J. O. LEWIS

Superintendent, Fulton City Schools

Among those who have contributed so much to the cause of interscholastic athletics in Kentucky are the Secretaries of the various Conferences. One of the oldest and largest of Kentucky Conferences is the Western, sometimes called the LITTLE SIXTEEN, of which Mr. J. O. Lewis is the secretary.

Mr. Lewis was present at the first, or organization meeting of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association and has attended every annual meeting except that of 1939. He served as vice-president of the association in 1927-28. Served as special investigator for the association on numerous occasions, and prior to the times of the Delegate Assembly took an active and valuable part in shaping the legislative policies of the K. H. S. A. A.

Mr. Lewis has been secretary of the Western Kentucky Conference since its organization in 1923. He was active in establishing a plan for securing better officials for the conference, and helped to organize and conduct one of the first rules clinics in the state. The active interest of Secretary Lewis has made his perhaps the most efficiently conducted conference in Kentucky.

SEPTEMBER, 1939

$1.00 Per Year.

From the President's Office From the Secretary's Office

One of the resolutions we have adopted for the present school year is that all requests for rulings will be answered on the day they are received. The principals can help us dispose of cases promptly by observing the following suggestions:

First, give the name of the player whose eligibility is to be determined.

Second, if the player has transferred from another school, please state whether he participated in ath-letics in his former school and whether his parents have moved to a new district.

Third, if yours is a request for a change in the certification of a player, please state how he has been certified in other years and present all evidence to prove that the requested certification is correct. The principal must make this statement since he is held responsible for the conduct of athletics in his school. No other person can make it for him.

Fourth, remember that all requests for rulings must be made in writing. An opinion will be given by telephone but it is not a ruling on one's eligibility until it is reduced to writing. Neither the president nor the Board of Control will be responsible for oral opinions based on an oral statement of facts. A ruling on any new case becomes a precedent to be followed in similar cases. These rulings, therefore, must be recorded in writing so that they may be referred to as occasion requires.

Fifth, remember that the constitution and by-laws of the Association are as binding on the Board of Control as they are on the member schools. The Board does not have the power to change the rules or to modify them in order to take care of individual cases.

One of the most important rules in our by-laws is found in section 3 of Rule XIV. This rule requires a principal to verify a player's age by referring to the vital statistics record in the state in which the player was born. Several schools have been suspended from the Association in recent years because the principal, by ignoring this rule, used an overage player unknowingly. The Board has held that it must suspend any school that has used an overage player unless the school can show that it made an effort to verify the player's age by referring to the vital statistics records of the player's native state before such player became ineligible.

The Board sincerely hopes that this year it will be spared the grief which all of us feel when it becomes mandatory to suspend a school for violations of the Association's rules. Let this be a year in which every school shall have a perfect record in the observance of the eligibility rules, and a year in which no school shall be suspended.

Principals of member schools of the Association have recently been mailed statements for their 1939-40 dues, which are $3.00. Dues include two subscriptions to the magazine in addition to rules and play situations books in the sport or sports (basketball, football) in which the school participates. There is no to pay their dues by October 1st are dropped from membership in the Association and are not allowed to participate in games with K. H. S. A. A. member schede until the are sciented by the science of the schools until they are reinstated by the secretary.

It is to be hoped that all member schools find it possible to give their football and basketball squads the protection offered by the Accident Benefit Plan which was explained in detail in the August issue of the magazine. Although the Board of Control has been guided by sound actuarial principles in setting up the program, having studied carefully the plans now functioning in fourteen other states, the cost of protection is lower and the schedule of benefits higher than those of the average state. The money expended by the school, or perhaps the money which should be expended by the school, for one bad injury would more than pay for the cost of protection for the entire squad. The Board of Control is not anxious for principals and coaches to insure their players be-cause of any profit which the Association might derive therefrom. As an actual fact, the more players insured the more the probability that the Association will sustain a financial loss. The Board of Control believes that the K. H. S. A. A. Protection Fund offers a service to Kentucky schools which should not be overlooked.

