Foltz for the game-winning rouchdown.

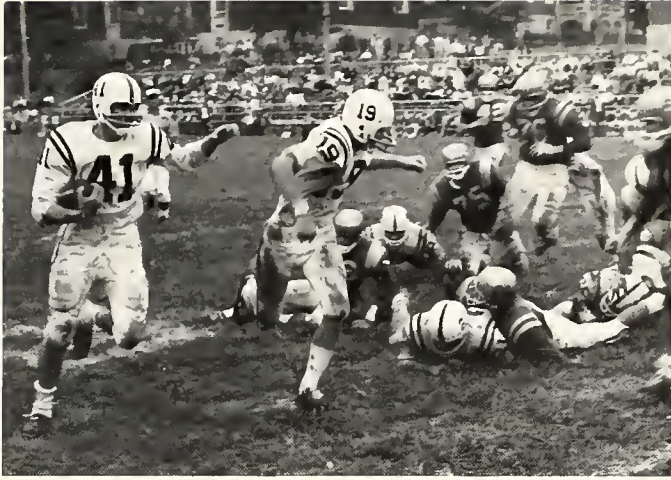

In defeat, Eastern unveiled a talented quarterback in Larry Marmie, an Ohio State transfer, who set up the two Maroon scores against the Thoroughbreds.

Marmie Shines in Tennessee Wins

EASTERN 28, MIDDLE TENNESSEE 8

Sophomore Marmie's sensational passing and Jimmy Chittum's brilliant exhibition of running sparked the Maroons to a 28-8 upset victory over powerful Middle Tennessee.

Middle Tennessee, previously unscored upon in four outings, was stunned by the stubborn defense thrown at them by the visiting Maroons. The Raiders never penetrated Eastern territory until the second half.

All-Conference Chittum scored the first two touchdowns, racing 27 yards for the first and galloping 85 yards for the second—both in the first half. Marmie's passes found their mark eight times in 15 attempts, good enough for a school record of 196 yards.

The victory was the first over the Raiders in eight years and only the second time Middle Tennessee has been defeated by a Kentucky team since 1954.

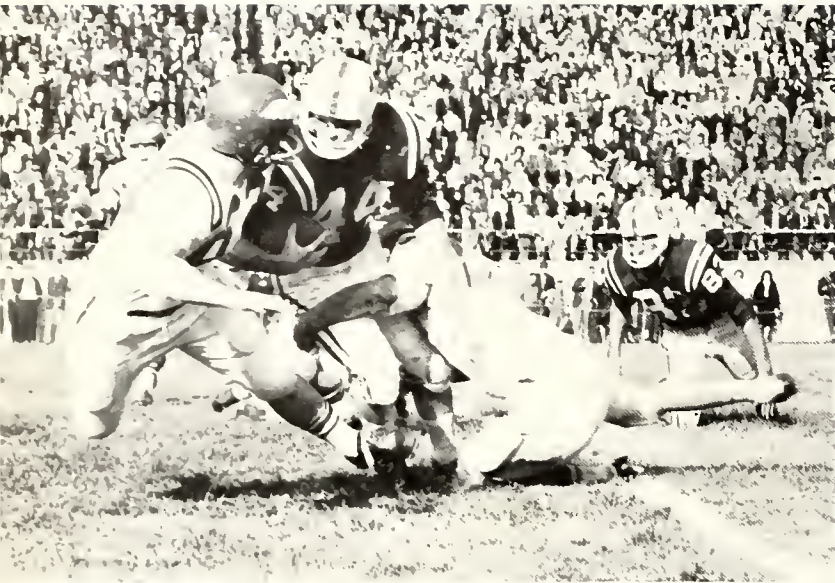

EASTERN 20, EAST TENNESSEE 14

In tackling previously unbeaten East Tennessee, the never-say-die Maroons pushed across two touchdowns in the closing minutes to topple the Buccaneers 20-14.

A crowd of 7,500, largest to ever witness an athletic event at Eastern, watched the herculean efforts of sophomores Marmie, Wendell Wheeler, and Jim Trachsel. Thousands came to their feet when Wheeler intercepted an enemy pass and sprinted 85 yards for an Eastern score with only 10 minutes remaining in the game and Trachsel's brilliant 60-yard gallop to the East Tennessee's 29 that set up victory. Marmie then engineered the Maroons for the winning tally with only 53 seconds left in the battle.

The come-from-behind victory was Eastern's first in conference play at home in four years, and threw the OVC race wide open.

EASTERN 14, AUSTIN PEAY 7

Larry Marmie hit All-Conference Jimmy Chittum and Ron Mendell for touchdown passes in the first quarter at Clarksville, Tennessee, to make it easy for the Maroons to upend hapless Austin Peay 14-7.

Although the Maroons rolled up 283 offensive yards, they couldn't dent the Governor's goal after the first period.

Eastern's powerful Maroons engineered a fourth quarter touchdown drive to slip past arch-rival Western 6-5 and dampen the Hilltoppers' homecoming spirit in Bowling Green.

first half as place-kicker Ed Crum booted a 31-yard field goal and tackle Harold Chambers blocked a punt out of the end zone for a safety. Western shamed the Eastern offense—best in the OVC—for three quarters.

Undaunted in the face of defeat, Eastern responded in the fourth quarter when halfback Carl Howard intercepted a pass on the Western 41 and scampered to the 27. Nine plays later, Elvin Brinegar rammed through the tough Western defense on a quarterback sneak to produce the winning tally.

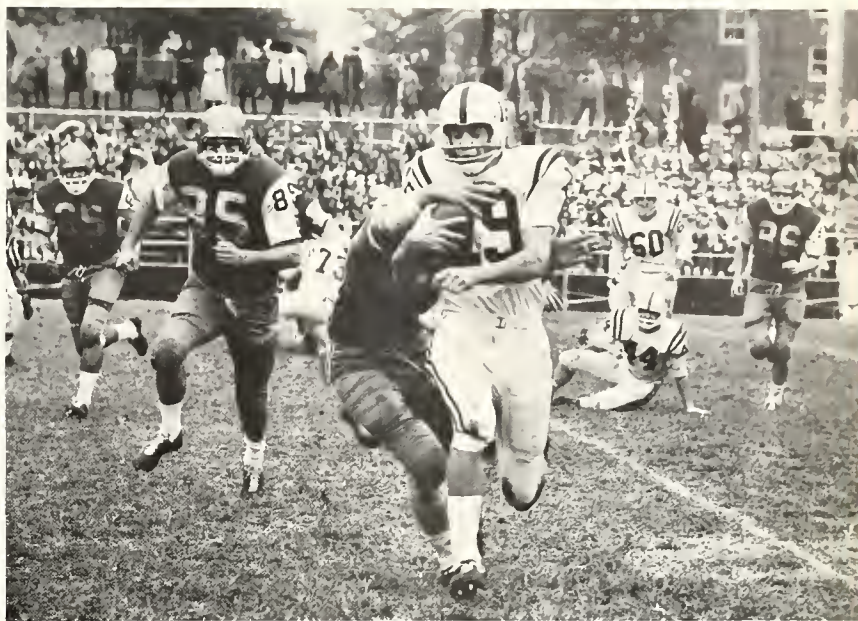

The victory assured the Eastern Maroons of their first winning season since 1955 when they finished 5-4-1. The win gave the Maroon eleven a 5-1 mark for the season.

