Football

BALL HANDLING IN FOOTBALL, j-s-c-a, 1 reel, $2.00.

Fundamentals of ball handling are stressed; stance, grip, "feel" of the ball, fingertip control adjustment before throwing or kicking, receiving passes from center or from a back, catching passes and punts, ways of carrying ball, and changing from one hand to another. Game shots are presented, using slow motion and stop action techniques, and superimposed animation to illustrate principles.

BLOCKING IN FOOTBALL, j-s-c, 1 reel, $2.00.

Fundamentals of good blocking are taught in this film; position, speed, drive, follow-through, timing, and body control. Describes shoulder and body blocks, demonstrating several varieties of these. Importance of good physical condition, practice, and experience are emphasized. Special photography used to illustrate different points.

FOOTBALL BY THE RULES, e-j-s-c-a, 3 reels, (30 min.), color, $1.00.

The film will give the viewer a better understanding and a keener appreciation of football. Modern photography presents many play situations that portray the guidelines used by officials in making judgment decisions so necessary in this sport.

KNOW YOUR FOOTBALL, e-j-s-c-a, 3 reels (30 min.), color, $1.00.

Gives a visual approach to the written rules. Play situations challenge the viewer's knowledge and clarify many rules interpretations. Recommended for fans, officials, coaches and players.

TACKLING IN FOOTBALL, j-s-c-a, 1 reel, $2.00.

Tackling properly is shown as the result of application of certain fundamentals: good physical condition, speed, body placement, drive, sure grip, timing, and body control. Shoulder and cross body tackles are demonstrated in various ways, with special instructions for safety and means of reducing shock.

THIS IS FOOTBALL, e-j-s-c-a, 3 reels, color, $1.00.

Centered around the four S's—science, speed, skill and safety. Demonstrations cover basic rules that will aid the official, coach, players, and fan. Play situations are used to establish standards.

Disqualification Cards

Each official registered with the Association has been sent a supply of cards to be used following the disqualifications of players from athletic contests. Although By-Law 7-2 provides that the official shall report the name of a disqualified player to the principal of the school which the player attends or to his representative, it is suggested that a disqualification card also be mailed to the Commissioner. This should be done immediately following the contest.

New Regulations

During the 1968-69 school year, numerous amendments were written into K.H.S.A.A. regulations by the Delegate Assembly and the Board of Control. Some of the most significant of these were:

1. A contestant becomes ineligible on his nineteenth birthday with certain exceptions (By-Law 4).
2. A player ruled out of a contest is disqualified from athletic competition until reinstated by the Commissioner. The name of the player is reported to the principal of the school which the player attends or to his representative (By-Law 7-2)
3. Baseball coaches are now required to attend clinics (By-Law 29-3)
4. The use of registered officials in baseball is required (By-Law 22).
5. Weight classes in Wrestling have been changed (Regional Wrestling Rule VII).
6. Regional Track Rule VIII has been liberalized.
7. Football Rule II-B and II-C should be studied for important changes.
8. In football playoff games, other than the final championship game in each class, a new method of playing off ties has been devised. A complete description of this method is given in Football Rule III-D (1969-70 booklet).

Attention, Principals!

A list of registered football officials appears in this issue of the ATHLETE. Principals and coaches should study the current list to determine whether or not all officials with whom contracts have been signed have registered this fall. Supplementary lists of officials will appear in subsequent issues of the magazine. By-Law 22 provides that member schools shall use registered officials in all football, basketball and baseball games, and that failure to comply with this regulation makes the home school liable for suspension. If there is any question about registration, the official should be asked to present his card.

Minutes of Board Meeting

The Board of Control of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association met at Kenlake Hotel, Kentucky Lake State Park, on Saturday morning, August 16, 1969. The meeting was called to order by retiring President Preston Holland at 9:30. Present were Board members Morton Combs, W. H. Crowding, Don Davis, Ralph C. Dorsey, Tom Mills, and Foster J. Sanders; Commissioner Theo. A. Sanford, Assistant Commissioner J. B. Mansfield, and former Board member Don R. Rawlings. The invocation was given by Mr. Rawlings.