Seventy-seven schools have as yet failed to file football or basketball eligibility lists for last year. The names of these schools appeared in the August issue of the magazine. Under a new amendment to By-Law XIV, the secretary is not allowed to issue a membership certificate to any school until it has filed all reports required by the Association for the preceding year.

CORRECTIONS IN BOOKLET Attention, Principals of member schools in Region 4: Due to an error in printing, the dis-tricting of Region 4 is incorrect as given in the booklet. The districts are the same as last year which were printed in the November issue of THE ATHLETE. They are: Dist. 13-Ohio. Dist. 14-McLean south of Green River, Muhlenberg. Dist. 15-Butler, Edmonston. Dist. 16-Grayson. Principals of all member schools will please change their booklets accordingly.

The front cover of this issue brings The Athlete Readers the picture of another champion, the duPont Manual Training High School Track Team of 1939. This squad of speedsters under the careful tutelage of their fine coach, Brad Jones, outdistanced all opposition and closed another successful season by piling up 63½ points to win the Kentucky State Meet at Lexington on May 19th and 20th. Add this picture to your gallery of Kentucky High School Champs.

WHO IS WHO IN KENTUCKY ATHLETICS

During the 1938-39 season The Athlete carried the pictures and a short biograph of all of the present officers of the K. H. S. A. A. as well as all the past presidents of the organization. Believing that a very valuable contribution is being made by the various Athletic Conferences of the state, The Athlete will present in the coming issues some of the secretaries of these Conferences who are serving so faithfully and so well. In this issue we are glad to recognize and pay tribute to Superintendent J. O. Lewis of Fulton. Mr. Lewis, Secretary of the Little Sixteen Conference, has served that organization since its organization and has made valuable contributions to the cause of athletics in the state at large.

FOOTBALL CLINIC REPORTS

Elsewhere in this issue will be found a report of the Football Rules Clinics by Gayle Mohney who conducted them for the K. H. S. A. A. In this report Mr. Mohney modestly refrains from stating the enthusiastic response and praise which he received everywhere for the splendid and efficient manner in which he conducted these meetings. Your editor had the pleasure of attending one of these clinics along with more than one hundred coaches, players and officials, and was very favorably impressed with the results of the meeting. Many coaches and officials were heard to say that Mr. Mohney put more good sound teaching into one evening than they had ever experienced in such a meeting.

It is indeed a difficult task to handle such meetings in a way that all may profit, and Mr. Mohney is to be congratulated on the splendid work which he did. As a result of these interpretation meetings our officating this season should be consistently better and our Interscholastic Rules should become increasingly more popular.

The KENTUCKY HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETE

The recent adoption of the Interscholastic Rules by California Interscholastic Federation and the larger cities of Arizona results in more than two-thirds of the football of the nation being played under these rules. Adoption has resulted in better control by the school authorities over game administration and a safer and more desirable type of game.

DON'T FORGET

The football rules committee is anxious to secure statistics as outlined in the statistical sheet authorized at the last rules meeting and printed in Bulletin V of the "Aids to Leaders." Please set up the machinery to secure these data. (See inside back cover of this magazine for a copy of the "Statistical Sheet" to be used.

1940 SWIMMING GUIDE

Mr. C. E. Forsythe, member of the N. C. A. A. Swimming Rules Committee, reports that the 1940 Intercollegiate and Interscolastic Swimming Guide was placed on sale August 1st and is now obtainable at sporting goods and book stores for high school use at the present time.

REGISTERED OFFICIALS

Attention is called to the new K. H. S. A. A. Contracts which read: "Officials to be used in this contest shall be members of the Officials Division of the Kentucky High School Athletic Association." A list of officials who have registered for the 1939-40 season is included on page 12. If officials for your games are not included in this list they should be asked to present their Official Registration Cards before working in your games.