Maroons Please Homecoming Throng with 21-0 Victory Over Tenn. Tech

Amidst the color and excitement of the Homecoming parade and the reigning of a new queen, old-timers and students climaxed a gala weekend by watching Marmie, Chittum, & Company glide past the defending OVC champion, Tennessee Tech.

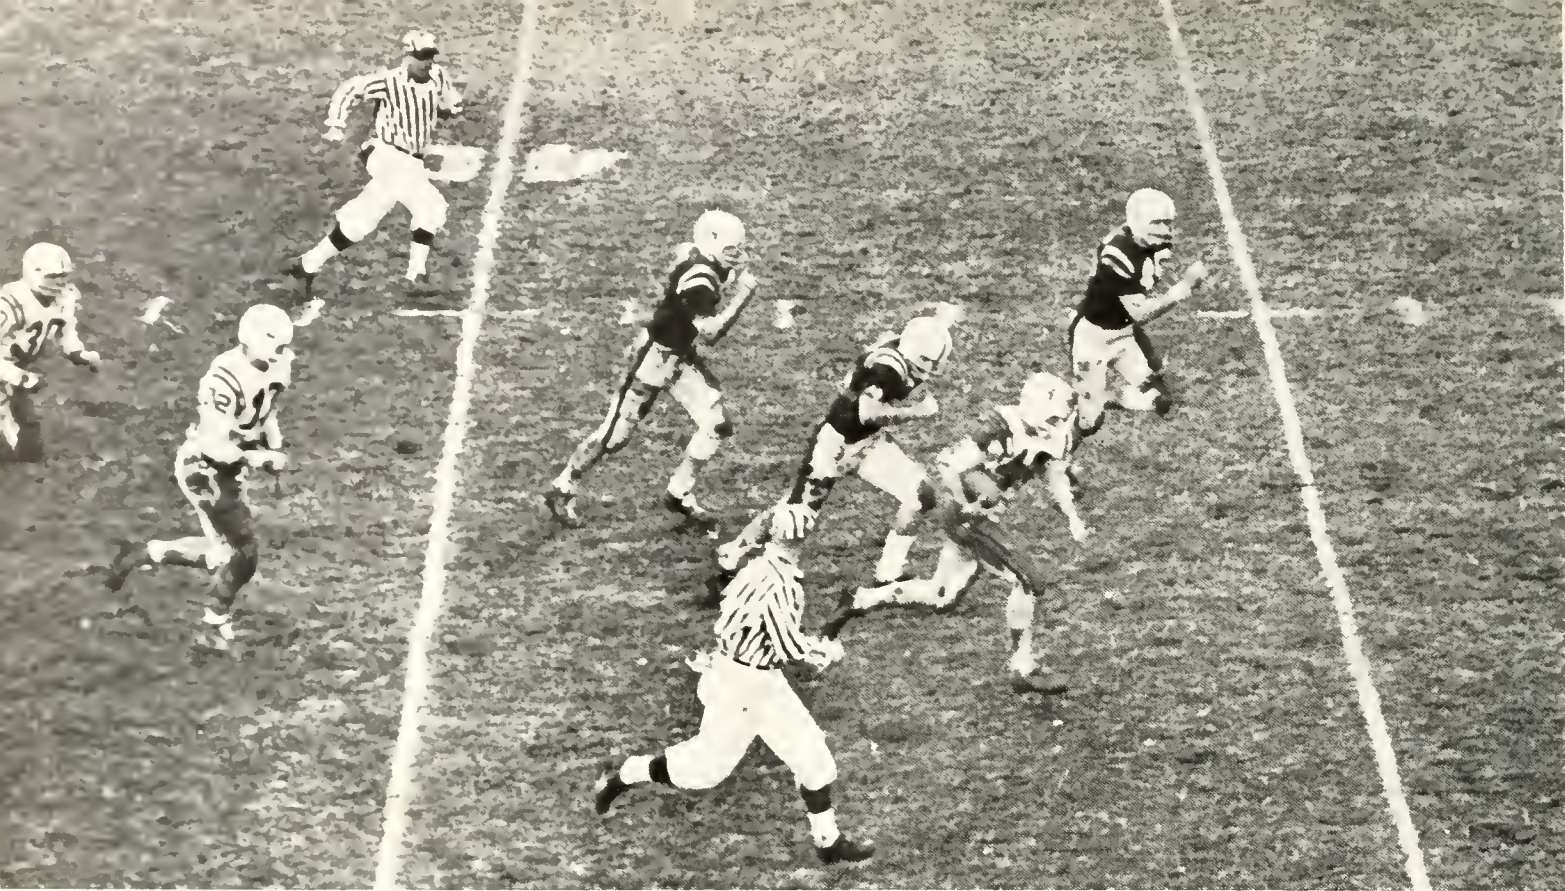

The mighty Maroons took the opening kickoff and marched 80 yards in 18 plays for the first of three touchdowns. Taking advantage of Tech's fumbles, the Maroons scored again in the third quarter, on Marmie's pass to end Richard Carr in the end zone. In the closing seconds substitute quarterback Elvin Brinegar took charge of the final score from the Tech 48. Brinegar scored himself from the two with 15 seconds remaining.

A stout Maroon defense held off any serious scoring threats by Tech, as the Golden Eagles penetrated into Eastern territory only once in each half.

The victory gave the Maroons sole leadership in the hot OVC race, with a 4-1 conference record.

EASTERN 12, MOREHEAD 20

Eastern fans watched the chances for sole possession of the OVC crown and a possible bowl bid slip away on a muddy Hanger Stadium turf as the Morehead Eagles shocked the Maroons 20-12. The loss snapped an Eastern five-game winning streak and threw the conference race into a wild four-way deadlock for the title.

The Maroons racked up two quick touchdowns in the first eight minutes of play with Chittum accounting for both markers. The All-OVC star scored once on a three-yard plunge, then, minutes later, trampled 72 yards on the soggy field for the final Maroon score.

