Early Season Basketball Questions

EDITOR'S NOTE: These interpretations of the rules of the National Basketball Committee of the United States and Canada do not set aside nor modify any rule. The rulings are made by the National Federation of High School Athletic Associations in response to situations presented.

Clifford B. Fagan, Committee Secretary

1. Play: A1 throws the ball down into the basket from above but from outside of the imaginary cylinder. His hand loses contact with the ball before it (the ball) enters the cylinder. However, on the follow-through his hand enters the cylinder.

Ruling: Legal. It is not a violation for a player to have his hand within the imaginary cylinder above the basket provided it is not touching the ball. The revision in Rule 9-11 does not permit a player to carry the ball into the imaginary cylinder above the ring nor place the ball into the basket itself. The current coverage makes it mandatory for the player to throw or tap the ball into the basket. It is a violation when a player touches the ball or the basket when the ball is in or on the basket, or to touch the ball while any portion of the ball is touching the imaginary cylinder directly above the basket.

2. Play: A1 and B1 jump at the center circle. A1 taps the ball into his front court where it is touched but not controlled by A2 and then deflected into the back court of A, where B3 obtains possession. B3 then throws the ball to teammate B4 in his back court.

Ruling: Violation when B4 touches the ball in his back court. The ball was in B's back court when touched by A2. Therefore, if B3, who is in B's front court, returns it to his back court, the ball would be there a second time, resulting in a violation when touched by a B player.

3. Play: While the ball is in flight following A1's try for a field goal, B1 slaps the backboard of Team A, causing the basket to vibrate and: (a) the ball goes into the basket; or (b) the ball does not enter the basket.

Ruling: In (a) the basket counts and a technical foul is assessed against B1. Team A is awarded a free throw after which it is given the ball out of bounds at the division line. In (b) there is no score. A technical foul is charged to B1. Team A is given the free throw and awarded the ball out of bounds at the division line.

4. Play: Ball is in flight following a field goal try by A1 when time for a quarter expires. Following the expiration time and while the ball is rolling on the ring, B1 taps it into the basket.

Ruling: Violation by B1. The ball was alive until touched by B1 when it became dead. Consequently, the field goal does not count. However, the action by B1 is basket interference. Two points are awarded Team A because of the interference.

5. Play: A1 tosses the ball over the head of his guard B1. The ball goes well down the court so that A1 must take several steps in attempting to again secure control.

Ruling: A1 started a dribble, when he threw the ball in the air. The dribble ended when A1 was unable to immediately catch or continue to dribble the ball. A1 may recover the ball and make a try or pass the ball. However, he may not dribble again.

6. Play: A1 drives for a try and, after he starts his arm motion, B5 fouls him. Before the ball leaves the hand of A1, time for the period expires and ball goes into the basket.

Ruling: The basket does not count and A1 is awarded 1 free throw.

7. Play: A1, at the free throw line to attempt a free throw, is handed the ball by the official who starts his silent count. A1 strikes his knee or leg accidentally with the ball as he bounces the ball. It rolls toward the basket between the free throw lane lines.

Ruling: It is customary in such instances for the official to sound his whistle at once, causing the ball to become dead immediately. This will prevent a violation, such as another player stepping across a line to recover the ball. The official should caution the free thrower, then replace the ball at his disposal, and start a new silent count.

8. Play: During the first half, only a home scorer and a home timer are provided. For the second half, the visitors request the right to have a second scorer and a second timer.

Ruling: The visitors are permitted to have the additional timer and scorer, or one bench official to assist in timing and scoring.

9. Play: The umpire observes traveling, or stepping out of bounds or another violation by A1. At approximately the same time, A1 tries for a field goal or the referee observes contact by B1.

Ruling: The officials must decide definitely which act occurred first. There is nothing inherent in such acts to make it necessary to rule them as occurring simultaneously. If the violation occurred first, the ball became dead. If the ball were in flight following the try before the traveling or the touching of the boundary, there was no violation. If the contact occurred after a violation was observed, it is not a foul unless an unsportsmanlike factor was involved.

10. Play: A2 remains in the restricted area of his team's free throw lane in excess of three seconds while A1 is dribbling in his back court.

Ruling: Violation. Team B is awarded the ball at the out of bounds spot nearest to where the violation by A2 occurred.

11. Play: Eight minutes prior to the game's scheduled starting time, three players are listed on Team A's roster as wearing number 4.

