THE KENTUCKY

High School Athlete

The Sportsman's Creed

The Player . . .

1. He lives clean and plays hard. He plays for the love of the game.
2. He wins without boasting, he loses without excuses and he never quits.
3. He respects officials and accepts their decisions without question.
4. He never forgets that he represents his school.

The Coach . . .

1. He inspires in his boys a love for the game and the desire to win.
2. He teaches them that it is better to lose fairly than to win unfairly.
3. He leads players and spectators to respect officials by setting them a good example.
4. He is the type man he wants his boys to be.

The Official . . .

1. He knows the rules.
 2. He is fair and firm in all decisions. He calls them as he sees them.
 3. He treats players and coaches courteously and demands the same treatment for himself.
 4. He knows the game is for the boys, and lets them have the spotlight.

The Spectator . . .

1. He never boos a player or official.
 2. He appreciates a good play, no matter who makes it.
 3. He knows the school gets the blame or the praise for his conduct.
 4. He recognizes the need for more sportsmen and fewer "sports."

Early Season Football Questions

EDITOR'S NOTE: These interpretations of the 1968 National Alliance Football Rules do not set aside nor modify any rule. They are made and published by the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations in response to situations presented.

1968 FOOTBALL PUBLICATIONS CORRECTIONS CASE BOOK:

Page 5-3. Play—Strike the sentence: "The offending team shall be penalized 15 yards."

Page 11-20. Play—Change the last word from "play" to "flight."

SIMPLIFIED AND ILLUSTRATED:

Page 35 (top)—Revise caption to read: "The ball became dead when it touched anything in the end zone. The foul by No. 12 is for contacting an opponent after the down has ended."

Page 56 (top)—Change the caption to read: "Double foul and the piling on is penalized. The down will be replayed and A will be penalized 15 yards from the previous spot."

Page 128 (bottom)—Item 1, change the word "defense" to "offense."

MEETING FOLDER:

Page 6—Item 1 in second column should read: "No foul causes the ball to become dead."

Page 10, second column—The last sentence in item 7 should read: "An ineligible is prohibited from touching . . ."

1. Play: 1st and 10 on the 50 yardline. A1 is offside. Team A's forward pass is intercepted by B1 on B's 35 yardline. B1 advances the ball to the 20 yardline of team A, where he is tackled. B1 crawls.

Ruling: The penalty for the offside by A1 is automatically declined. The penalty for crawling by B is automatically accepted by team A. The crawling by B1 is a dead ball foul. Thus the ball will belong to team B on the 25 yardline of A, where it will be 1st down, 15 yards to go.

2. Play: 1st and 10 on the 50 yardline. B1 is offside. Team A's forward pass is intercepted by B1 on the 35 yardline of B. B1 advances to the 20 yardline of team A, where he is tackled. A2 piles on.

Ruling: The penalty for the offside by B1 is automatically accepted by team A. Measurement is from the previous spot and places the ball on the 45 yardline of team B. The penalty for the piling on by A2 is also automatically accepted and is measured from the 45 yardline of A, 15 yards, which will place the ball on the 40 yardline of team A, 1st and 20 yards to go for A.

Comment: The principle of automatic penalty acceptance and declination is based entirely on the philosophy of providing the maximum advantage to the offended team. This year's rules change merely extends coverage which previously applied the principle to the administration of penalties resulting from: (a) a foul before or after a touchdown; (b) a foul during or after a try-for-point; and (c) a live ball foul occurring after a change of possession and which was followed by a dead ball foul by the opponents. The rule has been expanded to now cover the situation which involves a foul during a live ball followed by an opponent's foul after the ball has become dead. In these cases, both the live ball and dead ball fouls must be considered totally separate from each other. The decision of acceptance or declination for the first penalty must not be affected by the second foul. Decisions must be made in the order of foul occurrence. Attempts to associate the penalties cannot be justified. The philosophy upon which the automatic principle is based, is that the penalty for the first foul (live ball) is either accepted or declined before the dead ball foul occurred. Hence, there must be no attempt to relate the two fouls in administration of their penalties. In general, the following six factors must be noted by the referee (to the same extent the offended captain would consider them) in making a determination as to whether it is most advantageous for the offended team to accept or to decline the penalty for the live ball foul. These criteria, listed in the usual order of consideration, are as follows: (1) Is a score involved? (2) What is the score of the game? (3) Does acceptance or declination of the penalty affect possession of the ball? (4) Does acceptance or declination of the penalty involve a 1st down? (5) What is the time remaining to be played in the game? and (6) Does the wind have a bearing on the decision?