EASTERN 12, EAST CAROLINA 29

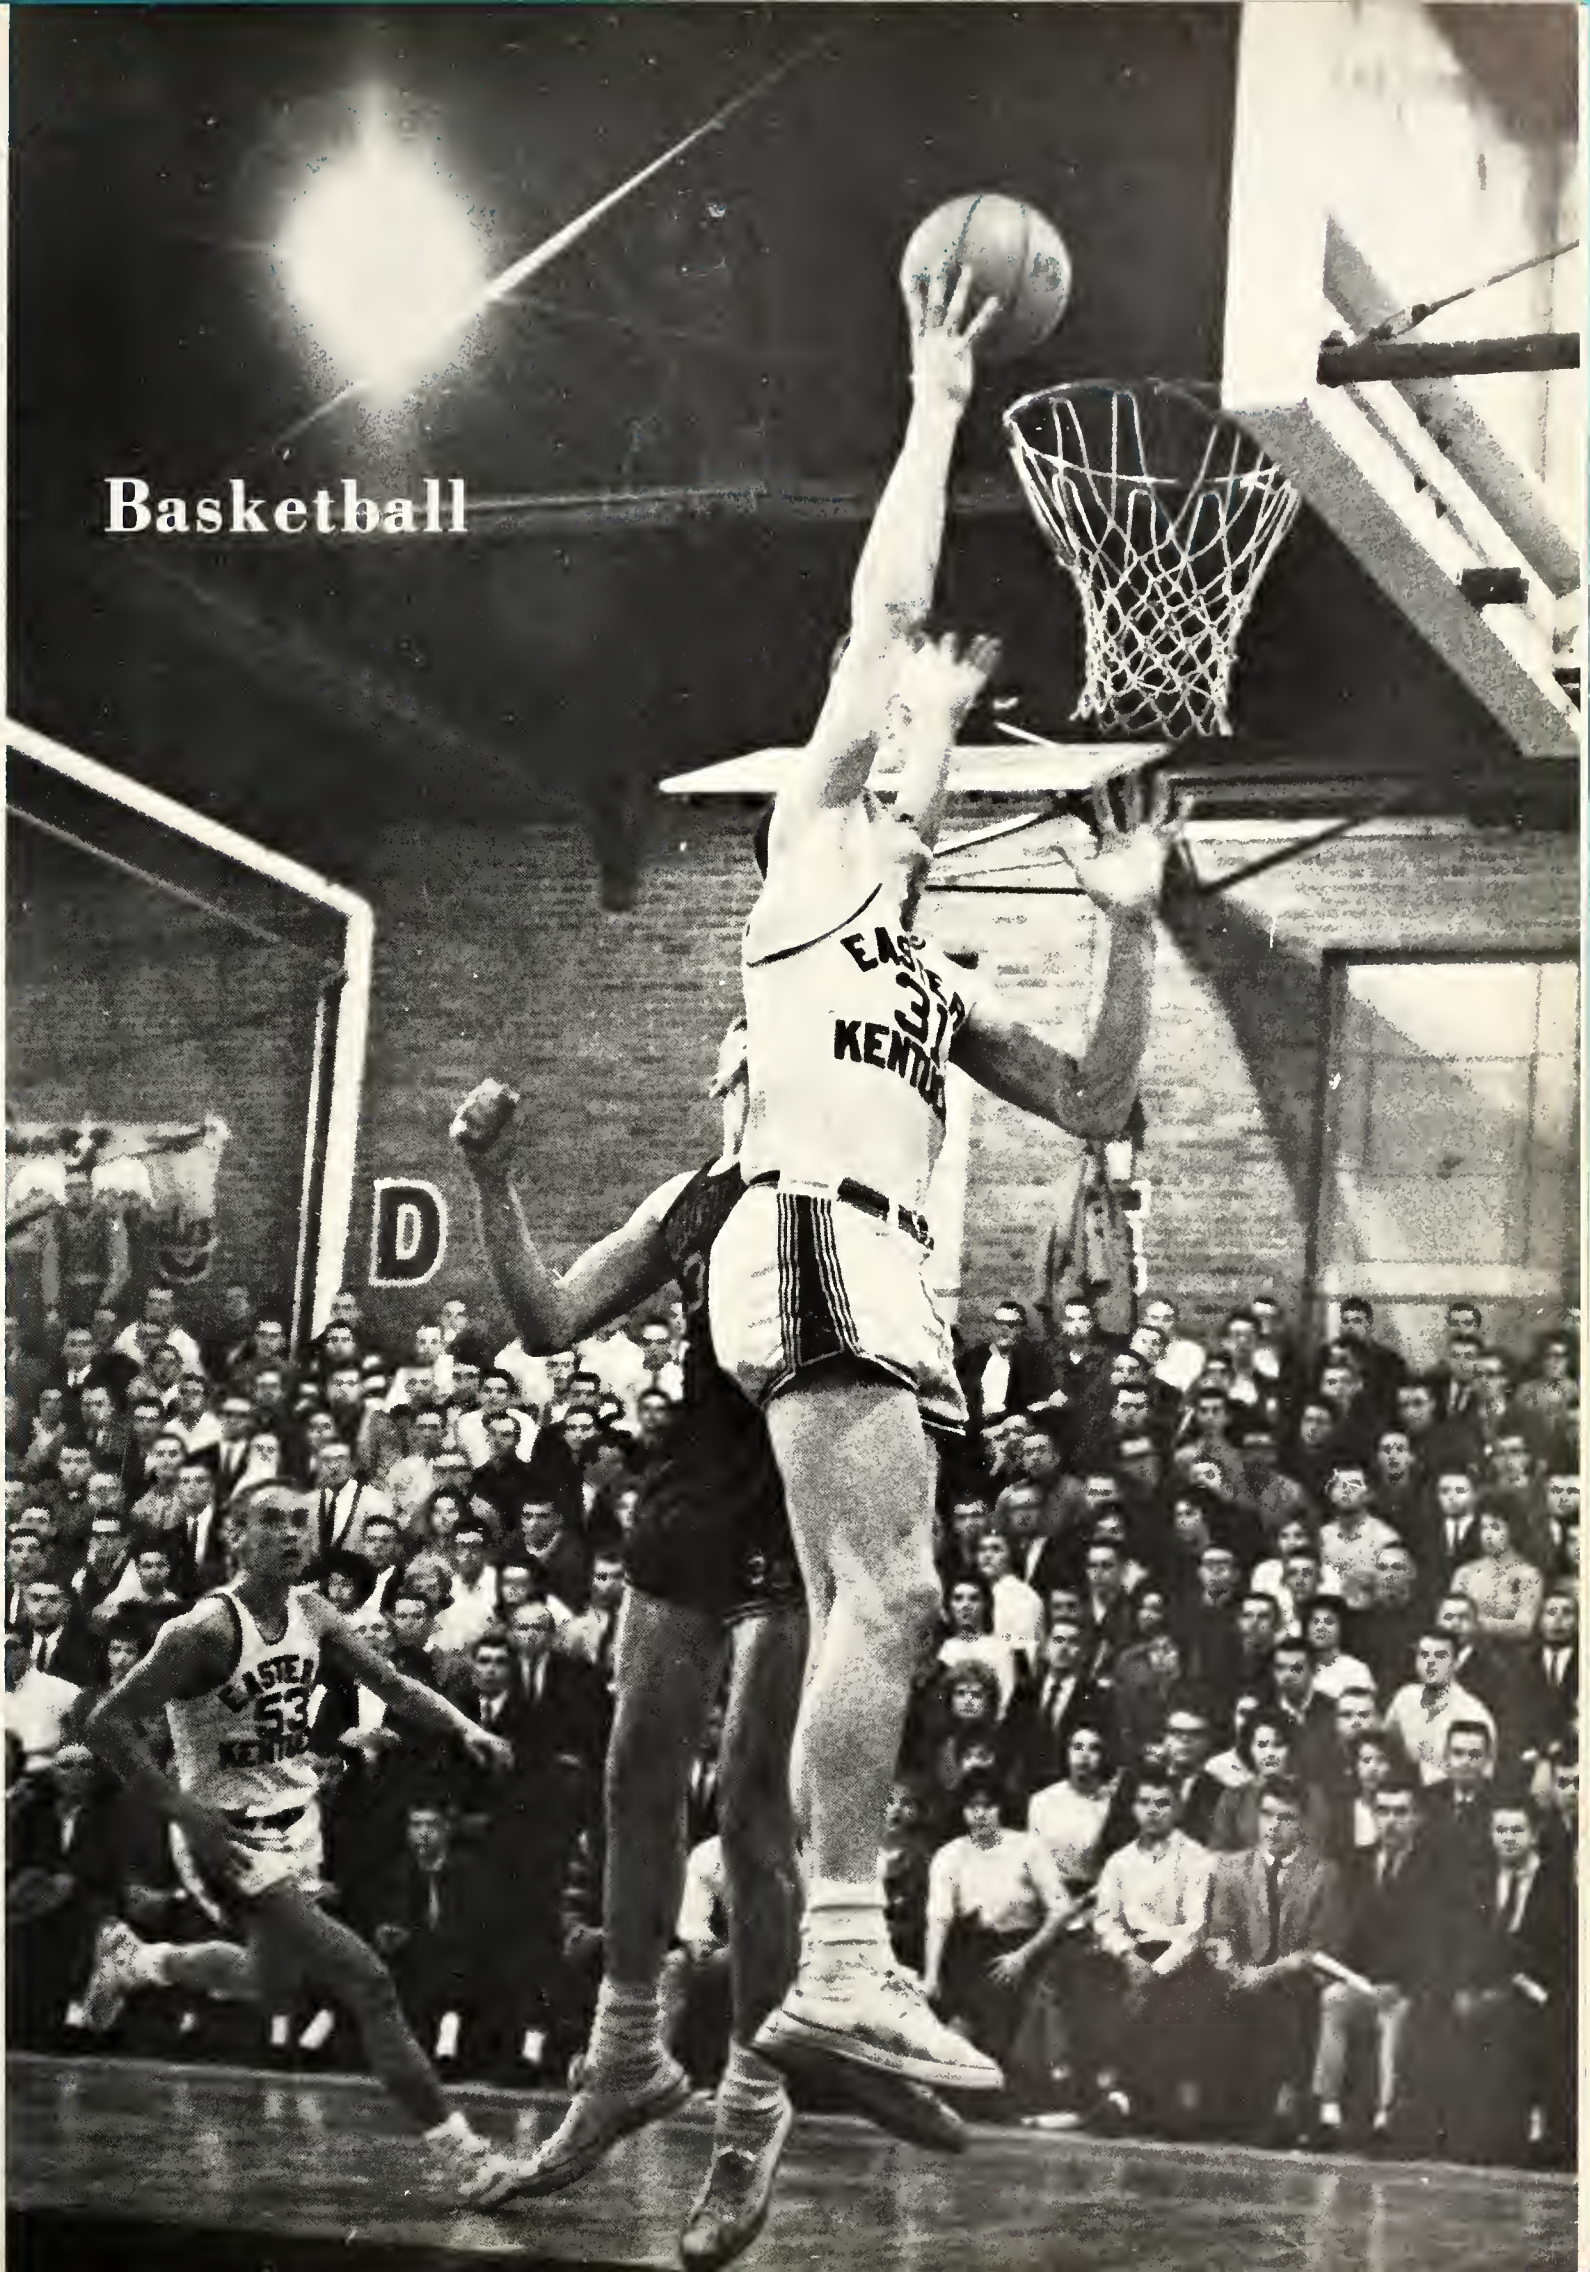

A three-touchdown outburst in the fourth quarter at Greenville, N.C. gave the Pirates of East Carolina a win over the Maroons in the season finale. A stubborn Maroon defense dominated the first three periods and the Eastern team held a 12-8 lead going into the final period.

The Carolinians began to get the breaks and shifted their single-wing offense into high gear to sew up the victory. Chittum scored his record-breaking eighth touchdown against the Pirates.

All-America Coaching Staff Respected

Two of the outstanding basketball players in Eastern's lucrative sports history, James E. Baechtold and Jack Adams, were faced with filling the shoes of one of the real veteran coaches in America in their first year. Baechtold succeeded Paul McBryer as head coach and Adams became his varsity assistant. Both are former Eastern All-Americans.

CONQUEST OF WITTENBERG HIGHLIGHTS SLOW START

The Eastern Maroons found it difficult to get started on the right foot, falling to three tough Buckeye quintets in the season openers.

Sophomore-studded Miami University of Ohio handed the Maroons their first defeat of the campaign. Playing deliberate ball, the small Miami five held off a Maroon rally in the waning minutes to come out on top 65-64. Senior guard, Rupert Stephens, copped scoring honors for the Maroons with 21 points. The defeat marred Jim Baechtold's debut in his first full season as Eastern's head coach.

Invading Buckeye territory, the Eastern five flashed signs of high potential as they continuously threatened the Dayton Flyers, defending NIT champions, before falling in defeat 79-67. Sophomore Lee Lemos paced Eastern with 18 points.

A late rally carried the Toledo Rockets to a 63-55 victory, sending the Maroons back to the Bluegrass with their third loss without a win.

Rupert Stephens pumped home a 35-foot jump shot with only two seconds left in the third overtime to give the Maroons a 65-63 victory over the nation's top-ranked small college power, Wittenberg College. Eastern's first win proved to be Wittenberg's only loss of the season.

MAROONS REACH FINALS OF GULF-SOUTH CLASSIC

Entering the Gulf-South Classic at Shreveport, Louisiana, the Maroons fought their way to the semi-finals of the tournament by downing the Froghorns of Texas Christian University in a 69-65 thriller. Center Ron Pickett led all scorers with 24 points.

Eastern overcame a 13-point deficit at the half to down Southern Mississippi in another tourney hair-raiser 73-69. Although the Mississippi five hit a sizzling 60% from the field, free throws proved to be the deciding factor, as the Maroons cashed in 31 points from the charity stripe.