Ruling: One A player may legally wear number 4. The two wearing the duplicate numbers are doing so illegally and the penalty is a technical foul for each illegal number. Therefore, Team B is awarded two free throws and given the ball for a throw-in at mid-court at the start of the game. A player may not participate while wearing a duplicate number.

12. Play: During the intermission between halves, A4 changes his number without reporting the change to the scorers and an official. The scorers discover the

  3. Official's Report on Schools (Football)

By-Laws 7 and 17

By-Law 7-2 provides that an official who has disqualified a player shall report the name of the player to the principal of the home team school, and that the Commissioner shall be notified of such action immediately by the principal. Only the home principal or his representative is involved in this situation. It is not necessary that the official make a report to the Commissioner on the disqualification unless in his opinion the conduct of the player is so unsportsmanlike that serious trouble might have developed. In such an event, the officials should make reports. If the principal of either school involved is in doubt concerning whether or not a troublesome incident should be reported under the provisions of By-Law 17, he should make a written report.

Approved and Certified Officials

A large number of K.H.S.A.A. registered officials qualified for the advanced rating of Approved and Certified as a result of the National Federation basketball examination which was given in Kentucky on December 4, 1967. The Approved rating does not carry forward from year to year, but must be earned each year. After an official has received the Certified rating, he keeps this rating provided that he attends the clinic for the current year and worked in at least twelve first team high school basketball games during the previous year. Only officials receiving these higher ratings are eligible to work in the regional tournaments. Only Certified officials are eligible to work in the State Tournament.

Basketball officials who qualified for advanced ratings during the current season are as follows:

The Flying Dutchman

It's 1968 and a brand new year! Everything which happened last year is history; everything from now on is new. Old grievances are forgiven as the new year offers opportunities for new and lasting friendships. Without a doubt the greatest blessing to come to the Dutchman during the year of 1967 was the friendships of people all over Kentucky. To them and to the new friendships to be made in 1968, this writer says, "Happy New Year."

As the strains of Auld Lang Syne fade in the distance, the story of a great humanitarian who wins the first Corn Cob Pipe of Honor for outstanding service in this new year must be told. Everybody has heard of the great George Unsel, who starred on the Seneca High School team under the coaching of the peerless Bob Mulcahy. There have been volumes written about the All-American Westley Unsel, who got his early training under Bob also and later became an All-American athlete as well as a fine example for our young people.

We all must bear in mind that fine men like George and Westley as well as those other Unsel, had excellent parental training. So it is that we commend Mr. and Mrs. Charles Unsel, the parents of these young men, and send the first Corn Cob Pipe of Honor for 1968 to "Big Charlie" Unsel. When you speak of "Big Charlie" Unsel reference is to a man not only large in physical stature but a man whose heart is just as big as his 6' 6" of physical framework. The community of Newburg, nestled in the center part of Jefferson County, owes more to the public service of Charlie Unsel than anyone will ever be able to properly acclaim. Charles Unsel becomes another champion as he wins the Dutchman's award for unselfish service to his community.

There is a recreation building in that area, baseball and softball facilities and club facilities because this public servant did not want a nickel's worth of anything for himself but wanted something good for his people of the Newburg area. Whenever "Big Charlie" comes before a governmental body to make a request it is always unselfish and for the people he loves. So it is that the Dutchman doffs his fedora to a man who has been an unsung hero while proudly enjoying the successes of his illustrious sons. Display your trophies proudly, Charles Unsel, because your community is better because you live there.

Over in Schnitzelburg, the Germantown section of Louisville, a big Dutch dinner was served last month, and naturally the Flying Dutchman was present. In that audience was Godfrey F. Russman, Jr., one of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association's better football officials. Godfrey Russman is dedicated to sports and would officiate a great deal more basketball were it not that he is the "happy undertaker" of the Germantown area, which ties him up. The story here is not so much about this particular Godfrey, Jr., but about this fellow's father, Godfrey, Sr., who made it possible for the Flying Dutchman as well as the other kids of Schnitzelburg to play basketball and football as kids because he was the organizer back in those days when there was not the opportunity to play ball which is afforded young men now. He was at the Dutch dinner, too. It is interesting to see how the traits of the civic-minded father are passed on to the son, meaning a continuation of leadership. It is hard to measure the good which was done for those little Germantown kids because somebody took the lead and made things available for them. You've some footprints in Germantown's sands of time, Godfrey, Senior.