For example, a situation which requires the consideration of the foregoing criteria is as follows: Play: 4th and 7 with only 30 seconds playing time remaining and team K leading by 8 points. A strong wind is at the back of team R. R has a good forward passer. The ball is snapped from K's 5. K2 holds in the end zone. R1 catches the punt and advances across the goal line of K. Consideration: The automatic provision is in effect because the foul by K was before a touchdown. If the penalty were declined for the holding by K2, the score, providing the point after touchdown were successful, would be K8, R7. K would then have the choice of kicking off or receiving and undoubtedly would receive, thereby greatly reducing the possibility of R's regaining the ball in the 30 seconds remaining. If R accepted the penalty, it would result in a safety, making the score 8-2 in K's favor. K would be required to free-kick from its 20 yardline into a strong wind, thereby giving R the ball with a fair opportunity to score and win the game in the approximately 30 seconds remaining.

3. Play: Representatives of visiting team B request permission to use the top of the press box as a vantage point for filming the game. This courtesy has been granted them in the past, but they are denied this on the

In Memoriam

Alvin L. Almond

Alvin L. Almond, athletic director and former coach at Western Kentucky University High School and a member of the Board of Control of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association, died in Bowling Green on August 31, 1968. He was 41.

Mr. Almond was a graduate of Bowling Green High School and Western Kentucky University. While at Western he served as manager of the Hilltoppers basketball team. His career as coach and teacher began in 1950, when he accepted a position at the Alvaton High School, where he remained until 1956. In that year he became supervising teacher of Physical Education. He coached basketball and baseball at College High, giving up coaching in these sports following the 1963-64 school year in order to concentrate on his duties as athletic director. He was currently listed in K.H.S.A.A. records as coach in golf and tennis.

An active member of the Mt. Olivet Cumberland Presbyterian Church, Mr. Almond had served as Sunday School superintendent and teacher. He had been a member of the Bowling Green Optimist Club for many years, and was active in working with the Bowling Green Boys Club. He had been a member of the K.H.S.A.A. Board of Control since July 1, 1967.

Mr. Almond is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Almond of Bowling Green, and a brother, T. R. Almond of Louisville.

The Flying Dutchman

It is only a few days until the Dutchman starts his last series of clinics for the K.H.S.A.A. Since announcing his retirement from his post of rules interpreter, many wonderful letters have come from friends which make the "End of the Rainbow" very beautiful.

Cliff Fagan wrote from Chicago, Ernie Chattin from Ashland, and Al Gustafson called from Louisville to say things which make the Dutchman's cup to run over. There's nothing which has the value of true friendship. So it is that the friends who have written or called from all over Kentucky make this writer a rich man.

In the long run it's people doing things unselfishly for others who make life happier and easier, and Louisville's George E. Gans is one of those people. Over more than four decades George has been working for the improvement of his community and for progress.

In the middle forties George Gans was a leader in bringing fine operettas to Louisville's Ampitheatre and more recently he has given his leadership and energy to bringing one of the nation's finest zoological gardens to Louisville. Because of his lifetime of unselfish service, George Gans is the winner of the Corn Cob Pipe of Honor for September. It couldn't be awarded to a finer gentleman.

Perhaps your community is already using your school building for an indoor recreation center and the acreage on which it stands for a summer playground? Kentucky has a law which not only states that recreation is a proper municipal purpose of all cities and counties, but also permits our Boards of Education to discharge their recreational responsibilities to the taxpayers.

Recreation is a function of education. As far back as 1948, the Peabody College Survey of the Jefferson County Educational System commended that Board of Education for its forward move in opening all school buildings for recreational use after school hours—under professional supervision. School buildings belong to the people and they have every right to their maximum usage. This practice means service to the public in the king-size package—educational and recreational facilities for one cost.

For a long time the school building has occupied a strange position in too many of our communities. What other tax-supported building is used only partially for nine months and allowed to stand idle the other three? And, most of these unused facilities lie in the midst of communities badly in need of clubrooms, meeting places, recreation grounds and gymnasiums, all of which are available in school buildings.

Education and recreation are co-functional. It is hard to tell where one starts and the other leaves off. An educational activity during school hours may become recreational for the adult working men and women at night. A boy is educated in manual arts in the shop during the day. His dad, who works at a desk all day, re-creates himself by building a chair in that same shop at night. The same principle applies to other activities.

Our national leaders are greatly concerned about the physical fitness of our youth—and rightly so. Our boys and girls get a good start in a program of body building in school gymnasiums and on playgrounds while they are students. Is there sound logic for denying them the same facilities for continuing their physical fitness programs after graduation?

