Rumblings From The State Tournament

Shades of "Big" Cluggish—Wah Wah Jones, 6' 4" center from Harlan dominated the big meet to the same extent as another big Mountaineer, Cluggish of Corbin, in 1936. But don't sell the other boys from Harlan Short; they aided and abetted in the best of fashion.

Why don't you take the tournament to the Louisville Armory so people can see it? That was the most common complaint heard at Lexington. Tell it to the Delegates when they come to Lexington for the annual meeting, April 14th.

--Although Male lost in the first round, there are those, and they are legion, who insist the Louisville tournament set-up is unfair.

--There is an insistent demand that all games be broadcast even if the time must be bought.

--Crazy shooters were conspicuous for their absence. Good old common sense methods of scoring have come back into their own. A few over-the-head artists were on hand, but their effectiveness had little to do with the course of events. Chest shots, one-hand lay-ups, and tip-ins did most of the damage.

Look out for Harlan, Madison, Daviess County, Male, et al., next year.

--Sentiment against boys playing after agricultural or industrial deferment was pronounced.

Others had good cheer leaders, but London had the twins, Anna Jo and Betty Jo Cook—Nuff said! Meal prices in Lexington are too so and so high!

The officiating was too loose, too close. There was too much running; you couldn't play ball because the officials called too many travel penalties.

Oh! well there are fans and fans. Madison lost three points in the Dayton game because some over-zealous fan yelled SHOOT just before the quarter ended. Why do they do it?

Why no loud speaking equipment? Why no more reserved seats? etc. etc.

Whether it was due to more money or more interest in basketball the crowds this year exceeded all others of the past.

From the Secretary's Office

To Members Of The Kentucky High School Athletic Association

As provided in Section 1 of Article X of the Constitution, the following proposals for changes in the By-Laws and Tournament Rules, to be acted upon at the coming annual meeting, are hereby submitted to all members of the K. H. S. A. A. for their information. No amendments other than those submitted in the Secretary's April letter may be considered at the annual meeting except by a two-thirds vote of the delegates.

PROPOSALS

I. The Board of Control proposes that the following be added as a second paragraph of the new By-Law XXXIV, passed by referendum vote of member schools last January: "Any student who has reached draft age and who has been given occupational deferment shall be ineligible during the time of such deferment to participate in high school athletics."

II. The Board of Control proposes that a new By-Law to be known as By-Law XXXV be added, to read as follows: "No member school of the K. H. S. A. A. shall engage in football practice between the dates of December 31st and August 15th, except that a school may elect to have a maximum practice period of three calendar weeks in the spring and to begin its regular fall practice not earlier than September 1st."

III. The Board of Control proposes that the following be substituted for Tournament Rule 15: "The games of the State Basketball Tournament shall be played on a playing space 82 by 50 feet, outside dimensions."

IV. Principal Leon Cook proposes that the last clause of Tournament Rule 1 read as follows: "and a State Tournament on the third week-end in March to be located at the Armory in Louisville." The last sentence of this rule is to be eliminated.

V. Principal Leon Cook proposes that Tournament Rule 2 be changed to read as follows: "The State shall be divided into sixteen regions of four districts each." The last sentence of Tournament Rule 2 should be eliminated.

VI. Principal Roy Knight offers the following resolution: "In order that the many basketball fans throughout Kentucky who are unable to attend the State Basketball Tournament, may be able to hear a play-by-play description of as many games as possible, the Board of Control is authorized to investigate the possibilities of having these games broadcast so as to reach all sections of the state, either by a strong station like WHAS or less powerful stations located in different sections of the state. It might be possible to use less powerful stations during the day and WHAS at night. After full investigation, the Board is further authorized to act as it thinks will best serve the interest of the public. However, if the members of the Board prefer not to assume responsibility for final action, they may submit the best proposition or propositions which they are able to get to the member schools in a referendum."

VII. Coach Ralph Carlisle offers the following proposal: "The coach of each of the sixteen teams that play in the state tournament shall be given a front row box seat for every session of the tournament."

VIII. Coach Ralph Carlisle proposes the following: "Each of the sixteen teams that participate in the state tournament shall receive from the K. H. S. A. A. fund sixty dollars ($60.00) over and above expenses already assumed by the Association."

Timely Quotations

"Part of the work of state association officers is to keep in close contact with the thinking and acting of member schoolmen and to crystallize these hundreds of individual ideas into a form for action through adoption of state association policies. This is possible only when adequate lines of communication are kept open. The association magazines and bulletins help do this."—Secretary Albert Willis (Illinois).

"Physical fitness qualities which are of most assistance to a soldier are: endurance, strength, agility, speed, flexibility, good posture habits, ability to relax, a fighting spirit and teamwork sense. These attributes are much the same as those which are needed in and are developed through such competitive sports as football, basketball, baseball and track."—Brigadier General Walter L. Weible.

"The Rangers at El Guettar had few casualties because their legs were so good that after marching all night they had plenty of reserve strength left for their attack. It would not have mattered how brave they were;—if their feet had failed them, they could not have done it."—Captain Ralph Ingersoll.

"One of the difficult problems for the school organization is the retention of proper controls over all-star and post-season games which are sponsored by promoters who seek to exploit the reputation of the high school football team has established in its regular school-sponsored season."—Principal Carl Burris (Missouri).

"The problem of arriving at a nationwide agreement on what constitutes amateurism is one that should be attacked through cooperative action of all interested groups."—Secretary Lee K. Anderson (Oklahoma).