The Southcentral Officials Association, Elizabeth-

town, has announced that Albert McLane will serve as president for this year. Albert McLane will not only do a fine job as president but you may be sure that he will publicize the work being done by that association. Al is one of the best cartoonists that the Dutchman has ever seen. Anyone who can get Al to cartoon him will have something special to pass on to his future grandchildren. How about drawing a cartoon of the commissioner and the assistant commissioner so that the Dutchman may hang these on the wall of his office, Al? Make one of Howard Gardner while you're cartooning, Al.

Bobby Singleton, one of Ted's basketball officials, has moved up in the officiating ranks. Bobby is now working some of the American Basketball Association games and is doing a fine job. Recently he officiated the Kentucky Colonels' game with the Dallas Chapparels. Officials get their breaks in the strangest ways. Bobby got his by offering his services in a scrimmage game with no fee. His work was so impressive that he was made an official. It never hurts to give away some unselfish service. When bread is cast on the waters it generally comes back many fold.

From Alvin Almond, University High of Bowling Green, comes a letter saying that the officials like the new film on basketball officiating which is being made available through the Kentucky High School Athletic Association. This is a tribute to Doc Runyon, director of the Official Sports Film Service, who retired at the close of 1967. Every officials' association in Kentucky should view this film. To Doc the Dutchman says, "May our paths cross again!"

From Price Lytle of Lexington comes another recommendation for the Game Guy Award which goes to the young athlete overcoming the greatest physical handicap to engage in sports. Whenever a nomination is made that young athlete immediately receives the Lionheart award and becomes eligible for the Game Guy Award which is presented at the annual dinner of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association during K. E. A. in Louisville. The young fighter whom Price recommends is Percy Hampton, a Junior at Lafayette High School in Lexington. Percy has been playing football since he was in the ninth grade, although his left arm is off at the shoulder. One can only have great admiration for a youngster who gives as much as he does to his team, with such a handicap. His coach, Eddie Selliers, says that he is a good student and a fine citizen as well. Eddie says that any coach who can field eleven boys who put forth the effort that this lad exerts can win championships just about anytime.

That story about the Flying Dutchman being a phantom ship excited a lot of people over Kentucky. Some have even told the Dutchman that this is an accurate story and that the phantom ship may even now be seen on some of the inland waterways of this and other

The Team Physician

A Statement of the Committee on the Medical Aspects of Sports of the American Medical Association.

It is now well accepted that a preseason medical evaluation which extends beyond an actual examination to include a careful health history is an integral aspect of an athlete's preparation for participation in sports. The basis goal is to assure for each candidate the best possible health guidance with respect to his particular interests and capabilities.

It is also well accepted that the athlete merits the best possible health guidance throughout the season. The assurance of the services of a physician for all athletic contests in which injuries can be anticipated is an important provision in a school's coordinated medical supervisory plan. Other provisions include enabling the attending physician to handle on-site injuries under desirable conditions, arranging to obtain emergency medical care during practice sessions as needed when a physician may not be in attendance, and establishing policies and procedures that provide the best possible protection to the athlete.

Colleges and universities often meet these goals by retaining a team physician under the auspices of the student health service or on a consultant basis. High schools ordinarily do not have such resources; but since a school bears primary responsibility for the conduct of its activities, it has a duty to establish and maintain an effective program for the health supervision of its athletic activities.

The task therefore is to formulate a plan for the best possible use of the community's medical personnel. One desirable plan is for appropriate representatives of the school to seek the assistance of the local medical society in working out arrangements that are mutually acceptable and that offer optimum medical guidance for each athlete. Any arrangement must include the development of school health policies that provide sound practices and procedures in the health supervision of the student participants. The ideal arrangement would include the appointment of a physician to serve as team physician to serve as team physician for the school's sports program. This arrangement does not absolve the school of its responsibilities in this area of concern; rather, it provides an effective and efficient fulfillment of its responsibilities.

The Dual Responsibility of the Team Physician

The term "team physician" denotes a physician who is vested by the school with authority to make medical judgments relating to the participation and supervision of students in school sports. Without such a categorical designation of responsibility, there cannot exist the continuing medical assistance the athlete deserves. To put the responsibility of on-site medical decisions on the shoulders of non-medical personnel—or physicians who are removed from the scene—serves no one effectively.

Having accepted the responsibility of acting in behalf of the school, the team physician faces a dual responsibility of ensuring: (1) that the athlete is not deprived unnecessarily of the opportunity to participate if an injury or other clinical condition is not potentially serious and does not interfere with the player's performance; and conversely (2) that the student's future in athletics and in life is not jeopardized by unwarranted eligibility for a particular sport or by premature return to competition in any sport after injury or illness.

