Letter From the Commissioner

To the District Tournament Managers:

Will you please refer to your K.H.S.A.A. booklet which gives rules and regulations governing basketball tournaments. You should familiarize yourself with these rules, found on pages 30-38. Your special attention is called to the second paragraph of Tournament Rule VI-A-3, relative to the enrollment of your district coaches in the Kentucky High School Coaches Association.

The forms for your various reports are self-explanatory. The report of games should be mailed to the manager of the regional tournament not later than Monday, March 6. Send your financial report, your checked eligibility lists, and the second copy of the report of games to the Commissioner as soon after the tournament as possible. For your convenience, the following check list is given:

1. Invite member schools to your tournament AT ONCE, reminding each school to send each other member school in the district a COMPLETE preliminary list of players on or before February 1, and to send you THREE copies of a final list one week prior to the district tournament. See Rule VIII.

2. Announce the time of drawings in your letter. See Rule IX.

3. At your meeting, conduct the drawing and select the officials. The state plan for division of tournament receipts is recommended. If any other plan is used, a majority vote of the participating schools must be obtained.

4. Your attention is called to the last paragraph of Tournament Rule V-A, which says: "An official shall not work a district or regional tournament in the district or region in which he resides." Also note the provisions of Tournament Rule V-C concerning twelve first team high school basketball games.

5. The following procedure has been established by the Board of Control in the selection of tournament officials under authority given in Tournament Rule V-A: (a) Each school represented at the meeting may submit the names of one or more officials. There shall be a minimum of eight names on the list of officials to be voted on. NO NAME SHALL BE MARKED OFF THE LIST. (b) Each school representative shall rank eight officials in the order of his preference, the first choice being assigned eight points, the second seven points, etc. (c) The tournament manager shall communicate at once with the highest ranking official or officials in order of their rank. If the official one hour of the time of his selection, or if official who is selected cannot be reached within he is not available, the tournament manager shall attempt to employ the next official on the list in the order of their selection. If the tournament manager attempts to contact the official by telephone and there is no answer, the manager should check with the operator for a possible change in the official's number. (d) If two officials are tied on points, the highest ranking official shall be determined by flipping a coin. (e) If none of the officials on the list is available, the tournament manager shall have the sole responsibility of securing an official or officials for the tournament.

6. Tournament Rule XV says: "The Board of Control is authorized to select, standardize, and purchase trophies for all district and regional tournaments and the cost of these trophies shall be borne by the respective districts and regions." The Board has contracted with The Sport Shop, Glasgow, Kentucky, to supply all of the official K.H.S.A.A. district first place and second place basketball trophies for the 1967 tournaments, each trophy complete with the Association seal and engraving. Your trophies will be shipped to you prior to March 1.

7. It is the responsibility of the tournament manager to secure adequate police protection.

8. THE BOARD OF CONTROL HAS RULED THAT NOT MORE THAN TWELVE PLAYERS MAY BE IN UNIFORM FOR ANY ONE TOURNAMENT GAME, AND THAT OTHER SQUAD MEMBERS SHALL NOT BE ALLOWED TO PARTICIPATE IN WARM-UP EXERCISES, THIS BEING IMPLIED IN TOURNAMENT RULE XI.

9. Please ask your officials to designate the goals prior to the warm-up time for each game.

10. You will receive three copies of final eligibility list from each school. Have one of these checked by the coach of each competing team, before his team plays, for the twelve players he will use in each game. Use only one list for checking players of each team since the other two copies may be needed by the regional and state tournament managers. Send the Commissioner a copy of these checked copies with your other reports. Send the two unchecked copies of eligibility lists of the winner and runner-up to the manager of your regional tournament, along with one copy of your report of games, not later than March 6.

11. It has been ruled that the 2:00 o'clock mentioned in Tournament Rule IV may be considered Eastern Standard Time.

Basketball Questions

These rulings do not set aside nor modify any rule. They are interpretations for some of the early season situations which have been presented.