A basketball coach once told me that gymnasiums exclusively are for the school teams. As taxpayers we have every right to reject this philosophy. Such practice constitutes less than maximum usage of a public building. As more homes are built, there is less open space for play. This demands complete usage of the schools' playgrounds. No community would be without a church or school. In the development of the whole child, no community can afford to be without facilities for recreation—and your community already has these in your school buildings.

The old horizon has changed! As this new trend of thought presents itself on the new horizon, it will be accompanied by objections. Rarely will these objections come from the more progressive school leaders who have kept pace with the changing times. Usually, objections to multiple usage of the school buildings originate with those who would like for things to remain as they are. Our changing time will not permit this. It demands that we gear ourselves to adjust to changing conditions—when the automobile replaced the horse and buggy, there were objections—but times were changing, and we changed with them. The result was progress.

1968-69 Wrestling Rules Changes

Rule 3, Section 1: Two 1-inch lines, 3 feet long and 12 inches apart, shall be placed in the center of the circle on the mat.

Section 2a: Defines the specifications of the shirt requirements to comply with the illustration in the book.

Section 2d: Requires the contestants to be clean shaven and well groomed. Includes a recommendation that long hair be discouraged in the interest of safety and good health habits.

Section 3: Requires the use of headgear in all competition beginning with the 1969-70 season.

Rule 4, Section 1. Provides for twelve mandatory weights as follows: 95, 103, 112, 120, 127, 133, 138, 145, 154, 165, 175, unlimited. Before a boy is permitted to wrestle in the unlimited class, he must weigh a minimum of 175 pounds.

Section 2: Strongly recommended by the rules committee that individual state associations utilize an effective weight control program which will involve the parents, family physician, competitor and coach.

Rule 6: Conduct of tournaments. This section is rewritten and rearranged to include tournament guidelines for those charged with the duties of administering tournaments. Specific situations are covered in this section.

Rule 7, Section 5: All consolation matches during interscholastic tournaments shall be 5 minutes in length, consisting of one 1-minute and two 2-minute periods.

Rule 8, Section 1: The starting position on the mat has been revised. The new starting position of the offensive wrestler requires only one knee be on the mat. The new start is similar to the traditional position, but does give the offensive man more mobility. Pictures of the new position will be included in the 1969 edition of the rules book.

Section 2: Provides that the use of time advantage will be optional (by state association adoption) during the 1968-69 season.

Rule 9, Section 3: Includes a recommended tournament scoring chart indicating the point values given for scoring different places during tournaments.

Rule 10, Section 2: Provides the penalty for flagrant unsportsmanlike conduct shall be removal from the premises for the duration of a dual meet or for a tournament session.

Section 5: Stipulates that the time used in searching for contact lenses shall be counted as part of the time allowed for injury.

Section 7a: Whenever a defensive wrestler stands up while the offensive wrestler has a scissors hold, wrestling will continue. The situation is considered potentially dangerous.

Section 9d: Provides that the contestant in the advantage position on the mat shall make an honest attempt to wrestle aggressively in maintaining control and attempting to secure a fall.

Rule 11: The penalty chart has been completely revised to indicate that penalties for all violations are accumulative throughout the match.

Rule 13, Section 1c: The officials' uniforms shall include black gym shoes.

Interpretation: The procedure was adopted for rectifying an incorrect start of the third period. It provides that all points earned or time advantage gained during the third period will be discounted. Following a 1-minute rest, the third period will be restarted correctly and the period will be wrestled in its entirety. The correction must be made prior to the contestants leaving the mat.

basis that a movie camera constitutes a mechanical visual aid.

Ruling: Rule 1-3-5 is not intended to restrict the privilege of taking movies during a ball game for showing after the game is completed. The restriction applies only to the use of video tape (or similar media) for the purpose of monitoring or replaying during the course of the game. The intermission is included as part of the restricted period. Taking movies, even through the use of video tape for the purpose of later showing for coaching or other purposes is not denied.

4. Play: Specialized kicker K1 comes onto the field equipped with: (a) ballet slippers; (b) slipper socks; (c) heavy socks with laces inserted; or (d) tennis shoes cut so that protection is nil.

Ruling: Illegal equipment in (a), (b), (c) and (d). The National Alliance football rules require that all players wear shoes. The definition of a shoe is that it shall be made of a material which covers the foot (canvas, leather or plastic) attached to a firm sole of leather, rubber, or composition material which may or may not have cleats. Protection for the foot is required.