The Maroons met defending champions of the tournament, Centenary, in the finals. Once again, the foul line proved to be the determining factor—this time to Eastern's dismay. The Gents, capitalizing on 38 Maroon fouls, regained their crown 87-74.

Arch-rival Louisville handed the unpredictable Maroons their second straight loss 79-70 in a nip-n-tuck battle at Freedom Hall. Lee Lemos led all scorers with 22 markers.

Coach Jim Baechtold was on the last Maroon squad to defeat the Hilltoppers at Bowling Green. Fourteen years later, Baechtold, as coach, watched his Maroons set Diddle's Red Barn on fire by blasting the hapless Hilltoppers 79-69. Jim Werk claimed scoring honors with 32 points.

Murray's Racers staged a come-from-behind 89-78 victory over the Maroons at Murray. Eastern threatened until the final minutes of play, but with 2:50 remaining on the clock, the Racers caught fire, outscoring the weary Maroons 10-3. Center Ron Pickett and guard Rupert Stephens paced Eastern with 32 and 24 points respectively.

East Tennessee's Jim Riddick hit a hook shot with one second left to give the OVC's darkhorse an 83-81 victory—their first triumph over the Maroons at Richmond. The humiliating phase of the game was that Eastern had a comfortable 31-11 lead with 11:23 left in the first half.

half, Baechtold's quintet erupted, outscoring the home team 47-35 in the second half behind the superb performances of Russ Mueller and Ron Pickett, who scored 25 and 23 points, respectively.

The hot-shooting, ball-hawking Morehead Eagles virtually eliminated the Maroons from the OVC race with an 87-72 victory. Morehead, led by Roy Ware, Harold Sargent, and big Norm Pokley, grabbed an early lead and was never headed again on the Morehead court. Eastern's Herman Smith, last season's "Eagle Plucker," led the Maroons with 16 points.

With five Maroons hitting in double figures, the hot-shooting Eastern quintet literally buried the Raiders of Middle Tennessee 116-81 on the Richmond floor. The 116 markers were just five shy of Eastern's all-time scoring record, established in the 1951-52 campaign. Leading the scoring parade were Werk with 20; Lemos, 19; Pickett and Stephens with 18 and Smith with 16.

MURRAY, EAST TENNESSEE
EDGE EKSC IN THRILLERS

Behind the torrid shooting of Jim Jennings, the Murray Thoroughbreds defeated the Maroons 91-88, in a barnburner on Eastern's hardwood. Using the full-court zone press, the Racers raced to a nine-point halftime advantage. Lemos, Smith, and Pickett sparked a late rally, pulling the Maroons within one with 3:10 remaining. Pickett led the Maroons with 23. Smith and Stephens contributed 20 and 18, respectively.