Clifford B. Fagan

23. Play: The jersey is blue. The front and back numbers are legal in size. The stroke or bar (basic part) of the numbers is the same color as that of the jersey. Each number has a one-fourth inch white border.

Ruling: Illegal number. This interpretation is by individual item action on the part of the committee for the purpose of removing any doubt regarding the illegality of outlined numbers. To be legal, the stroke or bar of the number must be of solid color contrasting with the color of the shirt. The color of the border of the number, when used, is not specified in the rule.

24. Play: A1 is at the foul line prior to attempting an awarded free throw. As he addresses the basket, the home spectators are cheering wildly. A1 places the ball under his arm, walks out of the circle, and requests the official to ask the spectators to be quiet while he is shooting.

Ruling: This is a free throw violation by the offensive team which ends the free throw attempt.

Comment: The rules do not protect a player from crowd noise. Provisions governing "disconcerting acts" during a free throw apply only to opposing players. Even if the opponents were, in the opinion of the free throw shooter, "disconcerting," he may not walk out of the circle during the free throw (while the ball is alive).

25. Play: After a successful field goal or free throw, B1 and B2 are out of bounds at the end of the court. B1 throws the ball to B2 who passes it inbounds to B3. B1 is still out of bounds when he throws the ball to B3 on the court.

Ruling: B1 should be moving toward or onto the court when the pass to B3 is made. If B1 has not purposely delayed his return to the court there has been no violation. However, if B1 has intentionally delayed his return (which would usually be for the purpose of deception) B1 has committed a technical foul.

26. Play: A1 jumps to make a pass. He sees that his pass will be intercepted so he drops the ball to the floor and dribbles into an unguarded area where he makes a try and scores a field goal.

Ruling: A1 has committed a running violation by starting a dribble illegally. His goal does not count and the ball is awarded to an opponent at the spot out of bounds nearest where the violation occurred.

27. Play: After receiving the ball with only the right foot on the floor, A1 places his left foot on the floor behind his right foot.

Ruling: He may pivot, using the right foot, but he may not pivot with the left foot. A1 may dribble but the ball must leave his hands before the right foot (in this case, the front foot) leaves the floor.

28. Play: B1 pushes A1. A1 then kicks at B1 but does not make contact.

Ruling: False double foul. Foul by B1 is personal. A1 has committed a technical foul. Free throws are awarded because this is not a double foul. A jump at the center circle between any two opponents follows the last of the free throws.

29. Play: A1 and B1 simultaneously foul each other and, at the same instant, B2 fouls A2.

Ruling: This combination constitutes a false double foul of which one of the elements is a double foul. No free throws are awarded for the double foul (A1 and B1). The free throw, or throws, resulting from the foul by B2 are awarded A2. The ball becomes dead after the last free throw by A2 and then is put in play by a jump ball at the center between any two opponents.

30. Play: For a free throw by A1, B1 is in the first space and A2 in the second space. Is it legal for A2 to leave his space as soon as the ball is in flight, and may he move into the 4-foot space behind the plane of the backboard?

Ruling: It is permissible for A2 to back out of his space after the ball is in flight but he may not enter the first space until the ball has touched the ring or the backboard, or the free throw has ended. The first space is 7 feet wide and 3 feet in depth. Therefore, A2 must be at least 3 feet from the lane back of the first space until the ball touches the ring or the backboard, or the free throw has ended.

31. Play: A throw-in by A1 is touched but not controlled by a teammate. Ball then lies on the floor in team A's back court with no one securing control.

Ruling: Following a reasonable time period, the referee should declare the ball dead. He will award it out of bounds to team A and direct them to put the ball in play and to attempt to advance it. If A does not comply with the referee's order, the referee should penalize that team with a technical foul.

32. Play: From behind the plane of the backboard: (a) a throw-in is such that some part of the ball passes above the backboard without touching any of the supports; or (b) a try for a field goal is such that some part of the ball passes above the backboard without touching any supports.

Ruling: If the rectangular board is used, the ball remains dead in (a) and becomes dead in (b). If the fan-shaped backboard is used, the live or dead status of the ball is not affected by the ball passing over the board itself.

