S. A. "Daddy" BOLES

The name "Daddy" Boles brings up the mental picture of a mild-mannered, fun-loving gentleman whose ruddy face needs but little encouragement to melt into an engaging grin. He is known to hundreds of athletes, former athletes and men interested in the athletic coaching profession throughout Kentucky. His name is synonymous with athletics.

A farm boy who turned from the soil to athletics as a career, Mr. Boles real name is Stanley Atwood Boles.

Born in Grant County, Mr. Boles was raised on a farm and was graduated from Williamstown High School, where he was a member of the football team. He took his undergraduate college work at Kentucky Wesleyan, where he was awarded his Bachelor of Arts Degree and where he captained the Panther football team of 1909.

It was at Wesleyan that we won his nickname of "Daddy." Larger than most of the other boys on the squad, Boles attracted the attention of a faculty member, who walked up to him at practice one day and said, "I didn't know you were on the team; you look big enough and old enough to be the father of the others."

Following his graduation at Wesleyan, Mr. Boles went to Vanderbilt for his Master of Arts Degree. Later he took additional work at the Universities of Tennessee, Virginia, Illinois and Princeton. He was in a bayonet school at Princeton during the World War.

Mr. Boles first coaching job was at Locust Grove Institute, Georgia. From there he went to Polytechnic College, Fort Worth, Texas. That institution now is Southern Methodist University. Then he went to Texas Christian University, where he coached football for a year before coming to the University of Kentucky in 1916 to have charge of all physical education classes and to assist in coaching athletic teams.

In 1917 Mr. Boles was appointed head football and basketball coach at Kentucky, while the following year he was placed in charge of all physical education and athletics, holding that position until 1930, when the Department of Athletics was set up. Since then he has served as a manager in this department.

Interested in high school as well as college athletics, Mr. Boles fathered the State high school basketball tournament, which he started in 1919.

From the Secretary's Office

The Insurance Program

During 1939-40, the first year of the K. H. S. A. A. Protection Fund, claims paid for injuries sustained by athletes amounted to $386.25, this amount exceeding by a few dollars the amount received from the schools in football and basketball fees. A statement of the receipts and disbursements of the Protection Fund appears in this issue of the magazine.

The Board of Control has set the cost of protection under the insurance plan at the same figures as those of last year, namely, 75 cents per player in football and 25 cents per player in each other sport. The football fee will include coverage for spring practice in football. The schedule of benefits for 1940-41 is identical with that of last year with the exception of the X-ray allowance, which has been changed from $2.00 to $3.00.

Among the suggestions which have come to the Board concerning the program is one that the benefits be increased. Since the insurance plan is not self-sustaining but has to depend upon the regular K. H. S. A. A. fund for a subsidy, the Board feels that any material increase in the benefits would call for an increase in the cost of protection, which it is unwilling to make at this stage of the development of the program, with the great majority of member schools of the K. H. S. A. A. not insuring their athletes as yet. Considering the small fee charged for protection in each sport, a study of the other state associations which have comparable programs indicates that the benefits under our Kentucky plan are probably the most liberal of all.

A bulletin listing the schedule of benefits and the requirements for participation in the insurance plan will be mailed to member schools within a few weeks, with their statements of the 1940-41 dues. Meanwhile, principals or coaches wishing to study the plan may refer to the August issue of the magazine, of last year. Principals of schools playing football, who wish to insure their athletes for the period of preliminary practice should write the secretary at once and indicate the number of boys who wish protection, in order that application cards may be sent to the schools.

1940-41 Membership

The secretary requests schools not to send in their dues until they receive their statements, and that principals fill out these blue forms in full, the information called for being necessary for complete records of the association. Especial attention is called to the lines on which the various sports maintained by the schools are listed. On numerous occasions in the past the name of a coach in a certain sport is given, when the school actually does not maintain that sport. This is especially true in baseball. This office receives many calls for lists of coaches in the various sports, and has been compelled to compile inaccurate lists since the blue statement form is our only source of information for this material. It will be greatly appreciated if principals will see to it that the information on the statement forms is absolutely accurate. Since the Board of Control has recently redistricted the state, the new 1940-41 booklet should be studied for the correct number of the district and region.

Changes in the Rules

Several changes were made in the K. H. S. A. A. Constitution, By-Laws, and Tournament Rules at the last annual meeting. These changes were given in the May issue of the magazine, and will also appear in the new booklet. The Board of Control asks every school official to make it a point of honor to know the rules and to carry them out. Requests for interpretations of the rules should be made to President O'Donnell.