Still eyeing an NCAA berth, the Maroons swept the series with the Golden Eagles of Tennessee Tech by upending them 73-64 in a thriller on the Kentuckians' floor. Pickett again copped scoring honors by posting 25 points.

MAROONS ELIMINATED FROM OVC CONTENTION

Middle Tennessee gained revenge for the 116-81 slaughter in Richmond by upsetting the erratic Maroons 78-71 in three overtimes. The defeat smothered any Maroon hopes for a share of the OVC title.

Eastern fans, with aspirations of sweeping the series over Western's Hilltoppers, saw Diddle's five trample the Maroon cagers 94-77 in a packed Weaver Gym.

WERK HITS CAREER HIGH IN TRUNCING OF EAGLES

The Morehead Eagles came to Richmond perched high on the OVC roost, only to be dethroned by a determined band of Maroons, 101-84.

Playing near-perfect ball before 3,100 screaming fans, Eastern hit a blazing 56.9% from the field, cashed in 35 of 41 at the charity stripe, and racked up an overwhelming 58-30 edge in rebounding.

Led by the uncanny performance of senior Jim Werk, who established his career high of 37 points, the keyed-up Eastern quintet took a commanding lead after a 9-9 tie.

Coach Jim Baechtold described the Maroons' performance, in which five men scored in double figures, as "its finest game of the season."

The Maroons disrupted the Ohio Valley Conference basketball race for the second time in four days when they defeated league-leading East Tennessee in Johnson City.

With five Maroons again in double figures, Ron Pickett led all scorers with 26.

The University of Louisville's resurgent Cardinals ended the Weaver Health Building's 32-year era on a sour note by handing the Maroons a 96-78 defeat.

The contest was nip-n'-tuck in the first half, but the outmanned Maroons couldn't match the incredible shooting of the Cardinals in the final session. The Red Birds hit 64.2% from the field. Lee Lemos led the Eastern attack with 19 points.

Records Fell as Weaver Gym Era Ended

The 1962-63 season was one of inconsistencies. A statistically-sound team, the Maroons played well below their capabilities on many occasions, and hit their peak only against Morehead for a complete game. Two all-time free throw marks fell—the team percentage of 75.6, and Jim Werk's 86.7 accuracy mean. The Maroons finished second in the nation in this department, and in the top 20 in the rebounding department. Ron Pickett was named to the All-Ohio Valley Conference first team.

The campaign was the final one for historic Weaver Gym, which has seen Eastern win 215 games while losing only 51. Next season, Alumni Coliseum and a new era in Eastern basketball begins.

Bisbey Paces Maroon Frosh

Eastern's Baby Maroons, coached by graduate assistant coach, Larry Parks, gave fans many exciting moments and a look at things to come as they compiled a 7-12 record against some of the top frosh teams in the area.

Led by 6-8 Gerry Bisbey, who paced the yearlings in both scoring and rebounding, 6-3 Dick Clark, and 6-1 Bill Walton, the young Maroons hit their peak in wins over Lees Junior College, Campbellsville, Cumberland, the Transylvania Frosh, and the Winchester AAU. Campbellsville and Cumberland fell twice.

Perhaps the real highlight of the season, however, was a heartbreaking, overtime loss to the University of Tennessee freshmen, 101-98, at Weaver Gym. The Baby Maroons had suffered an overwhelming setback to the Vols earlier in Knoxville.

Thin-clads Compile Outstanding Record

Coach Don Daly's 1962 thinclads finished the season with an impressive 10-1 record and gained runner-up honors in the Ohio Valley Conference meet. The championship events were held on Eastern's spectacular nine-lane track, heralded by Ralph Boston, Olympic Champion, as one of the finest tracks in the country.

The Maroons won five meets in a row before losing to a strong Kentucky State team. Rebounding from this loss, Eastern's trackmen won the remaining five meets of the season. Among these five victories were back-to-back decisions over Morehead, 92 to 36, and S.E.C. power Vanderbilt, 71 $\frac{1}{3}$ to 64 $\frac{2}{3}$, the following day. The win over unbeaten Vandy snapped a string of 35 consecutive dual wins by the Commodores.

Six records were broken and two tied during the season. New record holders on the club include: Dennis Sprou, 100-yard dash, 9.7; Jack Jackson, 220-yard dash, 21.5; Ben Price, 880-yard run, 1:59.6; Ernest Dalton, broad jump, 23' $\frac{3}{4}$ "; Dick Lindhart, high hurdles, 15.4; and the 440-yard relay team, composed of Roger Kincer, Sprou, Jackson, and Richie Emmons, 42.8. Eastern Hosts OVC Championships Sports and physical competition have taken on a new dimension. The expanding athletic facilities of Eastern have improved the caliber of athletics, and have drawn favorable response throughout the conference. The new nine-lane rubber-asphalt track was completed last spring and was chosen as the site for the 1962 O.V.C. Track and Field Championships. Typical of the comments made was this statement by Coach Alley of Vanderbilt, "It is one of the best, if not the best in the nation." The Maroons finished second to the powerful Murray Racers in the championship meet before several thousand fans.

Eastern was also chosen this past year for the O.V.C. championships in tennis and golf. Favored Middle Tennessee took the golf crown, with Eastern placing third. Carl Kettenacker placed third in the over-all competition.

Eastern's re-vitalized tennis team made a good showing in the O.V.C. tennis matches here. Coached by Roy Davidson, Jerry Sanders and Dennis Reck advanced to the number two doubles finals, but were defeated by their strong Murray opponents.

Golfers Post 10-5-2 Record

Coach Presnell's 1962 golf squad posted a fine record and climaxed a successful campaign by placing third in the Ohio Valley Conference meet which was held at the Madison Country Club.

The vastly improved Maroon golfers were again led by sophomore Carl Kettenacker, who placed third for individual honors in the championship meet.

Other linksmen leading Eastern's golf team were Paul Motley, Fred May, John Needam, Max Howard, and Don Kettenacker.

Coach Ernie Dalton's rugged seven-man cross-country team placed fourth in the first annual Ohio Valley Conference championship meet after posting a 3-3 record during regular season action. Freshman Larry Whalin furnished the highlight of the season by copping top honors in the Cumberland Invitational meet.

Tennis Renewed in Big Way

Eastern's netters compiled an outstanding record as they returned to OVC competition after four years' absence.

Under player-coach Roy Davidson, the eight-man team netted fourteen victories, three losses and went on to place third in the Ohio Valley Conference championship playoffs, held here last spring.