33. Play: B1 pushes A1 while A1 is trying for a field goal. A2 interferes with the ball on the ring or the basket cylinder.

Ruling: The violation by A2 causes the ball to become dead. Therefore, it is an unsuccessful try and A1 is awarded two free throws. This is one of the few situations in which a foul and a violation occur during the same live ball.

34. Play: Near the expiration of time for the second quarter, A1 is fouled. Time expires while the ball is in flight on a try. The foul occurs before the basket is made or missed.

Dutchman Honored

Charlie Vettiner, Jefferson County playground and recreation superintendent, the K.H.S.A.A.'s veteran basketball clinic director and Flying Dutchman, was named Louisville Man of the Year for 1966 by WHAS Radio-TV News on a special news roundup program presented on January 1. Barry Bingham, president of WHAS, the Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times, made the presentation.

Mr. Vettiner was lauded for leadership in recreation "which has earned him a national reputation." The county's parks chief was especially praised for his efforts to alert the public and elected officials about the need to acquire parks now for needs in the future.

News About Swimming

The 1967 Class AAA State High School Swimming Meet will be held at the Plantation Swim Club pool, Louisville, on February 24-25, the Class AA meet at the University of Kentucky pool, Lexington, on March 24-25. The meet for girls will be held on Friday at each location, beginning at 1:00 P.M.; the meet for boys on Saturday, beginning at 9:00 A.M.

Class AAA will include those high schools with an enrollment of 800 or more (grades 10-12), and Class AA will include those schools with an enrollment of less than 800. All-male or all-female schools with an enrollment of 400 or more are placed in Class AAA. Any school may enter a class above its classification. General regulations concerning the meets appear in the K.H.S.A.A. booklet. In the booklet list of events appears the 200 Yard Freestyle Relay. The event should have been listed as the 400 Yard Freestyle Relay. All rules appearing in the 1967 scholastic section of the N.C.A.A. Swimming Guide will be followed unless there is some difference between these regulations and those adopted by the Board of Control. In such an event, K.H.S.A.A. rules will prevail.

Only those swimmers who qualify for the finals will be given expense allowances for transportation, lodging, and meals.

Certified Official

Curt Selvy has qualified recently as a Certified basketball official.

MINUTES OF BOARD MEETING

The Board of Control of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association met at the Kentucky Hotel, Louisville, on Saturday morning, January 21, 1967. The meeting was called to order by President Sherman Gish at 9:30, with all Board members, Commissioner Theo. A. Sanford, and Assistant Commissioner J. B. Mansfield present. The invocation was given by Foster J. Sanders.

Ralph C. Dorsey moved, seconded by Don Davis, that the reading of the minutes of the December meeting be waived since members of the Board had received copies of these minutes. The motion was carried unanimously.

Oran C. Teater moved, seconded by Foster J. Sanders, that the following regulations concerning the fees for regional basketball tournament officials be adopted: The official shall receive a fee of $25.00 per game and a transportation allowance of 8 cents per mile for all necessary travel. In the event that it is necessary for the official to remain overnight at the tournament site, he shall be paid an additional $10.00 per day for lodging and meals. The motion was carried unanimously.

The Commissioner reported that bids for telecasting the final game of the State Basketball Tournament would be opened on February 4.

Preston Holland moved, seconded by Foster J. Sanders, that all bills of the Association for the period beginning December 1, 1966, and ending December 31, 1966, be allowed. The motion was carried unanimously.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

The Flying Dutchman

One of Kentucky's outstanding parents just called to say that he is quite concerned because the coach of the team on which his boy plays is a "wild man on the bench" and he does not want his boy to act like him. The coach in question has a problem. He is one of the most personable people the Dutchman has ever met, an outstandingly successful coach, but while the basketball game is in progress he is a different personality.

The telephone question was, "Where should a parent go for a remedy for this situation?" His boy wants to play ball, his parents want him to play ball but they also don't want to have him graduate from his high school a crybaby. Sure, this coach has a problem—all of us have problems, but this Dutchman has never yet seen one settled by raving, ranting, or crybabying.