IMPORTANT CHANGES

- Principal shall verify player's age by referring to vital statistics, both for original certification and for certification of transfer athlete—By-Law XIII, Sec. 3.
- New principal shall secure from the association's secretary a copy of the original certifications of his players—By-Law XIII, Sec. 4.
- School shall be fined for not using registered official—By-Law XXVIII, Sec. 1.
- District winners and runners-up shall select the site of the regional tournament—Tournament Rule 3.
- Two-thirds of participating schools may adopt any plan for distribution of tournament receipts. If no plan can be agreed upon, state plan shall be used—Tournament Rule 4.
- Expenses of first and second place winners in regional track meets paid to state meet—Tournament Rule 4.
- Ten tournament players must be designated for each game—Tournament Rule 10.

Registration of Officials

Fees for registered officials will again be $2.00 in each sport. The fee will pay for rules and play situations books, a subscription to the magazine, and an emblem of the Officials' Division of the K. H. S. A. A., to be worn on the shirt or sweater. Application cards for registration and additional information concerning the clinics and the rules examinations will be mailed to previously registered football officials within a few days. New officials who wish to become registered should write the secretary's office in order that their names may be placed on the mailing list for this information. Fees should be accompanied by application cards, filled out in full.

THE COVER PICTURE

The 1940 Athlete continues its policy of paying tribute to the State Champs. In winning the 1940 State High School Baseball Championship, the Newport boys proved themselves to be of real championship calibre by sweeping the three games by a total score of 44 to a combined 7 runs for all opponents. In winning the regional title the Wildcats scored wins of 11 to 0, and 11 to 1.

Sixty-six runs in 5 games is real scoring and 8 runs for the opposition in 5 games indicates a strong defense.

We salute Coach Foster and the Newport Wildcats. Readers, add this picture of the Baseball Champs to your galaxy of Kentucky All-Stars.

"DADDY" BOLES

Among those who have contributed much to the cause of athletics in Kentucky "Daddy" Boles must hold a high place. For 24 years "Daddy" has meant far more than just a name to U.K.'s hundreds of athletes. During all the years of its existence, the K.H.S.A.A. has found in S. A. Boles a friend and loyal supporter. May that fine relationship continue for many, many years!

A COMBINED PROGRAM

During the State High School Track Meet in Lexington in May, at a group gathering, it was suggested that some plans be worked out whereby all the athletic interests of the State High School Athletic Association and also of the University might in some way be combined. It was proposed at that time to have a meeting in Lexington on the morning of June 15 to work out these details. At this meeting were: A. L. Lassiter of Richmond, representing the Coaches Association; M. E. Potter representing the University of Kentucky; Adolph F. Rupp representing the Shrine; and Bernie Shively representing the University. Mr. Bridges of the State Board was invited, but was unable to attend. It was proposed in this meeting that the following plan be submitted to the State Board at their July meeting for consideration:

That a plan be devised whereby the annual Coaching School and the Shrine Charity Football Game be combined at the same time. The following plan was tentatively drawn up: That the Shrine Charity Football Game be changed from the fall to the last week in August. The dates suggested were August 25-30, 1941.

It was proposed that the boys should be brought to Lexington four days in advance of this date, and drilled in fundamentals so that they would be ready to go to work on the morning of the 25th at the annual Coaching School. It was also proposed to bring in twenty men and that a game of basketball be played at the same time. It was also proposed that a course in track be given during the first year, owing to the fact that track has now become a popular sport in the Kentucky high schools. It was also proposed that eight high school football coaches of the State would be selected to come in to teach these boys, the same as they have in the past. It was also proposed to bring in four basketball coaches to coach the basketball boys. With these coaches it was suggested that prominent University coaches would also be added to the staff for lecture and demonstration work, the details of this to be worked out later. The eight high school coaches would be expected to also give a one-hour lecture on an assigned topic based on their own selections. Mr. Potter, speaking for the University, suggested that it would be possible to use the University dormitories and the University Cafeteria at a minimum cost at this time. He also suggested that the University would be glad to work out a plan whereby the coaches enrolling in this course could be given one hour of University credit. Two plans have been suggested for working out this game:

1. That the entire program should be sponsored here at the University of Kentucky the same as that sponsored by Northwestern University at Evanston.
2. That the plan be sponsored by the Kentucky State High School Athletic Association.