W. H. Crowding moved, seconded by Foster J. Sanders, that the reading of the June 7th meeting be waived, since the members of the Board had received copies of these minutes. The motion was carried unanimously.

Messrs. Holland and Rawlings made appropriate remarks of appreciation concerning their eight-year tenure on the Board of Control, pledging their continued support to the expanding program of the Association.

President Holland stated that the next order of business was the election of President and Vice-President of the Board. W. H. Crowding moved, seconded by Don Davis, that Ralph C. Dorsey and Foster J. Sanders be elected President and Vice-President of the Board of Control respectively by acclamation. The motion was carried, with Messrs. Dorsey and Sanders not voting.

In accepting the presidency of the Board, Mr. Dorsey pledged to do his best in continuing and improving the program of the K.H.S.A.A. He welcomed new Board member Tom Mills. Mr. Mills expressed his pleasure at being a member of the Board, and upon request gave the Board information concerning his teaching, coaching, and administrative experience.

President Dorsey announced the personnel of the Building, Trophy, Retirement, and Personnel and Policy committees, stating that the members of the Swimming, Wrestling, and Gymnastics committees would be announced later after the availability of the committee members has been determined by the Commissioner.

The Commissioner made a report on Association receipts and disbursements during the 1968-69 year. Copies of the audit, recently prepared by Huel L. Johnson of Louisville, Certified Public Accountant, had been mailed to the members of the Board. Don Davis moved, seconded by Foster J. Sanders, that the financial report presented by the Commissioner be accepted. The motion was carried unanimously.

Morton Combs moved, seconded by W. H. Crowding, that the fall meeting of the Board be held in Lexington on September 27. The motion was carried unanimously.

The Commissioner read a letter from Mr. Robert G. Fiser, who had been elected to Board membership to represent Section 1 for the 1969-73 period, in which he tendered his resignation due to the fact he had accepted an administrative position in Illinois. The Commissioner stated that, after a conference with the President, he had sent a bulletin to each K.H.S.A.A. member school principal in Section 1, asking for nominations for the vacant position now existing on the Board. The nominations are to be in the hands of the Commissioner not later than August 25, and the deadline for returning the ballots is to be September 10.

The Commissioner reported that the Personnel and Policy Committee, acting under delegated authority given by the Board of Control in its June 7th meeting, had employed Billy V. Wise as an Assistant Commissioner at the annual salary of $12,000.00. Morton Combs moved, seconded by Tom Mills, that the action of the Personnel and Policy

New Sports Magazine

LETTERMAN, a new national high school sports magazine, will be launched during the coming school year, publisher Paul Nyberg has announced. The new periodical written and edited specifically for high school athletes will start bimonthly in February 1970 and move to monthly publication by 1971.

"High school athletic programs remain one of the few structures in our whole society that turn boys into men," Nyberg says. "LETTERMAN's purpose, therefore, is to show to the athlete through articles, stories and features just how important this interscholastic sports experience is to him."

LETTERMAN will be available to high school athletes without cost. Through the goodwill of advertisers the magazine will be mailed free of charge to the home of each high school athlete who signs up for it through his coach. All high school athletes on interscholastic teams representing the school qualify to receive LETTERMAN. This includes freshman, sophomore, junior varsity and varsity team members.

LETTERMAN editorial and circulation policies and procedures have been carefully worked out in conjunction with a National Advisory Council. Council members include Clifford Fagan, executive secretary of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, and several executive secretaries of state high school associations. The council also has the services of Franklin L. Orth, president of the U. S. Olympic Committee; Dr. Frank Jones, president of the Athletic Institute; Lyndon Lee, vice president of the Lifetime Sports Foundation; George Halas, chairman of the board, Chicago Bears; Harvey C. Chrouser, athletic director, Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill.; Dr. Deobold Van Dalen, chairman, department of physical education, University of California at Berkeley, and several high school coaches and athletic directors.

Sign-up materials for the magazine are being sent to each high school coach in all schools throughout the U. S. The press run on the first issue will be limited to one million on a first-come, first-served basis.