Relative to the remedy, the first shot should have been fired by the assistant principal who was sitting next to the complaining parent and who was quite embarrassed by the coach's actions toward the referee, which reflected discredit on the school. Maybe he has since distinguished himself as an administrator by having a Dutch uncle talk with this coach.

The referee had a problem here also. Here is a direct clue from the Flying Dutchman—if the official had called a technical foul the first time the coach stormed at him, he would have done the coach a favor and helped him with his problem—but he didn't. If officials don't have the courage to enforce the rules then the proper thing to do is to hang up their whistles. You are going to ask me now how many technical fouls would it take to put this coach or any other coach out of the ball game and I am going to say to you that if the first act was severe enough the coach should be expelled right then. It may be that on the second offense the official would disqualify the coach, or depending on his actions, maybe three. There is no magic number of two like many officials think. The courageous referee will use judgment and whatever his decision is he will be supported by the full strength of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association.

One of Kentucky's outstanding schoolboy athletes, now one of the two most publicized players in the United States, was highly complimented in a Sunday Magazine story which appeared in the Louisville Courier-Journal on January 19, 1967. From the east coast to the west everybody is acclaiming young Westley Unseld a miracle man in the field of basketball. The praise of his athletic achievements is richly deserved and Westley will be acclaimed in sports history alongside the names of Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain and Jerry Lucas. Long after people have forgotten his outstanding achievements on the hardwood they will remember the praise he gave to his father and mother. Westley emphasized that when he had a problem at school that he also had a problem with his parents, and the young giant said that even now were he to get in trouble at the University his mother would probably be there to administer the same correction he received as a little boy. Kentucky could use thousands of parents like Mr. and Mrs. Charles Unseld because they want a Christian young gentleman first and a basketball player second. It behooves all of us who are associated with these young athletes to remember that the first is the most important.

The Dutchman has to give Bob Mulcahy, young Westley's coach at Seneca High School, the credit for instilling the right philosophy in this young player.

Nobody will ever see this All American "bellyache" or complain. Coach Mulcahy's philosophy is that while you are concentrating on quarreling with the referee the other team is at the end of the floor scoring. About this problem of griping, Dick VanHoose said something to the Dutchman many years ago which has served him well. Dick said, "Charlie, whenever anybody hands you a lemon, make lemonade from it."

So you are an official with a problem! Everybody has problems but they were never solved by a lack of courage or determination to make decisions based on right or wrong. The next time you are in Florida take a look at the trees. The strong, sturdy upright ones are those which are in the open and face the tremendous wind of the tropical hurricanes, but the weak, scrawny ones are found in the valleys where they are protected from the winds. The moral here, basketball officials, is to always face the wind—never turn your back on a problem and hope it will go away.

The Dutchman's admonition to officials is get a sense of humor or get out. You can help those coaches some if you will. I recall a serious situation at one ball game when the coach accused the official of calling a lousy game and the official replied, "Coach, how much did you pay me to officiate this contest?" The coach's reply was, "$10." The official then said, "You got my $10 game. I have a better one which I work for $15 and then I have a dandy for $25. You just happened to buy my lousy game." Everybody got a laugh and a riot failed to develop because the official had a sense of humor. It wouldn't be fun if everything went smoothly all the time. Anybody could do the job then.

Spectators have problems which they have to meet. I once saw a rabid crowd charge from the stands to "get the official" and trample a little girl, who has never walked normally since that time because the crazed mob crippled her. I also saw a young basketball player who helped the spectators with their problem. When the crowd came onto the floor to "get the referee" this young man held up his hand and drove them back to their seats with one exclamation, "The kids on this Medora team are ashamed of you." Many spectators afterwards told the Dutchman that they were ashamed because it took a boy to teach them proper manners at a basketball game.