The groups considering this are:

1. The University of Kentucky.
2. The Kentucky State High School Athletic Association.
3. The Kentucky State Coaches' Association.
4. The Kentucky State Officials' Association.
5. The Shrine All-Star Football Committee.

The plans for financing this program have been suggested as follows:

1. That the Kentucky State High School Athletic Association if it sponsors the program should take care of all expenses.
2. If the University of Kentucky is to sponsor the program they will be glad to do so as they have in the past.

Estimated Revenues:

1. Fees charged the coaches enrolling in the course.
2. The Basketball gate receipts.
3. Financial assistance from the University.

* * * *

The Board of Control at its July meeting took up the various proposals, but postponed any definite action beyond the sanction of postponing the 1940 All-Star Football Game.

A Short History of Football

For this short history of Football The Athlete is indebted to a pamphlet from the Sports Department of Keds.

Football Before Our Time

The first people to indulge in kicking a small round object from place to place were ancient warriors, who after capturing the leader of an invading army, beheaded him and propelled the unfortunate man's head along the streets with their feet.

The first organized ball kicking game that we know of, was played by the ancient Greeks and was called Harpaston. To a very slight degree, it resembled modern football. On the opening play of every game, a member of one team standing in midfield, threw the ball (probably an air-filled animal bladder covered with this leather) as far as possible into enemy territory. All scoring was done by kicking the inflated bladder across the goal line. Carrying the ball was prohibited. There was no set of rules which governed the number of players representing each team. The playing field varied in size according to the number of participants. As the mentioned rules indicate, Harpaston was a timid game without bodily contact.

As time progressed, the game spread to Rome and other countries, and the rules were altered considerably. Players were allowed to wear helmets, knee braces and elbow pads made from steel. They played, not necessarily to win but to force opponents out of competition from injury. Officials were unheard of, consequently the players settled their arguments in their own way. Play finally reached a state which even Caesar didn't approve of, so he declared the game illegal. This menacing sport was harmful to those men who were eligible for his army. Caesar's ruling put the game out of existence for quite some time.

Banned By All Kings From Henry II to Henry VII

A game similar to the one Caesar forbade was ruled unlawful by Henry II and all who succeeded him, thru the reign of Henry VII. Henry II, in order to make England more powerful during war time, passed a law making archery compulsory. All boys, upon reaching a certain age, were compelled to master the art of shooting arrows from a bow. There were other activities which the English youths preferred, namely the new modified game of Harpaston. They didn't have the pleasure of this sport long however because Henry II realized it was weakening the defense of his country. Its popularity was influencing a vast number of young men away from archery.

Evidently every king went thru a similar experience. Henry VII had to bar the game because of its brutality. One writer wrote "It is a devilish pastime which produces brawls, homicide and great effusion of blood." Another wrote "It is a beastly fury and should be put to perpetual silence." The latter suggestion was accepted. The game was discontinued for approximately 400 years.

Reappeared With Different Rules

When James I took the throne in 1603, England was using gunpowder for war purposes. Archery was no longer a necessity, so James placed his stamp of approval on football (under revised rules) as a health building sport for the young men of England. The new game was called Rugby. It was exceedingly popular, despite the fact that all scoring was done by kicking. Running with the ball was illegal.

One afternoon, in the midst of a Rugby game, a young English athlete named William Ellis, became infuriated because his many attempts to kick a bounding ball were in vain. Finally he scooped the ball up, placed it under his arm and raced across his opponent's goal line. The score wasn't allowed because he had violated the rules.

As time progressed, many English players were of the opinion that Rugby would be more enjoyable if the ball could be advanced by either a kick or a run. Certain individuals felt that it shouldn't be called football if gains were to be made in any way other than kicking. Despite their protests carrying was legalized and the new game became more popular than ever. There were a few, however, who adhered to the original set of rules which permitted kicking only. The running and kicking games was known as Rugby Football. Those complying with the first set of Rugby rules called their game Soccer.

Our modern game of football evolved from the run made by William Ellis. Little did he realize that his breach of the rules would eventually lead to such an important development in football.

First American Intercollegiate Game

The first scheduled football game to be played in the United States was between Rutgers "U" and Princeton, on November 6, 1869, in New Brunswick, N. J. No admission fee was charged. College songs were sung and cheers were very much in evidence. The crowd was small, but enthusiasm ran high. Many spectators stood throughout the game—others were seated on a board fence which surrounded the playing field.