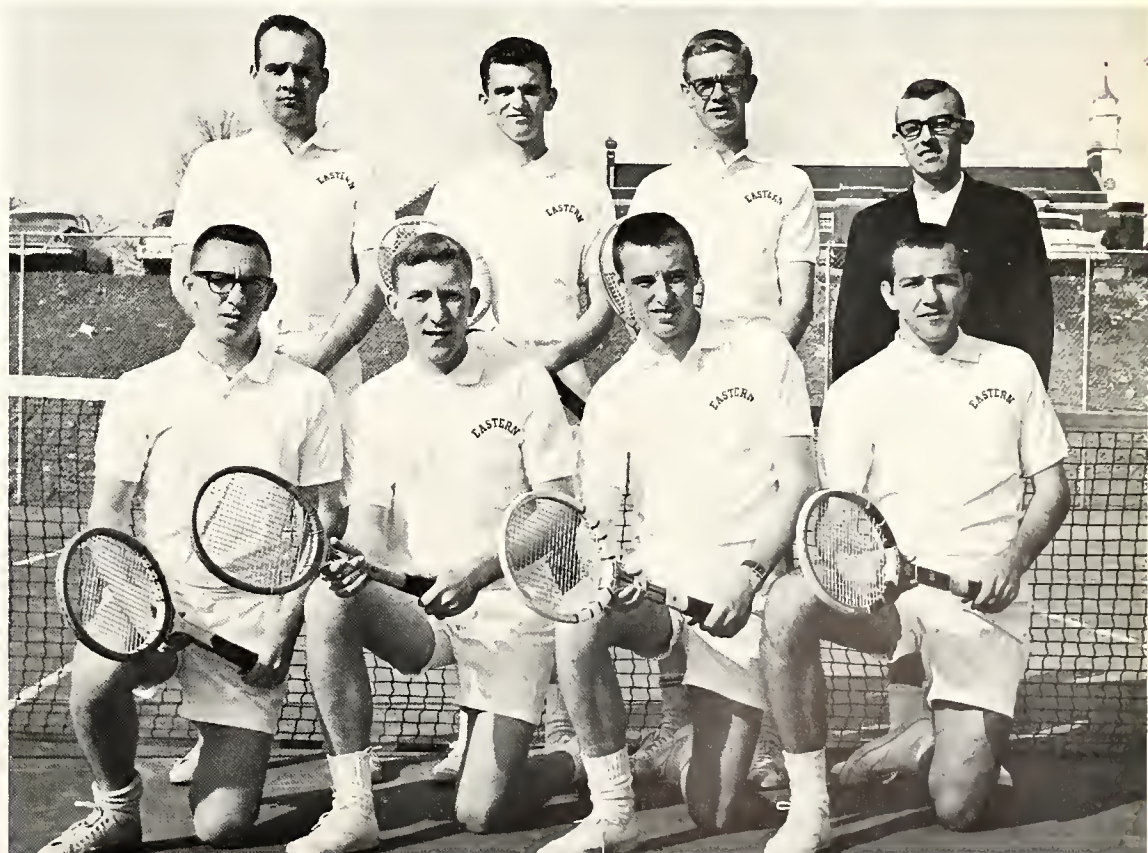

The Maroons ended a 17-match season, which included impressive wins over Tennessee Tech, Morehead, and powerhouse Western.

The roster, composed of freshmen and sophomores, initiated a new era in tennis at Eastern.

Eels Cop State Meet

Coach Don Comb's Eels captured their third straight OVC crown, compiling the best record in the history of swimming at Eastern. The 1962-63 record-breaking team overran teams of such renown as the University of Kentucky, University of Louisville, Emory University, and Tulane University in establishing a 10-2 season record. The Eels' only losses were to SEC powers Georgia Tech and Vanderbilt.

Eastern's Eels showed state superiority by winning the Kentucky Invitational Swimming and Diving Meet held at Union College. Out of 35 medals awarded, the Eels grabbed 23. Other contenders were Union, Louisville, Kentucky, Kentucky Freshmen, and Berea.

In winning the KISD, the Eels broke four state records and tied another. Record breakers and their time: Gene Petit, 100-yard freestyle (53.2); Jerry Slager, 200-yard butterfly (2:34); Chuck Nordstrom, 200-yard freestyle (2:06.1); and 400-yard freestyle relay team (3:40.8). Ron Rogowski tied the state 200-yard backstroke record with a time of 2:23.6

Mr. White has initiated a lively interest in intramurals in his two years at Eastern.

IM Emphasizes Fun and Fitness

Interest in intramural sports continued to soar during the 1962-63 school year. Flag football, basketball, volleyball, and softball, were the major sports, although participation was high in bowling, tennis, ping-pong, cross-country, track, and other forms of recreation.

Eastern's intramural program is under the direction of Mr. Jess White, who provides students practical experience in the running of such a program by delegating many of the responsibilities to student representatives.

Intramurals provide a variety of sports activity for all students. Each participant benefited from healthful exercise while enjoying wholesome recreational activities and developing interests and skills in sports.

Representatives from every floor in the men's dormitories helped to plan the intramural program.

Flag football kicked off the men's intramural program.

The program of Women's Recreation Association consists of four major sports: field hockey, basketball, volleyball, and softball. These sports are played seasonally.

Intramurals serve as an integral part of the total program. Highly competitive tournaments provide wholesome recreation for women the year around.

● ROBERT LEIGH

THE PERSONAL PRIDE and discipline in oneself and in one's country is developed as a member of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps. Training to become qualified military leaders, men of the R.O.T.C. develop citizenship and leadership in preparing to serve their nation in whatever profession they choose.

MILITARY

COLONEL JOE M. SANDERS
Professor of Military Science

In our "defense-conscious" society, the Reserve Officers Training Corps plays a vital role in providing the U.S. Army with officers capable of assuming the important role of leaders in the program of National Defense.

Eastern's ROTC program is sponsored by the College under the supervision and regulations of the U.S. Army. ROTC consists of a two-year compulsory Basic Course, and an Advanced Course for qualified students who choose to continue the program. Upon successful completion of the program and upon graduation from Eastern a student receives a commission as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army Reserve or Regular Army.

Cadets Today, Leaders Tomorrow

OFFICER CADRE—Capt. Edward L. Queeney, Capt. Donald H. Jordan, Major David C. Holliday, Colonel Joe M. Sanders, Major Virgil Hudnall, Capt. Carl L. Espy, Capt. John A. Simpson, Capt. Robert I. Farris, 1st Lt. John Sharp.

NCO CADRE—S/Sgt. Willis Brickey, M/Sgt. Richard Olguin, M/Sgt. John Bonner, SFC Virgil Auterson, SFC Rafael Arnau, SFC Robert Sickles, S/Sgt. Robert Herndon, S/Sgt. Sim Stevenson.

R.O.T.C. Becomes Compulsory

Under new college regulations, all able-bodied freshmen students are faced with a two-year compulsory ROTC program. Many are apprehensive as to what the program entails, but with the aid of cadet officers, they are soon oriented to life in a college military program.

Freshmen cadets are introduced to the Army through the study of Army organization and they are taught the nomenclature of the M-1 rifle. During the sophomore year, cadets are taught map reading and small unit tactics.

During the orientation program, Colonel Joe M. Sanders, Professor of Military Science, explains the function of ROTC on campus and the individual role a cadet plays in the program.

First impressions of ROTC life are gained during the issuing of uniforms. Supply Sgts. Auterson and Arnau are pictured fitting two of the freshman cadets.

As part of the scheduled ROTC program a weekly drill period is held for the purpose of instructing basic course cadets in the fundamentals of drill.

Classroom training is an important part of the ROTC program. Sophomore cadets are concerned with methods of map reading and small unit tactics during one of two weekly classroom periods.

Army qualification tests are taken during the second semester of the sophomore year. Cadets who are planning to enter the Advanced Corps are pictured during their R.Q. testing.

Advanced Course Leads To Commission

Upon entering the Advanced Corps a cadet experiences his first leadership position, the first of many new and different experiences to come.

As part of his Advanced ROTC training a cadet spends six weeks of the summer between his junior and senior years at a regular army base, where he lives and learns the true aspects of Army life.

As the cadet advances toward the end of the compulsory program, he then chooses to remain in advanced ROTC or drops his training at this point.