We all have problems but the way we separate the men from the boys is by observing who meets them head-on and who turns and runs. Up in Chicago at the head of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Association is a "giant of a man." Cliff Fagan, in my book, towers above the other giants because he has a philosophy of life and sports which is unexcelled. He had the courage to try new ideas and make tough decisions but most of all he knows how to handle men. This Dutchman will never forget a chat with Cliff in the lobby of the Brown Hotel back in 1962 when the Dutchman was crybabying about something. After listening to Cliff nobody has ever seen this Dutchman shed a tear since. That is why this column about problems is being written to emphasize maturing from childhood to manhood.

So, it is basketball tournament time in Kentucky and once again there is no question that Kentucky will demonstrate again that it is worthy of its title, "The Sportsmanship Capital of the Nation." Problems we have but problems we can solve. The state tournament hospitality committee will be headed this year by my good friend, Lou Benn, who has been appointed by the Louisville Chamber of Commerce to make all of you Kentuckians feel wanted and at home in the big city. Your questions relative to the hospitality program

WORLD SERIES OF 1954, e-j-s-c-a, 3 reels, $1.00

Highlights of the game between the Cleveland Indians and the New York Giants are shown in this film. The Giants, sparked by the sensational hitting of Rhodes, defeated the Indians in four straight games. The Indians had set a record for the number of games won in winning the American League Pennant.

WORLD SERIES OF 1955, e-j-s-c-a, 4 reels, color, $1.00

Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Yankees are shown in this film. The commentary leading up to each game makes the film interesting as the Dodgers win the world championship.

WORLD SERIES OF 1957, e-j-s-c-a, 4 reels, $1.00

The American League champion New York Yankees, carry the series the full seven games before bowing to the Milwaukee Braves, champion of the National League. The film catches most of the hitting and shows the plays in which runs were scored in each game. The narrator, Lew Fonseca, describes the play and fills in the background with interesting bits of information concerning the game.

WORLD SERIES OF 1959, e-j-s-c-a, 4 reels, color, $1.00

The highlights of the six games played in the series between the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Chicago White Sox are shown in this film. The Dodgers won the series by defeating the White Sox four games to two. Most of the scoring plays are filmed, along with many of the outstanding defensive plays. The color that goes with these games is captured in the film.

Ruling: The goal counts if made and the foul is penalized as any foul during a live ball. The period does not end until after the free throw has been administered.

35. Play: Jumper A1 taps the ball so that it goes in flight outside the restraining circle where, before it has been touched by any non-jumper, A1 taps it again so that it strikes the floor 10 feet away. A1 then picks up the ball with both hands and dribbles in for a goal.

Ruling: Legal. The jump did not end until the ball struck the floor. A1 is permitted to dribble thereafter.

36. Play: After a successful free throw by B1, A1 makes a legal throw-in to A2. The official neglects to signal time-in and the timer fails to start the clock. A2 scores a field goal.

Ruling: The field goal counts. The ball became alive when it touched A2 inbounds. It, therefore, was a live ball that went into the basket even though the official and the timer failed to start the clock.

37. Play: A1 is holding the ball but has not dribbled. He places the ball on the floor in front of him and straightens to an upright position. He then reaches down to the floor and picks up the ball.

Ruling: This is legal. However, if he dribbles, he will be violating.

38. Play: A1, who is at the free throw line, has the ball and is making preparations for a free throw attempt when A2 pushes B1 along the lane.

Ruling: A2 has committed a personal foul interpreted in this situation to be intentional. B1 is awarded two free throws after which the ball will be put in play by a center jump.

Comment: This situation is interpreted to be an intentional foul, in order to prevent team A from exploiting the rule. By committing a player control foul, A2 causes it to be a false double foul, resulting in a center jump, thereby depriving team B of its opportunity for a throw-in if the free throw by A1 were successful, or depriving team B of an opportunity to secure the ball if the free throw attempt by A1 were missed. But when the foul by A2 is considered intentional, team B is given two free throws, which makes the infraction by team A costly.

39. Play: While the two teams are warming up five minutes before the game time, A1 and B1 trade punches at mid-court.

Ruling: The official's jurisdiction in such a situation begins 10 minutes before the ball is tossed at center to start the game. Both A1 and B1 are disqualified from competing in the contest and each team is awarded two free throws for the flagrant technical foul committed against its player. After the four free throws have been administered, the game will continue with a jump in the center circle between any two opponents.