Players Reach Scene of Battle

At 3 o'clock both teams appeared on the field. They removed their hats, coats and vests, rolled up their sleeves and were all set for action. The boys representing Rutgers wore red caps, in order to display their school color.

The ball was small and round. It wasn't very durable. In fact the game had to be held up several times while a new supply of air was pumped into the bladder.

Before five minutes elapsed, Rutgers made two goals. The players and spectators became very excited—play became rough. Princeton scored and the lead see-sawed. With only one more goal to play, two players hot in pursuit of a loose ball crashed head-on into a board fence which was crowded with spectators. They hit the ground with a thud but no one was badly hurt. Soon after the crash, Rutgers scored—thus emerging triumphant in the first college football game.

Rules of First Game

1. There were 25 men per team.
2. The goal posts were 25 feet apart.
3. There was no cross-bar.
4. Scoring was done by kicking or batting (by hand) the ball through the goal posts. This was called a goal.
5. Running with the ball was illegal.
6. Six goals constituted a game.
7. The playing field was much larger than the modern field.
8. The rules to this game were very similar to soccer.

Other Colleges Organize

Columbia "U" organized a team in 1870 and played both Princeton and Rutgers in that year. Yale in 1872 had its first team.

The first hint toward inter-sectional competition came in 1873. At this time, Michigan "U" issued a challenge to Cornell. The game was to take place in Cleveland, a city reasonably close to both Universities. Everything was fine, until one of the Cornell boys mustered up enough courage to ask permission from his Prexy to have the game. President White, after hearing the boy's proposal, stated rather emphatically "I will not permit Cornell students to travel 400 miles just to agitate a bag of wind."

Early Rules Change

Harvard, in 1874, produced a team. During that year they tried both the Soccer and Rugby Football. The players favored the latter, because it permitted kicking and running. In 1875, Yale and Harvard met, using Rugby rules. The game went over with a bang—it was thoroughly enjoyed by participants and spectators. In 1876, at a rules meeting in Springfield, Mass., it was decided that all games would be played Rugby style. The kicking game was still stressed though because four points were given for a kicked goal while a run across the goal line counted but one.

In 1877, the number of men per team was reduced from 25 to 15. Shortly afterward, the number was cut to 11 players on each side. In 1897, a touchdown counted 6 points, a goal after a touchdown 1 point and a goal from the field 5 points.

Football Nearly Lost To America

In 1905, American football was decidedly on the down grade, due to innumerable injuries and deaths resulting from the style of play which characterized the game after carrying became legal. Nine plays out of ten were behind mass interference—close, rough play predominated at all times. The most important requisites of a player were brute strength and a large body.

Parents, teachers and alumni bodies were attempting to have football discarded permanently. Something had to be done at once.

The rules committee, in 1905, made several important changes, which unquestionably saved the game for America.

1. Forward passing became legal (incidentally Yale, in her first attempted aerial play, scored a touchdown against Harvard).
2. Practically all mass formations were eliminated.
3. Teams were given four downs to make ten yards—previously they had three downs to gain five yards.
4. Hurdling became illegal.
5. The playing period was reduced from 70 to 60 minutes.

These new rules necessitated a different style of football which was not only much safer but more interesting for players and spectators. It was now a "wide open" game.

Value Derived From Football

To repeat the opinion of experts regarding football's worth: It does, more than any other game, teach a boy to take it on the chin and come back fighting—an invaluable asset when facing life's problems!

The State Baseball Tournament

By W. J. FOSTER
Coach, Newport High School

In an effort to again popularize baseball in our high schools the K. H. S. A. A. delegates at their last regular meeting in April authorized the Board of Control through its popular secretary and treasurer, Ted Sanford, to conduct baseball tournaments necessary for the determination of a state championship.

Eight regional tournaments were provided for and the champions determined. The eight winners converged upon Lexington May 31, to decide the winner. Rain caused the postponement for one day. The first round games were played on Saturday and the semi-finals and finals on Sunday.