CORRECTIONS IN FOOTBALL BOOKS

FOOTBALL RULES BOOK: The first reference on inside front cover should be "2-14-3" instead of "2-4-3."

In the Play Ruling at top of page 67, in the last line "B2" should be substituted for "A2" and in the ruling "2" should be substituted for "12."

INTERPRETATION MEETING BULLETINS: In the Key Sheet for Bulletin V the answer to question 6 should be "Forward Pass" and the distance to be gained in question 10 (a) is "30" instead of "20".

FOOTBALL PLAY BOOK: The ruling in (a) following Play 131 (2) should be "First-25 for B on their 12½."

FOOTBALL CONFERENCES

The following Conferences are reported as sponsoring football Championship: The Little Six, North Central, Central, South Central, Little Sixteen, Eastern, Cumberland Valley, and Big Sandy. If there are others The Athlete would be glad to have a report giving names of member schools and officers. Reports from the secretaries of all of these conferences would be appreciated so that they might be passed on to all parts of the state.

Report on 1939 Football Clinics

September 6, 1939.

Mr. Russell E. Bridges, Fort Thomas, Kentucky.

Dear Mr. Bridges:

I am enclosing herewith the report concerning the 1939 football clinics which I trust will be satisfactory. I did not return home until Monday and for this reason I was unable to send the report at an earlier date.

The clinics generally were very well attended and everyone seemed to enjoy the work. I will be very much interested in learning the reactions of those attending the sessions inasmuch as the approach was somewhat different to that of last year.

With kindest regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

GAM/r

GAYLE A. MOHNEY.

One of the outstanding developments in the administration of sports in recent years is the growth and organization of state high school athletic associations. It was inevitable that the need for uniform interpretation of rules, coupled with the free interchange of ideas dealing with problems common to all sections of the country, would ultimately lead to the organization of a national association. In 1932, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Iowa pioneered the movement now enthusiastically supported by twenty-six member states. Kentucky joined this national body, now known as the National Federation of State High School Associations, in 1937, and consequently, is entering upon her third year of membership.

In 1938, the State Association, for the first time, sponsored a series of football clinics which were held in eight different cities in the commonwealth. The purpose of these clinics is to afford coaches and officials an opportunity for a pre-season study of the 1939 football rules with a view of obtaining uniform interpretations upon controversial points. In order to accommodate officials and coaches by making it more convenient to attend, three additional meetings were held in 1939, making a total of eleven. The dates and cities of clinics which were held are as follows:

> August 24—Lexington. August 25—Barbourville. August 26—Benham. August 26—Pikeville. August 28—Ashland. August 29—Covington. August 30—Louisville. August 31—Murray. September 1—Madisonville. September 1—Bowling Green. September 2—Lebanon.

A different approach in the conduct of the meetings was tried for the first time. A printed bulletin with sixteen play situations was delivered to each person, and this bulletin formed the basis of the subject matter discussed at the meetings. The play situations which were used were selected with two purposes in mind: First, to illustrate the differences in the Collegiate and Federation rules, and second, to give officials who contemplate taking the written examination prepared by the National Federation, some conception of the subject matter and form of the questions which are included in this examination. The writer endeavored to give everyone an opportunity to express himself concerning controversial points, and these informal discussions added materially to the program.

Officials who desired to register were permitted to do so at the conclusion of each meeting. Every official who registered was given a copy of the 1939 Rules Book, a copy of the Play Situation Book, and five bulletins published by the National Federation. It was the purpose of the State Association to make this material available to officials as soon as possible, and ninety-three persons took advantage of the opportunity and registered at the clinics.

Inasmuch as the coaches and officials in the State of Kentucky have become accustomed, over a long period of time, to the collegiate rules of football, it was to be expected that a change to the Federation rules would naturally require a period of time to become thoroughly familiar with them. The chief impression which the writer gained from the eleven clinics which were held in all sections of the state was that the Federation rules are finding more favor with coaches and officials in direct proportion to their increased familiarity with them. The changes in the rules which permit a more open style of play and which are conducive to safety for the players participating in the game have received widespread approval.