This dual responsibility of the team physician is direct and unavoidable and needs the full support of all school personnel involved. The team physician's personal task within this responsibility is to develop an ever-increasing sharpness in on-site diagnostic and prognostic assessments. His competency can be enhanced by review of current literature on athletic medicine, inquiry of medical authorities about unresolved questions, and, where possible, participation in conferences on the medical aspects of sports.

The Advantages of Personalized Supervision

Even a highly qualified physician cannot be at his best if he is unfamiliar with the peculiarities of the sport to be supervised, the characteristics of the athletes who are the subject of his decisions during the season, or the special health problems of the visiting team's personnel with whom he will be involved.

Coordination of the preparticipation health examination is basic. Familiarity with the individual athlete's characteristics come from personal acquaintance, observation, and review of his medical history. At stake is a workable understanding of the individual's "norm" with respect to his general behavior, capabilities, problems, interests, and responses to success and failure. From such an understanding of the individual, the team physician can gain a more prompt awareness of any deviation from normal and a better sensitivity as to its significance in athletic competition.

Periodic conversations with the coaching staff about their plans, problems, and programs are also helpful. Similar conversations with game officials about rules and the enforcement of rules have been found to be of mutual value. Moreover, discussion of common concerns with team physicians serving other schools—especially those on the particular conference or league schedule—is a definite asset; plans for caring for injured athletes on the visitor's team would be a strategic agenda item.

A bonus comes to the school which involves the team physician in the overall administrative preparations. His familiarity with the school's general health policies and overall athletic operations yield a better protected athlete. In addition, welcome economies through avoiding the purchase of unnecessary supplies and substandard equipment may be realized. The physician's familiarity with the medical and insurance resources in the community also may bring cost-reducing policies and practices in these areas of school responsibility.

In-Season Care

The school should cooperate with the team physician in having at his disposal during the season: (1) proper equipment for on-site emergency care; (2) an adequately equipped off-site medical station for evaluation and care of athletes whose injuries may not require immediate hospitalization; (3) pre-arranged means for obtaining immediate medical consultation and transportation when time is of the essence. The details of these recommendations differ widely from community to community because of the variables of proximity to a hospital, the preferences of the physician, and the nature of the school's facilities.

There is a distinct difference between on-site medical treatment and first aid care. The first requires a physician's competencies for diagnosis and decisions; the second requires an educated recognition of the problem and appropriate temporary actions until medical services can be obtained. Arresting a simple nose bleed is within the realm of first aid, assuming the delay is insignificant. At the other extreme, the proper emergency first aid care of an athlete's suspected neck or spinal injury is to take no action except to obtain the assistance of a physician immediately.

Between these two extremes are the injuries that require off-site medical treatment of athletes who are removed from play. An emergency medical station, near but not at the site of action, will give the team physician the opportunity to make a prompt but unhurried initial evaluation of the injury.

Whatever the arrangements, conditions should be such as to foster public respect for the purposes of sports and confidence in the protection of the athlete through responsible health supervision of sports. Any injury that appears sufficiently serious to receive more than simple first aid care merits an unhurried evaluation that is difficult to provide in close proximity to excited fans and competitors. On-site medical treatment of the athlete has a potent psychological impact, especially in sports such as wrestling or basketball, where the spectators are looking over the shoulders of the physician and the athlete under treatment. Moreover, treatment is more satisfactorily administered under the more clinically desirable conditions of a medical station.

There are instances where on-site treatment is medically advisable. The physician may elect to reduce a dislocation on the spot, for example, if intense pain or the risk from delay in reduction is too great. Obviously, these decisions and actions presuppose a team physician whose degree of skill and experience is matched by his discretion.

Relationships

Communication among all parties involved in the health supervision of sports is of the utmost importance if satisfactory cooperation and coordination is to be achieved. The team physician with both the authority of the school to act in its behalf and the involvement of medical society representatives in the program's planning has the best opportunity to fulfill his responsibilities ethically and effectively. Of special significance is the relationship of the team physician to his medical colleagues who are the family physicians of his athletes and the specialists with whom he may consult. Unless by coincidence or by advance agreement with particular colleagues, the athletes for which the team physician is responsible are not his patients in the long term sense. Therefore, pre-existing relationships must be respected and preserved.

The team physician's role thus is related to immediate health supervision and to referral for follow-up medical treatment, the particulars of which have been spelled out in that school's health policies. The school can further assist in this distinction by stipulating in the parents' "authorization to participate" form that approval is given for emergency medical care by the team physician at the time of participation.