The following teams won their respective regional titles and were entitled to participate in the finals: ASHLAND, BROWNSVILLE, DAVIESS COUNTY, KINGSTON, NEWPORT, WAYLAND, WEST LIBERTY and XAVIER of LOUISVILLE. Several of the teams, notably Daviees County and Brownsville, came to the tournament with impressive records. The results of the three rounds were as follows:

Brownsville	4	Xavier	3
Ashland	3	Kingston	0
(11 innings)
Daviees County	7	Newport	16
Wayland	5	West Liberty	2
(10 innings)

SEMI-FINALS

Daviees County	3	Newport	11
Xavier	1	Brownsville	1

FINALS

Newport	17
Daviees County	4

Newport won its regional title by defeating Warsaw 11 to 0 ; and Hamilton 11 to 1.

The K. H. S. A. A. provided for the expenses for the finals and arranged for handsome trophies for all regional winners and for the state champions and runner-up. The expenses in the regionals were assumed by the local school that conducted the tournament.

I believe all those who had any part in the promotion of the various tournaments or in observing the finals will agree that the K. H. S. A. A. first annual tournament was a success. The tournaments gave a number of fine athletes a chance for recognition in a sport that many excelled in and who were unable to do so in either football, basketball, or track. The writer saw at least eight boys on various teams in the finals that showed definite possibilities as future professionals.

Special credit should be given Ted Sanford for his able and untiring efforts; also mention should be made of Mr. Shively, and Mr. Mosely, of the University of Kentucky, and the assistance of Mr. G. D. Downing, formerly athletic director at Morehead Teachers College.

Kentucky, Indiana to Clash In All-Star Tilt August 16

These announcements of the Indiana-Kentucky All-Star High School Game should be of considerable interest to our Kentucky Readers since we are to be represented by some of our outstanding players of the past season and by Western's Great Coach, Ed Dibble.

* * * * *

It was announced tonight that the second annual All-Star basketball game and Rules Clinic would be held August 16 in the Butler Field House under the direction of Paul D. Hinkle, Butler Coach. This year the Indiana All-Stars to be selected by a state-wide vote of the fans, will be pitted against a team of Kentucky High School All-Stars.

College coaches yet to be selected will direct the play of the Indiana team. Ed Diddle, whose Western Kentucky State Teachers College team competed in the N. C. A. A. Tournament here last spring, will coach the Kentuckians.

In last year's game the All-Stars defeated the senior members of Frankfort's 1939 state high school champions. Since then, however, the Indiana High School Athletic Association has banned high school coaches from participating in such games.

The game last year attracted 5,000 persons.

It was also announced that Diddle has promised to bring the strongest available Kentucky combination to Indianapolis for this game. Both the Kentucky and the Indiana squads will report here on Manday before the game for practice.

In the voting to select the Indiana team the five players receiving the highest number of votes will make up the starting line-up. The next five players will be available as reserves. Only players who graduated this spring will be eligible.

There will also be a vote by the fans to select the two college coaches to pilot the Indiana team. The balloting will be conducted later this month.

A LATER ANNOUNCEMENT

KENTUCKY CAGERS BIG; FIVE ALL-STARS NAMED; ALL ARE SIX FEET TALL

Indianapolis, July 28 (AP)—Coach Ed Diddle, Western State Teachers College, announced today five members of the all-star basketball squad which will play a team of Indiana high school players graduated from high school last spring at Butler Field House, here, August 16.

Diddle announced that the Kentucky squad would include Leonard Metcalfe of Calvert City, 6 ft. 4 in. tall; Russell Vennoy of Hickman, 6 ft. 2 in.; Joe Fulks of Kuttawa, 6 ft. 3 in.; Pat House of Manchester, 6 ft. 3 in.; and J. T. Harper of Drakesboro, 6 ft.

Other members of the Kentucky team, all high school seniors last year, will be selected early this week.

The Indianapolis Star is conducting an election to pick the Indiana team for the game, which will climax the newspaper's second annual basketball clinic. A squad of ten and a coach from the Indiana Collegiate Conference will be selected from a group of 25 players and six coaches nominated by public ballot last week.

The paper will publish eight daily ballots, beginning tomorrow, for the final selections.

1940 FOOTBALL PLAY SITUATIONS

Coaches, Players, Fans:

If you want to keep up to the minute on your football rules, you need the 1940 Football Play Situations Book, published by the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations. Coaches will get their copy when the school joins the State Association; officials will receive a copy when they have joined the officials division of the State Association. Let's get them early this year!

You'll need this book and a 1940 Rule Book to settle such questions as follows: How would you answer these? Suppose you were the official, what would you do? Coach, if your boys asked you these questions, could you give the correct answers?