5. Play: R1 signals for a fair catch and muffs the kick. As the ball is rolling loose, he uses his hand or

In Memoriam

Russell E. Bridges

Russell E. Bridges, 73, who served the Fort Thomas school system for thirty-four years and who was a member of the K.H.S.A.A. Board of Control during the 1937-47 period, died at the Baptist Home of Northern Kentucky, Newport, on September 17, 1968.

A native of Kenton County, Mr. Bridges had degrees from Eastern Kentucky University and the University of Kentucky. He taught at Simon Kenton High School early in his career, later teaching and coaching football at the Highlands High School, Fort Thomas. He became assistant principal in 1927, principal in 1941, and superintendent of schools in 1943. He retired in June of 1956 because of ill health.

In 1937 Mr. Bridges was elected to membership on the Board of Control, a position which he filled with distinction. He was President of the Board during the 1941-47 period.

Mr. Bridges was a member of numerous educational groups. He was a past president of the Kentucky Association of School Administrators. He had taught a Sunday School class at the First Baptist Church of Fort Thomas. He was a charter member of the Fort Thomas Lions Club, and was active in many civic affairs. The Physical Education building at Highlands was named for him in 1955.

Surviving Mr. Bridges are two brothers, Lloyd, De-Mossville, and Hobart, Morningview; a sister, Mrs. Blanche Hanker, Fort Thomas; four grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

hands to push or pull K1 in an attempt to gain possession of the loose ball.

Ruling: Legal. R1 may attempt to gain possession of the loose ball. A player from either team may use his hands in an attempt to get to the loose ball. This action differs from a player who signals for a fair catch and subsequently blocks an opponent.

6. Play: The kick-off by K1 from his 40: (a) goes out-of-bounds on R's 35 without having been touched; or (b) is touched by R1 on his 21 and then goes out-of-bounds; or (c) is touched by K2 on his 46 yardline where it goes out-of-bounds; or (d) is touched by K3 on his 48 yardline and is recovered by R2 on K's 45.

Ruling: In (a), the clock does not start, the ball belongs to R at the inbounds spot. In (b) the clock starts when the kick is touched by R1 and is stopped when the ball goes out-of-bounds. The ball will be put in play by R at the inbounds spot. In (c), the clock does not start. The ball will be awarded to R at the spot of first touching and placed ready-for-play. In (d), the clock will not start when the ball is first touched by K2, but it will be started when the kick is recovered by R2.

7. Play: The kick-off by K1 from his 40 is first touched by K2 at his 48 and: (a) it is recovered by R1 but it is noted that R2 left the 5 yard zone before the ball was kicked; or (b) recovered and advanced by R1, whose fumble was recovered and downed by K3, but during the advance by R1, R2 clipped; or (c) K3 held and the kick is returned by R2, who advanced to K's 40 where he fumbled and it is recovered by K3.

Ruling: In (a), K would accept the penalty for illegal procedure by R1 which would be enforced from the spot of the kick and K would kick again from his 45. In (b), the right of R to take the ball at the spot of first touching was cancelled by the foul by R2. It would be K's ball at the spot of recovery. In (c), R could decline the penalty for the holding by K3 and take the ball at the spot of first touching on K's 48.

Comment: When any member of the kicking team first touches a free-kick or scrimmage-kick, the receivers may take the ball at the spot of first touching or they may take the result of the play. R's right to take the ball at the spot of first touching is always cancelled if the penalty for any foul during the down is accepted or if, after first touching by the kickers, a member of the receiving team touches the kicked ball and thereafter an R player commits a foul, regardless of whether the penalty is accepted or declined. It is not possible to enforce a penalty for a foul during the down and at the same time give the ball to the receiving team at the spot of first touching. If the penalty for a foul committed during the down is declined, R may take the ball at the spot of first touching, or any other spot to which it is entitled, unless the foul is by a receiver after a member of the receiving team has touched the kick.

8. Play: Following a safety, a free-kick by K1 is first touched by K2 at K's 28 yardline. It is recovered by R1, who advances to K's 25 where he fumbles and the fumble is recovered and advanced by K3 to his 32. During the advance by R1, R2 clipped.

Ruling: The right of R to take the ball at the spot of first touching was cancelled when R2 clipped. K will decline the penalty and retain possession of the ball at his 32.

9. Play: During a pass which is completed behind the line, interior lineman A1 contacts B1 on the line-of-scrimmage and drives him 5 yards into the defensive secondary.

Ruling: Legal.

10. Play: During a pass which (a) is completed behind the line; or (b) crosses the line-of-scrimmage, an interior lineman (A6) charges through the neutral zone and contacts linebacker B1, who is near but behind the defensive line-of-scrimmage at the time of the snap.