40. Play: A1 is holding the ball in his front court near a corner made by the junction of the end and side lines. A2 has a position in the front court near that end line. B2 has taken a legal position between A2 and the basket and is closely guarding A2. To avoid B2, A2 goes out of bounds over the end line and returns to the court under the basket where he receives the pass from teammate A1.

Ruling: This is a technical foul on A2 for leaving the court for an unauthorized reason. A player may not leave the court to evade his guard.

41. Play: A1 and B1 strike each other with their fists during a dead ball. Immediately after the fight, B2 curses the official.

Ruling: Each foul is technical and flagrant. This is a false double foul. Two technical fouls are assessed against team B and one against team A. A1, B1, and B2 are immediately disqualified from the game. Any player of team A, including an incoming player, may attempt the four free throws awarded it and any team B player, including an incoming player, may attempt the two free throws awarded team B. After the free throws are administered play is resumed by a jump ball in the center circle between any two opponents.

42. Play: Field goal try by A1 goes into the basket and is below the ring level. However, it bounces out the top of the basket when the ball strikes the inside of the net.

Ruling: No goal has been scored and the ball continues in play.

43. Play: The clock, which is stopped, indicates 2 seconds remain before the third quarter ends. B1 misses a free throw and A2 obtains the rebound and misses a field goal try. B1 secures the rebound and dribbles down court across the division line well into his front court before he charges into A3 just as the horn sounds. The referee consults the timer, who acknowledges he did not start the clock when A1 missed the free throw.

Ruling: If the referee is positive that, had the timer started the clock at the proper instant, time would have expired before B1 charged into A3, he would rule that the quarter had expired before the contact and the foul would be ignored unless it is unsportsmanlike.

44. Play: A1, in the mid-court area and legally guarded by B1, consumes more than 5 seconds in a bona fide attempt to advance the ball by dribbling.

Ruling: There is no violation. The official will not begin a 5-second count when the dribbler is clearly making an honest endeavor to advance the ball.

45. Play: While an unsuccessful free throw by A1 is in flight, B1 enters the lane too soon. Before the ball becomes dead, B2 shoves A2.

Ruling: The infractions are penalized in the order of their occurrence. A1 will attempt the free throw or throws due him (including the substitute throw). The ball becomes dead when his last try is made or missed. A2 will then be given his throw or throws.

Postscripts On Athletics

Dear Coach:

The football season is over and my son Bill has hung up his gridiron "togs" and will soon report for basketball practice. Our school didn't win the district championship, but we won our share of games played and above all our team won the respect of our opponents and our community by their fine sportsmanship and hard play. It was a very successful year for all, and especially for my son.

As a parent, Coach, I am eternally thankful that my boy had the opportunity to play under your supervision and leadership. Each day during the football season my boy learned through example those fine moral and ethical character traits which we all want our boys to know and to follow. I recall the night Bill told me how he nearly lost his temper in a scrimmage, but thought just in time that "Coach" never loses his temper, and neither will I. Thanks, Coach, for setting an example in proper conduct on and off the playing field. Bill tells me that Coach can be firm without being loud, mean and boisterous, that Coach knows when to sympathize, when to pat you on the shoulder, and how to correct you. These are leadership traits I want my son to acquire and he can best learn these on the field of competition under proper leadership.

Obedience to Authority

For three months, Coach, my boy has really been under your complete control. He has adjusted his life to your suggested plan. Meals, hours of sleep, social activity, etc., have all been adjusted to your schedule and through these he has learned voluntary obedience to rules; in his scrimmage and games he has further learned obedience to constituted authority. How much this obedience to rules and authority is needed in today's society! I believe Bill has learned this lesson. Coach, Bill imitates your every action; you are his ideal. How proud I am that your personal life and conduct are on such a high level! My boy dresses better, speaks better English, and behaves better because Coach sets the example. I wonder if all coaches realize how important a place they have in the school and community, and how many boys are imitating them.