The team physician, however, will have a responsible interest in seeing that his athletes obtain appropriate follow-up treatment. This interest may be pursued appropriately by

- discussing the progress of a disabled athlete with the attending physician;
- assisting his colleagues (individually or in conference session) in becoming oriented to authoritative principles of athletic medicine;
- evaluating periodically the approaches to total care of the athlete with officials representing the school, the medical society, insuring agencies, and other appropriate groups;
- helping the parents and athletes to understand their respective responsibilities in the conduct of the coordinated program.

Nonmedical Coordinator

The duties of the team physician are best carried out if a member of the school faculty has the responsibility for coordination with the physician. Such a person is needed to help consolidate the athletic and health considerations involved in advance planning, on-site supervision, road trips, direct communication with the athlete, and administrative liaison with the school nurse or health officer.

Road trips, for example, usually cannot be expected

1967-68 Swimming Rules Changes

Rule III, Section 5b—Note: In backstroke relay events, all takeoffs except the initial one shall be made from a forward start as described in Section 1a. After the dive, the swimmer is permitted a single arm pull in the prone position before turning over on his back.

Rule III, Section 10: This section is clarified and partly revised. It reads as follows:

"a. Only in individual races of 400 yards or longer, each contestant must be provided with a visual length count which may be supplemented with a verbal count. All counting must be given at the opposite end of the pool from the start in ascending order of lengths; for example; 1, 3, 5, etc. No length count shall be given in relay races, the 400-Yard Individual Medley, or individual races of less than 400 yards.

"b. A visual count must be given.

"c. Each competitor must provide his own counting personnel.

"d. The counting must begin at the start of a race and continue until the end."

Rule III, Section 11c: Any contestant not entered in a race who enters the pool or course in the area in which said race is being conducted before all contestants therein have completed the race shall be disqualified from his next scheduled competition in that day's session.

Rule III, Section 11d: Standing upon the bottom in the shallow end of a pool during a competition is allowed only for the purpose of resting. Walking on, or jumping from the bottom in the shallow end shall disqualify the offender.

Rule V, Section 3i: In the event of an infraction resulting in disqualification, the referee shall notify the disqualified swimmer of the nature of his infraction immediately following the event in question.

Rule V, Sections 8 and 10: To indicate an infraction of the rules, the takeoff judge, stroke inspector or turn judge shall raise his hand over his head with open palm immediately following a violation.

of the high school team physician. Incorporated into the schools' procedures should be a definite mechanism for the home team physician to meet the visiting team's nonmedical coordinator for mutual consideration of pertinent information.

Preferably, this person would be a qualified athletic trainer; his competencies are directly related to both the school's and physician's responsibilities. However, few high schools have a qualified athletic trainer. The alternatives include an assistant coach assigned to handle trainer responsibilities or a faculty safety coordinator who can attend all athletic sessions.

Summary

The team physician's function relates to decisions of medical eligibility of youthful participants in athletics. This involves consultation during the advance preparations for the season, requires competent management of emergencies, and includes appropriate referral and follow-up of athletes with conditions requiring further treatment. He is also concerned with the recording and collation of pertinent information bearing on the decisions he must make.

Such functions can be handled by a series of alternating physicians if such a course of action is essential. It would certainly be better, however, for a single physician to function regularly in this capacity. The advantages of such a plan with respect to his knowledge of the athletes and his understanding of the job are obvious.

BASKETBALL QUESTIONS

change after A4 has been participating for four minutes in the third quarter.

Ruling: Technical foul on A4. A4 is disqualified immediately. If a player changes his number, he must report it to both scorers and also to an official.

13. Play: A1 is holding the ball while in a post position in the mid-court area. He is closely guarded. Is a held ball always declared after 5 seconds?

Ruling: No. If a teammate or teammates are cutting near A1 and A1 is making a bona fide and legitimate attempt to pass to a teammate, a held ball will not be declared. Teammates, to cut near, must be within 6 feet of the post man, and the cuts must be within less than 5 seconds of each other.

14. Play: Upon entering the gym the officials find the benches placed at the ends of the court.

Ruling: The court does not conform to the rules requirement and, therefore, is not legal. It is not the duty of the officials to have the court made legal by insisting that the benches are properly placed. The host school is expected to provide a proper floor. However, contests are sometimes necessarily played on floors which are illegal because of lack of space. When benches could be placed on the side of the court and are not so placed, the officials should report this failure to comply with the rules to the state association or to the conference.