The writer wishes to take this opportunity to thank the local managers for their cooperation in making the necessary arrangements for the clinics and to express his personal appreciation for the courtesy and consideration extended to him by all those who attended the meetings.

It is the desire of the State Association to improve the clinics year by year, and both the Association and the writer would appreciate any suggestions for the betterment of these meetings, which, it is hoped, will become annual affairs.

GAYLE A. MOHNEY. September 6, 1939. Lexington, Kentucky.

The KENTUCKY HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETE

1939 University of Ky. Coaching School

The coaching school was sponsored by the Department of Physical Education and opportunity was provided for all enrollees to take course for credit or audit these courses at their own option. The coaching school this year was by far the most successful that we have had, and I am basing this statement on the number of students enrolled as well as the student comment and general interest. Probably one of the most interesting features of the program were the moving pictures which were shown every night during the school. The pictures were shown by Coach

1939 CHANGES FROM LAST YEAR

Interscholastic Football Rules

Compiled by H. V. PORTER

Inside Front Cover. The first reference should be 2-14-3 instead of 2-4-3.

1-1-3-3-Note. Coaches should insist on conical cleats $\frac{1}{2}$ inch in diameter when ordering new equipment. Consider penalty for discarding headgear in connection with note under 4-5-5.

Comment: A1 is on his way to a touchdown and at the 15 yardline deliberately throws off his headgear. This is a foul and the penalty is a charged time-out. The general rule would make the spot of enforcement the 15 yardline and hence would annul the touchdown, but this special provision allows the touchdown. Such a foul, even when by B, has no effect on the number of the next down except in certain cases when it is an excess time-out.

1-3. Last year the tan ball was prescribed except by mutual agreement. In aces of dispute, the Referee now makes the choice of color for night games.

2-3-1 and 2. Slight changes have been made in wording. Last year certain freak kicks such as where the ball is dropped for a punt by A1 and is then kisked by A2 or B1 or where a pass or fumble in flight might be kicked, were considered punts and in some cases return-kicks. Such freak kicks are now illegal and penalty is in 5-A-1-6.

2-9-1. For clarity, a specific definition of a play not from scrimmage is given.

2-14-3. All "loose ball" situations are specifically listed. Last year, one case of a free ball remained. Note that the "loose ball" situation is significant only when a foul occurs during the time when no player has possession. The term "in flight" is convenient when dealing with the question of whether a player may bat a loose ball or advance after recovery. For related sections see 5A-1-6 and 6-3-3 and 4. Note that use of the term "catch" implies a ball in flight.

Note that a kicked ball is considered still in possession of the kickers. There may be some objection to this on the grounds that when a team kicks, it signifies willingness to give up possession. The only real difference it makes is in the case of a foul. Holding by A during a kick is offensive holding (15 yards) and enforcement is from the previous spot. Such fouls as clipping are also from the previous spot. While a few inequities might be pointed out, there are not as many as under the old rule which prescribed loss of ball at the spot. Fouls prior to or during a pass are penalized in the same way (unless they are interference).

2-20-2-Exception. If such a pass is legally handed forward and muffed it is not considered an incompletion. No change is intended.

2-21-2-Note and 7-3-2-(a). A new impulse may be created by a bat or kick. These were covered ambiguously last year by the term muff. It is thought best to be specific. There are degrees of contact as in touch, bat, kick, muff and fumble and in certain situations it makes a difference in penalty or rights of players.

Comment: Illustrate by several situations involving (a) a kick and (b) a backward pass or fumble after it has struck the ground. Of course, the impulse has a bearing only when the end zone is involved.

3-3-(a). Usually the quarter is extended only when there is a foul by the defensive team (note that during a loose ball the passers, fumblers, or kickers are the offensive team). Illegal touching of a kick is a foul by the offensive team but the offended team has the right to have the quarter extended.