Coaches likewise qualify to receive LETTERMAN without cost.

LETTERMAN is owned and published by Letterman Publications, Inc., Box 804, Wheaton, Illinois 60187. "The new publishing company was formed by a group of concerned businessmen and coaches who care about our country and want to do something positive for youth," says Nyberg. "Since high school athletes are the true indigenous leaders in our schools and communities, we believe that LETTERMAN will provide a needed voice to speak both to them and for them."

Board Minutes

Committee in employing Billy V. Wise be approved by the Board. The motion was carried unanimously.

The Commissioner reported that information received from the State Department of Education concerning recent consolidation of schools in Basketball District 18, will result in this district having only three K.H.S.A.A. member school during the forthcoming school year. After considerable discussion concerning this information, W. H. Crowds moved, seconded by Don Davis, that Green County be moved from Basketball District 20 to Basketball District 18 for the 1969-70 school year. The motion was carried.

The Commissioner presented to each member of the Board a statistical sheet giving information for the 1957-69 period concerning executive and staff member salaries; insurance, social security, and other fringe benefits, requested by the Board during its June 7th meeting.

The Commissioner stated that he had received a request from the Louisville and Jefferson County Youth Commission for the sanction of certain track competitors who might be engaged in the United States Youth Games, either at the state, regional, or national level. He stated that he had asked the Commission to file with his office a list of all participants, including students who may have been varsity competitors representing their local high schools and who might make themselves ineligible by competing in a non-sanctioned regional or national track event which had not received Board of Control sanction. He further stated that such a list was in his possession. Tom Mills moved, seconded by Foster J. Sanders, that the Commissioner by delegated authority from the Board of Control be authorized to restore to eligibility any track participant who may have made himself or herself ineligible by taking part in the United States Youth Games. The motion was carried unanimously.

Foster J. Sanders, moved, seconded by Don Davis, that the Commissioner be authorized to purchase for the Association a retirement endowment insurance policy for Assistant Commissioner Billy V. Wise, in the amount of $20,000.00, this being the same type of policy purchased previously for Messrs. Sanford and Mansfield. The motion was carried unanimously.

President Dorsey gave a very complete report on the 1969 National Federation Annual Meeting.

Foster J. Sanders moved, seconded by W. H. Crowds, that all bills of the Association for the period beginning June 1, 1969, and ending July 31, 1969, be allowed. The motion was carried unanimously.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

Corrections and Interpretations

RULES BOOK

Inside Front Cover—9-3i—replace last word "score" with "touchdown."

CASE BOOK

Play 6—Item and ruling for (b) are correct as given in the case book. Note block by A4 is from side and, therefore, legal.

Play 263D—The last sentence of the ruling should read, "After the game has begun, the referee has no alternative except to penalize the team for failure to wear the required equipment." Delete the clause "and after a team has been warned."

RULES—SIMPLIFIED AND ILLUSTRATED

Top of Page 45—Insert after "yard" the following, "or ½ the distance to the goal (as it is in this situation)."

Top of Page 56—In third line of the caption delete "goal" and replace with "10."

INTERPRETATIONS BASED ON RECENT CHANGES

1. Play: Team A is on the line ready to snap when several B players loudly call out numbers in cadence and: (a) the ball is snapped on the first sound from the quarterback and a pass results in a touchdown; or (b) the action by B upsets the timing of A and A1 false starts.

Ruling: Unsportsmanlike conduct by B in both (a) and (b). This is a dead ball foul. The ball will not be permitted to become alive. Since this is a dead ball foul, there is no result of the play to accept in (a). B will be penalized 15 yards from the previous spot in both (a) and (b).

2. Play: (a) At the beginning of the 3rd quarter; or (b) following a substitution, team K has 12 men on the field when the ball becomes alive.

Ruling: Illegal participation in both (a) and (b). Because K had 12 men on the field during a down, the foul is for illegal participation whether or not there was an attempt to deceive. This became a foul when the ball became alive, that is, when it was kicked or snapped. Penalize 15 yards from the previous spot if the penalty is accepted.