Ruling: In (a), the block is legal since the pass did not cross the line-of-scrimmage. In (b), it is pass interference.

11. Play: With 2nd and 4 from the 35 yardline of A, A1 is illegally in motion and B1 is offside. Ball carrier A3 advances to his 45 where B2 piles on.

Ruling: The illegal motion by A1 and the offside by B1 combine to make a double foul and the down will be replayed. The penalties for both of these fouls offset each other. The penalty for the dead ball foul by B2 will be administered from the succeeding spot, which is A's 35. This will result in a 1st and 10 for A at the 50.

12. Play: Team A appears on the field ready for play with: (a) 6-inch numerals of contrasting color on the front of the jersey and 8-inch numerals on the back of the jersey; or (b) script numerals with a 1-inch-wide stroke of contrasting color; or (c) white Arabic block numerals shaded with green or gold jerseys; or (d) blue 1½-inch stroke Arabic block numerals with a gold border of ½ inch on a blue jersey.

Ruling: In (a), (b), (c), and (d), the numerals constitute illegal equipment. Before participating the players must be equipped as prescribed by the rules. Numerals are required equipment and must be of a single color in contrast to the jersey color with the strokes about 1½ inches wide. They must be Arabic block 8 and 10 inches high, front and back respectively.

13. Play: With the ball on his 2 yardline, A1 receives the snap with his foot touching the end line. B1 was offside.

Ruling: If A accepts the penalty, A may put the ball in play from its 7 yardline. If A refuses the penalty, it is a safety. There is no automatic acceptance or declination since there is neither a touchdown, point after touchdown attempt, nor live and dead ball foul by opponents involved.

14. Play: K1 punts and R1 partially blocks the kick. R2 does not touch the ball but firmly contacts K1.

Ruling: If R1 partially blocked the kick near the kicker and R2 was near the kicker at the time the kick was touched, there would be no foul as the result of contact by R2, unless the contact was intentionally rough.

Comment: The defense is obligated to avoid the kicker whenever possible. In any situation, if the defense is to be excused for contacting the kicker as the result of touching the kick, the ball must be touched near the spot of the kick. No member of the defense can touch the ball in the line-of-scrimmage and then charge into the kicker and be exempt from the foul for roughness. Another guideline, the defensive player may not, even after the ball has been touched, stop and then renew his charge into the kicker, nor may he change his direction after the ball is touched so he charges into the kicker. Touching the ball is, in itself, not a license to charge the kicker. The rule governing this situation has been written so as not to penalize the defensive player who has made an honest endeavor to block the kick and who has either succeeded or very nearly succeeded in doing so and finds himself in such a position that he cannot avoid the kicker as the result of his efforts. The rule does not specify that only the player who blocks the kick is excused from contacting the kicker, rather the rule states: "When the defense blocks . . ."

Charles R. Hord, Sr.

Former Eastern High School football coach Charles R. Hord, Sr., died of a heart attack at his home in Louisville on August 26, 1968. He was 48.

Mr. Hord, a World War II Army Air Corps veteran, went to Louisville in 1954 as an assistant coach at Atherton High School. He was a native of Campbellsville, Kentucky, and had been a head coach at Lebanon, Kentucky, and Celina, Tennessee. He became Eastern's head football coach in 1961, which position he held for five seasons. His record during that period was 34-13-1. His 1964 squad won the Class AAA County Region championship.

In recent years Mr. Hord had served the county schools as an administrative assistant in the division of pupil personnel and in administrative problems.

Survivors include his widow, the former Jessie Boles, two sons, Allen Henry and Charles R. Hord, Jr.; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hulet Hord of Greensburg, Kentucky.

50 YEARS FOR ATHLETES

In August, 1918, our founder, Bill Hunt, was asked to help secure some uniforms for a football team so they could tell the spectators from the players.

For 50 years we at Hunt's have tried to serve the athletes by finding for them the best available equipment to serve their needs.

Today we feature and can supply immediate delivery on merchandise for any athletic or physical education need from our warehouse.

We have complete stock of the following items.

Football Shoes ----- sizes 1 to 14
Basketball Shoes ----- sizes 1 to 17
Football Pants ----- sizes 22 to 52
Football Jerseys ----- sizes 4 to 50
Football Shoulder Pads ----- sizes Little League to 50
Basketball Jerseys ----- sizes 10 to 50
Basketball Pants ----- sizes Little League to College
Athletic Socks ----- sizes 6 to 16
Football Helmets ----- sizes Boys Extra Small to 8
Football—Rubber or Leather—Little League to Pro
Basketballs—Indoor or Outdoor—Biddy to Pro