Scholarship

Especially, Coach, I want to thank you for insisting that athletes study diligently, and stressing constantly the fact that scholastic work is so important. Bill told me that you had impressed on all of the team that football players are superior intellectually to the average student and that they should make good grades because they have the ability to do so. This teaches the boys not to try and "ride by" because they are athletes. I had told Bill several times that Dr. Terman in his studies on gifted children had found that children with superior physical physiques have superior mental abilities. Hearing this same principle from his coach, however, made an impression which is lasting.

Your emphasis on teamwork, cooperation, fair play, sportsmanship, honesty, integrity, obedience to authority, control of emotions, proper health habits, and proper conduct has earned for you a place of honor in the hearts of all the parents, the students, the faculty, and the community.

In Memoriam

John P. "Jack" Gossett of Ashland, Certified basketball official and former coach at the Ashland Holy Family High School, died on January 4. He was 32 years of age.

Jack Gossett graduated from Holy Family in 1952, having been a member of the basketball team for three years. He led the 1952 team to one of its best records. He played basketball at Rio Grande College during the 1953-1956 period. In the 1961-62 basketball season, he had one of the best teams in the state while coaching at Holy Family. He had been a registered official with the K.H.S.A.A. for five years.

For some five years Mr. Gossett had been Secretary-Treasurer of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Ashland. He was a member of Ashland Council 1487, Knights of Columbus; Ashland Lodge B.P.O. Elks 350; Ashland Jaycees; and he was a Commissioner of the Eastern Kentucky Conference (basketball). He is survived by his wife, Colleen, and two children.

The impact of your leadership is just as obvious in the community as in the school. Your active participation in civic, church and youth organizations proves that you are really concerned about all youth, and that you want to make our town a better place for everyone to live in.

In conclusion, Coach, thanks again for all you have done for Bill and the youth of this community. We appreciate you and want you to know that this is a better community because you chose the profession of coaching and the leadership of youth.

Your friend,
Bill's Dad

K.H.S.C.A. Notice

Secretary-Treasurer Joe Ohr of the Kentucky High School Coaches Association calls attention to the fact that membership in his organization runs from March 1, 1967, to February 29, 1968. Two coaches in each school have their fees paid from district basketball tournament receipts. Other coaches should apply to Mr. Ohr for their membership cards. The new fee is $2.00. Mr. Ohr's address is Irvine High School, Irvine, Kentucky.

Letter From the Commissioner

or 1:00 P.M. CENTRAL STANDARD TIME. This information concerning the starting time of the regional meeting should be given to your winner and runner-up.

12. Send Secretary Ohr of the Kentucky Coaches Association the list of district coaches to be enrolled in his organization and remittance for these, and send the Commissioner the various reports mentioned above as soon as possible.

13. Tournament Rule VI-A-3 provides that the district representative to the annual meeting may be allowed for expenses an amount not to exceed $50.00. Since this is a maximum and not necessarily a fixed amount, the delegate should be asked to submit an estimate of the cost of his lodging, transportation, and meals because of his representing the district at the annual meeting.

Sincerely yours,
 Ted Sanford

Because Lou is also handling the hospitality program for the National Collegiate Association Tournament in Louisville, he is rendering double civic service and qualifies for the Dutchman's corn-cob pipe of honor for unselfish service. The little trophy is in the mail to him now.

As the Dutchman goes to press an invitation has come from Bob Hoffman to make the basketball banquet address in Jasper, Indiana. Because the pressure of my parks and recreation position in Jefferson County limits my speaking activities to three basketball banquets, please understand why some of your invitations cannot be accepted.

About those problems we have written about in this column, let me quote you the following excerpt from

It Just Shouldn't Be

It shouldn't be but high school basketball's biggest problem remains unchanged—and unsolved.

The problem: Attitude—particularly of coaches—toward officials.

Basketball has no greater eyesore than a coach who doesn't know how to act like a leader and an educator on the sidelines. There is nothing in the game more distasteful than a coach—in complete violation of the bench conduct rule—who rants and raves and, worst of all, incites.