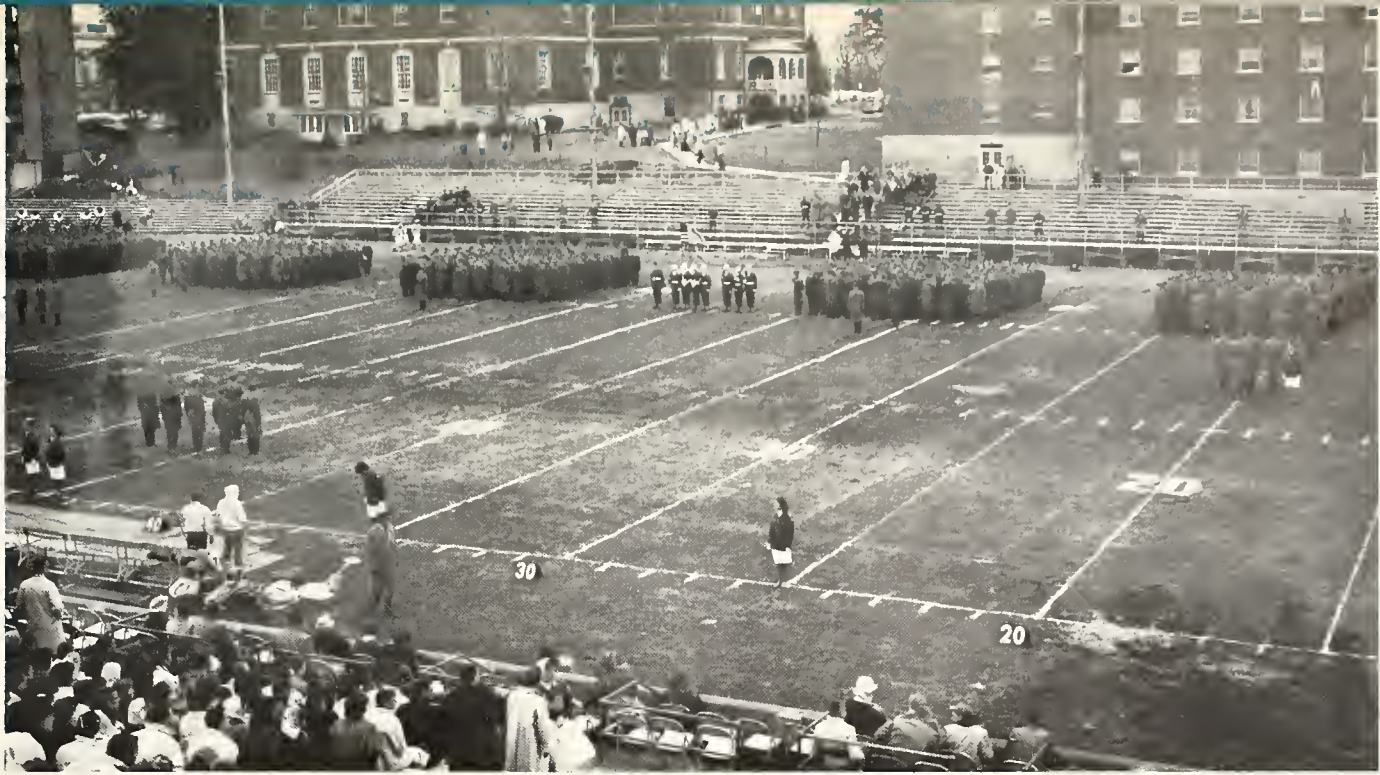

However, in order to become a member of the Advanced Corps, the cadet must meet certain qualifications. He must have completed the Basic Course, qualified on Army qualification tests as well as Army physicals, and he must have appeared before a selection board, consisting of Military Science instructors.

Once accepted in the Advanced Course, the cadet, then, continues his study of unit tactics. He is introduced to the branches of the U.S. Army, and studies military law. Successful completion of the program enables the cadet to be commissioned as a second lieutenant either in the United States Army Reserve or Regular Army.

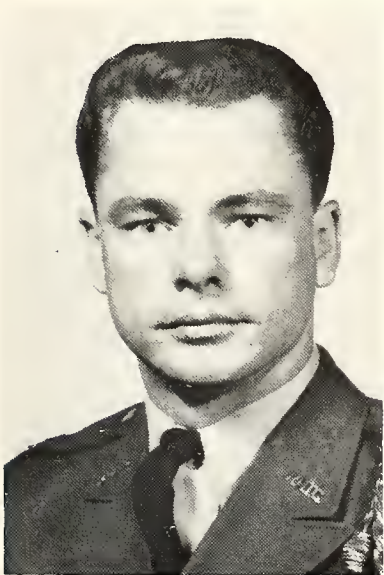

Upon graduation, cadets, who have successfully completed the advanced course, are appointed Second Lieutenants in the U.S. Army Reserve or Regular Army.

Eastern Observes Second Military Day

In pre-game ceremonies, the entire brigade is presented to the student body.

Eastern's second annual Military Day was observed as the Maroons clashed with Morehead's Eagles early in November. Highlighting the activities was the presentation of the ROTC Brigade, numbering 1,300 strong, in pre-game ceremonies. The half time show was given by the Pershing Rifle exhibition drill team.

Precision marching and drill formations were presented during the half time show by the Pershing Rifle exhibition drill team.

Eastern Initiates Flight Training

With an eye toward the future, the Military Science Department this year initiated a flight training program under the direction of Captain Donald H. Jordan.

Successful completion of the program requires 75 hours of training and prepares a student for a private pilot's license. These 75 hours are divided into 35 hours of ground instruction and 40 hours of flight instruction. Upon receiving a commission in the United States Army Reserve or Regular Army, the flight graduate must apply for Army aviation training and assignment.

Students participating in the program wear a special half-wing badge while participating in the program and upon its completion are awarded a full wing.

Cadets receive instruction on aircraft function and ground control.

Counterguerrilla Raiders Organize

Raider Company and Captain Robert Farris, advisor.

Formation of a Counterguerrilla Raider company under the direction of Captain Robert Farris brought another first to Eastern's campus.

Successful completion of the counterguerrilla program consists of fifty-four and one-half hours of training. Cadets participating in the program receive instruction in Hand-to-

Hand combat, Patrol formations, Bayonet drill, Methods in Survival, Communications, as well as Physical Fitness training.

Membership is open to all male students reaching the level of second semester freshmen who have maintained a 1.6 standing in ROTC and achieved a 1.2 academic standing over-all. Raider cadets are distinguished by their bright green and black berets.

Sgt. Keeney instructs Ben Price, Bob Hubbard and Don Sanders in field radio operations.

Primary objectives of Raider training are personal fitness and self-defense. Company members execute bayonet drill.

Cadet Captain John B. Hanlon congratulates Gloria Elliott on being elected P.R. sponsor. Absent from picture is co-sponsor Jeanne Sanders.

Pershing Rifles

"To foster a spirit of friendship and cooperation among men in the Military Science Department and to maintain a highly efficient drill company" has been the scope and purpose of Company R-1 during their seven years of service on Eastern's campus.

Company R-1 is a member of the National Society of Pershing Rifles, the world's largest military fraternity. R-1 participated in three drill meets and has represented Eastern in fifteen parades during the school year. R-1 is under the direction of John B. Hanlon.

Many long hours were spent in practice sessions preparing pledges for spring drill meets.

In Retrospect...

During the past school year, Eastern students have seen visions of things to come. The uncompleted buildings reminded us that June does not mark the completion of our education. We have been supplied only with a concrete foundation. The experiences yet to come will be bricks to beautify our fulfillment of life's expectancies. The success of this fulfillment depends on the sturdiness of our educational and social foundation.