15. Play: A1, in control in his mid-court area near the division line, is closely guarded in front by B1 for three seconds. A1 then quickly starts a fast dribble directly toward his basket and, in so doing, gets about 2 feet ahead of his guard.

BELFRY—CLASS AA, REGION 4, CHAMPION

Ruling: Even though B1 may continue to be within 6 feet of A1, the 5-second count is broken in this situation when A1 "beats his guard." A1 must go directly out of the mid-court area and continue out without hesitating or stopping. If the direction of A1 should be generally to the sideline, the count would not stop. If A1 stopped before leaving the front court, the count would be resumed. If A1 were "picked up" and closely guarded in front by B2, a new count would start. The principle used to administer this situation is the same as that for an offensive player remaining in the restricted area of his free throw lane. The 3-second count terminates while the player in control moves in to make an attempt.

RULES BOOK: Rules Differences—(Inside Front Cover) 10-4-f ". . . basket vibration from any cause by an opponent is a technical foul."

CASE BOOK: Page 13—Rule 9:9-11 (second line from bottom of page) ". . . player to throw or tap the ball into the basket."

29. Play—In the ruling place a period following ". . . free throw line extended." Delete the remainder of the sentence.

408C. Play—Delete the first sentence and replace with the word "One."

408D. Play—Delete entire play. It is not applicable.

408F. Play—The second and third sentences should read as follows: "Thereafter, for the remainder of the given period, team A has 5 seconds in which to advance the ball beyond the mid-court area. After a warning, if the ball is advanced beyond the mid-court area and returned, another 5 second count is started."

"I'm For The Upperdog"

by Dr. Miller Upton

Editor's Note: An address by President Miller Upton of Beloit College has attracted wide attention and much comment. This article consists of quotations from that address, which was entitled, "If This Be Heresy . . ." These quotations were brought to the attention of the National Federation by the Program Aids Company's Newsletter for Leaders.

I have just about reached the end of my tolerance for the way our society at the present time seems to have sympathetic concern only for the misfit, the pervert, the drug addict, the drifter, the ne'er-do-well, the maladjusted, the chronic criminal, the under-achiever, the loser—in general, the underdog. It seems to me we have lost touch with reality and become warped in our attachments, if not in fact psychotic.

I feel it is time for someone like me to stand up and say, in short, "I'm for the upperdog!" I'm for the achiever—the one who sets out to do something and does it; the one who recognizes the problems and opportunities at hand and endeavors to deal with them, the one who is successful at his immediate task because he is not worrying about someone else's failings; the one who doesn't consider it "square" to be constantly looking for more to do, who isn't always rationalizing why he shouldn't be doing what he is doing; the one, in short, who carries the work of his part of the world squarely on his shoulders. Not the wealthy, necessarily, not the ones in authority, necessarily, not the gifted necessarily—just the doer, the achiever—regardless of his status, his opulence, his native endowment.

We are not born equal; we are born unequal. And the talented are no more responsible for their talents than the underprivileged for their plight. The measure of each should be what he does with his inherited position. No one should be damned by the environmental condition of his life—whether it be privileged or underprivileged.

This is an occasion to honor the successful—to say it is better to win than to lose, better to achieve an A than a C, that class rank is meaningful, that those who have developed the pattern of achieving in college will go on achieving out of college, and because of their

They Call It Basketball!

Editor's Note: The following editorial appeared in the December issue of the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association Bulletin.

They tell a story about a foreign exchange student somewhere in these United States. The boy was adjusting well and progressing creditably during his first few months of exposure to the American style of education.

And then he saw his first high school basketball game!

Asked afterwards for his reactions, the puzzled youngster, who thought basketball, like chemistry, was part of the regular and normal high school program, didn't remember much about the game. He talked only about "a red-faced coach who was jumping up and-down all night, shouting—maybe even swearing—at either his players or the officials—or both, and about a handful of rowdy spectators, standing, booing and waving their hands in gestures of obvious dissatisfaction."

This happened in Wisconsin, you ask? We don't know whether it did or not! But it matters little. Suffice it to say, it could have happened in our state—in fact, from recent reports reaching the WIAA offices, it may well be that this very incident did happen in Wisconsin.

Would you believe in our proud state of high-class interscholastic athletics there is a basketball coach who was slapped with three technicals in a single game? And would you believe this same coach earlier in this young season was assessed two technicals in a single game?