Alabama high schools are meeting many wartime problems and are conquering them. Athletics have an important place in the physical fitness program. Sports participation builds both strength and morale both in military camps and in civilian groups."—Alabama State Bulletin.

"We commend school fitness departments and their state and national organizations for continuing a full activity program in the face of many wartime handicaps. Such schools and organizations are urged to continue to act in accordance with the slogan 'A full physical fitness program, including sports participation, and full speed ahead in work designed to extend the benefits of participation to constantly greater numbers.'"—National Committee on Physical Fitness.

U. S. Physical Fitness Committee Active

The National Physical Fitness Committee at its recent meeting, devoted much time to the high school fitness program. This committee has been active as a liaison between the school organizations and the various federal agencies.

RELEASE OF CRITICAL MATERIALS for the making of physical training and athletic equipment such as inflated balls, helmets, football pads, basketball goals, backboards and supporting equipment and gymnasium apparatus has been secured through conferences with the War Production Board. As an illustration of the work along this line, here is a quotation from a recent letter which was received from Chief George W. Nachtrieb of the Durable Goods Division of the Office of Civilian Requirements.

"The facts you have so clearly established are most helpful in supporting the program we have presented on athletic products. In order to carry on these most important athletic programs these products must be made available and this means having definite allotments made of this critical material. We thank you for your support."

THE SUB-COMMITTEE ON SCHOOLS and Colleges presented plans for activity during the remainder of the current school year and a long range program for the school year of 1944-5. Action along the following lines was sanctioned by the National Committee.

1. Research to determine the actual effects of certain types of conditioning exercises was authorized and will be carried out in cooperation with Army and Navy authorities.
2. Schools and communities will be urged to cooperate with industrial firms in their attempts to provide a full physical fitness program for their employees and the larger high schools and colleges will be urged to introduce courses which will train men and women to direct physical fitness and recreation programs sponsored by industry.
3. Greater attention will be directed toward the women's division of the National Physical Fitness Council.
4. An appeal to the War Manpower Commission for aid in keeping the school physical fitness programs going was authorized. This appeal includes the recommendation that the work be listed as pre-induction training and that as such, it be considered one of the school activities which is an essential war activity.
5. A public statement relative to the great need for continued school activity along fitness lines was drafted and is being presented to those federal agencies which have some control over materials or limitations which might affect the welfare of such program in the schools.

COMMENT ON ITEM 4: The appeal for manpower aid was drawn up by a small committee made up of representatives of the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, the National Physical Fitness Committee, the state departments of public instruction and the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations. The appeal was discussed with representatives of various interstate federal agencies and has been presented to the War Manpower Commission. If such appeal should be accepted, it will not mean deferment of all physical training instructors as a class but it will give local Selective Service boards definite authorization to use judgment in preventing the elimination of the physical fitness program in any school through taking the last trained instructors before the school authorities have had adequate time to make a readjustment to insure the continuance of the fitness program.

ADMINISTRATOR PAUL V. MCNUTT addressed the group at a luncheon meeting. He commended the schools and similar organizations for organizing their physical fitness programs in a short space of time in a manner which is "little short of miraculous." He drew attention to the fact that regardless of what occurs at the war front, the war activities are certain to be on the increase for the next half year or more. For this increased activity, men and women "must be made physically fit." If the work of the National Fitness Committee and of the school departments which are cooperating can "shorten the war by even one minute all the effort that is being expended is worthwhile." He expressed the conviction that this increased attention to the need for a higher degree of physical fitness in the nation must go on and that "this is one of the best things that will come out of this war." He indicated that the values of this work are appreciated by him and that the National Committee and the organizations which are on the firing line in this work can count on every possible help from the War Manpower Commission and the Social Security Agency.

CHAIRMAN JOHN B. KELLY expressed the opinion that it is something of a national disgrace to have so many men classified as 4F. He expressed the belief that some of the "slow downs" in industry and some of the strikes which have stopped production in essential industries have resulted from nerves which are "on edge because of fatigue." If proper stamina can be built in all workers, the number of these cases will be reduced.

DR. W. P. JACOBS, President of Presbyterian College, outlined suggested fitness programs for industrial firms. In his opinion the times are now such that there is a finer spirit of cooperation between all groups that are interested in physical fitness than there has ever been before. Hundreds of industrial firms are now launching plans for a fitness program which will reach all employees. Such programs are being initiated and discussed by groups of employees and the employers are finding that it is a good investment for the firm when they help finance such a program because it increases worker efficiency and welfare.

Due to an error, the names of six officials appeared in the March issue of the magazine under "Supplementary List of Approved Officials." The name of John Heldman was the only one that should have appeared under this classification. The names of the other officials should have been listed under "Supplementary List of Registered Basketball Officials."

IN NORMAL TIMES

You could count on us shipping the same day your order was received (special clothing and sweater orders, of course, excepted). In those days we had plenty of good reliable help and so did our factories.

BUT NOW -

Conditions are so much different. The manpower shortage has made severe inroads in our organization and all of our factories are experiencing the same difficulty. Even though we have the merchandise on your order in stock, sometimes deliveries will be delayed several days. Sweater orders in particular are slow. Factories cannot get our stock to us like they formerly did, and after we get them there is a further delay of two to three weeks in our lettering department. We cannot get sufficient machine operators to keep up with this kind of work.

WE ASK YOUR INDULGENCE -

Most of our schools fully appreciate the position we are in as they, too, are having the same manpower shortage. We assure you everything will be done to get your orders to you just as quickly as we can. Be patient, bear with us and we will try not to disappoint you.