3. Play: As the ball becomes dead it is immediately noted that A1 participated without a touch and mouth protector.

Ruling: The foul by A1 is considered to have occurred simultaneously with the snap. The penalty is 15 yards which, if accepted, will be assessed from the previous spot. Team B has the choice of refusing the penalty, taking the play, and counting the down.

4. Play: (a) B1 has his helmet inadvertently dislodged during the play; or (b) A3 purposely discards his helmet during the down.

Ruling: In (a), the accidental or inadvertent displacement of required equipment during the course of a down is ignored. The equipment must, of course, be replaced for the start of the succeeding down. In (b), it is a foul for not properly wearing required equipment. The foul takes place at the spot the player voluntarily removes his equipment. The penalty is assessed on the basis of the type of play and will depend upon whether the foul occurred during a running play or loose ball play and when the foul occurred.

5. Play: During the game representatives of team A are: (a) taking 16mm movies; or (b) using a portable video tape recorder in the press box to record the game for future reference; or (c) using a Polaroid camera to take single pictures of defensive formations; or (d) using a Polaroid camera with an adapter for taking sequence pictures.

Ruling: Legal in (a) and (b), provided in (b) the tape is not used for coaching purposes at any time during the game and that a representative of the team does not study replays on a monitor and pass information about them to the coaching staff during the game. (c) and (d) become illegal if information from any of the pictures is relayed to any member of the squad during the course of the game.

6. Play: During a try, place-kick holder A1 muffs the snap. A2 recovers and crosses the goal line. During the down, A3 held B1 on B's 5 yardline.

Ruling: B is given the option of accepting the result of the play, which would be the award of 2 points for the successful try, or taking the penalty. The penalty, if accepted, will be measured from the spot of the foul and the try will be replayed from B's 20. This is a foul during a running play and is administered according to the All but One principle.

The Unconscious Athlete

The common definition of "first aid" is: The immediate emergency care of injury or illness until medical care can be obtained. This is especially significant with regard to the player rendered unconscious during an athletic contest or practice.

Medical care should be immediately available with a physician present at games and readily available during practice sessions. This requires that plans be developed so that during practices the physician can be reached quickly by phone. The unconscious player can pose a serious problem and the physician, the coach and the trainer must realize the importance of prompt and proper care.

There are a number of conditions that may cause unconsciousness. These conditions and recommendations for care are listed below:

Heat Stroke—Collapse—with dry, warm skin—indicates sweating mechanism failure and rising body temperature. THIS IS AN EMERGENCY; DELAY COULD BE FATAL. Immediately cool athlete by the most expedient means (immersion in cool water is best method). Obtain medical care at once. Player should not return to participation without consent of a physician.

Heat Exhaustion—Weakness—with profuse sweating—indicates state of shock due to depletion of salt and water. Place in shade with head level or lower than body. Give sips of dilute salt water. Obtain medical care at once. Player should not return to participation without consent of a physician.

Impact Blow to Solar Plexus—Rest athlete on back and moisten face with cool water. Loosen clothing around waist and chest. Do nothing else except obtain medical care if needed. Player may return to participation if further medical care is not indicated.

Impact Blow to Head—Head injuries—in football are usually "subconcussive." That is, the player may be briefly dazed or slow to get up. He may be groggy or dizzy for only a few moments. Such a player should be benched for at least two plays, preferably a quarter, and not returned to play until he is alert, fully in command of himself, and free of headache or dizziness.

With a definite loss of consciousness, the player should be taken to a neurosurgical facility where he can be observed for a twenty-four hour period for any evidence of intracranial bleeding. He should not be returned to football until he is completely free of symptoms such as headache or dizziness.

The following recommendations should be followed concerning possible head injuries:

The groggy or dizzy player should be removed from the game until he is fully in command of himself and free of headache and dizziness.

Any player who has had a definite loss of consciousness should be removed and observed in a hospital for 24 hours.

When in doubt about the condition of the player, it is wise to pull him out, at least for a period of observation on the bench.

Headache persisting after any head injury requires careful medical evaluation.