3-5-2-Note. Communication is permitted by a substitute who becomes a player but attempts to take advantage through receiving information and then refusing to sanction a substitution are penalized as coaching.

3-5-3. Last year, allowing re-entry in the fourth quarter had a noticeable effect on reducing injuries. This year a player may re-enter once during any quarter. The National Committee urges the use of the honor system by coaches so that the Officials will not be bothered by bookkeeping details. The Referee should consult the coaches before the contest to find whether there has been mutual agreement relative to this matter.

4-2-3. Some fouls are enforced from the spot where the ball was passed, fumbled or kicked. Illustration: After intercepting a forward pass, B1 fumbles on his 40. The fumbled ball strikes the ground on the 50 and A1 recovers on his 45 but while the ball was rolling on the ground, A2 illegally uses his hands. In this case the spot of enforcement is on B's 40.

4-3-1-(3)-Note (g) and 8-1-2-Note. A reasonable time must be allowed for officials to get in proper position after the ball is placed for a snap.

4-3-2-(2). Last year this section included a foul by B during the continuing action following an incompletion. It should be noted that the present rules make the end of the down (usually the whistle) a sharp dividing line. If the foul occurs after the incompletion it could not have had any possible influence on the incompletion and consequently the penalty for the B foul is enforced the same as for any other foul which occurs between downs.

4-3-2-Exception (4). The reason these situations are exceptions to the general double foul statement is that any gain or loss which may have been made prior to the kick, pass or fumble after possession has changed is retained. Consequently it is not correct to say that the down is replayed as is the case with most double fouls.

4-3-3-Note. Last year there were a considerable number of complicated situations whereby one foul might have been during the down and the other foul in the continuing action or during the period between downs. Most of these complicated situations have been eliminated by not considering action as a part of the previous down. When two fouls by the same team are in the continuing action, the penalty is for a foul between downs but, of course, the offended team is given the usual choice as to which foul shall be penalized. Note that this does not apply to sev-eral fouls by the same team which may occur between the ending of down action and putting the ball in play to start the next down. It is assumed that if the fouls occur during the continuing action, they are practically simultaneous and in such a situation it is feasible to give the choice. In the case of two fouls occurring while the teams are walking back to position for the new down, it is not always possible to treat them as simultaneous fouls. See Note 2 under 4-4-2.

4-3-4. Note that there are now only two options (do not confuse with "choice" which involves two different fouls). Last year there was a third option in connection with a major incompletion inside the ten yardline. This no longer exists because of the change in penalty for a major incompletion.

4-4-2-Exception (b). By definition a double foul is a foul by both teams during a down. Consequently when there are fouls by both teams after the down has ended they are not double fouls. In case the two fouls are during the continuing action, it is assumed that they are simultaneous fouls and consequently they are considered as offsetting each other. It is not always feasible to regard all fouls by both teams between downs as offsetting because there might be a considerable period between such fouls. The practical method of administration seems to be to consider each foul separately if the foul is after down action has ceased. In very unusual cases this might In very unusual cases this might result in stepping off a penalty in one direction and soon after stepping off another penalty in the opposite direction. These occurrences happen so seldom that no great concern need be felt about any such possible situation. It is even conceivable that an Official might step off the difference between a 5 and a 15 yard penalty to avoid carrying the ball both ways.

4-4-4-(a) and 4-4-5-(a). These articles have been rewritten to cover a couple of loopholes in connection with fouls during a loose ball and not from scrimage.

These sections need not cause any great difficulty since they appear in this section of the book merely in order to make 4-4-4 complete for reference later in the book. All of the safety and touchback situations are more specifically covered in Rule 9. No special study need be given the general statement in 4-4-4 and 5 with the exception of 4-4-4-(b) dealing with placing the ball on or within the 1 yardline.

4-5-5-Note and 8-5-5-Penalty (a). A fourth combination penalty of loss of both down and distance (major incompletion) now exists.

4-5-8. The last sentence gives coverage for a double foul which occurs during a forward pass from beyond the line or return-kick or pass or fumble not from scrimmage.