1. The visitors object to a molded ball or to the color of the ball that is to be used.
2. A-1 hands the ball to A-2 who is in advance of him. A-2 is eligible to receive a forward pass and is at least a yard behind the line of scrimmage when he receives the ball?
3. A team is not on the field (a) ready to start the game on time or (b) within 15 minutes after the end of the first half and in the opinion of the Referee the delay is inexcusable.
4. A-2 catches a second forward pass from behind the line, advances and fumbles. B-1 recovers. Whose ball? Where?
5. A-1 in endeavoring to recover a fumble, accidentally strikes it with his foot, or leg, or knee and it goes out of bounds from the scrimmage zone. Whose ball? Where?
6. B-1 signals for a fair catch muffs the ball and B-2 who did not signal, catches and advances. Whose ball? Where? How put in play?
7. A free-kick is simultaneously recovered by B-1 and A-1 after touching B-1 but before crossing B's restraining line. Whose? Where?
8. Tackle A-1 takes a position on the end of his line and is in that position at the snap. Is he eligible for a pass?
9. Runner A-1 deliberately fumbles the ball across B's goal line in order to permit A-2 to recover in that end zone for a touchdown. Proper Ruling?
10. After a time-out, A puts the ball in play before the Referee has ascertained if the Captains are ready and has blown his whistle.

The answers to these ten questions may be found in the 1940 Football Play Situations Book. These are new play situations which did not appear in last year's edition. Most of them involve some change in the rules from last year.

COACHING STAFF

CARL G. SNAVELY, head football coach at Cornell University, is one of the leaders in modern athletic instruction. In 1935, as head coach at the University of North Carolina, he developed one of the greatest Tar Heel teams in history.

Snavely teaches a modified Warner system with a single wingback formation predominating, uses the open game, and relies on deception in many of his plays.

In 1939 the Cornell team went through its season undefeated and untied and was ranked among the three first teams in the nation. It won the "Ivy League" mythical championship, and was awarded the Lambert Trophy, emblematical of the championship of the East. Carl Snavely was frequently mentioned as "the coach of the year."

Coach Snavely's all-time record is: Won, 132; Lost, 38; Tied, 14. He coached the northern team in the North-South contests at Montgomery, Alabama, in 1938 and 1939.

AB KIRWAN, head football coach at the University of Kentucky since 1938, is well-known throughout the state for his successful coaching at Manual High School, Louisville, and his 1939 University of Kentucky team.

In 1926, Kirwan was appointed varsity backfield coach at the University of Kentucky. From 1927 to 1931 he served as assistant football coach at Male High School, Louisville, and in 1932 was appointed head football coach at Manual High School, Louisville, where he remained in service until his appointment at the University.

Under Kirwan's tutelage the University of Kentucky 1939 football team turned in one of the best records in recent years, winning six games, tying Alabama, and losing only to the two "Vol" teams of Georgia Tech and Tennessee.

ADOLPH RUPP is in his tenth year as head basketball coach at the University of Kentucky. His work has been highly successful and his Wildcats have held undisputed championships of the Southeastern Conference five years; in 1933, 1935, 1937, 1939, 1940. The Wildcats' record for the entire period of ten years includes 160 wins against 37 losses. This record is remarkable, since many of the opponents were of national ranking. Besides a host of All-Conference players, Rupp has developed two All-American basketball players at Kentucky—Forest Sale, forward, and LeRoy Edwards, center.

Rupp played basketball in his college days under Coach Phog Allen of the University of Kansas. He played guard on the team reputed to be the best ever developed by Allen, the undefeated Missouri Valley Champions of 1923.

BERNIE SHIVELY, line coach and athletic director at the University of Kentucky, is recognized as one of the leading line coaches in the country today. A graduate of the University of Illinois where he was an All-American guard in 1927, Shively is recognized by Coach Bob Zuppke as one of his "all-time" great linemen.

Shively served as line coach at the University of Kentucky from 1927 to 1933 under Harry Gamage; from 1933 to 1936 he assisted Coach Chet Wynne, and in 1937 became athletic director and line coach with Ab Kirwan, head football coach.

Under Shively tutelage the University has developed many outstanding linemen and the play of his linemen has always been recognized as one of the strong features of Wildcat football teams. He is recognized as a thorough technician of all angles of line play.
