The Sportsman's Creed

The Player ...

1. He lives clean and plays hard. He plays for the love of the game.
2. He wins without boasting, he loses without excuses and he never quits.
3. He respects officials and accepts their decisions without question.
4. He never forgets that he represents his school.

The Coach ...

1. He inspires in his boys a love for the game and the desire to win.
2. He teaches them that it is better to lose fairly than to win unfairly.
3. He leads players and spectators to respect officials by setting them a good example.
4. He is the type man he wants his boys to be.

The Official ...

1. He knows the rules.
2. He is fair and firm in all decisions. He calls them as he sees them.
3. He treats players and coaches courteously and demands the same treatment for himself.
4. He knows the game is for the boys, and lets them have the spotlight.

The Spectator ...

1. He never boos a player or official.
2. He appreciates a good play, no matter who makes it.
3. He knows the school gets the blame or the praise for his conduct.
4. He recognizes the need for more sportsmen and fewer "sports."

Hallmarks Of A Champion

By James A. Gordon

EDITOR'S NOTE: Those who have been closely associated with athletics, recognize that some persons bring to the field a number of the qualities which are needed for success in life. We acknowledge that these qualities can be developed through athletics by working hard at making the most of the opportunities. Some individuals possess these in greater quantities than they possess natural ability, but these qualities carry them on to success.

The 1968 Olympic Games at Mexico City, despite the controversy, and occasional confusion, turned out to be a superlative spectacle which gave rise to a lot of little superlatives.

Undoubtedly the greatest single performance, and certainly the most impressive athletic feat of the Games, to say nothing of the millenium, only took about six seconds. I refer, of course, to Bob Beaman's world record long jump of 29 feet 2½ inches.

But on the other hand, after watching Al Oreter throw the discus five feet further than ever before in his career to win his fourth straight gold medal, then later hearing Payton Jordan, Coach of the United State Olympic Track and Field Squad talk about him, my nomination for the most inspiring athlete of the Games has to go to the four time gold medal winner from Islip, New York!

The qualities that make a "champion" have long been espoused and not much can be added to what already has been said, but I would like to pass on the four qualities that his Olympic coach thought made Al Oreter great.

The first was COMMITMENT. As Coach Jordan explains it, Al Oreter has a "special feeling" about the Olympic Games. 1968 was to be the "big one" for him. No other, championship meant so much. Of course, he was not the favorite for this year's Games. After all, Jay Silvester had thrown 224 feet in pre-Olympic competition. But this made no difference to Al. He had always done his best in the Olympics and he was determined to win another gold medal at Mexico, regardless of the competition.

Second was COACHABILITY. Oreter, according to his Olympic coach, reported ahead of time for final altitude training at Lake Tahoe. He was not throwing his best. "His timing was off," relates Jordan, "and he came to me and said, Coach, I need your help! Just think how this made me feel and what it did for me. Here was a three time Olympic champion, who believed he could improve, coming to me for advice. What an inspiration and satisfaction for a coach!"

Next was TOUGHNESS THAT GOES WITH COMPETITION. It was not generally known that five days before the Olympic finals in the discus, Oreter slipped in practice and pulled a muscle. So he rested completely for two days, and on the third, with his leg wrapped came back out for practice. Limiting himself to half effort on this day he threw the discus around 212 feet. This convinced him that he was

Newly Elected Board Member

Richard Vincent

Richard Vincent, principal of the Union County High School, has been elected to membership on the K.H.S.A.A. Board of Control to fill out the unexpired term of Robert G. Fiser. In balloting which ended on September 10, Mr. Vincent defeated Prin. Neal R. Tucker of the Christian County High School.

After participating in athletics at the Cuba High School, Richard Vincent graduated in 1954. He continued his education and his participation in athletics at Union University, Jackson, Tennessee, where he received his B.S. degree in 1958. He was awarded the Outstanding Graduate Award from that institution. He has since continued his studies at Murray University where he received his M.A. degree.

Mr. Vincent's teaching and coaching career began in Calloway County at the Hazel High School. After school consolidation, he went to the faculty of Calloway County High School. After four years at that school he moved to Union County where he has served two years as a coach, three years as an elementary principal, and is now serving his third year as high school principal.

Mr. Vincent married Miss Jimmye Ann Brantley of Sturgis. They have a daughter, Wray Ann, who is four years old.

Football Rule Interpretation

A rule interpretation authorized in 1969 requires clarification. The illustration on page 15, bottom diagram, of the 1969 Simplified and Illustrated Book and plays 110 C, D and E of the current edition of the Case Book are concerned with the coverage to which reference is made.

The Case Book situations of 110 C, D and E are hereby confirmed as correct. The caption for the diagram in the lower illustration on page 15 of the 1969 Football Rules—Simplified and Illustrated is incorrect. To be correct, it should read as follows: "There has been no score. The ball will be put in play at the inbounds spot on the yardline through the foremost point of the ball where it crossed the side line." The revision of the caption, as indicated, will correlate the coverage for the situations referred to here in both the Case Book and Simplified and Illustrated.