Any inequality of pupil size developing after a head injury calls for immediate neurosurgical examination.

The following simple observations should be conducted to determine if there is an expanding intracranial lesion:

1. State of Consciousness—How impaired are movements?
2. Pupils—Inequality of size.
3. Heart—Unusual slowing.
4. Eye Movements—Nystagmus (dancing eyes)
5. Outstretched Arms—Drift unilaterally
6. Finger to Nose Test (eyes closed)—Asymmetry
7. Heel to Knee Test (eyes closed)—Asymmetry
8. Romberg Test (standing with eyes closed)—Falling
9. Tandem Walk (Heel to toe walking a straight line)—Inability to perform.

Three cardinal points to be stressed for successful emergency treatment are:

1. Communication: A "non-pay" telephone close to the sports arena for quick calls for help.
2. Transportation: A vehicle must be available at the site of competition to move the patient to the hospital.
3. Notification: The hospital must be informed of the patient's status so that medical, nursing and the proper facilities will be available on his arrival.

An Educational Discipline

By Dr. William Pearson Tolley
President, Syracuse University

NOTE: The following comments on football as a discipline were made to the 1968 annual meeting of the American Football Coaches Association by Dr. William Pearson Tolley, President, Syracuse University. His remarks are reproduced here through the courtesy of the American Football Coaches Association. They will be of interest to everyone involved in the athletic programs of education institutions.

The debate over the place of major sports on campus has been raging for years, most of the time with more heat than light. The critics say that there is a basic conflict between academic excellence and excellence in athletics; that scholarly effort cannot flourish where there is a serious interest in football. This is nonsense. Without question, there are institutions where the proper balance is not maintained and where emphasis on athletics has precedence over academic achievement. It is the bad example of these institutions that gives rise to the argument for abolishing intercollegiate athletics and particularly football. That argument cannot be taken seriously by anyone with a firsthand knowledge of youth. It may be an answer for the birds, it will not do for men.

To see football and other sports in better perspective, I should like to raise some different questions. What is the place of discipline in American education? How important is performance as distinguished from potential? What is the relationship of the individual to the larger units of society? And do sports contribute to the search for courage, endurance, honesty and self-respect?

Let us turn to the first question. What is the place of discipline in American education? We are free men. We are committed to freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of religion, and freedom of the mind. Is there a place for discipline? The answer is to be found in the sincere laboratory where to understand a universe under law requires hard work, patience and accuracy. It is only the disciplined mind that is equipped to observe, analyze, reflect and put back together again. The life of the scientist is the life of strict discipline. Only by long and arduous training does anyone contribute to the advancement of science.

Again on the playing field there is no instant knowledge, no immediate leadership and influence, no short cuts to success and power. Skill comes only after endless hours of running, push ups, drill and practice. Poise comes with experience. Experience is gained at the expense of mistakes. Self-control is the product of effort. Leadership is earned, not given.

Whether American parents are too permissive, their children too rebellious and the Nation too undisciplined and soft only time will tell. But even the youngster who has never been crossed learns the place of discipline in a science laboratory and he learns it again on the playing field. William Penn said: no pain no palm, no thorns no crown, no call no glory, no cross no crown.

The New Testament reminds us that, "Strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it." (Matthew VII, v. 14). To learn this by personal experience is particularly important in a day of affluence and ease.

Our second question is, How important is performance as distinguished from potential? For the moment, American Society is preoccupied with the problem of undeveloped potential. This is the great problem of both our schools and our colleges. Nature is lavish in its distribution of talents—but poor schools leave talents undeveloped and students seriously disadvantaged.

I agree that this is the current problem in our slums and backward areas. I do not share the feeling that it is our only problem. In education there must always be an emphasis on performance as well as potential. If I were an admissions officer, a boy's performance in the high school classroom would tell me far more than his scores in College Boards.

What counts most in life is motivation. This is what makes the difference both in the classroom and on the playing field. Desire, competitive spirit, a willingness to pay the price, habits of work, the refusal to quit, these are the qualities we should look for.