Nobody is asking a coach to be impervious to the excitement and suspense of an important game or not to be frustrated by a call that could have gone either way. But there is no place for a coach who jumps up and down—or strips off his coat and hurls it into the bleachers!

We would like to be able to say that the undisciplined coach draws all the blame for this key problem in basketball. But there is a companion contributor in these critical situations. That "companion" is the official himself—the man who has the authority, but doesn't use it, to keep unrestrained coaches in line. There is natural reluctance, of course, on the part of officials to use their power in this area. But their failure to do so often contributes to the possibility of losing control of a game—and most assuredly it contributes to the delinquency of the coach.

Tournament time is just around the corner, so this is a good time for reminders: To the coach who should not merely be guided by the rule but also by the spirit of the rule that calls for proper conduct on the sidelines, and to the official who should not hesitate—for the sake of maintaining proper control—to blow the whistle at an offending coach.

It just shouldn't be, not at all, that we have a problem like this!

Oxygen and Athletics

There is no evidence showing physiologic benefits from oxygen inhalation before or after athletic competition; the body is incapable of storing excess oxygen. On the other hand, the potential harm from competent administration of oxygen in the athletic setting is remote. The hazard is more in the realm of handling the combustion-supporting gas than in consuming it. Effective or ineffective, safe or unsafe, the bases for discrediting this practice lie in the principles underlying the health and safety supervision of amateur sports. To amplify:

1. Medically, the purpose of oxygen inhalation therapy is to help alleviate acute or chronic distress from deficient pulmonary ventilation as in instances of cardiac or respiratory illness. Also, experimentation using oxygen therapy under medically controlled conditions may be of scientific interest. However, the administration of oxygen to healthy athletes before competition in the hope of gaining an advantage cannot be justified. In fact, it might be compared to "doping" of athletes if it succeeded in improving performance.

2. Educationally, healthy athletes who are given oxygen in the hope of speeding up physiologic recovery during participation in sports may be duped into relying on something other than the development of their natural cardiovascular-pulmonary reserve. Moreover, the observing and emulating public may be duped as well.

3. Professionally, the insecure or impatient coach may turn to such a practice at the expense of some aspect of sound athletic preparedness (conditioning, skills, strategy, and proper guidance of athletic desire) and thus may adversely affect the athlete's chances for safe, healthful, and effective experiences in competition.

4. Financially, the ordinarily strained school or college budget is further burdened with an unessential expense.

In the one situation where oxygen inhalation might be useful—after strenuous exertion at high altitudes by athletes unaccustomed to the heights—the need for oxygen therapy may be limited if a precompetition training period can be planned at those heights. While this situation would be a rare occurrence for interscholastic programs, the rationale that oxygen therapy is a medical matter for the alleviation of acute distress would still apply.

Football Rule Changes

Two major changes have been written into the rules which will govern high school football in 1967.

As adopted by the National Alliance Football Rules Committee in Des Moines, Iowa, the changes are:

1. The clock will start with the ready-for-play signal following a penalty or declination of a penalty.

(The rule in the past called for the clock to be stopped until the ball was snapped at the start of the subsequent play.)

2. The length of the charged time-out period is reduced to 90 seconds.

(The rule in the past for time-outs called for two minutes.)

Both changes will decrease to an extent the length of a contest, and this decrease will offset in part the revision of a year ago stopping the clock after a first down until the ready-for-play signal. The reduced time-out period was particularly designed to eliminate the standing-around during time-outs late in the game when they are called only for the purpose of stopping the clock.

Among other changes in the rules which will go into effect in 1967 are:

1. The signal for holding has been changed from a chopping motion of the forearm to grasping the wrist.

2. Two attendants instead of one will be allowed to go onto the field during time-out periods.

3. A referee has authority to mark off an added penalty for an act he considers unfair or unsportsmanlike, such as a coach arguing after an unsportsmanlike foul has been assessed.

There was discussion but no action on a proposal to change the conversion rule to two points for rushing or passing (along with the present one for a kick), and an effort to have the cross-bar of the goal posts moved over the goal line was turned down.