National Federation Bulletin

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE has directed the secretary to call to the membership's attention recent action of the United States Golf Association which will permit "any full-time faculty member of an educational institution to give some golf instruction as part of his duties without forfeiting amateur status." The amendment to the amateur role of the United States Golf Association was adopted early in July of this year.

PREVIOUSLY, a teacher violated his amateur status with the United States Golf Association if, under any circumstances, he gave golf instruction as part of his duties. Under the old rule, a teacher of academic subjects was permitted to give golf instruction as part of his duties only if he were hired to teach academic subjects and golf instruction was not a condition of his employment. Such a teacher could not be engaged as coach of the golf team and compensated therefore.

THE NATIONAL FEDERATION in March, 1968 requested the United States Golf Association to review the USGA amateur regulation as it affected reimbursement to a full-time faculty member who also coached interscholastic golf as part of his assignment. The National Federation pointed out that the quality of coaching would be greatly improved if the rules were amended to allow faculty members of educational institutions to give golf instruction to students and be compensated for this particular service without affecting their amateur status.

THE RULES OF AMATEUR STATUS (United States Golf Association) will include an exception to Rule 1-3 which now prohibits an amateur from receiving compensation for giving golf instruction. The exception will read as follows:

"Golf instruction may be given to students at an educational institution by a full-time faculty member, provided that the total time devoted to golf instruction comprises not more than 10 per cent of his annual teaching time. Camp counsellors who give golf instruction as part of their compensated duties are not amateur golfers."

MANY STATE ASSOCIATIONS will want to call this change in the instruction rule to the attention of their membership.

Hallmarks of a Champion

ready to go. Two days later, in spite of the pulled muscle, he reported for competition.

It rained for the finals of the discus at Mexico, and the competition dragged along. The finalists sheltered themselves under umbrellas for a while, but eventually the officials sent them to the locker room to await recall when the showers subsided. During this wait the nerves were tight. Most of the throwers paced the locker room, pawing at the floor, cursing the elements and burning up nervous energy as they waited. But not Orter. Stretched out on a locker room bench, Al wrapped a towel around his head, and with the coolness characteristic of a three time Olympic Champion, calmly waited until he was called back to the field.

His first throw of 212 feet when competition resumed is now history. It was not his winning throw, but it might as well have been. After this, none of the other finalists came close. Al fouled on the second of his final throws and on his third, tied the Olympic record with a winning mark of 212 feet 6½ inches. But it was his first from a slippery ring with a wet discus, after the long wait, that proved his tough competitive fiber. And it won him a fourth straight gold medal - a feat that will not soon be duplicated.

And finally, what Payton Jordan admired most about the four time gold medal winner was his HUMILITY. "Gosh" he concludes, "I still am old fashioned enough to like an athlete who can say, Thank you! No matter how great he was, or how many medals he won! Al always showed his appreciation, and this too, make a coach feel good!

COMMITMENT, COACHABILITY, TOUGHNESS, THAT GOES WITH COMPETITION and HUMILITY. The hallmarks of a champion. I like these qualities. I thank they have a lot of meaning for athlete and coach. But most of all, I like the kind of MAN they represent.

Attention, Officials!

For the first time officials are being registered in the sport of Wrestling. Registration is not yet a requirement for those who officiate in the sport, but such a requirement will probably be put into effect within the next year or two. K.H.S.A.A. registered officials living in the areas where Wrestling is being sponsored by the local high schools may wish to consider registration in this sport. Inquiries should be directed to the State Office of the Association.

Registered Basketball Officials of the K.H.S.A.A. - 1969 - 1970

If the telephone number is given for an official, it is the home phone number unless otherwise designated. If two numbers are given, the first number is the home phone.

Executive Committee
 Kentucky High School Coaches Association
 Louisville, Kentucky

Gentlemen:

At the request of Mr. Joe Ohr, your Secretary and Treasurer, I have made an examination of the records of your Association for the period February 24, 1968 to February 27, 1969.

Consolidated and classified receipts and disbursements are shown on the attached schedule of income and expenses. All receipts have been traced into the Bank account and all disbursements are accounted for by canceled checks.

The balance of $12,623.93 has been verified as being on deposit in the Union Bank & Trust Company, Irvine, Kentucky, as of the close of business on February 27, 1969.

All records examined are in excellent order.

We believe the attached schedule properly reflects the transactions for the period covered and the present status of this account.

Respectfully submitted,

William Sexton, Jr.-Auditor

Gentlemen:

I have made an annual examination of the records of the All Star account from information furnished me by Mr. Joe Ohr. The period covered in this report is from February 29, 1968 to February 29, 1969.

Consolidated and classified receipts and disbursements are shown in the attached schedule of receipts and disbursements. The bank balance of $19,710.78 has been verified as being on deposit in the First Security National Bank & Trust Company, Lexington, Kentucky.

Net receipts of $11,696.25 have been verified as deposits into the bank and all disbursements have been substantiated by canceled checks.

I have attached a separate schedule of Savings Accounts showing the financial institution and the balances in each account. This is self-explanatory and all balances have been verified by telephone conversation with the appropriate savings firm.

We believe this letter and the attached schedule properly reflect the various transactions for the period involved.

Respectfully submitted,

William Sexton, Jr. - Auditor