Only performance counts in the classroom. Only performance counts on the playing field. Only performance counts in life after graduation. This is the lesson we must all learn. The earlier it is learned, the better it will be for the learner.

On balance I think our coaches teach this lesson even more effectively than do our other teachers. The New Testament reminds us that, "I am the true vine, and my Father is the vinedresser. Every branch of mine that bears no fruit, he takes away, and every branch that does bear fruit he prunes, that it may bear more fruit." (John XV, v. 1,2) Every week the football coach judges every boy that plays. Every week he takes away the branch that bears no fruit, prunes the one that does so that it will bear more fruit. He may not realize it, but this cruel hard-nosed doctrine comes straight from the Good Book.

My third question is, What is the relationship of the individual to the larger units of society? In dealing with the current generation of students, one cannot help but be impressed by the extent to which they are wrapped up in themselves. Perhaps this has always been true. One has to go back a long way in time, however, to find such a high percentage of egocentric student leaders. What they regard as important appears to be all that counts. They have answers but no questions, voices but no ears. They know more than their teachers, more than the administrators and much more than the trustees.

Fortunately they are brought back to earth on the playing field if nowhere else. Discipline and the place of performance can be learned in the classroom quite as well as on the playing field. Nothing, however, teaches the importance of teamwork like athletics. The subordination of the individual to the team is an experience I wish all students could have. The boy who obeys instructions, who listens and learns, who gives his best effort in any position to which he is assigned and who hangs in there every day and every week regardless of how much he plays on Saturday, this is the boy who finds out what life is all about.

In the closing years of the twentieth century, scientific advance is more and more the result of team effort. Again, every social and economic advance requires cooperative action. This is becoming a day when even the most gifted must function as a member of a team. I am grateful that this all important lesson is taught so well on the playing field.

And finally, Do sports contribute to the search for courage, endurance, honesty and self-respect?

The most notable weakness of American higher education is in the field of character training. We do an outstanding job in intellectual discipline—a miserable job in moral discipline. Education that is complete must take into account the needs of the whole man. The molding of character, the contagion of ideals, the teaching of values often takes place outside of the classroom but this does not make it any the less important. It comes from the force of example, from the personal influence of those whom students respect, and from direct personal involvement.

Here again the science laboratory could be cited—for accuracy, truthfulness, and honesty are requirements without excuse or exception. But the playing field teaches these qualities too, and in addition teaches courage, endurance and self-respect.

I would be the first to admit that we put too high a premium on winning. The British ask, "Did you have a good game?" We ask, "Did you win?" In America when the season ends, nothing is important but the record of victories and defeats.

Aristotle, in arguing for a golden mean in his Nicomachean Ethics, observed that many vices are really good qualities pushed to extremes. Thrift becomes parsimony, generosity becomes prodigal spending, freedom becomes license, righteousness grows self-righteous, religious devotion becomes fanatical and intolerant.

I would agree that some of the values in the world of sport are out of balance. But it is not the coaches who have distorted values, it is the alumni and the fans. There isn't a coach here who wouldn't welcome increased attention to good sportsmanship and less attention to the final score. But when the failure to win means the loss of your job, someone is kidding you if he says victory is not important.

Even so it is not so important that the end justifies any means. Long after boys have graduated they will remember their coaches resorted to cheating to win. Boys learn only the kind of sportsmanship they see exemplified. They are never fooled.

Among the coaches I have been privileged to know, however, the standards are what they should be and one reaches out for the highest values in a shared experience. The contribution to the building of character is enormous. The lessons of obedience, of loyalty, of courage—all three are learned, as well as the value of a total response. To do what you thought couldn't be done, to give that last extra effort that makes so great a difference, to endure without whining or complaint, to practice until perfect, to make the key block that lets your teammate score—these are experiences I wish everyone could have.

For each one of us there is a desert to travel, a star to discover, and a being within ourselves to bring to life. The boy who gives all that he has not only brings to life the highest being within him, but gives hope for all human striving. And as he learns the meaning of honesty and self-respect, he is rewarded with pride and dignity and honor.

There should be no doubt how the questions I have raised are answered. They are the answers that justify the investment of your life in coaching. They make the struggle worthwhile.