Illustration: During third down A1 carries ball beyond the line and makes a forward pass. While the pass is in the air both B1 and A1 foul. The fouls offset and the next down is the fourth. Note that if the double fouls had occurred before the pass the third down would have been replayed.

5-A-1-6. A slight change has been made to prohibit such acts as kicking a ball which is in the air from a pass or a fumble or where one player drops the ball for a punt and another player kicks it.

By "spot of the loose ball" is meant the spot where the player passed or fumbled.

1939 CHANGES FROM LAST YEAR In Interscholastic Football Rules

5-A-2-4. Last year crawling was considered a foul during the down and consequently if the penalty was enforced the number of the next down was the same as for the one during which the foul was committed. It is obvious that the act of crawling could have no possible effect on distance already gained or loss before the whistle. Officials were usually lax in enforcement. The new rule is more equitable and officials should have no hesitancy in penalizing for this act which encourages opponents to pile on after forward progress has stopped or after a knee has touched the ground.

5-B-1-2. The penalty for unsportsmanlike player conduct is now the same as that for similar acts by non-players. Note the addition of (d) in the note. This is to cover the question as to whether a player has the right to kick at a loose ball even though he fails to make contact with it. Such an act is an injury hazard and is illegal.

6-6-1-2-c. This addition is inserted to make it clear that if there is a foul during the kick-off or any other free-kick such that the enforcement is from the previous spot, the ball is kicked again after enforcement.

Illustration: A1 kicks off. While the kick is in the air, A2 clips. Penalty of 15 yards is enforced from the spot of the kick-off and Team A kicks again.

6-2-1-f. A new P. R. has been inserted to cover a disputed point concerning a kick which touches a receiver before rolling into the end zone.

6-3-2. Last year a backward pass or a fumble which occurred during a play not from scrimage was considered a free ball after it had struck the ground. This exception to the loose ball rule has been eliminated. There are no longer any free ball situations.

6-3-5. A fumble last touched simultaneously by opposing players before going out of bounds between the goal lines belongs to the team last in possession. This is consistent with what is done in similar loose ball situations. Under such circumstances the ball is always considered to be in possession of the team last in possession. This applies also to such cases as where the ball following a fumble or backward pass might lie on the ground with all players refusing to fall on it. The ball belongs to the team which did the passing or fumbling.

6-5-6 and 7-2-2-5. Last year an invalid signal was included with the exceptions. Penalty for such signal during a return-kick is from the spot of the kick and if during any other kick, it is from the previous spot.

8-1-3-Note. If a legal snap strikes the ground or an eligible snap receiver who muffs it, and the ball is then recovered by a linesman, it is not to be penalized as snapping the ball to an ineligible receiver. (Continued in October issue.)

FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING

Somewhere I've read that in America we spend over sixty million dollars each year for elaborate burials of our dead. Which may be as it should be, but I've a hunch that this would be a happier world if some of the money we spend for flowers for the dead were spent in giving flowers to the living.

The chap who wrote the following little ditty has one booster over here in the "Amen" corner:

"When I quit this mortal shore, and mosey 'round this world no more, don't weep, don't sigh, don't sob; I may have struck a better job.

"Don't go and buy a large bouquet for which you'll find it hard to pay; don't mope around and feel all blue—I may be better off than you.

"Don't tell the folks I was a saint, or any old thing that I ain't; if you have jam like that to spread, please hand it out before I'm dead.

"If you have roses, bless your soul, just pin one in my buttonhole while I'm alive and well --today. Don't wait until I've gone away." Page Twelve

School State

Here is a game which deserves your attention. It was developed especially to provide boys in the small schools an opportunity to play football. Six-man football also offers a splendid opportunity for a new intramural sport in the larger schools.

We suggest that you call a meeting with the schools in your vicinity and arrange a conference schedule for this fall. We will be glad to have Paul Smith, our Kentucky School Representative, help you if you need additional information.