This underpinning was built with sundry materials. Classes, ball games, and dances only begin the list. We learned how to reconstruct after failure when the Coliseum arches fell and were replaced. With the introduction of car stickers and a more systematic registration procedure, we saw how organization promotes efficiency. Our appreciation of the arts was intensified by music and drama festivals, local drama productions, and presentations by famous entertainers. When we played our last game in Weaver Gym, we learned that tradition must be abandoned when it no longer fulfills our purposes. Our contributions to "Operation Eastern Kentucky" provided the strongest elements in our foundation—self-sacrifice and unity.

Our lives shall not crumble for their bases are made of sturdy stuff. They are made of beauty and truth.

Eastern Celebrates Founding, Growth

Governor Bert Combs listened intently to a speech given on Progress Day which celebrated Eastern's physical and academic expansion.

Thomas B. McGregor, for whom the new women's dormitory was named, received a plaque commemorating the groundbreaking of the edifice.

The cornerstone for the James E. Van Peurseem Music Pavillion was laid during Founders' Day ceremonies which marked Eastern's 57th anniversary.

Campus Attains New Heights Through Construction

Disaster marked the construction of Alumni Coliseum; however, recuperation was successful.

Eastern is made not only of students and instructors, buildings and classes—it is made of each individual who contributes his labor to its betterment.

Alumni Coliseum will be an appropriate edifice in which to transfer the winning record established in Weaver Gym.

The cafeteria introduced fixed menus with set prices to lighten the students' financial burden.

New Programs...

In spite of increased parking facilities and restrictions on student car usage, systematic parking regulations were necessary.

Traditions Integrated

A portrait in oils paid tribute to Eastern's beloved and renowned mascot, Mozart.

Dramatic Productions Attract Crowds

The Civil War Centennial, in which numerous Eastern students participated, presented history in a setting of parades and pageantry.

Eastern hosted Central Kentucky high school students at the Regional Drama Festival.

Rock Hudson, noted Hollywood personality, toured the campus with Eastern dramatist, Harvey Yeary.

Varied Activities Enrich Campus Life

In an effort to portray each student at his best, the MILESTONE provided a professional photographer for all class pictures.

The annual Anniversary Ball gave the students an opportunity to celebrate the anniversary of Dr. Martin's inauguration as Eastern's sixth president.

Student musicians from Central Kentucky high schools were welcomed to the campus for the Regional Band Festival.

The pensive support of each fan reinforced the Maroons' efforts.

Maroon Gridders Gain Share of O. V. C. Crown

Half time programs relieved the tension of close scores and exhibited the showmanship of the Marching Maroons.

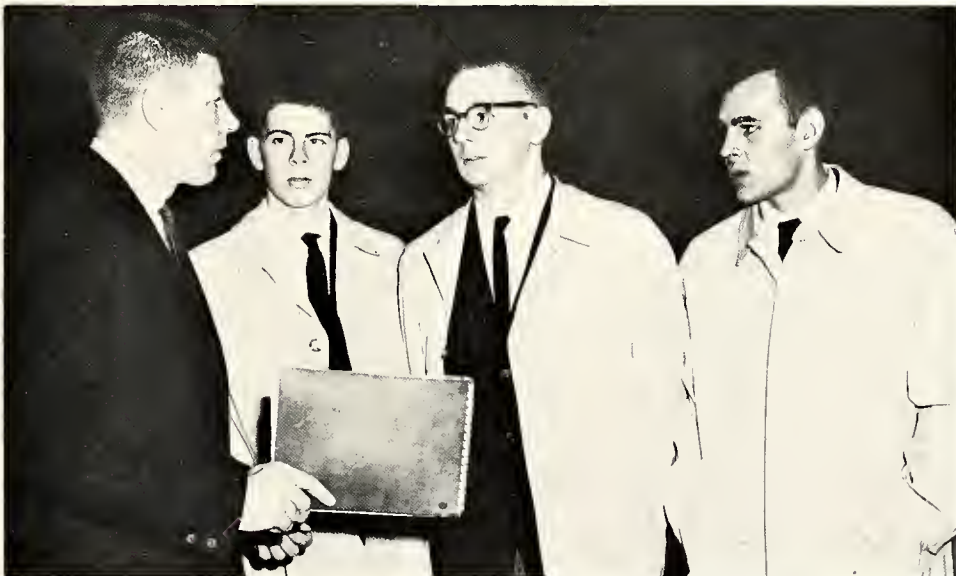

A season of revelry for the spectators and hard work for the team ended with the Maroons' tying for the OVC football crown.

Weaver Gym Serves Last Year as Home for Eastern Cagers

The Maroon basketball team achieved a coveted victory over Western on the arch-rival's home floor.

Carr Creek Day honored the 1928 and 1963 basketball teams of Carr Creek High School. Six of the top players on the '28 squad later played for Eastern.

Although the last game in Weaver Gym ended in defeat, Eastern fans remembered the thirty-eight game winning streak the gym housed.

Campus Prepares for --- Meets Disaster

Eastern was the first Kentucky state college to put into effect a comprehensive Civil Defense program. In the event of atomic fallout, the campus could accommodate 3,000 immediately.

The clothes of students who "never had a thing to wear" supplied Eastern Kentucky flood victims with one of the life-sustainers they lost in disaster.

Sabine Oral Vaccine was a pleasant means of preventing a horrifying crippler.

Over 1,000 Eastern students lived in counties where more than 25,000 people were routed from their homes by the ravaging flood.

'Operation Eastern Kentucky,' headed by Chairman Don Feltner, collected over $1,300 in campus solicitations.

After a unified effort to give all that we could, the transporting and distributing of the goods required organization.

Dr. Quentin Keen made certain one truck load of goods reached its destination, Hazard. All trucks were accompanied by college personnel.

Editor's Notes

The 1963 MILESTONE attempts to present a history of the 1962-63 school year at Eastern Kentucky State College. The task has not been an easy one. Without the full cooperation of a unified staff, the MILESTONE could not have become a reality.

Many were involved in the production of this year's book. On this page we express our sincere thanks to these persons.

John F. Mullaney, Osborne Photo Lab., Cincinnati, for faculty pictures and photographic services.

Steve May, Osborne Photo Lab., Cincinnati, for color on pp. 5, 7, 8, 9, 16-17, 33, 130-131, 216-217; and selected black and white feature photos.

George Lyon, Director of Photographic Services, for color on pp. 4, 6, 12, 13, 72-73, 110-111, 168-169, 274-275; and selected feature photographs.

Jeff Miller, Photographic Editor, for color on pp. 254-255; and selected black and white feature photos.

Mike Coers for color on pp. 1, 5, and 6; and selected black and white photographs.

Dave Anderson for selected black and white photos.

LOUISVILLE COURIER JOURNAL AND LOUISVILLE TIMES, for photographs on pp. 24, 28, and 223.

THE LEXINGTON HERALD-LEADER, for photographs on pp. 221, 223, and 227.

Bob Walter, Publisher, S. B. Newman Printing Company, Knoxville, Tennessee.

To our staff we extend our heartfelt thanks for a job well done. For countless hours of thoughtful counsel we are grateful to Mrs. Linda Gassaway. We would also like to express our appreciation to Mr. Don Feltner, MILESTONE advisor, for his timely advice and understanding wisdom.

Finally, we offer thanks to Eastern's student body to whom this book is presented and for whose enjoyment it was prepared.