To Win What?

Much has been said and written about creating a desire to win as an important objective in interscholastics. Coaches make it an immediate objective and educators have acknowledged that a desire to win is significant in developing a will to succeed. Conference and state championships stimulate a desire to win, but few have raised the question, "To Win What?"

A concept of victory that appears to be prevalent is to prove the individual, or the team, superior in physical skill as evidenced by the mark or the score. Too many fail to realize that victory can be great or it can be shallow. For example, most would readily admit that a victory by cheating would have little real value.

What are we trying to win? This is an easy question for the professionals and they can answer it honestly. Their objective is to win a reward, generally of a monetary or material nature. The winner gets the major share of the reward but the loser also shares.

What about interscholastics? No doubt, interscholastics are influenced by professional athletic programs. We substitute an "award" for the reward. By standard, it must be symbolic in nature in the form of a medal or trophy. For what does the award stand? It symbolizes victory. To be a victor one must have displayed superiority in individual or team skills. There is nothing wrong in the desire to win an award based on victory. It is our attitude toward victory that can be questioned. If the award is all that we are competing for, victory has little significance in the interscholastic program.

Questionable attitudes toward victory in school programs generally involve attitudes of excess. An excessive display of an attitude of superiority can bring ill will and disrespect toward the victor. Over glorification of the champion can cause a false sense of importance of victory for high school youth.

An interscholastic victory must be a worthwhile learning experience if it is to be significant in an educational program. Whether it will be a learning experience will largely depend upon the teaching by the coach and school representatives. School administrators have the responsibility of seeing that students are taught how to accept victory. They must realize that winning shall be an experience that will make for better citizenship. If it does not, what has been won?

High school players and students and adult spectators must understand how the loser feels. The loser should have a share from an interscholastic contest just as losers share in professional athletics. Instead of monetary or material gain, they should share in the respect and recognition of their dignity. Winners must realize that learning how to accept defeat graciously without wanting to lose requires as much courage and character as does winning. That has often been portrayed by the old adage of "being humble in victory and gracious in defeat."

High school students are sometimes confused by some of the acts of the professionals in the form of cutting nets from goals, etc. This showmanship performed by the professionals to add to the entertainment being sold. Destruction of school property is a violation of the law, and victors in interscholastic athletics should never acquire an attitude that victory justifies a violation of the law.

If winning in interscholastics is to be worthwhile, we must cause students to look beyond the award, the glory and the pride that comes easy from winning. They must be conscious of more than just a desire to win; they must fully understand what is to be won, and they must be given help to assume the responsibility of being a winner. Building the proper attitudes toward winning and losing is a responsibility of the school, and particularly of the coaching staff.

New Wrestling Film

A new wrestling film, WRESTLING BY THE RULES, has been produced by the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations. The film was released in July of this year. A print of the film, a 16mm, 18 minute sound film in color, has been secured by the K.H.S.A.A. and placed on loan with the Film Library, College of Education, University of Kentucky.

WRESTLING BY THE RULES is a movie with commentary which is devoted in its entirety to wrestling rules interpretations and officiating procedures. The film covers those difficult judgment situations which occur instantaneously during a typical wrestling match. There are more than 60 scenes which provide guidelines for officiating such areas as takedowns, reversals, stalling, technical violations, and illegal holds.

Authenticity of the interpretations is guaranteed since the high school members of the NCAA Wrestling Rules Committee, along with its chairman and secretary, served as the technical staff. Also serving in an advisory capacity were high school coaches and officials who are currently active and well versed on the scene.

WRESTLING BY THE RULES provides a visual approach to the written rules, and situations covered in the film were chosen from suggestions made by coaches and officials. It is produced to help everyone understand those difficult judgment decisions which officials must make instantaneously. The film is a supplement to WRESTLING OFFICIATING ILLUSTRATED and will serve as a valuable visual aid in college officiating classes. With the exception of high school modifications, the interpretations, as given in the film, are correct for the intercollegiate level of the sport. It is recommended for all levels of amateur wrestling.