THOMAS JEFFERSON—CLASS AAA, REGION 2, CHAMPION

Disgusting and inexcusable—this is the only reasonable manner to describe antics of a coach who has so completely lost control of himself and his situation that officials must blow technical after technical on him. Bluntly stated, this type of coach has no business in high school athletics—and maybe something should be done to exclude coaches so obviously out-of-focus from this aspect of the teaching profession.

It may even become a necessity for the WIAA to resort to more meaningful dispositions of coaching etiquette violations than handing out probations such as was done in several cases last year. Rather than probation, it may be more appropriate—and effective—to suspend for one or two weeks or more a coach who conducts himself in such an undesirable manner. Maybe this sort of action will jolt this small but annoying minority of coaches who dare to flaunt authority and thereby jeopardize athletics as a vital part of the total educational program.

The WIAA would remind officials they play important roles in this area. It is hoped officials will assume the responsibility to handle cases of poor coaching conduct either by warning or calling a technical. Too often, there is apprehension on the part of an official in situations where a coach is out-of-line. Good judgment is needed, of course, in the decision to assess a technical but an official should never be hesitant about whistling a foul against the coach who obviously is guilty of unsportsmanlike conduct.

It may be a good idea for officials to develop a habit of reporting to the WIAA technical fouls called because of conduct of coaches. It is known that some officials are not particularly happy about the fact that coaches rate them while they (the officials) don't rate coaches. Maybe officials should have this opportunity too, but in the meantime they still have a form of "rating" at their disposal, even if only in a negative vein. The WIAA wants to know about every case of unsportsmanlike conduct exhibited by a coach—and the officials may be the logical persons to guarantee that the necessary reports will be made.

The ideal situation, of course, would be no necessity for reports—and proper attitude by coaches would bring about this situation. There is no excuse for unsportsmanlike conduct on the part of a coach. It isn't easy, we realize, to accept some decisions, particularly in the face of defeat. But easy or not, it is necessary—it is necessary to accept decisions and necessary to accept defeat. You play to win but your coaching also includes the ability to accept defeat. After all, half our basketball teams lose every Friday night—so it would be in the best interests of athletics that a proper attitude toward losing be developed along the way.

Our criticism has spotlighted basketball but the message holds true for wrestling, too—another sport in which coaches often get carried away with the moment and forget the total goal. In fact, just about every sport provides the precarious "opportunity" for a coach to get lost somewhere between his duty and his goal. That's just one of the reasons why coaching is such a challenge—and why it requires the "right kind of man."

Coaches are the "directors" of this great drama we call interscholastic athletics, and the WIAA expects its coaches to play carefully their roles of teachers and leaders of our young men. Without such an attitude, the curtain will—and should—come down on the whole production. High school athletics isn't worth a lesser price.

MINUTES OF BOARD MEETING

The Board of Control of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association met at the Phoenix Hotel, Lexington, on Saturday morning, December 23, 1967. The meeting was called to order by President Don R. Rawlings at 10:00, with all Board members, Commissioner Theo. A. Sanford, and Assistant Commissioner J. B. Mansfield present. The invocation was given by Preston Holland.

Don Davis moved, seconded by Oran C. Teater, that the reading of the minutes of the September 30th meeting be waived, since the members of the Board had received copies of these minutes. The motion was carried unanimously.

The Commissioner reported that the 1967 football championship playoffs had been very successful, with increased attendance at the preliminary and final games. He recommended that each of the Class A and Class AA teams participating in the playoff finals be allowed the amount of $500.00 for incidental expenses, and that each of the Class AAA finalists be allowed an amount approximating the average allowance for incidental and additional expenses for the last three years. Oran C. Teater moved, seconded by Preston Holland, that the expense allowances for the class finalists, recommended by the Commissioner, be approved by the Board. The motion was carried unanimously.

The Commissioner recommended that the following be added to IV-C in the football rules and regulations: "Each team shall receive an amount in addition to the expenses already assumed. This amount will be set by the Board of Control each year." Don Davis moved, seconded by Morton Combs, that the amendment to the football regulations, recommended by the Commissioner, be adopted by the Board. The motion was carried unanimously.

Alvin Almond, Chairman of the Trophy Committee, reported that his Committee had met at the K.H.S.A.A. on October 28, 1967, at which time sealed bids for the 1968 district and regional basketball trophies were opened. He stated that the Committee accepted the bids of the Sport Shop, Glasgow, Kentucky, for both district and regional trophies. The price per set of the district trophies was $36.00, and the price per set of the regional trophies was $52.95.

Ralph C. Dorsey moved, seconded by Oran C. Teater, that the next Board meeting be held in Louisville on January 20, 1968. The motion was carried unanimously.

Preston Holland moved, seconded by Alvin Almond, that the summer meeting of the Board be held in the Kentucky Lake area late in July, on a date when lodging could be arranged by the Commissioner. The motion was carried unanimously.

The Commissioner stated that, following the September meeting of the Board of Control during which the possible purchase of catastrophic insurance for K.H.S.A.A. athletes had been discussed, he had contacted several insurance companies, and had asked them to submit rates and plans similar to the type of coverage currently being carried by the Kansas State High School Activities Association. Three companies had shown interest in the inquiry, and had submitted tentative plans and rates for coverage of catastrophic injuries. After considerable discussion, it appeared that the Kingden Company of Lexington, representing the Wabash Life Insurance Company, had presented an insurance plan which most nearly approximated the type of coverage in which the Board of Control was interested and which the K.H.S.A.A. budget could afford. Ralph C. Dorsey moved, seconded by Foster J. Sanders, that the insurance proposal of the Kingden Company be accepted, and that the Commissioner be authorized to work out the details of the plan and the wording of the policy with the company representative. The motion was carried unanimously.

The Commissioner read a letter from Prin. Floyd Brown of the Madisonville High School, requesting that his school be placed in Class AA, District 2, Region 1, in football for 1968. After a discussion of the reasons for the request, Preston Holland moved, seconded by Morton Combs, that the request of Prin. Floyd Brown of Madisonville High School be granted. The motion was carried unanimously.

The Commissioner presented a request from Prin. R. T. Baughman of the Kentucky School for the Deaf to sanction his Wrestling team competing in a proposed Wrestling Tournament, scheduled to be held in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, on February 24, 1968. Foster J. Sanders moved, seconded by Don Davis, that the sanction request by the Kentucky School for the Deaf be granted, with the understanding that the proposed tournament shall have the sanction of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association and the National Federation. The motion was carried unanimously.

Oran C. Teater moved, seconded by Morton Combs, that all bills of the Association for the period beginning September 1, 1967, and ending November 30, 1967, be allowed. The motion was carried unanimously.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

achievement the rest of us will live richer and easier lives.

Let us stop referring naively to creating a "great" society. It is enough at this stage of our development to aspire to create a decent society. And to do so our first task is to help each individual be decent unto himself and in his relationship with other individuals. A decent society cannot be created out of a vacuum and imposed. Our economic system has become the scapegoat for the failures of our educational, religious, and family institutions to develop decent and responsible individuals.

We seem to be in the process of developing a moralism which says that since love is the one absolute virtue of man, the one way we will solve the problems of poverty, crime, racial discrimination and the like is by forcing everyone to love everybody else. This is a hideous abuse of the notion of love that avoids the hard fact that love is a uniquely personal experience.

The evil I see about us so much at the present time: Love is expressed in a masochistic way—as a duty to be performed rather than a blessing to be received.

Love in its very essence is selfish. Were it not so, there would be none—not real love, only a martyred imitation.

Our loving should not be restricted to the poor and dispossessed but should be offered to all. It is in the act of loving that we are redeemed—not in loving the poor alone. And it is in the personal redemption of each individual that the hope of the world exists, not in the changing of the other person.

It is in the act of giving that one feels rewarded. And by the same token, it is in the act of loving that one feels loved. If the reward is not experienced simultaneously with the act it will never be realized.

The hardest task in the world is to love the person at hand. It is so much easier to love in your imagination the Saigon waif than it is actually to pick up your arms and hold firmly and lovingly the emaciated, sore-covered body of the unwanted child that can be found in any American city or town. This kind of ersatz compassion is not humanitarianism; it is escapism.

We will never create a good society, much less a great one, until individual excellence and achievement are not only respected but encouraged. That is why I am for the upperdog—the achiever, the succeder. I'm for building an even-better society, and this will only be done by those who take seriously their responsibility for achievement, for making the most of the native ability, for getting done the job at hand.

countries. It is hard to tell what Auguste Jal, the author, would say about these rumors but he does mention that the ship is always under full sail and always regarded as a warning of disaster whenever it is viewed. So here is some more superstition. Only the phantom Dutchman ship is an omen of disaster—not the Flying Dutchman himself.

Let's close the first column of 1968 with a comment by Elbert Hubbard about loyalty, in which he says, "If you work for a man, in heaven's name, work for him;

"Speak well of him and stand by the institution he represents.

"Remember—an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness."
